MANASSAS, VIRGINIA THURSDAY, AUG. 26, 1937

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

LOAN FUNDS ARE NOW AVAILABLE

Resettlement Administration to Issue Loans this Fall.

During 1936 loans were made from Resettlement Administration Funds to 4,445 farm families throughout the state of Virginia the loans totaling $1,594,317 or an average of $360.00 per family. These loans are made to low income families with very little if any credit resources. Beginning in 1936 the rehabilitation program was placed on a five year basis, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum. It is our hope that during the five year period we can improve farm and home management practices to enable them to successfully manage in the future.

Repayments have been made on 1936 loans in excess of $525,000.00 or approximately 33 per cent of the total amount. These payments further represent 90 per cent of those scheduled for 1936 in spite of a drought seriously affecting a large part of the state with twenty-five counties officially designated as drought counties. These figures considered in connection with those given on production, and preservation of food amounting to $1,069,159.00 indicate real progress toward genuine rehabilitation.

As the intake season is now at hand and additional funds are available for the making of loans applicants from Prince William, Fairfax and Stafford Counties should contact Percival A. Lewis, Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor at Manassas, Virginia, where they will receive every consideration.

JULIUS EGBERT HARRELL

Another death which was the occasion of much grief in Manassas this week was the passing of Julius Egbert Harrell, former Fauquier and Prince William County man, who spent much of his life in this community.

He was the son of John Alpheus and Elizabeth Elder Harrell and was born June 7, 1868. His residence here was marked by his marriage on Nov. 28, 1894 to Miss Minnie Johnson of this place.

Mr. Harrell was an active business man and was associated at different times in his life with such local establishments as the Candy Factory and the Hardware Store. More recently he was with C. B. Adams Co., in Washington.

Mr. Harrell was a devout Christian having joined the Baptist Church in early life. The Baptist minister, Rev. R. M. Graham, will officiate at the funeral services at the home Friday at 2:00 P. M. and interment will be in the local cemetery. Pall bearers will be Messrs. Reuben Jenkins, Eugene Davis, Jr., L. Ledman, T. R. Bywaters, T. L. Proffitt and T. J. Broadus.

Surviving Mr. Harrell are his widow; two daughters, Mrs. Mildred Beale, of Manassas, and Mrs. Everett Embrey, of Washington; one son, Morris W. Harrell, of Washington; one sister, Mrs. Ralph Johnson, of Manassas and three grandchildren.

LEITH-BOLDING

A marriage of interest to this community was solemnized yesterday afternoon when Miss Frances Elizabeth Bolding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bolding of Manassas, became the bride of Mr. Robert Leary Leith. The ceremony was performed in the Manassas Baptist Church at 5 o'clock, the Rev. R. M. Graham officiating. Only members of the immediate families were present. The marriage altar was tastefully decorated with ferns, cut flowers and candles.

The bride, entering on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, was becomingly attired in dark blue lace with accessories to match and wore a corsage of talliesman roses. The couple had no attendants. Mrs. Lewis Carper played the wedding music.

After a wedding supper at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leith left by train for a northern trip.

Mr. Leith is a son of Mrs. Charles D. Alexander and the late George W. Leith of Manassas. He is the manager of the Atlantic and Pacific store in Herndon where they have taken an apartment.

Their many friends wish them much happiness.

KIWANIS GOVERNOR IS GUEST HERE

George G. Peery, of Salem, Governor of the Capital District of the Kiwanis International, was the guest of the Kiwanis Club on last Friday evening.

Mr. Peery, who is a native Canadian, gave a very feeling picture of the present international relations between Canada and the United States as compared with the sordid conditions of Europe and the Far East.

His talk was of special interest to the local Club as he spoke in detail on under privileged child work.

The speaker has a very jovial personality and his humorous anecdotes put a good deal of spice in his address.

The Bethel Church, near Agnewville, has invited the Club to meet with them on the evening of Sept. 3 at the Bethel Schoolhouse. The matter will be decided definitely at tomorrow evening's meeting, but there is little doubt that the invitation will be accepted.

GAS TAX COLLECTIONS HIT NEW HIGH

Gasoline tax collections in Virginia soared to a new high of $1,612,738 during July, according to John Q. Rhodes, Jr., Director of the State Division of Motor Vehicles, who said "July collections are the highest ever recorded in the State." He gave as one of the chief reasons the tremendous amount of tourist traffic in the Old Dominion. Figured for July represented an increase of $61,080 over the June total and an increase of $76,460 over July, 1936.

Totals for the seven-month period ending July 31 reached the staggering sum of $9,612,433, a increase of $1,008,665 over dollations for the first seven months of 1936.

No changes in automobile license fees or fuel taxes are likely to be made by the next General Assembly, but levies on trucks and buses may be in for a revision and further restrictions as to weight load of trucks are probable. These developments were indicated at a session last week of the legislative advisory sub-committee for study of motorvehicle licenses and fuel taxes. Ashton Dovel of Williamsburg, Speaker of the House of Delegates, is chairman of the group.

ATTENTION, Order of Fraternal Americans in Prince William County.

MORE ABOUT THE PULMOTOR

The Manassas Volunteer Fire Department wishes to express its sincere thanks to all those who have so promptly and generously responded to their appeal for funds to purchase a pulmotor for use wherever and whenever it may be needed in the county or elsewhere to save a person's life.

For those of you who are not familiar with a pulmotor or its improved make "The Inhalator", a word of explanation may be of help. The use of an apparatus of this kind is necessary in any case where breathing and heart action has stopped from several different causes. These causes are as follows; drowning, suffocation from smoke, as in cases of fire from illuminating gas, from carbon monoxide gas poisoning, which gas is generated from an automobile while running in a closed garage, electric shock, by coming in contact with high tension wires, Caisson's disease, due to too rapid changes in air pressure mostly affecting divers, certain drug poisonings, etc.

The way the apparatus works is to force oxygen into the lungs while artificial respiration attempts to re-establish breathing. You can readily understand the necessity of having an apparatus of this kind within easy reach whenever an accident of this kind should happen, for a pulmotor can be used within thirty or sixty minutes after such accidents and a large majority of these cases can be brought back to life.

This apparatus will be in charge of the members of the Rescue Squad of the Manassas Fire Department who have been trained in First Aid work by an official Red Cross instructor and will be available for immediate use at all times, day or night, subject to call in an part of the county.

The necessary equipment that goes with the complete outfit is very expensive and the full quota has not yet been reached for its purchase, but we feel sure that the people of Prince William County will respond to this appeal now as they have responded to like appeals in the past.

If you are unable to come to Manassas to make your donations directly to Dr. G. B. Cocke, you can make them to Dr. Wade C. Payne, Haymarket; N. N. Free, Nokesville; Mrs. Janie Abel, Dumfries, or to Mr. Fred Lynn, Occoquan.

SCHOOL DAYS ARE NEAR JUNIOR DANCE SET

FOR SEPTEMBER 8

With school days just around the corner, both teachers and school officials are beginning to face the long grind of another session. Many details will be completed when the county board meets next Wednesday. All schools will open on Sept. 8, which will be the second Wednesday. The institutes for both white and colored teachers will be held the day before (Sept. 7) and final instructions will be given to all teachers at that time.

There was an increase in school population last year and there will be again this year, but it is believed that present quarters will take care of normal growth.

Next week the list of teachers will be published and more details about the county school program.

Through the courtesy of the managers of both teams, the game was arranged to be staged on Swavely Field in order to accommodate the huge audience it is expected to draw.

HON. WADE H. ELLIS

To the Editors of The Manassas Journal, Manassas, Virginia.

My dear Friends:

I saw in the last issue of your paper the appeal for funds for the purchase of a pulmotor for the Manassas Fire Department. It was especially unfortunate that there was no such apparatus handy when the drowning occurred at Lake Jackson recently.

My country home, Rippon Lodge, always makes Prince William County and her good people very close and dear to me, and I am sincerely glad of an opportunity to contribute something to the worthy cause you are so earnestly advocating. To this end I enclose herewith my check for $100.00, and I hope this will lead others to contribute so that you may soon raise enough money to buy a pulmotor.

With every good wish to you and your interesting paper, I am,

Very truly yours
WADE H. ELLIS

The Young Democratic Club of Prince William is making a final drive to increase the membership to 200 before September 1, in order to be allowed 20 votes at this Convention. Anyone in the County who is interested in attending or expects to be there will be considered a delegate and given credentials if they will notify the officers of the Club. BENJAMIN IRA RINKER

Manassas lost one of its most substantial citizens Saturday, in the death of Benjamin I. Rinker, farmer and poultryman. Mr. Rinker died after an illness of several weeks.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon from the Lutheran Church, the Rev. A. W. Ballantine officiating. The pall bearers were Messrs. R. C. Bowers, Paul Cooksey, Riley Whitmer, Ben Runaldus, and Charles Dodson. Interment was in the Lutheran Cemetery near Manassas.

Mr. Rinker, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Absalom Rinker, was born in Shenandoah County Dec. 17, 1867, where he lived until late in the year of 1892, when he moved to Champaign County, Ohio. In the meantime he was married on April 23, 1891 to Rebecca S., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rupert, also of Shenandoah County. Their first child, Nanita Florence, died a few weeks before the couple left for Ohio.

It was about this time that he affiliated himself with the Lutheran Church. Mr. Rinker remained in Urbana, Ohio, until 1910, when he located in Albemarle County, Va., where he remained for ten years, afterwards coming to Manassas where he lived for the balance of his life.

Surviving the deceased are one son, Walter Michael, of Mt. Jackson, Va.; three grandchildren, Doris Ruth, Emma Rebecca and Michael William Rinker, and one sister, Mrs. Carrie Lutz, of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Rinker was an industrious citizen and a Christian gentleman. He built up a splendid hatchery business during his stay here and in many ways endeared himself to the life of the community.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE

On Friday evening Miss Frances Bolding was honored with a miscellaneous shower, given at the home of Mrs. Lewis J. Carper. Mrs. Wilson C. Merchant was assistant hostess. The prospective bride was "showered" from a large parasol; artistically trimmed in pink and white. This color scheme was carried out in the flowers and table decorations.

Delicious punch and wedding cake were served to the thirty or more guests who were present. Miss Bolding was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

Mr. C. W. Holmes of David, brought in a twin cantaloupe on Saturday, the same having grown from separate vines. It is not large but rather unusual.

OCCOQUAN (AND VICINITY)

Mrs. F. W. Hornbaker, with her daughter, Mildred and Mr. Harold Wilcher spent Saturday and Sunday visiting the historic points in the valley of Virginia, a patriotic duty of every American who can possibly visit those places.

Dr. and Mrs. Zeigler, who have spent most of the summer visiting various points in the United States and Canada are staying with Mr. and Mrs. John Leary, of Occoquan for a visit. Mrs. Zeigler is a sister of Mrs. Leary.

Mr. A. B. Rogers, the genial postmaster of Occoquan has been indisposed during the past few days. We hope he will soon be his usual self; jolly and happy looking.

The Kiwanis will give a supper at Bethel School on Friday, Sept. 3, to which all their friends are cordially invited. The merchants and business people of Occoquan are specially invited to attend. Come and meet nice people and enjoy an excellent supper. When those people say they will give a supper, they do not mean a light repast. You will see a real supper served.

On Saturday, September 4, the yacht clubs of Washington, D. C., will hold a regatta at Occoquan when scores of yachts and cruisers will be anchored off the town. The Commodore of Occoquan Mr. Fred A. Barnes, of Rock Ledge is making arrangements to give all the visitors the time of their life while at Occoquan. The gates of the City will be thrown open to them, and we hope they will enjoy their stay in the Old Historic Town of Occoquan. For the benefit of those who may have forgotten; Occoquan was incorporated in 1804 and continuously operated as an incorporated town ever since. It has not grown very much in population during this period, but it has great pride in the continuity of its incorporation.

Mr. B. W. Brunt and Capt. Thos. F. Joyce, of Occoquan, and Messrs. French Fleming and Kenneth Dove, of Lorton attended the Piedmont Bankers Association meeting at Winchester on Tuesday, August 24. There was a very large attendance. The Winchester folks served a very excellent dinner; being the hosts for the occasion. Several matters of importance to farmers and others were discussed; matters which will be very beneficial to the communities at large.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Janney, of Occoquan were hosts to a beautifully appointed dinner, given in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Clarence A. Langston of Polk who are sailing for Europe on August 26, for several months vacation. Other invited guests were; Rev. and Mrs. Langston's daughter, Mrs. Day of Westfield, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Brunt and Capt. Thos. F. Joyce and his son, Thomas, of Occoquan, and Virginia Peyton, of Amherst, Va., who is now a graduate nurse at Mary Washington Hospital in Fredericksburg, Va. After the dinner, games were played and prizes given to those voted outstanding in each class of games. Mr. and Mrs. Janney are excellent hosts.

AUDIENCE WRITES FINAL SCENES OF MARX COMEDY

Audiences in five cities virtually wrote the final screen play of the new Marx Brothers comedy, "A Day at the Races," which comes to the Pitts screen Monday and Tuesday, August 30 and 31 for a two day showing.

Repeating the successful experiment which they first tried out with their earlier hit, "A Night at the Opera," the Marx Brothers, together with their director, Sam Wood, incorporated the material of "A Day at the Races" into a stage production and tried out the laughs on the audiences of Duluth, Minneapolis, Chicago,

Cleveland and San Francisco. The laughter and comment of the patrons served as a barometer by which the Marx maniacs were able to decide which gags to discard and which to retain for the film production of "A Day at the Races."

The comedians took along thousands of preview cards. Audiences were asked to jot down their impressions and opinions of the scenes tested before them. From these the comedy for "A Day at the Races" was moulded.

Collaboration of audiences is invaluable to the Marx Brothers as was demonstrated on their previous "preview tour." The hilarious stage-room sequence which was the comedy high spot of "A Night at the Opera" never would have reached the screen had it not been for the way a Salt Lake City audience howled at it. In the original screen play, no special importance was attached to that particular scene.

Similarly in "A Day at the Races" there is a sequence in which Esther Muir attempts to "frame" Groucho. In retaliation, Harpo and Chico enter the room, posing paper-hangers, and actually gaste Miss Muria to the wall! If the Marxes were uncertain as to just how funny this episode was before their tour, the ceiling-raising howls which emanated from audiences when it was tried out on the stage, was conclusive proof that it was a sequence to top even the triumphantly funny one of the previous picture.

Among the comedy scenes which were tried out on the tour for "A Day at the Races" were one in which Groucho Marx tries to explain why he is giving Margaret Dumont a pill as big as a bird's egg; the scene in which Chico sells Groucho a race-track tip and then an armload of books with which to decipher the tip; and the uproarious scene in which all three Marxes give the world's weirdest medical examination to Miss Dumont.

'KID GALAHAD' HAILED AS TRIUMPH

"Kid Galahad," a story of the prize-ring and the characters who are in it and about it — some of them square-shooters and many of them double-crossers — was a tremendous success a few months ago, first as a serial running in a national magazine, then as a novel.

Now as a movie, it opens Wednesday & Thursday, Sept. 2 and 3, at the Pitts Theatre.

Seldom indeed is a trio of stars such as Edward G. Robinson, Bette Davis and Humphrey Bogart cast in the same film. The director was Michael Curtiz, who made such recent triumphs as "The Charge of the Light Brigade" and "Captain Blood."

And not only that! "Kid Galahad" himself — a lad so called because of his high regard for women — is a new actor, only 23, called Wayne Morris, who appears destined to join the ranks of top stars on the strength of this one picture.

The new leading lady who holds his romantic interest is an upcoming girl, too—Jane Bryan, who scored a triumph in "Marked Woman," as Bette Davis' sister.

A great story and a magnificent cast! "Kid Galahad" looks like one of 1937's very best!

Robinson plays a prize fight manager. Miss Davis is his girl friend, "Pluff." Humphrey Bogart is Eddie's rival manager. Robinson is none too straight; Humphrey is an out-and-out crook.

They kill each other off, near the end of the story, to the great approval of everyone concerned. But meanwhile "Kid Galahad" has moved up to the championship, and has won the heart of little Jane Bryan, who plays Robinson's kid sister. And "Little Caesar" dies happy, because he has developed a world-beater.

MR. ELLIS' CONTRIBUTION

The Manassas Journal extends sincere thanks to the Hon. Wade H. Ellis for his munificent gift toward the purchase of a pulmotor for the Fire Department. No local fire company in Virginia is superior to the Manassas boys and few equal them.

Mr. Ellis is a public spirited man and has been most liberal to Prince William. His contributions to art and history and his devotion to social betterment, as well as his princely generosity, have endeared him to the people of this county.

TOBACCO FESTIVAL

The National Tobacco Festival which will be held in South Boston next week is fast becoming one of the nation's outstanding celebrations.

We are glad to see such widespread interest manifested in this historic and progressive section of the state.

We wish the Tobacco Festival all possible success.

The Manassas Journal

Dear Sirs:

I noticed an article in the Washington Post August 15th signed "Gilbert Stinger". This man Stinger is nothing more than a critic and his name Stinger fits him well, for he stings or criticizes the railroad, the town, the police and everything he comes in contact with. He didn't say he was invited to this Virginia town so why did he punish himself so by riding in the hot railroad train, when he could have ridden in an air-cooled pullman with his best girl for only a few dollars or he could have motored to Manassas if he had the price of a car. Why suffer all these hardships when he could ride in comfort?

When Mr. Stinger arrived in town he did not ask for the Mayor or City Manager or someone who could give him the desired information but went to the railway station. The railroad employees have their work to attend to. They are not historians or a bureau of information to point out the Battlefield or Beauregard's headquarters. The folks in our little town are busy and do not have time to stop all strangers on the streets and ask their business, and people worth while will always ask for the Mayor, city manager or someone who could give them the desired information. Yes, we have plenty of churches and we have plenty of good people and our stores are not quite so dusty as they were described. We have the Sanitary, A & P, Giant, and Conner and Kincheloe in the grocery line, and we have three good drug stores, a 5c & 10c, a hotel, restaurant and everything else that a small town needs, except a Stinger. I consider Manassas one of the best towns in northern Virginia. We have electricity, water, sewerage, good streets and sidewalks, a bonded debt of $25,000, which has been reduced from $125,000, and we have $37,000 to pay off this debt when the bonds are due. We had the 75th anniversary of the First Battle of Manassas last year, which drew over 30,000 people, with not one arrest or accident. The Piedmont Dairy Festival is something else that always draws good crowds to our little town. Visitors are always welcome to Manassas and Prince William County which have more history than any other town or county in the state. I hope others will not judge our town by the critical article Mr. Stinger wrote about his boring trip to Manassas with his best girl.

A citizen—

BABY CYCLONE AT CENTREVILLE

A baby twister visited Centreville late Saturday afternoon doing the best part of a $1,000 worth of damage to the vicinity. The path of the wind was almost south to north.

About a fourth of the tin roof on the old school building was torn beyond repair, a number of outbuildings ruined, some damage to the electric pole line and numerous trees and bushes uprooted, not to mention the minor casualties.

It is the first time that a wind has been that close to the village for some years. The last time anything like this occurred was on the same occasion that so much harm was done around Nokesville. It was stated that some of the debris was carried clear over into Fairfax County and dumped north of Centreville.

New York Fair Hall to Feature Radio and Television

NEW YORK (Special).—Radio, television, movies, telephone, telegraph, photography, news and magazine print—all those factors as they relate to communications in American life—will have their own pavilion and ten-acre exhibit zone at the New York World's Fair of 1939, according to an announcement by Grover Whalen, President of the Fair Corporation.

The Hall of Communications will be built this year on the 121½-acre exposition site within a few minutes ride from mid-town Manhattan. Its location is adjacent to that of the unique Theme Centre structures, which with their "thousand wonders" will dominate the Fair grounds. About the Hall will be grouped ten acres of buildings to be erected by private exhibitors in the communications industry, said Mr. Whalen.

Before the building will be two ultramarine pylons, 160 feet high and faced with continuous glass lighting fixtures. Features of the structure are a great hall, in which will be placed the focal exhibit summing up the role of communications in the World of Tomorrow, and a glass-walled restaurant opening onto a dining terrace and garden. The total length of the Hall of Communications will be over 400 feet. Its cost is estimated at $400,000. Numerous other Fair structures are emerging from stages of design. Construction of the exposition, however, will not reach its peak until early next year.

Larkspur Blue Is Used In Window Shades

By Jane Rogers

WE'VE just seen them and they are lovely! They're a glorious new cool blue for spring and summer—a blue that makes your rooms look and feel as fresh and soothing as a sea breeze.

Larkspur blue goes magnificently with the blue tones of draperies that are so smart this year—and we were impressed by the fact these window shades are made of cloth woven on a loom and then processed for long life!

We both know how important blue in home decorations will be this spring, summer and fall! And it would be not only smart of us, but extremely chic, if we ensembled windows and woodwork with the shades. You have no idea what a grand feeling of spaciousness you get when your shades blend with the rest of your decorations.

For those of you who are the slightest bit doubtful about colored shades facing the street—we'd suggest that you order this new shade with the blue facing inside and white facing the street, thereby achieving a uniform appearance.

SOUTHERN PINE GOES TO NEW YORK FAIR

NEW YORK (Special).—Southern yellow pine from the Eastern Shore, Maryland, and from points in Delaware, Virginia and North Carolina is already going into foundations in the central area of the New York World's Fair of 1939.

Grover Whalen, President of the Fair Corporation, has just announced the purchase of 430 sticks of pine piling, in lengths up to 80 feet, from Nichols Brothers, of 99 West Street, Manhattan, and Norfolk, Virginia. Shipments of this lot are originating at Frankfort, Delaware, Preston, Maryland, and Melba and Cheriton, Virginia. An order for piling of similar size is being filled at points in North Carolina.

The pine sticks are being driven into the ash-meadow fill of the 121½-acre exposition site where they will serve as part of the foundations for bridge abutments near the Theme Centre and amusement areas of the Fair.

MARRIED BEFORE BREAKFAST AT PITTS THEATRE NEXT WEEK

"Married Before Breakfast" tells of a young inventor who acquires a robot and encounters an immediate change of fortune. He is engaged to marry a society girl but meets a lovely clerk at a travel agency. She also is engaged and the inventor attempts to help her finance sell insurance.

The plot involves the inventor and the travel agency clerk in a series of remarkable adventures, which include a thrilling jewel robbery and a kidnaping. Eventually they are arrested. Later, when they are vindicated, the two are aware that they were mistaken about their earlier romances. They are in love with one another.

Edwin L. Marin directed and has introduced an original technique to the screen with his deft comedy touches. Young, who appeared last with William Powell and Luise Rainer in "The Emperor's Candlesticks," performs cleverly in an interesting role. Miss Rice, the daughter of Grantland Rice, noted newspaper sports writer, again lives up to her reputation as one of Hollywood's most promising young players.

TALL POLE

Special Trailer Built for 122-Foot Fir

"Tall timber" is necessary in ship-to-shore radio-telephone service. Probably the tallest pole—122 feet long—ever set up by wireless forces was erected at the radio-telephone receiving station at Forked River, New Jersey, recently. Weighing 7,500 pounds and having a diameter of thirty inches, it will be used for a new antenna supplementing the present facilities, whereby telephone users in this country can talk with persons aboard a score of big liners plying the Atlantic.

This is one of the fifteen big fir poles brought by ship from the west coast to Newark and then hauled by rail to Lawrenceville, New Jersey.

To carry the pole by truck over narrow country roads to Forked River, a special type of trailer with rotating bolster had to be devised to negotiate turns.

PRINCE AND PAUPER
HERE TOMORROW

According to Mark Twain, the late great novelist and humorist, his story, "The Prince and the Pauper," is one of those things that "might have happened."

It is the tale of two boy babies born in London at the same moment in the 16th century — one being Prince Edward, heir to the throne; the other being Tom Canty, brat of a ruffian and thief. And Twain had them resemble each other identically — mett — change clothes — get their childish lives all mixed up.

It was a great novel. It became a great stage play. Now it has

Red Coral Always Prized
It is red coral that is and always has been prized, not solely for jewelry and buttons, but as a charm to bring safety, health and secrets not revealed to the ordinary person. As ancient Gauls rushed headlong into battle, they trusted their safety to their swords, strength and the "magic" coral imbedded in their shields or helmets. Many Italians and Indians regard coral as protection against the "evil eye." The world's red coral comes from the reefs off the Mediterranean coast of Africa, says the Washington Post, and is obtained chiefly by Italians.

WATERFALL

We are passing on to the Journal readers excerpts of a letter recently received from Mr. Frank R. Hunt of California, who with his wife, visited relatives and friends in this community during the past month. He relates their harrowing experience in an Oklahoma cyclone while enroute home.

Mr. Hunt is a nephew and namesake of Rev. Frank J. Rawlinson, one of the three Americans killed in Shanghai, China last Saturday morning during the bombing of that city. Rev. Rawlinson had been a missionary to that country for the past thirty-five years. He was a native of Baltimore city, when a ministerial student, but he often conducted services at Wise Chapel and Antioch Baptist Church. Mr. Hunt's letter is as follows.

We arrived finally in California on the 23rd day of July, after leaving Virginia on the 17th of July.

It seems like only a short time that we were in the community, but, after all, we were gone from California approximately six weeks. The trip all the way around was very pleasant and very enjoyable, with the exception of our experience on the way home.

Sunday night we stayed just out of Fort Smith, Arkansas, all night, and got up the next morning about 5:00 o'clock and started out, thinking that we would probably cover the rest of the way in two days, as we had arrived there in two days, and were about half way on the journey. By our driving that morning we ran into a terrible storm and dark cloud as we were going down a hill, or very steep incline, across a little bridge at the bottom and started up the hill on the other side, where the road had been cut and formed an embankment. Just prior to starting up this hill I made a remark to Florence, "See the whirlwind!" That is what we thought it was until we got into it, but when we hit it we discovered that it was what is called an Oklahoma Cyclone, and it really picked our car up in the air and turned us around in the road and landed us on the right hand side up next to the embankment, where we thought the car had gone as far as it could. Then the wind got underneath the car and took us over and over twice, uphill. We were very fortunate, indeed, to get out with our lives.

To show you some of the experiences that we went through with, my glasses went off and out into the highway, and my pencil and cigarettes that were in my shirt pocket were in another place about 5 feet from my glasses, and my wallet that was in my hip pocket was lying about 45 feet from the cigarettes. The windows on Florence's side of the car were all closed up and the change and silver that I had in my right hand pants pockets, every penny of it, was out there on the running board of Florence's side, as I was driving the car. The door never came open, and it is still a mystery how that money got there. Then a car came along about 5 or 10 minutes later and took us in the next nearest town, which was 18 miles, to Henrietta, Oklahoma, to the hospital. A couple of bumps on the head and my right side and ribs was about the extent of my injuries, but Florence seemed to get far the worst of it. She stayed in the hospital all day, and had three examinations, with a broken collar bone and several what they considered fractured ribs, but I moved her late that afternoon from the hospital to a private home and then endeavored to see about having my car repaired, and the insurance company making the adjustment. After getting all the repairs figured up, it totaled $253 damage to the car, which I had covered by insurance; and again I can say a whole lot for insurance, because if there is a time that it is appreciated, it certainly is in a strange community that far from home.

We found out that it would take fifteen days to make repairs. Therefore, I purchased another car and left that one there for repairs, which will be sent to me later. We left Wednesday morning about 10:00 o'clock and drove 175 miles when another very similar storm was approaching us from our backs. We pulled into a garage in Elk City, where they estimated it was a wind between 40 or 45 miles per hour, which blew in the rear part of the garage that we were in, and believe me, that frightened us more than the storm that did the damage to us.

We arrived in California then on Friday, July 23rd, and came in to Burbank on Saturday, and went to the ranch and got our family and found them all well. The kiddies, of course, were very glad to see us. Then I brought Florence back to Burbank and she was in bed for a week, but is now up and around, not able to do any work, but getting along just as nicely as could be expected. I took her up to the doctor Monday night, the first time I was able to get her out of the house, and had some X-rays taken. It showed that all bones were knitting and back in place perfectly, so it will be only a matter of time now until she will be okay again.

This is probably a long letter, but in order to give you just the experience and happenings that we went through, it was necessary. Again both Florence and I want to thank you very much for the courtesy and the splendid visit we had at your home.

Battle of Antietam

Around and near this Dunkard Church occurred some of the most fierce fighting of all wars on the morning of September 17, 1862, with onslaughts by Generals Hooker and Hansfield, near which General Mansfield was killed. Union forces were met by Generals "Stonewall" Jackson's and Stuart's Cavalry (left wing) and the line weaved back and forth with tremendous losses in the first phase of the Battle of Antietam. Around this church occurred the Sedgwick ambush, where Union forces were repulsed with some 2,000 loss. The church was used as a hospital. QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

By

Dr. James T. Marshall

ONE WORLD OR TWO?

George Eliot accused the clergymen of her day of "other-worldliness," of laying too much stress on saving souls and overlooking the practical problems of the earthly life.

A similar criticism is often heard today. We are told that is best to take one world at a time, and attend to the next world when we come to it. This sounds very plausible, but it is exceedingly superficial.

Surely it has no force as applied to our Lord Jesus the founder of our faith. St. Luke in one place sums up His whole biography in five words, "He went about doing good." The gospels tell us how His sympathy overflowed toward the poor, the hungry, the sick and the weary. They tell us of His feeding the five thousand by the Sea of Galilee, cleaning the leper, healing the nobleman's son, giving sight to the blind man by the wayside and restoring the pitiful demoniac to perfect sanity.

In His teaching Jesus emphasized the care which our Heavenly Father showed for our physical needs, as in His model prayer and the sermon on the mount, as well as in His powerful and dramatic description of the last judgment given in Matthew 25:31-46.

The criticism has little force when applied to the religion of our day. Since George Eliot's time there has been a marked reaction against all dogma and creeds, and the present tendency is to put the emphasis upon social service. The modern church-goer hears few sermons on the joys of heaven.

The work of our modern foreign missionaries is by no means confined to preaching personal salvation. The most familiar example is found in the work of Dr. Grenfell in Labrador. Equally remarkable is the work of the famous German scholar and musician Albert Schweitzer who in midlife abandoned the comfort and luxury at home and is now conducting a great medical institution in the heart of Africa. To these may be added the name of young Raymond Moyer who has dedicated his life to teaching the people of China how to raise more grain to the acre.

At the same time we are not justified in forgetting that there is another world which demands our attention. While Jesus recognized the claim of the physical life, He insisted that there was something of far greater importance to a spiritual being. Man was poor indeed in he did not possess the gift of God which is eternal life.

After all we do men but poor service if we feed them and assure them of short working hours, high wages and old age pensions while we overlook the culture of their higher nature as spiritual beings designed for fellowship with God. No fortune can be large enough to buy off death, or give the slightest consolation when sorrow invades the home.

Christianity teaches us to give each of the two worlds its due, to keep our feet on the ground while we breathe the air of the hills, and to cultivate the godliness which hath the promise of the life that now is and of that which is to come. The can say with St. Paul, "Our citizen-best citizens of earth are they who ship is in heaven."

HISTORY OF BATTLEFIELD PARK

Interesting Letters Describe Work Devoted to Patriots.

August 2, 1937

Hon. John W. Rust,
Fairfax, Virginia.
Dear Senator Rust:

I want to thank you for your letter of July 30th in reference to the Manassas Battlefield Confederate Park. My contention is that the Southern people can and should do this job which they started out to do. I have realized for some time that the Sons of Confederate Veterans would never do it. The U. D. C. can, and they should be asked to do it. The Sons spend most of their time paying beautiful tributes to Southern valor and eating fried chicken, cooked by the Daughters. But when the Daughters start out to do a job, you will find they are going to do it.

I quote a few lines from a recent statement by a member of the U. D. C.: "The accomplishments of the U. D. C. are too numerous to mention, and if they take it (Manassas Battlefield Confederate Park) over, I am sure its restoration would be a success." Beg them to take it over, lock, stock, and barrel—where would the South be today if it hadn't been for fine, loyal, Southern women of countless numbers, who have preserved her history and tradition and kept alive that marvelous Southern spirit that never recognizes defeat?

The Daughters should be given the opportunity. I hope the Sons of Confederate Veterans will realize this and instead of turning the Henry Farm over to the Federal Government they will get the U. D. C. to take charge of it.

Sincerely yours,
BOLLING LYNN ROBERTSON

32 East 64th Street,
New York City.
August 6, 1937

Hon. John W. Rust,
Senate Chamber,
Richmond, Va.

Dear Senator Rust:

I thank you for your letter of August 4.

My suggestion is that the Henry Farm property be given to the U. D. C. If it cannot be given to them, they can at least have a representative on the Board and control can eventually be passed to them.

Let the Federal Government have the other property surrounding the Henry Farm. This will give them sufficient property to make a beautiful park.

It may take the U. D. C. a little time, but they will eventually handle the Henry Farm to the satisfaction of all concerned. They are the ones to do this job, and they should be prevailed upon to do it.

I am sure your position, and the splendid work you have done for the Southern cause.

Sincerely yours,
BOLLING LYNN ROBERTSON

CARD OF THANKS

The members of the Manassas 1st, Squad and the family of the late Miss Shoemaker, wish to thank the following men of the Alexandria Rescue, Sgt. L. S. Evans, Mr. J. R. Hitt, Mr. F. O'Neill, Mr. M. Beack, through the columns of the Manassas Journal for their unusual response and run to Manassas on the call for help on Wednesday last. Too much praise cannot be given these men of the Rescue Squad for their heroic work.

The men of the Manassas 1st, Squad hope that it will be in readiness very shortly to take care of all such calls as the response now being given to their appeal for donations for the purchase of an inhalator is most gratifying.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Comfort Lion and the parents of Marguerite Shoemaker desire to thank the Manassas Fire Department, the Alexandria Fire Department and all others who helped and sympathized in their severe loss.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank our friends for their kindness to us in the death of our husband and father, for the beautiful floral tributes, and especially for their helpfulness during his illness.

Mrs. B. I. Rinker and family.

WARNING REPEATED

The tragic accidental drowning of a young lady, Miss Margaret Shoemaker in Lake Jackson last Wednesday, prompts me to publicly issue the oft verbal repeated warning to all who are not good swimmers to refrain from attempting to go swimming in the Lake.

It is too large a body of water and too deep for use by non-swimmers. With this danger in mind a swimming pool for public use has been built and maintained where young and old may safely swim with an attendant always on guard, and also several days each week a professional swimmer, Mr. Beachley, give lessons to all who desire to learn the art of swimming.

CHAS. W. ALPAUGH.

Capt. James Thomas Sealeman, our esteemed and popular townsman, is celebrating his fiftieth anniversary of his commission as master of the steamboats on the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay. This is indeed an enviable record, for in all that neglect or remission of duty. Capt. Sealeman when but nineteen years of time he has never been reported for age was in command of steamers between Washington and Philadelphia. He is a Mason, an Odd Fellow and for forty years a member of the Occoquan Methodist Church. His greatest pleasure is when he has his three little grandchildren around him. He is seventy-two years old, well preserved and a genial host. He is a widower with three daughters and one son.
