REVIEWS CHURCH SCHOOL HISTORY

Mrs. Mona Sinclair Prepares
Interesting Treatise

It is to be understood, of course, that any errors or omissions in this brief outline of the personnel, past and present, of the Trinity Episcopal Church Sunday School are not intentional. Owing to the fact that no Sunday School register is kept, the information herein given has necessarily been obtained from those who have grown up in Trinity Church and who have taken a keen interest in the Church and who have taken a keen interest in the Church and its allied activities.

As memory, at its best, is faulty it is more than likely that the names of some persons that should be mentioned have been omitted and that some dates have been incorrectly stated. If there are those who can supply missing information such additional data will be gladly received by the Sunday School Superintendent.

It appears that Trinity Sunday School was founded by Mrs. Mary M. Weir, the grandmother of our present superintendent in the year 1872 or 1873. In 1872 the Rev. Kinlock Nelson laid the foundation for the establishment of an Episcopal church at Manassas. In the work he was aided by a few families of the neighborhood, among them the Weir family. As an aid to the Church movement, Mrs. Mary Weir organized a small band of children into a Sunday School class and with the permission of the authorities of the Northern Methodist Church first taught them in a small room of the church building belonging to that denomination. This room continued to be used as a class room until the first Episcopal church building was erected.

At about the time of the completion of the church building Mrs. Rebecca McPherson Weemes, with her husband, moved from Maryland to Manassas. This family were ardent Episcopalians and Mrs. Weemes immediately became interested in the Sunday School. It was largely due to her interest and cooperation, the Church at the time having no resident Rector, that the school was more firmly established.

BARNES—HOTTE

The Methodist parsonage was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday, June 18, when Flora Hottle and Mr. Thomas Barnes were united in marriage by Rev. Harry P. Baker. Only the two families and a few close friends were present.

The bride wore a white street length frock with bolero jacket, and white accessories, and her corsage was of Talisman roses. She had as her attendant Mrs. Bruce Hurson, of Baltimore.

Mr. Howell Barnes was best man for his brother.

Following the ceremony a luncheon was served the guests at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. R. D. Hottle.

'Midst a shower of rice, the young couple left for a few days at the beach, after which they will make their home on Cherry Street, in Manassas.

CHARLES LYNN GETS SCHOLASTIC HONOR

Ten boys from the Manassas and Haymarket F. F. A. Chapters, accompanied by their instructor, Mr. R. R. Fishpaw, attended the State Rally held at Blacksburg, Va., last week. Harris Collins, of Manassas participated in the Dairy Judging Contest and made a good showing.

The Haymarket boys who represented their Chapter in the Crop Judging Contest were Rolfe Robertson, Andrew Smith, and Rolfe Ellison. This team placed fourteenth out of sixty-two teams and are to be congratulated on their showing as none of these boys had judged prior to this year.

Bobby Carter and Lewis Lightner of Haymarket and also Kite Roseberry of Manassas attended the School of Leadership.

Charles Lynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lynn of Manassas, and a member of the local F. F. A. Chapter received the State Farmers Degree. This is the highest honor that can be conferred by the Virginia State Federation of Future Farmers. These were only 98 boys receiving the Degree this year out of 6500.

ALUMNI CLUB HONOR READING

V. P. I. Group Composed of Former 4-H Members

At a recent meeting, the V.P.I. 4-H Alumni Club elected its officers for the coming year. Philip Reading, Nokesville, was elected president; K. R. Cline, Fishersville, vice-president; J. W. Howe, Mt. Solon, secretary; C. B. Wood, Flint Hill, treasurer; Miss Jo Sanford, Orange, and E. J. Shiflett, Churchville, song leaders; and Egbert Thompson, Jr., Woodbridge, corresponding secretary. Gordon A. Elcan, state boy's 4-H club agent, was re-elected faculty adviser.

The club has a membership composed of V.P.I. students who were 4-H'ers in high school. Its purpose is to keep its members in touch with the 4-H organization and to help students adapt themselves to college life so as to gain the ultimate benefit from their studies and extra-curricular activities. Saturday, May 21, the club gave a radio program over the Virginia Tech Farm Dinner Club quarter-hour. It was in the form of a skit in which members of the club told of the club's activities and in what ways it helped its members, particularly the incoming freshmen.

JAMES L. LUXFORD

Word was received from Washington yesterday of the death, in Mt. Alto Hospital, of Mr. James Leon Luxford, age 75, following a long illness.

Mr. Luxford was a retired salesman for the Rumford Chemical Company and his genial personality had won for him a wide circle of friends. He was a native of Richmond and a Spanish War Veteran.

Surviving him is a brother, Major O. C. Luxford, of Washington, and a sister, Mrs. H. B. Sutton, of Greensboro, N. C., and by a number of nieces and nephews. His daughter, Mrs. Mamie Peyton Didlake, died August 2, 1921.

Funeral services will be held at 11:00 a.m. Friday, June 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Didlake, of Manassas. Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, Rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, officiating. Interment will be in the Manassas cemetery. The pallbearers are Drs. Lanahan and George B. Cocke and Messrs. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, M. Bruce Whitmore, A. S. Boatwright and E. G. Parrish.

Mr. Luxford was highly esteemed in Manassas. He was unusually well informed, a most entertaining conversationalist and a gentleman of unique and forceful personality. His passing is the occasion of much sorrow in this community where he had lived for many years.

NOKESVILLE F.F.A. MAKES GOOD SHOWING AT STATE RALLY

The dairy judging team from the Nokesville F. F. A. Chapter made a splendid showing at the State Rally held at V.P.I. last week. Each member of the team, composed of Albert Rollins, McDuff Green, and William Crawford, made high scores. However, Rollins placed fourth among all dairy judging contestants in the State, thereby winning for himself a place on the State team competing in the national contest to be held in Kansas City in the fall. Albert is a junior at Brentsville District High School and has completed two years of vocational agriculture. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rollins of Bristow.

Elwood Long, the newly-elected president of the chapter, also attended the leadership training school.

TELEPHONES OF THE WORLD

Washington, D. C., had more telephones per capita at the beginning of 1937 than any city in the world. It still has, for that matter, but that date is the latest for which world figures are available. There were 214,308 telephones in service for the calls of the 572,500 men, women and children in the city on that date, or 37.43 telephones per 100 of population. Runner-up is San Francisco with 37 instruments for every 100.

A report based on information gathered and released by the Chief Statistician of The American Telephone and Telegraph Company shows a total of 37,098,084 telephones in the world as of January 1, 1937. The number is 5 per cent greater than the previous peak reached in the beginning of 1931.

The United States, with only 6 per cent of the world's aggregate population of slightly over two billions, had one-half of the world's telephones, or 18,433,400, on January 1, 1937. (At the present time there are more than 19,500,000 telephones in the United States.) Europe, with over 575 million people, had 13,513,152 telephones on January 1, 1937 or 36.43 per cent of the world total. Next to the United States, Germany had the largest number of telephones, 3,431,074, followed by Great Britain with 2,791,597 telephones, France with 1,481,788, Canada with 1,266,228 and Japan with 1,197,129. These five countries, together with the United States, account for 77 per cent of all telephones in the world.

Sixty-one per cent of all the world's telephones are owned by private companies, operating chiefly in countries having the largest number of telephones in relation to population. For example, the United States outranks all other countries with 14.39 telephones to each 100 of its population. Next in rank to the United States comes Canada, with 11.48 telephones per 100 population and 15 per cent of its telephones under governmental operation. Among countries where the telephone service is operated as a government monopoly are Great Britain, Germany and France, where the telephone density is 5.93, 5.08 and 3.51 telephones per 100 population, respectively.

Approximately one-half of the earth's population is found in the three countries of China, British India and Russia, but taken together they had only three-fourths the number of telephones serving the city of New York alone where, on January 1, 1937, 1,569,337 telephone instruments were in service. The world's leading cities in point of telephone development are Washington, D. C., and San Francisco, Cal., where there more than one telephone for every three people. With the single exception of Stockholm, Sweden, where telephones were equivalent to 34.78 per cent of the population, the larger cities in Europe had much lower telephone development than cities of comparable size and importance in this country. In London, for example, there were 657, 235 telephones, or 15.82 telephones per 100 population, compared with 21.68 for New York City. Berlin, similarly, had 539,662 telephones, but this figure corresponds to only 12.67 per cent of its population, as against 26.03 per cent in Chicago. In Paris, only 15.13 per cent of the inhabitants have a telephone, although that city contains nearly 29 per cent of all the telephones in France. In the smaller communities abroad, those with less than 50,000 population, only a small fraction of the inhabitants are provided with telephone service, e.g., 3.97 per cent in Great Britain, 3.07 per cent in Germany and 2.12 per cent in France, whereas such communities in the United States average over 10 telephones to every 100 inhabitants.

Nearly twenty-seven billion local and long distance telephone calls were completed in the United States during 1936. This figure is equivalent to nearly 850 conversations each second during the day and night; it also is equivalent to 210 calls for every man, woman and child in this country. Elsewhere in the world, the annual calling rate average per capita is estimated at 12.5, or less than 6 per cent of the frequency with which the telephone is used by the American people.

KIWANIS HEAR ANOTHER FINE TALK

Father Widmer, of All Saints, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Friday evening.

Father is reported to have a mean tenor and he got right in the song spirit, much to the delight of his audience.

Previous to the address, considerable discussion was indulged in with reference to the proposed changes of the Southern R.R. and its schedules. The talk given by Father Widmer dealt with the moral attitude toward the so-called "mercy killings" of recent years. It was well couched in language and delivered in a very pleasing way.

4th OF JULY PARTY AT BETHEL CHURCH

There will be a 4th of July and Lawn Party at the Bethel Methodist Church on Friday, July 1st, with the young people furnishing the entertainment. RETAIL LAW NOW APPLIES

Various Measures Passed Last
Winter Effective June 20

On Tuesday, June 20, all of the laws passed by the General Assembly of Virginia last winter took effect, with the exception of the emergency measures already being enforced.

Among the general laws becoming effective Tuesday is the "loss leader" law which forbids the selling in retail establishments of items of merchandise at little or no profit, or actually at a loss. The new law makes it mandatory to sell at no less than 6 per cent above the cost.

Just how this law will be applied and whether it will operate to the advantage or the disadvantage of retail business remains to be seen. Its sponsors predict that the elimination of "cut-throat" competition, especially in large cities, will work out very advantageously to the retailers. Others see in the law a great loss to the public, and to the housewife, in making it no longer possible to take advantage of these specials. Some merchants regard the new law as unconstitutional in that it deprives the merchant of his personal liberty in the conduct of his business and makes it difficult to move excess quantities of certain over-stocked merchandise, where, in view of approaching seasonal change, or perishable nature of the merchandise, selling below the 6 per cent margin becomes necessary. It is believed by some that tests of this "loss-leader" law in the courts will be made.

Other laws going into effect include the new speed laws, already widely advertised, the school-book law which provides that school boards supply text-books at 5 per cent above cost; the minimum teachers salary law providing that teachers shall not be paid less than $500 average salary; and the law reducing the working hours of women in factories, laundries, restaurants and other establishments specified to 9 hours daily. The weekly maximum is placed at 48 hours. Towns of less than 2000 population are exempted.

Garnishment exemptions of working men's salaries are raised to 75 per cent instead of the present 50 per cent.

DANCE FOR BENEFIT OF CLINIC

The June Ball, which will be held in the High School Gymnasium on Friday evening, June 24, under the sponsorship of the Manassas Junior Woman's Club, promises to be one of the most colorful events of the summer season. Numerous young people from Manassas and surrounding country are planning to attend and several parties are being planned by members of the Junior Woman's Club for their out-of-town guests and houseguests.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by a well-known orchestra of Fredericksburg. The band consists of eight members and has an excellent microphone and loudspeaker system. The orchestra comes to us highly recommended, having played recently at V. P. I., V. M. I., University of Richmond, Randolph Macon College and Mary Washington College.

The proceeds from the dance will be used for the worthwhile work of the Prince William County Baby Clinic. This clinic, which was organized by the Junior Woman's Club last year, has recently been reorganized under the direction of the Prince William County Health Office with the Manassas Junior Woman's Club as Sponsor. There is a great need for these clinics in Prince William and it is hoped the Manassas Clinic will be an incentive to promote organization of similar clinics in other sections of the county.

GAME GROUP TO HOLD REGULAR MEETING

There will be a regular monthly meeting of the Falls Church chapter of the Izaak Walton League in the Masonic Hall, Bank Building, East Falls Church, at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, June 30th.

The public is cordially invited.

GARDEN TOUR REVEALS CHARM

Visit to Historic Places Likened
To Gorgeous Pageantry

The charm of two centuries and more of gracious living is reflected today in the old homes and gardens, in the lower Northern Neck of Virginia, which were visited on last Thursday by a group from Manassas.

The tour was sponsored by the Garden Section of the Woman's Club of Manassas, for the James Monroe birthplace monument association and will long be remembered by those in the party, as the glorious pageant of lovely old historic homes, in their picturesque settings of stately trees and beautifully designed, and in many cases original gardens. A spirit of serenity still breathes about many of these old homes and gardens, making one prone to linger on in the mellow atmosphere, to dream and absorb some of the peace and tranquility woven in the very air about these hallowed spots.

Six historic places were visited. The first place visited was the James Monroe law office in Fredericksburg, which has been restored, by the descendants of Monroe and in which is preserved a large collection of Monroe possessions, including the desk upon which the famous Monroe Doctrine was written; the court dress of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe worn at the court of Napoleon, the silver and china used by them in the White House, Mrs. Monroe's Astor piano, an Empire dressing table, and many other priceless treasures of that and other administrations. The garden here is small, but most attractive.

Traveling south over the Kings Highway, the party next stopped at Belle Grove, situated on a bluff overlooking the Rappahannock river near Port Conway. This is a large beautiful home, built in the Georgian style and is the birthplace of James Madison, fourth President of the United States, born March 16, 1751. The garden here is a formal one, with its English box-bordered beds of perennials, inclosed by an old fashioned white paling fence.

There also was born, at a more recent date, Thomas Lorax Hunter, Columnist and prominent citizen of King George County. He spent his early childhood here. At present it is owned by a Mrs. Hooker of Chicago and is in a fine state of preservation.

A short drive took the travelers from here to Wakefield in Westmoreland County, birthplace of George Washington in 1732.

Of particular interest here was the old burial ground, one mile north west of the Memorial Mansion. This is near the site of the home of Colonel John Washington, great grandfather of George. Two original grave stones remain, five new ones have been provided. Here repose the remains of George Washington's father, Augustine, his grand father, Lawrence; great grandfather, Colonel John Washington; and twenty-eight other members of the family and their relatives.

The Memorial Mansion was built in 1930-'31 by the Wakefield Memorial Association on the site of the house in which Washington was born in 1732. The old house burned on Christmas morning in 1780. As no authentic picture of the original house has been found, the present building has been designed in the style typical of the period. Only one piece of furniture from the original home is shown a tilt top table which may be seen in the dining room.

A box wood walk leads from the Mansion to an early eighteenth century type garden, where more than one hundred kinds of garden plants, known to Washington as a boy, are growing.

After partaking of a delicious and bounteous picnic lunch in the beautiful picnic grounds at Wakefield, the tour continued to Stratford Hall home of the Lees; built more than two hundred years ago by Thomas Lee, Colonial Governor of Virginia. This home is the birthplace of five patriots of the Revolution. Here also was born in the year 1807, General Robert Edward Lee. Architecturally Stratford Hall, is a rare and important example of early 18th century building. The mansion and its four outbuildings stand to-day, unmarred by structural changes, and are rapidly being repaired and restored to all

SEE AMERICA FIRST

An Interesting Letter from Our Esteemed Friend, Mr. C. H. Adams

A great many folks feel that they not travelled or have seen much unless they have crossed the waters and viewed the cities of Europe (England, France, Italy, Germany) or gone down in Egypt and Palestine. I once heard a little French girl of my acquaintance saying, "Oh! Switzerland the most beautiful country in the world". This girl with her parents and a sister were forced to flee from Alsace and Lorraine during the World War and finally reached Switzerland and later made their way to the United States—The Land of the Free.

My slogan is to see America first, then if time and money permit see the Old Country. There are so many beautiful places to visit, so many lovely ports, so many magnificent cities to see. Among the places to visit are the Yellow Stone National Park, Mt. Rainer National Park with its gigantic snow clad mountains and most beautiful lakes—The great Southwest—The great red wood forests of California some over 200 feet high 20 to 30 feet in diameter.

Now as to our native State, old Virginia, the mother of States, the State that has given the nation so many great men, Washington, Jefferson, Monroe, the Lees and so many more whose names are familiar the world over, the State is dotted with beautiful old colonial homes and plantations the oldest College, William and Mary. The writer recently had the pleasure of a trip up in Rockbridge county. We hear quite often the expression horse and buggy days. It is true they are passing out of the picture. The automobile, the bus have superseded the slower means of trains travel. In late years the airplanes and streamlined trains have speeded up means of travel.

We, it seems, are living in an age when everyone is in a hurry to get somewhere as quickly as possible. So in order to get to places quickly I decided the train was my safest means of travel so that I boarded the "Sportsman" one of the Ches. and Ohio's track air conditioned trains in Alexandria and had a most delightful trip through Fairfax, Fauquier, Rappahannock, Culpeper, Orange, Albemarle, Augusta and Rockbridge County.

We hear a great deal being said about helping the farmer. I myself grew up on a farm and I am in sympathy with them but as I glided along through these splendid counties I was much delighted to see the well kept farms, field after field of golden grain, wheat, barley waving in God's bright sunshine. I was continued to wonder if the owners gave thanks for their bountiful harvest, who maketh the sun to shine and sendeth rain to water the earth that it may bring forth much fruit—I wonder if the farmer is so bad off as we passed through the city where the great University of Virginia is located I felt very proud of that great University and of the great men who after leaving its hall of learning went into the world and won fame and greatness.

I think if our great Jefferson could return to see the university as it stands today and be informed in terms of what it has accomplished, and what it stands for, I am sure he would feel proud of it, too.

After passing the university we soon reached the mountains and crossed the Shenandoah River that flows through the fertile valley of the same name. Our first stop after leaving Charlottesville was the city of Waynesboro nestled in quiet hills of the mighty Blue Ridge. Then Crozet Greenwood and Afton, around which are located the largest and finest apple and peach orchards found anywhere in the State, it surely is a pretty sight to view thousands upon thousands of these trees laden with fruit which will be put to so many use and be enjoyed by many millions. Nature is so kind to give us so many good things for our pleasure and profit.

Before reaching Staunton, we passed through four tunnels, one of which is about a mile and a half long.

Reached Staunton, Va., at 4 p.m. where I was met by friends and taken by auto to their lovely home some 25 miles southwest of Staunton on the highway to Lexington, Va., and south. After a most pleasant ride we arrived at our destination, where we were met by the dear lady of the home, in the country fashion with open arms and given the entire freedom of the house.

Next morning after arriving to be a guest in my friend's home being Sunday, as is their custom, they went to their Sunday School and remained for the Church Services. It was very delightful to visit a home where it was not out of fashion to attend Church.

Then on the following Wednesday we all decided to take the day off and go for a trip which led us to the most gorgeous and lofty mountains, down through deep gorges by sparkling mountain streams. Oh! it was sight to inspire anyone. So after passing through and enjoying the fine scenery we reached the pretty little college town of Lexington, Va., with a population of some 3000—the home of Washington and Lee University and the V.M.I. a military institute. As my time was limited, I returned home on the following day, reaching home about noon. We heard lots of praise for the Smithfield hams, but Rockbridge County ham is good enough for me. My only regret is that I could not have stayed longer to enjoy more of that ham and that good rich cream and milk and many other good things.

These good friends of mine whom I visited not only profess to be Christians, but live up to their profession daily by having the family worship morning and evening, always giving thanks for their blessings.

We should never get in such a hurry that we would for any reason, neglect this family worship period.

We shall not pass this way again, so let us so live that it may be said of us when we are gone, that he or she was a real Christian and went about doing good.

Chas. H. Adams.

A CORRECTION

We wish to correct an error in last week issue, which caused us to state that the playground which opened on the Manassas High School gymnasium grounds on Monday, June 20, was in charge of Miss Verna Ruth Flory. We should have stated that Misses Jessie Mae Conner and Verna Ruth Flory will direct the project.

The popularity of the new project is already being evidenced by the enthusiasm with which the young people are participating.

OCCOQUAN

AND VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilcher of Occoquan have left by motor to spend a few weeks vacation in the Adirondacks and other points North. Mr. Wilcher is a persistent and patient fisherman, so we are looking for some tall trout fishing stories on his return.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Wicker of Occoquan spent the week end visiting in Richmond, Va., and while there visited Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison formerly of Occoquan.

Miss Hester May Laster of Washington, D. C., was the week end guest of Miss Virginia Malcolm of Lorton, Va.

Mrs. Frank W. Hornbaker of Occoquan spent several days during the past week in Manassas, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bradford.

Mrs. Fred Lynn of Occoquan and daughter Becky have returned to Occoquan after a long visit with her parents in Columbia, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Barnes of Rock Ledge, Occoquan entertained the Five Point Club of Washington, D. C., on Saturday, June 18th. This Club is an all Masonic Club consisting of members of the Interstate Commerce Department and families. There were about 150 present. An excellent repast was served on large tables on the lawn. Mr. Barnes took three separate parties on a trip down the river in his Cruiser. There were all kinds of games played. All had a very pleasant evening. Most of them stated on leaving for their homes they would be looking forward to another such meeting and party next year. This has been an annual affair for the past several years.

Notice to YOU Fishermen: Some very nice BASS have been caught at Occoquan during the past week. Try your luck.

IN ITS first ten years, from 1837 to 1847, the Louisa Railroad's track was laid only from Doswell to Gordonsville in Virginia. However, far-seeing people realized the value of this line—though none could imagine that it was to become the great trunk line you know as the Chesapeake and Ohio.

Q As early as 1839, Claudius Crozet, then Principal Engineer of the State of Virginia, pointed to the Louisa as "a railroad of great importance" and declared a crossing of the Blue Ridge mountains possible. By 1847 the valiant little road poorly financed and impeded by unfriendly interests, none the less made bold plans for its future. It would cross the mountain barrier, with the Ohio River as its goal... would extend the line westward via Charlottesville... and, since an important east-west trunk line must have a tide water connection, would extend eastward to an independent terminus at Richmond.

Q "Richmond to the Ohio!" Brave words for the directors of such an infant line. But they were not to be stopped by public indifference, troublesome injunctions, or lack of funds. Granted a charter, they undertook to extend the road to Richmond—27 miles—by no other means than a subscription of $38,000 by individuals!

Q A vision of services... zeal... unity of purpose... such qualities in those railroad pioneers made a branch line grow into a great railroad. And such qualities form the ideal which today guides the Chesapeake and Ohio in all relations with the public in the extensive territory it serves.

AMERICANS DEFY WARNING TO QUIT ZONE UNDER FIRE

Going beyond the headlines for its thrilling theme, and behind the barricades of Shanghai's amazing city within a city for its teeming thrills, "International Settlement" tells the timely story of Americans in today's danger zone. Dramatically shown for the first time on the screen, the thundering drama that is China today makes this 20th Century-Fox film, coming Wed., June 29 to the Pitts' Theatre, the picture of the hour... and a hundred big moments.

"Get out of the danger zone!" warn all governments to their nationals living in the amazing city within a city where refugees from the blazing metropolis desperately seek safety. A handful of adventure-loving Americans defies the command and remains behind to confront the danger thundering from the skies and sea.

Dolores Del Rio, George Sanders, June Lang and Dick Baldwin, featured in the film, dramatically portray the peril-braving group who find strange romance in the stricken city.

Executive Producer Sol M. Wurtzel selected Eugene Forde to direct the screen play, written by Lou Breslow and John Patrick, with action occurring actually within today's danger area.

Madly in love where it is madness to love, George Sanders, an American soldier of fortune in the Far East as a flying instructor, seeks romance with the most glamorous and dangerous white woman in all China, played by Dolores Del Rio.

June Lang, as a beautiful American tourist, proves a champion under fire at the side of Dick Baldwin, daring newsreel cameraman, who sticks to get his pictures while the bombardment rages about him.

In the Oriental metropolis on a secret mission, Sanders braves the threats of an international group of munitions smugglers only to find greater danger when the attack on Shanghai begins.

Included in the cast of the powerful drama under fire are Ruth Terry, John Carradine, Keye Luke, Harold Huber, Leon Ames and Pedro de Cordoba. Lynn Root and Frank Fenton wrote the original story of "International Settlement" and early scenes of the timely story include songs by Sidney Clare and Harry Akst.

CATHARPIN

Mrs. Margaret Hundley entertained the Sudley Missionary Society at the regular monthly meeting, June 15 th. After the business and devotional session, cooling refreshments were served and a happy social half-hour was spent. This is the first time the Society has had the pleasure of being entertained in the delightful new home of Mrs. Hundley, who is one of the charter members of the organization, and all admired the beautiful new quilt which Mrs. Hundley has just completed. Fifteen members and guests were present.

Mrs. Luther Miller has returned to her home near Stone House after a three-weeks' stay at Emergency Hospital, which benefitted her condition.

Mrs. John Pattie and children, who spent a month at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, have returned to their home at Triangle.

Miss Harriett Pattie, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Munday and little daughter, and Mr. Homer Kidwell motored from Washington Sunday afternoon and were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie.

Mr. Rolfe Ellison attended the F. A. Short Course at Blacksburg last week.

The Epworth League of Sudley observed Fathers' Day with an appropriate program Sunday night.

Mrs. Augusta Lynn Webb spent the week-end with her mother at Catharpin.

Miss Bertha Pattie was called to Washington Friday evening by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Raymond L. Briggs.

Mrs. J. H. Akers is improving her property at "Rock Hill" by remodeling the roof of her barn and installing a hay fork.

Little Miss Hazel Collins spent a few days with Cynthia Pattie last week.

Many from this community have attended and enjoyed the Evangelical Services at Manassas during the past weeks.

Harvest time surely is here and by the time this reaches an anxiously awaiting public, the wheat in this neighborhood will be in shock. So once again the farmers are talking and bragging about their prospective yields soon to be threshed. The only discordant note from an otherwise jubilant agriculturist is when he reads the price column in his daily paper and finds that his maximum yield may give him a minimum income with which to meet his ever-increasing taxation.

Mrs. E. S. Clary of Lawrenceville, Va., who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Alvey of this city has returned home accompanied by her nephews, Robert and Lynn Alvey for a vacation down near the North Carolina line.

The Annual Children's Day program will be given next Sunday morning, June 26th, at Sudley to which all friends are cordially invited to attend. The collection upon this occasion is to help the general Sunday School work throughout the Conference.

Mrs. A. L. Webb of the Capital City spent the week-end with her mother Mrs. Etta P. Lynn of this Metropolis.

Dr. Brower, who for the past half-century and more has been easing the pains and aches of other people, is now his own patient suffering an attack of dysentery and confined to his room for treatment. If the good will and sympathy of the people could avail, his own aches and pains would soon be relieved.

Anent the harvest time now upon us we are wondering if other communities are having trouble in procuring the necessary labor to help in the fields? We note that all over the country the cry is going up that millions of men are out of employment and can find nothing to do, yet the farms are needing them. There is much philosophy and speculation going on among the various writers of the country as to the cause. Some claim that we have been too liberal in our immigration laws and have flooded the country with Foreign labor which is absorbing the jobs our own people should have. Others say that the labor of the country is not as anxious to get big wages as it is to get its "keep" with as little exertion as possible and willing to skimp along on most anything providing not much effort is needed. We hear so many people talking about the general trend of things as we are now experiencing them and all with one accord seem to feel that there is too much politics and not enough Statesmanship in the country. Just where it will end is the question just ahead of the interrogation point. At any rate things seem woefully out of balance and getting no better fast; and those borrowed billions? Well, "we shall see what we see", as Arch says in his baseball reports. It looks as though Roger Babson was about right when he said—"A country with 130 million people in it and occupying the most fertile spot on earth ought to have sense enough to know what to do with it. The general consensus of opinion is that our leaders are dabbled too much in politics and have forgotten the "forgotten man".

Mrs. Mary Pattie Briggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie of Belle Farm, is now suffering the "delights" of a case of mumps at her home in the Capital City.

Miss Betty Brower of Lone Oak is in Front Royal this week attending classes now being conducted at the Front Royal Academy for special work among the young people of the church. Miss Betty is sent by the Young Peoples organization of Sudley and will remain during the present session.

Friends of the Rev. C. F. Phillips will be interested in learning that he has been transferred from the Frederick Avenue church in Baltimore to St. Paul's Church in Washington where he takes the place of the Rev. Mr. Lock who died several weeks ago while serving this appointment. Mr. Phillips, a former pastor at Sudley, is well known in this vicinity.

Last Sunday was Father's Day which is more or less generally observed by the churches but as yet it has not found its way to Sudley. But we were privileged to listen in on a Father's Day program being given in the Baptist Temple, Baltimore and for the first time really heard "Poor, Hardworking old Dad" receiving some belated praise. We are quite used to Mothers Day programs but "Dad" has been neglected so long that to hear him praised for anything comes as such a distinctive surprise to the old gentleman that it sort of gives him a shock. After the pastor had finished his eloquent delivery, "Those beloved fathers" were certainly led to believe that, after all, they really amounted to something. From the response of "Amen" which were generally well distributed thruout the Temple, one might think that it was a Methodist meeting that was taking place; but the Baptists seem to have a little spontaneous combustion about them too. At any rate, it was a pleasure to hear a service that was really inspiring and must have been a helpful experience to all the great throng which seemed to be in attendance upon this occasion. We have about come to the conclusion that these special days are worth all they cost. You know we all like a little praise now and then, and if it helps Dad and Mother, it will also help others, whomsoever, whatsoever or wheresoever they may be.

NOKESVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Smelker of Nokesville entertained a wedding party last Friday and Saturday in honor of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. David A. Wolff of Detroit. Dinner and house guests included Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wunkel and Mr. and Mrs. John Main, of Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Byrne of Arlington. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Minnich and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Zirkle of Timberville, and Miss Rebecca Crigler of Washington, D. C., were week-end visitors with Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Ballentine and Family.

This week a Vacation Church School is being conducted in Mt. Zion Lutheran Church at Nokesville. A period is devoted to the Elementary Principles and Practice of music, and a period is given to Bible study. Sessions of the school are being held in the evenings.

JOPLIN

Several of the folks from Joplin attended the funeral of Mr. James Mountjoy on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Evalyn Williams has returned home from Washington where she has been visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Firth.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Abel visited their mother, Mrs. Ida Abel, on Sunday last.

Mr. Frank Venable and Miss Marjorie Anderson were married on Wednesday, June 8. We wish the young couple success.

Mrs. Bertie Abel called on her daughter, Mrs. Lily Bean, on Sunday last.

Mr. Jack Wilcox seems to have a very complicated time finding a boy friend to go to the movies with him during the week. We wonder why doesn't fall for the girls. He may be playing wise.

Judge Crow had to visit his doctor again last week. We hope he improves rapidly.

Mrs. Ida Abel called on her sisters, Mrs. Jane Carter and Mrs. Ella Keys during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hooker and little daughter, Rose Marie, were Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Bettis.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Anderson attended preaching services at Manassas on Saturday night past.

Remember the all-day preaching services at Forest Hill Church on Sunday, June 26, Presiding Elder, Berry, will preach in the afternoon. Bring your lunch and enjoy the day.

ROAD AID FOR VIRGINIA

The bureau of public roads in Washington issued a statement this week to the effect that Virginia is tentatively scheduled to receive $5,000,000.00 federal aid road money for the fiscal year 1940-41. This would be exclusive of the State's allotment to national park and forest highways, which on account of the increasing acreage of federally controlled lands would be much larger than heretofore.

The regular allocations for federal aid roads and secondary roads will not be announced until December, but it is stated that Virginia will receive $1,806,000.00 in 1940 for federal aid highways, $271,000.00 for secondary feeder roads and $561,000.00 for grade crossing eliminations.

It is gratifying to note that Virginia is receiving reasonable consideration in the apportionment for the $357,400,000.00 which will be made available to the States. The amount is about one-sixtieth of the total. It might be argued that one-fourty-eighth ought to be our share, but road mileage is proportioned on special considerations and we should be grateful to our representatives in Congress and to our Highway Department for the really generous consideration which Virginia receives in federal road aid. They get it for us and we are much obliged.

Editor Local Paper,

My dear sir:

I hand you herewith a check for ($2.00) two dollars for which please mail me your paper for one year.

I attended high school at Manassas during the year 1915-16 and am anxious to know something about the pupils that were in school at your town when I was there. If you have any copy of your paper during the fall of 1915-16, I would appreciate some of them and I am willing to pay you for them.

I played basketball on the team. There were several write ups about the games, I am anxious to show some of the write ups to my pupils. (I am teaching school and have been for the last twenty years.)

Times are not so good in these parts. The cotton crop is poor, the stand is very irregular and the crop in general is somewhat backward.

If some thing unforeseen doesn't happen, I plan to go to the World's Fair next year and I shall stop by to see you.

Yours truly,

A. B. Watson,

Supt. Bond Con. School.

P.S. Do Mr. and Mrs. Jermain still live in your town? I have forgotten their other name.

WINS STATE HONORS

Mr. J. M. Kline, Jr., and his Crops team took first place in the State last week at the annual F. F. A. Rally at Blacksburg. Plaque was presented to the team along with the winners in the other three contests.

The Crops contest was the second largest held at the Rally. Sixty teams, consisting of one hundred and eighty boys competed from all sections of the State. The boys judged the following classes: corn, potatoes, wheat, soy beans, poltry, hogs and dairy cows.

Mr. Kline not only had high team, but placed three boys on the Out-of-State team. His boys won first, second and fourth places in the State. These boys along with Robert Walton of Powhatan will get a free trip to the National F. F. A. Convention at Kansas City in October. Mr. Kline will accompany the team as coach.

This is the second consecutive year that Mr. Kline has won a free trip to Kansas City Convention. He won the trip last year by placing boys in first and second places in the crop contest.

Mr. Kline taught for a number of years in the Ocequan High School, and after completing his work at Blacksburg took charge of the Agricultural Department at the Port Republic and McGaheysville High Schools in the Valley of Virginia.

PERSONALITIES IN MUSIC

ABRAM CHASINS, A.S.C.A.P.

Success In Youth

By Daniel I. McNamara

ABRAM CHASINS, brilliant young American musician... is a notable exponent of industry in art. He adheres strictly to long schedules in his busy New York studio overlooking Central Park. Luncheons are brief; often he works far into the night. Still in his early thirties, he enjoys world-wide prestige.

Chasins was born of Russian parents in New York City, August 17, 1903. Discovered as a child prodigy by the late Mrs. Thomas Tapper, musician-friend of juvenile genius, he began studying composition with Rubin Goldmark at twelve. Later teachers were Richard Epstein and Ernest Hutcheson. He studied at Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, remained as piano teacher until 1934. During 1931 and 1932 he made two successful concert tours of Europe.

Chasins' first compositional efforts were in his student days in Curtis. His "Three Chinese Pieces" found their way into the concert programs of many leading artists. He made his own pianistic debut with Gabilowitch and the Philadelphia orchestra in 1929, playing his own First Piano Concerto. Toccata honored him in the 1931 season of the Philharmonic by performing Chasins' "Parade" and "Flirtation in a Chinese Garden." Thrice in a single week in 1938 he appeared in Barbier's Philharmonic Symphony series, playing his own Second Piano Concerto.

His regularly scheduled lecture-recital radio broadcasts initiated in 1934 attained great popularity. These revealed facility of oral expression to complement his thorough musicianship.

Chasins is a staunch ally of fellow composers, a defender of the rights in intellectual property created by them. He is a leading spirit of the American Composers' Alliance, and an active member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. His favorite composers are Bach, Chopin, Brahms and Wagner. Rachmaninoff and Strauss are his most admired contemporaries.

Chasins finds time for recreation in the midst of constantly increasing activities in composition, concerts and radio broadcasting. He plays chess and bridge, enjoys outdoor sports. His favorite reading is biography and philosophy, occasionally a detective story. He converses fluently in three languages.

Singularly devoid of the temperamental instability traditionally attributed to composers, he insists that hard work is his best inspiration. He loves his work, bears his honors modestly. Success in youth has not spoiled him.

ing Martha Raye, Dorothy Lamour, Shirley Ross, Ben Blue, Bob Hope, Leif Erikson, Grace Bradley and Tito Guizar. And just to make the cast of stellar performers overflow from sheer abundance, the producers have tossed in specialty routines by Mme. Kirsten Flagstad of the Metropolitan Opera and Shep Fields and his Rippling Rhythm Orchestra, currently heading the popularity lists among dance orchestras.

Always hilarious, always tuneful, always girl-filled and most of the time more than a trifle mad, "The Big Broadcast of 1938" is the story of a transatlantic boat race and a handsome radio announcer who can never keep track of the number of ex-wives to whom he is paying alimony.

Bob Hope, radio star who made his screen debut in this film, is the radio announcer, engaged to broadcast details of the transatlantic crossing of the S. S. Gigantic, owned by W. C. Fields, which is out to make a new transatlantic record. To his great surprise, Hope finds that all three of his ex-wives are on board, together with the girl he hopes to make his fourth.

Fields, thinking that he is on a rival ship, devotes his time to trying to slow down the Gigantic, and is delighted when the ship has to stop to pick up his jinx daughter, Martha Maye, and her boy-friend, Lynne Overmann, who have been wrecked and are adrift in the ocean.

The Raye jinx works; the Gigantic is not only slowed up, but threatened disaster, and the sailors, who have heard of the jinx, plan to toss Miss Raye overboard. They are, however, persuaded to wait for a few hours, until seven years should have elapsed since Miss Raye broke a mirror, when the jinx may be lifted.

The seven years' period expires—and with it, the jinx lifts. The Gigantic goes ahead to a new record; Hope realizes where his true love lies, and the mixed-up amours of everyone else on board are straightened out satisfactorily to all concerned, with our old friend W. C. Fields still in as much of a fog as ever.

"The Big Broadcast of 1938" introduces seven new song hits, which have already jumped into the "most-played" class. They are: "You Took the Words Right Out of My Heart," "Mama, That Moon Is Here Again," "Thanks for the Memory," "The Waltz Lives On," "This Little Ripple Had Rhythm," "Don't Tell a Secret to a Rose" and "Sawing a Woman in Half." The first six songs listed are from the fertile pens of Leo Robin and Ralph Rainger, who have made a habit of hits, while Jack is credited with the novelty "Sawing a Woman in Half".

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christian Science" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 26.

The Golden Text will be "The ransom of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away" (Isaiah 35:10).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "All the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the Lord: and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee. For the kingdom is the Lord's: and he is the governor among the nations" (Psalms 22:27,28).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science, rightly understood, leads to eternal harmony" (p. 338).

A HISTORY OF TRINITY CHURCH

By Mrs. Mona Sinclair

As the attendance grew a Superintendent and a teaching staff were selected. As far as can be learned, Mr. James J. Davies was the first superintendent and he had under him the following teachers: Miss Annette C. Smith; Miss Lizzie Weir, later Mrs. Lizzie Tompkins; Miss Mary Dabney Weir, later Mrs. Mary Weir Lipscomb; Miss Ella Weir now Mrs. Ella Chapman; Mrs. Sam Reid, whose husband at the time was in business with the late Mr. C. L. Hynson, and a Miss Saunders, who was living in the Weemes home and Mr. E. Bauder. As nearly as can be learned, earlier superintendents followed in the order named: Dr. C. C. Barbour, Thos. H. Lion and George Smith. Later came the late Judge J. B. T. Thornton, Dr. Thurston Woolf, Clarence Wagener and C. M. Hopkins. More recent were Winston L. Carter and F. R. Hynson. Apparently there were periods during which the school had no superintendent though it is possible that the then rector acted in the place of a regularly chosen head of the school, as has the present rector, Rev. A. Stuart Gibson.

It is here recorded that Mr. O. D. Waters is the present superintendent. During this period the following named persons taught in the Sunday School: Miss Annie Merchant, later Mrs. Annie Dunnington; who was teacher and organist; the late Mrs. Fannie Osbourn Metz, Miss Eugenia H. Osbourn, Mrs. Maude Dickens Limstrong, Miss Florence Lion, Mrs. Florence Herrell Newman, Mrs. Elenia Herrell Henry, Mrs. C. A. S. Hopkins, Miss Mamie Conner, Mrs. Hattie Wilcoxen Lewis, Mrs. Alice Taylor Hutchison, Miss B. Conway Taylor, Thedie Waters, Mrs. Madie D. Hibbs, Miss Myra Payne, Mrs. Katie Burks, Miss Kate Hooe, Miss Maggie Smith, Miss Margaret Temple Hopkins, Mrs. Norma Round Davies, Mr. Robert Walter, Mrs. Allen McKenzie, Mrs. Virginia Ratcliffe, Miss Lucy Arrington, Mrs. Mary Lee Chapman Routan, Miss Flora Bullock, Mrs. Henry Seely, Mrs. Stuart Gibson, Mr. R. Jackson Ratcliffe and Mrs. Anna Sinclair Young. The present teachers are: Miss Rena B. Bevans, Miss Marion N. Lynn, Miss Walser Conner, Mr. Alcott, Miss Rose Ratcliffe and Mrs. C. A. Sinclair.

Former members of our Sunday School are now residing in many States of the Union: Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Maryland, New York, New Jersey, Missouri, Michigan, Georgia, Texas, Florida, Alabama, Idaho, North Carolina and Oklahoma, and Washington, D. C.

One, Maj. Rosewell Round, is at present stationed in the Hawaiian Islands.

No doubt there are other States that have our former pupils residing within their borders. Wherever they may be we wish them the greatest measure of happiness and prosperity; and if they are not here today we Sunday School may be enriched by trust that at some future time the their presence.

OUR HEALTH TODAY

A complete health service includes not only the prevention of illness and the correction of defects, but, also, the promotion of positive exuberant health as the right of every individual of every community. The effective application of health principles depends not only upon adequate medical facilities, but, also upon improved housing and living conditions and a reasonable degree of economic security. However, experience has shown even before poverty is abolished, much can be done to materially reduce the death rates from certain preventable diseases.

Health is no longer a subject of discussion only in doctors' offices, hospitals, etc. Quite on the contrary, it fills the pages in magazines. Pleasing personalities, professional and quite altogether unprofessional, spend countless hours telling the rest of us what to do in order that we may be able personally to apply the constitutional privilege of "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness" to a maximum advantage.

We are advised to the point of perfection and on the other hand, crushed with the ever present dread that we are hosts to physical conditions that are repugnant to our acquaintances and highly dangerous to our health. All this, despite the indisputable fact that never in the history of man has the healing art been so scientifically effective and preventive medicine so reduced to an exact and thoroughly understandable proposition as it is today.

One must weigh well the source from which his personal information on health and health matters come. Speaking generally, advice from outstanding physicians, whose wide experience gives authority to their statements, is desired. In addition, are to be considered pamphlets published by the United States Public Health Service, Health Departments, and by the great insurance companies. Advice from unapproved sources, commercially inspired and often questionably correct in its entirety, is not always the source of adolescent vitality for the middle-aged, perpetual vigor for the aging and unbounded life for all.

Life is governed by fundamental rules exacting though they be, they are not difficult to follow. Consequently, the average man or woman, who will daily play the game of life according to nature's dictates, will derive from existence in terms of happiness and vitality almost all that may be reasonably expected.

The rules already known to most of us are: First, annual physical examinations; Second, proper precautions to prevent the communicable diseases of youth and middle-aged; Third, the proper amount and kind of exercise; Fourth, the correct amount of sleep; Fifth, moderate amount of eating all kinds of food; and last but not least, cultivating a proper mental attitude, so as to develop a maximum of happiness.

Have You a Favorite Cake Recipe?—Send It In It May Win Cash Prize

WHEN you decide to give your family a real treat and you bake one of those luscious, tempting chocolate cakes, or it may be a delectable marble cake or a delicious devil's food cake, made from your favorite recipe, and the folk all reach for a second, or perhaps a third, helping—now isn't that gratifying! How amply rewarded you feel by the remarks of appreciation going around the festive board such as "Oh, boy, what a cake!" from little Willie, said with a mouthful, to "I must have another piece if I burst!" from Dad.

But here!—you may have still further reward coming to you. The very recipe that the family makes so much over may be the one to take the first prize of $25, or one of the five second prizes of $10, or one of the ten third prizes of $5 in the Cake Recipe Contest. And why not?

C. Houston Goudiss, noted food authority, who for 30 years has exerted a wide influence on the food habits of this nation through his lectures and books, and who at present conducts the food department in this newspaper known as "What to Eat and Why," is conducting a cake recipe contest with cash prizes to be given to persons submitting the best recipes. Your recipe will be judged on the basis of its nutritional and wholesome value. It need not be a marvelous creation for the eye to behold. The judges of this contest may agree with your family that your favorite recipe IS THE BEST! For further particulars see the announcement elsewhere in this issue of this newspaper. There is nothing to buy. No letter to write. Just send in your favorite cake recipe. It may win a prize.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

BY DR. JAMES T. MARSHALL

DÉPTHS AND SHALLOWS

"Deep calleth unto deep." (Psalm 42:7) Shallow minds are very content with shallow things. In such the greatest and deepest concerns of life find little or no response.

We are living in a superficial and shallow age. Of course this is not true of every individual. In spite of our drift toward imbecility we have the cultured minority who save the day. We may point with pride to our great universities like Princeton, Yale and Harvard; our wonderful city libraries; our splendid churches; our art galleries and our music halls. All of these are working for the elevation of humanity.

At the same time it is true that the art galleries are being visited by fewer persons every year; that the movies are fast throttling the legitimate theater, and that few ministers are complaining of overcrowded churches. Fewer of our younger people are studying music because art has become thoroughly mechanized, and personal skill is being destroyed by our surrender to the phonograph and the radio.

Great shallowness is seen in the popular attitude towards literature. The modern novel, which is so often cheap and trifling is displacing solid reading. The character of the magazines now on sale at our bookstands is a sad commentary on the low mentality of our generation. How many people do we know who take any interest in the world's great literary classics or spend any time reading Eschylus, Sophocles, Homer, Dante, Milton, Shakespeare, Thackeray, Scott, Victor Hugo, Byron, Keats or Browning? In the majority of American homes even these names are unknown.

Manifestly it would be unfair to condemn every one who is unacquainted with the classics. Many deep truths are found elsewhere. We need men to discover and develop the deep things in nature. Men like Newton, Watt, Franklin, Edison and Einstein and Marconi. My plea is for more appreciation of the divine while things of life. The divine call is always from the lower to the higher, from the debasing to the elevating, from the commonplace to the glorious.

The men who have done things are the men who have taken time to think. William Carey was a shoemaker, and as he sat bent over his work his mind was actively engaged in the affairs of the Kingdom of God, and he emerged from his shop entered upon his great mission to India. While St. Paul was engaged in weaving goatshair cloth for tents he was pondering those great truths which found their expression in his epistles to the early Christian churches.

Our modern shallowness is the natural result of our physical restlessness which in turn is the consequence of our unprecedented mechanical progress. The automobile, the movies and the radio are making us a race of neurotics who cannot live without thrills of some sort or other. Wherever we are, we wish we were somewhere else; and whatever we are doing, we wish we could do something else.

Such an attitude is necessarily leading to a shallowness of intellect and a lowering of moral standards. Let us get hold of ourselves and sit down and do some sober thinking. All about us there lie infinite possibilities of spiritual elevation and of practical accomplishment. "Deep calleth unto deep." Who will respond to the call?

"Rise, my soul, and stretch thy wings,
Thy better portion trace;
Rise from transitory things
Toward Heaven, thy native place;
Sun and moon and stars decay,
Time shall soon this earth remove;
Rise, my soul, and haste away
To seats prepare above."

PANTHERS WIN TO LEGION'S 6 TO 1

Manassas June 19—The Manassas Panthers won today from Front Royal's by 6 to 1, at Front Royal Va.

Morris Fields pitched the Panthers to their victory in four starts against the tribe, allowing 6 hits which proved ineffective when the Front Royal Legions failed to hold up their highly touted standard.

The local team bunched four hits and a walk to jump in the lead in the second ending. From that time on it was a pitch deal veteran M. Fields and Willis.

However, Fields had the better of the battle, far he only allowed two hits until the ninth inning. Then Fletcher doubled and scored later on a single to center by Baltingre.

'LITTLE THINGS'

By Constance Willis

Only a little past card,
It is loving words of cheer,
Made glad a heart so lonely,
And dried the falling tears.
It said, "I am thinking of you,
Though I am far away;
I cannot come to see you,
So send this card today.
Only a smile but it gladdened
A little child one day;
Only a tract but it led a soul
To change the better way.
A little deed of kindness
Done unto one in need,
A little burden lifted
Is Christ-like work indeed.
Then let us scatter sunshine
In loving deeds each day
E'en little things may gladden
Some heart upon the way
We know it's not expected
Of all great things to do,
But simply in His service
Faithful to be and true

their original beauty and spaciousness.

The garden here has been restored by the Garden Club of Virginia, and has been carefully reproduced according to the original plan, with terraces of formal design, box bordered paths and beds of old fashioned flowers, the kitchen garden is filled with pungent herbs. One could dwell on its apparent splendor for a long time, but we are reminded of an invitation to tea at Waverly, home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lomax Hunter, so back to the Kings Highway where a short drive brings us to the hospitable and lovely home of the Hunters. This old home with its early old trees and gardens, is one built in more recent years to replace the ancestral home of Mrs. Hunter which was burned.

An interesting thing seen here was the unusual walk, made of old millstones, collected by Mrs. Hunter from old water mills in that section of Virginia. Two of these came from a mill owned and operated by George Washington's grandfather.

Mr. Lawrence Gouvenour Hoes, present owner of Monroe's law office and descendant of James Monroe, gave a brief outline of the aims and purposes of the Monroe Birthplace Association. At present the birthsite of Monroe is unmarked—the association hopes to raise sufficient funds with which to erect a monument.

The final stop was at Marnion, in King George County, home of the Fitzhugh and Lewis families, built about 1684, and still in possession of the Lewis families. This home is noted for its fine paneling. The paneling of the dining-room was taken to the Metropolitan Museum of Art as an example of fine colonial interiors of America. Paneling on the door was of the old Cross design. There also may be seen the original old locks and hugh keys—still in daily use by the present occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Grymes. Mrs. Grymes, a Lewis, having been born in this home.

Many rare pieces of old china, silver, and glass ware which have been handed down from generation to generation were on display here, and Mrs. Grymes, our hostess and guide, gave some interesting facts concerning these. This home is indeed a museum of rare and beautiful antiques and was well worth the entire trip.

There also may be seen the old school room, the ancient kitchen with a splendid collection of cooking utensils, a huge fireplace. The dairy and smoke house are in splendid state of preservation.

Those making the tour were as follows:

Mrs. T. J. Broadus, Miss Maron Broadus, Mrs. C. Wade-Dalton, Mrs. C. B. Linton, Mrs. William Lloyd, Mrs. John Holt Merchant, Mrs. Eula Holt Merchant, Mrs. W. F. Cooke, Mrs. Edna Smith, Mrs. T. E. Dillake, Mrs. B. Jacobson, Mrs. Lillian Hynson, Mrs. Bettie Leachman, Mrs. Boccock, Mrs. Marie Larkin, Mrs. William Larkin, Mrs. J. T. MOSES A. C. TAKES ONE

Sunday Moses A. C. won one from Marshall and lost one. They won by a score of 5 to 3 and lost a eight inning game 4 to 3.

The first game lasted three hours and it was fourteen innings. In the ninth inning, it was 3 to 3, neither scoring until the fourteenth inning when Moses scored two runs.

In the second game Moses scored three runs and held Marshall scoreless until the seventh inning and then they scored four on two errors.

This is the first game Marshall has lost.

Spain pitched a out standing game allowing a very few hits and lasting fourteen innings.

Polen, Ellison and Hanback played a wonderful game in the field and nabbed the players of many hits. Swart was injured in the 7th inning. Ruffren pitched a good game until the seventh inning.

This Sunday June 26, Moses A. C. will play the Springs a double header at the Springs.

Cherry Season Calls For Pie

Courtesy Schrafft's Restaurants, New York

MEN have always liked cherry pie. It has a zest that is stimulating to manly appetites, and a substance that gives them the very important feeling of having had just the right finish to a meal.

Cherry pie, according to Schrafft's menu experts, should be nice and juicy and not too sweet. It should have the true flavor of the ripe meaty cherries.

Here is a recommended recipe:

Cherry Pie

Use a rich pie dough for 2 crusts:
1 1/2 cups pastry flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter
Ice water

Sift flour with salt and baking powder. Reserve 2 tablespoons butter. With finger tips, case knife, or pastry mixer, blend rest of shortening with flour. Moisten dough with ice water, drop by drop, using as little as possible. Place on floured board. Pat lightly. Roll out. Dot with remaining butter. Fold over. Roll again.

Fill with sweetened fresh cherries:

1 quart pitted fresh sour red cherries
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour

Line pie plate with dough, and brush with white of egg. Put in pitted cherries and sprinkle with sugar and flour. Dot top with bits of butter. Cover with top crust. Slit crust in center to let out steam. Bind well and wet around edge with ice water. Bake on the lower shelf in a moderately hot oven until top is golden brown.

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF "VIRGINIA TREES"

"Written by one who knows the Virginia forests intimately, this pioneer book on Virginia trees may be expected to have considerable usefulness within its range, which, of course, extends beyond the borders of the state. Presumably other volumes are to follow, describing Virginia's great wealth of deciduous trees."—Science News Letter.

"Permit me to compliment you on this fine contribution to the botany of Virginia. Indeed it is more than a contribution to botany, since you not only have a great wealth of botanical detail here, but also a mass of historical, economic, ecological and agricultural data that is of great value for reference and also makes very interesting and profitable reading. I shall anticipate the appearance of further volumes in this series with eagerness."—William A. Dayton, Ecologist, U. S. Forest Service, Washington.

"I think you have done remarkably well and have produced a little volume which is a distinct contribution to our knowledge of the tree flora of Virginia. I note with pleasure that Volume II is in preparation, and I have no doubt that it will maintain the same high standard that you have set in Volume I."—Dr. H. Gleason, Acting Director, New York Botanical Garden.

"Congratulations on your book. It is an admirable piece of work and will bring Virginia where she should be, at the head of the list. I know that it will be my bible on any forest type mapping projects in that State."—Frank H. Miller, Assistant Forester in Charge of Type Mapping, Region One, National Park Service.

"Your book is extremely interesting"—Dr. J. Shelton Horsley, Past President, Virginia Academy of Science.

"I have had an opportunity to look through the book very carefully, so I am writing to let you know that I was greatly interested in it, and think that it is a book of real value. It certainly taught me a great deal that I did not know about Virginia trees. One thing I like is that, although it is technically accurate, the information is given in a way that can be understood by anyone who is interested in trees."—Bishop Harry St. George Tucker.

"I congratulate you on your splendid book." Senator Harry Flood Byrd.

"I have looked over your book with a great deal of interest and I think it should serve a very valuable aid in extending better knowledge of Virginia trees. I hope that you will be able to complete the proposed series without delay."—Dr. Raymond J. Pool, Chairman of the Department of Botany, University of Nebraska.

Virginia Trees, Volume 1, by William Harrison Lamb, Manassas, Va., is published by the Manassas Journal Manassas, Virginia. Price $2.50, postpaid.
