

FORMER 4-H CLUB BOYS CARRY ON

Prince William Lads Make Good Records at V.P.I.

V.P.I. 4-H Alumni Club is starting off what promises to be another splendid year. This club, made up of former 4-H club members attending V.P.I., is playing an important part in student activities on the V.P.I., is playing an important part in student activities on the V.P.I. campus. During the college registration the officers of the club had a table in the registration line and secured certain information from every former 4-H club member who entered V. P. I. for the first time this year. In the freshman class there are 96 former 4-H club members. The records of the club show that at the present time there are 254 former club members who are regularly enrolled in the different classes at V.P.I.

One of the objectives of this club is to render service to freshmen entering V.P.I., particularly former 4-H club members, and to help them adjust themselves to college life. This club is meeting a real need in helping former 4-H club members find themselves in college, and the efforts of officers of the club to render service to new men attending college are to be commended.

In addition to this service, the club holds two meetings each month through the college year. Definite programs deal with special current training, and extra-curricula work. The club frequently brings to its meetings as speakers members of the faculty and other leading authorities on subjects the members are discussing. There are few organizations on the college campus rendering greater service for their members and others than is this club.

The officers for this year are P. B. Reading, Nokesville, president; K. R. Cline, Fishersville, vice-president; J. W. Howe, Mt. Solon, secretary; C. N. Smith, Cartersville, reporter; Miss Jo Sanford, Orange and E. J. Shiflet, Churchville, song leaders; E. W. Thompson, Woodbridge, corresponding secretary. The regular meeting time is the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 7:00 p.m. The club meets in the Student Activities Building.—(Va. 4-H Club Letter.)

Philip Reading, president, and E. W. Thompson, corresponding secretary, are former active Prince William County 4-H club members. Philip was a member of the Virginia dairy cattle judging team at St. Louis in 1935 and was selected as the outstanding Virginia club boy in business with his father to speak over a National radio hook-up that year. He also was a member of the V.P.I. team in the National Intercollegiate dairy cattle judging contest at Columbus this month.

E. W. (Bill) Thompson was Virginia's boy representative at the National 4-H Encampment in 1934 and was also a member of the Virginia judging team at St. Louis in 1935.

Philip and Bill will receive the degrees of B. S. in Agronomy and B. S. in Dairy Husbandry respectively at V.P.I. next June.

Billy Hale, the third member of the 1935 team, is also a member of the Va. Tech 4-H Alumni Club and a Dairy Husbandry Junior at V.P.I.

EDUCATION WEEK TO BE CELEBRATED

Hon. Wm. Hill Brown Will Address School Assembly

Around this topic, "Education For Tomorrow's America," is to be built the annual observance of American Education Week, November 6-12, 1938, sponsored by the National Education Association, the American Legion, and the United States Office of Education.

Osborn High School will observe this week by presenting an assembly on Thursday, November 10, at which time Hon. William Hill Brown will address the school on the topic, "Holding Fast to Our Ideals of Freedom." The public is cordially invited to this assembly.

Since education is so vital to American democracy, it is highly fitting that annually during American Education Week there be nationwide consideration of our educational system and its relation to the democracy it serves.

American Education Week serves as a time when the teaching profession, parents, and citizens throughout the entire nation, join in a consideration of the schools—what they are doing, the modern methods being used, how well the schools are meeting the needs of the times, and what may be required to make them better.

American Education Week as a national observance, however, depends on the extent it is stressed in the local community.

LEGION POST ELECTS OFFICERS FOR 1939

At a called meeting of Prince William Post 158, American Legion, held in the Town Hall on Tuesday night, the following officers were installed: Commander, E. G. Eagle; Service Officer, Miss Margaret Lynch. C. Raymond King, of Alexandria, Commander of the 8th District, was in charge of the installation ceremony. Other visitors were comrades May and Wicker of Alexandria and Major John A. Maigret, in charge of Employment in the District American Legion.

This meeting brought out the best attendance for the year. The Post was invited to attend services at the Presbyterian Church on Armistice Sunday, November 6, at 10:00 a.m. This invitation was accepted. The Post will conduct an assembly program at Osborn High School on Armistice Day, November 11.

After adjournment, delightful refreshments were served by the wives of a number of Legionnaires; Mrs. Parrish, Mrs. Pickeral and Mrs. Stauff. This put the finishing touch to a very enthusiastic meeting.

SPORTSMEN SHOULD ATTEND THIS MEETING

So—hunters and fishermen—if you are not satisfied with hunting and fishing conditions, here's your chance to talk it over. Those of this section will be particularly interested in a meeting that will be held in Warrenton, November 10th. On this date the Bustard Commission, which was created by the last General Assembly to investigate the game and fishing conditions in the State will hold a public hearing. All sportsmen and representatives of sportsmen's organizations are urged to attend. Any sportsman will do his sport and his state a service by appearing at this meeting; also, all interested farmers and other land-owners should be present. He should give the facts, good or bad, as known to him. If he is satisfied that the $300,000 contributed to the Game and Inland Fisheries each year by the sportsmen has been wisely spent, let him say so.

The Bustard Commission is endeavoring to get at the causes of the general dissatisfaction in hunting and fishing in Virginia in order that remedies may be recommended. These may be done only if the people most interested appear at the regional hearings and give the Commission the benefit of their knowledge and experience.

Distinguished Prince William
Citizen Speaks on Radio

ADDRESS ON CONSTITUTION BROADCAST TUESDAY

"My Fellow Citizens:

I can think of no greater honor than to speak over the air on the Constitution of the United States under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution. This organization, like a number of similar ones in America today, is doing a splendid work in stimulating popular respect for our form of government.

The Constitution of the United States owes its real origin to Magna Charta, the immortal concept of English Liberty, signed and sealed by King John, on June 15, 1215. The sacred spot known as Runnemede, where this great instrument was approved, is now a national park, situated on the banks of the Thames between London and Windsor, and fronted by noble monuments. It was from Magna Charta that the American people drew the immutable doctrines of habeas corpus, trial by jury and due process of law.

The earliest settlers at Jamestown in 1607, looked forward to the adoption of a constitutional form of government protecting the rich and the poor, the high and the low, and particularly the individual citizen in all the rights of liberty and property; and the Pilgrims of The Mayflower, as early as November 21st, 1620, before they left their boat, adopted what may really be called the first Constitution of the United States. Many years later, the Virginia Bill of Rights, written by George Mason of Gunston Hall, only a short distance from the city of Washington, became a real inspiration for the American Constitution adopted at Philadelphia, on September 17, 1787. This great charter of freedom, which Gladstone pronounced "The most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man;" and which Daniel Webster declared he would use every faculty in his power to prevent from being nullified or impaired, is the most sacred document in America today, and I hope will continue to be for all future ages. The "given time" referred to by Gladstone is curiously enough the shortest period in which any supreme law of government was ever written in the history of the world. The constitutional convention actually accomplished its task in 85 working days, and for all time to come it is the duty of every American citizen, whether native-born or naturalized, to support and defend this splendid heritage.

The Constitutional Convention was presided over by George Washington and among many leaders of that day who took part in the construction of this sacred instrument, were James Madison, Alexander Hamilton, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, Charles Pinckney, Gouverneur Morris, Rufus King, and others of deathless fame. It has often been said that George Washington took little part in the deliberations of the convention, but one of the outstanding episodes of that day was that at a critical moment when it seemed that all the work might come to naught, Gen. Washington stood at his place and exclaimed with solemn emotion; "Let us raise a standard to which the wise and the honest can repair. The event is in the hands of God."

The main body of the Constitution creates the three vital agencies of government, and defines their powers—the legislative, the executive and the judicial. The terms used are the clearest of which the English language is capable, and no intelligent individual, whether lawyer or layman, from John Marshall the greatest interpreter of the Constitution in the history of the country, to the humblest citizen in the land, could fail to understand them.

There have been 21 Amendments to the Constitution, and the proposed 22nd, concerning Child Labor, is still pending. Of these Amendments the first 10 were, in effect, a part of the original instrument and constitute the great Bill of Rights of the American people. They were devised to meet objections to the adoption of the Constitution. They concern chiefly the rights of petition for redress of grievances, religious liberty, freedom of speech and the press, security against searches and seizures, trial by jury.

MONUMENT TO BE ERECTED BY DESIGN WINNER

The sculptor for the Stonewall Jackson monument to be erected on the battleground of First Manassas, will be picked in an open competition.

The winner will receive $22,500 for the design, execution and erection of the monument, to be raised at the place where General Jackson stood "like a stone wall" amid the turmoil of battle.

The last General Assembly appropriated $25,000 for this purpose, and Chairman Wilbur Hall of the State Conservation Commission said recently that one-tenth of the fund was set aside for administration of the project.

The Virginia Museum of Fine Arts will conduct the competition at the request of the Conservation Commission. Models will be received in New York until February 10 and in Richmond until February 15, and the name of the winners announced at an exhibition of the models March 4 of next year.

The Virginia Art Commission, which visited the site last Sunday, and the National Commission of Fine Arts will have jurisdiction over the design of the monument and will prepare the specifications for it, said Thomas C. Holt, Jr., museum director.

The rules for the competition and the exhibition will be published on or before November 15.

After years of contention over a new municipal airport for Washington, the pioneer site of them all, Gravelly Point, finally is under development. Within a few weeks the work of moving hundreds of thousands of cubic yards of fill into the levees will be in full swing and by next spring the air terminal is expected to be above water.

DURING the War between the States, that part of Chesapeake and Ohio Lines then known as the Virginia Central was an important military objective. The line closely followed—and often marked—the boundary of the Confederacy. For years it seemed that the railroad's ambition to serve the east-west development of the country was doomed. Armies crossed and recrossed the tracks, destroying, repairing, destroying.

Q At the close of hostilities the railroad had less than $100 in gold in the treasury, and only twenty miles of line available for producing revenue. "But," said Col. Edmund Fontaine, the Virginia Central's president, "let us not now repine. Submitting to the unforeseen and calamitous results which have befallen the country, let us gird ourselves with fresh resolution to meet any difficulties, and try to overcome them as we have done many others."

Q There again spoke the spirit of courage and service which is the soul of great railroads.

Chesapeake and Ohio—like any public servant—makes instant response to the country's wartime need. But the railroad is essentially a creative force for peaceful development. Chesapeake and Ohio Lines are proud of their part in developing the territory they serve, and will continue to be a vital, dependable factor in industrial and civic progress.

The library will present a Book Week program on Thursday night, November 17, at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association. The speaker for the evening will be Mr. Willard Webb, one of the librarians in the Congressional Library in Washington.

It will be remembered that the speaker on the Book Week program last year was Dr. James McManaway, Assistant Director of the Folger Shakespearean Library, who gave a very interesting discussion of that unique institution. Mr. Webb will speak this year on the Library of Congress, something of the artistic decorations of its magnificent building, of its literary treasures and of the vast work it carries on; for the Library of Congress is not only building up one of the three or four greatest collections of books in the world, but through its skilled librarians is helping in an immense amount of research work in every field of knowledge, so that it is fast becoming a great people's university. After the speakers address, a book exhibit in the Library and a social hour will be held.

This Thursday night meeting is also the reunion of the "Friends of the Library" organized under the auspices of the High School through that week, a Library play at Assembly by the Library Club and programs in different classes. An interesting feature also of Book Week celebration in the county will be the exhibition of the Book Week Posters now being prepared in the different schools under the direction of Miss Ayres.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES and other inalienable needs of a self-respecting nation. The most important of the other Amendments are those abolishing slavery, granting to Congress the power to tax incomes, providing for the election of senators by direct vote of the people instead of by the legislatures of the states, granting woman suffrage, and fixing the terms of office of the President and Vice-President, and of the Senators and Representatives so as to make them more immediately answerable to the popular verdict of the people. If we count the first 10 Amendments as a part of the original Constitution, and omit the 2 Amendments establishing and repealing Prohibition, which nullify themselves, there have really been but 9 Amendments to the Constitution of the United States in 151 years. This is a remarkable tribute to the temper and sagacity of the American people, buttressed and supported by the farmers, who, by requiring that no Amendment could be adopted without the vote of 2-3 of both Houses of Congress, and 3-4 of the States, made it necessary that we should ponder thoughtfully before making any change in our form of government.

I have given you, my friends, a brief summary of the adoption and contents of the Constitution of the United States. My advice to every man and woman who is listening in today is to read, from the beginning to the end, this great Charter of our liberties, with all its splendid guarantees and all its checks and balances. This will make you prouder of your country and surer of your birthright.

In these days when there are, according to the very latest news, so many spies and conspirators spreading the dark doctrines of fascism, communism and every other "ism" except patriotism, we need to teach all the people, without regard to race, color or religion, that they are absolutely equal under the law, entitled to the protection of the Constitution of the United States, and that the highest duty of every individual in the land is to live an honest and law-abiding life, and to use all his or her talents and industry to attain an honorable place in the world. Of course the number of these spies and conspirators has no doubt been exaggerated, but in my judgment, our first duty is to deport the aliens among them back to the lands where they obtained their pernicious theories, and any American citizens among them plotting violence should be prosecuted and sent to jail.

The most dangerous doctrine that can be taught is that the world owes every man a living. This is only half true. The world does owe every man a living, but he must work in order to collect the debt, and nothing can so destroy self-respect and all those qualities which make for peace and progress as to teach mankind that we are entitled to all the needs and luxuries of life without doing anything to deserve them. There would never have been any great invention, or any great poem or picture, or anything of usefulness or of beauty, if it had not been for the personal industry and ambition of some free, self-respecting man or woman who was not content to live a life of idleness and dependence upon others, but who desired to give his or her talents to the betterment of world conditions.

The one thing most important of all to keep in mind is that it is not the duty of the government to support the people, but the duty of the people to support the government. Uncle Sam is not a Santa Claus. He is an umpire—the great umpire of the game of life, ready to suppress injustice and monopoly, disorder and crime, and to see that every individual in the country gets a Square Deal.

I am one of those who believe that the Constitution of the United States will never be destroyed and I want to point out one significant and encouraging fact in this connection. There is not today a single community in the United States where any man could be elected to any office on a platform advocating a change in our form of government.

At this moment when many other countries of the world are in the throes of war or revolution, or governed by cruel autocracies which suppress all liberty of speech or occupation or religion, a prime obligation is to so strengthen the army and navy of the United States that we may defend our country against any aggression. We ourselves will never be the aggressor in any direction, for there is not an inch of foreign territory that we want to annex.

In my judgment present doubts and difficulties will adjust themselves, and better times are coming than we have witnessed in many years. There

Mrs. Herman T. Jennings spent the week-end visiting her husband in Occoquan, and while there stayed at the home of the Misses Helen and Mayme Davis. Mr. Jennings has an apartment at the home of the Misses Davis. He is the BIG druggist at Occoquan.

Mrs. Sidney Manson, of Alexandria, has returned from a European vacation trip of about two months. Mrs. Manson was before her marriage Miss Virginia Leary of Occoquan.

There will be a Halloween party at Occoquan High School on Friday evening, October 28. We hope all will take this opportunity to come and enjoy a JOLLY evening.

Talking about Halloween; we all know and expect the young folks to have their pranks, but it would be grand if they would first consider the other fellow and not do anything to injure any others property, or cause inconvenience to others. We can have our fun and lots of it without in any way injuring another's property or rights. It would be well for our young who bear an excellent reputation to bear this in mind.

The O-W-L Volunteer Fire Department is really in existence now. The fire truck and equipment have arrived; have been tried out and have met with the unqualified approval of the entire community.

Do Not Forget There Is Still A Small Deficit in Payment for This Equipment. The President, Mr. Robert S. Hall, Occoquan, Will Be Glad to Receive Donations. A Lot of Our Good Friends Have Not As Yet Been Heard From.

Mr. Ogle Harris, a leading colored merchant and good citizen of Occoquan, is enlarging his store. A sign of prosperity.

NOKESVILLE

If the teachers enjoyed the teacher's meeting at Warrenton on Friday as much as the pupils enjoyed the holiday, I am sure it was a "lovely affair."

Report cards were handed out Tuesday for the first six weeks. Everyone seemed "very proud" of his grade?

A soccer game was scheduled for Friday on our diamond with Herndon. About three-fourths of the game was played, neither side scoring any points, when the players and onlookers were driven in by a down-pour of rain.

Sickness seems to have met with many persons of our community the past week. Mr. Miller Whetzel was operated on for appendicitis on Tuesday. Mrs. Ernest Hale has been in the hospital in Washington since Wednesday.

Mrs. Owen McLearn was taken to Alexandria Hospital on Friday. Jean Herring, a first grade pupil, was taken to Children's Hospital in Washington on last Friday.

ville met at the church on Wednesday night for their monthly social.

BIGGEST TURNIP

The Journal has on display a turnip dug on Monday by Will Young, which weighed at the time of digging 6 pounds, 4 ounces.

Bronchial Coughs Need Creomulsion

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling germ-laden phlegm. The Medical Profession has for generations recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a good dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and may be taken frequently by both adults and children. Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund your money. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)
