Texas Ranger is Colorful Character.

Jack Lloyd, 68 year old soldier of fortune, adventurer, veteran of many wars and revolutions known throughout the world as "Burning Daylight" and hailed by the newspapermen of the country as the "Original Globe-trotting Reporter" was a visitor in town for several hours Wednesday and Thursday. While in the town, Jack called at the Journal Office, showed his many credentials, newspaper clippings, and gave us the high lights of his life, told us that he was bound for Florida, and marked down another town . . . in his long list of stops. Booms the world over seem to have been Captain Jack's greatest "meat" and he tells you that he has never missed a good boom, no matter where it was located in the past 55 years, and in chasing these booms, the veteran tells you that he has tramped in 57 countries, has written copy for more than 6,000 newspapers, served all of the most important wire and feature services, and is one of the few Americans living that made the famous rush to the South African country, when the "little bits of glass" were found on the veldts of the kimberly.

After making the great diamond rush to the southern section of Africa, Jack went to Johannesburg, wrote many articles for leading European and American papers . . . giving the highlights of the maddest scramble ever known for the precious gems, sought by the people of the world.

It was during the days of the great rush to the Alaskan country, where the cry of gold was heard round the world from the Yukon and the Klondyke, that Lloyd broke into the "lime-light" of the world, for it was after the colorful life of the veterans, that the late Jack London, wrote the story of "Burning Daylight" a style of the North country that will live forever, for it was one of the wildest and most graphic novels written of the great North country, when Circle Coty, Nome, Dawson and Fairbanks were on the tongues of millions of people.

All of the greatest booms of the west, especially the mining towns all knew the veteran and he recalls the best of them as he spins his yarn to you, first he tells you of the days in the famous Colorado boom, when Cripple Creek, Ouray, Silverton, Leadville, Victor Durango and Alamoosa were the "hot spots" of the famous mining state.

Talking of those days, Jack recalls the hectic times he had with the late Senator H. A. W. Tabor . . . known the world over as "Silver Dollar" . . . how he accompanied the wedding party to Washington, when the Senator married the famous beauty from the West.

All of the best booms in Nevada were covered by Jack, and he tells you that Virginia City, in its last days was one of the real wild towns . . . and the famous Mark Twain will never be forgotten by the men of that day. Then there were also many hectic days around Goldfield, Carson City, Tonopah, Reno, Ely, and numerous smaller camps and one of the sensations of the early days of this century in that state, was when Tex Richard put the guarantee money for the Gans and Nelson fight in the window of his famous Great Northern bar.

Idaho had its days around Wallace, Couer d'Alene, Spencer, Kellogg, and Mullan, and for several years the Couer d'Alene country was the scene of the greatest silver camps in the country, then over in Montana, there "Million Dollar" hill was on in full was the scenes around Butte when bloom, Utah saw the boom at Bingham Canyon, Wyoming had its small rushes as well as several of the other states.

The Black Hills . . . well they will never be forgotten, for they helped to write the history of the West as well as any other section of that great land, and Deadwood . . . up to the turn of the Century was a real western town, then Jack recalls the characters of those days Deadwood Dick Calamity Jane, Poker Alice, Preacher Bill, Wild Bill Hikock, the Silent Kid, Whispering Smith, Doc McCall, the "Virgin" . . . and many others that fill the graves in "Bothill" cemetery.

Since the cry of oil, Jack has followed the oil fields, and he has never failed to get to the new field to see the wells spout forth their "Flowing Gold."

Wars . . . military experience . . . well as he best tells it, he has seen a little excitement of that kind, in the World War he was chasing spies for

URGES GREATER INSPECTION CARE

Banker Gives Practical Talk to Club.

Mayor Harry P. Davis was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club on Friday evening. Mr. Davis dwelt at length on the evils of allowing untried and sometimes unlicensed plumbers and electricians to ply their trades locally. He also gave numerous examples as to how damage might arise from such practices, and urged in favor of adopting uniform codes for mechanical arts.

Arthur Boatwright, who had charge of the program, introduced Charles Tenser, of Richmond, who sang several songs much to the general delight of the club. One of these was a paraphrased version of "It's Fine to be a Soldier," using the wording "Some's Something About a Kiwanian."

Al Hooff got up from a sick bed to maintain his perfect record of attendance for the past ten years.

Ladies' Night—December 18, at the High School.

THE BATTLEFIELD TRAIL HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION

On last Wednesday, November 25, a delegation representing the Battlefield Trail Highway Association, consisting of Hon. F. P. Moncure, Stafford C. H.; C. C. Cloe, Triangle; Ray E. Hall, Fredericksburg, and W. F. Cocks, Manassas, called upon Hon. Wade H. Massie, member of the State Highway Commission, at his home in Washington, Va., for the purpose of discussing with him the attitude of the Commission with reference to the improvement of Route 234 between Gilbert's Filling Station and Dumfries.

The large expenditures by the Federal Government on the Manassas Battlefield Park and the Recreational Area near Dumfries were called to Mr. Massie's attention and also to the rapidly increasing travel over this section of Route 234. He was also urged to exert all possible influence toward the rebuilding of the Point of Rocks bridge.

Mr. Massie stated that he proposed to use his best endeavor to have Route 234, between the above points, included in the Federal Highway System, to the end that larger allocations for its improvement might be made available, and that each coming year might see the construction near completion. He also gave assurance that everything possible would be done to hasten the building of the bridge at Point of Rocks.

LUTHERAN LADIES AID

The Ladies Aid of the Lutheran Church will meet next Tuesday, Dec. 8, at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Aubrey Muddiman.

The British, in the Bor War was with Kitchener, in the Spanish American war with "Teddy" and in the Russian and Japanese was a member of the Legion of Death, his greatest military thrill was the time that he was with the late Pancho Villa for several years, and he also served under Sandino in Nicaragua.

This is the first trip that the veteran has made through this section of the country since back in 1910 when he was a sharpshooter with the famous Buffalo Bill Wild West Show. All of the east is booming said Jack . . . and smoke is coming from nearly all of the factories since he left Chicago about 2 months ago, would be re-elected for the past 15 months. Like all good Texans . . . Jack Lloyd is a Democrat . . . and shows where he said Roosevelt would win a year ago.

(We all enjoyed your visit, Captain Jack. Come again.—Ed. note.)

FIREMEN TO HAVE BENEFIT PERFORMANCE

The local fire department is greatly enthused over the handsome co-operation of Ben Pitts, owner of the moving picture in town, who is allowing a show for the benefit of the Fire Department next Thursday. There will be two shows at 7:00 and 9:00 p. m.

The Fire Department is already busily selling tickets for this performance and expects to raise a very tidy sum through the generosity of Mr. Pitts and his local manager, Mr. Franklin Hibbs.

The show will be "Adventure In Manhattan" and brings with it a very handsome team of actors, none other than Jean Arthur and Joel McCrea. The play concerns the efforts of a former newspaper man who has turned crime novelist to solve a series of robberies engineered by master crook. It is a battle of wits and courage with a hilariously interwoven romance.

The play itself is based on the original story by Mae Edgington and was produced and directed some of the screen's best authorities.

FRATERNAL NOTICES

Sunday evening the Juniors attended church services at the U. B. Church, with Rev. John DeChant, officiating. Twenty members from three councils were present.

Prince William Council, No. 45, D. of A. will meet on Monday evening. There will be no meeting on the fourth Monday.

RED CROSS CALL RAISES FINE SUM

Rev. DeChant Reports Gratifying Results.

The Annual Red Cross Roll Call drive closed officially on Thanksgiving day. The Roll Call chairman reported that there are still some loose ends to be gathered up, and more reports to come in so that it is not yet possible to tell whether the county quota of 500 memberships has been reached.

Partial reports from Manassas, Nokesville and Dumfries districts show 150 memberships secured to date. With half the Districts of the County yet to report, it appears that a creditable showing has been made in the Roll Call this year.

Last Year's Roll Call was notable for the large number of $5.00 and $10.00 memberships secured. From present reports it seems that last year's record will be surpassed in this class of memberships. This means that a fine sum will be available for Red Cross activities in the County this year.

The canvassers have been faithful, all of those reporting thus far having done very creditable work. A full list of the canvassers will be published as soon as complete reports are in hand.

The Chairman wishes to thank members of the Junior Red Cross for the fine assistance rendered to the Roll Call this year. They distributed posters, ran errands, and worked their typewriters for the good of the cause. Their work is much appreciated.

If you were not at home when the canvassers called, or if you were missed for any reason, there is still time to join. Simply send your dollar to the Roll Call Chairman, Rev. John M. DeChant, and he will send you, by return mail, your membership button and window sticker. The Red Cross needs you and there is no telling when you may need the Red Cross.

BOYD BARNES

Boyd Barnes, a native of Prince William County, Virginia, died suddenly on Nov. 17, 1936, at Soldiers' Home Hospital in Washington, D. C.

His death was caused by a fall down the stairway at Soldiers' Home where he had been employed for the last 23 years.

Mr. Barnes was born near Dumfries at the Howison "Homestead" on August 18, 1881, the son of the late Thomas and Lucretia Howison Barnes and grandson of Stephen Howison, one of the progenitors of that family in Prince William County and who received some distinction as a poet. Perhaps the verses entitled "The Home of My Childhood" are the most outstanding.

Mr. Barnes was of a cheerful, pleasing personality and though he lived a quiet, retiring life he had many friends. He was steadfast and reliable in performance of duty where employed and enjoyed the confidence of those associated with him. Mr. Barnes never married. Those of his immediate family surviving are two brothers, Alvin and Richard Barnes and a sister, Mrs. Amanda Staples all of Prince William and a sister, Mrs. Sarah Seaton of Purcellville.

The funeral services were conducted from the Staples residence at 2:00 p. m., Nov. 20, with fitting and beautiful remarks by the Rev. J. Murray Taylor, of the Baptist Church. The services were concluded at the Howison burial ground where the body of Boyd Barnes was left to rest on the sloping, sunny hillside amid the dust of his ancestors and where the soothing Southern pines are ever sighing.

MRS. W. B. DOAK

Lucy Hughes Doak, wife of W. B. Doak of Clifton Station, V., died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Kemper, in Wardensville, West Va., on November 29, at the age of 68. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Kemper and Mrs. Ed. R. Dewey of Riverside, Conn., and two sons, Samuel H. and Marshall R., at home. She is descended from old Fauquier Chief Justice Marshall stock. Her father, Marshall J. Hughes, was born and brought up in Orange County, Va. Mrs. Doak was a member of the Clifton Presbyterian Church and of the National Women's Garden Club.

She was an honor graduate of Augusta Female Seminary, now called Mary Baldwin Seminary, and won the Art Medal and a certificate of merit in literature from Mary Baldwin herself. She wrote a number of poems among which "A Shasta Legend" was published as a full page frontispiece in American Forestry magazine, and another, "Plea of the Hills" appeared in the American Sheep Breeder.

She wrote hundreds of articles, letters, pleas and poems concerning many phases of rural life. Her work inspired, to some extent, our Farm Credit Administration. Living on a farm for over thirty years, she was devoted to nature, gardening, and the love of beauty in nature and in her fellowmen. Her philosophy of life was an inspiration to her family, friends and the community.

It remains for us, the living, "To reconsecrate ourselves to this unfinished task," of country home building and Christian living, to which she gave her life and to which she gave a soldier's "Full of measure devotion." "I cannot say, I will not say, that Lucy is dead, she is just away. With cheery smile and a wave of the hand She has wandered into that unknown land— And left us wondering how very fair it needs must be since she lingers there."

Mrs. Doak was buried from the Clifton Presbyterian Church on December 1, with interment in Fairfax Court House Cemetery.

Larroc EGG MASH
Illustration of chickens and text describing the product.

More Extra Eggs MORE PROFIT

A ton of Larroc Egg Mash will feed about 50 hens for a year. Suppose it makes each hen lay only one extra egg per month. (It will actually do much better than that.) But suppose they lay only one extra egg. That's 50 dozen extra eggs for the year from the flock . . . and at 30c per dozen those eggs mean $15.00 extra profit for you from only one ton of Larroc Egg Mash.

Larroc Egg Mash may cost a little more than your present ration—but don't let that hinder you from feeding it when one extra egg per month from each hen will cancel a $15.00 difference in cost.

We know you'll make more money if you feed the Larroc way.

Buck Keyes Post American Legion of Quantico, Va., is giving a series of talks to the following schools: Stafford, Dumfries, Quantico town and Quantico post and Occoquan High School in connection with requirements for the award of the American Legion Medals to those schools. The talks also explain and recommend patriotism and Americanism as opposed to Communism and other subversive isms. It is our bounden duty to spread the spirit of patriotism among our young people in our schools and colleges, especially so because socialists and communists have been planted in our midst as shown by our voting population in the recent elections.

BIBLE SUNDAY

Sunday, December 6, will be observed in thousands of churches all over the world as Universal Bible Sunday. This is an annual observance promoted by the American Bible Society, to remind us of the important place the Bible has in the life of mankind. The Bible has been translated into more than 700 languages and dialects. It is sold by the millions of copies every year and millions of copies and portions are given away by the American Bible Society and affiliated organizations to the poor of every land who cannot afford to buy. If you know your Bible you have already observed that it is quoted constantly by statesmen and public speakers everywhere. Its words and phrases appear every day in newspaper and magazine editorials, in modern novels and short stories and in classic English and European literature.

The Bible speaks a universal language. Its characters, in modern dress, may be found wherever are found. Its truth is timeless. It speaks to us in 1936 as plainly as when it was first written. To know it is to be educated. To believe in it is to be saved. It is the word of God to all men of every generation and of every land.

CATHARPIN

Since the time no-one knows when, the Sudley Sunday School will have no Christmas program during the coming Yuletide season. This decision was made by the Bible class last Sunday morning due to the prevalence of so much sickness among children in the neighborhood from various diseases which it is feared may become epidemic if not carefully guarded against. Several cases of scarlet fever and a number of cases of whooping cough are now claiming the attention of parents everywhere, so it was considered the better part of valor not to take any unnecessary chances of its spreading. The children and even the grown-ups will feel a disappointment, but something will be done for them all later on.

Mr. B. Lynn Robertson of New York, was a week-end visitor of his brother, W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale.

Mr. C. C. Hughes of Catharpin has been confined to his home during the past week suffering an attack of quinsy. This family has had its full share of suffering recently, having had three cases of scarlet fever from which one child died, and now three have the whooping cough.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Collins of Marble Hill were Thanksgiving guests of their daughter, Mrs. J. M. Allison of Near Manassas.

The first quarterly conference of the new year for the Sudley circuit will be held at the parsonage, Cainsville, Va., on Saturday next, December 5, at 10:00 a. m. It is hoped that the "report courteous" will be forthcoming for this important occasion.

Miss Frances Lynn Robertson, a student in a business college in Richmond, Va., is spending the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald of Oakwood were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Caldwell of Six Acres where the festive bird was very much in evidence and enjoyed by all concerned.

By the time this reaches you, all will have settled back into their usual habits—corn cakes for breakfast, cabbage for dinner and both for supper. In other words, back to normalcy. It usually takes some time to clear up all the "fragments" that nothing be lost after a feast-time such as Thanksgivings have become. Fortunately Thanksgiving arrives just as the turkey crop is "ripe unto the harvest" and after a summer's hard work rearing them and undergoing the hardships incident to disease, discouragements, fatalities and above all else, high prices of feeds, the raiser feels that it is a mighty stingy individual who could not afford to regale himself upon the things he produces; so, by and large, this community by reason of its many turkeys, fresh sausage, spare ribs, and some liverwurst, has fared sumptuously during this feasting season and we know all are thankful even if we may have forgotten to say so.

This community, in a more or less limited extent, has always raised turkeys; but this year more birds were raised than ever before; some raisers receiving as many as 500 young poulters at a single shipment, and rearing them with reasonable success so that the week before Thanksgiving shipments by the truck load left the neighborhood almost daily for the Baltimore and Washington markets selling around 20 cents per pound. So the community is reaping its reward in both cash and something good to eat along with many other things bountifully vouchsafed unto us.

The day, however, had its fatalities. It could not pass without a murdered. It seems that most of our holidays have been preempted to the baser things of life. All of them originally had their origin in man's best love and Christian instincts and were set apart as memorials to perpetuate his spirit and adoration for the best things in life, but strange as it may seem, our modern civilization does not seem to be a success in training the "Rank and File" that these days, Thanksgiving and Christmas, are sacred days and should not be drunken days when shootings, fighting and all sorts of indulgences both secular and profane seem to be the order of the day and the finer things in life are entirely eliminated from thought or consideration.

It seems that Society has lost control of itself; that everyone may do as he pleases and it is no one's business. This is a situation deplorable and sooner or later Society must get hold of itself and correct these things or suffer the consequences. The passing of Prohibition has not helped things. It's about time now for every one to look truth in the face an be man enough to be governed by it.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

Parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible lessons, it will prove a precious heritage to them in later years.

WISE COUNSEL: Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.—Jude 21.

EXIT MR. TUGWELL

There will be little regret, except possibly in Communist circles, over the resignation of Rexford Tugwell as Undersecretary of Agriculture and head of the Resettlement Administration. Mr. Tugwell, one of the original Brain Trust group, is the last of that group to leave Washington. Raymond Moley was the first to go. He left after trying to dictate the American policy, over the head of Cordell Hull, at the London Peace Conference. Later, C. W. Taussig made his exit, as did Adolf A. Berle. The reason for their departure from the inner circle was not made public...

Mr. Tugwell has been trying to remake America. In his student days he wrote a tome on this subject. After he got into the government family he attempted to put the scheme into effect. Everyone was going to be better off and have a better home, and no one was going to pay for it. Mr. Tugwell was given millions to spend, and he spent a great part of it in setting up an elaborate organization which did not function for many months. Then he was given many more millions to provide better homes for the under-privileged...

Mr. Tugwell is long on theory, but even when given unlimited funds he appears unable to put that theory into practice. Reports from Washington say that he is going to join Taussig as a molasses magnate. If they make as sweet a mess of that undertaking as Tugwell made of his government job, "Long sweetening" should replace sugar as a household staple. — Newport News Daily Press.

Advertisement for National Bank of Manassas. Text: "Why do Banks charge higher interest than they pay?" We believe these facts will readily indicate why the interest which a bank charges on loans must be at a higher rate than that which the same bank can pay on savings or time deposits. 1. A considerable proportion of a bank's resources, at any given time, are uninvested; they must be kept available to meet the possible demands of depositors. 2. A large proportion are invested in government bonds, which pay an extremely modern return. 3. Operating expenses — including rent, salaries, equipment, taxes, and occasional losses — must be covered largely by earnings from loans and investments... to say nothing of a moderate return to the bank's stockholders on their invested capital. The difference in rate paid on money deposited and money loaned is analogous to the difference in wholesale and retail prices in trade — it helps to pay operating costs. IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our son Brown Ennis, who departed life nine years ago, December 3, 1927.

We often sit and think of you, And think of how you died.

To think you could not say goodbye Before you closed your eyes.

We little thought your death so near So sad, so sudden was the Call.

God took you home, away from all. The blow was hard, the shock severe,

To his grave I often wander And place sweet flowers there,

And mourn for him in silence And kneel with God in Prayer.

His Father and Mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Ennis.

TO OPEN NEW BUSINESS

After a residence near Manassas of a period of several years, Mr. J. C. Petersen has decided to sever connections in Washington and open a business in Manassas. He is making his announcement to that effect in other columns of this issue.

Mr. Petersen states that his present residence in Virginia marks the third time that he returned to this State and that he expects to spend the rest of his days right here.

A native of Denmark, he came to this country in 1909 remaining in New York for some ten or twelve years. He also married while living there, his bride being a native of Switzerland. He spent a number of years in Washington and in these two large cities has had experience with some of the biggest business firms who are engaged in his line of work.

The country seems to be more adaptable to Mr. Petersen who was a country boy before he came to America and his six children are being reared under the congenial influence of Virginia ideals and securing their education in our local school system.

Homes Take to Highways

How America goes a-gypsying in automobile trailers, with all the conveniences of a hotel suite, is one of the phenomena of life today, according to 300 manufacturers, who have answered the call of the open road with an astounding collection of locomoting homes.

The manner in which modern folk see the world and hav their comforts too is described in a story appearing in next Sunday's Star. Statistics on the enormous sales of these vehicles in recent years and descriptions of the types of persons who use them, from honeymooners and retired couples to roving theatrical troupes, are included.

BUCKLAND

Buckland lost its oldest and one of its best-loved residents on Tuesday, November 24, in the passing of Mrs. L. G. Brown, widow of the late Dr. Brown. Mrs. Brown was 83 years of age and had been in active health until a week before her death she suffered a stroke of paralysis from which she never rallied. She had been a resident here for more than forty years and had endeared herself to this and adjoining communities. Funeral services were conducted from St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Haymarket, of which the deceased was a member, by the rector, Rev. Carpenter, on Thursday at 4:00 p. m. and her remains were laid to rest beside her husband in the cemetery there. Those surviving are her two sons, Messrs. Harry Brown of Maryland, and Thurston Brown of Romney, West, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Earl LaGrange have moved into their new home recently erected near here. Miss Edith Yates, who has been a patient at the Blue Ridge Sanitarium for the past several months, expects to return shortly to the home of her sister, Mrs. P. H. Lee. Miss Louise Burgess of Warrenton spent the Thanksgiving holiday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwell Glascock. We are indeed very sorry to hear of Mr. Robert Jackson's serious illness. Mrs. O. B. Lunceford spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Graham. Master Bland Lee was confined to his home last week with a severe cold. Mr. J. P. Fowler of Park Lane, Va., formerly a resident here, was a Buckland visitor last week. We are sorry to report that Mr. Charlie Rieley had the misfortune to saw his hand quite badly while employed near Middleburg recently. Mr. Bay Kearns and family, who have resided on Mrs. Field's farm for the past several years, moved on Monday to their home they purchased early this year near Greenwich. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown of Maryland, and Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Brown and family of Romney, West Va., were called here last week by the serious illness and death of Mrs. L. G. Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Calvert and Mrs. M. C. Calvert of Washington were visitors here on Thursday. Mrs. E. B. Carter is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Douglas of Thoroughfare.

"Of the old festivals, that of Christmas awakens the strongest and most heart-felt associations . . . It is a beautiful arrangement, also, derived from days of yore, that this festival, which commemorates the announcement of the religion of peace and love, has been made the season for gathering together of family connexions, and drawing closer again those bands of kindred hearts, which the cares and pleasures sorrows of the world are continually operating to cast loose; of calling back the children of a family, who have launched forth in life, and wandered widely asunder, once more to assemble about the paternal hearth, that rallying-place of the affections, there to grow young and loving again among the endearing mementos of childhood."
From Washington Irving's "Old Christmas."
