

MISS HOTTLE WED TO MARYLAND MAN

Local Girl Lovely Figure In Home Ceremony.

A wedding, attractive in its simplicity, was solemnized at high noon on Tuesday, when Miss Margaret Hottle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Joseph Hottle, of Manassas, Va., became the bride of Mr. Joseph Jerome Framptom, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Framptom, of Federalburg, Md.

An improvised altar with a background of evergreen and bowls of white chrysanthemums formed the setting for the impressive ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Guy West, pastor of the First Church of the Brethren, Roanoke, Va.

The bride wore a lovely white gown of brocade velvet, fashioned on the Elizabethan style with a train. Her long veil was fastened to a halo cap of white velvet and tulle. She carried a bridal bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. G. Arthur McDaniel, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a dress of peacock blue faille taffeta with a Juliet Cap of gold mesh, and gold shoes, and carried an arm bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums. The bride's mother was attractively attired in a floor length dress of wine velvet and wore a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Framptom, mother of the groom, also was becomingly gowned in a floor length dress of black satin crepe and wore a corsage of gardenias.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bride advanced to the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. A program of wedding music which included "Because", "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly" was rendered by Miss Josephine Miller, instructor at the Manassas Elementary School and a former classmate of the bride, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Connie Kinchele. During the ceremony Miss Miller softly played, "The Rosary" and at the close of the ceremony they played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as recessional. Mr. J. Jerome Framptom acted as best man for his son. Mr. Samuel Hottle and Mr. G. Arthur McDaniel, brother and brother-in-law of the bride were the ushers.

The bride is a graduate of the Harrisonburg State Teacher's College, class of '36 and during the past year was instructor of Home Economics at the Brentsville District High School at Nokesville, Va.

The groom, a graduate of Washington College at Chestertown, Maryland and Washington and Lee School of Law at Lexington, Virginia also studied at Harvard University and the University of Richmond. After having been admitted to the Bar in Maryland and Virginia, he was associated with the law firm of Miles and O'Brien in Baltimore, Maryland for several years later resigning his position to attend The American Academy of Embalming and Mortuary Research in New York City. After graduating from that school he became a member of the firm of J. J. Framptom and Son, Funeral Directors, in Federalburg, Maryland, with whom he is associated at present. Mr. Framptom is a member of the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the guests at the beautifully decorated home of the bride's parents. The breakfast table for the bridal party was quite lovely with the large wedding cake as a centerpiece.

Out of town guests included: Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Conner and two children, Richard and Stanley, of Waynesboro, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Arey, of Harrisonburg, Va., Mrs. Mildred West, of Roanoke, Va., Mrs. Edith Melvin, of Frederica, Del., Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Framptom, Mr. and Mrs. Martino and daughter, Carolyn, Mrs. Lettie Steven, Mrs. Longenecker, Mrs. Will Jefferson, Miss Myra Harris, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. McDaniel and G. A. McDaniel, 3rd, all of Federalburg, Md.

Following the wedding breakfast, the young couple left for Baltimore where they sailed by boat for Boston, Mass. and on their return will be at home at their residence on North Main Street, Federalburg, Maryland.

The October meeting of the Bethlehem Club will be with Mrs. B. F. Knox on Wednesday, 20th, at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Hart will be assistant hostess.

KIWANIS TO ELECT

The annual elections in the Kiwanis Club will be concluded tomorrow evening, nominations having been made by ballot last Friday.

This being Education Week something along these lines may be expected at the weekly session.

David Fort, a visitor from Florida, was guest speaker last week, being introduced by E. Coner.

PIEDMONT GROUP IS ENTERTAINED

Clergy and Laity Are Guests of Trinity Church Drop

Some thirty members of the Piedmont Convocation including laymen, met Tuesday in Trinity Church, Manassas.

The Fall meeting opened at 10:00 A. M. with Holy Communion, the celebrant being the dean of the Convocation, Rev. Harry Lee Doll of Christ Church, Alexandria, and the sermon being preached by Rev. Peyton Randolph Williams, rector of Langley Parish, McLean.

The business session included the selection of the place of meeting for the spring Convocation, which will be at Warrenton.

On motion of Rev. H. J. Miller of St. George's Church, Arlington, it was decided to have a quiet day for the ministers of the Piedmont Convocation just prior to Lent.

Acting on a motion which was made by Mr. Miller, committee was appointed to study a change in hours for the Convocation and report at the next meeting.

Resolutions were also passed regretting the death of the late Kensey Johns Hammond, a member of this Convocation for many years until his recent retirement from St. Marks Parish in Culpeper.

After a delightful luncheon, served by the ladies of Trinity Guild, a brief recess was held.

The afternoon session was largely given over to addresses, one by Rev. Beverly M. Boyd from the Diocesan Board of Religious Education and the other by the Rev. Dr. Albert Mollegen, of the Theological Seminary at Alexandria.

Mr. Boyd gave an interesting discussion on the process of the work of Religious Education in this Diocese and stated that the new field worker, Miss Gaines, is now at the General Convention in Ohio and will be on shortly to continue her work of contacting all sections of the Diocese.

Mr. Mollegen's talk dealt largely with matters pertaining to the church and its relation to the social and economic order of the day.

AT NATIONAL CONVENTION

Charles Lynn, F. F. A. boy of Manassas High School, and one of the three boys on the Dairy Judging Team from the State of Virginia, left on Wednesday for the F. F. A. National Convention, which will be held in Kansas City, Mo. He will return to Manassas on the 24th. 47 states will be represented at this convention, also Hawaii and Porto Rico.

ATTEND FOOT BALL

The Journal office was deserted on Saturday afternoon, when nearly all hands turned out for the annual Bridgewater-Gallaudet football classic which went to the former school by a score of 19-6. The only touch down by Gallaudet was made by Norman Brown who worked as a floorman in the Journal office during a portion of his vacation.

Those attending were Messrs. Orville Holler, Samuel Hottle, Preston Newton, George Watson and the Misses Bessie Sinclair and Martha Carter.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Manassas Baptist Church will be held on Tuesday, October 19th, at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. A. W. Nalls on Robnel Farm.

Topic for the month is "The Chinese" and Mrs. I. B. Marsh will have charge of the program.

Reports from the Group Meeting at Broad Run will be given. You are invited to be present.

AUTO INSPECTION

DEADLINE NOV. 1

The semi-annual inspection of automobiles under Virginia law began October 1 and will continue until November 1. Every auto owner is required to have his car inspected at an authorized station where it will be tested as to brakes, steering, windshield wiper, horn, lights, rearview mirror and other safety devices. Necessary adjustments will have to be paid for by the owners. Lack of an inspection sticker on its windshield after November 1 will subject the owner to arrest.

DISTRICT GROUP TO REVIEW PLAN

Teachers of Northern Virginia To Hear Prominent speakers

The Teachers of District "H" of the Virginia Education Association will hold their annual meeting at the Washington and Lee High School, Clarendon, Va., October 22, 1937.

District "H" includes all the schools in the counties of Arlington, Fairfax, Loudoun, Fauquier, Culpepper, Warren, Rappahannock, and Prince William and the city of Alexandria.

Mr. P. B. Smith, Jr., of Warrenton, is president and has announced his program as around the three-point program of the State Education Association in their efforts to improve education and educational opportunities in the state.

Ex-governor E. Lee Trinkle, and Ex-senator O'Connor Goodrick are the main speakers, Gov. Trinkle presenting the case of the State Board of Education, and former Senator Goodrick presenting the viewpoint of the legislators.

The Three Point Program anticipate a minimum salary of $720 per year for teachers, free text-books for all children, and a sound retirement policy for teachers.

Superintendent G. Tyler Miller, of Front Royal, Va., is in charge of a panel discussion in the afternoon, at which time School Trustees, Members of County Boards of Supervisors, and interested and qualified laymen will discuss the program as it specifically affects Northern Virginia.

An appeal has gone out to all persons interested in the school situation to attend this meeting and a large number of patrons are more than expected in addition to 800 teachers, supervisors, principals, and superintendents.

FRATERNAL GROUP HONORS MR. MUDDIMAN

Past national councilor O. B. Hopkins, State Councilor Danton, and other state officials were present at the meeting of the Daughters of America on Monday evening on which occasion the chapter was draped in memory on Joseph N. Muddiman a charter member of the local council.

At the suggestion of Mr. Hopkins, a motion was adopted for the councilor, Virginia Polen, to appoint a committee to immediately plan an initiation class to be named the Joe Muddiman class.

An invitation was extended for members to attend the oyster supper at the O. F. A. hall at Greenwich on Tuesday evening next. The Daughters are planning an oyster supper themselves, the date to be announced later.

After the meeting, the members and guests were delightfully served with light refreshments.

WADE ELLIS GUEST OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Gives Most Interesting Historical recital.

The Manassas Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 13, at the Prince William Hotel.

The president, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, reported that the executive committee had re-instated its former member, Mrs. E. M. Marsteller. The club voted to continue giving their annual Christmas dance but no committees were appointed at that time.

Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Wade Hampton Ellis, of Rippon Lodge. Mr. Ellis brought to our attention the pride that we, of Prince William County, should feel in having here a place as steeped in National and State history as Rippon Lodge.

The architect, Richard Blackburn, one time resident of Rippon, an old world town of Merrie England, fashioned the house after those of his boyhood days, and chose the spot for its natural river beauty. The original grant of land included 20,000 acres but Mr. Ellis has only 1,000 now.

Richard Blackburn died in 1737 and his son, Thomas Blackburn, took over the lodge. Thomas Blackburn was a friend, associate and comrade-in-arms of George Washington.

Mr. Ellis stated that in 1774 the Prince William Volunteers were formed prior to the American Revolution. Legend says that the American Revolution was born at Rippon Lodge. Facts state that it was born in Prince William County.

Mr. Ellis gave a most enlightening and inspiring talk, and at the close he said that he would like to leave Rippon Lodge to the school children of Prince William County, as he has no natural heir to leave it to. In this age of aggression and dictatorship, it would be a shrine to our United States of America which stands for Liberty, Equality and Justice.

An amusing incident was brought in the talk when Mrs. Ellis said her husband was a "nut" about Rippon Lodge. He writes:

You say I'm a nut and it's true There's nothing on earth I can do I know I'm a nut And I'm proud of it—But! I'm only a nut about you!

AUTO DEALER GETS

PREVIEW OF '38 CAR

Mr. Jas. E. Bradford of Hynson and Bradford local Chevrolet Dealers returned home today filled with enthusiasm over the outlook for 1938, after a meeting with some officials at Baltimore, Md., where he obtained his first inside information on the new 1938 Chevrolet soon to be introduced to the public.

The new car embodies so many advances as to assure heavy demand, the dealers reported. Plans for the most spectacular new car introduction in Chevrolet history are being rounded out.

Mr. Bradford said he believed the approaching announcement period will see a greater public interest in the new model offerings than has ever been seen before. The statement was based on the fact that the new models embody many vital advances in safety, performance, economy, comfort and style.

Predicting a banner sales year, he based his forecast on the fact that already many thousands of orders have been placed for the new Chevrolet—sight unseen by the buyers.

HEADIN' FOR THE RIO GRANDE STAR COMPOSES ALL SONGS FOR MUSICAL WESTERN

Tex Ritter, the famous singing cowboy star, who will be seen in Grand National's romantic western musical of early border days, "Headin' For The Rio Grande", when it opens at the Pitts Theatre on Oct. 20 has had four new songs written especially for him and this tuneless, fast moving production.

Three of the songs, which were created by Jack Smith and the singing western star, himself, are "A Campfire Love Song", "Jail House Lament" and "Night Herding Song", a traditional type of ballad. The theme song of the production, "Headin' For The Rio Grande" was written by Tex Ritter in collaboration with Stanley Davis.

The story of "Headin' For The Rio Grande" deals with a gang of cattle rustlers, who have been preying on the honest cattle men, whom Tex and his brother, the Sheriff of the county determine to wipe out. The climatic scenes show a thrilling stampede of several thousand cattle, who trample to death the leaders of the gang. Romance is supplied by the lovely Eleanore Stewart, a stage beauty who only recently made her screen debut in a featured part in the MGM picture, "Small Town Girl", in the character of the daughter of one of the ranchers, whom Tex defends from the rustlers.

I LIKE A FRIENDLY LITTLE TOWN

I like a friendly little town
Where all the streets go up and down
Such pleasant ways,

Where gracious rows of trees extend
Their arms in greeting as they bend
On summer days.

I like each carefully tended lawn
Where happy children play upon
The clean-cut grass;

Each home where love has set a light
To cheer upon a winter night
Those who pass.

There's eager laughter on the street,
In stores where people like to meet
For friendly talk.

Familiar faces smile to know
Each other when our neighbors go
Out for a walk.

I do not choose a thoroughfare
Or city great; I do not care
For transient thrills.

I love a friendly little town
Where all the streets go up and down
Such pleasant hills.

Crescent Farm proved to be a popular rendezvous over the week-end. In addition to the Listers, Flemings and Harwoods, the Seymours were happy to welcome Mr. J. A. Hooker and his granddaughter, Ruth, Billy Hale, Carrol Guynn, Miss Janet Trenis, Misses Gladys and Helen Hendrickson and Miss Lupe.

The sale which was held at the Showalter farm attracted many people of Brentsville.

The music teacher, Mrs. Baker, of Manassas welcomes two new pupils, Misses Mattie Catherine Whetzel and Patsy Ann Keys.

The quilt being raffled off by the Ladies of Brentsville was won by one of the Marines from Quantico, Va.

The Ladies Home Demonstration club had present at their achievement day exercises on Friday October 8th, Miss Sue F. Ayres, Miss Webb, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Charles Caskey Trimmer.

The children of Brentsville school participated in a program which was well received.

Miss Mary Buckley, principal of the graded school, attended the children's party which was held at the Manassas High School on Wednesday Oct. 13th.

Last Saturday Miss Bowen took a trip to Fredericksburg and Washington.

WATERFALL

Some months ago this column expressed a wish that the many old farms in this section, long neglected, would be bought by men of wealth, and be turned into their former state of beauty and productiveness, as they were in Ante Bellum days. This very thing is happening. Every farm has been sold between Antioch and Haymarket. This move is meaning much to the community. As well as giving an air of prosperity by extensive improvements, it is giving work to many unemployed.

We all know that the successful farmers are the men who are born on the farm, and learned the business from their youth up. We can well sympathize with the poor city fellow, who buys a farm, expecting to get rich raising chickens, etc.

But the wealthy one who want a home in the country—a place to spend their money and to watch things grow in all their fascinating beauty: we have a welcome for them to this land that needs all they have to give it. They in turn will be well repaid, probably not in money but in the satisfaction of the great outdoors, that gives a peace not found elsewhere.

Evergreen farm the property of the Berkeley family for generations has passed into other hands; being sold to a Miss Delashmutt. It will seem strange for us to associate Evergreen with others than the Berkeleys. The old Stone Mansion, its broad acres, the Colonel, that outstanding old gentleman so hospitable, kind and good to every body, and his lovely gracious family all seemed an indispensable part of the neighborhood. One by one they have passed on. In the last three years, we lost our beloved Miss Lucy, and her brother, Thomas Laine Berkeley. Also, the youngest of the family, Douglas Berkeley a retired army officer of La Jolla, Calif.

Three months ago the last of the family, among us, to love and cherish the old home, a grand daughter, Miss Kate Belches, passed away. Thus closes a chapter in the history of Evergreen. Our eyes grow misty at the thought.

The October meeting of the 8th Virginia Regt. Chapter, U. D. C., was held at the Memorial Hall on Thursday last. The meeting was well attended, and quite a neat sum realized from the rummage sale. The "Manassas Battle Field Park" was the most important subject of discussion, and while this writer is not well enough acquainted with the financial status of our organization to know what is best, in regard to turning it over to the Federal Government, we are willing to submit to what the majority in the organization decide upon, however, bitter it might be, and it would be, if the Stars and Bars could never wave over the graves of the South's noble sons.

Mrs. R. R. Smith, Miss Margaret Shirley, Miss Florence Smith, Mrs. Alice Wright, Mrs. Mary and Peggy Pickett, of Antioch W. M. U. attended the Group meeting held at Broad Run church on Friday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Barnes, Robert and Herman Smith, Irvin Gosson and Mrs. Pauline Thornhill all who live and are employed in and near the city were at their old homes for the week-end, and attended Sunday School Sunday morning. All praise to these young folk who still feel there is no place to worship like the old home church.

FRAZIER CONTINUES AS ALCOHOLIC HEAD

T. McCall Frazier, chairman of the Virginia Alcoholic Beverage Control Board since last October 1, has been continued in the chairmanship until June 30, the end of the fiscal year. His term was extended beyond the year at the request of the other two members of the board, who told Governor Peery they believed the chairmanship should run concurrently with the fiscal year.

24 parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections. It will prove to be a hereditary to them. For more GOD IS LOVE: Beloved, let us love one another, for love is God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.—1 John 4:7.

UNSAFE DRIVERS

John Q. Rhodes, Jr. Director of the State Motor Vehicle Division in Virginia, is of the opinion that the motorist who passes another vehicle on a hill or a curve where there is not sufficient visible driving distance ahead is perhaps a bit "tetchy" in the head. "For surely," Mr. Rhodes says, "no sane person" would start out to drive across a long railway if he thought there was a possibility of a train coming along before he got to the other end. Yet that is the type of chance drivers are taking when they pull out to the left of the road to pass another car near a curve or at the crest of a hill. They may get by luckily for ninety-nine times, but there is always that one hundredth time that follows.

Like the pitcher that went to the well so often but at last was broken. Motorists know there is danger in passing a car at a curve in the road or on a hill where they can not see whether another car is coming in the opposite direction, yet many of them take the chance. They put themselves in danger, but the worst of it is that they endanger others who are driving according to the rules of the road. Not a few of the traffic accidents and deaths are due to this practice on the part of motorists.

In fact, perhaps 90 per cent of the tens of thousands of automobile accidents that occur every year are due to the failure of drivers to observe due care and caution. In spite of all of the safety-first preachments of the press and of various organizations, traffic accidents and fatalities continue to increase. One may doubt if there is any hope for material improvement in this ghastly situation so long as unsafe drivers—careless drivers and those who take risks—are permitted to drive. But how to weed them out is another question.—Bristol Herald-Courier.

A LETTER FROM "DEE DEE."

"Everything is going fine this year. My crowd is all together. My work is very interesting and I'm enjoying it very much. There is only one thing lacking. I need to keep in touch with the Manassas News better. Of course, people write me little snatches of it, here and there, but I'd like to have a Journal every week to keep everything connected. I would certainly appreciate it if you would send it to me this year as you did last year. Sincerely,

MARY DEE DEE LYNCH

BRIDGE PARTY

Misses Rose Ratcliffe, Rena Bevans, Christine Meetze and Walser Conner entertained at a bridge party last Thursday in honor of Mrs. Raymond A. Gibson and Mrs. Thetis Lewis, of Detroit, Michigan. Mrs. Gibson, formerly Miss Sally Lewis, of Manassas, was warmly received by friends.

The Ratcliffe home was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and marigolds, and the dining table centerpieces was a miniature corn shock surrounded with pumpkins, over which flew black witches. The orange and black candles and napkins, and the candies in pumpkin, cat and witch shapes further carried out the Halloween idea. The guests made up six tables of bridge and one large table of bingo. Miss Madeline McCoy was presented with the high score prize, Miss Ann Bradford with the booby prize and Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. Lewis with guest prizes. Six comical bingo prizes were also given.

ANNIE REBECCA MONROE

Annie Rebecca Monroe, daughter of the late William Wallace and Mary Catherine Monroe, died at her home near Wellington on September 29th. She was born March 4th, 1853, at the place on which she died, and spent most of her life in this section, except ten years with her uncle in Dubuque, Iowa.

She leaves one sister, Maggie Monroe; three nieces and three nephews. She was laid to rest in Gainesville Church yard, by the side of her brother, Rev. Carpenter, of the Episcopal Church conducted the service.

IN MEMORIAM

ANNIE REBECCA MONROE

There is no death, the stars go down To rise upon some other shore And there in heaven, jeweled crown They shine forevermore. And all things that for growth or joy Are worthy of our love or care Whose loss has left us desolate Are safely garnered there. And ever near us though unseen The dear immortal spirits tread For all the boundless universe Is life—there are no dead.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the many friends for their kindness to me at the death of my sister, Annie Monroe, and the beautiful flowers placed on her casket.

HER SISTER, MAGGIE.

23-c. Mrs. Harry P. Baker returned to her home on Tuesday, after an illness of several weeks in Washington. She will be confined to her bed for some time, but we are glad to know that she is improving steadily.

The Y. W. A. of the Baptist Church will meet with Miss Evelyn Moore on Thursday, Oct. 21, at 7:30 p.m. Miss Moore will have charge of the program.

ELLA EUDORA REEVES

Mrs. Ella Eudora Reeves died October 3, 1937, at her home near Linton Hall, where she had lived for nearly a year and a half. She was formerly of Manassas District, where she lived all of her married life up to that time.

She was born in Rockingham County, near New Market, Va., on Sept. 27, 1870 and was the daughter of the late Mary Margaret and John Louis Wise. When she was sixteen years old they moved down near Brissow, Va. In 1900 she married Henry Walker Reeves. There were 7 children, 5 of whom are still living.

Surviving her are her husband, Henry Walker Reeves; 5 children, Mrs. Goodridge Bryant, Manassas, Mrs. Mollie Beach and Mrs. Wm. B. Struhs, Nokesville, Mr. Basil Reeves and Louis Reeves of Brissow; also 13 grandchildren.

She was laid to rest Tuesday, October 5, on the Home Place. The beautiful flowers from her many friends were deeply appreciated.

The Pallbearers were Mr. Milton Rollins, Mr. Frank Rollins, Mr. Quillia Randall, Mr. Willie Walls, Mr. Bailey Payne and Mr. John Richey.

It's sweet to remember you, Mother, Who was once here.

Though absent, to us you are just as dear.

The midnight stars shine on the grave.

Of the one we loved but could not save.

We miss you tonight, as the lights burn low.

Yes, Mother, we miss you for we love you so.

We loved truly and that you know.

Is why tonight we miss you so.

Sleep on, dear Mother, in peaceful rest.

We loved you well, but God loved you best.

But in thought you are very near.

As time goes on, your memory will always be so dear.

It was so hard to give you up.

You were so precious to me.

But the reasons for God's works Are not for us to see.

We miss you more than we can tell, Our feelings, words cannot express.

We only hope and pray that you Have found a lasting happiness.

We were so happy here until you went away.

And now the whole wide world seems so hard and gray.

It is very true, that after clouds and darkness, The sun will always shine.

But there is a cloud within our hearts The sun will never find.

You lived the life of a Mother And died with a heart's fame.

You were so good and kind And spread happiness along your way.

It is impossible for us to understand Why you couldn't stay. God in heaven knows best.

He called you at his will There was a place in Heaven He needed you to fill.

Sleep on, Dear Mother, and take your rest. Although there is a place in your home That never can be filled.

Children By her Devoted Daughter and Revival services will be begun at Clifton Baptist church on Sunday next.

CRIME RACKET THEME OF NIGHT CLUB PLAY

A daring story of an underworld czar who knew all the answers when it came to men and crime but who was tricked and trapped by the girl he loved, brings Claire Trevor, Lloyd Nolan and Akim Tamiroff to the screen of the Pitt's Theatre on Oct. 21 in "King of Gamblers," a Tiffany Thayer story of the slot machine racket in a big city.

The title role is played by Tamiroff, ruthless operator of the slot machine racket who does not hesitate to bomb or commit murder to protect the steady stream of gold which comes to his coffers from his crooked slot machines. The girl is Miss Trevor, a night club entertainer, who does not love him but accepts his bounty, which he lavishes on her profusely.

Miss Trevor falls in love with Nolan, a newspaperman assigned to get to the bottom of the slot machine racket. Acting on the tip of a dying girl, shot by Tamiroff's henchmen because she knew too much about the racket, they succeed in accomplishing what an investigation ordered by the governor and the inquiries of the police, have failed to do.

"King of Gamblers" shows the intricate and dangerous operations of big city racketeers and candidly depicts the link which exists between the underworld, "higher ups" and operators. It shows the lengths to which these groups go to protect their billion dollar yearly "take".

HUMOR, ROMANCE, ACTION MAKE 'DAVID HARUM' BEST ROLE IN ROGERS' CAREER

Hard-headed but soft-hearted, and the shrewdest, kindest "course-of-love" smoother in seven counties, Will Rogers finds the perfect role in his greatest picture as the most laughable, lovable character in American fiction, "David Harum", in the Twentieth Century-Fox film which opened Oct. 8 at the Pitts' Theatre.

Adapted from the overwhelmingly popular novel by Edward Noyes Westcott, the picture, under the direction of James Cruze, is an unusual Rogers vehicle, with the most remarkable race-track finish ever screened as David Harum, the small town-banker, sings his horse on to thundering victory.

Offering the utmost latitude for the wit and wisdom of both America's beloved humorist and Westcott's warmly human character, the story is an absorbing one of the thrilling romance between Evelyn Venable, rich heiress summering in the sleepy country town, and Kent Taylor, handsome but poor young protégé of banker Harum.

The match-making efforts of the soft-hearted financier and horsetrader culminates when he induces his assistant to bet all of his savings on a horse Harum is to drive in a local trotting classic. The horse will run his best, however, only when hearing his favorite songs, and it is to the accompaniment of several thousand voices singing, "Ta-Ra-Ra-Boom-De-Ay" above the blare of a brass band that Harum drives his steed on to thundering victory.
