BOOK EXHIBIT WAS WONDERFUL

Library Presented Unusual Program in Last Week

The Ruffner-Carnegie Library in connection with the Manassas P. T. A. had most successful Book Week Program and exhibit last Thursday night.

The "Library of Congress" was the theme of the very interesting address given by Mr. Willard Webb, one of its librarians. This great national library housed in its magnificent building is on so vast a scale that, as the speaker very truly said, only the barest outline of its manifold old divisions and activities could be given. The present library, which was begun through the purchase of Thomas Jefferson's collection of books by the Federal Government, now contains 6,000,000 bound volumes housed on 400 miles of shelving, and numbers among its treasures some of the most priceless book and manuscripts in the world—among them one of the two or three copies in existence of the great Gutenberg Bible one of the earliest books printed from movable type, two of the Folio editions of Shakespeare's plays and the manuscript of the Declaration of Independence. The speaker next referred to some of the many departments of the library; the Oriental Division with 17,500 volumes in the Chinese language, the Semetic Division, the vast Periodical Division, the Music Division with its large collection of music and its Stradivarius violins, and the Division of Books for the Blind. The last contained not only many books in Braille (raised letters) but a number of the new talking books—a kind of modified phonograph. Reference was also made to the Inter-Library Loan system the Congressional Library had developed, the great amount of research work it carried on, and the facilities of every sort it offered to advanced students. The Library of Congress, the speaker said, was a revelation to all who knew it—a great American institution in whose benefits all might share.

Mr. Webb's address was followed by a violin and piano selection by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Carper. Mrs. Sedric Saunders, president of the High School Alumni Association, next gave an account of the organization and aims of the Ruffner-Carnegie "Friends of the Library," and at her suggestion many of those present added their names to the list of the "Friends." After the program, refreshments were served by members of the P. T. A. and the Library exhibit then followed.

The exhibit also proved of great interest. One of the special features was the large and excellent collection of outstanding modern biographies. Another good collection on the fine arts included interesting volumes on early furniture and American pressed glass. An interesting exhibit sponsored by Mrs. Virginia Lewis, contained a number of books and outlines giving suggestions for adult reading courses. The suggestions, however, were by no means confined to the needs of readers whose early education had been neglected. They were rather a challenge in general to adults to continue their education. The keynote, indeed, of such a challenge might be found in the title of a brilliant essay by Dorothy Canfield called "Learn or Perish." In this article the writer pleads for improvement "in the quality of individual minds as the basis on which any national thinking can be improved."

The exhibit of outstanding interest to most of the visitors, however, was a display of material relating to the history of Prince William County. A number of early illustrated issues of the Manassas Journal gave accounts of outstanding events and anniversaries of the county's long history. Books, papers, swords, helmets and other war relics recalled the County's connection with the "War between the States" and the "World War." A fine collection of photographs, and of 1911 issues of the Journal told again the story of the "Peace Jubilee" when veterans of both armies met here to celebrate the 50th Anniversary of the first battle of Manassas. A series of extremely interesting papers also set forth the recent researches of Mrs. Susan Morton of Haymarket in the early history of the County. Here were accounts of the early churches including the discovery of the hitherto forgotten site of the earliest church of the County, near old Colchester. Other papers told the story of Rippon

MONEY AVAILABLE FOR FARM LOANS

Mr. Lewis Moves Office to Hibbs and Gidding's

Many Prince William County farmers have discovered that the application of modern business methods to agriculture pays real dividends. P. A. Lewis Rural Rehabilitation, supervisor for the Farm Security Administration here, said today.

For generations many American farmers conducted their business in a rather slipshod manner. They figured that if they had some money in the bank when their bills were paid after harvest that they had had a successful year. If they ended up the crop year in debt, then it had been a bad year. No attempt was made to keep accurate and detailed records of the various phases of their operations.

When the Farm Security Administration assumed the task of rehabilitating farm families in this county it insisted that those who borrowed money should budget their expenditures and plan their operations in such a way that they would have feed for their livestock, food for their table during the winter months and so on; in other words, that they have a definite plan for the operation of their farms.

These farm plans, which are worked out by the farmer and his wife with the assistance of the Farm Security Administration's county staff, are based on the needs of individual families. There is no attempt to write uniform plans.

Each farm is given individual consideration. Everything is taken into consideration, the type of crops best suited to that particular soil, the number of livestock to be fed, the size of the family, enough cows for milk and cream, chicken for meat and eggs.

The plans also include records much the same as that used in business. At the end of the year these records show the farmer how much income he received from his various crops, the feed his livestock consumed, the average milk production of his cows, the number of eggs produced by his hens, the number of pigs raised per litter. The farmer then knows where profits were made, what crops showed a loss and where production standards should be raised.

The farmer's wife practices the same efficient business methods in her home. She buys and spends in accordance with a carefully planned budget, she keeps records of income and expenditure and conserves as much of the farm production as possible for family requirements.

A large number of families in Prince William County are operating their farms on this planned basis, Mr. Lewis said.

Loans for the purchase of livestock seed and fertilizer and farm equipment are now available at the Prince William County Farm Security Administration Office at their new location, Hibbs and Gidding's building, Manassas.

WILL CONDUCT BOOK REVIEW

Clarence Wagner Will Co-operate with Local Library

Beginning with the next issue, the Journal will print each week a review of a worthwhile book which can be obtained on loan at the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

Clarence Wagener, a former editor of the Journal and who is in his seventeenth year of service for the Baltimore Sun, will write the reviews. Mr. Wagener, in commenting upon the plan to be followed, said:

"There is a distinct need for a new type of book review. All the large city dailies and many of the magazines print reviews of new books, largely as a matter of business. In many instances it is obvious that the reviewer read only a part of the book, and that in a hurried state of mind. From such reviews you may get an idea of what the book is about, but the real kernel is missing. Only when a reviewer writes out of the fullness of his appreciation of what a book has done to him and his desire to have others share his joy, does a book review measure up to its possibilities of great usefulness.

In reviewing a book a week for the Journal I shall not confine myself to brand new books. I shall feel free to point out the pleasurable or informative significance of books as books—new, not-so-new and old ones. Perhaps on occasion I shall discuss only a section of a particular book, or just a single chapter. Some books are great in spots, but otherwise of minor importance.

One rule I shall adhere to at all times. I shall review only those books which I have read leisurely, of my own volition, and which I find it fun to write about. If my reviews induce only a few busy men and women, and young persons to treat themselves more frequently to the joy that comes from reading worthwhile books, I shall not have set down my impressions in vain."

Needless to say, the opinions expressed in the forthcoming reviews will be Mr. Wagener's and not necessarily the opinions of the Journal. It is suggested that the reviews be clipped and kept in a scrapbook for future reference in the home.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS SALE

The Ladies Aid of the Cannon Branch Church will have their annual Christmas sale Saturday, December 3, beginning at 10:00. It will be held in the vacant store room of the M.I.C. Building next to Beachley's Store. This sale consists of all kinds of fancy and useful articles, pies, cakes, candy, rolls, potato salad, pickles, etc.

LAYMEN'S LEAGUE MEETING

Announcement is made by N. P. Young, chairman of the Episcopal Laymen's League of Northern Virginia that the date for the fall meeting will be December 8th, and the place, St. Mary's, Arlington.

T. B. SEAL SALE STARTS TODAY

District Chairman and Committees Are Announced

The annual sale of Christmas seals starts this week on Thanksgiving Day. Rev. A. S. Gibson is Chairman of the Prince William County Tuberculosis Association, and Mrs. A. S. Gibson is the County Seal Sale Chairman; Mrs. A. A. Hooff, Treasurer and Mrs. Ruby Haydon, Secretary.

The Chairmen by district are as follows: Manassas, Mrs. Benjamin Johnson; Gainesville, Miss Anne Robertson; Brentsville, Mrs. Celestine Brown; Coles, Miss Bessie Cornwell; Occoquan, Mrs. Eva K. Garner; Dumfries, Mrs. J. F. McInteer.

The sub-chairmen are, by district, as follows: Manassas, Mrs. Norman McManaway; Gainesville, Miss Anne Robertson; Brentsville, Mrs. J. J. Davies; Coles, W. Y. Ellicott; Occoquan, Mrs. Harvey Janney; Dumfries, Miss Hazel Abel.

Professor W. H. Barnes is General Chairman for the negro auxiliary with Margaret Townes, Ruth Wanzer and Adeline Penn as assistants.

Miss Sue Ayres has charge of the Bangle Sale in the white schools and Margaret Townes is in charge of the Bangle Sale in the colored schools.

Our workers in the Christmas Seal campaign give volunteer service generously contributing time and effort to the fight against tuberculosis. Eighty per cent of the money you contribute remains in Prince William County, fifteen per cent goes to State Association, and five per cent to our National Association.

The money you contributed last year helped in the treatment of Tuberculosis in your county as follows: The association expended for Milk, $162.90; Cod Liver Oil, $129.60; Sanatorium Board, $136.50; Supplies for Tuberculosis patients, such as blankets, sweaters and food, $18.50; Hot lunches, $50.00; X-rays, $226.50; Charts, pamphlets and teaching units, $7.33; The State Rehabilitation Program, $7.50; Medicine, $17.35.

In the July Clinic 93 were positive reactors to Tuberculin; 84 children had positive x-rays, 17 children had suspicious x-rays. There were 11 positive adults and 76 suspicious adults, with 7 patients recommended for immediate sanatorium treatment. Of this number only one has been admitted to the sanatorium. At present we have one white and two colored patients in the sanatorium.

It will be necessary to make a greater effort than ever before to care for our patients needing sanatorium care, because the county finds it impossible to make the same contribution to the sanatorium board as it has in the past few years.

It is the aim of this Association to do all they can to prevent Tuberculosis among our children and keeping them well, keeping them supplied with hot lunches, milk and cod liver oil. If you are overlooked in this seal sale campaign, please make your contribution to your local chairman.

GEORGE C. KINCHELOE

George Cornelius Kincheloe, aged 67, died last Thursday afternoon following a very brief illness. He had been a lifelong resident of the Clifton vicinity, where he was born June 25, 1871, the son of Capt. James Cornelius Kincheloe and Texanna Richardson.

His father was a noted Confederate leader and is generally credited with having offered the last armed resistance of the War between the States, when he and his men fought a pitched battle in the latter part of April, 1865.

The deceased had been a farmer all through his useful life and had retired from active work only recently. He married Miss Inez Gheen on December 31, 1903. Besides his widow he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. T. R. Cassidy and Mrs. James Hefflin, of Washington, D. C.

The funeral took place at the residence on Sunday afternoon, the Rev. R. M. Graham, of Manassas, officiating. Interment followed at Oak Hill Cemetery in Clifton.

The pallbearers were six nephews: Roy S., Carl J., Cecil C., Paul E., Conner C. and Lawrence A. Kincheloe.

The funeral was attended by a very large assembly who came to pay their respects to the deceased. Mr. Kincheloe was not only well-known and well liked himself but both he and his wife come from families who have had their roots in Fairfax soil for generations, and are consequently related to many of our prominent people and generally highly connected.

COON HUNT DRAWS MANY CELEBRITIES

E. M. Palmer Host at Mountain Lodge

On Saturday, November 13, a party of coon hunters were invited to the estate of E. M. Palmer on the East side of the Bull Run Mountain, about two miles from New Baltimore, to partake in eats and refreshments before they captured the coon. The dinner was sumptuously prepared by a chef and served to 65 guests, consisting of Lawyers, Judges, Doctors, Preachers and business men, and Oh how they enjoyed that roast pig, baked beans, turkey and everything that goes with it.

The music was furnished by the one man band, Buford Bridwell of Falls Church, and the singing by George P. Groves, Raymond Ratcliffe and Ed Conner.

About 10:00 a small opossum was seen hanging to a limb and the dogs bayed until they were called off. The coon hunters partook of the hospitality of Mr. Palmer until the wee small hours and then returned to their respective homes to dream of the coon hunt.

AUDITOR REPORTS ON DELINQUENT TAXES DUE STATE

The concentrated effort by the State to collect delinquent State taxes under the new system set up by Col. LeRoy Hodges, State Comptroller, and C. H. Morrisett, State Tax Commissioner, is being watched with much interest in this section.

A close up study of the State tax collection problem as it applies to Prince William County reveals that $353.36 in unpaid assessments for 1936 of individual incomes and intangible personal property have recently been turned over to the delinquent tax section for collection. Under the law county treasurers are given two years in which to collect these State taxes. After that time all delinquencies are turned back to the State for collection.

The state tax assessments for 1936 in Prince William County totaled $6,131.24 and the delinquent tax tickets represent 5.76 per cent of the assessment.

Records show that of the 1935 State assessments on individual incomes and intangibles in Prince William county, $79.00 or 1.37 per cent was returned delinquent out of the $5,761.00 assessed. The 1934 figures at the time the tax tickets were given to the State, showed that of the $6,153.26 assessment, $508.43 or 8.26 per cent was reported delinquent.

Part of these older delinquencies have been collected. The balance have been turned over to the delinquent tax section. Figures are not yet available on the amount of these older bills still outstanding, nor of the delinquent taxes are corporation incomes, public service corporations, or registration fees on franchises owed by residents of Prince William County.

The new drive for tax collection has two purposes. First, it is designed to wipe out the "backlog" of uncollected tax bills which have been accumulating over a period of years. More than $2,500,000 in delinquent taxes is now due the State. The second purpose of the drive is to place the emphasis for collection at the time the tax becomes delinquent, thereby forestalling the accumulation of a large amount of uncollected items.

Under the old system before the change was made, collection of delinquent taxes was handled by twenty-one agents. The agents received commissions from ten to twenty per cent of the amount collected, depending upon the size of the collection.

A close check will be made at the courthouse in Prince William county of judgments against delinquent taxpayers in this section. An effort is being made to collect these where the taxpayer has assets.

The new system is said by Colonel Hodges to be much business-like and will treat all cases alike rather than pursue those easiest to collect or offering the largest commissions as was sometimes the case under the old system. The new system is a result of administrative authority rather than by specific legislative act.

The State delinquent taxes are not to be confused with assessments on real estate and tangible personal property which have been segregated for tax purposes entirely to the localities since 1926 and over which the State Tax Department has only general supervision.

Local tax in Prince William County becoming delinquent as of June 30, 1937, were reported by the Auditor of Public Accounts to be $1,114.08 and represented 15.77 per cent of the local tax due on December 5, 1936, and reported delinquent on June 30, 1937.

A study over a 6-year period shows that in Prince William County from July 1, 1930 to July 1, 1936, the assessments for local taxes totaled $522,530.84. During this period there was accumulated an average of $6.54 in delinquent taxes for every $100 assessed.

CATHARPIN

Well, we have certainly been neglecting our reportorial duty during the past week or so but we know you will forgive the omission when you learn that we have been so busy running the elections of the country and, after we had defeated all the political scalawags, we were so tired we just had to rest a while. Now that we have them all on the run, we can devote some of our precious time to our own home clientel. But, believe it or not, the biggest election job we have ever undertaken was at the Catharpin precinct where it took five, big, brave, stalwart men to run a one-man election. But we did it; and after calling into service all our algebraic, and geometric knowledge plus the multiplication tables, succeeded in counting the 16 votes cast for the Hon. Howard W. Smith, made out our reports, proudly signed our names on the various dotted lines and patriotically forwarded same by special messenger to the County Seat. For this valiant service the said brave and true men will draw about $20. This may seem a little high but you must remember that Uncle Sam never refuses an opportunity for his children to express their honest convictions.

You know if one but stops to think situations through, or as near through as his general knowledge of things will permit, he is in for some surprises; chief of which might be that he, himself, knows so little about the things he really ought to know, but the fact seems to be that a great portion of the voting population of the country never stops to think about anything; they just simply follow the

Chevrolet Takes Big Strides Ahead for 1939

New Aero-stream styled bodies combine with major mechanical improvements to provide new beauty, safety, comfort and operating ease, in the 1939 Chevrolets, presented October 24, and featured at the big auto shows this month. The new models are offered on two chassis, the Master De Luxe and the Master 85, both of which are powered with Chevrolet's famous six-cylinder valve-in-head engine.

A new vacuum gear shift mechanism with steering column control, optional on all models at small extra cost, does 80 per cent of the work of shifting gears. The Master De Luxe series features a new riding system, in which a brand new Chevrolet Knee-Action mechanism is scientifically co-ordinated with new ride stabilizer and double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers to furnish a smooth, soft ride.

loudest noise. For the past few years the "New Deal" has been getting quite noisy; so noisy in fact that it failed to hear the rumblings of the regular Democratic party. This condition seemed to thrive on rubber stamps, but when our law makers began to hear from home and realized they were not sent there as boosters for the rubber manufactures, they began to see the light and many of them will be a minus quantity on January 3rd, when the 76th Congress is called in session. The New Deal is not the only presumptuous undertaking in the political field; take the La Follette-father and sons, who thought they were wise enough to uproot the natural order of things. Some will remember the Greenback Party which rose, fell and became extinct. And now the Townsend Plan, the Socialists, and many others misleading activities all claiming to be panaceas for our political ills; but they, like the proverbial sheep, will likely go astray. The great trouble of it all is that while they last they only serve to muddleup the unthinking mind and thus disturb the equilibrium of National thought. There is but one way to keep the Ship of State on an even keel and that is just plain common sense and honesty with our own country and Government. There are more good people in the country than bad; more people of good common reasoning power than illiterates. All we need is to forget politics and use judgment and the best Government in the world will be ours for the asking.

Corn shucking is nearly over in this community and a fine crop is the result. But while the crop is one of the best, the prices, as you know, are about the lowest. This, of course, makes cheap feed for both and beast so it seems no one should go hungry during the coming winter, however, rough and tumble it may be. The mild weather thus far is looked upon by the Catharpin Weather Bureau prophets as a prelude to a severe, cold winter. This, of course may or may not be the case but what's the use in having weather prognostications if you don't use them?

We are now right in the midst of the annual football season and if you ever listen in on the game you are very apt to hear such announcements as the following: "Forward pass," "incomplete," "penalized for off-side play," etc. This, probably, does not mean so much to many readers but its analogy to the election just past and its "penalties" for "off-side" plays were so much in evidence that one can hardly miss the comparison. In their eagerness to win, many politicians, inspired by the whoops and yells of a thoughtless mob, attempt many "forward passes" only to be found "incomplete" and are "penalized" for "off-side" play, not in yards as in football, but in prestige and loss of position. This very thing has happened so often during the past few years that one wonders as their duplicity in thinking that the public can be fooled by their deceptions. One furious "forward pass" was attempted when those high in office sought to purge independent thinking on the part of some of the people's elected representatives. That the "purge" was unpopular is evidenced by the "penalty" inflicted at the polls. To enumerate the "passes" attempted and found "incomplete" would be only a nightmare both to the public and the situation itself. It all goes to prove that old saying about "fooling the people." There will be some who are willing to be "fooling the people." There will be some who are willing to be "fooled all the time" but not many. Our surprise is, that so many "high-ups" are willing to fool themselves as to the general intelligence of the voting population of the country. They get fooled once in while when their confidence has been violated, but if and when it becomes known, the "penalty" will be oblivion.

Thanksgiving Day will be with us on Thursday and an opportunity is again offered to be thankful for the

We should ever be thankful for the blessings of a free country and forever pray that it shall always be thus.

Mr. James Dorsey, of Clarendon, Va., and two Mr. Hampstons, of Berksville, Va., were hunting guests at Lawn Vale last week.

The hunting season is now on and the crack-bang of the shot gun is echoing from hill to hill. Game such as rabbits and quails are plentiful and

Mr. Warthen Hall, of Occoquan, and Manassas, who is attending school in New York City, is home until after Thanksgiving.

There will be a Bingo party given by the O-W-L Volunteer Fire Department at the Fire House in Occoquan on Friday evening, November 25th, commencing at 7:30. This will be for the benefit of the Volunteer Fire Department. We invite all our friends who have real community spirit to come and enjoy the evening with us. There will be very nice prizes given.

The O-W-L Volunteer Fire Department have purchased Boots and Coats for use of the firemen attending at fires. We hope there will be no fires, but we are getting ready. The Firemen have been investigating the various sources of water which may be available in case of fires, and making a record of them. This is an excellent thing to do, and it shows how interested they are in making necessary preparations.

The Senior League of Occoquan District High School will sponsor a Turkey Dinner at the High School on December 2nd. Be sure to keep this date open, and join with us in a good supper and a pleasant evening's entertainment.

hunters having a delightful time all at the expense of poor Bunny, Bob and Bet. But what were Bunny, Bob and Bet made for anyway?

Another "sporting" activity has been in evidence thruout the community and the "hunters" apparently quite successful in their pursuit of turkey and hen roasts. This apparently has been an open season for poultry marauders since its activity has extended over several months and many flocks of turkeys have been found short in numbers as high as twenty in one night. Hardly a family remains whose poultry flocks have not been visited by these night prowling visitors.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in later years.

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in Heaven.—Matthew 5:16.

THANKSGIVING

Without respect to our individual circumstances we all have ample occasion to be thankful for the manifold blessings which we have enjoyed during the past year. We may be inclined at times to be resentful that all of our cherished ambitions have not been realized, or even that none of them have materialized, but in Virginia our lot is so much better than elsewhere, particularly abroad, that we should be deeply grateful for the continuation here in opportunity of achievement and the ability to acquire and to possess those material and spiritual values which make life worth living.

It is our duty to thank the Giver of all at all times and in any place, but we are not so likely to do so unless we repair to our respective places of worship and there render to Almighty God the expressions of gratitude for the innumerable blessings which have been vouchsafed.

In the midst of our celebration of the season, let us not forget the real significance of Thanksgiving.

CLIFFORD BEAR ANNOUNCED AS 4-H LIVESTOCK CHAMPION Clifford B. Bear, Jr., Nokesville, was announced by the State 4-H Club Department this week as the Prince William 4-H Livestock Champion for 1938 and presented with the Thos. E. Wilson award.

Clifford has registered purebred Poland China hogs, in addition to Holstein dairy cattle, for his projects. He, with Gilbert Rollins, Wellington, received a scholarship to the 1938 State Conservation Short Course at Jamestown and in 1938 was one of the Virginia representatives at the National Livestock Show at Chicago. An enthusiastic booster for purebred hogs, he includes in his narrative report, "I now have only one grade sow which will soon be disposed of for meat."

BRING PURCHASE RECEIPTS AND REPORT FALL SEEDING

Farmers participating in the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program are again reminded to bring late summer and fall fertilizer, lime and grass seed purchase receipts to the county office and to show on what fields the materials were used. Reporting the fall practices by mail causes confusion as it is almost impossible to locate the fields on the aerial photographs from the descriptions as given. Participating farmers can hasten the arrival of their 1938 payments by attending this promptly. Receipts for earlier practices, not yet submitted, will also be accepted at this time and credit for payment given for their use.

PASTURE SURVEY

Farmers are beginning to appreciate more fully the value of excellent pasture as a means of reducing the cost of milk and beef production. Surveys and studies of the U. S. Department of Agriculture reveal the economy and importance of good pasture for dairy cows. Pasture may furnish nearly one-half of the total nutrients consumed by cows during the year, yet the cost of pasture is only about one-seventh of the total annual feed cost. Providing pastures are fertilized, limed and properly managed, they will produce sufficient feed to maintain a high level of production throughout the summer months with a minimum amount of grain or other harvested feed. On the other hand, when little effort is made to improve the pastures, a large amount of other feed must be supplied in order to maintain production.

THE WORLD AROUND US

By

O. J. Schuster

NEW FRONTIERS OF THE MIND is the name of a book by Dr. J. B. Rhine, chief director of the Duke University experiments that have attracted national and international interest. The book is worth reading. It gives the results of thousands of experiments made under the most carefully guarded conditions to insure scientific accuracy. Startling as some of the results obtained are, they are not final. They are valuable, however, for we do need to know much more of what we know about the workings of our own minds.

WHAT ARE THESE EXPERIMENTS? A simple illustration will illustrate their general nature. Suppose I am the experimenter and you are the subject being tested. We may be separated by only a few feet or we may be a city block or even a hundred miles apart. I have a pack of 25 cards on the table before me. They look like ordinary playing cards on top but on the bottom of each is only one of five figures—either a square, a circle, a star, a plus sign, or wavy lines. Five of the 25 cards have squares, five have circles, etc. Let us suppose that we are several blocks apart during the experiment and that our watches have been synchronized so that they are together to within a second of time. Our experiment is to begin at exactly 9 a.m. and continue 100 minutes.

AT THE APPOINTED TIME I remove the top card from the pack, which has been shuffled in a mechanical device to insure thoroughness, and lay it face down on the table, recording the figure it bears. At the middle of the first minute you record what figure you think is on the card. Exactly at the beginning at the second minute I take the second card from the pack, lay it on the first, and record the figure. Midway of the second minute you record what you think is on the face of the card. We continue this procedure for 100 minutes, I using a new shuffled pack at the end of each 25 minutes. At the end of the period we each seal our record, deliver it to a scientist agreed upon, and are present when the scientist checks the results in his laboratory. There has been no possibility of our meeting until our records are in the hands of the party who checks them.

IF YOU ARE A POOR SUBJECT your results will be those of chance, mere guesses, and you will average about 5 hits in 25 and 20 in the run of 100. But if you are a good subject (about 1 out of 5 persons does better than chance) you may score 50 or 75 in the 100 trials. If you are an exceptionally good subject you may score as 90 hits in 100 trials. And if you average 80 or even 50 in tests repeated from day to day the results could not possibly be attributed to chance or luck. On one occasion at least, a subject made 25 hits in succession. The odds against doing so are, according to mathematical calculation, 1 to 298,023,876,953,125. Considering the thousands of similar experiments, made under varying conditions and with the utmost precautions taken to prevent error or fraud; and considering that not merely one but a considerable number of subjects have made high scores, it is evident that this research work is worthy of respect. It has great value even though it may later be found to contain errors.

THE RESEARCHES MADE BY Dr. Rhine and his associates are having at least one important result: they make evident that even our foremost psychologists know very little about what happens when the mind thinks, remembers, imagines, etc. The problem of how the mind acts is far more intricate than has generally been believed even by able scientists. Duke has started a new line of investigation. It has made the study of clairvoyance and telepathy respectable to the general public, it has made, or at least is making every possible effort to make, it scientific. There is nothing sensational about the work, nor do the high scores by certain subjects indicate any supernatural powers on their part. In a personal letter to me Dr. S. A. Mitchell, Director of the Observatory of the University of Virginia wrote that only the human mind is more marvelous than is the wonderful physical universe revealed by astronomers. Perhaps the researches at Duke will stir us to study a little how our minds work and thru such study gives us a little knowledge about ourselves.

CAN MONTGOMERY TAKE IT? AND HOW!

Robert Montgomery proved that he could "take it"—literally on the run. He is making a scene at the Glendale Railway station for "Three Loves Has Nancy," the new romantic comedy, coming to the Pitts' Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, November 28-29, in which he is starred with Janet Gaynor and Franchot Tone. The scene called for his chasing an observation car and catching it on a flying leap.

On the first attempt the engineer got the locomotive under way so quickly that a Charley Paddock wouldn't have been able to keep up with it.

On the second attempt Montgomery slipped on some loose gravel and fell flat, ruining his suit. Another one was sent for before the scene could be filmed.

The third time, with the engineer cautioned to take it easy and the platform swept clean, the handle of the suitcase which Montgomery was carrying broke.

He made it on the fourth try but by this time he was wringing wet. It was only ninety degrees in the sun!

JOLLY WORKERS

JANE WITHERS AT HER BEST IN NEW HIT, "KEEP SMILING"

In what is by all odds the grandest picture she has ever made—the happiest, the funniest, the heart-tuggingest—Jane Withers came to the Pitts' Theatre Thursday and Friday, December 1-2, in "Keep Smiling," first of 20th Century-Fox's 1938-'39 pictures for the popular young star, with Gloria Stuart and Henry Wilcoxon heading a splendid cast which includes Helen Westly, Jed Prouty, Douglas Fowley and Robert Allen.

"Keep Smiling" affords Jane almost unlimited range for her high spirited talents, and she keeps you laughing, thrilling and living every exciting moment of it. There is, in addition to some of the most hilarious comedy seen in many a month, a tender, heart-warming quality to Jane's performance that will endear her even more to the legion of her fans who have heretofore loved her for her sheer exuberance.

The fast-moving screen play opens with Jane in a fashionable girls' boarding school, selling her entire wardrobe to raise the fare to Hollywood, where she plans to visit her movie director-uncle, Henry Wilcoxon, whom she has never seen. Arriving at his Beverly Hills mansion just at its lavish furnishings are being sold at auction, Jane learns that her uncle is down on his luck, has taken to drink and can no longer get a job. Whereupon she conspires with Gloria Stuart, Wilcoxon's former secretary—who admits that she loves him—to rehabilitate her uncle.

Jane crashes one of the big studios and after a wild chase with its police force gets into the head producer's office where she makes an impassioned plea in her uncle's behalf. The producer is more interested in giving Jane a chance to play in pictures herself. And the scenes which follow offer an unusually complete insight into the operations of a motion picture studio.

Wilcoxon, meanwhile, appears as an extra on the set where Jane is being coached for the star role. When the director, who tries to make Jane look bad, "blows up" on the job, Wilcoxon is offered the pilot's seat—and with Gloria Stuart once more at his side, the romantic situation is well in hand.

Three Age Groups Where Tuberculosis Takes Heavy Toll

Babies under one year are safer today from tuberculosis than was the case in 1928. Ten years ago, 1,300 infants less than one year old died of tuberculosis in this country, while in recent years the annual toll has been 670. The disease is not inherited, but young children are liable to be innocent victims if they are exposed to persons who have active tuberculosis. Christmas Seals are enabling parents to learn more about tuberculosis, thereby protecting their children.

Young girls are particularly susceptible to tuberculosis. Intensive efforts, financed by Christmas Seals, are directed toward turning back the threat of this disease from young people. Many schools and colleges throughout the country recommend tuberculin testing and X-raying to discover whether or not their students have tuberculosis. Out of 200 persons who die every day from tuberculosis in the United States, 33 are between the ages of 15 and 25.

While more women than men are victims of tuberculosis up to 30 years of age, the toll among men 40 to 65 years of age is approximately twice that among women of the same age. Medical authorities emphasize the importance of parents being free from tuberculosis in order to reduce the danger of infecting their children. The anti-tuberculosis movement receives its main support from Christmas Seals.

RED CROSS WINDING UP 1938 ROLL CALL

Announcement is made by O. D. Waters, chairman of the 1938 Roll Call of the American Red Cross, that three of his workers had gone over the 100 per cent mark in their quotas, the same being Mrs. E. H. Marsteller, Mrs. Rozier B. Larkin and Mrs. Elsie Lund.

This statement should be encouraging to the balance of Mr. Waters' aides and it is hoped that anyone who intends to contribute should have his or her donation in the hands of the nearest local chairman by the end of this week. In case you do not know who your local chairman is send your contribution direct to Mr. O. D. Waters, at Manassas.

Mr. Francis Compton, of Alexandria, spent Tuesday night here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Compton.

DIPHThERIA IMMUNIZATION PROGRAM TO BEGIN NOV. 28

In cooperation with the Prince William School Authorities, the Prince William County Health Department will conduct a Diphtheria immunization program in the schools, beginning Monday, November 28. It is hoped that the marked increase in the incidence of Diphtheria, noted in many sections of the State, may be prevented in Prince William County.

Each school in the county will be visited, and parents will be notified of the schedule. One week will be given to the schick testing of the members of the first two grades, in order for those needing the toxoid to learn this fact, and also so that those having had the toxoid may learn if they are adequately protected, or need an additional dose of toxoid.

The following week the schick tests will be read, and during the week beginning December 12, toxoid will be given to those needing it and not having had this protection.

A definite increase in the number of diphtheria cases reported to the State Health Department was pointed out recently by Dr. I. C. Riggan, State Health Commissioner. Beginning the latter part of July and first of August, corresponding to the onset of the so called diphtheria season, there has been a steady rise in the incidence of this disease over the same period for the last year. Two hundred and seven more cases have been recorded for the months of July, August, September and October, 1938, than were observed during the same four months in 1937.

At a recent conference called to discuss this situation, which included the Child Welfare Committee of the Medical Society of Virginia, the President of the Virginia Pediatric Society, and the members of the Virginia Department of Health in Richmond, Virginia, a review of the past and present record of the disease in the State was presented. Factors influencing the spread and measures facilitating its control were discussed. A more intensive program designed to reduce the incidence and deaths from diphtheria was considered necessary. Such a program now is being formulated. Dr. F. D. Wilson of Norfolk, Chairman of the Child Welfare Committee, presided over the conference which was attended by Drs. J. B. Stone, Richmond, Virginia; E. A. Harper, Lynchburg, Virginia, members of the Committee, W. W. Waddell, University of Virginia, president of the Virginia Pediatric Society, I. C. Riggan, State Health Commissioner and members of the Virginia Department of Health.

Commenting on this situation Dr. Riggan said, "Though not yet unduly alarming as far as the State as a whole is concerned, this rise is of distinct importance since it represents the first marked departure from the gradual decline of diphtheria in Virginia since 1933. It also serves as an unmistakable indication of a continued increase unless additional measures to prevent its spread are undertaken."

JOHN BARRYMORE PLAYS A VOTE-AND-SKIRT-CHASING

The new American fashion in medicine-show electioneering methods comes in for some uproarious ribbing in the 20th Century-Fox football comedy, "Hold That Co-ed," which opens Thursday and Friday, November 24-25, at the Pitts Theatre, with John Barrymore as a budget-bouncing, co-ed-kissing governor who parks his handwagon on the campus and proceeds to make things hum.

Half satire, half farce, and all fun, the picture proceeds merrily on the theory that if circus tactics can win votes (as they seem to be doing nowadays), then a winning college football team could accomplish miracles at the polls for any political candidate clever enough to turn it to his own personal glory. It's a highly amusing idea, and from all advance reports it would seem that 20th Century-Fox has taken full advantage of its entertainment possibilities.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, De-nounced" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 27.

The Golden Text is "If God be for us, who can be against us?" (Rom. 8:31).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose" (Rom. 8:28).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "At all times and under all circumstance, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil. Clad in the panoply of Love, human hatred cannot reach you. The cement of a higher humanity will unite all interests in the one divinity" (p. 571).

When he made this announcement Walter W. Head, President of the Boy Scouts of America, said, "Mr. Phillips offered the property without any restriction whatsoever save that it is to be used for the benefit of members of the Scout Movement. As a matter of fact, he specifically stated, 'If this proposal were being made to any other organization, whose rating was inferior to the record of service made by the Boy Scouts of America, I would be inclined to be more particular in outlining the program, to be assured that the property would be put to full beneficial use as I visualize it.' In accepting his gift the National Executive Board has in mind the establishment of a Boy Scout reservation for the development and furtherance of wilderness camping."

Kit Carson Country

Before formally proposing that the Boy Scouts of America accept the ranch property Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and their son Elliott entertained a party of Scout officials at Philmont Ranch near Cimarron, immediately adjacent to the new Scout Reservation. The party included, besides President Head, Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout Executive, and Arthur A. Schuck, Director of the Division of Operations. The entire group was greatly impressed by the scenic beauty of the area and its usefulness for Scout camping purposes.

Much of the property is virgin territory and under the careful management characteristic of Boy Scout camping those small parts which have been grazed recently will quickly be restored to their natural conditions. Mr. Phillips has proposed, in accordance with general Boy Scout practice, that the property immediately be designated as a game preserve.

In a statement issued to the Executive Board Dr. West described the reservation in this way: "The property is in the Rocky Mountains, all above an elevation of 7,000 feet and rises in spots to at least 11,000 feet. It is the Kit Carson territory and the old Santa Fe trail passes through it. There are nine main canyons on the tract converging either at the Cimarron River or the main branch of the Ponil River, which later flows into the Cimarron.

Older Boys' Paradise

"Each of the canyons is of the same general make-up, flanked on each side by ever-changing vistas, rock palisades, timber growth, and with smaller canyons in endless numbers fingered out from the main ones. There are also several high land meadows or mesas, offering excellent additional camping area spots. Bear Canyon, Dean Canyon, and Turkey Canyon have an extensive amount of timber growth, comprised, principally of western pines, Douglas fir, balsam, quaking aspens and cottonwoods. It is the natural habitat of deer and while on the property we saw mule deer, wild turkeys, and dozens of beaver dams and many evidences of bear.

"While there are few Boy Scout Local Councils throughout the country which do not have camps both for scout camping trips and for summer vacation camping," Dr. West continued, "there is a need of opportunities for Troops and Patrols with experience, training, leadership and proper equipment to secure the benefits of wilderness camping, which I believe will appeal to older boys in all parts of America. By this is implied a more rugged experience with 'nature in the raw' than is possible in the customary local Boy Scout Council camp but at no sacrifice of our essential safeguards of health and safety."

A recent digest of Scout membership records revealed that more than 100,000 Scouts in nearly 4,000 Troops live within a 600 mile radius of the property. From this group will come those who use the property most frequently, although Scouts from all parts of the country will head for it on roving tours under adequate leadership and according to provisions laid down by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Before reaching a decision to accept the Phillips gift the National Council sought advice from the local Boy Scout Councils in the area to be served by the reservation. Forty such groups indicated that they would begin to make use of the spot in the next camping season and many evidences of enthusiasm and offers of active cooperation in the development of the property were received.

Wilderness Camping Popular

George W. Olmsted, Chairman of the Camping and Activities Committee for the Boy Scouts of America, reports great need in the Rocky Mountain section for facilities for Troops from far away which seek wilderness camping. The Pike's Peak Council of Colorado Springs, Colo., last summer had requests from New Orleans, Shreveport, Toledo, Chicago, five towns in Texas, four in Kansas, and many individual requests for camping places in the Rocky Mountains. They were able only to help one Troop from Kansas and this demonstrates that there is great need for a place where these Troops can have adequate facilities for mountain camping under proper supervision.

As an evidence of the magnitude of this problem and how the Waite Phillips property would help to solve it, he adds that in 1937, 200 touring permits were granted by the home office of the Scouts with a total mileage of 155,354 miles, averaging 776 miles per tour, with 4,201 Scouts and 674 Scouters in attendance. To date, in 1938, 338 Touring Permits have been issued with an estimated attendance of 7,098 Scouts and 1,115 Scouters. Eighty-nine of the tours during 1938 traveled more than 1,000 miles. Thirty-six traveled more than 2,000 miles.

MRS. PETELLAT IS PRIZE WINNER

The Woodbridge Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Krain on November 17th. The demonstration was "Laundry Work Centers." A very interesting and instructive talk on laundry equipment was given by Miss Webb. Plans were made for the club's Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. E. W. Thompson in December. Miss Helen Davis had a pumpkin pie game prepared which was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Petellat was the prize winner. The hostess and her two assistants, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Lacey served very tasty refreshments.

THE PRESIDENT'S CABINET

Through nearly six years of unprecedented governmental peacetime activity the President of the United States has been served by one of the most oddly assorted cabinets ever to grace official Washington, according to a story appearing next Sunday in The Star. Changes in the cabinet during that period and all of the personalities involved are described, beginning with the death of Tom Walsh, first Attorney General, soon after his appointment, down to the current resignation of Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

ISSUES OUTDOOR ADVERTISING REGULATIONS

Harold J. Neale, State Director of Outdoor Advertising, has issued regulations by which to enforce the outdoor advertising act adopted by the 1938 General Assembly. These regulations are subject to possible changes before they are brought up for final adoption next month. The State code goes in effect January 1. At its recent meeting in Richmond the State Highway Commission approved the regulations, but Mr. Neale said that 30 days or more would be allowed for interested persons to study them and offer suggestions as to changes and interpretations before they are finally adopted.

Mr. Neale said that application forms for licenses and permits should be ready by the first week in December for distribution. He explained that any person or concern engaged in the business of outdoor advertising must obtain a license before January 1. The license fee is $25. In case the licensee has his principal place of business outside Virginia, or if the concern is incorporated outside the State, he will be required to furnish a $1,000 bond.

The director said that permits will be required for all advertisements and advertising structures outside any city or town, with certain exceptions pertaining to signs erected or maintained within 500 feet of a place of business. Signs on farms relating to produce furnished by the farm also are exempt. In addition, a person may post a piece of property for sale and a court office or official may post public notices.

After January 1, Mr. Neale warned, all advertisements and advertising structures not covered by exemption will be declared public and private nuisances and, unless owners remove them within 30 days, they will be subject to fines.

BOOK EXHIBIT

Lodge, Belle Aire and Leesylvania and other early homes of the County. There were descriptions of old Dumfries, an inventory of goods and slaves of the George Mason estate in old Prince William, before Fairfax, Fauquier and Loudoun had been set off from her. Other papers gave the history of some of the early citizens of the county, of George Brent and of Simon Kenton, Prince William pioneer, the companion of Daniel Boone and of John Rogers Clark. Another extremely interesting paper showed a collection of Prince William folk songs.

County authors were also well represented in the exhibit: Fairfax Harrison's two-volume history of the County, Clarke and Arrington's School history, Maude Ewell's "Life in old Prince William," Doctor Clarkson's "Songs of Love and War," Rev. Douglas Clark's "Ramblings of Battle Scattered Manassas" and the lyrics of Nancy Bird Turner and of Alice Boorman Williamson (Miss Turner and Mrs. Williamson can both be claimed as county poets since they spent their childhood in Prince William.)

In addition to Mrs. Morton's collection on the County's early history, other contributions to the exhibit were Mrs. George C. Round and Mrs. Frank Burk's pictures and material on the Peace Jubilee, Mrs. Morton and Ashby Lewis' relics on the "War between the States," Mr. E. G. Parrish's, Mr. Thomas Lynch's, Mrs. Baintyne Patterson's and Mrs. Humphrey's relics of the World War and a collection of copies of the Manassas Journal on many phases of the County's history from Mrs. Thomas Lion.

The latest item on Prince William history was a statement prepared by Mrs. Paul Cooksey, President of the Manassas Garden Club, on the new 400 acre Wild Flower Reservation on the Lee Highway near Gainesville which is now to be developed under the State Forestry Division.

LOVELY FLOWER BED

The National Bank has received many compliments on the lovely flower bed which has been maintained this summer on their vacant lot. We understand that Mrs. Harry Davis and Mrs. Raymond Davis are responsible for the project which has been greatly admired by everybody.

MANASSAS BOOTERS UNDEFEATED

The Manassas High School Soccer team completed a successful season without a single defeat. Since there is no league or conference, the Manassas Soccer team can claim the mythical County Championship. This is the first undefeated soccer team in the history of the school.

The success of the team can be contributed to the hard, dependable and clean playing of the entire squad. The soccer coach is very proud of the team for the spirit and cooperation it displayed throughout the season.

The squad consisted of the following boys: Harry Parrish, Captain, Maury Wells, Dee Vetter, William Miller, William Grady, Harry Jarmans, Guy Bowers, Montague Bradshaw, Howard Cooksey, Semaran Payne, Kite Roseberry, Roger Cross, Charles Mays, Burton Athey, Eugene Curtis and Frank Becon, manager.

Since Soccer season is now over, Mr. Litwin will now concentrate on basketball. Practice started this week and about twenty-five boys reported.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

American Education Week was observed by the Haymarket High School. Quite a few discussions were made, the most important, however, were "Achieving the Golden Rule," "Developing Strong Bodies and Able Minds," "Mastering Skills and Knowledge," "Attaining Values and Standards," "Accepting New Civic Responsibilities" and "Holding Fast to Our Ideals of Freedom."

All of us are familiar with the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." If we abide faithfully by this rule, it certainly should make most of the other topics easier to follow. Although a discussion was given each morning during the week, there is indeed room for much more information. Education Week is an annual occasion but there is always much benefit received from it.

OBSERVANCE OF BOOK WEEK AT HAYMARKET HIGH SCHOOL

In observance of Good Book Week a student of the sophomore class gave the life of Edgar Allen Poe.

Poe was born in Boston, on January 19, 1809. When he was two years old, Edgar's mother and father died, and he was adopted by Mr. Allen, a very wealthy merchant of Richmond. His education consisted of five years at an English school, several years at a Richmond Academy and one session at the University of Virginia.

He had a quarrel with his foster father and left home. Some time later he published his first volume of poetry in Boston. While living with his aunt, Poe fell in love with his cousin, Virginia Clemm and they were married. Poe made his married life the most fruitful, brightest time of his life.

After a long illness, Poe's wife died. Then he started drinking more frequently. At length he was found unconscious in Baltimore. He died in October, 1839.

Some of Poe's well-known poems are: Annabel Lee, The Raven, To Helen, The Bells, Israfel, Lenore and Ulalume.

GOOD BOOK WEEK

Among the interesting reports given for our benefit during Good Book Week were those of the life of Sidney Lanier and Nathaniel Hawthorne, both being American writers.

Nathaniel Hawthorne was a Northern writer, born in Salem, Massachusetts on July 4, 1804. When only a young boy, his father died leaving his mother greatly grief stricken. As a result of this Hawthorne lived a very lonely life. He developed a keen appreciation for good literature and this awakened the desire to write in later years.

Hawthorne traveled abroad six and one half years. When he returned, he published many stories and novels. But he left many unfinished when he died on May 18, 1864, at Plymouth, New Hampshire.

Sidney Lanier was an American poet, who stands in the front rank of artistic writers of the nineteenth century. He was a Southerner, born in Macon, Georgia, in 1842 and obtained his education in the school of his native state.

Lanier joined the Confederate forces music from his early youth until he died. He played a flute in an orchestra in Maryland.

Lanier joined the confederate forces at the outbreak of the War between the States. He was captured and while a prisoner, his health failed because of hardships and exposures to which he was subjected. Although he tried to regain his health, he continually became worse. Lanier died in 1881 in a camp at Lynn, North Carolina.

GOSH! BEAR KILLED

A party of hunters from Manassas, Virginia, and Washington, D. C., bagged a 257-pound black bear Tuesday, November 15, after an hour's chase through hilly country north of Stokesville, Virginia, in the George Washington National Forest Close to the West Virginia border.

The party consisted of David St. John, Sleepy Ball, R. N. Dickens, all of Washington, D. C., and William A. Varner, of Manassas, Virginia accompanied by others from this county and joining a party of hunters from August County they journeyed deep into the Great National Forest of Old Virginia.

It was a very thrilling chase but did not last long as one of the party got in a shot and crippled her. Then she turned on one of the best dogs and caught the dog by the head. They had a thrilling fight down the side of the ridge. Finally one of the party got in a fatal shot and that finished Mr. Bruin.

The dog is none the worse for the experience the party said.
