At the instigation of a committee from this chapter Mr. E. D. Hubbard, of the State Highway, has taken proper precaution for the protection of the marker on historic Stone Bridge, over Bull Run, by placing a notice and offering a reward for the arrest of anyone guilty of defacing the marker.

A birthday card signed by all members present was sent to Miss Louisa Moxley at Greenwich as a remembrance of her ninety-sixth anniversary.

SCOUT WORK IS REVIEWED

National Executive Guest Kiwanis.

As a preliminary move toward observing the boy scout anniversary week, the Kiwanis Club had as its honor guest, Scout Master R. Jackson Ratcliffe and the scout executive J. Wallace Talley of Washington.

Mr. Talley very ably outlined the history development and methods of boy scout in this country stating that he had been associated with it for about twenty-five years and was one of the first scout masters in Washington city.

His talk was extremely interesting and contained many very human stories. He pledged to aid the scout committee of the club and at his request, Mr. Ratcliffe called this committee together for an executive session following the adjournment of the club.

The members of the club were also very much delighted at the presence of Bill Lloyd who has been on the sick list off and on since Christmas.

O. D. Waters gave a statement regarding the amount of the contributions made to the flood relief and showed how an inaccuracy had crept into a newspaper account of it.

In furtherance of the boy scout work and as a result of the meeting on Friday evening, Mr. Ratcliffe and the following attended the Court of Honor at Fairfax on Saturday night:

Town Manager W. F. Cocks and Scouts Keifer Wenrich and Herwin Ritter.

On Tuesday night, February 9, 1937, Fredericksburg Girl's Basketball Squad played our team on the home court. Our team won over Fredericksburg by a score of 34 to 27. June Foster, a second team guard, must be commended for her excellent guarding in the absence of our first team guard, Frances Owens.

Our forwards, Letha Foster and Marie Herndon, shot an equal number of goals. Congratulations must be extended to other members who aided in securing this victory. This game was the most exciting of the year because of its speed and slight margin of the score.

NOTED POETESS ADDRESSES CLUB

Ladies Welcome Miss Turner on Visit Here.

The regular meeting of The Woman's Club was held in the hotel on Wednesday, February 10. The various chairmen reported and the Committees for the Charity Ball were announced, Mrs. A. L. Mylander being General Chairman.

Upon conclusion of the regular business, Miss Nancy Byrd Turner, our own Virginia Poetess was graciously introduced by the Chairman of the Garden Section, Mrs. Margaret Lewis. The subject of her talk was "Who Makes a Garden?" and Miss Turner said she felt more or less like a fraud in talking on such a subject as she had never made a garden herself but as she read many of her poems, we all realized that a great deal more goes into a garden than the mere scratching of the soil and placing of a seed.

Miss Turner said she felt right at home in Manassas, that while she was a child, her father was the Episcopal Rector at Haymarket for three years and her very first poem was published in the "Manassas Gazette."

"Gardens have meant a great deal in the life of the world and in the life of every one of us. If any of us who had made a garden should die the day after, nevertheless we would live on in that garden as year after year the flowers that had been planted would spring to life in the proper course of time."

"In a like manner, certain flowers come to have precious meanings due to the association of the fragrance." Due to the fact that many small animals live in gardens, she brought in the readings of her "Epitaph of the Toad" and the "Epitaph of the Rabbit."

"Gardens are doctors, teachers and preachers. Working in a garden brings back health; in a garden the eternal truths are expressed in our minds, gardens preach to us the truth of Eternal Life."

Miss Turner mentioned the wonderful gardens in England, at Warwick Castle, Lynmouth and especially those lovely ones in our own country, the herb garden at the Washington Cathedral and the gardens of Virginia, particularly the one of Mary Washington in Fredericksburg. Her audience was entranced with the reading of several dialect poems which included "I'se Gwine Whar I'se Gwine, Thar's Whar I'se Gwine."

She read that most beautiful poem, "Death is an Old Door Set in a Garden Wall." Miss Turner says that she has always been inspired in the writing of that poem as she modestly feels she could not have written it without help and it simply flowed from her pen without the usual forethought. In closing she read her poem, "Who Makes a Garden" in her own inimitable way which is so delightful and we are all anticipating the pleasure of again hearing her in the not too far distant future.

HARD LUCK VISITS BASKETBALL SQUAD HERE

Manassas High School lost another practice game to Lee-Jackson Tuesday night with a score of 25-16. Manassas did some very outstanding playing although the Lee-Jackson cagers were victorious.

The Lee-Jackson girls were also victorious over the Manassas girls with a score of 29-15.

Last week the "Generals" at Washington-Lee took a very one-sided game from the boys. This was largely due to the fact that the first team was used against Manassas and all sorts of unusual transformations in both teams were used.

MAIL ROBBERY AT MANASSAS

Pouch Stolen Last Saturday from Southern Railway.

Last Saturday evening, shortly after dark, a pouch of United States mail disappeared at the Southern Railway station at Manassas a few minutes before arrival of the east-bound train which carries into Washington the last mail of the day.

It is believed that the theft may have been carefully planned with inside knowledge concerning mailing practices in towns on Saturday evenings, where facilities for registration and for securing postal money orders are not available in the afternoon. In any event the pouch suddenly disappeared, probably at a moment when the Railway employee was briefly occupied with some special duty just before arrival of the train.

As negotiable securities and money are rarely sent in regular mails, the amount of actual loss from the robbery can not be at present ascertained, but the inconvenience occasioned by the theft has already been keenly felt as business concerns and individuals began to be advised through their banks and other business contacts that non-negotiable checks and other papers, invoices and orders would have to be duplicated if they had been scheduled for dispatch from Manassas on the last mail on Saturday.

Authorities of the Post Office Department and detectives of the Southern Railway are said to be investigating and while they apparently have very little in the way of clues to aid them, it is hoped that they may be able to solve the mystery and bring the offender to justice.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION PLANS SPECIAL SERVICES

Several matters of interest to Manassas church goers received action at the regular meeting of the Manassas Ministerial Association on Monday, Feb. 8. The first was the Good Friday union services. This will be held in the Presbyterian church on March 25, from 2 to 3 o'clock. The Rev. R. M. Graham, pastor of the Manassas Baptist church will preach the sermon. The stores and business places of the community will be asked to close for this hour, as has been the custom for several years past.

The second matter is new in the new religious history of the community. This is a dawn service to be held in the open air on Easter, March 28. The service will be in charge of the Association. The location is not yet decided upon, but the Portner Estate is the most probable location. Rev. H. P. Baker is chairman of the arrangements committee, Rev. A. Stuart Gibson is to secure the speaker, and Rev. John M. DeChant is to provide the music.

The ministers of the Association have been conducting services each Sunday at the Convict Camp, The preaching schedule for the Sundays up to May 30 was announced.

The offering at the union service held on January 31, amounting to $8.00 was forwarded to the Red Cross for the Relief Fund.

It was decided to conduct a Religious survey of the Community in March. Rev. Baker will be in charge of the Survey and committee from all churches will be appointed to assist him. The last Religious Survey was made in December, 1934.

In addition to local ministers, Rev. J. Royall Cooke of Greenwich and Rev. A. B. Sapp of Gainesville attended the meeting.

CARD PARTY MUCH ENJOYED

The annual card party of the Wimodausis Chapter, O. E. S. held in the Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening proved to be quite a success. Everyone who attended reports a very enjoyable evening.

Despite the very inclement weather, there were nineteen tables of cards. One especially interesting table was comprised of eight players of "set-back."

There was a lovely prize given at each table and seven attractive door prizes. The door prize winners were Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Mrs. John Broadus, Miss Abbye Lutes, Mr. Theodore Ritter, Mrs. J. Lawrence Gregory, Mrs. Wade-Dalton and Mrs. J. L. Bushong.

The hostesses included members of the Ways and Means Committee.

Lenten Talks on the Parables of Jesus
 by Dr. James T. Marshall

THE LOVING FATHER

The parable of the Prodigal Son has been called "the most divinely tender and most humanly touching story ever told on earth." A more accurate title would be the Parable of the Loving Father. One should read the entire fifteenth chapter of Luke and get the parallel stories of the lost Sheep and the Lost Coin.

Jesus here tells of a young man who was living in an ideal home, but was restless and eager to throw off restraints and see the world. He asks for his share of the estate in advance and goes off to a distant country where he abandons himself to a life of wild dissipation. It is not long before his money is spent and he is deserted by his professed friends. Finding himself in want, he is compelled to earn his living but no employment is offered him better than feeding a herd of swine. His clothing is worn to tatters and he can secure no food except the husks which the swine did eat.

Sin is insanity. Fortunately the young man came to see this and regained his sanity and resolved to return home and cast himself on his father's mercy. He would confess his sin and ask only to be taken back as one of the hired servants.

All the while the broken-hearted father has been eagerly watching for his boy's return. One evening as he paces the field he sees someone coming up the road. Even the rags and the faltering step cannot disguise the familiar figure. Rushing forward he falls on the boy's neck and kisses him over and over again. "Father, I have sinned," the boy cried but he was not allowed to finish the sentence. "Be quick," the father calls to the servants, "bring the best robe in the house and put it on this boy; bring shoes for his feet and a ring for his hand; and hurry and kill the calf which we have been fattening on the wheat and prepare a feast, and let us eat and be merry; this is my son! He was dead and is alive again, he was lost and is found."

This is Jesus' portrait of God, a likeness painted by the only artist who ever saw the original. If you desire to know what God is like, here is your answer. It denies the persistent misconception that God is a harsh tyrant who hates sinners and must be appeased before he will forgive. It is He who takes the initiative, and His loving heart cannot be satisfied until He has exhausted every effort to save His erring children. "We love him because He first loved us."

The story of the Lost Sheep is but a further declaration of this same truth. When the sheep strays from the fold there is no hint of the Shepherd displaying anger. Seizing His staff He hurries off and travels over mountain and vale, crossing deep waters and passing through dark nights until He finds the wanderer. When He returns this is all He says to His friends, "Rejoice with me for I have found my sheep which was lost."

Where is the ingrate who can turn his back on a Father like this? "For the love of God is broader Than the measure of man's mind And the heart of the eternal Is most wonderfully kind."

ADEN

The Aden correspondents seem to have gone on one of the popular sit down strikers. The community is as much alive as ever but there has been such little time to write about the activities.

The Woman's Club met with the leader, Mrs. M. S. Kerlin on Jan. 28, where some most delightful new dishes in the Art of Good Preparation were demonstrated. The members of the club feel very fortunate in having some tactful new officer. Mrs. Clifford Dore, formerly Miss Evelyn Kerlin has been some what indisposed for several weeks is improving.

Little Betty Lee Gorman is now at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Gorman in Washington, D. C., after spending some time with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kerlin.

The improvements on the interior, of Asbury Church are going forward. The small band is working beautifully and the results are letting.

The young boys of the community are working of surplus energy. They are taking Abe Lincoln as a hero and living his pattern by building a hewn log lodge in the woods. Don't ask where it is, that's their secrets.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Spirit" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 7.

The Golden Text was "We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord" (II Cor. 3:18)

Among the citations which comprised "the Lesson-Sermon" was the following from the Bible: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh of the flesh reap corruption but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting" (Gal. 6:7, 8)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To ascertain our progress, we must learn where our affections are placed and whom we acknowledge and obey as God. If divine Love is becoming nearer, dearer, and more real to us, matter is then submitting to Spirit. The objects we pursue and the spirit we manifest reveal our standpoint, and show what we are winning" (p.239)

ARE YOU WEAK, MISERABLE?

Mrs. A. B. Adkins of 18 Arlington Ave., Charleston, W. Va., said: "At one time I was weak and out-of-sorts. I felt I could hardly keep going. I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic over a period of several weeks and I was amply repaid for doing so. My appetite increased, then I gained in weight and strength and felt fine in every way." Buy now! New size, tablets 50c, liquid $1.00 & $1.35. Consult Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y.

It digests a survey of this achievement given in the report of the Commission of Fine Arts just off the Government press and sketches the commission's hopes for the future in making Washington a city even more beautiful than it is today.

OCCOQUAN and VICINITY

Miss Jane Selecman spent the week end with Miss Miriam Stackhouse in Washington, D. C.

Miss Irene McMahon of Occoquan was on the sick list last, and we are glad to announce she is much improved.

We are glad to report that Miss Eskridge who was on the sick all last week is again at her teaching work at Occoquan High School.

We are glad to report that Mr. H. L. Mooney who has been on the sick list is improving rapidly.

At the regular meeting of the School Auditorium on Thursday evening, we had the largest attendance of the season. We are sure glad to see the interest the neighborhood is taking in the school league. Miss Irons, one of the teachers had some of the younger children put on a five act play which was performed in a very excellent manner. The performers were given a great ovation after each act. Miss Irons also announced that on Friday, March 5, the faculty was going to put on a play which she was sure all would enjoy, the title is "Everyone is crazy."

At the school league meeting, the High School Alumni presented the league with a check for $100.00, to be applied on the note on the gymnasium grounds. The league gave the Alumni a rising vote of thanks, and ordered that they be given a letter of thanks as well. This was a very acceptable donation for the school grounds.

After the league meeting, a spelling bee elimination was put on in order to select two of the best spellers up to and including the 6th grade; those to compete with those from the other schools later on to determine which school will be awarded the Buck Keyes Post, American Legion Auxiliary cup. All the schools are taking a great contest among the schools for the award of this cup.

The children of Occoquan High School collected about $100.00 in the past two weeks to be given as a donation to the Red Cross for flood relief. This was fine of the school children.

Buck Keyes Post, American Legion donated $50.00, from their general fund to the Red Cross for flood relief.

The Woman's Auxiliary of Buck Keyes Post will give a dance Friday evening, February 12, at Occoquan High School, the proceeds to be given to the Red Cross for flood relief. This is a most worthy cause, and it is hoped all who can will come. Good music will be furnished. Refreshments will be on sale.

Pohick Post of the American Legion will give a dance at Lorton School Thursday evening, February 18, the proceeds to be given to the Red Cross for flood relief work. It is hoped all who can will come.

The regular Junior League dance will be given at Occoquan High School on February 26. Be sure to come and have a pleasant evening's recreation.

FORD AGAIN PASSES MILLION MARK

For the eleventh year in the past seventeen years Ford Motor Company enjoyed better than a million-car year in 1936, according to announcement today at the Ford home offices here.

Tabulations just completed, the announcement said, revealed that in 1936 both world sales and world production exceeded considerably the million car mark. Ford cars and trucks sold throughout the world during the year totalled 1,219,262 units. Ford world production in the same period was 1,194,800 units, it was announced.

Ford's first "million-car" year was in 1920 when Ford world production reached a total of 1,044,336 units. Subsequent "million-car" years were in 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1929, 1930 and 1935.

The bulk of Ford production was in the United States for domestic use. Canadian production, including assemblies in Australia, India, Malaya, New Zealand and South Africa, totalled 60,282 units. Production in the United States for export plus production in plants in Europe, Asia and South America was 204,641 units, bringing the world production total for the year to 1,194,800 units.

Ford cars are manufactured in four factories beside the Rouge Plant at Dearborn, Mich. These are Dagenham, England; Windsor, Canada; Strassburg, France; and Cologne, Germany.

Ford cars are assembled in a total of forty-four plants over the world. Of these, sixteen, including the great Rouge Plant, are in the United States, four in Canada, eight in Europe, one in Mexico, three in South America, one in Japan, four in Australia, four in Australia, four in India and Ceylon, and one each in Malaya, New Zealand, and South Africa.

"NORTH OF NOME" GRIPPING DRAMA OF ARCTIC WASTE

The Arctic wastes of Alaska provide the virile background for the gripping Columbia picture, "North of Nome", which will come at the Pitts Theatre tomorrow. It is film for people who like their entertainment dramatic, and who don't complain if it makes their heart beat just a bit faster. Thrills it has, and a story that is something new under the sun.

A tale of seal poaches and hi-jackers in a country where might is right, it seems to call for an actor like Jack Holt—and presto! there he is. Holt, in the starring role, once more proves his acting prowess; his portrayal is strong and intelligent.

Evelyn Venable, Quinn "Big Boy" Williams, John Miljan, Roger Imhoff and others bring their respective characters to life in fine fashion, giving splendid assistance to the dependable Holt.

"North of Nome" deals with a seal poacher, John Raglan by name, who is being hounded by a vicious hi-jacker, Haage, long his bitter enemy. Raglan, in an effort to shake Haage, strands himself on one of the corporation-owned islands to which he has come to hunt seals. Raglan has no recourse to law, for he is doing his hunting illegally.

During a terrific storm, Raglan manages to rescue several survivors his island. Among the survivors are Judge Bridle, a director in the company that owns the island; Camilla, his attractive daughter and Dawson, Camilla's wealthy suitor. saved his life, the Judge threatens him with imprisonment for poaching when they return to civilization.

Hence it is up to Raglan to see that no one leaves the isolated island. Complications ensue rapidly, with romance taking a hand and adding to the general excitement. It is a tense drama, finely directed by William Nigh. Albert DeMond's screen play from Houston Branch's story is altogether admirable.

THE 25-MILLIONTH FORD HAS JUST BEEN BUILT

IT HAS never occurred before in automobile history that 25 million cars of one make, bearing one name, have been manufactured under one management. The 25,000,000th Ford car rolled off the Ford Rouge Plant production line on January 18, 1937.

25 million cars since 1903... more than one-third of all the cars ever built... enough cars to transport the entire population of the United States.

The figures represent a remarkable contribution to the social welfare, the industrial stability and the general progress of our country.

People respect Ford efficiency. They know Ford uses fine materials, the best workmanship at good wages, the most exact precision measurements. They know these things are passed along to purchasers in the form of extra value. Naturally, they like to do business with such a company. That is the only reason it has been required to produce 25 million cars.

Naturally, too, they expect more of a Ford car, more this year than last year—more each year than the year before. They have every right to. The experience gained in building 25,000,000 cars enables Ford to produce today a really superb motor car at a really low price—with the Beauty, Comfort, Safety and Performance of much more expensive cars.

The 1937 Ford V-8 combines advanced design, all-steel construction, extra body room, and brilliant brakes with a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines—the most modern type of power-plant on land, sea, or in the air.

The 85-horsepower engine provides top performance with unusually good economy for its high power.

The 60-horsepower engine gives good performance with the greatest gasoline mileage ever built into a Ford car—and wears the lowest Ford price tag in years.

People expect more of a Ford car because it's a Ford—and they get more, for the same reason. It is undeniably the quality car in the low-price field.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

THE WORD OF GOD
 BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a precious heritage to them in their lives.

Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established.—Proverbs 4:26.

JUDICIAL REFORM

There have been speculations as to what use the President will make of the overwhelming majority which he has at his disposal in Congress. He had previously indicated that reorganization of the Executive Branch would be undertaken. We now have at least one answer for those who would envision the trends of the second Roosevelt Administration. The President has proposed a sweeping Judicial Reform.

The struggle between the three branches of our federal government, and particularly the battle for supremacy between the Chief-Executive and the Supreme Court has been waged intermittently since the establishment of our Government. The framers of the Constitution recognized this danger and sought to safeguard the Nation from the consequences of such strife.

The idea that a Supreme Judiciary shall be able to thwart the will of the people as expressed in their legislative set-up is something which has gradually developed. Many great minds of this Nation and abroad have championed the cause of popular will as superior to mandates of either the Judiciary or the Executive. Others, like Abraham Lincoln, have argued that the Chief Executive had the power of overthrowing the decisions of the Supreme Court, a power which he exercised to the point of bloodshed.

James Madison in the debates of the Federal Convention of 1787 made an interesting proposal which in the minutes of August 15, of that year is recorded as follows:

"Mr. Madison moved that all acts before they become laws should be submitted both to the Executive and the Supreme Judiciary Department, that if either of these should object two-thirds of each House, if both should object, three-fourths of each House, should be necessary to overrule the objections and give to the acts the force of law." Such a procedure at the time of the War between the States would have prevented the usurpation of all power by the Chief Executive and doubtless would have saved the Nation a bloody and unnecessary war.

There is great need for a procedure which will permit quick action on the Constitutionality of legislation, prevent divergent rulings from lower Courts, and make it impossible for great Executive Departments to be built up at enormous expense, only to be declared unconstitutional after long periods of operation.

The President has the best of many arguments in his proposed judicial reform. On the other hand he faces stout opposition from the conservative Senate. The President, however, warms to a hard battle and the American people enjoy a good old-fashioned political fight between men who hit straight from the shoulder. It is certain that such a battle is now in the making and we are fortunate indeed to be able to turn our national attention to such peaceful questions as Judicial Reform while many nations are mostly thinking in terms of possible bloody wars and revolutions.

ELIHU ROOT

On February 7, a man of fragile physique who had outlived almost all of his more robust contemporaries, passed to his reward. He was prominent in our national affairs so many decades ago that many were surprised to learn that until the past few days, he still survived. His services to the nation and to the political party of his choice were very great.

As Secretary of War under President McKinley and as Secretary of State under Theodore Roosevelt and later in the cause of international peace, Elihu Root, was an outstanding figure for many years. He headed President Wilson's Commission to Kerensky in Russia. He was a Delegate to the Washington Arms Conference in 1921. He was an organizer of the World Court and his last important public office was as a member of the Hague Permanent Court of Arbitration.

ANGLO-AMERICAN PACT

Reports emanating unofficially from Washington indicate that a reciprocal trade pact between the United States and England is in the offing.

Walter Runciman's recent "unofficial" visit to the White House has served to strengthen the belief that a basis for negotiations between the two English-speaking governments is being laid for more detailed plans later on. The Consensus among international observers is that no stone will be left unturned in efforts to consummate the treaty.

It is not to be doubted that Mr. Runciman's presence helped in a better understanding of the problems facing both countries. From the general cooperative attitudes thus established a mutual understanding as a foundation for more concrete achievements should be forthcoming.

Some modification in British policy which has been pursued since 1931 will be necessary, however, before British can conclude a trade agreement with our country. And when this becomes an accomplished fact a considerable easing of international trade will result.

Establishment of good-will has apparently been the principal object of the Englishman's sojourn here. It is quite obvious that a spirit of sympathy between the two countries will be event of a general European war.

It is understood that no step has as yet been taken by trade experts toward the creation of a particular trade formula for the two nations. No specific developments are to be expected until Mr. Runciman has had the opportunity to present his observations to the cabinet for consideration, but all indications point to some treaty of a reciprocal nature within the not too distant future—Charlottesville Progress.

"The process of thinking draws the blood from the feet to the head," an educator informs us. This explains, perhaps, why, in so many cases, if you think twice about a position you get cold feet.—Atanta Journal.

RED CROSS CONTRIBUTIONS FOR DUMFRIES

Word has come from Dumfries District this morning that this area has turned in through Mrs. Janie Abel the sum of $242; or 300% of the quota originally asked for in the entire county. Thus far it appears that Prince William is the banner county in the State on flood relief.

WILL ROGERS' COMMAND PERFORMANCE DISPLAYS HUMORIST AT WITTEST

When Will Rogers' most natural and human picture, "Doctor Bull," a Twentieth Century-Fox film, opens Thursday and Friday, Feb. 18-19 at the Pitts Theatre, the popular demand that brought it back for the return engagement became popular acclaim for one of the beloved humorist's greatest performances.
 The return of Will Rogers brought also a fine featured cast, giving the cowboy philosopher perfect support for his inimitable, world-renowned wit, Rochelle Hudson, Marian Nixon, Ralph Morgan and Andy Devine being cast in the leading roles.
 Based on a nationally outstanding novel by James Gould Cozzens, "The Doctor Bull" provides many opportunities for the display of the laconic slyness of America's Jester, and the direction of John Ford lends a keennes throughout.
 Will, as the lovable New England small town doctor, is an amiable bachelor who has been courting a comely widow, Vera Allen, for many years, with no real reason for not having married her, except that it just never occurred to his easy-going, kind-hearted nature.
 A quick rush of events is precipitated, however, by the newly instituted practice of Dr. Ralph Morgan, whose new-fangled scientific jargon and impressive instruments have won the support of the social lions of New Winton.

HAYMARKET

 The Baptist Sunday School at Haymarket, $10.
 The Womens Missionary Union of Waterfall, $10.
 Individual contributions have been donated by residents of: Broad Run, Catharlin, Gainesville, Hickory Grove, Haymarket, Sudley, Thoroughfare, Waterfall, and Woolsey.
 And the Haymarket School has come well to the front with their contributions:
 The High School students giving $10.50.
 The pupils of the Junior Grades, $10.62.

MERRY MUSICAL FUN IS PROVIDED BY CROSBY FILM

Something falls right out of the sky into the Pitts Theatre Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 15-16, and proves to be Columbia's "Pennies from Heaven," which should get the palm as the year's most tuneful picture as well as one of the most amusing. It gives Bing Crosby a sprightly vehicle in which to go to town, and go to town he does, with some of the catchiest songs you have ever heard.

And Bing's acting talents are becoming more apparent with each film he makes. He is a born comedian; and he gets plenty of opportunity to show his wares in this picture, for it is literally filled with laugh-provoking situations and dialogue. Bing is nobly aided and abetted in his foolery by a royal cast that includes Madge Evans, Edith Fellows, Donald Meek, John Gallaudet and Louis Armstrong, colored king of swing music, and his band.

Miss Evans does her role to a turn, supplementing a natural gift of loveliness with some very capable acting.

ADDED—News and Novelty.

Little Edith Fellows, 13, but a full-fledged actress, gives a performance that matches even her own in "She Married Her Boss." She's a lot of actress, all right. Donald Meek once again does the trick, squeezing every laugh out of a part that just drips with comedy. John Gallaudet, in a brief appearance, is completely convincing in a difficult role.

The story concerns Larry Poole, an ex-convict vagabond troubadour. He is asked by a condemned murderer in prison to look up the family of the murdered man. Larry finds a little girl and her grandfather, poverty-stricken. Then begins the highly entertaining tale of how Larry contrives to keep the child and the elderly man out of county institutions while falling in love with a welfare worker whose duty is to put them there.

Norman McLeod is smooth and fast-paced; and Jo Swerling's screen play is entirely admirable.

TIM MCCOY AS THE TEXAS RANGER

Tim McCoy as the Texas Ranger hero of "The Traitor," his latest Western, which comes on Sat., Feb. 13, to the Pitts' Theatre, indulges in some lightning gunplay during the many big thrill-battles of the picture. A friend visiting him during the making of the picture commented admiringly on the star's quick shooting stunts. To which McCoy rejoined that a ranger of the old West had to draw fast if he wanted to keep his job, to say nothing of his life.

"What more," said the topnotcher of numberless Westerns, "he had to do some very quick thinking as well. If a Ranger hesitated a split second too long in coming to a decision about what he should do in a pinch, he was liable to lose out in that particular emergency. It had to be quite a different brand of thinking from that used by a cowboy I once knew. His name was Schmidt. We called him Deliberate Dave, because he couldn't even answer a question without mulling it over in what passed for his mind at least three minutes.

"One day Dave pulled up his bronc at a mudhole, where a young chap lately from the East had fallen in, and sat in the saddle watching the tenderfoot's desperate attempts to get out. The fellow was sinking below his waist, and nearly smothered in his frantic struggles to escape. By a last agonizing effort he reached the edge and lay exhausted on the plain. When he got his breath, he looked reproachfully at Dave and said: "I notice you never tried to help me."

"The Dutchman nodded his head heavily. 'No, mine friend,' he said at last. 'Dot's so, but I vos thinking of helping you!'"

Supporting Tim McCoy in "The Traitor" are Francis Grant, Carl Hackett, Jack Rockwell, Pedro Regas, Frank Melton, Dick Curtis, Dick Botillier, Wally Wales, Ed Cobb, Wally West, Tina Menard, Soledad Jimenez and Frank Glendon. The feature was directed by Sam Newfield.

Hints for Homemakers

WERE you've noticed that the most delicious food served on chipped china resting on a slightly grubby tablecloth arrests your appetite as nothing else will? You're too fastidious a woman to make these mistakes—but your entire dining room should match the sparkle of your china, your linens, your glassware.

For this reason your window shades should not jar on your eyesight or that of your guests! Shades should be clean and fresh as a spring daisy! The simplest way to achieve this is to hang good cloth shades at your windows. You can order them in tones to match your spring draperies, and blend in with your curtains.

Whatever color you choose, see to it that you get first quality cloth shades. Then you won't have to worry about April showers—for these shades won't crinkle. You can forget about dust—for good shades help to keep out dust. You can be assured that they're hung on seasoned wood rollers. And if all this isn't enough, you can stop worrying about "pin holes." Cloth shades keep their fine appearance.

TYPICAL PRODUCTS AND SERVICES AFFECTED BY AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRY

It is estimated that 6,000,000 workers—one out of every seven employed in the United States—own his job directly or indirectly to the automobile industry. The above chart shows the activities chiefly affected, but does not show how vital a part motor manufacture plays in many of these fields. For example, 10% of all cotton raised in the south, 22% of all steel manufacture, 28% of nickel, 35% of lead and even 72% of all plate glass manufacture go into automobiles. Railroad carloadings total 3,500,000 in hauling raw materials, parts, etc., for automobiles, of which since 1930 more than 40% have been manufactured by General Motors. Of course railroads also haul finished cars.

INDIAN EPIC TO BE GIVEN BY SYMPHONY

A world premiere of "Pueblo, a Moon Epic", which Lazare Saminsky, New York Composer, wrote on a commission from the League of Composers, will be given by the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington, D. C., in a program of American works at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday, February 17, in Constitution Hall, Washington.

Mr. Saminsky, who wrote the new work for the National Symphony Orchestra last summer, will be in Washington for the premiere.

"Pueblo" is a two-movement work, depicting first the Indian's sense of restlessness and being shut up in tents for the winter, and second his joy at the coming of spring and liberation from his confinement. Into his composition Mr. Saminsky wove themes of a moon dance of the Ute Indians, and corn and rain songs of the Pueblo and Iowa tribes, all of which inspired him. However, he points out, that while these "tonal relics" were used in the musical texture of "Pueblo" they serve "more as an impetus for imagination than as material for mechanical music building."

The composer, in his boyhood, revelled in the novels of Indian Life by James Fenimore Cooper and Mayne Reid. The Indian, his savage emotion and grim love of open spaces always fascinated Saminsky, and now in "Pueblo" he has given the music world a reflection of this facet of the Indian Soul.

Mr. Saminsky has always been a lover of rare races and their unusual music. The native music of America has gripped him just as strongly as formerly did the music of the Caucasus and the Near East, which he

In his score the composer uses Indian drums and original old thundersticks, which are rare and were obtained for next week's premiere performance with great difficulty.

Works of three other American composers will be included in Dr. of them will be first public performance: February 17 concert—two mances.

A premiere will be given the Concerto in F Sharp Minor for Piano and Orchestra by Everette Stephens, young Washington composer and pianist, who will appear as soloist in the performance. The first symphony of R. Dean Shure, another Washington composer who has written several previous works for the National Symphony, will also receive its first public hearing.
