STUDENTS GUESTS OF KIWANIS CLUB

1937 Class Presents Charming Program.

Approximately 150 members of the 1937 graduation class of Manassas High School, friends and members of the Kiwanis Club, who were hosts for the occasion, gathered in the Masonic Hall on Friday evening for the annual graduate banquet. A delightful meal was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star. Col. Hutchison gave a very affable and gracious greeting to the guests.

The response of welcome came from Miss Dorothy Linton, president of the graduating class who in turn introduced Prof. Worth Peters, principal of Manassas schools. Mr. Peters introduced members of the faculty who were present.

The program was turned over to the graduating class who did a very effective job. The first feature was the recital of the class history by Elizabeth Lloyd. Elizabeth had in it all of the high spots and some of the low ones during the past decade.

The musical portion of the program was given over to Miss Jessie Mae Conner and Sinclair Boatwright both of whom sang a delightful solo with Mrs. Beatrice Leachman at the piano.

A superhumorous feature staged by Thelma Breeden who gave a monologue on "Sammy Graduates."

The evening closed with the singing of the class song with Miss Jessie Conner leading, and the singing of the school song by the entire audience.

Prior to adjournment the Kiwanis Club awarded a number of guest prizes to the students, all of which were highly appreciated.

BRENTSVILLE CLASS

NIGHT A SUCCESS

On Tuesday evening, June 1, the Senior Class of B. D. H. S. presented its class night program. The first feature of the evening was a two-scene pageant entitled, "To Higher Aims We Soar." The entire performance was originally planned by the class.

The pageant began as the reader dressed in white vestments marched on the stage before the curtains were drawn. They marched to the music of "School Days" and were seated on front corners of the stage. They were Virginia Estes and Robert Beahm, both members of the Junior Class.

PRIZE WINNING ESSAY ON "EFFECTS OF ALCOHOL"

Within the last thirty days the local W. C. T. U. offered prizes for the best essays on "The Effect of Alcohol on the Human Body."

This contest was open to High School students throughout the county and two main prizes of $10.00 and $5.00, and four honorable mentions with $2.00 prizes each, were awarded the six best papers entered.

As a whole the compositions showed intensive study and thought on the part of the writers and it may be said that all of them were very good.

The first prize was won by Genevieve Garman of Nokesville high school, whose essay appears in other columns of this paper; second prize, M. B. Chaves, Occoquan High School; honorable mentions, Jessie nassas High School; Winifred Mae Conner and Aileen Hinton, Manassas High School; Nattie Lieberman, Occoquan High School, and Edward Carter and Evelyn Smith, Haymarket High School.

ENGINEER DIES BY GUNSHOT

Said to Have Grieved over Recent tragedy in New Mexico.

Cornelius Claughtery, age 42, an engineer on the Southern Railway was found dead near his home at Strasburg 1 a t. Saturday, shot through the chest.

It is stated in Strasburg that he had been grieving over the mysterious disappearance in New Mexico of Miss Martha Pifer, a nurse who has been missing for several days and may have met some tragic fate. Miss Pifer, by a first cousin of Mr. B. L. Bushong, of Manassas and her unaccountable disappearance has been a matter of national news.

Mr. Claughtery had friends in Manassas, where his train spent the daytime between its morning and evening runs to Strasburg. His cheerful and friendly demeanor had made him many friends who were grieved to hear of untimely end. He is survived by his mother, and two brothers, Hugh Claughtery, of Timberville and John, of Cleveland, Ohio.

R. WALTON MOORE BECOMES COUNSELOR OF STATE

Last week Hon. R. Walton Moore, Assistant Secretary of State and former Congressman from Virginia, was named to the position of Counselor to the State Department, a position which has been revived by special act of Congress. For many months there has been rivalry in the State Department for Undersecretary with Mr. Moore and Mr. Sumner Wells as chief contenders for the position. Mr. Wells was a career man, having risen in the State Department to high position in the foreign service since his appointment in 1914.

Mr. Moore entered the field of diplomacy with the incoming of the Roosevelt administration, but his high attainments quickly brought him to the forefront, and the question of deciding between a career man within the Department and a recent appointee as well or better qualified became an acute one. Both contestants for the honor received energetic support, both within the State Department and in influential political circles. Seemingly a selection would result in the loss of the services of the loser in the rivalry and the outcome had been viewed with much concern by those who were in close touch with Departmental affairs.

A happy solution, however, has been found in the creation of the position of Counselor just created by Congress and the appointment of Mr. Moore to this important position, leaving the position of Undersecretary to be filled by Hon. Sumner Wells.

MANASSAS SWEEPS SCHOOL SERIES

High School Athletic History Made this Week.

Charles Hall, of Haymarket High School, made real athletic history for Prince William late yesterday afternoon when he and his mates nosed out the Nokesville team by a score of 5-4 in extra of play. The only trouble was that Charles made the history for another school.

Very few of the players realized when the game was over that for the first time since the inter-high school league was established that one of the members of the league should win a complete sweep for the entire year.

When Nokesville defeated Manassas last week in a ninth inning finish, despite brilliant pitching of the Manassas team, there seemed to be an inevitable tie. The unexpected upset came in the game yesterday as already stated.

Thus Manassas for the first time in school history, cleaned up soccer, both basketball championships and, last but not least, the baseball.

It is athletic history and it will probably be a long time again before the stunt is repeated.

A GOOD GAME

A large crowd watched the best game of the season as Manassas defeated Catlett, 4-3, behind the brilliant pitching of "Lightning" Albrite. "Lightning" did not rely on his fireball as in previous games, but was content to outsmart his opponents with baffling curves.

The Macs displayed great power at the plate as they lambasted the offerings of Redd to all corners of the field for a total of four hits. One was a screaming double by Saunders which landed nearly twenty feet beyond the second base. Then, the ever alert Saunders deftly pilfered third beating the throw by fifteen feet on a close play as the crowd cheered. He even considered stealing home.

D. Vetter angered by two consecutive whiffs, massaged the apple into right field for a triple to even Stephen the old ball game.

Wells, playing superb baseball, nipped an old bud in the rally as he cautiously speared a line drive in the seventh. Previously he had contributed three magnificent errors.

Roseberry, who would rather eat than play ball, fielded sensationally throughout the game as he accepted one easy chance.

And such was the calibre of the baseball talent assembled on Swavely Field to wage a terrific struggle which ended only when the agile and squeezed the winning run across. Sunday will find Manassas playing at Catlett with Albrite probably pitching if he recovers sufficiently from a strange eye ailment—Folks, we'll see you there.

AN EXPLANATION

On account of unusual printing conditions the account of the U. D. C. meeting held yesterday will be given in full in the next issue of the Journal.

The commercial certificates will be awarded by Miss Abbye Lutes.

Baccalaureate Sermon

Rev. D. Campbell Mayers of Middleburg delivered the annual baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class at the Trinity Episcopal Church on Sunday evening. Mr. Mayers' talk was very simple and very instructive.

He dwelt with the story of the golden calf as told in the book of Exodus and built up a very effective word picture as to the life mould that each member would cast as he grew and developed, and found his or her place in life.

There was nothing in his address that implied to the students that they must "reach the heights" at once but rather a sage word of advice that they strike their own level and study out their own characters for themselves, using, however, the best examples of success available.

Class Night

Last night the senior class staged one of the most elaborate and effective class nights ever witnessed by a local audience. The scenery was beautiful and the costumes both original and lovely. The play was termed "Gypsies for a Day" and the name itself tells the story to those not lucky enough to see the performance.

The features of the evening were the splendid singing of the entire class, including especially the duet by Jessie Mae Conner and Sinclair Boatwright, and the flower chain brought in by the Junior class girls, all in white.

This last event was followed by the presentation of the official mantle of the S. C. A. upon Shirley Hynson by Naomi Smith, retiring president.

The theme of the play was quite skillfully interwoven with the various speeches such as usually given on class nights.

It was really wonderful and a crowning glory for the senior class.

Alumni Banquet

On Saturday evening at the Manassas High School will come the initiation and installation of the graduating class as members of the Alumni Association, after which the annual Alumni Banquet will be served. No details are now available and will not be until disclosed to the suffering graduates. The officers of the Alumni Association are as follows:

President, Mrs. P. A. Lewis; vice-president, Edward Dalton; secretary, Nancy Lynn, and treasurer, Irma Ball.

Anyone desiring to attend should communicate with Mrs. P. A. Lewis, immediately.

Thus will officially close the school session of 1936-37. It has been a most successful one from every angle and all of the schools have turned out large classes of efficiently trained students, a list of which is printed in other columns.

BENNETT SCHOOL ITEMS

Miss Lourice Carter, a former third grade teacher in Bennett, who had stopped teaching due to illness, visited here last week.

On Tuesday, May 25, 1937, Miss Cadmus' fifth grade defeated Miss Miller's sixth grade in the last baseball game of the season, by a score of 13-4.

Miss Lucille Miller, who is in Miss Cadmus' fifth grade, has been absent for the past month. She is recovering from a nervous breakdown.

The wisdom of such procedure becomes at once apparent. Notwithstanding the confidence of the government for the welfare of every citizen we should practice the sterling virtues of our ancestors and in every possible way strive to take care of ourselves and our dependents, lest we and they become dependents.

AN EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY

Is there any Christian family in Manassas who could use the services in some way (merely for her living expenses) of a gently reared, middle-aged, childless widow, Presbyterian in faith, Radcliffe woman and one of the published authors of Harvard and Radcliffe Colleges, who is now in Manassas because of an advertisement inserted in Washington papers, and who needs a home temporarily? She is accustomed to a beautiful home, the directing of servants and to the best society. She came to Washington under great expense from California to work with Committees of Congress in retrieving a large oil fortune of between five and seven millions taken from her late brother through a crooked receivership the last two years of his life when he was too sick to fight back. This elderly woman will profit largely from her childless brother's will as one of two first of heirs—when the fortune is retrieved. Congress been working four years on details with fruition in sight. Can anyone aid this gentlewoman who is willing to do anything to be self-supporting? She gives as reference Mrs. Gertrude Miller, Secretary to Representative Carter of California who has known her and her family for years. Address Box 503, Local.

OLD AGE PENSION

For centuries it has been recognized that advancing years reduce the earning power of men and that it is wise for every person to make the most adequate provision possible against the time when the earning capacity recedes.

Money "doubles" itself about every sixteen years, when properly and conservatively invested. It is also a very obvious fact that a small sum, banked regularly every week, will yield a very substantial amount within a few years.

Because people are not natively thrifty and will not in sufficient numbers practice thrifty banking habits, the United States Government is now undertaking to enforce an old age pension plan upon the whole working population.

The set-up required to administer such a nation-wide system will require a vast executive personnel—much larger than we have ever before placed on similar clerical work. As the government itself is notoriously extravagant and shiftless in its administration of almost everything else, it is conceivable that an extravagant and excessively expensive machinery will be developed to install into the American people the thrift necessary to safeguard their old age.

It would be wise, particularly for younger people, not to lean too heavily upon the Government for their security in old age. In some countries these plans have not been successful. Even if the plan should succeed it would nevertheless be very commendable to continue personal habits of thrift which would insure a competency in old age regardless of anything done by governmental agencies.

A small sum deposited regularly every week in a saving account will yield an astonishing figure within ten or twenty years. Add to this the interest which the money itself will earn

Foresight

A man with foresight will cultivate the habit of carrying all of his financial transactions through his bank.

He will deposit regularly and maintain a substantial balance with which to meet important matters.

THE EFFECTS ALCOHOL ON THE HUMAN SYSTEM

Alcohol — a colorless and inflammable liquid with an intoxicating and people consider this question seriously? Today we have come into an age of science, and we are substituting knowledges for guesswork in all fields of human thought. What are the facts in this case? Does taking alcohol among the cells cause the body machinery to run a longer or shorter time and is it laid up for repairs more days or fewer days in a year when alcohol is used? The following statistics will give information on the question.

Alcohol is a narcotic poison. Its action upon the human body is injurious and often leads to fatal results. Alcohol may have maddening effects, making the subject temporarily a dangerous maniac, or may cause death. Alcohol is especially dangerous, as it seldom immediately kills, and to the casual observer appears to produce no permanent harm, but it should be remembered that persons who are addicted to the use of alcohol are more liable to contract diseases, as this poison lowers the vitality of the body and diminishes its power of resistance when attacked by the germs of disease.

The symptoms produced by alcohol are similar to those caused by the inhalation of ether or chloroform. There is a first stage of excitement, in which the person experiences a feeling of well-being; he is talkative and imagines he is making a good impression upon those who are present. He loses his self-control, and his judgment and sense of propriety, duty, and responsibility are impaired. There is a lack of muscular coordination, as soon shown by the staggering gait, thick speech, and trembling hands. Any of these symptoms may be present, depending upon the amount of alcohol taken and the susceptibility of the person to the action of the poison.

The continued use of alcohol may produce chronic inflammation of the stomach, liver, kidneys, heart and other organs of the body. The drooping lips, bleary eyes, reddened nose, dilated veins and muscular tremor of the chronic drunkard are well known. The effect on the nervous system is startling, for besides causing disease of the lower centers, conducting fiber and nerves, the high centers are severely injured, as is shown by the number of persons committed to asylums suffering from alcoholic insanity. In other cases, persons of weak mentality, who might otherwise live fairly useful lives, are pushed over the brink and are rendered insane by alcohol.

Those who advise the use of liquors containing alcohol claim that it is a stimulant. This is an erroneous idea as there is soon a lowering of the blood pressure with symptoms of depression. In using alcohol to prevent colds it dilates the blood vessels under the skin, which results in a large amount of the blood brought to the surface, with a subsequent loss of heat and chilling of the body. Many cases of pneumonia are due to this cause.

The tissues most commonly affected by fibroid degeneration are those of the liver, kidneys, arteries, heart and brain. In this kind of degeneration there is an overgrowth of the connective tissue elements, while the working cells degenerate and die. Often in the arteries the elastic muscle coat is not only changed to connective tissue, but lime is deposited in the walls. These changes make "pipe stem" arteries, which are brittle and often have the opening in them narrowed until it is with great difficulty that the blood makes its way through them. Alcohol plays havoc with the blood supply. Persons who use alcoholic liquors habitually in large quantity have the skin of the face overcharged with blood so much that the vessels of the nose and cheeks become permanently enlarged, giving the characteristic red nose of the toper. The elasticity of the arteries is an exceedingly important property of their walls. They must stretch to let more blood through it is needed. Alcohol is one of the worst things to take into the body, as it tends to stiffen the arteries. White corpuscles are injured by alcohol in the blood, and they lose their activity in attacking poison germs of disease. The white corpuscles repair cuts and broken bones; hence drinking persons do not recover from accidents and surgical operations as quickly as do total abstainers. All narcotics are injurious to the heart. Excessive use of alcohol produces a profound weakening of the heart; in some cases fibers of muscle waste away and fat forms in their place.

It is upon the delicate nervous system that its most destructive effects are wrought. One of the first effects of alcohol is flushing of the face and a feeling of warmth on the surface of the body. This is due to the quickened action of the heart and the dilation of small blood vessels from the effect of alcohol and the nerve centers controlling these organs. The mind is at first more active, because the little vessels of the brain are dilated and blood is sent more freely to that part. A little later the alcohol begins to disturb the reflex and coordinating powers of the nervous system, and ordinary muscular movements are performed imperfectly and with difficulty. The nerve centers seem to be attacked and paralyzed progressively by alcohol, beginning with the highest and proceeding toward the lowest. The will power and judgment become paralyzed, and only the emotional and impulsive instincts of human nature are left; these, being no longer under control of reason and judgment, are likely to cause the individual to act in an irrational manner. In the last stages, consciousness and volition are lost, and only that part of the nervous system in the medulla which governs circulation and respiration remains active. A large quantity of alcohol may produce death by paralyzing even these nerve centers, thus stopping all organic functions. This overaction and irregular action of the nerves, when repeatedly occurring, has the effect finally of deforming or destroying the nerve tissue.

It is well known that skill in a movement is developed by a training of the nervous system. Now alcohol lessens skill and precision in fine work. There is no work or play that man performs that cannot be performed better without alcohol. No one who aims to achieve a place in the world and win the respect of friends can afford to use alcohol in any form.

A good memory is a valuable quality of mind and it is not to be lost without regret. Alcohol greatly interferes with the memory process. For man the highest aim is to develop useful activity and it is the utmost importance that we exclude alcohol from life. The person who looks forward to excellence in life's activities will leave alcohol out of the things that are for him.

In conclusion to this question we must remember that the work of every organ must be efficiently performed and anything that injures the is of first importance in the realm of health.

The above is the prize winning paper in the county-wide W. C. T. U. contest and was written by Genevieve Garman of the Nokesville High School.

BETTER PRINCE WILLIAM PASTURES

With a few farmers carrying out pasture improvement practices for several years, more in 1936 and still more in 1937, the benefits resulting from fertilizing and liming old pastures and making special preparations for new pastures are now being seen and will show up even better in future years.

From actual observations we find the more desirable grasses and clovers coming in and the undesirable grasses and weeds being crowded out. We see pasture growth starting earlier in the spring, holding up better through the hot dry months and continuing later in the fall. We find an increased quantity of grass growing on the fertilized and limed fields and more grazing for livestock on the same acreage.

Another benefit, not so easily seen but found upon analysis by Experimental Stations, is the improvement in the quality of fertilized and limed pastures, particularly in the protein, calcium and mineral content.

Fortunately, it is practical to apply fertilizer (with the exception of the quickly available nitrates) and lime to pastures at any time of the year. Our old slogan "Lime When Convenient" may be followed with "Lime and Fertilize Pastures When Convenient."

The first glass maker in Scotland was George Hay (1566-1625). He took advantage of a peculiarly formed cave at Wemyss on the Fife coast, and set up his furnace therein.

Well your church missed seeing many at its services last Sunday. The Kingdom of God is worse off by your not being in your place. The soldier that counts is the soldier in his place. Every church in town has suffered from the absentee member.

Non-attendance of the church people is lending encouragement to the enemy. Get back in the habit of being in your place every service. Start this Sunday.

THE WELL

For thirty years I've had something to tell

About the merits of a good drilled well.

My wells are made good and tight, Cased with the best of standard pipe, No surface water can enter there.

That gathers filth from everywhere; Secure from rats, toads and snakes, Which often cause pains and aches.

Don't be afraid a few dollars to spend—

The best is the cheapest in the end. My terms are easy and my prices are low.

So don't hesitate, I can please you, I know.

When once it's done it always will last.

And you will be happier than you were in the past.

Stock well watered will do with less feed.

Let me drill your well and you'll have more'n you need.

You may say what you will, but this I do think,

Your health will be better if pure water you drink,

So take my advice of a very good plan,

And come and see me as soon as you can.

QUANTICO

Mrs. Ira Hill and Mrs. Rosetta Ranier spent Monday in Washington shopping.

The pre-school children of Quantico were given a party at the Post School on Wednesday afternoon. There were thirteen pre-school children and seven mothers present. Miss Neel, the county nurse, helped to check their weight and measure the children. It is hoped that in the Fall the pre-school children will meet requirements of the Five - Point Health Standard. The children who expect to enter the first grade next year are Carolyn Lemmal, Destina Stephanides, Billy Savage, Frank Tucci, Ray Lowry, Anna Frazier, Geo. Danick, Chas. Bennett, Ben. Sisson, Eleanor Lee Pearsons, Henry Cloe, Bobbie Haggert and Gloria Pearson.

Mrs. Marshall Pearson of Quantico had her son, Mr. Harrison Pearson, U. S. N., at home with her for a visit during the past weeks. Mr. Harrison Pearson enlisted last January. He went from Quantico to Bradenton, Fla., where he spent some time with Mr. C. H. Clyde after which he returned to Washington by plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sisk and Mr. and Mrs. L. Gatlin have returned from a ten day visit to Akron, Ohio, where there were the guests of Mrs. Laura Jones. Mrs. Jones returned with her daughters and will spend a few days with them in Quantico.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Seltzi and Mr. Julius Florjazzo spent last week end with Mrs. Rosa Seltzi in Richmond, Virginia.

Mrs. Evelyn Puselet of Quantico and Captain Carson Roberts were married in Washington, D. C., June 1. The bride wore a black and white suit and large white hat. Her mother, Mrs. Alyce Gresham, wore a white suit and picture hat. Captain Hartsem, U. S. M. C., was best man for Captain Roberts. After a short at home in their quarters in Quantico.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis of Quantico and Mr. and Mrs. Rogers of Washington were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rison Sunday.

CENTREVILLE

The Centreville School League held its final meeting Monday night, May 31 of this week. The purpose of this meeting being to elect new officers for the coming year. The following officers were unanimously elected: President, Mr. Robert Kline; vice-president, Mr. Albert Cook; treasurer, Mrs. Denny Roberson, and secretary, Mrs. C. D. Oothoudt.

We feel that under the leadership of our new and lively president, we are going to accomplish many things the coming year and take this opportunity to invite all patrons to come out and help us make our league a success.

At this meeting we planned a baked chicken supper for Friday, June 4, to begin at 6:30 o'clock. We extend a cordial welcome to all patrons and other people who wish to see our school go forward. Bring the entire family and let's have an enjoyable evening together.

CATHARPIN

Mrs. L. J. Pattie of Belle Farm spent last week with her son, John F. Pattie, and family at Triangle, Va., where he is now living and employed as garageman with Mr. Dudley Martin of that busy little city near the Potomac.

The Presiding Elder, Dr. E. C. Beery, will preach at Sudley next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock; this service being in conjunction with the Third Quarterly Conference of the Sudley circuit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Thomas of Pittsburg, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Sutton of Waynesburg, Pa., were week-end guests at Oakwood last week. Mr. Thomas is an official with the company that owns the gas line passing through this community and which supplies our county seat.

Miss Harriett Vernelson of Washington spent the week-end as guest of the Misses Betty and Frances Brower of Lone Oak recently.

Memorial Day, as usual, passed along without any one knowing it was around unless a visit was made at the bank which, of course, was closed. It's a good thing there is something other than the calendar to remind us when these National holidays occur.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Willis and son, Allen, and Mr. Willis' mother, took dinner at the Brower home on Sunday last.

A very interesting and enthusiastic meeting of the Catharpin Good Housekeeping Club was held at the home of Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale on Thursday of last week at which a Flower Program was the special order of the day. Upon this occasion, the club experienced an innovation rare and delightful when after its program had been rendered, the club, as a body, motored to Haymarket and attended the flower show conducted in Parish Hall by the Woman's Club of that city, which all enjoyed as a fitting climax to their own program. After the visit, all returned to the home of the hostess, Mrs. Robertson, where they enjoyed the usual delicious refreshments for which this club is noted; the refreshments, in this instance, however, consisted of a "full, blown" dinner with all the details and "fixens" of a banquet. The ladies were very profuse in their praise of the Flower Show which all enjoyed and appreciated. The incident was something to be remembered with pleasure.

Editor "Manassas Journal," The other day, while driving up the Lee Highway, I noticed that a United States flag is being flown in the Confederate cemetery near the Dogan house at Groveton on the Bull Run battlefield.

I respect the American flag as much as anyone, but nevertheless I feel that a Confederate graveyard is not the place where it should be displayed. The men who are buried there fought for the Stars and Bars, and I believe they would like to have it flying over their graves.

R. E. Lee Camp, Camp, Sons of

Confederate Veterans, of Alexandria, would be glad to furnish a large Confederate flag to be flown in this halcyon spot, if you could put in touch with the proper authorities. With regards to yourself, Mrs. Lamb and Mr. Wharton, I remain, Very sincerely yours, WILLIAM LINDSAY CARNE Adjutant, R. E. Lee Camp S. C. V., Alexandria, Virginia.

OCCOQUAN & VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Brunt of Occoquan have returned from a week's vacation, seeing America first.

Misses Jane Sealeman and Ann Bubb of Occoquan and Mr. Charlie Petelet motored to Ashland, Va., Sunday, where they visited Mr. John Morrison who is a student at Randolph Macon College.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rosencrans of Washington were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Riley of Occoquan.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Moore and family of Del Ray, Va., were week-end guests of Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Pierce, of Occoquan.

Mrs. Robert H. Hall accompanied by Mrs. Worthen Hall, motored to Luray Sunday because of the illness of Mrs. R. H. Hall's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brenner of Alexandria were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Payne, Occoquan.

Miss Evelyn Herring of Fredericksburg Teachers College spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Herring, of Featherstone Farms.

We are glad to be able to report that Mrs. Bernard Cross, who was reported ill last week, is now much improved.

Mr. Francis Malcolm and Miss Virginia Malcolm and Mrs. Giles Carter, all of Lorton, motored to Norfolk during the week end.

Occoquan District High School held its tenth anniversary of the laying of the corner stone on May 26. A large number of school enthusiasts attended. There were several good talks, and especially that given by Mrs. E. A. McIntire of Quantico. Miss Elisabeth Vaughan read a letter from Mr. R. C. Haydon expressing his regrets at not being able to attend. Mr. Haydon had included a number of data pertaining to schools which Miss Vaughan read. The little town of Occoquan were awakened at about midnight on May 2, in the realization that they were under fire; troops from Fort Belvoir who were in training for the past few weeks having decided to throw a pontoon bridge across Occoquan Creek at about the center of town. There was no sleep for the Occoquians that night, because this bridge building was carried on all night, under Machine Gun rat tat tat, and it took until late the following morning to dismantle the bridge and load the parts for transport to Fort Belvoir. In all, the Occoquan folks enjoyed it, especially those who never had been under fire.

The Vestry of Pohick Church held a meeting at the Vestry House on Wednesday, May 26, at which meeting some very important business was transacted; especially work pertaining to the up-keep and improvement of the cemetery.

NOTE: In connection with Memorial Day exercises at Quantico, the Commanding General of Marines at Quantico extended to the members of Buck Keyes Post No. 28, American Legion and the Auxiliary a special invitation to join in the services at the wharf. He had special seats reserved for them. The members of the Legion take this opportunity in thanking the Commanding General, General Charles H. Lyman for this kind invitation.

We have been informed that the population of Occoquan has increased by ONE since last report; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wayland being the proud parents of a young daughter. Both mother and daughter are doing well. Congratulations.

Where You Get More For Your Money
And The Quality Speaks For Itself

For INTERIOR WOODWORK That NEEDS FREQUENT WASHING

You Need the Enamel-Like Finish of My Fres-Co-Glos or Sem-I-Glo

SOAP and water won't dull the pleasing satin finish on walls and woodwork painted with my Fres-Co-Glos or Sem-I-Glo. Nor will dirt, pencil and finger marks, or even ink, sink into its hard-as-tile surface. You just wipe them right off with a damp cloth and the surface looks new again.

That's mighty important to most folks—especially in homes where there are children, for somehow the youngsters can't seem to get away from dirt—yet mothers can't be around to watch them all the time and make them keep "hands off."

My Fres-Co-Glos and Sem-I-Glo are both quality products—they differ only in the finish. Fres-Co-

Glos is the bright, high-gloss finish so many people seem to like, while Sem-I-Glo gives you a happy medium between flat and high-gloss finishes. For inside woodwork, kitchens and bathrooms, there's nothing finer—and they last and keep their gloss so long, they're mighty economical.

Get a free color card from my authorized dealer today and take advantage of the special price he is offering on my Fres-Co-Glos and Sem-I-Glo Paints this week.
