Agricultural Students Meet at Herndon

Delegates from the Vocational Agriculture Department of Loudoun, Fairfax and Prince William Counties met in the Agriculture classroom, Monday night, November 29, 1937 at Herndon, Virginia for the purpose of organizing into a federation. The meeting was called to order by Mr. W. R. Crabill, the agriculture instructor of Herndon, Chapter. After a short discussion, Charles Lynn, of Manassas, was elected temporary chairman, and Conway Owens, Jr., was elected temporary secretary. Some of the most important purposes set up were as follows:

1. To develop closer fellowship among chapters and chapter members.
2. To hold preliminary for the purpose of selecting individuals for the final contest.
3. Provide opportunity for members to improve projects through competitive exhibits.

Some of the important objectives that were set up were as follows:

1. Hold monthly meetings and alternate chapters.
2. Hold different tournaments.
3. Invite members from each chapter to local chapter banquets.
4. Federation participate in deed and egg show at Lincoln.
5. Hold public speaking contest with other federation, selections, individual for contest of district.
6. Reporter send news to Chapter Chats and Washington papers.
6. Each chapter post objectives from Federation on bulletin board.

We then held elections and the following officers were elected:

President, Paul Warner, Lincoln; Vice-President, Charles Lynn, Manassas; Secretary, Conway Owens Jr., Nokesville; Treasurer, James White, Herndon; Reporter, Elwood Long, Nokesville; Advisor, Mr. R. R. Fishpaw, Manassas; Watch Dog, John Laycock, Lincoln; Executive Comm., Rolfe Robinson, Haymarket; Nelson Craun, Fairfax; Earnest Hickman, Lovettsville.

Just before the close of the meeting a question about the name of the Federation was brought up, and after a short discussion it was suggested that the Northern Piedmont Federation be used as a temporary name until each chapter has a contest on selecting a better name.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION CLASS

This fall many of the Religious Education classes have studied about the prophets, thinking of them as champions or defenders of the people. During the past few weeks we have studied Isaiah and his picture of the time when people should live in peace.

In the seventh grade, division A at Manassas Schools our discussion led us to thinking of how we could "fight for peace". The Ludlow Resolution now before Congress was mentioned. As a result of our discussion the following letter was composed and sent to Congressmen Glass and Byrd and Representative Smith.

Manassas, Virginia.
Dec. 15, 1937.

Dear Sir:

We, the pupils of the seventh grade, division A of the Manassas, Virginia, Schools, think that the Ludlow Resolution proposing a vote of the citizens before the United States goes to war with any country is a good move toward world peace.

We wish you would support this resolution.

Sincerely,

(signed) by all members of class.
The boys and girls in this class wish to urge that any one interested in peace, write to their Congressmen asking him to support this resolution.

TO ORGANIZE A BAND

Colonel Hulvey plans to organize a band in Manassas. There is a great opportunity for service along this line and those interested should get in touch with Col. Hulvey. It is believed that there is ample talent in the community and that such a project will meet with success.

Correspondents and Advertisers are asked to note the fact that the next two issues must be produced as nearly as possible on Wednesday. We, therefore, ask you to please let us have your copy one day earlier than you have been giving it to us.

POST OFFICE HOURS

On Christmas Day — December 25, 1937 the windows at the Post Office will be opened during the following hours:

9 A.M. to 11 A.M.

The money order and registry windows will not be opened.

HOLIDAY PLANS OF JUNIOR CLUB

Committees Show Active Progress in All Events.

The December meeting of the Jr. Womans Club was held Thursday evening, December ninth, at the home of Mrs. J. P. Lyon, with its president, Mrs. Janet Owens presiding.

Miss Rose Ratcliffe and Mrs. Mildred McBryde gave a fine report on the progress made in organizing a Girl Scout Troop. The club is sponsoring this movement and Mrs. W. Hook will be in charge of their activities. It is hoped that everybody will give the girls their help and cooperation in making this a large and active troop.

Reports on progress made at the Baby Clinic and with Case Work were given by the girls who are participating in this work. Hilda Moser gave a splendid report on the plans made for the Christmas Party. This party will be sponsored jointly by the Manassas Fire Department and the Jr. Club, and is to be held in the Parish Hall Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Frances Saunders was very proud to report that the Jr. drive for a sanitary collection of garbage in the town has progressed to the point where the Council is asking for bids for having this work done.

Virginia Ratcliffe reported that plans are well under way for the Progressive Dinner. It was planned, at first, that the dinner be on New Year's Day, but, as this does not happen to be a holiday around here, it may be held sooner. The only serious drawback is, so many people wish to attend that it is doubtful whether the homes selected will hold the crowd!

After a delightful social hour, with Miss Ethel Cadmus and Mrs. S. McBryde as hostesses, the meeting was adjourned.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS

The following Grand Jury officiated for the December term of court: R. C. Haydon, Foreman; H. C. Purcell, A. Crummett, J. W. Alvey, Walter A. Wine, Cecil Garrison and O. L. Carter.

True Bills were returned against Mary Gillespie, Evelyn Redd and Paul Moore.

Moore was tried yesterday for driving a car with a smoke screen and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. (C. B. Roland, Foreman of the Jury).

The Court decided to recall Joe Romine from Marion where he has been under indictment for several years.

In the matter of Jesse Mountjoy and R. J. Randall on appeal from from Trial Justice both were found guilty and fined $25.00.

In the matter of Ben Ledman, who was tried at the October term of court, and who is now in the county jail under a one year sentence, which has been temporarily suspended, the matter will again come up for the action of the court tomorrow, Dec. 17.

A rule against Inez Hartigan was ordered discharged.

The following cases were nolle prossed: Reuben Abel, Carl Hansborough and James L. Skinner, (alias J. C. Bradshaw), Paul Brewington and Franklin N. Plummer.

Cedric F. Johnson, Attorney, was admitted to practice law before the local bar.

The court continues in session.

SPECIAL NOTICE

On Sunday evening, Dec. 26th, at 7:30 p.m., the Manassas Baptist Church will hold a special Christmas Service in which the entire Sunday School will take part. The theme of the service will center around the Cross and the Christmas Tree.

On Dec. 31st, there will be a special "Watch Night Service", to be more fully announced later.

A CORRECTION

We regret an error last week which caused us to advertise continuation of the cent and a half fare on the Southern Railway.

This fare is no longer in effect. The regular 2 cent rate is now in effect.

CHANGES IN "SHOP CAMPAIGN" PLANS

Public Drawing Postponed and Ticket Numbers to be Published.

At a called meeting of the RETAIL MERCHANTS of Manassas, held Tuesday night, in the Town Hall, some important changes were made in the time and method of drawing tickets for the "Shop in Manassas Campaign."

These changes were made because of the many criticisms offered by customers and merchants alike, as to the day and hour of having the drawing in the few years this campaign has been conducted. Some have said it interferes with Christmas Eve, last minute dealing; others complained of the extreme cold. It was therefore considered imperative that some changes be made for the drawing of tickets this year, and the following is the motion adopted at the said Merchants' Meeting:

The official drawing will be held at 3:00 p.m., Monday, December 27, at PITTS' THEATRE. The drawing will be public, but it will not be absolutely necessary that the holder of the winning numbers be present at the drawing to win a prize. There will be a total number of 23 prizes, as announced, but 50 numbers will be drawn on the 27th of December, as set forth above, under the direction of a committee of five disinterested persons. The said 50 numbers, in their official order, will be published in the Manassas Journal the same week they are drawn. If you hold a published number, bring your ticket to the Manassas Journal office and have it recorded and you will be given a receipt for it. All winning tickets must be recorded not later than 12 o'clock Noon, January 8, or they will be discarded and the number next in order will be moved up. After winners have been determined (which will not be before January 8), they will be notified and they can obtain their prizes by calling at Mr. Stanley A. Owens' office.

It is considered that this is the fairest possible plan to the largest number of patrons, and such a plan that will not disrupt business, or inconvenience the public. In this way, everyone will be given ample opportunity to closely inspect tickets, and there will be little possibility that a holder of a lucky ticket will be slighted.

ALL MERCHANTS ARE REQUESTED TO POST A COPY OF THIS ISSUE OF THE MANASSAS JOURNAL IN AS CONSPICUOUS A PLACE IN THEIR ESTABLISHMENTS AS POSSIBLE, AND TO CALL THEIR CUSTOMERS' ATTENTION TO THIS IMPORTANT MODIFICATION OF THE "SHOP IN MANASSAS CAMPAIGN."

A Greeting

It has been our policy for several years past to issue a general invitation at this season of the year to our old subscribers to renew their subscriptions promptly and to suggest to all newcomers or former subscribers, into whose hands the paper may come, to join our happy newspaper family.

All in all, there is no other medium, daily or weekly, which gives more authentic news of your community and that of others nearby. Your subscription helps make this possible.

Won't you old subscribers PLEASE examine your label on the paper. IF you think it is incorrect, please advise us; otherwise, we shall hope and expect payment before January 1, 1938. The increased cost of news print is penalizing us so heavily, that we shall hereafter be forced to make some distinction between those who pay within the current year and those who let their subscriptions drag beyond that period.

To make it possible to avoid any confusion, we are offering to make a discount of 25 cents per year on all subscriptions paid for MORE THAN a year in advance. This offer will not remain in effect after FEBRUARY 1, 1938.

MRS. E. H. MARSTELLAR, CHAIRMAN OF LADIES COMMITTEE.

E. R. Conner, Chairman President's Birthday Celebration, announces the President's Ball will be held in Manassas on January 25th, and that Arthur Godfrey will be here. Commissioners Hazen and Allen, Congressman Howard Smith, Elwood Seal, and many other distinguished guests.

Mrs. E. H. Marstellar is chairman of the Ladies Committee.

BOARD ASKED FOR H. E. COTTAGES

Proposed Locations Here And At Occoquan

The School Board of Prince William County held its regular monthly meeting with all members present.

Mrs. McInteer, Mr. Fred Lynn and Mrs. Piercy made interesting reports on the meeting of the Trustees' Association held in Richmond Thanksgiving. The superintendent reported on the Superintendents' Association meeting, also held in Richmond Thanksgiving.

The Board authorized that the teachers' checks for December be dated Dec. 22nd and that they be sent out so that they might have them for the holidays.

Resolutions were presented from the Parent-Teacher Association of Manassas and Occoquan Schools, requesting that Home Economics Cottages be built at these two schools at the earliest possible moment. The Board approved tentatively these requests and ordered that applications be made to the State Board of Education to see if assistance can be gotten from the state on these projects.

The Board was pleased to welcome the chairman, Mr. D. J. Arrington, back after his illness of several weeks.

There being no further business the Board adjourned to meet again January 5.

MEETING OF WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary Society of Manassas Baptist Church will meet with Mrs. R. M. Graham on Tuesday, December 21st, at 2:30 P.M.

Topic for the meeting: "Good Tidings to All People."

Mrs. Emma Harrell will have charge of the program.

Important meeting. Election of officers.

Owing to the illness of Miss Kincheloe, the W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Embrey instead of Miss Maggie Smith's on Wednesday, Dec. 22nd, at 3 P.M.

Mrs. D. R. Lewis and Mrs. L. R. Saunders leads.

ATTENTION, AMERICAN LEGION MARKSMEN

State Comander Felton of the American Legion has appointed Captain Thomas F. Joyce of Occoquan Chairman of the American Legion Marksmanship Committee for the state of Virginia. We are sure all members of the American Legion will be glad to learn of Capt. Joyce's appointment to this very important office. Those interested in Marksmanship should communicate with Comrade Joyce, who will be glad to cooperate in every way possible.

GARDEN SECTION OFFERS PRIZE

The Garden Section, of the Woman's Club of Manassas, is again offering a prize for the most artistically decorated house in Manassas during the Christmas season.

Judging will be done on Christmas Eve and all decorations must be in place and properly lighted by 9:00 P.M.

Decorations visible from the street, whether indoors or out, will be considered by the judges.

For further information call Mrs. Margaret Lewis, chairman Garden Section, Woman's Club of Manassas.

COURT PROCEEDINGS

The following appointments have been made recently: J. T. L. Rollins, Forest Warden; W. R. Sealeman and Edith M. Brawner, Notaries Public.

A Confederate Pension was awarded to Mrs. Nancy G. Haislip, widow of the late Judge Haislip.

SANTA CLAUS TO VISIT JENKINS

An important message from the North Pole states that Santa Claus expects to visit Jenkins Store in Manassas all day Friday, Dec. 24th.

HOSPITAL WORKER ADDRESSES CLUB

Deaconess Bateman Guest of Kiwanians

The Manassas Kiwanis Club, through the activities of the underprivileged child committee, had the pleasure of hearing an illustrated lecture by Deaconess Bateman who also accompanied by Miss Jelleff, head nurse of the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital in Washington. Miss Bateman stressed the brief history of the institution from the time it started in March, 1937, to the present time, giving a great deal of interesting statistics. She spoke of the early history and cited a number of unusual coincidences that have occurred since.

She spoke of the routine problems that they have encountered and told about the many thousands that come in for examination at the dispensary every month. The speaker declared that very shortly the millionth mark would be reached in the number of patients that have been treated at the dispensary.

She very proudly stated that this institution has never turned anyone away. She read a number of letters written to the hospital on services needed and showed slides of how some of the cases had been treated. Deaconess Bateman told the Club that the cost of treatment of Prince William County patients in the past year had actually run around $1,350. It is small wonder, if this be true, that the Kiwanis Club has been asked to donate $200.

At the conclusion of the program Col. Hutchison presented a letter from H. O. Russell of Cherry Hill inclosing his donation to the children's Christmas. Mr. Dudley Martin, chairman of the Christmas tree committee, stated the progress which had been made and urged his assistants to get behind him for preparations.

The meeting next week will be held on the night of Dec. 23rd, as the regular meeting otherwise would fall on Christmas Eve, which all the members felt was not a desirable period.

CHRISTMAS MEETING OF BETHLEHEM CLUB

The Bethlehem Club held its December meeting on the afternoon of the fifteenth at the home of Mrs. T. J. Broadbush, with Mrs. Frank Gue, assisting.

Mrs. Hutchison, Mrs. Knox and Mrs. Proffitt were asked as a committee to take charge of the Christmas baskets to be sent out by the club.

The following officers were elected for 1938:

President, Mrs. R. L. Byrd; Vice-President, Mrs. W. M. Pierson; Secretary, Mrs. Dudley Martin; Treasurer, Mrs. T. J. Broadbush; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Frank Gue.

After all business was transacted the meeting was turned over to the program committee, Mrs. Dudley Martin and Mrs. Viola Proffitt.

The following Christmas program was presented:

"The Birth of Jesus — Christmas" by Mrs. R. L. Byrd; Hymn, "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" by Club; "Christmas Spirited Housecleaning" — Mrs. A. A. Hooff; Christmas Story — Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson; "Little Baby in the Manger" by Betty Lee Jenkins; "Silent Night" by Jackie Martin; "Willie and Annie's Prayer" by Mrs. Robert Hutchison; "The Night After Christmas" — Mrs. Dorothy Johnson; Hymn, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear" by Club.

The hostesses followed the program with refreshments bringing to a close a happy and eventful year together.

DATE OF PROGRESSIVE DINNER CHANGED

The date of the Junior Woman's Club progressive Dinner Party, which is held annually at Christmas time, has been changed from New Year's Day to Thursday, December 30. The dinner will be held at 6:30 P.M.

A REMINDER

Last week, the Journal carried a notice to the effect that a special effort would be made to feature all Christmas entertainments, church school and civic, in the issue of December 23rd.

Inasmuch as this issue must be printed very promptly, it is earnestly requested that all such notices, programs, etc., be handed in on Monday wherever possible, certainly not later than Tuesday.

He Sure Was Here

The CHRISTMAS HARVEST

By ALSON SECOR
in Successful Farming

OLD SANTA CLAUS—
Some don't believe in him because
He makes them spend.
They like to borrow, but never lend
That Christmas cheer
Which permeates this time of year.

They are tight-fisted cynics, these.
They never know how presents please
The little kids, and others:
The sisters and the brothers:
The care-worn dads and weary mothers.

They never learned to live
Because they never learned to give.
You've got to plant before you reap.
If all you get you keep
Your soul gets barren, sterile, sour,
It takes the power
Of cheerful giving
To give a zest to living.

MRS. GREENE sighed as she rummaged through the old trunk for the Christmas decorations. Sighed, and also felt ashamed. For why should she be alone, with two fine grown sons, successful enough to satisfy any mother?

But Mrs. Greene missed her dulcet-toned lads, and as she fingered the battered drum, the outworn mittens, the books and souvenirs, she felt a deep pang that no one needed her any longer.

She found the decorations and tucked down. Mary, the housekeeper the boys provided, had finished. There was really nothing left to be done. She thought of other Christmas eves, and could stand the oppression of memories no longer. "I'm going out," she said, and with no other explanation set out into the night.

It was crisp and starlit, and she walked far. The light and warmth of a cafe attracted her, and she stopped for tea. Over the rim of her teacup her eyes met those of a small boy just outside the window. He drew back shyly, leaving a moist spot where his nose had touched the pane. He looked very hungry, not just the healthy hunger which her sons had brought home from school, but as though he were really in need. Mrs. Greene smiled and beckoned. "Come in," she invited. The boy shook his head, started to go, but the temptation of warmth and food was too much.

"That's better," Mrs. Greene approved, when he was seated opposite her, with a great bowl of soup. "I just needed someone to talk to." And before long she had heard the boy's whole story. Having no folks, he lived with an uncle, but he wanted to get out on his own. There were so many little ones, and after all, he didn't really belong. He'd get by. He knew where he could get a paper route right now, if he only had a bicycle.

"I know where there's a bicycle standing useless in an attic corner," said Mrs. Greene. "It belonged to my sons. You shall have it." His shining eyes made the whole night seem brighter. They left together.

There was more than the bicycle. It seemed a shame, Mrs. Greene said, for mittens not to be used, and these books, now, and—well, why not? Mary would be scandalized, and her sons might not understand—but there was their room, never opened now—

"Listen, lad," she said. "I've been aching my heart out for a son. And you need a home. Couldn't we give ourselves to each other for a Christmas present? Won't you be my son?"

"Gee!" cried the boy, voicing a wonder of love and gratitude. "You can—sure have me, and Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas! Mother!"

ENGLISH PLUM PUDDING

THERE are those to whom Christmas dinner would not be Christmas dinner without ending with plum pudding. Scald 2½ cups stale breadcrumbs with 1 cup cream. Cream ½ pound beef suet and add to it ½ cup brown sugar, ¼ cup corn syrup, 5 well-beaten eggs, ½ pound chopped citron, ½ pound currants, 2 teaspoons baking powder and ½ cup brandy or rum. Turn into a buttered mold and steam for 24 hours, 12 hours one day and 12 hours the next. Turn into a tin and seal until ready for use, when it must be reheated for serving. Serve with a sauce of choice.

LOVE DESTROYS FEAR: There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.—1 John 4:18.

BUY IN MANASSAS

We urge our readers not to miss a line of the attractive advertisements in the Journal this week.

Our merchants are putting out bargains by the hundreds and the window displays alone are worth a trip to town to see. The streets are lighted up for Christmas shoppers at night. Most of the stores are already open for evening trade.

FIXING A STATE

SPEED LIMIT

There are valuable recommendations in the report of the State Advisory Legislative Council to Governor Peery on traffic matters, but certain of its conclusions would seem to require a word of comment. We shall confine ourselves today to the council's findings with respect to speed limits.

We favor a specific speed limit, but it should be strictly enforced. The impression prevails today that 45 miles an hour is the legal speed limit in merely a prima facie limit, i. e., such a speed is prima facie evidence of reckless driving. It is proposed to fix a 55-mile absolute limit for private cars, a 50-mile limit for passenger buses, a 45-mile limit for trucks, and a 35-mile limit for school busses carrying children.

Since most Virginians think we have a 45-mile absolute limit for motor vehicles at the present time, and since all Virginians know that they can go over 45 with impunity, unless they drive recklessly, would the fixing of a 55-mile limit for private cars and a 50-mile limit for busses create the impression in the driving public that it can go faster than ever, with sanction of the State?

CHRISTMAS

Old Santa has a way of remembering most substantially those who are thrifty and save money. Have you ever noticed how little he brings to those who have no money in the Bank?

Deposit Regularly throughout the year at this friendly and safe Bank and see for yourself what a big Christmas your family can enjoy.

The Peoples National Bank of Manassas

In other words, as stated above, our feeling is that if these new limits are to be fixed, they must be enforced. If the driving public is given to understand that when it goes beyond the limits laid down, arrest will follow automatically, then we approve — although we'd prefer to see the top limit fixed at 50, instead of 55.—Times-Dispatch.

Sharing Christmas

by Jocile Webb Pearson

I AM a happy little tree. I stand beside the front entrance of a white cottage on a quiet street. Each Christmas time I bloom out in beautiful colored lights, and all who pass share my beauty and catch something of the joy of Christmas.

But I was not always happy like this. Once I lived in a great forest, surrounded by trees so tall I could only catch a glimpse of the blue sky above me, and I felt very small and lonely. I, too, wanted to be tall; to look out on the big world like the others and feel the sun shining through my branches. I would stretch out my limbs as far as I could, and send my roots deeper into the earth, but my progress was so slow I grew discouraged.

One day I saw a man and a boy coming through the forest. The man carried something over his shoulder and they seemed to be looking for something. Then the boy saw me and cried: "Look, father, there is just the tree we want." He ran over to me and fairly hugged me in his eagerness. The man looked me over. "Fine," he said. But when he began digging with the thing he had carried on his shoulder I began to tremble. I felt my roots snap one by one and soon I lay a tumbled heap on the ground. Life seemed over for me.

Next I was tied to a funny looking thing on wheels, that spluttered and growled when the man and boy climbed in and we started off down a twisty little road that wound through the forest, then out on a big shining highway until we came to a wide driveway that led through a sloping lawn to a white cottage.

Here I was untied and put into a large earthen jar filled with sand and carried into the house, and set in a corner of a big room beside a sunny window. Oh, the joy of having the sun on my branches. I began to feel less scared and to look about me.

In a big mirror opposite I could watch the man as he fastened me upright. Then he put a string of lights from my top to my toe, whistling softly as he worked. Then I heard a door open and a rush of feet—a little boy and a girl dashed into the room crying: "Mamma, come quick, and see our Christmas tree." They clapped their hands and danced about me. Soon the mother came with a box filled with shining lovely things and my plain green dress was covered with sparkling jewels. I hardly dared look in the mirror for I remembered I was only a humble tree after all, and what I saw could not be me at all; but the great silver star on my topmost branch made me feel very happy. I seemed to draw courage from just looking at it.

After a time I was left to myself. I was glad, as I needed to rest up a bit and get used to my strange surroundings. It grew dark outside and snow was falling; but inside my star shone and a quiet peace came over me.

Two Little Dolls In Blue

"AREN'T the dolls beautiful?" exclaimed Joan to her mother, as she gazed upon the finished product of the "Two Little Dolls in Blue" which Dorothy May had ordered from Santa Claus.

"They are quite the loveliest I have ever seen," spoke mother. "I do believe that you have put your very heart and soul into their fashioning."

Joan had spent many days and nights, too, stitching a loving holiday thought into each tiny garment. The dainty materials had been transformed into things of beauty. The dresses of pale blue silk with bonnets and slippers to match, had proclaimed them the "Two Little Dolls in Blue!"

"Oh, won't Dot love them!" beamed Joan, as she again eyed the dolls from head to foot with a happy smile of complete satisfaction.

"I dare say this will be her happiest Christmas, one that she will never forget," said mother.

Christmas eve, with its bright lights and cheer, was in full progress and the two little dolls in blue were being fondled by one of the happiest little girls in the world.

Rocking in her own tiny chair Dorothy May began singing a lullaby to the dollies, wholly oblivious of the attendant surroundings. It was such an adorable sight that the others had stopped their celebrations and were beaming upon her with transformed emotion.

The spell was broken when Dorothy May suddenly stopped singing and called out, "What shall I name the 'two little dolls in blue'?"

"Well," said Joan, smiling thoughtfully, "since they are dressed in blue and are two very important little ladies, why not call one Alice Blue and the other Eleanor Blue?" And so the dolls were named.

On Christmas morning in another house around the corner, Bonny Jean awoke with the joy of the holiday and shouted, "Mother, did Santa come and did he bring me a big baby doll with curls and eyes that open and shut?"

"Yes, dearie, Santa came and brought you a very pretty doll." Then spying it, seated beneath the tree dressed in scarlet finery, Bonny Jean clasped it to her breast. Upon close inspection she soon learned that it was the same sort of doll she had always received, only with new features.

Just as she was about to burst into protest at her bitter disappointment there came a rap upon the door and a kindly neighbor was saying, "Merry Christmas." Then with a happy smile—

"What is the matter, little girl? Hasn't Santa Claus come yet?"

"Oh, yes, he came, but he brought me the same old rag doll again. I thought sure it would be a real one this year, because I'm nine, you see."

"Oh, I am so sorry," said Dorothy May, with true feeling and thinking of the two beautiful dolls which Santa had left for her. Then with a happy Christmas thought, she whispered something very lovely to her mother.

They all went right over to the big house on the hill nestled under its burden of Christmas snow. Bonny Jean forgot all about the rag doll when she glimpsed the great tree through the holly wreaths in the window. But when she saw the two little dolls in blue sitting beneath it her joy was unbounded. She clasped her hands and danced with glee. "Such darling dolls!" she gasped, breathlessly.

"Their names are Alice Blue and Eleanor Blue," said their little mistress, proudly.

"I want to give you one of them, Bonny Jean; which do you like?"

With unbelievable surprise, her eyes fairly dancing with joy, she clasped the beautiful doll in her arms and asked, "Is it really mine—for keeps?"

"Really and truly for keeps," said Dot.

Dorothy May explained it all to her mother after the happy little girl had left, that somehow she just did not miss Eleanor Blue very much when she saw how happy she had made Bonny Jean.

In her heart she felt that it was truly "more blessed to give than to receive," and hugging the one little doll closely, she whispered, "Merry Christmas, Alice Blue."

NEWS FROM MANASSAS SCHOOLS

The P. T. A. held an important meeting this afternoon, at which time Rev. R. M. Graham and Wheatley Johnson, supervisor of Manassas District, addressed the group on the Three Point Program, now being urged by the State Education Association.

A resolution was adopted endorsing the matter.

A committee was appointed to work with the School Board in the matter of the proposed Home Economics Cottage.

Mrs. A. O. Beane was named chairman of a committee composed of "Room Representatives" who will work to interest the pupils in bringing their parents to meetings and to assist the teachers in establishing a closer relationship between home and school.

Today Mr. Luther Richman, State Supervisor of music, visited the Glee Clubs of the schools. He listened to and assisted in the singing, rendering two numbers himself. He encouraged the two groups to take part in the state music festival next Spring.

On Monday afternoon, Miss Miller will take the Glee Club of Bennett School to sing carols at the District Home. On Tuesday evening, the High School Glee Club will sing at the meeting of the Eastern Star, and later will sing about town. This group is under leadership of Miss Alrich.

Health—His Heritage!

This little boy was flat on his back three years ago—he had tuberculosis of the spine. Today his rugged body and smiling face are a joy to see. Sunlight, or heliotherapy, fresh air and rest, under medical supervision, have given Tony back his heritage of health. Tuberculosis of the bones and joints is a form of disease more common among children than grownups. Thanks to science and to the public's increasing realization that tuberculosis, when taken in time, is curable there are thousands of other boys and girls being restored to health in tuberculosis hospitals throughout the country. Christmas Seals helped Tony and they are helping these other boys and girls.

FAIRFAX TREASURER RESIGNS

News has been received in Prince William of the resignation of Dr. Frank W. Huddleson, Fairfax County treasurer and dean of the official corps of that county.

Dr. Huddleson was elected in 1915. He has had opposition repeatedly but each time proved too much for his competitor.

There is considerable speculation as to whom Judge McCarthy will appoint. Mrs. Elizabeth Chilcott, daughter of Dr. Huddleson is a logical successor, provided her health will permit her to accept. Several prominent Fairfax citizens have been mentioned but nothing definite is known as yet.

Then once more the doors opened and a merry group of people came in. This time there were Father and Grandfather and Grandmother, too; and Mother leading the little boy and girl. Everyone was saying how lovely I was; but I did not want them to look at me. I wanted them to see two little faces outside pressed against the window pane. The boy saw them first. "Look, Daddy, Mamma!" he shouted and pointed to the window. "There are two children out there. Bring them in, Daddy; give them some of our Christmas." And the little girl clasped her hands and cried: "Oh, do, Daddy, it's cold out there!"

When they were brought in looking rather scared, but glad, I was so happy I almost shook my baubles off. Then Mother made music on a big box with shining keys and everyone sang Christmas carols. Then Father told the old story of the Shepherds and the Star that led to the Christ Child. Then a jolly man with a red coat and a pack on his back gave everyone presents, including the little strangers. There were candies and nuts, plenty for all, and such a babble of happy voices. I felt the thrill of it myself and the big star glowed in sympathy.

New Idea for Mid-Meal Snack

Simple Treat, Kept in Car, Saves Wear and Tear on Grown-ups

"MOM, I want a drink".... Mom? "How about a soda, Mom?" "Mom, I'm hungry!" If you're a couple of youngsters under nine, those words won't be strangers to your ears: especially if you like to entertain them with motoring on summer afternoons.

The best way we know to meet the emergency of hungry little stomachs between meals is to stock up a private snack-shelf in the dashboard compartment of your car. Here's a practical suggestion for a treat that will take up the very minimum of space: a big box of toasted whole wheat flakes like wheaties. They're wholesome, satisfy a whim for something to nibble on, yet don't spoil dinner appetites. Better yet, they satisfy that deep-down instinct we all have to reach into a box and pull out something good to eat.

You might keep a small shaker of sugar for someone with a sweet tooth to sprinkle on the flakes and a package of mints to top off the afternoon snack. The children will be delighted and you won't have to keep a weather eye peeled for popcorn stands and ice-cream wagons!

NEWS OF OUR COLORED FRIENDS

The Christmas program at Brown school will be held on December 21, at 8 p.m. Mrs. B. F. White and Miss E. L. Berry will be in charge. "Santa Claus in Southland" will be the play. There is no admission charge but refreshments will be sold afterwards.

Miss Ann Willis, a student at Manassas Industrial High, is in a Washington hospital where she is reported to be recuperating nicely.

Miss Ursula Bell, also of M. I. H., is also recovering from a recent illness.

We are very sorry to learn of the sad loss of our neighbor, Dr. Stephen Lewis, whose garage and car were destroyed by fire last Friday. The town fire department rendered instant assistance but the frame structure was out of control. The fire did not spread.

1938 Ford V-8 Standard Tudor Sedan

MOST popular of all the Ford V-8 body types is the standard Tudor sedan, shown above. A longer hood, more sweeping lines and newly-designed front end, grille, fenders and hubcaps are featured. The car is available either with 85 horsepower or 60 horsepower V-8 engine. Interiors are attractively appointed. The front seat is full width. The seat back is divided. The sections are hinged diagonally and swing inward as they are tipped forward so as to leave a wide passageway on either side for entrance to the rear seat. Like all Ford body types the Tudor sedan has a large built-in luggage compartment. The standard cars are engineered for owners who demand the maximum of economy in first cost and operating cost.

"WITH Christmas drawing near, why can't we get together and make plans?" Robert Dutton read no further. With calm deliberation, he put the heavily scrawled letter back into its envelope.

"Always the impractical Hal," he said slowly. "No wonder he never gets anywhere."

A list of appointments waited upon his desk. Visits from two of the most important men in town; a delegation about a right-of-way through a tract of land he had just purchased; a reminder of a talk he had promised to make at a luncheon. Important things, he thought, things Hal would never be called upon to do.

Hastily he went through his mail. A square envelope in a familiar hand caught his eye. He opened it a little curiously. What could Miss Denby be writing him about? His long fingers drew out an artistic Christmas card. A conservative wish and an old Christmas carol printed in English letters. That was all, except the signature, "Eleanor Denby."

A flush stained his face, an undefinable something sent the blood singing through his veins. "Eleanor," he said softly; "a beautiful name; how queer that I never heard it before."

Then, as if resenting his weakness and sentiment, he dug into his mail again. But try as he would, he could not concentrate on the things that had meant anything to him before. Something had happened to Robert Dutton; a Christmas greeting from a secretary whom he had scarcely noticed left him visibly unsettled.

Christmas memories surged through his heart. He was back in the old home again. Everybody was rushing around in circles. He saw the big tree in the corner of the parlor; the kitchen table piled high with good things to eat. And Mother and Dad, with happiness beaming upon their faces.

He picked up Hal's letter again. After all, maybe his kid brother wasn't so crazy? The thought was pushing through his mind that maybe it was he who lacked real sense. This time he read the letter in a different mood. "Let's give Dad and Mother the surprise of their lives. Let's go down and make one grand Christmas for them. You can turn everything over to someone else for a week—anyone can handle things like that—there's nothing personal or precious about them."

"We're Going to Forget Business for Today," He Said.

"Nothing personal or precious about them!" He turned the words over in his mind. Hal was right. Someone else could handle the things that had seemed so terribly important. A few hours of confusion, perhaps; then things would go on as before. The world would forget him in a day.

His fingers reached for the pen upon his desk. "Dear Hal," he began, "I heartily agree with your proposal that we get together and make plans to give Dad and Mother the biggest surprise and the grandest Christmas ever—" He was smiling broadly, almost laughing aloud, as he finished the letter with a flourish.

Five minutes later Miss Denby entered his private office to find a new Robert Dutton. She almost dropped her book in surprise at the expression upon his face, and the new way in which he greeted her.

"I'm ready to begin, Mr. Dutton," she began nervously, when he made no motion to start the routine of the day.

"We're going to forget business for today, Miss Denby, and go Christmas shopping, that is, if you want to help me out." He fumbled with his tie as he spoke, noticing for the first time the soft curving of her white neck. "Your Christmas card," he went on, "wrought some miracle. I've found out that business and making money aren't everything in life. They're both fine in their way, but there are other things, too; precious things that I've been overlooking." He came closer to her side and looked hard into her eyes. "For instance, going shopping with a good-looking and adorable secretary."

A LOVELY GIFT

VIRGINIA TREES

By William Harrison Lamb
Manassas :: Virginia

Volume I of this valuable publication explains just how our native trees are associated in the forest and how they should be handled to the best advantage.

Detailed descriptions and illustrations of each species are carried in this volume through the commercially important group known as the conifers and a complete checklist of all Virginia hardwood species is included. Students, boy-scouts, farmers, timber-land owners, and nature-lovers generally will derive as much pleasure and profit from this book as will the professional forester.

Dolls Of Yesteryear

by

Frances Grinstead

TWENTY-FIVE years ago a little girl's letter to Santa Claus went something like this:

Dear Santa:

Please bring me a new head for my dolly. Her name is Christina. She still has a nice body, but her head has so many dents it won't last another year. I would like one this time with real hair made into curls and eyes that open and shut.

Your trusting friend,

What has become of those Christmas dolls whose bodies could outlast half a dozen heads? When the curls went straight, or the wig dropped off, or little brother Johnnie picked the wax off the eyelids, and sister was consoled by promising her a new head. Mother took her to a department store where there was as large a display of doll heads, as of dolls. There were china heads, metal heads, and heads of papier-mache. There were heads with wigs and some without. There were those with parted lips and dainty teeth showing, while others hid their smiles behind firm mouths and staring eyes.

One thing these varied heads had in common. Their necks widened into four-square bibs front and back with holes at the corners for applying the needle to the old body. The bodies in those days were of cloth, their inner substance sawdust. Where now are those torsos that could withstand endless repairing, fresh sawdust, and new heads?

They probably found their way to the attic in time and sister was promised a whole new doll. Then her trip to the department store was a matter of deciding between a "dressed" and an "undressed" dolly. Mothers preferred the latter because they would bear closer inspection as to materials and workmanship. Dolly's clothes were easily made out of the family scrap-bag or by the willing hands of the family seamstress, who did the job for recreation. Moreover, the undressed doll cost a little less. But sister liked to linger over those in silks and satins with poke-bonnets and plumes covering their golden curls. They wore petticoats and often they held their fragile fingers in tiny muffs of mink and sable.

CHRISTMAS GLADNESS

THE chimes in the spires,
The singing of choirs,
Are telling these tidings anew;
May all their glad ringing
And all their sweet singing
Fill Christmas with gladness for you!

IT WAS foolish to waste time and material making them, John Carlson told his mother when she said she would like to make some "gingerbread dolls" for the Christmas display in the window of his bakery. No one was interested in such things any more.

Yes, he was a very good son to her—he had given her a good home. She had nothing to worry her now—no responsibility. But she would enjoy making the dolls; that wouldn't seem like work. She would furnish the materials and make them in her own kitchen. Of course if she wanted to make them she could, John said.

That he was wrong, John had to admit. "We have never had so much interest shown in the window display and never sold more than we have since we put those gingerbread dolls in the window," John told a customer who had returned for a second purchase of dolls. Hulda Carlson had made not one type of doll, but different ones, and grouped them into families. "Her idea of grouping them into families is new. That's what attracted attention," the customer said.

When John told his mother this she smiled. It was the love and happy thoughts—glad memories—which went into the making that was the cause, she told herself. Her children had loved the sweet bits she had made for them at Christmas. Her children and grandchildren had outgrown such pleasures, but weren't there others who would enjoy those things? There proved to be many. And what joy it had brought her. No profit in money, but large dividends in joy—real Christmas joy—that of serving and giving happiness.

"That's What Attracted Attention," the Customer Said.

WATERFALL

As the Christmas Season draws near our thoughts revert to the days of our childhood. Those days that followed the Home-spun era of our parents, we can but wonder at the changes that have crept upon us. These days when children are so fed up on everything, expensive toys and gifts so marvelous that were never dreamed of when we first hung up our Christmas stockings.

Tin soldiers, toy pistols, China dolls with painted hair and eyes, the little China mugs with verses in gilt, and tea sets were high lights in toy-dom those days and there was rock candy that lasted three times as long as the hardest lolly pop, and the beautiful lucious candy apples, peaches and pears, that after fondling admiration we placed on the parlor mantel, which made our months water for just one bite, right out of the back so it would not show, then we could no longer resist devouring it all. Chocolate bon-bons in beribbon boxes had not then made their appearance, and older girls and boys spent hours with those wrapped lemon kisses with love verses tucked inside. Sometimes there were wax dolls that melted if too close to the fire, and cracked to pieces if too cold, but were very beautiful. Many other toys soon made their appearance, tool chests and fire works that planned the boys. Children, we can wish you nothing better than, that Your Christmas may be as full of joy as ours in those by gone days.

There was much excitement Monday evening when the home of Mr. Rolfe Robertson caught fire, fortunately the blaze which was on the roof was extinguished without causing serious damage.

The members of one Sunday School are busy practicing for the Christmas entertainment to be held Monday evening after Christmas Day at the church.

Mrs. Alice Wright and sons have at last moved into their new home at Antioch. For nearly two years they had made their home with Miss Florence Smith.

Andrew Thomas one of our good colored citizens is in the Warrenton hospital suffering with broken broken ribs and minor injuries received when felling a tree which unexpectedly fell the wrong way pinning him beneath one of the limbs. Mr. Bailey Tyler for whom he was working succeeded in pulling him out and getting him to the hospital.

ADVENTURE IS COMING IN THE AMERICAN BOY

Readers who like adventure and the lure of far places will find plenty to please them in coming issues of THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. They'll read, for instance, of seamen and sabotage and San Francisco waterfront trouble; of daring adventure in the world of pseudo-science, and of a feud aboard a plunging, rolling battleship.

aboard a transport plane blaring over jungled Mexican mountains, and of stranger planes that are not bound to earth but swing through the noiselessness of space. Readers can follow a young ex-Mountie as he searches for clues in the wild northlands, and Tierney, the pie-eating detective, on the trail of the city criminals.

A new feature in THE AMERICAN BOY is picture pages that tell stories. Pictures, for instance, that vividly show a day in the life of a coast guardsman, and how an Eskimo husky sled dog does his work. They transmit the thrill of battling a hundred pound, water-churning tarpon. Tips on how it's done are also given pictorially—ranging from how to run a broken field to how to be correct in a ballroom!

Subscription prices to The American Boy are $1.50 for one year or $3.00 for three years, foreign subscriptions 50c a year extra. Send your name, address and remittance to the American Boy, 7430—Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. On newsstands, 15c a copy.

WINTER'S RELIEF NEEDS SHOW NO ABATEMENT SIGN

Indications are to date that Virginia's relief lead over the approaching winter will equal if not surpass last year's figures, James W. Phillips, director of the public assistance division of the state department of public welfare, declares.

Several weeks ago this column expressed great joy that we were getting out of the mud. We are out of mud all right, but are still on the rocks-rough and ready to do their worst, we hope no one will have heart failure from pumping up tires and we do trust something will be done before we go back next buying new ones.

CATHARPIN

If anyone should happen to ask "youalls" you might just tell 'em it was right smart'n cold last week.

Well, we wanted to write a little story about Thanksgiving last week but in casting about to see who were fortunate enough to have a turkey for dinner that day we found that everyone in this neighborhood either had one of their own or were "invited out" for this special occasion. This being the case it was such a common thing that it ceased to be "news", therefore, adhering to our long established policy of not reporting anything common, stale or unclean, we dropped it in the wastebasket (where probably this should be) thus saving our fine reputation. The same thing might be said about butchering time, but butchering is so common around these parts just now that to pass by a farm home and not see a string of porkers lined up in row in the back yard would be the exception and a fit subject for a first-class news item. However, we shall not dwell longer on these subjects since our reputation for truth and veracity is still intact whatever that reputation might be.

Now-a-days when two or three are gathered together, it is an easy matter to guess what they are talking about. Since the Bull Run Power Co. has begun stringing the line from Stone House toward Catharpin, the big question is—"Will the juice be on for Christmas?" This particular question was uppermost at Sudley Sunday when all were devoutly hoping it would be available at the church for the Christmas doings now in preparation for that particular occasion. At any rate, the people went home feeling that the prospects were very encouraging. The church is now wired ready to receive the lights as soon as the committee can select them. This seems to be a very difficult job especially since they have so much to spend and the dealers are well posted on the asking prices. This, however, will all be attended to this week.

It is almost amazing how many and what kind of troubles seem always to beset the installation of new improvements. People have known of electric lights for a long time and felt that it would be mighty nice to have them; but once someone tries to procure the R/W the trouble begins. The Bull Run Power Co., in reality has been trying to electrify this part of the county for a long time but what with one thing or another it has been held up until it now seems to be an accomplished fact. Once it is understood there is but little doubt but that every home within reach of the line will have it installed. You know we are all sort of skeptical, especially when Henry Ford started putting wheels under people, they all said he was a fool and that no body would ever use them. Now look at them. Now look at them. It is our prediction that in a very short time every body from the top of Bull Run mountains to Manassas will have electricity in their homes, barns and pumping stations running everything from machinery to egg beaters in the kitchen. However, we can not condemn the "critics" too us to see that all things are right and planned for the best. It seems to be the way all new things have to begin.

Cynthia, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie, has been confined to her room for several weeks suffering from coughs and weakness. She having had the same trouble last year and had to miss so much of her school.

The Farrington Union, a young people's organization of the Washington District, met at Sudley on Thursday nite, Dec. 9th, with delegates from Manassas, Warrenton, Catlett and Nokesville together with their pastors, and leaders for one of the largest attended meetings recently held by this Union. The program was full and complete and the music furnished by the Sudley young people delighted all. After the regular program refreshments were served by the social hour. These meetings are very much enjoyed by all participants.

Mrs. L. L. Lynn, Mrs. J. W. Alvey and Mrs. C. C. Lynn as a committee from the Woman's Missionary society at Sudley, visited the Capital City last week in the interest of new light fixtures for Sudley church which is now ready for the installation as soon as a selection is made. The committee found prices very high and felt about the only way to get what they would like to have would be to negotiate a loan from the RFC or some other alphabetical combination for a million or two. They opined that if this could be done there would be no trouble about getting something very pretty. They still are in the "thoes" of indecision but will have things worked out ere this is read by the interested people whom they so well serve.

December 4, 1937.

Dear Santa Claus,
I am writing to you to tell you what I want for Xmas. I want a piano that I can play music on, a snowsuit and a big ball. Please Santa do not forget my two sisters, Louise and Arline. I have been a real good girl this year.

Your little friend,
Daisy Randall.

OCOQUAN AND VICINITY

Mrs. Grace Hornbaker of Occoquan and Mr. and Mrs. Bradford of Manassas motored to Philadelphia and spent some days in visiting with Mrs. Bradford's brother, Mr. Reed Hynson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilcher of Occoquan and Miss Ann Bradford and Mr. Arthur Sinclair of Manassas motored to Port Republic where they spent the week-end with Mr. Wilcher's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Wilcher.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Petellet of Baltimore were week-end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Petellet of Occoquan and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bubb of Woodbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Marshall of Woodbridge have moved into their lovely new home midway between Occoquan and Woodbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Smoot of Occoquan announce the arrival of a new Lady in their family. We are glad to note the new arrival as well as her mother are doing nicely.

Amount the delegation who went before the State Highway Commission in Richmond on Saturday, were

Mr. Pete Pandazides of Quantico, Messrs C. C. Cloe and Mr. Martin of Triangle, and Mrs. Jane Abel and Mrs. Eastman Keyes of Dumfries, and Mr. Cleve Russell and Capt. T. F. Joyce of Occoquan, and a large delegation from Manassas and Vicinity. We believe our appearance at this time before the Commission will bring the desired results.

MRS. THOMPSON ENTER-TAINS H. D. GROUP
The Bethel Home Demonstration club held its December meeting and Christmas Party at the new home of Mrs. E. W. Thompson of Woodbridge.

The members met at 11 a.m. and after a most enjoyable lunch and a short business meeting the members displayed Christmas suggestions and played games.

WASHERS

Dirt is gently loosed from clothes washed in a Westinghouse — not shurned out. Yet this exclusive "natural" action gets even hard-to-wash articles, such as grimy overalls, spotlessly clean.

Washing becomes doubly quick and easy in a big lustrous-white Westinghouse De Luxe. With a capacity of 9 lbs. per load, you're through an average-size washing in an hour. And its sturdy, streamlined wringer is safety itself — new touch-bar release, Handy Feeder, 8 locked positions. Other new conveniences, too; finger-tip controls to start and stop rolls, on-and-off switch, dry feed board, super-size rolls tired with soft rubber.

Come in and see these values for yourself. See all the new Westinghouse Washers — the only complete "Matched" line of washers on the market — a model for every purse and purpose.

ADJUST-O-MATIC

Women who own Westinghouse Ironers wash and iron in less than a day...

Wouldn't you love to sip through a week's washing and ironing so fast you'd have it all out of the way on Monday?

Women who own Westinghouse Washers and Westinghouse Ironers do that right along. Come in and see these wonderful new ironers with the big roll and shoe. See how effortlessly you can put a super-sheen on your heaviest linens

... how twin thermostats control heat at both ends of roll.

Sit down, iron something yourself. Operate the easy finger and knee controls. Note the acid-resistant-top that swings out to become a handy shelf for finished or unfinished pieces.

But don't take our word. Phone for a free home demonstration. Phone us today.

ILLUMINATED WINDOWS

Illuminated stained-glass memorial windows in old St. John's, the church across the square from the White House, may be seen all during the Christmas season in Washington, according to a story appearing next Sunday in the Star. The lighting of the historic windows of this 121-year-old church, where seven Chief Executives have claimed the presidential jew, inaugurates a new Christmas custom at the Nation's Capital. It is planned that it will be an annual event, a welcome to the presidential lighting of the Nation's Christmas windows in adjacent Lafayette Square.

PENSION PLAN ABOUT READY

State Senator Weaver Announces Completion of Study

State Senator Audrey Weaver of Front Royal, chairman, of the Virginia old age pension study commission, said he expected the commission would complete its work this week on an old age assistance bill to be presented to the General Assembly in January.

Governor-elect James H. Price was expected to sit with the commission during its final day of work.

"We are practically through with our work on this measure now," Senator Weaver, said, "we expect to finish it today. By December 15 we hope to have reports from New York actuaries on the probable cost of a retirement system for state employees."

Members of the retirement have declined to say how much it is estimated the state old age assistance system would cost. However, reliable sources said it was more than anticipated when the group first began its studies more than year ago.

Under the federal social security act, the federal government will assume half the cost of old age pensions in the state. The state will supply the remainder either alone or with the help of localities. The question of local participation has been controversial since it was mentioned as a possible solution to the question of raising funds.

THE CHRISTMAS SEAL

The tuberculosis Christmas Seal originated in Denmark, and when Jacob

Christmas Seals

Buy and Use Them. Miss Emily Bissell of Wilmington, Delaware, put on the first Seal Sale in the United States for tuberculosis patients in 1907, raising $3,000. In 1936 $4,467,157 was realized from the sale of these penny seals in the United States.

The first Virginia Christmas Seal Sale in 1910 was about $1,500 and in 1936 $91,913.39 was raised through the sale of Christmas Seals.

In 1936 there were 1,918 deaths from tuberculosis in Virginia—608 of these were between the ages of fifteen and thirty; more than one-third of these deaths occurring between twenty and twenty-five years of age.

The death rate among young babies (under one year old) is very high, the disease frequent taking the form of tuberculous meningitis among infants. From infancy to about fifteen years of age there is very little mortality from tuberculosis, then the deaths mount steadily to about twenty five years of age.

Between the ages of 15 and 45 one out of every five deaths is caused by tuberculosis—it is truly the "Robber of the Prime of Life."

In 1915 (the first year of reliable vital statistics in Virginia) there were 4,003 deaths from tuberculosis with a death rate of 182.4 per 100,000 population. In 1936 there were 1,918 deaths and a rate of 78.0. Virginia even now has next to the highest tuberculosis death rate among the Southern States.

Tuberculosis is a costly disease, attacking young people in their productive years. It requires a long time to cure, with loss of wages, hospital costs, care of dependent families of patients, etc., during treatment. It has been estimated Virginia has at least 10,000 people with tuberculosis, who cost the State about $3,000 each or $30,000,000 per year.

Virginia has only about one-half of the minimum number of beds considered necessary for the treatment of tuberculosis, as most authorities now believe there should be at least two beds per annual death.

The tuberculosis associations all over Virginia are carrying on a life-saving campaign with these funds, paying for Sanatorium board for indigent patients, Health Education, Nursing Service, X-rays, Pneumothorax treatments, Nutrition work among children, and many other activities for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.
