PASTOR RECITES TENSE SITUATION

Local U.C.D. Chapter Prepares to Honor Heroes

The Chapter met at the home of Mrs. A. O. Weedon for its December meeting, Mrs. Frank Peters, Mrs. Warren Coleman and Miss Senie Cockrell, hostesses. Guests in attendance were Rev. T. D. D. Clark, Rev. and Mrs. R. M. Graham, Miss Constance Henry and Miss Maggie Bushong. Dr. Clark sang "I'm An Old-time Confederate," and related the following incident in proof of his right to sing it. He said that forty years ago, while he was pastor of the Baptist Church in Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, a memorial was dedicated to General U. S. Grant. Speaking of this on Sunday, he added that his remarks as to the memorial were made, even though his sympathies and loyalty were on the side of the "Lost Cause." A perceptible stiffening of the attitude of the congregation was noticeable.

Several of the deacons, who were members of the G.A.R. Post, showed a little feeling in the matter. In spite of this, a previous invitation to address the Grand Army Post on Memorial Day was left standing. He made the address. For three successive years he was invited to make the Memorial Day speech, even though he never recanted from his declaration of loyalty to the Southern Cause. In view of this experience Dr. Clark said he felt that he had proved his loyalty to the Confederacy, and was entitled to call himself "An Old-time Confederate." Mrs. Newman announced "Ether" as the topic assigned for consideration this month, it being discovered by Dr. Crawford Long, a Southerner.

Miss Bushong brought three songs of the "Sixties," which were read, "Christmas Carol," "The Southern Girl," and "The Manassas Battle." Mrs. Newman called attention to the fact that the sixth was Col. Mosby's birthday, and Miss Henry read an interesting paper of "Mosby Facts," written by Major Hotchkiss.

Mrs. Hutchison read a note from Mr. Cook Wyllie, director of rare books and manuscripts at the Alderman Library at the University of Virginia, thanking her for "The very delightful biography of her aunt Sarah Summers Clarke."

Mrs. Virginia Carper reported having given a book of Dr. Clark's poems to the Manassas library, in the name of the chapter. The chapter regretted the illness of Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. Jackson, and Mrs. Alfred Carper. Mrs. Knox reported sending two sets of papers to the Division Registrar and Miss Constance Henry was invited to join the chapter.

Mrs. Virginia Carper, State Publicity chairman, read a letter from Mrs. Farmer, of the Halifax County Chapter, thanking Mrs. Carper and the Manassas Chapter, for the prize awarded her chapter for having done the best publicity work this year in the Virginia Division. Mrs. Farmer said the prize money would be used to purchase books for their library.

Hon. Frank P. Moncure has been secured as speaker for January 19, the exercises to be held at the High School at 11:30 a.m.

On February 3 Sidney Lanier's birthday will be observed at both schools.

Mrs. Byrd exhibited the two volumes of "The United Daughters of the Confederacy Memorial Edition" of "The Rise and Fall of The Confederate Government," by Jefferson Davis, which had been bought by Mrs. R. A. Hutchison, to be placed in the High School library. The appreciation of the Chapter was extended Mrs. Hutchison for this valuable gift. The meeting closed with a special prayer by Rev. Mr. Graham and the social hour followed with delightful refreshments, after which the guests departed, to meet in January with Mrs. V. V. Gillum, Mrs. Gillum and Mrs. Aylene Guthrie, hostesses.

SILVER TEA AT BENNETT SCHOOL

The patrons and friends of the school are cordially invited to attend a Silver Tea on Tuesday, December 20th, from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. at Bennett School.

The Bethlehem Club will meet with Mrs. T. J. Broadus on Wednesday, December 21st, at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Frank Gue is assistant hostess.

MISS METZ REVISES TEXTBOOK

Miss Lulu Metz returned Monday from Philadelphia where she conferred with publishers of a textbook she is revising. This recognition, which she is receiving, does not mean that we will be deprived of her valuable services here as a member of the Manassas High School faculty, however, as her literary work is done during vacation periods.

JUNIOR WOMEN ASSIST FIRE DEPARTMENT CHARITY

The regular monthly meeting of the Junior Woman's Club was held last Thursday evening at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. A. A. Hooff.

Dr. G. B. Cocke and Messrs. Tom Howard and J. A. Vetter were present as representatives of the Manassas Fire Department, and Dr. Cocke explained to the Club the plans of the Fire Department for a Christmas party for the needy children of Manassas. The Club is joining with the Fire Department this year and assisting with the party.

Plans for the annual progressive dinner for members of the club were discussed, and it was decided to hold the dinner this year on December 23. Two new members, Mrs. J. E. Bradford, Jr., and Mrs. Allan McKenzie were taken into the club.

The program for the evening was devoted to Christmas and the members brought articles they had made as suggestions for gifts.

It was announced by the president that Mrs. Ralph Sharrett had been appointed fill the unexpired term as Treasurer of the club.

At the conclusion of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Miss Ellen Bison and Mrs. Earl Hurst.

The executive council is composed of officers and the following: H. E. Crawford, J. T. Young, W. E. Brawner, E. T. Keys, James Rose and C. C. Cole.

HAYMARKET TEACHERS HOLD SHOWER FOR PROF. AND MRS. MOORE

On Monday night the teachers of the local schools sponsored a very nice shower for Prof. and Mrs. W. E. Moore, who recently suffered rather heavy losses by fire. Miss Bayard and Mr. Eustler rendered some very lovely selections on the piano and violin during the evening. A large number of the patrons were present to show their appreciation of the work that Mr. Moore has done during the two years that he has been with us, both by personal expression and by their many lovely and useful gifts.

A DESCRIPTION OF COLCHESTER, WRITTEN FORTY YEARS AGO

Last summer it was my pleasant privilege to visit one of the oldest historic places in Northern Virginia. Like so many other places famed in colonial days for the great part they played in the early settlement of this country and are now desolate and abandoned, is Colchester, the subject of this article. It seems that fate has destined that those places where once there were prosperous towns and burroughs, and where so much activity was displayed in the anti-Revolutionary times, should in later days be entirely swept of civilization; and fields of briars, or the mighty forest should step by step regain their former vantage ground. Trees and thorns may try and hide the early abode of man, but if we cut these away we will find many crumbling foundations and fireplaces of the old mansions of better days. Perhaps in another spot we will find some scattered tombstones, although decaying by the harsh hand of time, yet they still proudly carry their history which they gladly disclose to an inquiring friend. Such can also be said of the once far famed hamlet of Colchester.

Colchester was situated on the extreme southern point of what is now Fairfax County: the town lay on the hillsides between Occoquan Bay on the one side and the placid Potomac on the other. The shipping port being on Occoquan Bay. The spot where the wharf stood is now dry ground, and where the large foreign trading vessels once anchored can now be reached only by boats drawing less than five feet of water. Landing there on a sail-boat one summer afternoon, I with others, spent several hours in tramping over ground which seems almost sacred when the history of the place is known. One of the first things that attracted our attention was the old cobble stone road which once went through the middle of the town. This old stone bed can be distinctly traced from Alexandria to Colchester; at this place was the King's Ferry where the stages were carried across the Occoquan. From here the road ran to Fredericksburg, a very important town at that time, and from there to Richmond. History tells us the road ran to the capital which was at Williamsburg. This long road was known as the King's Highway.

Leaving the landing and walking up the King's Highway one sees on either side the old foundations and chimneys of houses that have long since fallen to the earth and disappeared. Within these old walls are sycamore trees from forty to a hundred years old. There are yet standing three or four uninhabited houses which mark the last of civilization at Colchester. Further up the road are several graves stones, but the place is so overgrown with briars and brambles that it is impossible for any human being to get to them. On the side of a hill is a large and ever-flowing spring; its sparkling water is the purest for miles around. Washington, on many an occasion, drank from this spring. Tradition says,

MANASSAS PASTOR FAIRFAX PASTOR CITES PROPHECY ADDRESSES CLUB

County Teachers Hear Interest- ing Address

A meeting of the Prince William County Teachers Association was held in the Manassas High School auditorium December 13, Mr. Frank Sigman, president, presided.

The principal speaker of the evening was Rev. R. M. Graham, who gave an inspirational talk on the subject, "Present Day World Conditions in the Light of Prophecy." In his talk he related several of the Bible prophecies and explained how these were being fulfilled in our present day world. He said that a study of the scriptures shows a division into covenants and dispensations, every one of which is being fulfilled and carried out. He spoke of the Jews in the light of Bible prophecy, stating that one would not have to look far afield to see the Jews driven back to the homeland. "Nations are built by persecution—the Gentile world will be destroyed and the Jew will eventually rule the world." He advised that it is time we think a little more about religion as we study world conditions.

During the business session, the following committees were appointed:

Publicity Relations—Abby Lutes, Emily J. Johnson, Virginia Polen, Mrs. Ossie Tipton; Education—A. G. Harmon, Ethel Cadmus, Evelyn Irons, Charlotte McCauley, Pearl Hudson; Co-ordinating Committee—Mrs. Ethel Hooley, C. O. Bittle, Mrs. Agnes O. Massie, Mrs. Maude Jordan.

A most interesting and constructive report was given by each of the delegates who attended the Virginia Education Association in Richmond, Virginia, Thanksgiving. Delegates as follows:

Mrs. Ossie Tipton, Manassas, who represented Elementary grades.

Miss Hazel Neale, Occoquan, represented high school group.

In a brief summarization of reports as given, the key-note seemed to be the placing of more emphasis on pupil-teacher learning, revising of teacher philosophy in order that she may grow along with the pupil. Unless a situation of pupil-teacher learning exists, the work becomes stodgy and static. Teachers must not let the machinery of education (tests, requirements, parallel, grades, failures, promotions)—Blockade the advance-

Christmas Spirit of Theme of Woman's Club Meeting

The Manassas Woman's Club had a most enjoyable meeting on Wednesday afternoon, December 14, when the spirit of the approaching holiday season prevailed in the speaker's address, in the music, and in the artistically decorated club room.

The Reverend Herbert Donovan, Rector of Truro Parish, Fairfax, made a stirring address on "The Significance of Christmas." As we approach the Christmas season—the birthday of Christ—the Prince of Peace—we should make an appeal for Peace in the midst of this Chaotic World—a world in which worship of state is rapidly taking the place of worship of God—today in at least three fourths of this world the civil rights as well as the religious rights of its citizens have been obliterated.

Reverend Donovan concluded his address by making a statements that we should all think upon deeply and wholeheartedly, "What happiness we will receive, will come only in proportion to the happiness we give someone else."

The whole club received much pleasure from singing Christmas Carols led by Mrs. Dennis Baker and accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lewis Carper.

The hostesses: Mrs. A. S. Gibson, Mrs. Noel Gill, Mrs. V. V. Gillum, Mrs. R. M. Graham, Mrs. Aylene Guthrie and Mrs. Marshall Haydon very graciously served refreshments befitting the holiday season.

ment of education and its aims. The revised curriculum in Virginia has altered the nature of class room instruction and has placed new responsibilities on the teacher, while increasing pupil freedom. More responsibility is now placed on the teacher for the training of a child in the way he shall go.

Another important feature in the education program was that home room teachers should exercise guidance. Guidance is a philosophy of education, and a successful guidance program demands a staff of teachers who are guidance minded.

The meeting was fairly well attended and proved to be quite worthwhile.

LAYMEN GUESTS AT ST. MARY'S

Churchmen Hear Inspired Worker from Orient

More than 160 Episcopal Laymen of Arlington, Fairfax and Prince-William Counties, assembled Thursday evening at St. Mary's (Rixey Station) where they were given a splendid talk by Miss Gladys Mary Ross, superintendent of St. Luke's Hospital, in Shanghai, China.

Prior to the several addresses, a sumptuous repast of turkey, etc., was served by a most charming bevy of young ladies who worked as efficiently as trained experts.

With Mr. Walter Oliver at the piano, Mr. George Robbey as song leader and Mr. Peyton Young as presiding officer, Truro Parish was well represented. Parson "Mike" Donovan smiled with pride also when he presented his flock of laymen. Only genial Henry Miller, of St. George's, beat him out on attendance.

Miss Ross traced the entire course of the "undeclared war" up to the time she left China in July, explaining the thousands of contingencies that arose in the height of the conflict and since. A spontaneous offering was taken up at the close of her talk, amounting to $51.77. Bishop Goodwin explained that the Diocese of Virginia had already more than done its share but the appreciative audience wanted to make the donation.

Mr. E. K. Kloman, a vestryman at St. George's, offered a resolution condemning in strong language the treatment of both Jews and Christians in foreign lands, and the same was passed without opposition. Dr. Lennig Sweet, a layman from Zion Church, Fairfax, made a talk censuring the sale of war materials and subsequent profits made from war.

The Bishop's talk was brief and was largely devoted to an introduction of Miss Ross. Rev. Peyton Williams, pastor of St. Mary's made the address of welcome.

On motion of W. F. Humme, vice-chairman of the laymen's organization, Upper Truro Parish will be host to the group next spring, the meeting to take place at St. Timothy's, in Herndon. Bishop Goodwin advised consideration of a special meeting in the fall to take the place of the group vestry meetings which were not held this year. Such a meeting, he explained, would be in addition to the other two semi-annual meetings and would be a strictly business session.

A rising vote of thanks was extended to the fair members of St. Mary's for their splendid entertainment but no persuasion could bring them to the floor to accept the gratitude of the visitors.

EDITH SHOLTIS NAMED HEAD BY WOODBINE 4-H GIRLS

The Woodbine 4-H club met Wednesday, December 7, at 1:15 p.m. Edith Sholtis, the president, presiding. The roll was called, the members answered by naming their hobby. The following officers were installed:

President: Edith Sholtis; Vice-president, Dorothy Jones; Secretary-treasurer, Margaret Cebula; Reporter, Elizabeth Cebula; Song Leader, Louise Wine.

A discussion of community projects was held and we decided upon placing the name of the school on the school building. The program theme for December was "Our Winter Birds," stories and poems about the cardinal, Quail, crow and owls were enjoyed.

Miss Webb gave a demonstration on Christmas gifts. Many of the members had Christmas gift suggestions. We adjourned at 3 o'clock.

URGE PROMPTNESS IN ATTENDANCE

Assembly Ball to Open Promptly at Ten O'Clock

Plans and final arrangements for the annual Christmas Assembly given by the Woman's Club of Manassas have been completed. Everything is in readiness for what the club hopes, will be one of the finest and most enjoyable occasions of this kind ever held here.

The committee chairman have been unusually active during the past week, perfecting and checking all arrangements, for the pleasure and comfort of their guests.

Plenty of seating room is being provided for spectators, and it is the hope of the club that many will attend.

The orchestra will start playing promptly at ten o'clock, and it is hoped the young folks, or those wishing to dance, will be on hand promptly, to enjoy the free hours of music, which is being provided. There will be a brief intermission at twelve o'clock.

Mrs. T. J. Broadus, general chairman, has secured the services of the following popular young business-men of the town to act as a floor committee—Mr. John Broadus, Mr. Dennis Baker, Mr. Dudley Martin, Mr. Eugene Davis, Mr. R. Jackson Ratcliffe, Dr. R. T. Johnson, Mr. Lewis Carper and C. Wade-Dalton.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS URGED TO RENEW EFFORTS TO KEEP UP MEMBERSHIP

At the monthly meeting of the Prince William Young Democrats at Haymarket High School on the night of December 6, the president, Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, urged the members to begin now on the membership drive for the coming club year. The Prince William club is now the second largest club in the state, and it is hoped that it may become the very largest club in 1939. This will call for a vigorous membership drive on the part of every present member.

Attention was called to the fact that a conference of club executives and program chairman will be held in Waynesboro on February 11, and the program of activities and entertainment for the meeting sounded so interesting that a number of the club members expressed their determination to attend. The conference will be held for the purpose of discussing club building and activities, with the view of making meetings more interesting and obtaining more members.

The club voted to take out a $5.00 membership with the Red Cross.

The next monthly meeting will be held on the night of January 10, the place of meeting to be later announced.

PREPARE CHRISTMAS PLANS

The program last Friday evening at the Kiwanis club largely revolved around plans for the annual distribution of toys and goodies on Christmas Eve.

This year the club will concentrate on efforts outside the town, leaving the local field to the Junior Woman's Club and the Volunteer Fire Department.

The committee has about hewed out its final plans and has a long list of deserving cases.

EDWARD FOX DIES OF GUNSHOT

Edward Fox, well-known huckster, died Tuesday night of a gunshot wound in the leg. His companion, Ben Ledman, was held by the Sheriff. It is stated that Ledman claims the wound was administered by an unknown assailant, but that authorities have not accepted this version of the affair.

Fox was taken to the Ledman home in a dying condition and expired before medical aid could be secured.

During Christmas the Post Office will observe the following hours: On December 24th, the office will remain open until 4:30 p.m.

The windows will NOT be open on Sunday, Christmas Day—December 25.

On Monday, December 26th, the windows will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.

On Monday, January 2, 1939, the windows will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.

The money order and registry windows will not be opened.

THE ANCIENT TOWN OF COLCHESTER

Written in 1898

that when he was transferring his army from the North to the South during the Revolutionary War, he stopped at this spring, and as he knelt and drank he said, if he had such water for his troops, the American victory would have been won long ago.

General Daniel Morgan of Revolutionary fame was born and raised at this place. It is said that for years he was a stage driver along the King's Highway and that just before the war came on, some British soldiers caught him and gave him a terrible beating because he would not join their cause. Morgan made a silent vow that he would have his revenge, and we know how at the "The Cowpens" he made the British drink the bitter water of revenge.

Colchester seems to have been in the zenith of her glory about 1740 to 1760—at any rate we know she was a wide awake little seaport town during the 18th century. Her warehouses were full of tobacco, the product of the neighboring planters. Records show that Washington, Masons, and the Fairfaxes shipped large quantities from that port. The white sails of ships from the old world must have been frequently seen loading and re-loading goods at her port.

In looking over some old day-books and ledgers that were kept by merchants who did business at Colchester and Dumfries from 1780 to 1799, I found several places where large quantities of tobacco were deposited in the warehouses at Colchester to the credit of George Washington, George Mason, and other well-known men of that time. I also found entries made of receipts from these men for large quantities of goods sold to them by these merchants which were imported from the old country. Among them I noticed one where thirty-six pounds sterling was received from George Washington for "wines and other liquors"—showing that the planters of that day lived in better circumstances and style than they do at this day and time.

About the beginning of the nineteenth century we find that nearly all of Colchester's trade had been taken away from her. Towns on both sides sprung up which was her death blow. The planters to the south of her depended on Dumfries for their supplies, while those to the north went to Alexandria and Georgetown, and poor Colchester was abandoned. Such is the short story of one of Virginia's early towns.

She hopes all the young girls will join. The first meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Haar on December 28, 1938, at which meeting plans will be made for regularly holding those meetings. All you young girls who do so should attend this meeting, at 7:30 p.m.

We learn with gladness that Dr. Malcom and Mr. Alexander, who are patients at Mt. Alto hospital, are improving.

It is with the greatest sorrow we announce the passing from our midst of Mr. James Burton Arnold of Woodbridge, known among his friends as Burt Arnold. Mr. Arnold passed away quietly in bed without prior illness on December 11, in his 68th year. He was a good neighbor, a good citizen, one who minded his own business and in so doing raised a family, sixteen of whom are left to mourn his passing away. Our heartfelt sympathy goes to his dear wife and children, and other relatives who will mostly miss him, and we pray that God will relieve their sorrows. Mr. Arnold was laid to rest in beautiful Pohick Church Cemetery, in Fairfax County.

OCCOQUAN HIGH SCHOOL

The jitterbugs and other dance lovers are looking forward to a most spectacular evening on December 22, at Occoquan High, when the Alumni Association of Occoquan will give another of its excellent dances, which will include 'jam sessions' and swing galore. A well known Washington orchestra will be playing those high and low notes for the special occasion.

The school is also busy preparing an elaborate operetta to be presented just prior to the holidays.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you may get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

BRITAIN STANDS

"The British people are just the same people as they have been in the greatest moments of their history... We do still care, deeply, strongly, and for the same things." That was what America wanted to hear from Mr. Eden. It was the core of all he said in his heartwarming address at the Congress of American Business in New York.

His assurance that Britain is united beneath her surface differences and is girding herself to stand firm in a "ruthless and challenging" world only confirms what everyone has felt who has talked with English friends in the last few weeks. In a sense which Americans have not, possibly cannot, realize, Britain knows that whatever others may do she must now make sure what she stands for and "stand firm."

In one sense Britain stands in Europe as America does in the New World, only much closer to civilization's front line. Like America, whether she takes her stand on ideals of democracy or on basic national interests, she will be a bulwark for free conceptions of government. For those conceptions are indelibly a part of her. In that spiritual sense as in a similarity of material interests there is between Britain and America that same deeper unity which Mr. Eden declares gives Britain strength today.—Christian Science Monitor.

The annual Bazaar and Turkey Supper given by the ladies of Trinity Guild at the Parish Hall on December 6 was the usual success and a neat sum was realized for the work of the Guild.

Dear Children:

Christmas is just around the corner and I shall soon be looking around Manassas.

And do you know that I can always get down a chimney, no matter how small it is, if your father or mother has a nice account in the Bank!

I like everybody, but especially folks who put their money in the Bank regularly and who keep a substantial balance there.

Why not deal with the Peoples National Bank of Manassas, which has so many satisfied patrons?

LAURA E. LONG

Mrs. Laura E. Long, a resident of the Aden neighborhood for many years, died in a Washington hospital on November 29th and was buried from the Valley View Church on Friday afternoon.

The officiating minister was the Rev. O. R. Kesner, who was her pastor up to a few months ago and came back from Mt. Clinton, Va., for the occasion.

Mrs. Long was born in Pennsylvania on January 20, 1862, the daughter of John F. and Adeline Wynn. On November 22, 1892 she married Mr. Amos Long, also of her native state, and came to this county in the early part of the century.

Mr. Long died only last August. The couple had no children but are survived by a nephew, Amos L. Smith, of Aden.

Mrs. Long bore the name of a good neighbor and housewife. She loved her adopted State and while a member of the Dutch Reformed Church since her early youth, she became a loyal worker of the Valley View congregation. She had been in rather poor health for some time but the last illness was of brief duration.

Her fraternal associations were with the Daughters of Liberty, of which she had been a member for many years.

The burial was at the Valley View cemetery, the ball-bearers being Messrs. C. L. Reading, P. L. Proffitt, W. J. Green, J. F. Landis, C. B. Bear and T. N. Berryman.

MRS. MARY F. BOLEY

On Thursday, December 8th, about 11:30 p.m., Mrs. Mary F. Boley, widow of the late John William Boley, passed away very peacefully after a long illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Neil Selfridge, Joppa, Md.

Mrs. Boley, who was the daughter of John and Mary Porter Smallwood, was born near Thoroughfare, Va., March 18, 1856. She was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and spent her married life near Greenwich, Va. She was a loving wife and a tender mother.

The funeral services were conducted at the Oakdale Baptist Church on Sunday, December 11, at 1:30 p.m., with a large attendance. Services were conducted by Dr. Gatalyn, of Alexandria, Va. The pall-bearers were six of her grandsons: Masyieck Boley, Douglass Smallwood, Lee King, and Gilbert, Joseph and Louis King.

She is survived by seven children, namely, George, and Badger, of Washington, D. C.; Willie, of Hamilton, Va.; Mrs. Neil Selfridge, of Joppa, Md.; Mrs. Badger Smallwood, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Gardner and Mrs. Walter King, of Wellington, Va.; also thirty-one grandchildren and twenty-nine great grandchildren.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Mrs. J. J. Connor on Wednesday, December 28th, at 2:30 p.m.

SLUM CLEARANCE

Work of the Alley Dwelling Authority in Washington demonstrates that a balanced reclamation and sound housing can be made a real asset to the city, according to a story appearing next Sunday in The Star.

With Washington on the threshold of a new program of substituting good housing for bad, the story explains that bad housing conditions go hand in hand with crime, juvenile delinquency, poverty, disease and similar evil products of the slums. Money spent to alter these conditions, it is explained, will cut down money spent on law violations and public welfare cases.

SEVERAL ROBBERIES REPORTED IN THIS VICINITY

An unusual number of more or less petty, but annoying robberies have taken place in and around Manassas during the past week, some of which are of felonious character. Last Thursday night a cabinet at the Manassas High School was broken into and a sum of around eighty dollars taken, most of which was deposited for lunches.

On Friday night the store of Mrs. Beatrice Cross in west Manassas. It is reported that this crime was probably the worst of the series.

The same night someone turned on the outlet of a crude oil tank at the Ice Plant, resulting in the loss or theft of around a thousand gallons. A great quantity poured out on the ground and it was not possible to ascertain whether any oil was carried away or not.

Early Sunday morning, probably while the fire at the County Garage was distracting attention of the authorities, the front door of the store of Conner and Kinchloe was broken open and a quantity of cigarettes and other items stolen.

It is also reported that a filling station belonging to Mr. J. T. Richards, at Bull Run was broken into a small amount of money taken, and we are also advised the Peoples Garage has been robbed twice.

Such an unusual number of robberies have aroused the authorities, and it is stated that special efforts are being made to apprehend those guilty of these infractions of the law.

U.S. OFFICERS TOUR
BATTLEFIELDS

An officers' school for 34th Infantry (Fort George G. Meade) was conducted last Thursday, Major Joseph Hanson, of the National Park Service, directing the tour of the local battlefields.

Thirty-one officers reported at Centerville in the early morning, Lieut.-Col. Henry Perrine, in charge. The tour had been previously arranged by Captain Ralph Wiltamuth, of the same regiment.

Despite the poor visibility, Major Hanson was able to pilot the visiting officers quite successfully. The main points of interest in both Battles of Manassas were taken in, such as the Henry Farm, the Chinn place and the New York monument at Groveton.

The officers left in the late afternoon, much gratified with the experience gained on two such famous scenes.

Mr. M. J. Shepherd, of Nokesville, has been admitted to life membership in the Holstein Friesian Association of America.
