MISS SPEIDEN A LOVELY BRIDE

Popular Manassas Girl Weds
Mr. Lewis Carper.

The wedding of Miss Virginia Nelson Speiden and Mr. Lewis Johnson Carper took place at the Manassas Baptist Church last Saturday afternoon at five o'clock.

The church was decorated with ferns, palms, Easter lilies and cathedral candles. Prior to the wedding ceremony Mrs. E. R. White of Springfield sang "Oh Perfect Love" and "Believe Me Of All Those Endearing Young Charms" and Mrs. Howard H. Rutan of Chevy Chase, Md., sang "Oh Promise Me" and "Because." Selections were played by Miss Clara M. Whitfield of Richmond, Va., organist, who also played the wedding marches, Wagner's "Lohengrin" and Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream."

The Rev. John M. DeChant of the Presbyterian Church officiated, assisted by the Rev. R. M. Graham, pastor of the Baptist Church, and the Rev. T. D. D. Clarke.

The bride, who is a daughter of late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Speiden of Manassas, entered the church with her uncle, Mr. Cuthbert S. Speiden, of Washington who gave her in marriage. She wore a white satin gown made on princess lines with a high lace collar in the back and full sleeves to the elbows, fitting tight to the wrists with points over the hands. Her tulle veil was sheered to a net cap trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a cameo pin that belonged to her grandmother, Mrs. Bettie Nelson, and was also worn by the bride's mother at her wedding.

The maid of honor, Miss Frances Elsie McAfee of Wilmington, Del., wore a blue lace dress with a horsehair hat to match and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Henry Palmer Truesdell of Washington, a cousin of the bride; Mrs. Robert F. Logan of Richmond; Mrs. Louise M. Domdera of Washington and Mrs. George W. Reed, sister of the bridegroom, of Riverton, Ky. Mrs. Truesdell and Mrs. Logan were dressed in green chiffon gowns trimmed with lace and wore green taffeta hats with net crowns and brims. Mrs. Domdera and Mrs. Reed were dressed in yellow chiffon gowns trimmed, and wore taffeta hats with net crowns and brims to match. They carried arm bouquets of spring flowers, and blue and yellow predominating.

Mr. Carper had for his best man Mr. Sedrick Saunders of Manassas. The ushers included Mr. Alfred E. Carper, Jr., Raceland, Ky., brother of the bridegroom; Mr. James Houghton Nelson, Huntington, W. Va.; Mr. Edgar Speiden, Jr., Silver Spring, Md.; Mr. Norman Irving, Washington; Mr. Phillip Parks, Warrenton, Va., and Mr. Sinclair Boatwright, Manassas.

Mr. Carper is a son of Mrs. Carper and the late Alfred E. Carper of Raceland, Ky.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception for the wedding party and out-of-town guests was held at the home of the bride where Mrs. A. O. Weedon, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Alfred Carper, mother of the bridegroom, received the guests. Mrs. Weedon was attractively attired in black chiffon and wore a corsage of lavender sweetpeas and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Carper was dressed in black lace and wore a corsage of sweetpeas and roses.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Carper left for an extended wedding trip to Bermuda.

SHIRLEY HYNSON WINS ELECTION

Close Contest Decides Officials for Co-operative Group.

During the week of April 12 to 16 the students of Manassas high school were busily engaged in a "political campaign" for election to office in the Student Co-operative Association.

Monday of last week opened the campaign and the candidates spoke before a crowded house after introduction by their campaign managers, Althea Hooff and Billy Jamison.

With the aid of many supporters and with printed devices, banners, speeches, and such other help as was available, the campaign closed last Friday afternoon at three o'clock with a 100% vote from the student body.

This school campaign was carried out in approved style with a regular board of judges, polling books, voting booths and a sealed receptacle in which to deposit ballots.

The results were announced at the opening radio dance held in the M. H. S. gymnasium Friday night, as follows: President, Shirley Hynson; vice-president, Herbert Burke; treasurer, Mildred Roseberry; secretary, Marie Bauserman, and stenographer, Beulah Woodyard.

The main candidates were those for president, Misses Shirley Hynson and Thelma Ward. The defeated candidate was only 3 votes behind the winner.

The contest was extremely good-natured not withstanding the vigorous efforts by both sides to win. In that respect it was truly a "model" election.

Gunfire ended a schriff's sale at Roadly last Saturday when Daniel Webster shot and twice wounded D. W. Posey as he began to bid on the Webster property offered for sale.

URGED TO RUN AGAIN

HON. GEO. W. HERRING

Local politics suddenly began to boil on Tuesday evening when a large group of representative voters from this legislative district, composed of Prince William and Stafford counties, met at Dumfries to discuss the possible candidacy of George W. Herring of Featherstone in the August Primary.

Mr. Herring, former delegate, served two terms with distinction in the House of Delegates, and for several months past his friends at various points have been urging him to run for this office again.

The crux of the situation resulted in the meeting above referred to at which time Mr. Herring promised to take the matter under serious advisement and give the public his decision next week. It is stated that Mr. Herring, who was not present when the group reached its decision, told his friends that he would be greatly interested in knowing how they felt.

The meeting is reported to have given a majority sentiment in favor of Mr. Herring's candidacy and after this action was taken a 100% indorsement was given to his candidacy if he should decide to run.

ROBERT EDWARD CARTER

Mr. Robert Edward Carter, age sixty-six years and seven months, died at his home near Manassas, Thursday evening, April 15, after a paralytic stroke which followed an illness of two years.

Mr. Carter was born September 15, 1870, son of the late James Shirley and Margaret Hixson Carter. On November 28, 1902, he was married to Sarah Margaret Wolfe, daughter of George W. and the late Martha Winnet Wolfe. They had one child, Louise Adelaide, who died as a very small child. Mrs. Carter died July 1, 1912.

For many years Mr. Carter was an active farmer in this community. In 1917 he entered the employ of the Southern Railway in which capacity he served for eleven years. In 1929 he again took up active farm work from which he retired several years ago.

At the time of his death, Mr. Carter was residing at the home place which was erected in 1898 by his brother, O. L. Carter and himself.

He is survived by two brothers, Osceola Lamar and Sherwood Elmer Carter, and two sisters, Mrs. George Staub and Mrs. Bertie Payne of Washington, D. C.

WINFIELD-ALPAUGH

On Saturday afternoon at three o'clock Miss Lenore Alpaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Alpaugh, became the bride of Mr. Courtland Scott Winfield, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Scott Winfield, Sr. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. S. Gibson, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, at the home of the bride at Lake Jackson.

Prior to the ceremony, Mr. Charles Brill of Washington sang, "Oh Promise Me." The home was beautifully decorated with white carnations, ferns and other spring flowers.

The bride was quite attractive in a travel suit of navy blue with white accessories, and wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias. The maid of honor, Miss Helen Alpaugh, was dressed in rose with harmonizing accessories and also wore a corsage of gardenias.

Mr. Winfield had for his best man, Mr. Walter Alpaugh of Manassas, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home. The young couple left later for a short wedding trip, after which they will make their home in Washington.

Mrs. Winfield is a graduate of Manassas high school and later studied at Strayer's Business College. Mr. Winfield is also a former student of Manassas high school and is at present employed in the government service in Quantico. Both Mr. and Mrs. Winfield are quite popular and their many friends wish them many years of happiness.

AIRPORT MEETING WELL ATTENDED

No Action Taken at Citizens' Gathering.

The question of purchase by the town of Manassas of the airport property was discussed at length at the mass meeting by called by the Mayor last Monday night. Councilmen Trusler, Burke and Parrish were present and Mayor Davis presided. Mr. Byrd acted as secretary. About 75 attended. No formal action was taken. The meeting was opened by the Mayor who explained in detail the facts to be considered and the general discussion followed.

Among those who spoke are the following: Col. Robert Hutchison, A. S. Boatwright, C. Wade Dalton, J. L. Bushong, Dr. E. H. Marsteller, J. C. Parrish, C. B. Compton, Lacey Compton, W. N. Warrick, Col. B. L. Jacobson, James E. Bradford, L. B. Williams, Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, Mrs. Fred Hynson, M. Bruce Whitmore, T. E. Dillake, R. E. Newman, Walter Hibbs, Joe Dodge, Dr. J. B. Williams, Winter Ford and Roscoe Lewis.

It is probable that if the State Highway Department can hold its funds until after the June election a vote on the proposition will be taken at the time of the town election in June.

Apparently the majority sentiment of those who spoke was not in favor of this purchase by the town but the sentiment of the whole meeting was not expressed and the number of replies received by the Council in response to its circular letter was not sufficient to indicate the availing opinion of the taxpayers.

As an evidence of the high rating given to the Manassas Airport, the last report by the State Corporation Commission shows the local airport in acceptable condition, although, landing fields were noted as "not in service" at Bedford, Charlottesville, Colonial Beach, Emporia, Ft. Eustis, Petersburg, Richlands, Warrenton, West Point and Williamsburg.

OCCOQUAN &amp; VICINITY

Miss Mary Bubb, who has an apartment in Washington, D. C., during the winter, is now stopping with her parents on their farm near Occoquan.

Miss Jane Seelman of Occoquan spent Monday night in Alexandria as the guest of Miss Burnetta Brockett.

Mrs. Haywood Davis has moved into her summer home at Occoquan after spending the winter in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Davis had as her guests over the week-end, her two sons and families from Washington, D. C.

Quite a delegation from Occoquan attended the opening baseball game in Washington. They reported our President's arms still in good throwing condition.

The Honorable George W. Herring of Featherstone Farms and Capt. Thomas F. Joyce of Occoquan represented Occoquan District at the State Highway Conference held at Orange, Va., on Tuesday, April 1. Every county in the State who were desirous of getting improvements on their county roads were represented at this conference. Some counties had very large delegations in order to make an added impression of the Commissioners as to their desire of getting road improvements in their county. The delegation representing Fairfax County were very kind in recommending some of the requests made by those from Prince William County.

Do not forget the dance at Occoquan high school on Friday evening, April 30. This dance is given by the senior class in the school.

The Methodist Church in Occoquan has installed a new Oil Heat Plant, discarding the hot air heating system which has been in use for several years. The members of the church have donated the old hot air furnace to the Colored Brethren on Ebenezer Baptist Church of Occoquan, which church is very much in need of a heating plant. The members of the Colored Church are very grateful for this gift, and thanks the white folks for remembering them with this very welcomed gift.

Occoquan is putting on a clean up campaign in preparation for the summer days when a large number of visitors will be sight-seeing in this old historic town. We take great pride in our town, and of course cleanliness is the first requisite of any town in making it attractive, as well as sanitary.

FEDERAL LOANS TO STATE TOTAL $330,330,675

Since March 4, 1933, the beginning of the Federal emergency agencies in Virginia have made loans and grants in the State totaling $330,330,675, it was disclosed yesterday by John Galleher, State director of the National Emergency Council.

In addition to this, Mr. Galleher said, the Federal Housing Administration had insured loans amounting to $17,858,822.

The Public Works Administration has allotted $3,651,554 to Virginia towns and cities for the construction of electric power projects alone, it was revealed.

STATE FRESH EGG-LAW IS TO BE CLARIFIED

What is a fresh egg?

So confusing is this question to Virginia dealers that the State Agricultural Department's Division of Dairy and Food has required the department's chemists to clarify the sketchy egg law which was passed in 1926, it reads:

"Eggs showing deterioration by chemical analysis or otherwise shall not be sold as fresh eggs, but shall be classed as storage eggs and so marked."

That "otherwise" is naturally puzzling to dealers, and it is to define this and, to a lesser extent, "deterioration," that the chemists have been set to work. They hope to establish a line—not too fine—with will assist dealers in classifying their eggs.

The main difficulty, according to N. A. Lapsley, director of the division of dairy and food, is the extremely perishable character of an egg. "An egg," he explained, "may meet the stated requirements of the present law before shipment, then suffer a decided relapse during transit. It is also sensitive to other kinds of ill us."

Mr. Lapsley said that the chemists probably will wind up their investigation within a few days.

PREVENTION OF APPLE SCAB

Prevention is all important in scab control. Time and apple sprays wait for no man. Begin spraying delicious and other susceptible varieties as soon as the first pink shows in the blossom cluster, and continue spraying until all your trees that are susceptible have received the pre-pink, and pink spray. All other varieties should be covered at least once before the blossoms open. The materials for the pre-pink and pink sprays are: 4 quarts of good liquid lime-sulphur in 50-gallons of diluted spray.

Watch the buds closely, they will push out rapidly with the first real warm spell, and hardly any two varieties show the pink at the same time. This means spraying at different times. These sprays are very important—don't neglect them.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our dear mother, Mrs. Laura E. Brawner. Also for the use of cars and beautiful flowers.

A WILD NIGHT

One gallon of gasoline... and the Hospital 21 miles away!

The TRUE Story of the Midnight Ride of Mrs. Cyril Frederick Hopper, of Rochester, New York

WE WERE IN THE WILDS OF MAINE THAT SUMMER AND IT WAS A WILD NIGHT WHEN MY NEIGHBORS' CALL CAME!

I STARTED TO DRIVE HER TO THE HOSPITAL 21 MILES AWAY BUT FOUND THE GASOLINE TANK WAS EMPTY!

THEN I REMEMBERED A GALLON OF ESSOLENE WE KEPT IN THE CELLAR...

AFTER 15 MILES OVER ROUGH DIRT ROADS I LISTENED TENSELY FOR THAT LAST MOTOR GASP!

BUT I RECKONED ON ORDINARY GASOLINE... NOT ESSOLENE

THAT ONE GALLON GOT US THERE... AND ENOUGH WAS LEFT OVER TO CHRISTEN ALLEN

ESSOLENE is so different it's actually been granted a U. S. Patent. This regular-priced gasoline gives more miles per gallon than even most premium priced fuels and no gasoline at any price gives more.

In proof of Essolene's extra mileage thousands of motorists have written their enthusiastic testimony. Prove it for yourself. Try one tankful of Essolene and see why Happy Motoring Starts at the Esso Sign.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

By
Dr. James T. Marshall

USING OUR BLUNDERS

The story told in Acts 18:12-17 has its touch of humor. Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue in Corinth, headed a turbulent delegation of Jews who dragged Paul before the Roman court with the accusation that he was persuading men to worship God contrary to the law. Gallio the judge had a contempt for religious squabbles and dismissed the case with impatience. The mob which had gathered to enjoy the entertainment, finding themselves cheated out of their fun, turned upon Sosthenes and gave him a severe beating. Thus the would-be persecutor brings trouble upon himself and returns home in deep humiliation.

But the sequel of the story is interesting. Possibly Sosthenes lay in bed several days nursing his wounds. At any rate the beating seems to have done him good, for we know that he thought things over and recognized his mistake, and at length became one of Paul's friends and helpers. When Paul wrote his First Epistle to the Corinthians from Macedonia he began with this salutation, Paul called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God and Sosthenes our brother."

We have here a good illustration of the way in which the Lord brings good out of evil and makes our blunders contribute to our highest good. Sosthenes shows how a wise person may profit by his own sins and mistakes.

It is foolish to spend our time mourning over our mistakes. Paul had this in mind when he said, "Forgetting the things that are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." All of us need to cultivate the art of forgetting.

It must have been hard for Sosthenes to go to Paul and admit that he had been wrong. It takes a big man to acknowledge his own faults. Conceit and self-righteousness are the characteristics of small souls.

The important thing is that we refuse to be discouraged by our blunders and weakness and determine to turn them into ladders upon which we shall rise to strength and success.

We find great encouragement when we see what God has made out of blundering men. There is not a perfect character in the Bible except the character of our Savior. God does not hesitate to call Himself "the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob;" yet we are told how Abraham was guilty of adultery and murder, and Simon Peter guilty of both falsehood and cowardice when he denied His Lord. This is not saying that their sins were justified or overlooked. On the contrary they were followed by deep penitence and righteous living by the help of the Almighty.

There is no character in Scripture who helps me as much as Peter, because he was a chronic blunderer, constantly saying or doing the wrong thing. Yet he was sincere in his love for Jesus and became the powerful leader and preacher of the early Christian church. There is one of our hymns which seems as if it might have been written for Simon Peter:

The mistakes of my life have been many,
And the sins of my heart have been more,
And I scarce can see for weeping.
But I knock at the open door;
I know I am weak and sinful,
It comes to me more and more;
But when the dear Savior shall bid me come in,
I'll knock at the open door."

PAUL REVERE—DENTIST

Paul Revere is known to fame chiefly because of his historic ride from Boston to arouse the "minute men" on the night of April 18, 1775, before the engagement with the British at Lexington and Concord. But, aside from the this notable exploit, he was an uncommonly active and versatile citizen.

He had taken part in the Boston Tea Party, and became a lieutenant - colonel during the Revolution, after serving as a lieutenant of artillery in the Crown Point expedition of 1756, during the French and Indian War.

In civil life he displayed a variety of talents which a recent biographer thinks entitles him to be known as America's first "jack of all trades." He was a goldsmith, a copper roller, a dentist, an engraver, a powder manufacturer, a maker of picture frames, a hardware merchant, and deplorable as it may seem, a seller of hard liquor.

Documents recently made public by his great-grandson include bills of lading showing that Paul Revere sold a consignment of rum at 60 cents a gallon, also gin at a proportionately low figure.

But Revere's chief pride seems to have been in his dental skill, and he once sent a circular to prospective clients which would be considered highly unethical today, in which among other things he said, referring to human teeth: "He fixes them in such a manner that they are not only an ornament, but of real use in speaking and eating."

Longfellow immortalized Paul Revere's ride but he didn't tell the whole story.—Waynesboro, Virginia.

ON ADVERTISING

Some merchants figure that when things begin to hold up and purchases drop off, that the first thing to do is to cut out advertising. Now, as a matter of fact, the opposite is true. When business begins to get dull, the merchant should increase his advertising. That's just the time he should advertise, says the Fayette (W. Va.) Democrat.

But, of course, he must have something to advertise. That is the time to make a few special bargains and advertise something that the people actually want, or need, and so meet the conditions half way.

Of course, the merchant will say he's a merchant and no newspaper man can tell him how to run his business. But that is only because the merchant has a distorted view of advertising, which is the keynote to success. One of the biggest department stores in the east always thought of advertising first.

Stocking his store with what the people wanted and having $100 left the merchant spent $90 of that in advertising, and from a small store his place grew to be the biggest thing in the country.

Take the mail order houses. They advertise. The mail order men believe in advertising. They spend millions at it.

It's a great game, the mercantile business. But it needs to be advertised. The newspapers are here for that purpose. More frequent use of the advertising columns of the newspapers would bring more business. —Clifton Forge Daily Review.

A MAN OF MANY PARTS

There passed from our midst a few years ago one who for more than half a century was a conspicuous resident of this village. His name was James Newton Carter, but to many, the Carter was superfluous. He was known from the Blue Ridge Mountains to the confines of Stafford as "Jim Newt".

Mr. Carter was shoemaker, barber, undertaker, town sergeant and when occasion arose, magistrate protem. His shop was the rendezvous of the village idlers and gossipers. The gossip of the place would not, in society, be tolerated for it was exceedingly resque.

On one occasion a stranger called at Jim Newt's shop for a shave. Jim Newt said "hop up there in that chair". Then plunging his hands into the slosh bucket, a receptacle containing water into which sole leather was placed to soften, he hastily withdrew them and applied them to an apron to dry. This apron had not had an introduction to the laundry tub since it was fashioned into an apron.

Jim Newt had made but a few passes upon the patron's face when a boy thrust his head into the shop and said "Mr. Carter, they are fighting across the street". Relinquishing his razor and excusing himself to his patron, Jim Newt, in long strides, soon reached the combatant, separated them and resumed his shaving.

He had barely begun when a man from up the country called to select a coffin for a neighbor who had died the day before. The place where Jim Newt kept his supply of coffins was but a few feet from his barber shop. He soon disposed of his customer and again began his shaving.

At the conclusion of the shave the patron said, "Mr. Carter, you have had a busy day." "No," said Jim Newt, "Sometimes after making an arrest I have to try the case." It is nothing uncommon to meet persons functioning in a dual capacity, but to meet one whose area of usefulness is in the quintuple is rare, indeed. Mr. Carter has left a void that, as yet, has never been filled—shoemaker, barber, undertaker, town sergeant and mayor protem.

Respectfully,
George Davis Duty Selectman

Number of Telephones Shows Gain in 1936

Many business men consider the telephone a barometer of general business trends. If so, the 1936 report of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company indicates recovery on a wide front. It reveals that the increase in the number of telephones in service in the United States at the end of 1936 was nearly double that of 1935 and nearly three times the gain in 1934. At the year's end there were 14,453,000 Bell telephones in service, but this number was still 740,000 less than the all-time maximum development of 1930. However, there were 1,725,000 more telephones than in the low month, August 1933. There are approximately 18,433,000 telephones in the United States.

The average daily number of telephone conversations over Bell System lines in 1936 was 65,000,000, an increase of 7.6 per cent in local and 12 per cent in long distance conversations. It cost $659,000,000 to operate the Bell System exclusive of taxes, which amounted to $116,300,000. The tax bill was $22,300,000 more than 1935.

There were 641,000 stockholders on the books of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the average number of shares held by each stockholder being twenty-nine. No stockholder of record holds as much as 1 per cent of the total stock. About one-third of the Bell System employees are stock owners.

At the end of 1936 the total assets were $5,149,000,000, of which $4,259, 000,000 were invested in telephone plant. Additions amounted to $244, 000,000, while retirements of plant amounted to $173,000,000, a net increase of $71,000,000.

A total of 66,000 persons was hired in 1936 to replace losses in personnel and to handle the increase in business.
Of the new employees more than 30, 000 were trained as telephone operators. It is probable that the number of operators to be hired and trained in 1937 will be substantially larger than in 1936.

There were 294,000 employees at the end of 1936, a net increase of 28,000 for the year. The total payroll was $475,000,000, an increase of $43,000,000 over 1935.

Bell System employees through the payroll deduction plan are carrying $189,900,000 worth of life insurance.

Were Prince Alberts
In the "nifty nineties," most
United States senators wore Prince Alberts. The frock coat was a symbol of statesmanship and a beard was the mark of a man of maturity and substance.

NATIONAL POLICE ACADEMY

With the "know - more - than - the - criminal" theory of crime detection established by the famous G-men as a prime factor in successful police work, the demand for admission to Uncle Sam's National Police Academy in Washington has reached overwhelming proportions, according to a story appearing in next Sunday's Star.

It describes activities of this academy, designed for State, county and municipal police officers who wish to send picked men there to learn how the Federal Bureau of Investigation gets their men. A long waiting list of applicants has resulted in the F. B. I.
co-operating with police departments

all over the country in organizing schools of their own, modeled after the academy.

I've passed,
At each New Year and at the last,
I've found myself in school.
In all those years that end-less seem,
I plan and dream one favorite dream
Of life when out of school.
And when it's time exams should start And things seem lacking on my part,
I play the fool
And waste those precious study hours
To dream and build unstable towers
And stay right there in school.

WHEN ALL THE WORLD IN SILENT SLEEP IS WRAPT

When all the world in silent sleep is wrapt,
I gaze upon the wonders it has spread;
The silent trees like ghosts of loved ones dead
Whose drooping heads with shadows
dark are capped.
Each silent star a tiny course has mapped,
And in the mellow glow above my head
The moonbeams to the stardust's
gold are wed.
And as the ebon world is pausing—
rapt,
The breeze a sweet cascade of notes
imparts,
As through the naked trees its song
it pours.
Then far from out the silence deep
there fall
Contrasting notes of some lone night
bird's call
And I, like that lone bird whom sorrow lures,
Would shut out sorrow with the night
a wall.

TROUT SEASON IS NOW OPEN

Many Virginia Streams Now Yield Legal Size Fish

Approximately 350,000 brook and rainbow trout, deposited in Virginia streams by the State game and inland fisheries commission, threatened to lure hundreds of Virginia anglers to the out of doors after April 15.

The trout season opening will find approximately 140 streams in various parts of the State stocked with trout from 7 to 13 inches in length, in addition to their native supply.

United States Senator Joseph Robinson of Arkansas, Representative A. Willis Robertson of Lexington and Carl Nolting, chairman of the State Game Commission, will inaugurate the season with a day's fishing at Camp West, Augusta County.

G. W. Buller of the game department said additional trout would be distributed within the next 10 days. Many anglers are expected to visit the Shenandoah National Park where the National Park Service has ruled that streams on the east side of the Blue Ridge will be open to fishermen.

APRIL SHEEP SUGGESTIONS

Shearing time will soon be here again; prospects for good prices for wool are exceptionally bright.

Here are a few suggestions about shearing and handling your wool, clip to get the highest price.

1. Shear only when fleeces are dry.

2. Separate all tags before tying and packing fleeces.

3. Roll each fleece skin or clipped side out, and tie with paper twine.

4. Pack black, burry, or dead fleeces separate from the clean ones.

5. Pack in regular wool bag.

6. Pool your wool and keep prices up where they belong.

LET THE CHILDREN SCUFF

My Floor and Deck Enamel is Made to Stand Punishment

NO NEED to worry about porch or inside floors when you paint them with my Floor & Deck Enamel. Here's a paint that can take it—children can romp to their hearts' delight and nobody need worry.

Sun, ice, rain and snow—grinding footsteps—even boiling water—won't make my Floor & Deck Enamel turn color or chip off. That's why it's especially fine for open porches, exposed to the weather and forced to take a lot of "traffic."

Like all my paints, Floor & Deck Enamel is a quality product. It's made with only the finest materials and mixed with all the expertness my 39 years as a paint maker has taught me. Made in 10 solid colors—grays, browns, buff and oak. Floor & Deck flows on smoothly over wood, concrete, brick, metal or composition floors. And is less so long it's mighty economical.

Pick out your favorite color from the free color card my authorized dealer will gladly give you—and take advantage of the special price he is offering on my Davis Floor & Deck Enamel Paint this week.

COUNTY AGENTS COLUMN

PASTURE IMPROVEMENT

For every hundred acres devoted to cultivated crops in the State there are 98 acres in pasture. Yet very little attention is being given to the improvement of pasture land. In the best grazing sections of the State pasture is recognized as a money producing crop. This should be the case in Prince William County and over the entire State, because a sufficient amount of good pasture will feed all the livestock on the farm for about six months of the year. No farming system is complete without sufficient pasture to carry the livestock through a large portion of the year. Properly handled, it is the most profitable crop that any farmer can grow.

Many pastures that once had a good carrying capacity are now not much more than exercise lots. Why has the carrying capacity of these pastures been reduced? It has been due to loss of fertility caused by continuous grazing.

Experiments and experience show that what most pastures need is plant food and lime. Pastures which have a covering of some of the better grasses and clovers will respond wonderfully to a top dressing of fertilizer and lime without disturbing the sod. Of course if the soil is extremely thin with no covering of the better grasses, the land should be plowed and reseeded. Otherwise, the most economical and satisfactory method of improving pastures is to topdress with 300 to 400 pounds of 16 per cent Superphosphate and the equivalent of one to two tons of ground limestone per acre, preferably in the early spring, but if it should not be possible at that time, at any time of the year that it is most convenient.

Don't expect to see maximum results the year that the treatment is given. Consider the fact that the average milk cow or steer removes as much phosphorus as is contained in 50 pounds of 16 per cent Superphosphate each year and continue applications of fertilizer accordingly.

The first improvement seen after liming and fertilizing will probably be a large increase in the amount of clover on the land.

If the pasture acreage is limited and will not furnish sufficient grazing for immediate needs of the livestock on hand, apply 100 to 125 pounds of some quick acting-nitrogenous fertilizers as Nitrate of Soda, Sulphate of Ammonia or Cyanamid, in addition to the Superphosphate and lime suggested above.

Dragging with a harrow to spread the droppings will prevent the pollution or spotting of pastures to a large extent. Sowing will aid in weed elimination and help to improve the stand of grass.

EARLY LIMESTONE ORDERS GIVEN PREFERENCE

G. W. Koiner, State Commissioner of Agriculture, advises that rather than sending checks dated at approximate time that delivery on orders for future shipment is desired that the limestone order be sent in without the check and the payment for the car be sent one week before shipping date. He writes as follows: "We shall be glad to book orders now for later shipment pending receipt of check a week before the shipping date. The farmer would receive notice of his shipment in copy of the order as booked which would be a record of the time check must be sent in order to hold his position in the line of shipments."

WHEN TO USE LIME

T. B. Hutcheson of the State Agricultural Experiment Station makes the following statement in regard to the best time to use lime: The best time, all other things being equal, to apply lime is immediately before the crop in the rotation which responds best to lime. This is usually the legume crop in the rotation or the grain crop on which the legume is sown. Personally, I do not think it makes any difference where the lime is applied in the rotation considered over a period of years. I believe that the best policy for the farmer to follow is to apply the lime whenever it is convenient for him to do so, knowing that it will give good results when the crops come on the land which respond to liming. I consider the convenience of the application far more important than the place in the rotation, when it comes to putting on lime."

RELATIVE VALUE OF DIFFERENT FORMS OF AGRICULTURAL LIME

Based on the weights of the material, 56 pounds of ground burnt lime, 74 pounds of hydrated lime and 100 pounds of ground limestone, ground oyster shell or marl all have approximately the same soil sweetening value. Roughly, one ton of ground burnt lime, one and one-half tons of hydrated lime and two tons of ground limestone, oyster shell or marl all have the same neutralizing value.

AN ODE TO THE FARMER

We read a lot of city plot
Of firms and corporation
But once again the farmer proves
The back bone of the nation.

The workers joined as "sit-down"
strike

At Hershey, Pennsylvania
"We will not work without more pay"

With them became a mania.

The tillers of the soil up there
Are Mennonite and Amish
And if the factory closed its doors
Their children soon would famish.

Not theirs, to idle precious hours
With conference and blabber.
The ire arose within their souls
When sweet milk turned to clabber.

Resorting not to plan nor plot
To troops, nor useless pity
They armed themselves with sticks and stones

And descended on the city.

And when they reached the chocolate town
They stormed the factory door
And quickly "yanked" the strikers out
And parked 'em off the floor.

"Go back to work, you lazy bums
And pay us for our milk
Or We'll bloody the collective nose
Of all your kind and ilk."

The moral of my theme is this:
Don't call us country "icks"
As man to man, you'll quickly find
We can beat you up with sticks!
—M. A. S.

WORTHMAN, C. T.
YOWELL, JOHN W.

Where a NUMBER appears following a name, it is to indicate the PARTICULAR farm upon which the higher score was attained.

REMARKS: MARCH completes the first-quarter of the year and the pace has been most rapid. Each month has seen a new group of leaders coming to the front. This is exactly as it should be as it demonstrates that the interest is general and not confined to a few fortunate producers who for some particular reason are able to hold the low score.

With the advancing season and the change in feed conditions we appreciate the increased difficulty which you are facing in order to keep your product free from reasonable contamination. The records indicate that you are doing splendidly—in fact the number appearing on the "Honor Roll" for March is 10% greater than for the month of February and we feel that you are certainly to be congratulated. Our old friend Charles G. Eppes of Hamilton, Virginia, not being satisfied with Second place brings his "Count" down another 100 points and moves up to NUMBER ONE and now the big question is—can he hold that position for another month?

In closing permit me to again tell you how greatly I appreciate the effort you are making in the interest of a better milk supply—we wish it were possible for every one, of the more than six hundred thousand persons residing in the greater Washington area to know exactly what you are doing, they would then better appreciate the value of this very essential product.

With best wishes for your continued success I am,

Very truly yours,

Henry M. Browne
President and General Manager

The seniors will present a play entitled "Cheerio, My Deario" at the school auditorium on Thursday evening, April 29, at 8 o'clock. This is a farce in three acts by Jay Tobias. It is intermingled with romance, comedy and mystery. The cast of characters is as follows:

Melchizedek, colored porter at the Mountain View Inn, Eugene Flory; Desdemona, colored maid at the Mountain View Inn, Hazel Fetzner; Sue Grahame, Manager of Mountain View Inn, Helen Nelson; Cherry Holt, a splendid male impersonator, Frances Owens; Dick Grahame, Sue's husband, Ralph Rollins; Tommy Tarrant, in love with Cherry, John Bear; Sophronia Spatchett, Cuthbert's fiancée, Minnie Squires; Fifi, her French maid, Helen Newland; Mrs. T. Jefferson Johns, in search of a title, Letha Foster; Gwenneth Johns, her daughter, Virginia Herndon; Lord Cuthbert Twillingham, in search of an heiress, Billy Hedrick, and Snodsbury, his valet, Billy Harpine.

It takes place in early summer at a summer resort in North Carolina. The time of playing is two and a quarter hours.

Also Roy Thompson will be present with his orchestra from Warrenton and there will be tap-dancing and singing by Nancy and Molly Leachman. Another entertaining feature of the evening will be by Libby Burgess. According to reports we feel that this will be thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

In the recent essay contest on "The Effect of Alcohol on the Human System," Winifred Swank and Genevieve Arman were selected as winners from the junior and sophomore classes respectively.

Their papers will now be entered in competition with winning papers from the other high schools of the county.

In the Washington Scholarship Competition given to seniors, Frances Owens and Letha Foster were two of the five winners from this county in the semi-finals.

The juniors have decided to take the seniors to Eutawburg on their annual junior-senior trip. Plans for this trip are being made at present.

Of Susie C. Powell who died 6 years ago this week.

It's sweet to remember you, mother, who once was here Though absent to us you are just as dear

The midnight stars shines on the grave Of the one we loved but could not save

We miss you tonight as the lights burn low Yes, mother we miss you for we love you so

We loved you truly and that you know

Is why tonight we miss you—so

Sleep on, dear mother, in peaceful rest

We loved you well but God loved you best.

Now Back Row Seats Are Good Too

Sound Engineers Solve Intricate Problem in Hollywood Bowl.

Hollywood Bowl, showing stage and conical sound reflecting shell upon which was installed two and one-half tons of loud speakers.

Now the people in the back rows, a tenth of a mile away, hear perfectly the fine orchestras and soloists on the stage of the Hollywood Bowl in California. This is made possible through special equipment developed and installed by Bell Telephone Laboratories' sound engineers.

With the increased public interest in fine music, sound engineers are meeting the demand for improved reception and acoustical quality in auditoriums.

The Hollywood Bowl, being an outdoor, natural amphitheatre, presented a new problem. It is situated in a hollow surrounded by low hills. With no walls or ceilings to reflect sound, special equipment was necessary to direct the entire output of the orchestra or singer toward the audience from the stage. To do this the loud speakers had to be placed near the stage to maintain the illusion that all of the sound came from that point and great care had to be taken to prevent the sound from the speakers feeding back into the microphones and creating a singing noise.

There is a large conical sound reflecting shell on the stage. Tiers of seats rising in curved rows up the sloping hillside accommodate approximately 22,500 people.

Three microphone positions were installed, one at the left side, one in the center, and one on the right side. A separate amplifier channel was provided for and connected to loud speakers mounted above the orchestra shell in positions corresponding to the microphones. Two microphones were installed at each position. The two on the left side were connected together to give a satisfactory balance for the cellos, harps and bass violas in the orchestra. In the center the microphones were independent, but the extra one was used by vocal soloists and was fitted to special volume controls. On the right, in addition to the regular microphone, an extra one was placed high in front of the shell and was used for harp and cello solo numbers.

To mount the two and one-half tons of loud speakers, a special bridge structure was erected over the reflecting shell. The bridge was artistically draped and lighted, adding to the appearance of the shell.

In a demonstration of the equipment, a concert was presented by Paramount pictures with Leopold Stokowski acting as conductor. The listeners in the rear seats of the bowl were a tenth of a mile from the stage. They heard the music at full volume and for the first time vocal soloists were heard satisfactorily.

1937 Ford V-8

● If you think that "all low-price cars cost about the same" — forget it! They don't.

Ford makes a car — a 60-horsepower economy Ford V-8 — that sells from 30 to 60 dollars under the prices asked for any other car of comparable size. The lowest Ford prices in years!

Check delivered prices in your town and see for yourself.

● Of course, first cost doesn't prove "low cost" — you must consider operating cost also.

The "60" has definitely established itself as the most economical car in Ford history. Ford cars have been famous for economy for 34 years, so that means something!

Owners who have driven 15 thousands of miles report that the Ford "60" averages between 22 and 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

You can prove those figures — on the open road — in a car provided by the nearest Ford dealer.

● When you've finished your personal check-up, ask yourself:

"Do I want to save money the day I buy my car and every mile I drive it?"

"Do I want a safe, roomy, comfortable car of advanced design — created from the finest materials to the highest precision standards?"

There's only one answer, of course — the 1937 Ford V-8.
