YOUNG DEMOCRATS PLAN MEETING

Great Increase in Membership Noted

The Young Democratic Club of Prince William County held a business meeting at the Town Hall Tuesday night, May 17th, at which plans for the summer months were discussed and a check-up of the campaign contest was made.

The new club president, Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, presided. She expressed her appreciation to the club for the honor which had been accorded her in electing her its president, and assured the members that she would do everything in her power to make the club year a success. The minutes of the last meeting, written by Mrs. Nell Holmes, were read by the new secretary, Miss Nancy Lynn.

It was decided that a meeting be held at Quantico on June 7th at the school house. Mr. Jim King, chairman of the Eighth District, will be the guest speaker. Plans were discussed for a dance to be held at Haymarket during the month of July, and for a hay-ride later in the summer.

Reports showed that the club membership is nearing the 500 mark as a result of the activeness of the club members who have entered the campaign contest. This will make the Prince William Club one of the largest in this section of Virginia, and one of which the county citizens should indeed be proud. It is hoped that the final week of the contest will add a greater number of new names to the membership list.

The following members of the club were guests of the Fairfax Club Tuesday night: Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, Misses Irma Ball, Mary Currell Pattie, and Nancy Lynn.

DIPHTHERIA CAMPAIGN COMPLETED

During the first two weeks of May Dr. Wm. Y. Garrett and Miss Sabina Neel of the Prince William County Health Unit visited all the schools for the purpose of giving the Schick test to all children through the sixth grade. Those having positive reactions to the test were given to-xoid.

The response to the diphtheria campaign was very gratifying and the cooperation from the school authorities and patrons is good evidence that the people of Prince William County are public health conscious. A total of 1267 Schick test were given of which 527 were positive and 740 were negative. 571 doses of toxoid were administered. 40 preschool children were also immunized against diphtheria, but they did not receive the Schick test.

After the business session, an enjoyable dinner dance was held. The principals speakers and guests were U. S. Senator G. L. Ratcliffe, Maryland; Congressman V. L. Palmisano, Maryland; Congressman Ambrose Kennedy, Maryland; Congressman T. A. Flaherty, Massachusetts; Mayor H. W. Jackson, Mr. W. L. Mitchell, Social Security Board; Captain and Mrs. M. R. Daniels, U. S. Coast, and Miss Matilda Lindsay, N. F. E., Washington, D. C.

DEPLORABLE!

Here is a good one we were told this afternoon. One of our young business men told a Northern Gentleman residing in Manassas that "Stonewall" Jackson got his name because in the battle he was too scared to move. The unfortunate stranger seems to have repeated this and — We are deeply grieved that our fellow townsman kidded this gentleman but this particular townsman is given to kidding and we are not surprised at this but we are immeasurably surprised at the ignorance of history's most famous episode on the part of the stranger within our gates. Anyone of our first grade children can teach him what he really should know.

As the time draws nigh for the coming of Dan McNally to our community interest in the evangelistic campaign is increasing. People are talking about it and there is an atmosphere of expectancy abroad. Cottage prayer meetings are being held in the several divisions into which the community has been divided and splendid attendance is being had. The leaders all report great encouragement. Dan McNally is holding a great meeting at Ellerslie and multitudes are being saved and the largest building is being crowded to capacity every night and numbers turned away.

The cooperating pastors in the campaign here are all greatly encouraged and are looking for a mighty work on the part of God in our midst. Every thing that can be done to insure a successful campaign is being done. Not a single man among us but what is doing his level best to insure success. These preachers are greatly cheered by the readiness of many of our laymen to serve on a cooperative committee with them. The cooperative committees are as follows:

From Crime to Christ

DAN McNALLY, Evangelist
Alias Joe Kenny (No. 19294)

Born in Western Maryland Coal District, put to work digging coal at 8 years of age, ran away from home at 14, fell in hands of hoboos and thieves at once, arrested and sentenced to Missouri State Penitentiary for burglary and selling dope at 16, and made effort escape three times, shot 21 times in his last attempt, loved and nursed by "Mother Clark", won to Jesus Christ and the Christian faith by the good Christian Warden, Samuel Hill, pardoned October 7, 1924, by Governor Hyde, of Missouri, went to work to reach men of his own kind for God, lost job after job because of his record, married and entered work in Missions and camp meetings, and then into the evangelistic field. Great success has followed his ministry. Just closed an eight months campaign in Cumberland, Maryland, where he shook that city as it never had been shaken before, and fought the C.I.O. to a bitter defeat in the Municipal election, by his radio addresses on Communism and crime. He comes to Manassas to hold a three weeks campaign under the auspices of a group of ministers of our town, backed by a strong Laymen's and a fine Woman's Cooperative Committee. The annual dinner for the graduates was given by the Kiwanis Club at its regular meeting on Friday evening last.

The young people unquestionably put on one of the best entertainments ever presented at an affair of its kind in Manassas. With Mr. Bradford, president of the class presiding, each member was introduced and loudly applauded. After this the senior glee club sang several numbers and a humorous number was put on by Gilbert Rollins. As a compliment to the Club the entire class sang two of its favorite songs which also constituted a surprise feature.

Recent Enactment Effective June 21.

The State's new speed limits will be enforced when the law enacted by the recent assembly becomes effective June 21. The State Motor Vehicle Division will have to enforce to the letter the new act, Colonel Marion S. Battle, Director of the Division, warned in an article in the Virginia Highway Users' Magazine.

"The mandate given by the legislature is clear, positive and provides for the acceptance of excuse," he stated. "Therefore the law enforcement agencies of this state have no alternative except to enforce it to the letter."

The top speed limit is 55 miles per hour for passenger care, 50 for passenger-carrying busses, 45 for trucks and 35 for school busses carrying children.

Statistics released by the vehicle division disclose that there were 13,414 accidents on Virginia Highways last year, which resulted in the deaths of 707 persons. There were 128 accidents in which drunk drivers were involved in mishaps were reported as having been drinking and from these crashes 66 fatalities resulted. At least 12 death-car drivers were asleep at the wheel in crashes in 1937 and the conditions of operators of 73 other autos which figured in fatal accidents were listed as "extreme fatigue". Drowsiness, however, was not a major cause of fatal crashes, the division's statistics show, as 17,923 drivers of the 23,190 reported upon indicate that they were "apparently normal".

More fatalities resulted from crashes when the cars were traveling between 40 and 50 miles per hour than any other speed, the death toll being 188. However, drivers of cars going between 20 and 30 miles per hour had more accidents—4,970 as compared to the 2,557 going between 40 and 50. The death toll in the 20-30 mile per hour bracket, as shown in the report, was 126. The "above 50 miles per hour" speed produced 161 deaths in 4,502 accidents, while 69 deaths resulted from crashes when the cars were said to be going less than 10 miles per hour.

Members of the Virginia Oil Men's Association, meeting in Richmond last week, heard a plea from Major Raymond B. Bottom, president of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, that they use their influence to promote auto safety. He told the oil men that "you can refuse to sell to people who are under the influence of liquor" to help cut the auto death rate. Promotion of Highway safety is "perhaps the most important work you can do", he said.

FARCE STARS COLBERT WITH GARY COOPER

"Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," the Paramount comedy opening next Thursday and Friday, June 2-3, at the Pitts' Theatre, brings Claudette Colbert and Gary Cooper together in a new screen partnership to which both stars have been looking forward for a number of years. They both owe the arrangement to Producer-Director Ernest Lubitsch, who has directed their new comedy of life among Europe's smart set.

Cooper, who broke the long-standing Hollywood tradition that no player of Western parts could succeed in drawing room roles, explains it this way: "Until Ernst Lubitsch proved to me that I could do comedy and get away with it in 'Design for Living' I wouldn't have had the courage to do 'Mr. Deeds.' To play opposite such a finished actress as Miss Colbert in a gay, rowdy, romantic piece like

"Bluebeard's Eighth Wife" would have been beyond me but for this."

Miss Colbert also is delighted in the new partnership. Although she worked under Lubitsch before in her recent comedy, "I Met Him in Paris," something always prevented her teaming with Cooper. "Every time I've been about to start a picture," she says, "Gary has been in the midst of another one. It's been like the traffic lights on some streets. If you start out with red, you're stuck with red at every intersection right down the boulevard. Perhaps Gary's pause to become a father accounted for the adjustment. Anyhow, I'm delighted, and after we finish 'Bluebeard' I hope we can play together again."

The new comedy concerns a much-married American multi-millionaire who marries and gets rid of seven wives only to be completely bested by the eighth whom he marries for just another thrill. The cast of popular players includes Edward Everett Horton, David Niven, Elizabeth Patterson and Herman Bing.

HAYMARKET F. F. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

On Monday, May 23, 1938, the Haymarket Chapter of the Future Farmers of America met to elect its officers for the coming year.

The boys selected very capable officers for 1938-39. They are as follows: President, Robert Carter; Vice-President, Rolfe Ellison; Secretary, Andrew Smith; Treasurer, Early Griffith; Reporter, Rolfe Robertson, Jr.; Watch Dog, Hampton Alvey.

An executive committee of Louis Lightner, Early Griffith and Rolfe Robertson, Jr., was also elected.

All of us are looking forward to another successful year under the instruction of Mr. Fishpaw.

MEMORIAL DAY

While memorial exercises will be held May 30 locally throughout the land, the focal point of the Nation-wide observance will be Arlington National Cemetery on the banks of the historic Potomac.

A story appearing in The Star next Sunday tells the history of Arlington from the time it was first used for cemetery purposes in 1864, listing the famous persons who rest there and describing its outstanding statues and tombs.

TO SCORE 4-H CLUBS ON SOCIAL WORK

COMMUNITY welfare work of over 75,000 4-H Clubs and Leaders in the nation directed by the Extension Services of the Agricultural Colleges and U. S. Department of Agriculture is again receiving incentives in the National Program on Social Progress.

This group and their leader, Mrs. W. L. Jones, near Topeka, Kansas, received trips to Chicago last year awarded their Club as National victor.

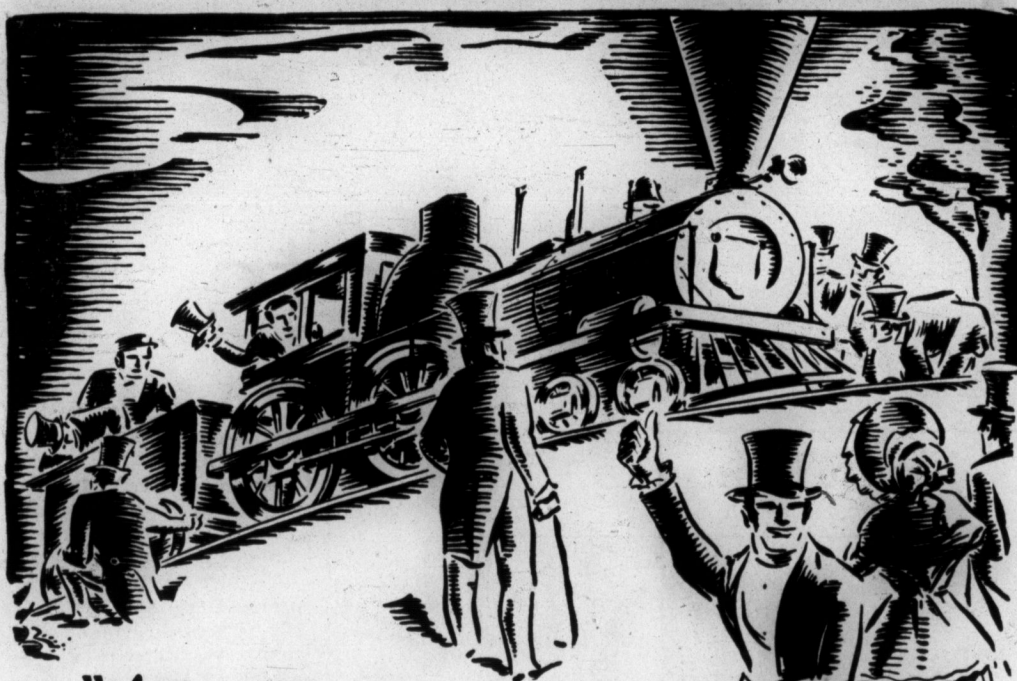

THE 84 members gave nine varied public demonstrations, sang Christmas carols to shut-ins, bought clothing for needy school children, fed poor families, organized six vocal and instrumental groups and held seven public educational discussions.

A trip to Radio City, New York (left) for the local leader and two members of the national winning club, trips to the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago for the leader and three members of the four sectional winning clubs, $100 RCA Victor radios for state winners and county prizes are this year's awards provided by Radio Corporation of America.

Daphne DeBruin, Ft. Benton, Montana, and Billy Hale, Hixson, Tennessee, former individual national victors, depict an important club activity—that of listening to the National 4-H Club radio broadcast the first Saturday of each month conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture with the aid of State Agricultural Colleges, the United States Marine Band and the National Broadcasting Company.

Mediator

between
EAST and WEST

IN the State of Virginia of 1847, east was east and west was west, with the Blue Ridge mountains looming between. But the means to union were already taking form.

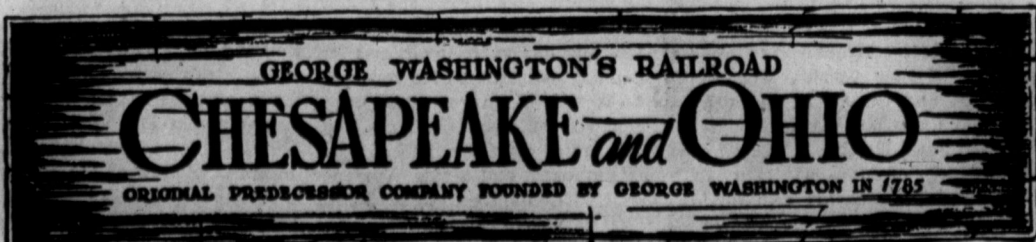

Q That was a great year in Chesapeake and Ohio history, for its predecessor company—the little 49 mile Louisa Railroad—made two important decisions: to tunnel the Blue Ridge at Rockfish Gap and to undertake all operations on its line. This second decision involved the purchase of equipment, and it was a proud day for the Louisa's owners when they inspected their first locomotives.

Q The stockholders were told by the president, Colonel Edmund Fontaine:

"... a contract was made for three engines, two of which have arrived ... the third is on the way ... We trust the day is not far distant when this noble machine shall become the mediator between the East and the West ... break down the wall of partition between eastern and western interests, and proclaim eternal union between the mountains and the lowlands."

Q No one gazing at the 14½-ton locomotive on that June day of 1847 could imagine how successfully the dream would be realized ... by the truly "noble machines" of today—the powerful 400-ton Chesapeake and Ohio engines that speed passengers and freight across two mountain ranges from the Atlantic seaboard to the Middle West, thus helping daily to maintain "the eternal union between the mountains and the lowlands."

MOSES A. C. TO PLAY WARRENTON

Sunday, May 29th, Moses A. C. will face Warrenton A. C. on the Haymarket diamond. The games will begin at 3:00 o'clock.

The boys want you to come out Sunday. Not only do they want you to come but they need you bad.

Moses A. C. has been unable to win over Hume, Marshall, Catlette, and the Springs. But for my opinion and others this Sunday's game will be a different story.

If you want to see this game, it's up to you to be present Sunday. Don't forget the place is on the Haymarket diamond. The two teams will be Haymarket and Warrenton and when the clock strikes 3, the umpire will yell "play ball".

"YOU'RE ONLY YOUNG ONCE"

Resort and family life, amusing adventures and adolescent romances are mingled in the plot of "You're Only Young Once," which opens at the Pitts Theatre on Wednesday, June 1.

Lewis Stone Cecilia Parker and Mickey Rooney are the mainstays around which the story revolves. They are supported by a capable cast, offering well-rounded performances.

"You're Only Young Once" is the intimate story of an American family. It tells of a holiday postponed for eleven years and of a man's ambition to catch a swordfish, which is forgotten in the press of internal complications.

The family, arriving at Catalina Island, immediately involves itself in a series of situations which, while laughable, could easily become tragic. Mickey Rooney as the son, becomes infatuated with a wealthy girl whose only ambition is to "experience everything in life before she is eighteen." Cecilia Parker, as the daughter, falls in love with a married man. It requires all the skill and resourcefulness of Lewis Stone, as the father, to extricate his family from seemingly hopeless entanglements.

The famous beach at Catalina, a flying trip in a racing speedboat, scenic views of one of America's most famous summer resorts, and other vivid scenes provide the background against which the romantic and dramatic trials of the family are projected.

Lewis Stone gives his usual suave and polished performance. Mickey Rooney, in his first grown-up role, is given opportunity to display his versatility. Cecilia Parker is ideally cast as the young girl, just out of college, who had yet much to learn of the world. Fay Holden, in the role of mother of the family, gives a restrained characterization.

George Seitz again proves his judgment and sense of dramatic proportions in his direction of the comedy drama.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of God

By word is a thing made very real, and a thing made very real is a thing made very real.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in later years.

NEVERTHELESS my loving kindness will I not utterly take from him, nor suffer my faithfulness to fall.—Psalms 89:33.

WAGES AND HOURS AGAIN

One the eve of approaching elections, the House of Representatives has apparently been unable to withstand the demands of the great industrial centers of the north, and this week has enacted a Wages and Hours Bill which is more dangerous to the peace and security of the South than any legislation which has passed Congress since the days of the Reconstruction.

Even the wage differentials allowed by the defunct N.R.A. has been wiped out in the present measure, which has been characterized by Representative Cox, of Georgia, as nothing less than "another Sherman's march to the Sea."

We should be deeply grateful to our own Virginia legislators, and in particular to our esteemed Representative Howard W. Smith, for the steadfast opposition to this anti-Southern legislation in the face of all kinds of abuse and vilification. They have been fighting the same kind of hostility which faced Lee and Jackson, and their devotion to the safety and the continued prosperity of the South should not be forgotten.

The measure now goes to the Senate, where the Southern minority, headed by the resourceful Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, is organizing a last ditch fight. Here a determined minority, by great physical exertion and well planned strategy, can defeat the evil intentions of a conscienceless majority. In all probability the fortitude and the experience of the South when faced with overwhelming odds, will again prevail in the end, and we shall successfully withstand this latest move on the part of Northern industry to destroy our prosperity.

To the Editors,
The Manassas Journal,
Manassas, Va.

Dear sirs:

May I use your columns for public attention to a matter which is of interest to all patrons of the public schools of the County?

As I write, My automobile, along with four others, is carrying a party of third grade children to Washington to visit the Museums. The trip will occupy the school hours of this day. It is an educational trip. Some weeks ago an entire Saturday was devoted to a similar trip, in which my car was one of several carrying school children. In the early Spring my car, along with others, made three trips to Washington, taking children to student concerts given by the Washington Symphony Orchestra.

These educational tours have been doing on for some years, and always it is the patrons whose cars are used, and the patrons who must assume responsibility for the safety of the children. I have asked the question repeatedly, Why not use School Busses for these trips? No satisfactory answer has been offered. It is said that the School Authorities do not wish to take responsibility for the safety of children on such trips. If this is so, then plainly, the School Officials are passing the buck to the public.

If there are rules that prohibit the use of school busses for the above purposes, then why not change the rules to make the use of busses possible? Surely the County School Board is in a matter position to bear the responsibility for the safety of children than any individual. If there is additional expense involved in this use of the busses, then the School Board should shoulder that expense instead of laying it upon a few willing patrons who furnish their cars. Incidentally, in the last five trips my car has made, no one has even offered to buy five gallons of gas.

What are the facts? Why not use school busses for educational tours and trips?

Sincerely yours,
Patron and Parent.

American Folk Music formed the basis for the program of the meeting of the Music-Literature Section of the Manassas Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. C. C. Lynn on Tuesday evening, May 24.

Mrs. Lewis Carper was in charge of the program, American Folk Music, discussing it in its many different aspects, among these; Indian songs and dances, cowboy songs, songs of miners and Lumberjacks, Sea Chanteys, Song of the Acadians, Irish, Scotch, Norwegian, German, Polish and Russian Folk songs; Church Music; Mountain Music; and Negro Music.

Illustrating this last phase, Negro Music, a quintet, with string accompaniment, from the Negro Regional High School, sang several very pleasing selections including: "Great Day", "Look Away", "Good News", and "Down by the Riverside."

After delightful refreshments had been served by the hostesses, Mrs. C. C. Lynn and Mrs. Charles Linton, the spirit of Folk Music lingered on with Mrs. Carper playing several Folk Hymns from a book edited by John Powell, famous Virginia Pianist, and Mrs. Dennis Baker playing the ever enjoyable, "Swing Low Sweet Chariot", "Standing in the need of prayer" and "Golden Slippers" with the club-joining in vocally.

CLASS PLAY AT FREDERICKSBURG

Senior Class of Mary Washington Entertains on June 3

Rehearsals are well under way for "The Four Winds", the historical pageant to be presented jointly by the Senior Class of Mary Washington College and the various civic and patriotic organizations of Fredericksburg on June 3 in the amphitheatre at Mary Washington College.

In selecting characters for the pageant, efforts were made to secure direct or collateral descendants of famous former Fredericksburgers who will be impersonated. Where no descendants are available, persons in some way connected with the character are being used.

The Daughters of the American Revolution are supplying the palyer for the character of Mary Washington, the mother of the Revolutionary General, George Washington. Martha Stevens, the heroine of the Battle of Fredericksburg during the War Between the States is to be impersonated by a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The National Park Service, which has done so much in this section on the Battlefields, will furnish the soldiers for the Battle of Fredericksburg episode. A number of the Masonic Lodge will portray the part of Col. Wm. F. Gray, Grand Master of the Fredericksburg Lodge at the time that Lafayette was made an honorary member.

The "four winds", an Indian skit based partly on Longfellow's characterization in "Hiawatha", and the idea from which the pageant takes its title, will be pantomimed by three Indian chiefs and an Indian maiden, symbolic of the types and natures of influences which have contributed to the life of community and college.

The pageant, which was written and is being directed by Boyce Loving, head of the Department of Dramatic Arts of Mary Washington College, will be presented as a part of the commencement program and will be open to the public.

FROM BAGDAD-ON-THE-SUBWAY TO BAGDAD-ON-THE-TIGRIS IN 10 MINUTES

Lowell Thomas, well-known radio news commentator, put radio waves to two very different uses in one day not long ago, when he talked by radio in telephone with the city of Bagdad, in the kingdom of Iraq, and then, a few hours later, described the experience during his regular news radio broadcast.

Mr. Thomas as a matter of fact was the first person to carry on a conversation over the New York-Bagdad radio telephone circuit. He had been invited by officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to inaugurate the service with this kingdom of the Near East: a happy choice, because of Mr. Thomas' earlier intimate contact with and his many recollections of the country and its rulers. In the course of one of his news broadcasts, he told American listeners about his conversation. That he found it interesting, the following paragraphs from a transcript of his broadcast show:

"The first telephone call from New York to Bagdad was put through today: telephone service halfway 'round the world, from O. Henry's Bagdad-on-the-Subway to the original Bagdad of the Arabian Nights. The voice at the other end, speaking from the fabulous city in the land of the Tigris and the Euphrates, was that of Said Righed Rashid. Here, at the American end, the telephone officials had asked me to do the talking.

"It surely was appropriate to have someone named Rashid speaking from Bagdad, for, as you will recall, the most famous name in the history of Bagdad was Rashid: the Caliph Haroun-al-Rashid of Arabian Nights fame, the wise Caliph who went about among his people in disguise. And I suppose I was selected to open this unusual service from the American end because during the World War I happened to be associated, out in Arabia, with Emir Feisal, the companion of Lawrence of Arabia. After the war, my friend Feisal was made the first modern King of Bagdad, and now his son, King Ghazi of Iraq, rules in the city of the Caliphs.

"... Sitting high up in the tower of the Waldorf-Astoria, I heard the voice of Said Rashid, speaking to me direct from the region which historians believe was the original Garden of Eden. I mentioned to Mr. Rashid that his name was appropriate, the same as the great Caliph. And he replied that I was in an appropriate place, that

New York, our American Bagdad-on-the-Subway, our Bagdad with its towering skyscrapers, far exceeds even the tales of Aladdin in the 'Arabian Nights.'

"Here is the route that my words took as they went winging across the globe:—by short wave from New York to London; then relayed by short wave from London across Europe to Cairo; then by land wire from Africa, across the Suez Canal, to El Kantara, where Allenby had his great base camp during the war against the Turks and where I had lived; then by wire over the Sinai desert, where the children of Israel wandered for forty years, on to Gaza, home of Goliath and the Philistines and where Delilah cut off Sampson's hair and where Sampson pulled down the Temple; on north along the Palestine coast to Jaffa, seaport of King David and King Solomon, and where Jonah embarked on his voyage that ended in the stomach of the whale; on up to Haifa; then eastward through Palestine to Nazareth, home of the Saviour; and across the North Arabian desert to Bagdad.

John Deere Model "D" Economy

For smooth power on drawbar and belt, choose a John Deere Model "D". Here's a tractor that pulls four plows in most soils, three under practically all conditions, a big combine, and operates a 28-inch thrasher, with outstanding ease and smoothness. The two-cylinder engine, with its heavy reciprocating parts and sensitive governor, carries drawbar and belt loads through from one power impulse to another with the greatest uniformity. A straight-line transmission with no bevel gears to consume power, puts greater power on the drawbar; and belt pulley mounted right on the crankshaft delivers full engine power to all belt-driven machines. In simplicity, dependability, long life, and reliable power—in its ability to burn the low-cost fuels successfully—the John Deere Model "D" is in a class by itself. Come in and let us tell you about it.

REVIEWER HEARTILY APPROVES NEW BOB STEELE ACTION FARE

The Golden Girl Mine, owned jointly by Randall and Furman, suffers great losses when their gold shipments, made by stage, are constantly being held up. The only clue is White Peril, a horse owned by Jo, daughter of Randall who is a full owner of the Lazy R Ranch. This white horse is ridden by the Masked Chief at every holdup, and it is well known that no one is able to ride the horse but Jo herself.

Into this gripping mystery comes young Bob McArthur, Sheriff's deputy, who hires himself out to the Lazy R. Peters, the foreman, is very helpful, answering all questions and giving Bob all cooperation in his efforts to round up the stage robbers. Finally Bob, in desperation, has his own horse follow White Peril to the outlaw's hide-out, only to find himself captured.

We won't tell you who the Masked Chief really is, because that would spoil the fun, but we'll warn you that "Ridin' the Lone Trail" is as exciting a western as we've seen in many a day, and we recommend it heartily to one and all.

Claire Rochelle ably handles the leading feminine role, and the supporting parts are played by Charles

King, Ernie Adams, Lew Meehan, Julian Rivero, Steve Clark, Hal Price and Frank Ball.

The picture is based on an original by E. B. Mann, and was adapted for the screen by Charles Francis Royal. Sam Newfield directed.

SCRIPTURE PUZZLE

God made Adam out of dust
But thought it best to make me first
So I was made before the man
To answer God's most holy plan

My body he did make complete
But without legs, arms or feet
But my ways and actions did control
And I was made without a soul

A living being I became
Twas Adam that gave to me my name
Then from his presence I withdrew
Nor more of Adam ever knew

I did my makers laws obey
From them I never went astray
Thousands of miles I ran I fear
But seldom on the earth appear

But God in me did something see
And put a living soul in me
A son of me my God did claim
And took from me my soul again

But when from me my soul was fled
I was the same as when just made
And without hand or feet or soul
I travel now from pole to pole

I labor hard both day and night
To fallen men I give great light
Thousand people both young and old
Will by my death great light behold

No fear of death doth trouble me
For happenings I cannot see
To heaven I shall never go
Nor to the grave nor hell below

The scripture I cannot believe
If right or wrong I can't conceive
Although my name therein is found
They are to me an empty sound

And now my friends these lines you read
And search the scriptures with all speed
And if my name you do not find there
I'll think it strange I must declare.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

BY
DR. JAMES T. MARSHALL

SEVENTY TIMES SEVEN

Peter wanted to know how far he should go in forgiving an offending brother. Should it be as much as seven times? He thought this a very liberal suggestion, but our Lord replied, "Not seven times, but seventy times seven." This was His way of saying that there can be no limits to the spirit of forgiveness.

Human beings have always found it hard to forgive offenses on the part of their fellows. This is graphically portrayed in the Parable of the Unmerciful Servant who obtained the cancellation of a great debt owed to his master, and then went straight out and took a fellow servant by the throat because he was unable to pay him a debt of slight proportions.

The spirit of hatred and retaliation is abroad in the world today. There is no uglier trait in human character than the disposition to nurse personal grievances and to "get even" with those who have wronged us. We all know people who say with an air of self-righteousness, "I can forgive, but I cannot forget." Such persons have an uncomfortable time when they come to the fifth petition of the Lord's Prayer, "Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors," and a still more uncomfortable time with the comment which He added, "If ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses." (Matt. 6:15).

The spirit of hatred and retaliation has thoroughly poisoned our international relations and thrown contempt upon the Savior's ideal of brotherly love, until we seem farther than ever from the realization of a warless world.

Prof. Sorokin of Harvard calls the twentieth century and declares that "the average man of the thirteenth century had 6,500 more chances to die peacefully in bed than has his descendant in the twentieth."

Years ago Louis Bonaparte said, "War is but an organized barbarism, and an inheritance of the savage state, however disguised or ornamented." This is being powerfully illustrated in both Spain and China today where the latest engines of destruction are being used in the ruthless slaughter of helpless women and children. If this insane brutality is allowed to go "War is but an organized barbarism, on unchecked, civilization will itself be destroyed and ought to be."

There is no final cure for hatred and the forgiving spirit except in the return of humanity to the principles of the Prince of Peace who died that we might be forgiven and laid the foundations of the Kingdom of God whose supreme law is the law of Love. We may take encouragement from the fact that the Government and the people of the United States are honestly committed to the divine program of "peace on earth and good will toward men."

Grass is Good ...if

Grass is good if cows can get enough of it. But when it's old and tough they don't eat it readily and when pasture dries up, it's impossible for cows to get enough grass to fill their requirements for body maintenance and milk production. Don't take chances. Feed a regular ration of Larro and good hay along with your pasture. You'll have healthier cows and get the steady daily milk yields that mean bigger profits.

NEW FARMERS HEAR SPEAKER

Regional High School Group
Holds Father-Son Banquet

The New Farmers of America, an Agricultural organization at the Regional High School staged its annual Father-Son Banquet Friday, May 20, 1938, with nearly 100 persons present.

The N.F.A.'s had as their guest speaker, Prof. George W. Owens, Virginia State College. Mr. Owens gave a very interesting and encouraging talk on the Agricultural set-up in the State of Virginia. He spoke of what fine work the Department here was doing, and now pleased he was that so many boys were enrolled in the several Agricultural classes. He also made mention of the fact of the farm shop being one of the best in the State. We should be justly proud since Mr. Owens has opportunity of visiting all departments in the State.

Other guests present who had a word of encouragement for us were: Dr. J. D. Williams, Dr. S. J. Lewis, Lawyer J. W. White, and Mr. R. C. Lewis from Prince William County, Mr. T. C. Tyler from Fauquier County, and Prof. L. C. Moore from Fairfax County.

Prof. H. D. Logan, our Agricultural Instructor gave a summary of the years work. He also spoke of the cooperative N. F. A. projects, on the school farm, for practical training.

Others from four counties: Prince William, Fairfax, Fauquier, and Rappahannock counties were present. Moses Poles, president of the local chapter was Master of Ceremonies for the occasion, and John Jackson read the accomplishments for the year.

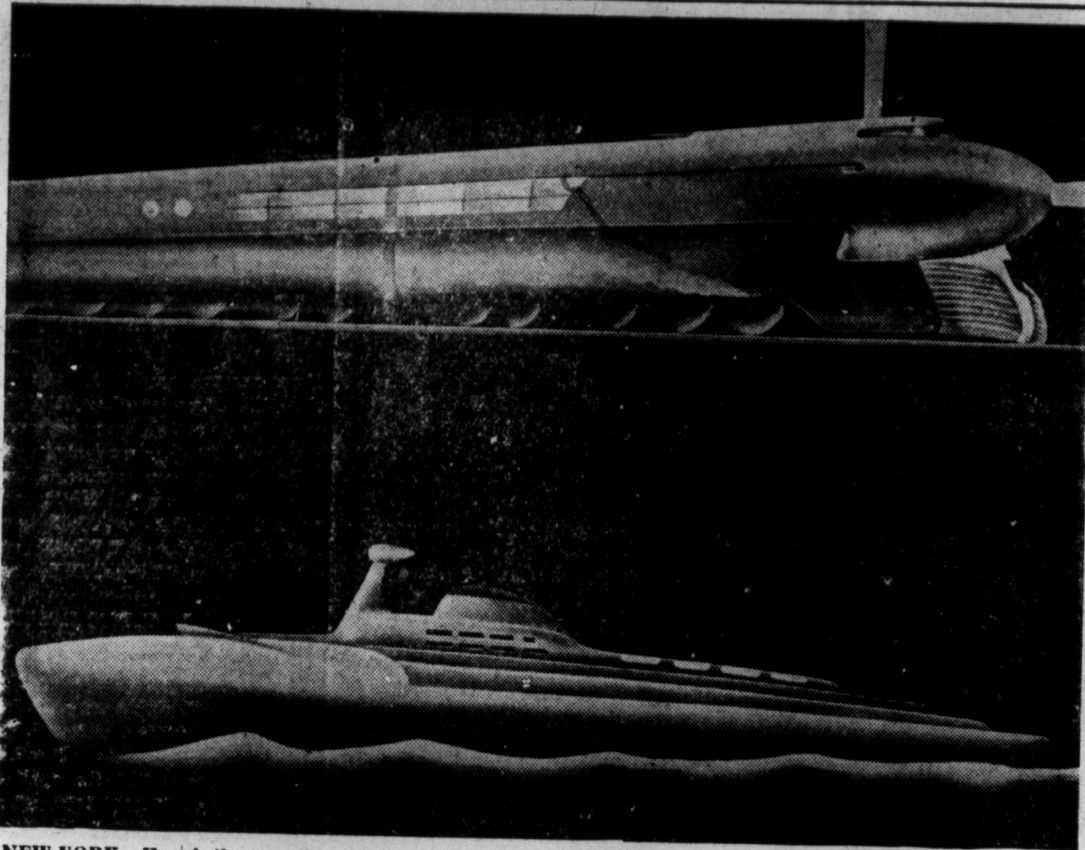

PATRONS PLEASSED BY PUPILS

The patrons of Waterfall and Thoroughfare were greatly gratified by the splendid showing made by their school this year in unit activities. The work received many favorable comments on Achievement Day, May 13th. Out of a possible score of 100 the Antioch-North Fork School received 90. Of the two three-teachers schools the score made by Antioch was the highest.

Among the one teacher schools, Summit near Occoquan received 90 also.

We think possibly that the rating

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF "VIRGINIA TREES"

"Written by one who knows the Virginia forests intimately, this pioneer book on Virginia trees may be expected to have considerable usefulness within its range, which, of course, extends beyond the borders of the state. Presumably other volumes are to follow, describing Virginia's great wealth of deciduous trees."—Science News Letter.

"Permit me to compliment you on this fine contribution to the botany of Virginia. Indeed it is more than a contribution to botany, since you not only have a great wealth of botanical detail here, but also a mass of historical, economic, ecological and agricultural data that is of great value for reference and also makes very interesting and profitable reading. I shall anticipate the appearance of further volumes in this series with eagerness."—William A. Dayton, Ecologist, U. S. Forest Service, Washington.

"I think you have done remarkably well and have produced a little volume which is a distinct contribution to our knowledge of the tree flora of Virginia. I note with pleasure that Volume II is in preparation, and I have no doubt that it will maintain the same high standard that you have set in Volume I."—Dr. H. Gleason, Acting Director, New York Botanical Garden.

"Congratulations on your book. It is an admirable piece of work and will bring Virginia where she should be, at the head of the list. I know that it will be my bible on any forest type mapping projects in that State."—Frank H. Miller, Assistant Forester in Charge of Type Mapping, Region One, National Park Service.

"Your book is extremely interesting"—Dr. J. Shelton Horsley, Past President, Virginia Academy of Science.

"I have had an opportunity to look through the book very carefully, so I am writing to let you know that I was greatly interested in it, and think that it is a book of real value. It certainly taught me a great deal that I did not know about Virginia trees. One thing I like is that, although it is technically accurate, the information is given in a way that can be understood by anyone who is interested in trees."—Bishop Harry St. George Tucker.

"I congratulate you on your splendid book." Senator Harry Flood Byrd.

"I have looked over your book with a great deal of interest and I think it should serve a very valuable aid in extending better knowledge of Virginia trees. I hope that you will be able to complete the proposed series without delay."—Dr. Raymond J. Pool, Chairman of the Department of Botany, University of Nebraska.

Virginia Trees, Volume 1, by William Harrison Lamb, Manassas, Va., is published by the Manassas Journal Manassas, Virginia. Price $2.50, postpaid.
