SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

NEW FARM BILL IS EXPLAINED

Provisions Affecting Virginia Farmers Are Outlined

Continuation of the Agricultural Conservation Program with its attack on problems of soil waste, together with changes which broaden the power of agriculture to control surpluses and improve farm income, may be expected by Virginia farmers under the New Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, according to W. H. Daughtrey, State Executive Officer.

Payments to farmers encouraging soil conservation and soil building will continue to be made under amended provisions of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act. Provisions of the new act are designed to provide surplus control for tobacco, cotton, corn, wheat and rice; to protect consumers and farmers through storage of surpluses and to provide crop insurance for wheat. Corn acreage allotments will be confined almost entirely to counties in the corn belt, but elsewhere corn is included within the General Soil-Depleting Crop Acreage Allotment, as will be the Wheat Acreage Allotment.

Steps in operation of the act are as follows:

1. National acreage allotments are divided among states, counties and individual farms. The National allotment is the acreage which, with average yields, will furnish a supply sufficient for domestic consumption, exports, and adequate reserves.

2. Marketing quotas are proclaimed when supplies of the crops affected exceed these adequate supplies by amounts fixed in the act.

3. A referendum of producers must be held on each marketing quota. The quota becomes ineffective if rejected by more than one-third of those voting when quotas are in effect, marketing in excess of the farm's quota becomes subject to penalty. Supplies withheld under marketing quotas may be released under certain conditions to meet any need that might develop.

4. Loans are provided for on cotton, wheat, and corn under certain conditions of below-parity price or above-normal supply, and may be offered as well to producers of other crops. However, no loans will be made for a year in which producers have rejected a marketing quota. Under marketing quotas, non-cooperators are offered loans, but at lower rates than for cooperators and only upon their excess above quotas. Committees of farmers in cooperation with the Extension Service will continue to administer the program locally. Special provisions for small growers include specified increase in all payments under $200. Payments may be assigned as security for advances to finance making a crop, but not for past indebtedness. Land-owner and tenant will share payments as they share the crop, except that soil-building payments are divided according to the contribution of each toward carrying out the practices. The act encourages use of conserving crops primarily for building soil fertility, but does not forbid their use for producing commodities used only on the farm. However, provisions are included which are designed to protect livestock and dairy producers against abnormal increases in production of these commodities.

Rev. J. Murray Taylor spoke of the blessings derived from this union. Rev. Jesse Bell offered thanks.

BRENTSVILLE PAIR ARE HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Keys Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Keys of Brentsville celebrated their golden wedding on Sunday, February 27, 1938, at their home. A number of friends and relatives called during the day.

Mr. Keys was married to Katherine (Kate) Patton on February 28, 1888, at Moss Hill, on the old Chichester Place, about one and one half (1 1/2) miles from Nokesville.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. David Franklin Utsler. After the wedding they went to Edwards Ferry, Maryland, and visited Mr. Keys' uncle, James Mathews. From there they returned to Leesburg and visited another uncle, George Cornwell. At the end of an extended honeymoon, they came to their home in Brentsville, at which they have since resided.

From this union were born nine children, of whom five are now living; Herbert of Independent Hill, Walter, Joseph and Cash Keys and Mrs. Troy Counts of Brentsville.

One son, James W., died in the year 1925 in Roanoke due to Service overseas during the World War.

There are also twenty-one (21) grandchildren living.

A surprise dinner was given the honored couple by their children. The table was bountifully laden. The centerpiece, a three-tiered wedding cake decorated in traditional colors, was a masterpiece of art.

Rev. J. Murray Taylor spoke of the blessings derived from this union. Rev. Jesse Bell offered thanks.

Among the guests present were, the five children and their wives and the 21 grandchildren also the following:

Mr. Troy Counts, Mrs. Hilman Keys, Mr. Grady Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wood, Miff Keys, Lafayette Keys, Ernest Patton, Julie Arnold, Archie Bradford, John Gaba, Will Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Woodyard, Ethel Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fairburn and baby, David Keys, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Keys and children, Verona Bean and Lucy, Mrs. Nettie Wicks, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Landers, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Earhart, John Earhart, Mrs. Jesse Whetzel, Mrs. W. R. Stevens, Gene Davis, Thelma Wade, Myrtle Keys, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Keys, Willard Keys, Dorothy Phillips, Mrs. E. M. Spindle, Mrs. John Donovan, Mammie Golladay, Lloyd Keys, David Landis, Mr. and Mrs. John Oleyar, Violet Shoemaker, Will Golladay, Kenneth Keys.

PLEDGES COOPERATION IN USED CAR CAMPAIGN

Complete cooperation in local observance of National Used Car Exchange Week was pledged today by Jas. E. Bradford of Hynson & Bradford, of Manassas, Va.

"We are confident that National Used Car Exchange Week will be an unqualified success here," he said. "Used car stock on hand provide a wide range of the best values in the history of the industry and prices are at rock bottom."

"We have just completed our arrangements for the opening of the campaign. Stocks have been reconditioned. Our salesroom and used car lot have been refurbished, banners hung. Our sales force has been augmented. We are ready for the biggest spring selling season we have experienced in several years."

WHAT IS IT?

Mr. Worth Storke, of the Peoples National Bank, Manassas, has a brass antique which has been the object of much speculation. No one seems to be able to identify it positively, although the possibility of its being some kind of ancient lamp seems to be more prevalent among the suggestions so far advanced. Other guesses range from a coffee pot to a bee smoker.

It stands 8 inches high; is three and a half inches in diameter, and is well constructed of brass. The diamond shaped marking on the side, shown in the photograph, is the solder mark of some kind of handle or bracket which must have been attached, and a small hole may be observed just above the center and to the right of the vertical seam.

The shorter vessel at the side is the lid which telescopes down into the spouted container. The projecting tube extends down to within an eighth of an inch of the closed end.

FINE ARTS EXPECT TO AD- DRESS WOMAN'S CLUB

The regularly monthly meeting of the Woman's Club of Manassas will be held on Wednesday, March 9th, at the Prince William Hotel.

Mrs. Charles F. Mugler, Jr., State chairman of Fine Arts for the Virginia Federation of Woman's Clubs, will give a dramatization of "The Citadel" by Cronin. Mrs. Mugler is a young woman of considerable talent, and the club is proud to be able to present her to the members of the members of the club and Manassas.

A special program of music will precede the program. Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, Mrs. J. P. Lyon, Miss Margaret Lynch, Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Mrs. E. H. Marsteller.

The Executive Board will meet at the home of the President on Monday evening at 7:30 p.m.

THE LITTLE BROADCAST

On the evening of March 9 at 7:30 a program entitled "The Little Broadcast" will be presented at the Brentsville District High School by the Home Economics Club. This will be an imitation of various popular radio programs. We are fortunate in being able to select some of the talent for our broadcast from surrounding communities as well as from our own.

Among the comedy features on the program will be Joe Penner, Gracie Allen and George Burns, and Martha Raye. Programs other than the humorous ones will include Roubenoff, Kate Smith, and Major Bowes. There will be news flashes by Walter Winchell.

8th DISTRICT LEGIONNAIRES TO MEET IN ANNUAL SESSION

The joint conference of post and units of the 8th District, American Legion and American Legion auxiliary, will be held Tuesday evening, March 8th, at the high school auditorium, beginning with supper at 7 p.m.

There are six posts in this area, and Captain John L. Jeffries, Jr., of Culpeper, is district commander. Representatives Howard Smith and John W. Flannagan have signified their intention of being present. Many other prominent legionnaires are expected to attend.

Prior to the supper, Miss Margaret Lynch, an officer in the local post, will entertain a number of the guests and officials at her home.

C. B. ROLAND ASKS W.P.A. EFFICIENCY

Supervisors Suggests Direct Methods

Mr. William A. Smith, WPA Administrator, 11 South 12th St., Richmond, Virginia.

Dear Sir:

As you know, every since the depression started, I have favored an institution similar to the W. P. A. as a relief agency, as I believed it would be good economics. If the W. P. A. could be trimmed of some of its fancy limbs, and the red tape that makes it a joke, it would be a great boon to our economic conditions and at the same time build a monument of good works, but as long as it remains in the hands of the brain trust, where there are plenty of brains and nothing else, we shall have the same condition that has been experienced in this county, where due to the impracticable working of the W. P. A. we have received very little results.

Results that should have been ours under a rule laid down from practical experience, instead of a rule laid down by those who have gotten their experience, God only knows where. In this county where W. P. A. has been employed on public roads, there seems to have been a studied plan to discredit this type of work by the WPA itself.

The latest project set up in the county is a fair example of what has taken place. With about 100 men available, a project is set up in a remote part of Brentsville District, the district with the least unemployment in the county, while Dumfries, Occoquan, Manassas, Coles and Gainesville have quite a number of unemployed, making it necessary to transport some of these men over twenty miles over roads that, at this time of the year, get impassable. If it could be depended on to have good roads the cost of transportation would be all out of proportion to the value of the work accomplished. I have taken this up with the Resident Engineer and his explanation lead me to believe that he was tied with WPA Red Tape, though I am not familiar with the working of the Highway Commission.

It seems to me that they could be trusted to furnish supervision enough from their regular force to make use of this idle labor on some of the roads very much in need of repairs in the localities where the unemployed are located. This work would be appreciated by the community. It would be practicable and would do much to stop criticism. If something is not done to correct the impractical condition noted above, it seems to me that those of us who are asked to help with this work should refuse to lay ourselves open to the criticism that must follow.

The W. P. A., properly used, could be of much value to the county and the results, a monument to its promoters, but as it is used it cannot bring any thing but discredit to all interested. Therefore, I shall in the future refuse to support such hair brained projects as the one in Brentsville District.

The Federal W. P. A. project on Bull Run Battlefield has been of great value to the community. There is much that could be said of this work pro and con, but on the whole the money spent there has done much good.

It is too bad that the Federal Government cannot set up small Federal W. P. A. projects on feeder roads.

The card party given by the Eastern Star on Tuesday night was a financial and social success. The committee in charge was very grateful for the friendly cooperation which

LEGISLATURE MOVES RAPIDLY

Ready for Adjournment Next Week

Outstanding developments at Richmond within the last few days include disposal of the controversial question of the text-book on alcohol, which was proposed for distribution in the public schools of Virginia, but which, on account of its favorable attitude toward the moderate use of liquor, raised a storm of protest, culminating a few days ago in the passing a resolution in the State Senate authorizing the complete destruction of the edition which had been printed as a Senate document. The resolution stated that it was the sense of the Senate that the book should not be distributed to the public schools. The edition of 1000 copies was ordered burned.

The Brook resolution providing that payment of the poll tax shall not be a prerequisite to obtaining hunting and fishing licenses was defeated. This means that the poll tax must be continued to be paid in obtaining dog licenses and hunting permits. The Woodson bill was passed without discussion reducing the tax on female dogs from $3 to $2 per year.

The House has passed a bill authorizing the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals to adopt and enforce rules and regulations governing the practice of law in the State and providing for discipline, suspension and disbarment of offending attorneys.

The general appropriation bill is scheduled for final consideration in committee this week. This bill was the occasion of action in the General Assembly widely viewed as a contest between Price and Byrd, in which the latter was victorious. The Governor desired to name a member of the State Compensation Board at an adequate salary. The Byrd forces favored making the Attorney General an ex-officio member, without additional pay. As this was the first test vote between the so called "organization" and Governor Price, the outcome commanded more than usual attention. Comment throughout the State has varied from characterization of the treatment of Governor Price as "scandalous" to stout denials that the vote represented any contest between Governor Price and Senator Byrd.

DAUGHTERS OF THE REVOLU- TION MEET IN ALEXANDRIA

The forty-second annual conference of the Virginia Daughters of the Revolution opened in Alexandria Wednesday with Mrs. Arthur Rowbotham, State Regent, presiding. Nine chapters of northern Virginia are hostesses to the ladies from all sections of the State. These include Mt. Vernon, Kate Waller Barrett, John Alexander, Dr. Elisha Dick, Fairfax County, Thomas Nelson, Irvine Wells, Falls Church and Francis Wallis Chapters.

Following a State Board meeting at 2:15 at the George Mason on Wednesday, a business session at 8:30 in the evening will officially open the Conference, which will continue through Thursday and Friday, when at 9 a.m. the annual election of officers will be held. A luncheon will follow at 1:15 at the George Mason, and this will be followed by a tour of historic landmarks, ending at historic Pohick Church.

Headquarters of the Conference and the business sessions are being held at the George Washington National Masonic Memorial Building.

where labor is available. Much good could be realized. But under the present setup in this state, it seems to be a farce, with the cost all out of proportion to the value received.

The Board of Supervisors, of which I am a member, realize that there will be suffering if something is not done to relieve the unemployment situation. Nevertheless, they are very reluctant to assist in such a ridiculous proposition. The Board realizes that the conditions are demoralizing to the men and that the men could not be depended on to work regularly. The result would be discouraging.

To expose men for three hours a day, even in a canvas covered truck, would reduce their immunity to pneumonia, also their efficiency and only pile up the cost for the county by having to care for such cases.

We long to see a little horse sense used in using the WPA.

Yours very truly,
C. B. Roland,
Member of Board of Supervisors,
from Gainesville District.

CATHARPIN

The Sudley Missionary Society is sponsoring an entertainment to be given in the lecture room of the church on Friday night, March 25th, 1938 at 8 p.m. A program will be presented by well known radio entertainers who will also supervise an amateur concert. All musicians, singers, readers or impersonators who desire to take part in the contest, will be most heartily welcomed and may communicate with either Mrs. Janie McCall, RFD No. 3, Manassas, Va., or Mrs. L. J. Pattie, Gainesville, Va. Prizes will be given. Refreshments will be sold.

This being such a common occurrence that little was thought of it until it began to be painful and was found to be infected and for the past week has been in a serious condition requiring both the doctor's and nurses attention constantly. At this writing the patient is much improved and prospects of recovery very encouraging.

YOUR FLOWER GARDEN

The cherry twitter of song birds is heard in our garden these days. Make them welcome with food, and some water.

If you want them to linger, it pays.

LILACS

Visitors from the south or west always tell us how fortunate we are to be able to grow lilacs in such profusion. Why don't we plant more of them? They grew in our grandmothers garden in several shades of lavender, purple and white, and now we can buy the Persian and French varieties from our nurseries. If you already have some growing a corner of your yard plant to move some of the young roots on any mild bright day now. If you can get dirt with the roots all well and good, but if not it might be a good idea to cut the tops back.

If you were bothered with blight or scale last year, spray them before the leaves appear with one of the miscible oil sprays one part oil to fifteen parts water.

Do not prune them until after they bloom or you will lose the blossoms for this year.

Lime is a very important aid to good bloom. Cover the ground white and work it in immediately.

After the foliage appears a conservative amount of nitrate of soda or good commercial fertilizer will improve the bloom. Lilacs are partial to light and air and resent crowding.

If your nursery-purchased lilacs are growing on privet roots instead of their own keep the soil well up above the graft. Let's have more lilacs. If you already have more than you want give some to your neighbors or if your road entrance needs planting. What would be more beautiful?

MILK BILL FAILS

The Milk Control Act has been rejected by the Virginia Senate. The bill was said to curb profits and increase the present control of the sale of dairy products.

TEACHING BY MOTION PICTURE

The world is turning to the documentary film as a new tool for popular education. This film form, a gift from a film maker in the America of the 1920's, has found its greatest development abroad, but that leadership is being challenged by the Federal Government in its two dramatizations of problems of the land—"The Plow That Broke the Plains," of last year and its new production "The River." The story of this important new development in educational motion pictures is told in an article by Arch A. Mercey, assistant director of information of the Farm Security Administration, in The Washington Star next Sunday, March 6.

Get there early while the choice is wide—fine cars now offered at rock-bottom prices

This National Used Car Exchange Week gives you a great opportunity to OWN A BETTER CAR for a small investment. Automobile dealers co-operating in this big sale have a fine selection of used cars — and prices are far below those of several months ago.

Many are 1937, '36 and '35 models — backed by the finest of dealer guarantees. All have thousands of miles of first-class unused transportation in them.

And the "first-class" transportation of these modern cars represents satisfaction which the owners of older cars can hardly imagine. Beautiful, modern styling — a more comfortable ride — more room for you and your luggage — finer, more powerful engines — better gas mileage — better brakes — bigger tires — dozens of improvements introduced since your old car was built.

Now's the time to make the switch, while you have more to trade and less to pay. Your present car may cover the down-payment — balance on easy terms. If you have no car to trade, you can still take advantage of the low down-payments and easy terms during this sale.

A PROGRESSIVE BUSINESS STIMULANT

(Contributed)

President Roosevelt is again showing the country an aggressive, positive way to stimulate business and help conquer the present recession. On Saturday, March 5th, he will inaugurate a National Used Car Exchange Week to help improve the sale of used cars.

All automobile manufacturers are cooperating in the drive by spending $1,250,000 to bring this to the attention of the public.

A great many of our business leaders agree that the major reason for the present recession is no more than a lack of confidence on the part of the buying public. Our President, in typical fashion, is pointing out the number of used cars in dealer's hands and the bargains in unused transportation. This will help dealers move their used cars. If used cars can be sold, new cars will go out in much larger quantities. If new car sales can be increased, manufacturers can employ more people and the automobile industry can again help show the country a way back to normal.

Not only can such a campaign help nationally, but a real benefit can be had locally in Prince William. A real buying surge will help business here to a very large extent. With spring approaching, now is the time to buy a better used car. You get better, more enjoyable transportation and by exchanging your present car for a newer one, you are working with our government to put us back on the road to prosperity.

Miss Evelyn Herring, a student at Fredericksburg State Teachers College, spent the week-end visiting her many friends in Washington and Miss Alice Allen at Newington.

Progress is not accidental. It is the result of carefully matured plans and financial competence.

To get ahead in business or in social life it is necessary to have material means.

You can get the family wash done for so little!

We take great pride in our product. That is why clothes washed the Fauquier way are clear and bright. An ample supply of soft water is always ready—5 gallons of water used on every pound of clothes washed. And don't forget—clothes are washed in net bags, thus eliminating mechanical friction. The net gets the wear, and the clothes get the wash.

LIGHTNER-TERRILL

Announcements have been received from Honolulu of the marriage of Miss Mary Benson Terrill, daughter of Mrs. Esther D. Terrill of Haymarket, Virginia and Washington, D. C., and the late Frank Frazer Terrill of Lahore, Orange County, Virginia, to Mr. Thomas Ashton L. Lightner, son of Mr. M. H. Lightner and the late Mrs. Lightner of Haymarket, Virginia.

The wedding was solemnized at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, February 8 in the picturesque little St. Clement's Episcopal Chapel in Honolulu, with the Rev. E. Tanner Brown officiating.

The bride wore a white suit complemented with a white corsage of gardenias and tube roses and white accessories. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Hosmer Rolph, friends of Mr. Lightner.

The bride who was a popular young teacher in Prince William County Schools, arrived in Honolulu from the mainland on the Mariposa Monday, February 7 and was met by Mr. Lightner who went by plane from Kahului, Maui on Sunday.

After a week's honeymoon at the Moana Hotel on Waikiki Beach, the couple sailed for the island of Maui and will spend two weeks at Kula before going to Kahului where they will be permanently located.

Mr. Lightner having a position with the Kahului Railroad Company, has become quite popular during his two years of residence and has a large circle of friends who welcome the young couple to the Valley Isle.

Dr. Gordon H. Lightner and Mrs. Lightner brother and sister-in-law of the groom were unable to attend the ceremony due to the inter-island shipping strike, which was of short duration, but which caused a tie-up in the passenger boats, and they were unable to get booking on the plane.
