HISTORIC TRACT OPENED FOR HOMES

Mt. Hope Sale Next Saturday
Arouses Wide-spread Interest

On Saturday, June 11, a land sale will be held at Centreville which opens for home development a site of great natural advantage and of historic interest. The village is one of the oldest in northern Virginia, being known in colonial times as "Newgate". Its importance as a road intersection and stage coach stop was such that it became the largest community in Fairfax County before the War between the States.

The natural beauty and high altitude of Centreville Ridge, which now so greatly enhances the locality as a place of residence, was recognized by Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy and a truly great army engineer. He visited the place, as did General Lee and Stonewall Jackson, and here they located the spear head of the Confederate defenses. So well did they plan these fortifications, and so perfectly were their ideas developed by General Joseph E. Johnston, who actually built the forts, that throughout the war, neither side would attack the other when intrenched on Centreville Ridge. It was the type of defense by which the Germans were held at Verdun in the World War.

One of the most colorful military spectacles ever witnessed in modern times was the grand review of the Confederate Army which took place in Centreville on November 29, 1861, and one of the most daring personal exploits of any war, culminated at Centreville, when General Mosby made his way through the Centreville forts with his prisoner, General Stoughton, whom he had taken from within the Federal lines at Fairfax.

The only house in the United States, twice used as military headquarters in major engagements of contending armies, is at Centreville, where the marker, placed by the National Park Service reads, "Manassas Battlefield Park—The house 400 feet east is 'Royal Oaks'." General Daniel Roberdeau built it before the Revolution. It was the headquarters of General McDowell for a time during the first Manassas Campaign in July, 1861, and of General Pope during the second campaign in August, 1862. The bodies of soldiers of the Colonial Wars, of the Revolution, and of the Civil War are said to be buried in the yard."

Pilgrimage Set For July 16

Much interest is being shown in the Pilgrimage to the historic spots in the Northern Neck on Thursday, June 16, 1938. This Pilgrimage is being sponsored by the Garden Section of the Woman's Club of Manassas for the Monroe Birthplace Monument Association. The objective of this association is to raise funds to erect a suitable marker at the birthplace of James Monroe, fifth President of the United States, who was born at Monroe Hall, a few miles from Colonial Beach, Virginia.

The tickets for the tour may be purchased from Mrs. C. Wade-Dalton, Mrs. C. B. Linton, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd or Mrs. T. J. Broadus in Manassas or at the Monroe Law Office in Fredericksburg.

Reservations for transportation may be made by calling Mrs. C. Wade-Dalton. The expenses of the trip will be shared by the occupants of each car. Those having extra space in cars are also requested to notify Mrs. Dalton. It is most important that reservations be made as soon as possible.

The party will leave Manassas from the home of Mrs. C. Wade-Dalton at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, June 16, 1938, follow the route as outlined, and meet at Wakefield, where picnic tables have been arranged, at 12:00 Noon for picnic lunch. (Each person is responsible for his own lunch). From here the regular route will be followed to Waverly, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lomax Hunter, where the party will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter for tea from 3 to 5 p.m.

ALUMNI ASSIST LIBRARY MOVE

Miss Eugenia Will Act in Organizing Capacity

The neophytes of 1938 were duly escorted into the ancient and honorable ranks of Manassas High Alumni on Saturday evening at exercises following the annual alumni banquet.

First OD batted for Rev. Joe and gave the blessing for a most inviting repast. Then the survivors of 1905 got off their customary rah-rah-rah, and the dinner was on.

When this very pleasant feature had become history, the president, Mrs. Frances Saunders rose to welcome the alumni, both old and new, and the many guests who were present for the occasion.

In calling the roll by years, it was found that two members of '96 (the first class) were present, namely Mrs. Norma Davies and Mrs. Gulick.

An enjoyable discussion was entered into by Miss Eugenia who plans to form an organization to aid the Library. The matter was enthusiastically endorsed by the group present and Miss Eugenia named acting secretary.

The next event was various individuals and sections of the Class of 1938 being interviewed by St. Peter (Lucy Gibson) and Gabriel (Dorothy Linton), at the pearly gates. With the exceptions of the glee club and their apple tree selection and Miss Emily, senior class teacher, mighty few were able to crash said gates. Their separate and respective downfalls were the subject of much glee.

Mrs. E. D. Williamson read some original poems, both of serious and humorous nature. They were encored lustily.

A bucolic play featuring Lacey Compton with the villains whiskers and Wheatley Johnson, as the rheumatic but determined father of little Ivy (Marion Lewis) brought about gales of laughter not excelled by the episode of the light house from which some of the actors, especially Jim Davies, who are not yet unwrapt from stair running. Miss Pauline Smith, the realistic mother, seemed to be the only one that knew anything about her script, and she did fine.

After this hectic event was over, the nominating committee brought in its recommendations, (accepted unanimously) which were as follows: President, Mrs. Frances Saunders; Vice-president, Lacey Compton; Secretary, Miss Marion Wells; Treasurer, Miss Mary Pattie, and members executive committee, Miss Nancy Waters and John Waters.

Then with a silent moment for the alumni who have passed on the singing of Auld Lang Syne, the evening closed. It was one of the best both in point of attendance, the supper, and entertainment that has yet been staged by an alumni group here.

These present included the following:

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. (See ALUMNI, page 8.)

Occoquan High Graduates Nineteen

Commencement exercises at Occoquan High closed on the evening of May 31 st with the presentation of diplomas to a fine class of boys and girls whose picture appears in another column.

Previous to this the annual church services were held on Sunday evening at the school with Rev. Walter Wolf, of the Arlington Presbyterian church delivering the address. Dr. C. A. Langston, of Pohick Episcopal church, and Rev. F. L. Morrison, of the Occoquan Circuit, M. E. Church, South, assisted in the exercises.

The graduation presented special features such as addresses by members of the graduating class; namely Carlton Post (Introduction); Elzora Allen (Mechanical gadgets and spiritual values); Cecilia Markle (Education by a changing civilization); Cynthia Lacey (several piano solos) and singing by the glee club (several numbers).

Dr. Langston gave both the invocation and the benediction. Carlton Post was master of ceremonies in the presentation of awards. The diplomas were distributed by Superintendent R. C. Haydon.

U.D.C. REPORT GOOD FOR MANASSAS

Chapter Actively Placing Literary Works

The Manassas Chapter U. D. C. held its June meeting at the home of Mrs. William Hill Brown, Mrs. Stewart McBride assisting hostess.

The guests on arrival were escorted to the dining room and served delicious punch, Mrs. Lomas presiding at the bowl. The attendance was large, including Mrs. Kasehagen from Washington. Guests present were Mrs. R. T. Johnson, Mrs. William Hill Brown, Jr., and William Hill the 3rd.

The names of Mrs. Mary A. Kingla, and Mrs. R. T. Johnson were presented for membership—the registrar, Mrs. Knox, was instructed to send them application blanks.

Mrs. Carper led the salute to the U. S. flag, and Mrs. Hutchison the salute to the Confederate flag, after which Dixie was sung.

Mrs. W. A. Newman, Historian, announced "Iron" as the industrial topic for consideration, and some interesting facts concerning it were given. A tribute to Jefferson Davis, written in 1870 was read, also one to Robert E. Lee.

The president announced the chapter had placed in the Library a copy of "Confederate Leaders", by Miss Sallie Dickenson.

Mrs. Hutchison told the chapter she was placing in the Library a memorial edition of "The Rise and Fall of The Confederate Government" by Jefferson Davis, in honor of Rev. Westwood Hutchison.

Mrs. Byrd gave a very fine and comprehensive report of the Culpeper District Meeting, and received the thanks of the Chapter for the same. Nine members from the Chapter were in attendance, and all were enthusiastic about the meeting.

Mrs. Hutchison read extracts from a letter she had recently received from Mrs. Berkeley G. Calfee of Culpeper, paying high tribute to the Manassas Chapter.

Arrangements were completed for the memorial exercises June the third. It was regretted that our only living veteran (Mr. Robert Cushing) could not be present on that occasion.

At the close of the business session, the social hour, and the lovely and refreshing dessert course served by the hostesses, assisted by "Bo" Williams, were much enjoyed by all.

MRS. E. B. ROLAND KILLED IN CRASH

Miss Irene Florance Also Dies Of Injuries

"Injured in two automobile accidents within a half an hour, Mrs. E. B. Roland, 27, of Haymarket, Va., died last night at Rockingham Memorial Hospital, where nine other victims of the two accidents were receiving treatment for injuries of varying degrees.

Mrs. Roland was first injured when the north bound automobile, driven by her brother, Henry R. Florence, collided almost head-on with a south-bound automobile, driven by Frank Riddleberger, of Mt. Crawford, on the hill just south of the Mt. Crawford bridge. While being brought to the hospital here in an automobile driven by Joseph Chaya, of Grotoes, the car was sideswiped and badly wrecked on the Stone Spring Hill south of Harrisonburg. She died shortly after she was admitted to the hospital.

Miss Florance was reported to be the most seriously injured at an early hour this morning, while Mr. and Mrs. Riddleberger and their children were said to be getting along as well as could be expected. Slemple Layman, the fifth occupant of the Riddleberger machine, was still unconscious early today. Young Florence was resting well after having his arm set.

The Florance and Riddleberger machines collided just over the brow of the hill south of the River Canyon Cabins at the Mt. Crawford bridge, the Florance automobile being hurled to a fence forty feet away, and catching on fire and the Riddleberger machine coming to rest on the highway almost completely wrecked.

A passing truck driver put out the flames of the Florance machine and passersby pulled his two sisters from the wreckage of the automobile. Florance and his two sisters were returning from Virginia Tech at Blacksburg where the former had received his diploma yesterday.

Mrs. Roland was picked up by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Chaya, of Grotoes, who were returning from Harrisonburg with the injured woman when their machine was sideswiped by a south bound car driven by Richard N. Driver, of Waynesboro, as the latter was attempting to pass another southbound car on the Stone Spring Hill. Mrs. Chaya, who was holding the injured woman on her (See CRASH, page 5.)

PLEDGES DEVOTION TO NATIONAL WELFARE AND TO WISHES OF HIS CONSTITUENCY

To the Democratic Voters of the 8th Congressional District:

I announce my candidacy for re-election to Congress from the Eighth Congressional District, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held on August 2, 1938.

This is the first time since 1930 that I have had opposition in the primary for renomination, and I take this occasion to thank my friends and supporters for their continued confidence.

The young man who opposes me and who announced his candidacy immediately upon his return to this country, after a residence in Germany, offers no record of public service; no knowledge of the problems of our State; no legislative experience; and no platform other than a willingness to be 100 per cent subservient to the will of others. This may be in accord with the German system of Government but will not, I believe, appeal to the people of Virginia.

I have never offered for public office on the platform that I had no principles worth risking my political fate for, no independence of judgment worth fighting for; and no conscience worth living with. I never will.

He contents himself with an attack upon my record in Congress. It has been the traditional habit of the voters in the Eighth District to elect their Congressman on his own merits and accomplishments rather than on the shortcomings of his opponents. When mud-slinging becomes the chief qualification of a candidate for public office, I shall not offer to compete.

I have lived in the Eighth District all my life. I have been in public life for thirty years in different capacities, and my record, good or bad, is well known to the greater number of people whose votes I seek. I could not conceal it or change it if I wished, and I do not wish to do so. On the contrary, I am proud of that record and I stand ready to defend it at all times.

I have voted the Democratic ticket (See RE-ELECTION, page 8.)

Young Democrats Meet at Occoquan

The Prince William Young Democrats met Tuesday night, June 7th, at Quantico, with the president, Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, presiding. The minutes of the last meeting, the membership chairman's report and the publicity chairman's report were read. The president then appointed an entertainment committee and a contract committee.

Mr. W. Hill Brown, Jr., introduced the speaker, Mr. James King, chairman of the Eighth District, who gave an interesting address defining the Young Democratic organization. He was highly complimentary of the exceptional work done by the Prince William Club during the membership campaign contest in obtaining 600 members.

After the meeting the club members adjourned to the home of Mr. Pete Pandazides where they enjoyed a pleasant social hour.

The following Manassas members attended the meeting: Mrs. Mary Pope, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hill Brown, Jr., Miss Margaret Lynch, Miss Ellen Bissan, and Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor.

THE CO-OPERATIVE EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN OPENS

(Contributed)

On last Sunday evening the long planned and much advertised Cooperative Evangelistic Campaign, sponsored by a group of Manassas ministers, backed by a splendid Laymen's Co-operative Committee and a fine group of women, opened at the Methodist Church with a packed auditorium and balcony. The song leader, Mr. Johnson, of Washington, conducted a live song service and then the famed evangelist took charge. And say, did he take charge—no such preaching has ever been heard in Manassas—it was not man speaking, but man under the leadership of God's eternal spirit weaving and interweaving His Word, the Bible, into a discourse that sparkled with brilliancy and throbbed with a mighty dynamic and pulsated with compassion for the lost. The people sat as in a trance as the evangelist unfolded God's redemptive plan. The effect was wonderful. The great crowd went away from the church saying surely no mistake was made in selecting the evangelist for this meeting.

The preachers are happy at the way the people are coming and they say that their faith in the people of Manassas is vindicated. Everything is being done that is humanly possible to make the meeting the greatest ever held here. A public address system is installed in an automobile and it tours the countryside urging the people to attend. A splendid choir is assisting with great congregational singing of the old hymns of the church. Polite ushers are on the job to see that every one has as good a seat as possible and a hymn book that he may sing. Arrangements are completed that the overflow may be taken care of in other rooms of the church where all may hear and have part through a direct public address system. Electric fans are being installed to care for the folks in the balconies. The preachers are anticipating every need and providing for them in advance.

Services will be held each evening during the week except Monday, which is rest night. The Song service opens promptly at 7:5 p.m. Everyone who will assist with the music is invited to attend and get in the large choir. Brother Dan will preach at 8:15 each evening. The attendance is encouraging thus far these week day evenings and bids fair to overflow the church. It will not be long until it will be that you will have to come early to get a seat. Every Christian is most cordially invited to attend and participate in this service.

Visitors from Washington and all about here in attendance. Preachers from the towns throughout the northern part of Virginia are coming and getting fire that they might scatter it in a great revival. Now is surely the time for every lover of God and humanity to go to work to save people. Attend the meeting.

LAYMEN MEET AT HAYMARKET

About 150 Episcopal Church laymen of Prince William, Fairfax and Arlington Counties met on Thursday evening, June 2, at the Parish Hall, Haymarket. Bishop Goodwin and Rev. Cary Montague, city missionary of Richmond, were the leading speakers. General Rufus Lane, of Falls Church, was the presiding officer.

With Parson Miller, of St. George's, Ballston, and George Robey, layman, of Truro Parish, to lead and Walter, Oliver, of Fairfax, at the piano, a number of club songs were sung with vigor.

The ladies not only served a gorgeous supper but brought in a soprano gallery for the song period.

Bishop Goodwin praised the gathering in no uncertain language for its loyalty and earnestness. He introduced Mr. Montague, who gave a most interesting picture of his work among the unfortunates and criminals of the Richmond City.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the following were elected for the coming year; Chairman, N. P. Young, of Truro Parish, vice chairman, W. Frank Humme; secretary-treasurer, R. D. Wharton, the last two named being from Upper Truro Parish.

On invitation, the group will meet with St. Mary's Church, Livingstone Heights, in the autumn, the date being somewhere around December 1st.

You American Legionnaires, Kiwanians, and other patriots, it is time now you would act and get the State Board of Education to declare Washington's Birthday a holiday in all the schools in Virginia. Some of the schools have been observing this day as a holiday, but there are others in which Communistic or other unpatriotic influences have been undermining the minds of our youth; and of course where those influences are at work neither Washington's Birthday nor even the flag of our country "Old Glory" will long be revered. Write your State Board of Education, and the Governor of the State and demand that your children be taught patriotism in the public schools, and do this without delay, else it will be too late.

New Virginia Speed Law Aims at Safer Highways

Commissioner Battle Sees Strict Supervision

Promotion of highway safety thru enforcement of the State's new speed limit law, which becomes effective 21, and better education of drivers is anticipated as result of the fourth annual state-wide safety conference held in Norfolk last week. The Virginia division of Motor vehicles and the State Board of Education are co-operating with the Virginia Polytechnic Institute in a special summer course for high school teachers desiring to become instructors in driving and pedestrian practices. The course will be held at V. P. I. from June 9 to July 15 and teachers will be given training in classroom work as well as road practices.

Among the definite recommendations made at the safety conference were: More rigid enforcement of traffic laws, both on the highway and in the city, particularly with reference to speeding drivers and drivers' examinations; elimination of "ticket fixing" as one of the most effective means of bringing offenders to court for punishment; greater and more attractive programs safety education in all fields; and stronger and more direct means of interesting workers and automobile drivers in the conceptions of personal safety and the rights of others.

Representing Governor James H. Price, Colonel LeRol Hodges, State Comptroller, called particular attention to traffic safety, declaring that "we've not only got to educate for safety, we've got to enforce the law with a stronger hand. We can cut that mortality on the highways down by bringing offenders in court, and the day of the ticket fixer has got to go." Colonel Hodges cited statistics to show that the estimated cost of all accidents in Virginia (as compiled by the National Safety Council) was $70,000,000 in 1937—an amount almost equal to the State's annual budget. The 786 persons killed on Virginia highway last year compared to 839 in 1935 but the 163 killed in the first quarter of this year compared with 157 in the same period last. If he had any program to offer, Colonel Hodges continued, it would be to cut down the speed at which cars race along the highways, require the dimming of headlights when meeting and silence automobile horns in cities.

Colonel Marion S. Battle, director of the division of motor vehicles, has announced that the new law regulating speed limits would be enforced rigidly when it becomes effective June 21. Top speed limit is 55 miles per hour for passenger cars, 50 for passenger-carrying busses, 45 for trucks and 35 for school busses carrying children.

In an address at the Norfolk conference that was filled with suggestions for law enforcement, Judge John Gutknecht of the Chicago municipal court said that "carelessness causes accidents, but the driver who has had one or two drinks, 'is reflexes,' the Judge remarked, 'are weaker and when he gets to the hole in the traffic it is not there. He could not be called drunk even by a medical examination, so the best way to handle the liquor problem is to enforce speed regulations.'"

The State's highway death toll was 196 for the first five months of this year and so far for June five deaths have occurred in automobile accidents.

CHAUFFEURS' LICENSES FOR THE PERIOD JULY 1, 1938, TO JUNE 30, 1939.

Applications for the above period will be accepted and licenses issued on and after June 1st. Renewal chauffeurs' licenses will only be issued to those persons who have been issued a chauffeur's license for the period ending June 30, 1938. All persons desiring chauffeurs' licenses who are not licensed for the period ending June 30, 1938, must pass the required examination.

Applications for original chauffeurs' licenses received on or after June 16th will be issued for the license period beginning July 1st. All applications for original chauffeurs' licenses which you accept on your examination day prior to June 16th are to be forwarded to this office immediately that they may be cleared and chauffeurs' licenses issued for the current license period.

Chauffeurs' licenses for a three-year period will not be issued this year.

JUDGE SMITH'S ANNOUNCEMENT

It is a pleasure to carry on our front page the announcement of Hon. Howard W. Smith's candidacy for renomination in the August Primary as the Democratic choice for Congressman for the Eighth District of Virginia.

Judge Smith has been filling this responsible position to the satisfaction of a constituency which is deeply appreciative of his distinguished services as their legislative representative in Washington. He is a loyal Democrat, a true Virginian, a gentleman of the old school, and a hard working friend of the people. Through his own ability he has achieved business and political success, and in his devotion to the general welfare of the counties of Virginia districted to his care, and his solicitude for the prosperity of the South, he has demonstrated his fitness for this position and fully justified the confidence reposed in him.

During the present session of Congress he has earned the everlasting gratitude of Virginians, and Southerners generally, for the steadfastness with which he has withstood the determined effort which a Northern majority has been making to destroy the industrial prosperity of the States south of the Potomac. As an influential member of the powerful Rules Committee he has stood in the legislative front line trenches until Southern anger, slow to rise, has finally asserted itself to such an extent that effective anti-southern legislation, although backed by an overwhelming combination of Northern Democrats and Republicans, cannot now achieve its unfair objectives in the few days which probably remain of the present Session.

Judge Smith is not a Democrat of the rubber stamp variety. He votes for what he believes will benefit the Eighth Congressional District of Virginia, and he does not fear to oppose that which he believes would harm the counties of Virginia which he represents. In times of Party strife, when criticism of Democratic policies would give comfort and support to the enemies of his Party, he has stood shoulder to shoulder with the Administration. At other times he has given the Party the benefit of his fine powers of discernment of what is good and what may be harmful in legislation. Where he has sincerely believed that experimental proposals would eventually retard recovery from business depression, he has not hesitated to vote accordingly, never placing political expediency above the public welfare.

We urge our readers to study Judge Smith's announcement. His culture, modesty and restraint are manifested throughout the statement, but without there is presented an accounting of his stewardship which may be viewed with pride by every voter of the Eighth Congressional District. During a very difficult and critical period we have been represented in Washington in a manner deserving of the gratitude of all Virginians, and the overwhelming vote which Judge Smith will receive on August 2 will testify to the high esteem in which he is held throughout his District and will voice deep appreciation of his valuable public service.

Dear Editors:

Books. Many more books. That is the present urgent need of the Ruffner-Carnegie Library, so effectively stressed by the alert and efficient Librarian, at the Manassas High School Alumni Banquet last Saturday evening.

Miss Eugenia Osborn's idea of having an active organization known as the Friends of the Library was enthusiastically received by the alumni present. It is, indeed, a most excellent proposal.

Not only should the alumni become members, but all citizens of Manassas and Prince William County should consider it a privilege to participate in this work.

The fitness of the Librarian for her task, and the never-failing enthusiasm she brings to her endeavors—these provide added reasons for everyone enrolling.

Now is the time to join, while the idea is fresh in mind. I gladly send in my application, here and now, as a Friend of the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

Very truly yours,
Clarence Wagener.

"When should my Business BORROW?"

Borrowing is usually a wise policy when it will lead to new or increased business profits. Here are a few conditions under which a loan may prove profitable to your business:

1. To finance seasonal needs;
2. To modernize, or add, equipment;
3. To carry accounts receivable;
4. To earn cash discounts.

These are only a few of the many sound reasons for a commercial loan. We will be glad to discuss your requirements and, where warranted, to advance the needed funds.

lap, was injured in this crash and brought to the hospital. She was released later in the night.

Driver and Chaya suffered minor cuts and bruises while Timothy Burkholder, Harold Campbell and Winfred Showalter, all Waynesboro youths, who were riding with Driver, escaped injury. Driver was charged with careless and reckless driving and summoned to appear for a hearing here Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. Chaya was summoned but no charges were preferred against him.

Whether Mrs. Roland suffered serious injuries in the second accident could not be learned last night.

State Traffic Officer E. E. Kiser, after investigating the accident at Mt. Crawford, said last night that Riddleberger will be held on a charge of involuntary manslaughter. —Harrisonburg Daily Record, June 7, 1938.

In addition to her seriously injured brother and sister, Mrs. Roland is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Florence, of Gainesville, and by her husband, Mr. E. B. Roland, of Haymarket, who is the son of Mr. C. B. Roland, the Supervisor of Gainesville Magisterial District.

Funeral services are being conducted this afternoon by Rev. A. B. Sapp, at Gainesville and interment will be in the Gainesville Cemetery.

The tragic accident cast a deep gloom over the entire community, where the deceased had been a lifelong resident, an active worker in the Gainesville M. E. Church, and widely beloved for her sweet character and charming personality.

Centreville

An interesting relic of those stirring times is one of the insulators of General Pope's field telegraph, still attached to the last of the gigantic old white oak trees which gave the place its name in colonial times. This same glass insulator helped carry the fearful news to Washington of the route of the Federal army in the second Battle of Manassas, or "Bull Run" as the battle is called in Northern histories.

Many interesting legends abound in a place so old. Local tradition steadfastly adheres to a story that an expedition from England once came to Centreville with old maps, seeking a store of gold, a part of an army pay-roll, said to have been buried by General Braddock at Centreville in the chambers of two brass cannon.

For many years an old door was exhibited in one of the houses, still standing, through which it was said General Washington had a hole cut for greater ventilation of the room where he was spending the night. More recently, it is said, some enterprising souvener hunter, or thief, stole the door, hole and all.

With the building of the Warrenton Turnpike, the importance of the old Braddock Road began to decline. Centreville, however, became a changing place for the old stage coach line operated by "Extra" Billy Smith, once Governor of Virginia, and United States Senator. He was a kinsman of our present Congressman Howard W. Smith.

Centreville, or Newgate as the village was known in Colonial times, was always noted for its hospitality. A traveller named Davis, who wrote a book in 1808 on "Four and a Half Years in America" left this interesting comment:

"I prosecuted my walk to Newgate, where on the piazza of Mr. Thornton's tavern, I found a party of gentlemen from the neighboring plantations, carousing over a bowl of toddy and smoking cigars. No people could exceed these men in politeness. On my ascending the steps to the piazza, every countenance seemed to say, 'This man has a double claim to our attention, for he is a stranger in the place'. In a moment a place was made for one to sit down, a new bowl was called for, and every one who addressed me did it with a smile of conciliation. But no one asked where I had come or whether I was going. A gentlemen in every country is the same, and if good breeding consists in sentiment, it was found in the circle I had gotten into."

The old stage coach lines are gone and the Warrenton Turnpike has been deeded to the Commonwealth of Virginia as a sacred trust to be maintained as an arterial highway, now commemorating the beloved national hero, Robert Edward Lee, but tourists are still made welcome in Centreville. Every modern convenience now replaces the colonial facilities of olden days, but the welcome of the wayfarer stranger, is said to be just the same as it has always been through the span of two centuries.

Old residents of the community recount the fact that once before the village was laid off into streets. The War between the States inhibited this development; but now, as the gateway to the Manassas Battlefield Park, Centreville once more offers attractive building lots to prospective home builders. The streets of the new subdivision commemorate the stirring history of the community and the frontage of the Lee Highway makes them unusually accessible. The sale, as advertised elsewhere in this paper, is being conducted by R. Jackson Ratcliffe, Trustee, of Manassas. The present subdivision is a small part of the large farm now owned by Mrs. Irene Woltz, a descendant of the original land holders.

WOODBIDGE

Mr. L. B. Thornton, of Washington, was a week-end visitor of his sister, Mrs. R. H. Harvey.

Mrs. Pete Smith's brother, Mr. Erfels, of Back Bay, Virginia, spent Monday at her home here.

Mr. W. N. Carrick, of Seat Pleasant, Md., was a recent caller at the home of Mr. L. E. Strother. He says that Mrs. Carrick is not so well.

Detective Jimmie Kane, of the Fifth Precinct, Metropolitan Police, who brings his family down to visit his wife's sister, Mrs. Robert Sullivan, had a serious wreck a few days ago near Woodlawn, Fairfax County. Young Jack Kane suffered a fractured skull; little Bobbie had severe lacerations about the face and another son, Edward, was badly banged up, several ribs being fractured. Mrs. Kane's arm was broken and her mother, Mrs. Nora Rolls, sustained a broken hip. Kane, who was driving, was only slightly injured, although badly shaken up by the collision.

Re-election

consistently. I have been active in the councils of my party for 30 years. During that time I have attended the Democratic State Conventions and the Councils of the Democratic Party as well as hundreds of Democratic Rallies and have never seen my opponent at any of them.

When experience in the affairs of the Country qualified me to seek a seat in Congress, it was not necessary for me to establish a voting residence to determine in what Congressional District I should become a candidate.

I believe in a liberal Democratic Party; I believe in sound principles of government; I believe that no government can long survive without sound money, sane expenditures and a proper respect for the Constitutional limitations placed upon the Congress by the founders of our government. I believe in George Washington's admonition to avoid entanglements with European nations; I believe in a firm adherence to the Monroe Doctrine and allowing Europe to settle her own wars; I believe in a rigid enforcement and strengthening of our restrictive immigration and deportation laws. I am opposed to extending public relief from the treasury of our taxpayers to thousands of aliens in this country. I believe that the agricultural interests of our country should be put on a better parity with the industrial and manufacturing interests. I have tried without fear or favor to reflect these principles in my votes. I have voted for all administration farm bills, the Security Exchange Bill, the Social Security Bill, the Utility Holding Company Act, the Banking bills, The tariff Trade Agreement Bills, the Economy Act, the Neutrality Act, Farm Tenancy, Home Owners Loan Act, Federal Housing and a host of other liberal and progressive legislation.

It is my belief that my people sent me here to be a Congressman in the real sense of the word, and not a mere automaton; I have been elected to Congress by my people four times and never ran on a platform of promises. When I first ran in 1930, I made one campaign promise and only one, which I now quote:

"I will not pledge my support blindfolded to any unknown measures, to any person, on any subject, but will use my best judgment and discretion after careful study and consideration, and vote for such measures as I believe to be in the interest of the welfare of our country and in conformity with the wishes of my constituents."

I repeat that promise now.

Respectfully,
Howard W. Smith.

A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY

After returning home, June 7, from a few days' visit at Centreville, Miss Melverine Mauck was very much surprised to find that a party was being given in honor of her eighteenth birthday.

When Melverine walked in the unlighted house, there were approximately thirty persons to greet her. Because she was so surprised and the shock so great, it was necessary for Melverine to take some ammonia.

There were many beautiful gifts piled high waiting for Melverine. After she opened the gifts and thanked everyone for them, the happy group played games both indoors and outdoors.

The refreshments — punch and sandwiches, ice cream and cake, mints and nuts were most delicious. After the serving of refreshments, there were some who danced until they wished many, many more happy birthdays for Melverine and went home.

Those who enjoyed the evening with Miss Mauck were: Rachel May, Lettie May, Mildred Vance, Aileen Hinton, Anna Buracker, Mildred Roseberry, Dorothy Rollins, Sara Senseney, Lillian Mauck, Edith Mauck, Thelma Kline, Naomi Mauck, Katherine Jacobs, William Anthony, Johnny Wells, Randolph Kite, Kite Roseberry, Paul Kline, Robert Mauck, Melvin Mauck, Arlie Vance, Everett Kline, Harry Jacobs, Clarence Varner, Harold Mauck, Alvin Mauck, Herman Buraker, Elliot Howe, Mrs. Gladys Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Mauck.

HENRY DOUGLAS MERCHANT

Henry Douglas Merchant, age 45, passed away at Mt. Alto Hospital, on June 4, after a painful illness which he had borne with great fortitude. He was a native of Prince William County, the son of Walter and Roberta Merchant, and was born August 27, 1892.

Mr. Merchant possessed a lovable personality and was esteemed by an unusually wide circle of friends. He was a railroad locomotive engineer, highly regarded by the Southern Railway, and his popularity among his associates was attested by a delegation of one hundred Railway employees and executives who were designated to be present at the funeral. Children loved him dearly and his passing was the occasion of widespread sorrow throughout the county.

He is survived by two brothers, Malcolm, of Burke, and Wilmer, of Manassas; and by five sisters, one of whom, Mrs. Joan Smart, of Washington, was his twin. The other sisters are Mrs. Yates Nalls and Mrs. Silas Lillard, of Alexandria; Mrs. Bess Dombhart, of Charlotte, N. C.; and Mrs. Anna White, of Baltimore.

Mr. Merchant married Miss Vera Harlow, of Burke, on June 19, 1921. Mrs. Merchant and three children survive. The children are Mildred Thornton, Douglas Walker, and Vera Rose.

Funeral services were conducted from Trinity Episcopal Church, Manassas, by Rev. A. Stuart Gibson. The deceased was an active member of this church which stands upon ground donated by his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weir.

Active pallbearers were fellow members of the American Legion. They included Dr. Stewart McBryde, Dr. V. V. Gillum, Rev. John DeChant, Edgar Parrish and Frank Browning. The honorary pall bearers were Messrs. D. J. Arrington, Hawes Davies, Sr., and M. J. Hottle.

Interment was in the Manassas cemetery where the deceased received full military honors from American Legion Post 158.

SUMMER AND TYPHOID

Each summer thousands of people go out to the woods and streams for pleasure. In this departure from the established custom of civilized living, many of us are prone to forget our safe custom of sanitation and really "go native", depositing our waste in the most convenient place and drinking water from springs and runs which may be heavily polluted. Most of us get by with this, but there is always a goodly number who must pay for our carelessness by sickness. The most common diseases spread by contaminated water are bacillary dysentery and typhoid fever. There are enough of these cases occurring in Prince William County each summer to indicate that it is a very serious problem.

These diseases, typhoid fever and bacillary dysentery, (summer complaint), can be largely prevented by adherence to the following simple rules:

1. Never drink water unless you know that it comes from an approved source. If there is any doubt as to the purity of the water, it may be rendered safe for drinking by boiling it.

2. The simple rules of sanitation should be followed. Body wastes should be disposed of in such a manner that they will not pollute a stream or be accessible to flies.

3. All campers, tourists, bathers, or any others who eat or drink at roadside stands or small hotels are strongly urged to take typhoid vaccine. This is given in three weekly doses and should be repeated every three years. To be on the safe side during the coming "typhoid season", one should take the typhoid "shots" which will be given by your family physician or the Health Officer.
