LOCAL CHURCH TO BE REFURNISHEI

Presbyterian Auditorium To Have Beautiful Interior

At a meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian Church last Thursday, it was decided to proceed immediately with plans for refurnishing the church auditorium. This decision calls up a number of matters of historic

So far as those now living can remember, the low, narrow, straightbacked pews now in use were installed soon after the brownstone building was completed in 1867.

The congregation is now ready to admit that the green carpet, presented over twenty-five years ago by Mr. John R. Hornbaker, has given all the service that could be reasonably expected of any carpet.

When the Ladies Aid Society repainted the church interior recently, the worn condition of the church furniture was thrown into sharp relief. Many of the members began to reflect that the entire church plant represented capital investments of former generations, and that those who worship here today are using the things that reverend hands of an older day left in their care. The wear and tear of the years takes its toll, and there is evident a need for more beauty and comfort in their house of

The DeLong Furniture Company of Philadelphia, a firm long prominent in the field of church furnishing, has been awarded the contract. Mr. E. F. DeLong, of the firm, gave his personal attention to the project, and the Manassas church will have one of the most beautiful interiors to be found among the churches in this section of Virginia. The plans include a new chancel with pulpit and lectern, choir stalls, and colorful dossal curtain above the communion table. The pews, designed with the thought of comfort as well as beauty, will be placed as formerly. They will be finished in man and a receipt given the customer white enamel and walnut, giving the which affords complete insurance whole interior the colonial effect which the memorial windows and lines livery at the plant the garments go of the room require. #### MARCHING THROUGH GEORGIA

Last week the President of all the people invaded the hospitable soil of Georgia as a self-styled "Yankee Democrat", and asked a Southern constituency to repudiate the veteran Senator George, who had been a strong Administration exponent, except where his loyalty to the safety and the prospriety of his native State were

Not only Georgia, but the whole South, and the Nation as well, are all concerned with the outcome of this latest and most direct and unjustifiable invasion of the right of a State to select its own representatives in Congress without interference from the contest is due to the invincible work of Chief Executive. A fundamental issue is at stake involving the independence of the various branches of our State and National Government, as provided by the Constitution.

"Yankee Democrats" have now gone as far as they can to destroy the present economic security of the South. They have been frustrated by the stubborn resistance of true Southern Senators and Representatives who have fought like their Confederate fathers in defense of their Constitutional rights.

The South has recovered from the effects of the War between the States. Again its "God-given advantages" have aroused the envy and hatred of Northern industrialists, who are determined to check the migration of their factories into the South where they may still enjoy a sheriff's protection from mob violence and can operate under costs permitting a reasonable profit for their stockholders. A Wage and Hours Bill, calculated to bring the South under domination of the C. I. O. and other radical control could not be consisted and control to a charge of the control of the be enacted, and cannot be attained as long as men like our beloved Representative Howard W. The answer from the Eighth District of Virginia has been given in no uncertain terms. We have demanded the right to pick our own Representative in Congress and we do not believe that in Georgia the Federal government can any more conquer the spirit of Southern Democracy, than could General Sherman, when he waged bloody warfare there against the defenseless women and children three quarters of a century ago.

This issue is larger than one of political parties. It is sectional—the North against the South, as truly as in 1861, and all Knights. The "Queen of the Tourna-cause it is a "beer." Southerners, Democratic and Republican should stand shoulder to shoulder to again resist a federal invasion of the South.
