BYRD LASHES OUT AT REPUBLICANS

Richmond Speech Carries all Salient Issues.

Senator Harry F. Byrd predicated in an address in Richmond on Tuesday of last week that if Gov. Alf M. Landon is elected president and his pledges are redeemed "an increase in public spending will be necessary."

"Taxpayers should take note that Governor Landon, if elected, proposes to finance not only the cost of social security and old age pensions, but the new farm bounty as well by direct and visible taxes," Senator Byrd said.

The Virginia senators making his first address of the campaign, said the Republican presidential nominee declared the New Deal destructive of the American system of government, and then "proceeds to embrace all the particular measures that identify and characterize the so-called new deal."

"So far as relief expenditures are concerned," Senator Byrd continued, "Governor Landon offers no constructive substitute for the present system of relief and offers no program of reduction of expenditures except such as may be possible by the improvement of general business conditions which would equally benefit a Democratic administration."

The senator, who is recuperating from a recent illness, spoke only to a radio audience. He took cognizance of use by the Republicans of his own criticisms of certain measures of the New Deal, asserting he had no apologies for his record and called attention to his support of other administration measures.

"The steps taken in the early part of the Roosevelt administration won the unqualified approval and praise of men and women of all parties," he asserted. "His prompt, decisive and courageous leadership drew, not only from the people of America, but from foreign lands, expressions of admiration and affection such as few men have ever received."

"We may differ as to some later policies of the administration, but it is not too much to say that in this period immediately following his inauguration measures were adopted to meet conditions which challenge the admiration of all the world," he said. "The bank crisis was met and solved with courage and wisdom. It is a bitter partisan indeed who would deny to the president the credit he deserves for being the leader to overcome the fear and despair that existed in the hearts of the American people and restore their faith and confidence in the future of our republic."

Taking note of the appearance here last night of Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice-presidential nominee, the senator quoted him as saying at Pittsburgh that the administration's financial policies "leave no insurance policy secure, no savings account safe."

"Speaking in Richmond last night he failed to return to this attack," Senator Byrd said, "He knew a Virginia audience was too intelligent to believe such nonsense."

"The significance of this is not that the Republican vice-presidential nominee made such a statement, but that his reckless exaggeration did not in the least disturb the faith and confidence of the people of America in their banking and insurance institutions."

The "reaction," he continued, "is in fact a great tribute to the President because it clearly demonstrates that he has restored confidence in the government and the business of America."

1937 AGRICULTURAL PROGRAM

RECOMMENDATIONS SUBMITTED

County and community Soil Conservation Program committeemen and members of the county Planning Committee will meet at 1:30 p. m., Saturday, at the Manassas Post Office Assembly Room to make recommendations for the 1937 agricultural program.

Among the questions that will be considered are:

1. What has been accomplished under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program? What difficulties have been encountered?

2. To what extent can bases established in 1936 be used in 1937? What modifications are needed?

3. What changes should be made in the basis payment to meet 1937 conditions?

4. What changes in crop classification should be made for 1937? Should some of the crops now classified as conserving be changed to depleting or vice-versa?

5. For what soil building practices should payment be made in 1937?

6. Should a total allowance be established under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, which would constitute the maximum of the payments that could be earned for each farm? If so, how should it be established and how should it be earned?

7. Is there a need for broader crop insurance features than has been available in previous programs?

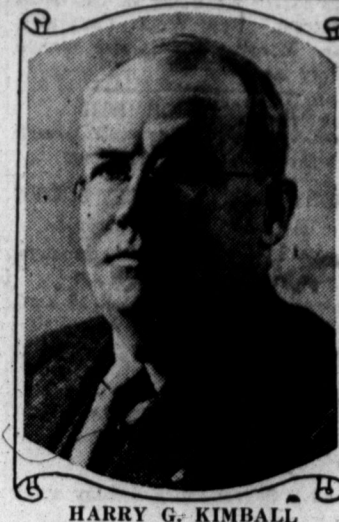

The Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act is a continuing Act under which a continuing annual appropriation is authorized. Farmers over the entire country are now faced with the problem of determining what kind of a program will in 1937 best carry out the stated purposes of the Act. The amount of money which will be available for payments under the 1937 program will depend on how much money is appropriated by Congress for that year's program.

Attend the Democratic Rally at Nokesville on Wednesday, October 29.

TEACHERS MEET AT ALEXANDRIA

Many Interesting Methods Demonstrated.

The teachers of District H, which consists of many of the counties in Northern Virginia, met at the George Washington High School in Alexandria on Saturday last.

One of the most important discussions was given by Dr. Ivan Booker, of the National Education Association, who is a native resident of Arlington County. Other leading addresses were given by Dr. Farley also of the National Education Association and John E. Martin of the Virginia Education Association, and E. Boyd Graves who spoke on "Evaluation."

Those having group conferences in charge were: Grade 1, Miss Jeanette Luther; Grade 2, Miss Anna Haley; Grade 3, Miss Kate White; Grade 4, Ruby Lowman; Grade 5, Miss Susie Stringfellow; Grade 6, Miss Mary Barbour.

The 7th Grade group met jointly with the elementary school principals association of which J. E. Bauserman was president for District H. A panel discussion in this group was led by Miss Frances Nevitt.

The superintendents and school trustees met at a round table discussion with Prof. R. C. Haydon presiding. In the high school groups the following were in charge: Prof. P. B. Walker, vocational guidance; Miss E. Harbaugh, a commercial group; Miss Ellen Ticer, English; Mrs. Eliza Trainham, home economics; E. C. Morris, Natural science; H. C. Coe, Mathematics; J. P. Jenkins, jr., agriculture; Gordon E. Smith, social studies; Miss Mabel Allen, language arts; and E. F. Griswold, industrial arts.

A business session was held at which time new officers were elected. Washington - Lee High School was chosen as the place of meeting next year.

The days program carried the names of the following Prince William teachers: Mr. R. Worth Peters, chairman Secondary Principals Association luncheon meeting; Miss Ruby Loman, chairman Fourth Grade group; Mr. Earl F. Griswold, chairman of Industrial Arts group. Miss Virginia Polen demonstrated the "Direct Teaching Method" to the Second Grade group. Miss Margaret Powell gave a talk to the Fourth Grade group on "Evaluation in Light of Individual Records."

BUS COMPANY AR-

RANGES NEW STOPS

Mr. J. S. Wolfe, traffic manager of the Virginia Stage Lines, was in town today on matters of interest of transportation problems along the route of his company.

Mr. Wolfe has an announcement to make which appears in other columns as to the further location of his business office here. It may be noted that for a definite bus stop in front of the Peoples' Bank for south bound busses and in front of the Sanitary Grocery Co. for north bound busses.

This handy arrangement is for the convenience of the public as well as the general traffic and will be highly appreciated as no such arrangements heretofore have existed and the busses have frequently been forced to stop squarely in the middle of the street. The schedule has not been changed and those who are using the bus, may continue to look for it at the same hours.

Mr. Wolfe states that the bus line is receiving enthusiastic support from all points between Manassas and Richmond, the communication between these two towns will be greatly expedited and assisted through his company.

U. D. C. HONORS MRS. HUTCHISON

4th District Chairman Receives Pin.

The Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., met Friday, October 16, at the home of Mrs. R. L. Byrd. Despite the showers a faithful number of daughters ventured out and were more than repaid. After the usual opening exercises, the historian, Mrs. T. J. Ashford, delightfully entertained with an appropriate program.

Miss Virginia Speiden presided in her usual charming manner and called for reports from the officers and standing committees. The treasurers' books showed a balance of $36.01 on checking account and a building fund of $297.45. The Chapter gratefully acknowledged a gift of $5.00 from the Bethel club.

Demit papers were issued to Mrs. Grace Hite Brown.

The local Chamber of Commerce gave to our chapter one of the Confederate flags recently used in the celebration of July 21st to be placed at the Henry House. Mrs. Ashford and Miss Speiden were requested to arrange a program for the presentation of this flag.

A letter was read from Mrs. T. E. Didlake declining to serve as recording secretary and Mrs. L. L. Lomas was elected to serve in her place. Mrs. R. A. Hutchison was elected first vice president.

Mrs. George Byrd's certificate of membership was presented by the president and accepted by Mrs. R. L. Byrd.

The most interesting feature of the program was the presentation of a U. D. C. pin by the president, Miss Speiden to Mrs. R. A. Hutchison. This gift was a token of appreciation from the Chapter for Mrs. Hutchison's untiring efforts as Fourth District Chairman during the last two years.

The Chapter voted to give $10.00 to the Dairy Festival Association. Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, in her library report, recommended "Beauregard the Great Creole" and "Gone with the Wind." These books may be found in the school library.

Miss Speiden gave an interesting report of the State Convention at Lexington which she attended with Mrs. Hutchison and Mrs. Lomas. She spoke enthusiastically of the report of Mrs. T. J. Starke, the state historian, and expressed a desire to have her visit Manassas this year.

Mrs. Lomas spoke briefly of the children's work in the state.

Following the business session was a very delightful social hour. The hostess was assisted by Miss Cockerell and Miss Florence Kincheloe.

OIL MEN ORGANIZE

Oil men of Prince William County attended a meeting at the Prince William Hotel last Tuesday night to hear an account of tax problems presented by E. A. Kyhn, of Richmond, secretary of the Virginia Petroleum Industries Committee. At the conclusion of Mr. Kyhn's remarks those present elected to form temporary organization pending another meeting at a later date to be known as the Prince William County Petroleum Industries Committee. The officers are Mr. E. G. Parrish, chairman; Mr. G. W. Bryant, vice-chairman, and Mr. D. J. Martin, secretary.

In his address, Mr. Kyhn directed to the rising costs of government, citing as the cause of this the constant demands being made on local, state and national governments for additional services. When the question of raising the additional revenue that is necessary to finance these new services comes up, organized groups are able to come forward and keep themselves from being taxed, with the result that an unprotected source of revenue is usually found in motorists and petroleum products. In this connection, Mr. Kyhn stated that the motorists are unorganized, while the petroleum sellers are not only unorganized but disorganized.

BYRD LASHES OUT

erica and has inspired the people to go forward."

Referring to Colonel Knox's statement that the New Deal is not Democratic, Senator Byrd said when Col. Knox and Col. Henry W. Anderson, Virginia Republican leader, "sally forth to save the Democratic party by electing and placing in power the Republican party, it is time for good Democrats to rally to the support of the party."

Asserting that the Republican party has a responsibility "for the expenditures they now criticize," Senator Byrd said the $4,880,000,000 relief bill was passed with a majority of Senate Republicans supporting it, including the Republican leader. He added that in the House the 1936 relief bill was supported by 57 Republicans and opposed by only 28.

"In all the checkered history of political inconsistency it is difficult to find a more glaring example of a party trying to denounce measures which were enacted with the votes of representatives of that same party," he said. "The objectives of many Republican leaders is to enjoy the gifts from the government and at the same time disclaim responsibility for making the gifts possible."

The Virginia senator said that as chairman of the Senate committee for the reorganization of federal activities in the interest of economy and simplification he had analyzed every utterance of Governor Landon and Col. Knox on the subject.

"They have been fluent in censuring the spending of our administration, but in no single instance have they demonstrated how a Landon administration could spend less while giving as much to social justice, more in farm bounties, as much to relief of the unemployed, the army and navy, and other activities of government," he said. "They call attention to what they term extravagance in the departments at Washington but they do not list the abolition of a single department. They call the roll of the new departments, but they do not commit themselves to eliminate one of them. 'If Governor Landon is elected and his pledges are redeemed, I say without fear of successful contradiction that an increase in public spending will be necessary.'"

The senator predicted the Landon program would require a huge increase in income taxes and asserted this would mean a "greatly increased burden on those of small incomes, as in the larger brackets a maximum income tax of 80 per cent is already levied."

"The only alternative," he said, "would be the adoption of a sales tax which would be added to the cost of living of every person."

The senator said he was speaking to advocate the election of Senator Carter Glass and all Democratic nominees for Congress in Virginia as well as the national ticket. Referring to Colonel Henry W. Anderson's activities, he said the Richmond Republican leader was assuming a new role as "the saviour of the Democratic party" when he recalled "the assaults he has so universally made on everything in state affairs that bears the Democratic label."

Predicting a victory for the Democrats in Virginia, he said, "Roosevelt and Garner will win with Virginia giving a decisive majority, the sun will still shine, and Governor Landon will return to Kansas and complete his term as governor."

Calling attention to a circular distributed in Virginia quoting from speeches he made against some provisions of the NRA and Dr. Tugwell's proposal to license farmers shipping in interstate commerce, he said one measure had been declared invalid and the other defeated and therefore were no longer issues.

"After all, the issue in November is still between the Republican and Democratic parties," he said.

TELEPHONE USERS INCREASE IN NUMBER

An increase of 582 telephones is reported for the Alexandria office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia so far this year, with a net gain of 112 for September, according to a statement made by John S. Dunn, manager. So far for the year there has been an increase of 9,605 telephones reported by the company in Virginia, making a total of 165,709 telephones in operation.

This increase in telephones is reflected in the net increase of 129,000 telephones reported by the Bell System and an increase of 610,000 telephones during the first nine months of the year. In September of last year the Bell System reported a gain of 92,000 telephones. The upturn in telephone installations was 225,600 for the third quarter of the year as compared with 96,500 for the same period in 1935. For the nine months ending September 30, 1935, there was an increase of 297,000 telephones.

The gain in September was the largest for a month in the history of the Bell System, excluding purchases. It was 30,000 higher than the previous record month, October 1928. The gain in the quarter was the heaviest for the third three months of any year and the largest for any quarter since the first three months of 1929, which included certain additions through purchase. An upturn of 300,000 telephones in the final quarter would make 1936 the banner year, as the record is 910,000 telephones added in 1927, a year which included large additions of stations through purchase.

CATHARPIN

Mr. Henry Maddox of Tecumseh Farm was an Oakwood caller on Sunday last.

Mr. Edward Pattie, of Quantico, and Miss Katherine Pattie, of Staunton, Va., were Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Pattie, of Catharpin.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lynn and Mrs. Etta P. Lynn were recent callers at the home of Mr. Aubrey Swart, of Middleburg, Va., whom they found very ill.

Mr. J. W. Alvey and sons, Jack, Hampton and Lynn, attended the Georgetown-Bucknell foot ball game in Washington on Saturday last as the guests of Prof. and Mrs. F. L. Arbogast, of Lewisburg, Pa. Prof. Arbogast, now treasurer of Bucknell University, was once a teacher in Charlotte Hall, Md., where the friendship originated. Upon the conclusion of the game the host and hostesses, together with their two sons, Leon and Billy, returned with Mr. Alvey for a week-end visit in his home in this city. Too bad that Bucknell had to lose.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Ford Brower, of Lone Oak, are extending invitations to all their friends throughout the neighborhood to attend their Golden Wedding Anniversary which will be celebrated at their home, Lone Oak, on Monday, October 26, 1936, during the hours from 2 to 6 p. m. of that day. The fact that this couple has lived almost the whole of their lives in this community, and the Doctor having practiced his profession for beyond the boundaries of his home locality, has given them a prestige and an acquaintance of very wide scope throughout this section of Virginia. It shall therefore be a great pleasure to them to contact their friends once more upon this very happy occasion to which an invitation is extended to all.

A meeting of citizens interested in the proposed electric line from Stone House via Catharpin to the Hickory Grove and Waterfall sections was held in Masonic Hall, Haymarket on Thursday night of last week at which it was decided to negotiate with the Bull Run Power Co. for the extension of its lines to these points. The meeting was enthusiastic and no doubt can be entertained but that the people of these sections are becoming electrically minded. A large proportion of the audience consisted of ladies who are mightily interested in the electric current. You know these are the days when "permanents" are all the go and a woman without this evidence of the coiffeur's art is just simply unthinkable; and with beauty parlors so far away and cost so much after you get there that a little "power" connected up with the curling irons may prove a boon to both pocketbook and beauty. At any rate, things now seem to be in a very tangible shape and prospects that we may be enjoying electric lights by Christmas are growing brighter as the days go by. The money has been allocated by the REA, people in happy anticipation and the Bull Run Power Co. all set to go; so why delay longer?

Don't forget Sudley's bazaar, dinner and supper on Friday of this week. The committee has doubled the culinary requirements and it is now thought that the "old bird" will be there in quantity sufficient to satisfy the longings of the hungriest of hungry. Gainesville had her supper on Friday night of last week and what a night it was; rain, mud and everything imaginable that might be considered inconsistent with a well regulated dinner hour, yet with all that their turkeys vanished like mist before the sunshine. So it seems people must eat even if it rains. The ladies at Sudley are hoping the Weather Man will be in a gentler mood on Friday night and that you will all be able to attend.

The Catharpin-Sudley community has been called upon to mourn the loss of some of its most loved and valued friends. The death of Mrs. Mary Eleanor Cushing Wilkins on October 8, 1936, brought sadness to all friends and neighbors both in the Church and out. She had lived all of her more than 88 years in this vicinity, always doing good and taking her full responsibility in everything both civic and in the Church; always cheerful and ever ready to answer the call to duty regardless of the source. In departing she had no disease; the clock simply ran down and her soul took its flight. A fine little lady full of good deeds and loved by all. She now rests in the family plot in Sudley cemetery where she was laid on Saturday, October 10, 1936, amid many flowers, there to await the Resurrection of all mankind.

Another friend and native son of the Catharpin neighborhood in the person of Robert Lee Lynn, of Roanoke, Va., was summoned to the Celestial World on Tuesday, October 6, 1936. As a boy Mr. Lynn first learned the ins and outs of the mercantile business with his uncle and the late Fred H. Saunders in the Catharpin store; later going to Roanoke where he achieved wealth and fame as a great merchant of that city. Upon this, however, we shall not dwell. It is the man whom this community loves to think of. To his friends he was always "Lee Lynn." He never forgot them even in his busiest and most successful enterprises. Above all things else, R. Lee Lynn was a Christian gentleman, full of good works, a churchman of rare ability and character and full of love and compassion for those in need. His was a successful Christian life in every particular and loved by all. Such was Lee Lynn. This community mourns for him.

The annual session of the Baltimore Conference for 1936 is now a matter of history. The writer attended most of the sessions and as usual enjoyed the experience. It is the one big meeting of the year upon which all interested churchmen desire to attend. During the days it is in session all have an opportunity to greet old friends, dine together, talk things over, hear good sermons, and for the better part of a week enjoy the companionship of bishops, elders and friends of every description—an experience not easily forgotten.

The sessions are all interesting but the last session on Mondays when appointments are read, is either the happiest or the saddest of them all; happy if the preacher is allowed to stay when he wants to, or is sent to a place he wants to go; sad when he has to move when not looking for it or is superannuated. The Conference is rapidly changing its personnel. The older men are superannuating and their places filled by young men—a condition inevitable since mankind never ceases to grow older as the days go by. It is, perhaps, one of the saddest periods in one's life when he has to retire. Even after many years of service the spirit is strong but the flesh is weak to the extent that he must give up.

The changes this year are perhaps fewer than usual, indicating that both people and pastors are in a steady mood and getting along in fine shape. It may be getting along in fine shape. The matter of Conference claims and preacher's salaries that all of the seven districts paid 100 per cent plus—a condition rarely experienced. The Bishop was very commendatory to all concerned anent the achievement. This of itself indicates a very healthy condition among the churches. A number of preachers are being allowed to stay over the usual allotted time of four years indicating a trend toward longer terms of service. Unification is no longer a subject for debate, it having passed that stage some time ago so that the only actions taken now are regulatory in nature. It was adopted by a large majority that the Baltimore Conference would vote upon the plan of Unification at its next sitting which will be in Winchester, Va., in October 1937. There seems to be no doubt of its adoption. We contacted many of our former pastors of Sudley circuit all of whom inquired about the people of this charge; among whom were Mr. Atkins, Mr. Coe, Mr. Beard, Mr. Phillips, Mr. Swecker, Mr. Welsh and

Mr. King, Dr. Prettyman and Dr. Regester also made inquiry. Mr. Sapp was glad to return and we are all glad to have him. If the spirit and energy of the Conference is an indication, the new year is prone to be one general uplift and activity along all lines.

The many friends and patrons in Catharpin and vicinity wish to express their sorrow and extend sympathy to their most esteemed central, Mrs. Foley, of Haymarket, upon the death of her husband who departed this life at his home in that city on Friday, October 16, 1936, interment later in Antioch cemetery. Mrs. Foley is one of the best, most accommodating and most business-like operators it has been our pleasure to know. Our sympathy is sincere.

CONSISTENCY, WHERE ART THOU?

We quote the following advertisement of the Chicago Daily News in Printer's Ink, a magazine devoted to the publishing business:

"Here in Chicago, storekeepers are getting back their old pre-depression smiles. People are milling in the streets—with crisp new packages under their arms. Cash registers jingling. Trucks clunking. And between the banks of Michigan avenue, the old 'gold stream' of shiny new automobiles is at high tide again. Chicago is showing more come back, faster than any spot on the map!"

The Chicago Daily News is owned and published by Col. Frank Knox, whose sole "issue" in his spectacular candidacy for the Vice Presidency on the Republican ticket is that Roosevelt is "running the country."

Can you beat it?—Washington Virginian.

EDITORS FAVOR ROOSEVELT

An official poll taken by Liberty Magazine of 5146 newspaper editors covering every state in the union gives the electoral balance to Mr. Roosevelt assuring him 67 senators and 268 members of the House.

It is interesting to note in these figures that the poll agreed exactly with the vote which was taken in Maine in September.

The actual number of editors in favor of Mr. Roosevelt numbered 2875, well over a thousand more than those favoring Mr. Landon. The other candidates received either no votes or a negligible number.

Liberty magazine considers this vote reasonably conclusive of the success of the Democratic ticket.

WATERFALL

A bridge over Catharpin run is being built there by the State, much to the delight of passing motorists, School buses and the like. But somehow a feeling of regret comes over us when we think of the old watering hole that will be no more. Where old Dobbin has quenched his thirst for hundreds of years. This never-failing stream, cool and clear. At the sight of its silvery gleam as the old nags came over the hill, they champed their bits and with lolling tongues, quickened their pace, to dip their noses and sip the nectar of this God given drink, none other like it anywhere, any place except these mountains.

The year of the great drought, farmers one and two miles distant drove their horses and cattle each day here to drink, also filling water-barrels for other streams, springs and wells were dry. Oh! well there is plenty water still on each side of the bridge, but its a bit of trouble to take out a panel of wire fence. One neighbor remarked, "Where in the heck are we going to wash our cars now?"

R. B. Gassom, jr., visited his parents last week, returning on Tuesday to Danville, Va., where he has been recently transferred as Supt. of Camp No. 14 S. C. S. He was accompanied home by his wife and son who have been spending several weeks in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnes, Herman and Robert Smith, of Washington, spent the week-end with their parents Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas and children, of Fort Myer Heights, and Miss Margaret Shirley, spent the week-end at their old home, Oak Shade.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sinclair and son, of Aurora Hills, were visitors here on Sunday.

Mrs. Carroll Wright and sons, Edward, Robert, and Carroll, who spent the summer with Miss Florence Smith, have decided to remain for the winter.

Antioch Church was filled to capacity Sunday afternoon at the funeral of W. W. Foley. Uncle Billy was a great favorite with his folks, his diminutive figure and quaint philosophy will be greatly missed.

Rev. Barnett Grimsley will preach at Antioch Church on the first Sunday in each month at eleven o'clock until a pastor is secured for the field. Everybody is welcome to come to these services which we hope will be well attended.

Mrs. Edward Yeatman and sons, James H. and Robert, and Miss Lulu Yeatman, Mrs. E. B. Rector and son, Rosier, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burr, of Washington, attended the funeral of their brother W. W. Foley, Sunday.

We noted with sorrow the death of R. L. Lynn in last week's Journal. To us it recalled to our mind tender memories of long ago, when his family dwelt among us. Soon after his fathers second marriage to a talented and popular lady of this community, an epidemic of diphtheria swept through this section, the death angel taking three of their six children.

We recall the love and sympathy expressed and how hearts grieved with them in their great sorrow. They spent many years at Mrs. Lynn's old family home and attended our church where she had been organist and Sunday School teacher in her girlhood. Continuing in the work, with Mr. Lynn always leading the choir, and how he loved to sing, all his grief seemed to be assuaged as his wonderful voice brought forth those beautiful songs, then another daughter came to bless their lives. Much to the regret of their many friends they finally left us to live in another part of the state, where Mr. Lynn had secured a remunerative position, and there later met a tragic death. We have ever revered their memory.

PROGRAM OF NATIONAL SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The National Symphony Orchestra begins a new season next Sunday afternoon, October 25. In a brilliant program, featuring Tito Schipa, famed Italian tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, as soloist, Hans Kindler, the Orchestra's conductor, will launch the Symphony's sixth year under auspicious circumstances.

The season opens with most of the Orchestra's players of past seasons in their regular places. There is one notable exception—Harry Farberman, gifted violinist, makes his debut Sunday as the Orchestra's concertmaster. Accepting Dr. Kindler's invitation to fill that important post Mr. Farberman joined the National Symphony as rehearsals began last week.

Sunday's concert, the first of 30 which are included in the Washington season, will include several features, all of which are characteristic of Dr. Kindler's plans to give Washington outstanding musical entertainment this winter. Beginning with "The Entrance of the Gods into Walhalla" from Wagner's "Das Rheingold" the concert will present several symphonic works, in addition to Mr. Schipa's selections.

As soloist with the Orchestra Mr. Schipa will sing "Una Furtiva Lagrima" by Donizetti, and "Il Mio Tesoro" by Mozart. Later in the program he will sing four selections with accompaniment by Federico Longras, pianist. These numbers will include: "Amarilli" by Caccini, "Pesca d'Amore" by Barthelmy, "Ninna Nanna A Liana" by R. Bellini, and "Marechiaro" by Tosti.

The symphony which Dr. Kindler will conduct on this unusual program will be Haydn's Symphony No. 88 in G Major. This is one of the great works of the man who is now known as the Father of the Symphony.

Dr. Kindler on the program will also give a first performance to "Spring Festival" by Mary Howe, a Washington composer, and a first performance in the Capital to "Rhumba" by Earl McDonald. In commemoration of the 125th anniversary of the birth of Franz Liszt, and the 50th year of his death, the program will be concluded with the Hungarian composer's "Les Preludes."

AN AERIAL "WAR COLLEGE"

Under the serene somnolent skies of Southern Alabama, the military destiny of the United States as it must be influenced by aviation is being worked out in the only air school of its kind in the world. The institution, the Army Air Corps Tactical School, the "war college of the air," with a student body composed of officers of the rank of captain and major, brings together all branches of the military service that a composite scheme of first-line defense of the Nation's borders may be devised.

The story of this unique institution of military learning, constituting one of the most interesting chapters in aviation development, will appear in The Star Saturday, October 24.

BIG INCREASE IN PHONES

An increase of 2,080 telephones for the month of September and 9,600 for the first nine months of the year is reported by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia, according to a statement made by Charles H. Weber, general manager. This makes a total of 165,700 telephones in operation by this company in the state.

This increase in telephones is reflected in the net increase of 129,000 telephones reported by the Bell System Companies for September and an increase of 610,300 telephones during the first nine months of the year. In September of last year the Bell System reported a gain of 92,000 telephones. The upturn in telephone installations was 225,600 for the third quarter of the year as compared with 96,500 for the same period in 1935. For the nine months ending September 30, 1935, there was an increase of 279,000 telephones.

The telephone gain in September was the largest for a month in the history of the Bell System, excluding purchases. It was 30,000 higher than the previous record month, October, 1928. The gain in the quarter was the heaviest for the third three months of any year and the largest for any quarter since the first three months of 1929, which included certain additions through purchase. An upturn of 300,000 telephones in the final quarter would make 1936 the banner year, as the record is 910,000 telephones added in 1927, a year which included large additions of stations through purchase.

Democrats, Save Democracy!

TO be a Virginia Democrat and New Dealer, too, requires that a man be two kinds of Democrat at the same time. The Democracy which rules Virginia is prudent, frugal, thrifty; pays as it goes; keeps the taxpayer out of debt. It does not attract the Socialist with his war on private property or the Communist with his war on God and religion. The New Deal Democracy is wasteful, extravagant, prodigal; pawing America's future to create the appearance of present prosperity. It stirs up social division and to it are rallying all the disruptive elements and godless radicals in this nation. To Senator Byrd more than to any other man we owe the fine form of State government which we have enjoyed for more than a decade. What does he think of the New Deal? In a radio speech delivered April 22, 1935, he said: "Never in our history have public funds been so lavishly spent to control the opinions of our people as now. Never have so many highly paid publicity agents been in the employ of our government. The Federal Government has entered the door of every industry; has spied upon the operations of even the small fabricator, has declared that not one additional spindle may be added to a machine without its approval, and it is now proposed to license the farmers of America and the distribution of all food." Senator Glass is known throughout the Nation as the foremost of our elder statesmen. According to The Washington Post of April 8, 1934, he said of the New Deal: "The New Deal, taken all in all is not only a mistake; it is a disgrace to the Nation, and the time is not far distant when we shall be ashamed of having wandered so far from the dictates of common sense and common honesty. . . . If there weren't so many people who depend on me, and by that I do not mean my family, I would rather have died than live to see the disgrace of this era." Never in its history has the Republican party been as far from true Democracy as the New Deal is today. Save Democracy from the New Deal.

Mr. Woodyard's parents operated a store at Ocoquan for a number of years, and after the death of Mr. Woodyard, sr., the present Mr. Woodyard operated it until the death of his mother a few years ago, when he closed the store and accepted a position at the District Workhouse at Lorton. Mrs. Woodyard is well known in this vicinity. Her mother was Postmaster at Ocoquan for a number of years until because of failing health she was forced to give it up. Mrs. Woodyard taught school at Ocoquan for a number of years. She was forced to give this up on account of the illness of her mother who needed her care and attention until her death about a year ago. Mrs. Woodyard has always been a faithful church, and civic worker. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Woodyard all luck and prosperity in their married life. They are housekeeping in their own home at Ocoquan. CARE OF HEALTH URGED BY DOCTOR

Fact Finding Examinations are Recommended

"In spite of platform, radio and printed advice, the average person as yet is not sufficiently impressed with the value of the periodic physical examination. Usually concerned for the children's welfare, there is a definite disinterest by adults in a professional investigation of their own bodies when everything apparently is running smoothly," states Dr. I. C. Rigin, State Health Commissioner.

"Relying on pain to inform them of trouble or trouble brewing, the great majority of otherwise thoughtful and even calculating persons refuse to admit that physical conditions, detrimental to continued health and even life, possibly can exist without their first having been made conscious of the fact. No other reason can explain the disregard of the repeated suggestion to submit to a careful check-up at least once a year.

"Unfortunately, however, the misguided attitude does not alter facts. There are numerous diseases such as certain heart ailments and kidney conditions that have a nasty way of slipping up from behind, so to speak, and blackjacking one into serious illness or worse. It is this class of disease that frequently can be detected by the doctor.

"Nevertheless, thousands of persons refuse to take advantage of this fact-finding examination. They thus become unnecessary victims of the maladies of middle age and beyond.

"It should be appreciated that a body which has been working for forty or more years, no matter how well it behaves or how healthy it looks, can have something wrong with it of which its possessor is ignorant. Not that it actually is out of fix. But the possibility exists. And it is this possibility that most people fail to appreciate.

FAIRFAX LAWYER RALLY SPEAKER

Charles Pickett Addresses Cen- treville Democrats.

(Excerpts of speech made by Charles Pickett, Fairfax lawyer, well known in Prince William, to Centreville voters last Monday.)

Mr. Pickett's ability as a lawyer brought out some outstanding facts concerning the attitude of the Republican Party since its birth in 1860, and called attention to the utter disregard of the Constitution by Abraham Lincoln when he personally declared war on the South from the White House although the Constitution specifically provides that a declaration of war can only be legally made by an act of Congress. In contrast to such usurpation of power, the present respect for the Constitution exhibited by President Roosevelt was pointed out.

Mr. Pickett contrasted President Roosevelt's respectful deference to the decision of the Supreme Court in the matter of the NRA, the AAA and other important recovery measures with the campaign statements made by Abraham Lincoln in 1858 when he openly accused the Supreme Court of conspiring to deceive the people. Quoting from a speech delivered by Abraham Lincoln on July 10, 1858, Mr. Pickett called attention to the fact that no such disrespectful utterance had ever been made by any Democratic candidate for the presidential office. In speaking of the decision of the Supreme Court, Mr. Lincoln said, "It is based upon falsehood in the main as to facts." Mr. Pickett also called attention to the fact that Lincoln was nominated for president upon a platform which denounced the Supreme Court.

He also quoted from Chief Justice Taney to show that President Lincoln had violated and disregarded the basic law of the land, depriving citizens of their security of life and property without due process of law.

These quotations by Mr. Pickett were especially interesting in view of the charges now made by the Republicans that President Roosevelt has not shown the proper regard for our Constitution. Of special interest was the following quotation of a speech by Congressman Vallandigham, denouncing at the time the usurpations of authority on the part of Abraham Lincoln:

"Sir, that same Constitution which I hold up, and to which I gave my whole heart and my utmost loyalty, commits to Congress alone the power to borrow money and to fix the purposes to which it shall be applied, and expressly limits army appropriations to the term of two years. Whenever this House shall have become but a mere office wherein to register the decrees of the Executive, it will be high time to abolish it.

"Sir, it has become the misfortune of the President (Lincoln) from the beginning that he has totally and wholly underestimated the magnitude and character of the revolution with which he had to deal, or surely he never would have ventured upon the wicked and hazardous experiment of calling thirty millions of people to arms among themselves, without the counsel and authority of Congress. But when at last he found himself hemmed in by the revolution, and this city in danger, as he declares, and waked up thus, as the proclamation of the 15th of April proves him to have waked up, to the reality and significance of the movement, why did he not forthwith assemble Congress, and throw himself upon the wisdom and patriotism of the representatives of the States and of the people, instead of usurping powers which the Constitution has expressly conferred upon us? Aye, sir, and powers which Congress had, but a little while before, repeatedly and emphatically refused to exercise, or to permit him to exercise?

"At twelve o'clock on the 4th of March, last, from the eastern portico of this Capitol, and, in the presence of twenty thousand of his countrymen, but enveloped in a cloud of soldiery which no other American President ever saw, Abraham Lincoln took the oath of office to support the Constitution, and delivered his inaugural message, I regret to say, not written in the direct and straight forward language which becomes an American President and an American statesman, and which was expected from the plain, blunt, honest man of the Northwest, but with the forked tongue and crooked counsel of the New York politician (Secretary Seward), leaving thirty millions of people in doubt whether it meant peace or war. . . . Mr. Pickett's address was one of the most eloquent and forceful defenses of democratic ideals which has been placed before the voters of Fairfax County in this campaign.

IN MEMORIAM

A tribute of love to the memory of my beloved daughter, Rosie Belle McCuen who passed away eighteen years ago today, October 22, 1936.

Softly at night the stars are shining,
On her sad and lonely grave,
Where lies my dear Belle Whom I loved and could not save.

Friends may think I have forgotten
And my wounded heart is healed,
But little do they know the sorrow
That is in my heart concealed.

No one knows the heartaches
Only those who have lost can tell,
Of the grief that is borne insilence
At the loss of our dear Belle.

Beyond the sunset she has gone
To rest a little while
Leaving memories of her loving words,
And the sweetness of her smiles,

Nothing but memories—as we journey on
We will always love her and wait,
Till God calls us home.

To be near her for ever more
By her loving mother,
Mrs. Lacy McCuen

SIX BABY ELEPHANTS TAKE A STROLL

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

By
Dr. James T. Marshall
KINDLY VEILED

"God kindly veils my eyes." So runs one of our hymns. There is nothing in which the goodness of God is more fully shown than in His drawing a veil over the future. It would be an inestimable disaster to us if we could curiously would tear away the veil, and know all that lies ahead. Yet human fraudulent clairvoyants prey upon silly dupes who seek to know what is to come. The Witch of Endor still lives.

The disadvantages of knowing the future are many. One of the chief charms of life lies in its sense of mystery. It is delightful and romantic to feel that we are surrounded by countless truths which we may sometime discover.

To my thinking the tragedy of modern childhood lies in its loss of the sense of mystery. The modern child is entirely too sophisticated and scarcely knows the meaning of the word "wonder." Hence there are few thrills awaiting him in later life.

It is true also that a detailed chart of the future would destroy our peace of mind. Suppose that in your childhood you had been furnished with a list of the calamities which would befall you in later life and the exact dates when these evils would befall you. Would not this place your whole existence under a cloud and fill your days with a sense of dread?

Furthermore a chart of the future would upset all history and impede normal human progress. Imagine Napoleon having been told in his early life that he would be disastrously defeated at Waterloo and subsequently exiled on St. Helena; or that the boy James A. Garfield had been told that he would one day become the President of the United States and that his career would be terminated by an assassin's bullet; or that young Mozart had been told that he would die of the age of thirty-three and Shelley that his poetic career would end at the age of thirty. This would be placing a dead hand upon the ambitious and accomplishments of the greatest minds humanity has produced.

A chart of the future would rob us of the full glory of the spiritual life, the joy of doing our work faithfully while we leave the results in the hands of God. The truest happiness belongs to those who know what it means to walk with God. For one, I thank my Heavenly Father that He kindly veils my eyes, so that I cannot know what will come to me on the morrow. I vastly prefer to leave it all to His wisdom and love.

"So on I go not knowing,
I would not if I might;
I'd rather walk in the dark with God
Than go alone in the light;
I'd rather walk by faith with Him
Than walk alone by sight.
So where He leads I'll follow,
My trust in Him repose,
And every hour of perfect peace
I'll sing, He knows, He knows."
