YOUNG DEMOCRATS ELECT P. A. LEWIS

Club Also Adopts Model Constitution

Mr. Percival A. Lewis, of Manassas, former vice-president, was chosen by the Young Democrats of Prince William County to be their president for 1939. Mr. Lewis was elected at the regular monthly meeting of the club held at the Manassas High School Auditorium Tuesday night, January 10th. Other officers elected were Mr. George Purvis, of Quantico, 1st vice-president; Mr. C. Lacey Compton, of Manassas, 2nd vice-president; Mr. John Sweeney, of Gainesville, 3rd vice-president; and Miss Nancy Lynn, of Manassas, secretary-treasurer.

At the meeting the monthly letter from the state president was read, and the model constitution was read and discussed. The constitution was voted to be adopted, with the exception that the offices of secretary and treasurer were merged. Mrs. Eliz Taylor, the out-going president, spoke a few words of appreciation for the fine support given her by the club members during her presidency, and expressed the hope that the incoming president would be equally well supported. Mrs. Taylor announced that she was not a candidate for any office in the club this year.

Miss Walser Conner, chairman of the publicity committee for the President's Birthday Ball, announced that the dance would be held on the night of January 27 at the Manassas Gymnasium. Miss Conner urged the club members to publicize and support the worthy cause to the utmost, and Mrs. Taylor likewise asked that the members do their best to be on hand and make the dance a big success.

After the meeting the new officers were gathered around and congratulated with many hand-shakes and back-slaps. Mr. Lewis stated that he will announce his committees at the next monthly meeting, which will be held in Manassas on February 7th.

Among those who will attend the Jackson Day Dinner, sponsored by the Fairfax Young Democrats, at Alexandria Thursday evening are Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Lewis, Mr. C. Lacey Compton, Miss Nancy Lynn and Miss Walser Conner.

HAYMARKET GIRLS LOSE FIRST GAME OF SEASON

The Haymarket girls lost their first League game of the season by a few points. The score was tied in the third and last quarters 25-25.

Both teams played a fair and square game. Ellis, who is a new player and forward on our team, was high scorer and threw some very good baskets. The game ended with a final score 30-25 in favor to Aldie.

The Haymarket Athletic Association is giving a dance in the Haymarket School Gymnasium Friday, February 3. The music will be by a popular orchestra from Fredericksburg.

The New Year found the following officers holding office in the Haymarket F.F.A. Chapter:

President, Robert Carter; vice-president, Rolfe Ellison; treasurer, Early Griffith; advisor, R. R. Fishpaw; secretary, Andrew Smith; reporter, Rolfe Robertson, Jr. These boys were elected for the year 1938-39. The Haymarket Chapter was among the first ten chapters to pay their State dues in full. Robert Carter of this chapter is also treasurer of the Blue Ridge Federation. The boys are planning to enter the basketball, baseball, track and judging contest in the next few months.

The Manassas Chapter recently raised thirteen Haymarket boys to the degree of Future Farmers. At the same time seven other boys entered Vocational Agriculture and were given the Green Hand Degree. These boys are doing well and it is hoped that they will do better than the Green Hands of last year. All of the boys were glad to have Mr. Fishpaw again this year.

POEMS BY MISS CONNER

"A Keep Sake," a delightful volume of verse, was recently published by Miss Walser Conner. The poems are exquisitely blended in sentiments as varied as the color tones of Spring and expressed in words seldom found in the writings of young people. We predict a literary future for Miss Conner.

TREE PLANTING IS REMEMBERED

U. D. C. Historian Also Reports on National Convocation

Mrs. V. V. Gillum and Mrs. Ayleene Guthrie were hostesses for the January meeting of the Manassas Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy at the home of Mrs. Gillum.

The president, Mrs. Byrd, was in the chair—a large number of members were present, and Mrs. H. E. Pickeral was a guest of the Chapter.

Mrs. W. A. Newman, historian, gave some high lights on the General U.D.C. Convention at Tulsa, Oklahoma, last November, especially of the Historical Evening, in charge of Mrs. William Cabell Flournoy, of Lexington, Virginia, Historian General. Mrs. Newman gave some statistics from the State pension roll at Richmond—one hundred and fifty-six veterans on the roll January 1, 1939—sixty-two less than last year.

She also read an article from a Manassas paper of 1916 stating that six sugar maples were planted on the south side of Lee Avenue, between West street and Grant Avenue by Major J. Taylor Williams, brother of Mrs. Margaret Barbour, and in her honor, and also in memory of "Stonewall" Jackson, Gen. Robert E. Lee, Gen. Eppa Hunton, Gen. William Payne and Captain Philip Daw Williams. Mr. Williams at the same time planted two other maples in the Confederate cemetery as memorials to Major Thornton, and Captain Williams.

A letter was read from Mrs. Helen Ferguson Coleman, Division Historian, relative to the year's work, and stressing the work to be done in schools as most important and one of great responsibility.

Letters of greeting from absent members were read—Miss Emma Shapton, Mrs. Lena Dodge, and Mrs. Fannie Randsell.

A letter was read from the Division President, Mrs. R. Sidney Cox, outlining the year's work. Mrs. Annie Rector brought a warm greeting to the Chapter from Mrs. Eva Chadwell, formerly Mrs. Cabell Meredith, and a former chapter member.

Arrangements were completed for the celebration of Lee's birthday at the high school on Monday, January the sixteenth, at 11:30 a.m. Hon. Frank P. Moncure, speaker.

After the social hour during which a delightful dessert course was served, the guests adjourned to meet in February at the home of Mrs. Charles Compton, Mrs. L. L. Lonas assisting hostess.

A COSMOPOLITAN GROUP

The United States offers homes for people from all parts of the world. A cross section of the couples, who come to Manassas for the marriage ceremony, shows some startling facts. The Rev. A. W. Ballentine, Pastor of the Lutheran Church, reports parties whose birth-place is in Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Russia, Italy, Hungary, etc. The religions represented are Baptist, Episcopal, Church of God, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic, Greek Catholic, and Jews. No doubt other ministers of the town could add quite a list to this one.

DATE OF U.D.C. PROGRAM AT HIGH SCHOOL CHANGED

The Lee-Jackson-Maury program under auspices of the Manassas Chapter U.D.C. scheduled for January 19th at the Manassas High School, has been changed and will be held on Monday, January 16, at 11:30 a.m. Hon. Frank P. Moncure, of Stafford, will be the guest speaker.

GRACE CHURCH IS RENOVATED

Reopening Service to be Held This Sunday

Grace Methodist Church will use its church auditorium after having completely renovated, improved and refurbished it. The services have been held in the basement during the time this work has been going on. Sunday the auditorium will be reopened for worship. Those who have not looked in on the work will be most pleasantly surprised at the beauty and grace and simplicity of the worship room. The committee in charge of the work was Dr. G. B. Cocke, chairman, W. E. Coleman, J. H. Steele, R. C. Bauserman, C. E. Fisher and Robert Hottle. The carpentry work was done by Charles Linton, the plastering by Aubrey Muddiman, the painting by F. C. Cannon.

The pastor, Rev. Harry Paul Baker, announces that the services on Sunday will be of the highest order. The sermons, both morning and evening, will be preached by Rev. Forrest J. Prettyman, D. D., former chaplain of the U. S. Senate, and one of the really great preachers of America. Great crowds are expected and a splendid time will be had. Greetings from the churches of the town will be had at the evening service.

Grace Church has been serving this community for many years and its work and ministry and message has made a large contribution to the well-being of our town. It is now girding itself for the larger service. It aims to present a gospel for the whole man—the Word of the Living God for the times in which we live.

Plans are being made to bring to the church on Sunday evening persons distinguished for their work in the government, state, and church. Next Sunday evening, January 22, Hon. Roger Whiteford, a prominent attorney of Washington, will bring his great message, "The Trial of Jesus from the Standpoint of a Lawyer." Other prominent speakers will be announced from time to time. Already arrangements have been completed for others. Soon one of the fine choirs of Washington will visit us for an evening of music. The community should attend Grace Church Sunday.

THANKS FROM T-B ASSOCIATION

The members of the Christmas Seal Sale Committee wish to express their grateful thanks to all who have given of their time, interest and efforts in this sale; to the clergy, all organizations and individuals. Our moving picture theatres of Manassas and Occoquan were most gracious and helpful in their cooperation and, too, there was nothing lacking in the way of help in this work by our paper, The Journal. All that was asked for was graciously and gladly given in the way of publicity. Again we say thank you. We hope for greater efforts and greater results in this great work for the New Year.

Seniority on Rules Committee Also Increases Prestige

Representative Howard W. Smith of Virginia has been elected a member of the important Democratic steering committee of the House to represent his own state as well as North Carolina and Maryland. He replaces Representative Alan T. Goolsborough of Maryland, who held the post in the last Congress.

Mr. Smith also is one of the ranking majority members on the powerful House rules committee.

The steering committee is composed of fifteen members elected by geographical group and is the policy committee of the Democratic Caucus of the House of Representatives. Its functions as outlined in a resolution adopted by the Democratic caucus follows:

"Each member shall keep in touch with his own particular group and consult with them as to important legislation which may be under consideration and the steering committee shall ascertain what support can be obtained from the Democratic membership on any proposition of party policy, shall iron out differences in the different sections of the United States in order that the administration may be advised fully as to the position of the Democratic membership in the House."

KIWANIS OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

With O. D. Waters acting as master of ceremonies, the newly-elected officers of the Kiwanis club were installed at the regular meeting on Friday night.

Col. Hutchison, on behalf of the Club, presented a lovely silver pitcher to the retiring president, W. L. Lloyd. Certainly no retiring presiding officer of the Club has more praise for his quiet adherence to the duties of his office than was given to Mr. Lloyd on this occasion.

A lengthy session was held on a by-law referendum, with many suggestions, etc. The Club was pleased to have as its guest, Billy Robey, of the Arlington Club, who praised the Club as a whole, especially lauding a short series of remarks made by Dudley Martin.

Regret was expressed at the illness of Ted Diddle, former president of the Club, who was indisposed.

TRIBUTES TO GEN. LEE

These tributes to "Marse Robert" given at the January meeting of the Manassas Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and published by request.

"General Lee's greatest achievement in arms was of a value less enduring than his daily life after Appomattox. His own face was turned to the future. His lips were sealed on any discussion of the past. He deplored bitterness and encouraged industry. His ideal was that every man should take such employment as he could find, should qualify himself to participate in the Government and should work with all his energy for the economic—the moral—and the cultural restoration of Virginia.

At the forty-fifth annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at Tulsa, Oklahoma, Senator Josh Lee in his eulogy of Lee declared, "No matter whether we first knew of him as General Robt. E. Lee or 'Marse Robert.' We are tonight attempting to honor his name but in reality are most honoring ourselves, because a man's character is reflected by the hero he worships. We can tell a man's character by the books he reads, by the music he loves, and the hero he worships."

Miss Webb explained the requirements for a standard club, monthly records and the 4-H Health records. The meeting adjourned at 3 o'clock.

DOORWAYS OF DISTINCTION

Mrs. C. J. Fitzwater wins first place. The oval top of her colonial doorway was filled with varicolored lights, while the whole frame was outlined in evergreens. (This was in the Nokesville contest).

Mrs. E. E. Hale wins honorable mention for conformity to size and design of house. (This was in the Nokesville contest).

VIRGINIA DAIRYMEN'S
CONVENTION AT OLD POINT

Many Prince William County dairymen who have attended the annual State Dairymen's Conventions for years will go to the 32nd Convention at Old Point on January 26 and 27. In addition, it is anticipated that others from the county will attend this year.

The program for the annual dairymen's meeting has been completed. Important problems affecting Virginia dairy farmers are to receive expert attention. Among the problems are: "Reciprocal Trade Agreements"; "The Dairy Surplus Marketing Association"; "Dairy Diversifications"; "Quality Pastures and Roughages"; "Artificial Breeding."

Special forms of entertainment will be provided for both men and women. A "free for all" oyster feast is featured. Those who can reach Old Point Comfort on the evening of the 26th will be welcome to the annual party of the Dairy Manufacturers Group—favorably remembered by local dairymen who have had the pleasure of being guests at similar events in past years.

By pooling traveling expenses, it will be possible for groups to get together for an enjoyable and inexpensive two days at Old Point Comfort.

HAYMARKET LOSES FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON

The Haymarket boys lost their first game in the Northern Virginia League to Aldie in the Haymarket Gym. Leith, of Aldie, was the high scorer with 13 points and although the Haymarket team was held to six points they put up a tough game. The Haymarket team was greatly handicapped because two of its players were injured and could not play the entire game. The Haymarket coach, Mr. Moore, was kept away from the game with the flu but he will be back coaching the boys again next week.

The Haymarket boys and girls are going to Upperville Friday, January 13, and Mr. Moore is looking forward to a double victory.

BETTER HOGS

Considering the rapidity with which hogs multiply, the initial cost for good foundation breeding animals is such that the outlay is a good business investment. One purebred boar may serve for several farms in a community and it is generally advisable for a community to concentrate on one hog breed since this makes it easier to obtain the services of unrelated boars of the same breed.

PUREBRED HOG CONSIGNMENT SALE

Bred and open gilts and fall boars of the Poland China, Berkshire, Chester White, Duroc-Jersey, Hampshire and Spotted Poland China breeds have been consigned to the Virginia Purebred Hog Breeder's Association Consignment Sale, to be held at the Winchester, Va., Stock Yards at 1:00 p.m., Friday, January 27. These will be picked animals from outstanding State herds and the sale provides an opportunity for securing choice breeding individuals.

GOOD PAY

Broom sedge is a roadside sign of depleted pasture land fertility. Experimental results show that one dollar spent in improving average pasture will pay dividends of from $3 to $6. Winter-time employment at good pay and a loan shark rate of interest on the investment is available to farmers who prepare their pasture lands to produce more and better forage.

LET PASTURES DO MORE OF THE FARM WORK

Too much of the work for livestock is done on many farms by depending on tilled crops for a large part of their feed. Work stock, milk cows, sheep and beef cattle can gather a major portion of their own feed, the year round, on improved pasture. In the past, intertilled crops have received most of the lime and commercial fertilizer. This practice has resulted in more or less impoverished pastures.

A BOOK TO READ

—by Clarence Wagener—

Business and professional men are said to read few novels. If true, what's the reason? Is the average novel too tiresome for tired men? Maybe so. Or the excuse can be that there is not time enough as it is even to keep up with the steady flood of reading matter pertaining to one's life work.

At any rate, it isn't likely that many men read books to kill time, though a great number of novels qualify chiefly on this score. However, for one to regard all novels as unworthy of a he-man's time is to do injustice to oneself, no matter how masculine the individual may be.

There are novels which men, very busy men, can read to decided advantage. Certain works of fiction give an insight into the enlarged and worthy role that business and the professions can play in the present-day life of a community, a nation, the world. Various problems and their solutions are often presented far more effectively by novels than by scholarly treatises, if the aim is to reach the average man. Most of us prefer entertainment along with the instruction and admonition.

"Kindling," by Nevil Shute (Wm. Morrow, N. Y., 1938; 279 pages) is a splendid novel for any adult, male or female. But it is to be recommended especially to the menfolk.

The hero is a well-to-do London banker in the early forties, who loses most of his interest in life when he discovers that his wife is unfaithful. A bit later he is taken seriously ill while alone on a long walk. By chance, he receives treatment in the charity ward of a hospital in a depression-ridden town on the east coast of England.

Recuperating from his operation, the banker observes a state of affairs new to him—men so weakened from undernourishment, so "soft," that they failed to recover from ailments which ordinarily are not fatal. He begins to look upon life and people differently. He sees a way in which he can make himself useful to humanity. Now he has something worth living for.

How our hero, through various trying situations, succeeds in bringing his vision into the realm of reality is told with an economy of words that will please the busy reader. What will please the reader more is the continuous flow of the story, which makes it difficult, indeed, to put aside the book, once it is started, until the last page is reached.

GOD'S SEEING AND GUIDING EYE

What light is in Thy loving eye,
Dear Saviour mine.
For when I stray,
It seeth me and leads me back
Where I fain would be
Thou art my perfect-Guide,
And only Thou canst keep me,
In the "Narrow Way"—
If I look "Up" I catch
The sunshine of Thy Guiding Eye,
And plainly see which path
To take, to reach the Heavenly Way!
So, my dear Lord, and Saviour dear,
I pray Thy guiding seeing eye
Will ever call me back!
Lest I should stray one step
From the "Narrow Way!"

Mrs. John Petty had as Sunday guests her three sons from Washington, D. C.

A group well known over Richmond broadcasting stations will be at the old court house next Wednesday evening for a local school benefit.

It is an unusual performance and should draw quite a crowd.

INDEPENDENT HILL

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford H. Bond, of Washington, D. C., were week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Shutlock, also their daughters, Ann and Emma. They were reunited again to celebrate the Old Greek Catholic Christmas Holidays. A colorful Christmas Eve supper was served, after which the gifts were unwrapped (an old custom of Europe).

The weather couldn't have been more perfect, unless perhaps we had snow.

Christmas Day, which was the 7th day, they had many visitors, both American and Foreign. The old Greek Catholic Christmas is celebrated by very few people in America, however in some parts of Europe people know Christmas only on the 7th of January. So to those who celebrated with us and others, too—A Merry Christmas.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth; he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder; he burneth the chariot in the fire.—Psalm 46:9.

JUSTICE FRANKFURTER

An examination of the facts leaves little doubt that the United States Senate will confirm the President's appointment of Felix Frankfurter as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

Born of Jewish parents, in Austria, the appointee possesses no qualifications, other than foreign birth, which makes his selection unusual or unexpected. The Constitution forbids that a foreign born citizen be elected to the Presidency, but there are no such barriers in selecting members of the Supreme Court, although there is a growing demand for such a provision.

It would be very incongruous for the President to make a selection which would not be in harmony with his political ideals. It is expected that any President exercise this right. He would not be sincere in his political alignments if he did otherwise. Hence a New Deal Justice was inevitable.

There is no question as to the ability and the qualifications of the distinguished barrister under consideration. It is true that Frankfurter believes that political goals should be sought through Court decisions, but this does not constitute a disqualification for the office. It is true also that Conservative Democrats will regret the selection, but nevertheless, in the spirit of fairness, the Senate recognizes the President's right in this matter, and there is little doubt but that the appointment will be confirmed, but with a sigh of relief from many that the President has done so well. Much worse was widely expected.

MUSIC-LITERATURE SECTION

The Music-Literature Section of the Manassas Woman's Club had one of the outstanding meetings of the year on Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Eula Holt Merchant.

Miss Leola Wheeler, professor of Speech at the Farmville State Teachers' College, was the guest speaker. Miss Wheeler read "First Lady"—a charming and witty modern play dealing with official life in Washington from which we learn how presidents may be made or unmade over the teacups of the "inner circle."

First Lady was played on the stage by Owl and proved to be one of the most successful plays of modern times.

Miss Wheeler gave a delightful performance herself and she was thoroughly enjoyed by all those who had the privilege of hearing her.

Mrs. Lewis Carper introduced Cleveland Fisher, one of her former pupils, who played very competently two piano selections "Elli Elli" by Manazucca and "A Juggler from Normandy" by Evangeline Layman.

Both hostesses, Mrs. Merchant and Mrs. Charles Linton being ill, Mrs. Jack Merchant very graciously acted as hostess and was ably assisted in the serving of delicious refreshments by Mrs. William Cocke, Mrs. William Lloyd and Mrs. C. Wade-Dalton.

SHAREHOLDERS MEETING

To the shareholders of the Piedmont Federal Savings and Loan Association of Prince William County:

Please take notice that the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Piedmont Federal Savings and Loan Association of Prince William County, Manassas, Virginia, will be held at the Town Hall, in the Town of Manassas, Prince William County, Virginia, on Wednesday, January 18, 1939, at 2:00 P. M., for the purpose of electing directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

W. Hill Brown, Jr.
Secretary.

MRS. ENOCH K. BODINE

Emma Florence Bryant was born in Prince William County, Virginia, October 4, 1855. She early united with the old White Hall Presbyterian Church near Aden, and when that organization was dissolved many years ago transferred her membership to Greenwich Church, where she remained a faithful member the balance of her life.

On June 14, 1882, she was married to Mr. Enoch K. Bodine, and all of their married life was spent in their native county, her husband presiding her to the grave by several years. She passed away quietly in the early morning hours of December 11, 1938, after suffering for sometime with the complicated infirmities of age, which she bore with Christian fortitude.

She was buried Sunday afternoon, December 12, in Greenwich cemetery funeral services being conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. Royall Cooke. The pall-bearers were R. M. Weir, W. N. Free, C. F. Miller, J. B. Manuel, J. Walter and Earle McMichael.

She leaves to sincerely mourn her loss: three children, Mrs. Addie B. Cooper, of near Nokesville, with whom she made her home; Clyde K. Bodine, of Harrisonburg, Va., and Henry J. Bodine, of Washington, D. C., also several grandchildren.

Mrs. Bodine was a woman of clear convictions and strong Christian faith, which adorned her life and endeared her to all with whom she came in contact.

She was a devoted wife, loving mother, and faithful friend, discharging to the best of her ability, all the obligations of life in every sphere of living.

She had the respect of all, and the sincere love of a host of friends who will miss her gentle friendly contacts.

MRS. ROSA ELLA COLVIN

Our community has again been saddened by the death of our friend and neighbor, Mrs. Rosa Ella Colvin, age 57 years.

Mrs. Colvin was born in Page county on February 15, 1881. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Mauck.

In early life she came to Fauquier county and married Mr. Elsworth Colvin who passed away about 3 years ago. She was a faithful and loving wife and mother, and never tired of laboring for her family. She had been an invalid for about 3 years. She was a great sufferer but very patient.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Geo. W. Crabtree, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of which she had been a faithful member for many years.

Burial took place in the "Colvin" burying ground near Catlett. She leaves to mourn her loss seven children, Mr. Helen Lloyd, Mrs. Mary Sauls, Miss Pauline Neff and Misses Ore Lee, Laura and Etta Mae Clovin, and Mr. Rufus Colvin.

The many beautiful floral tributes spoke of the love and esteem in which she was held by friends and relatives.

CATLETT

Dr. and Mrs. Hazen Colvin are the proud parents of a son.

Mrs. Gar Shippe has returned home from a visit to her father, Mr. Smith of near Harrisonburg, Va.

(2) From Wall Street, in lower Manhattan, to the Fair grounds, 8½ miles. (3) From the entrance to the Triborough Bridge, 5½ miles. (Motorists can make this trip without encountering a single traffic light). (4) Holland Tunnel from New Jersey, showing route through lower Manhattan across Williamsburg Bridge (No. 9) to roads leading to the Fair. (5) The Battery. (6) Brooklyn Bridge. (7)

Manhattan Bridge. (8) Brooklyn Navy Yard. (9) Williamsburg Bridge. (10) Queensboro (59th St.) Bridge. (11) Grand Central Parkway. (12) North Beach Airport (now being enlarged at a cost of $30,000,000). (13) New Whitestone Bridge, furnishing direct gateway from New England and Canada.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Life" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 15.

The Golden Text will be "In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death" (Pro. 12:28).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord is good to all; and his tender mercies are over all his works. The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing" (Psalms 145: 9, 15, 16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scripture," by Mary Baker Eddy: "All the varied expressions of God reflect health, holiness, immortality — infinite Life, Truth, and Love" (p. 518).

JOBS FOR YOUTH A SERIOUS PROBLEM SAYS SECY PERKINS

Finding jobs for the unemployed of today is one of the most serious problems confronting the country, and one which no other generation has had to solve, Secretary of Labor Perkins says in an article published in the current issue of a National magazine.

"The youth of today who enter the competition of job-finding have not had the simple experience that their elders did who entered the labor market eight or ten years ago," Miss Perkins writes. "Then in nearly every town and village signs 'Help Wanted' were to be seen. The job came in search of the worker."

"At the outset of the depression the large accumulation of youth out of school and out of work became a serious problem and there was no machinery to deal with it. It was a new situation in America. But a country like ours could not afford to let its youth become discouraged, for in their hands lies the American of the future."

"The unemployment problems of youth are not yet solved. Those who are concerned with them have much to do still, but the ranks of the unemployed among youth will steadily be reduced, it is to be hoped. New fields of occupation are opening up. The air transportation industry alone is responsible for fifty new occupations. Skilled workers are going to be increasingly needed in this country, for America will continue to be the land opportunity."

"Young people are showing initiative and pluck. They have been forced by the acute situation to equip themselves better, large numbers have had to broaden their education and the opportunities to do so have been made available to them. This trying period must be looked upon as a time of preparation."

"The lesson which the times have taught is that with jobs scarcer workers must be better trained. They should develop greater skill. And nowhere in the world are there more opportunities for the young worker to do this, nowhere are there more hands held out to him than in this free America of ours."

THE WORLD AROUND US

By
O. J. Schuster

THE PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE held in Lima, South America, during the last three weeks of December did not achieve the results proclaimed in the headlines and in the editorial columns of our big dailies. Those newspapers expressed wishes, not achievements. The 21 republics represented in the conference acted with commendable independence. The program offered by Secretary Hull was subjected to drastic changes.

THE GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY for which the Roosevelt administration has labored constantly and sincerely is genuinely popular throughout North and South America. The President and Secretary are personally trusted and honored by our neighbors on the south, but they know that in a few years a different administration may come into power, that another Hoover or Coolidge may be in the White House and that the "Big Stick Policy" of earlier years may supplant the present "Good Neighbor Policy." They remember that only a few years ago our marines in Nicaragua, a little nation with less than a million people, were fighting the natives to further "Yankee Imperialism." They know that the "Colossus of the North," as they call us, has repeatedly used force in Mexico, Panama, Cuba, and other weak countries to make property rights triumph over human rights. So they fear in years ahead we may against return to commercialism and exploit them.

TO UNDERSTAND THE ACTION of the Lima conference we must remember that South America was settled by immigrants from Spain, Portugal, and Italy, while the United States was colonized by English and other nationalities of northern Europe. They therefore naturally feel as friendly toward their Spanish ancestors as we do toward our English-Irish ancestors. They refused to pass resolutions that antagonized the nations of southern Europe and expressed solidarity with North America which is more closely tied to northern Europe. We can appreciate this attitude of the South American republics if we imagine how we would feel if we were a small and weak nation and Argentina or Brazil had our population and wealth and demanded that we stand solidly with them against possible aggression by England, France, or other nation of northern Europe from which our country was largely settled. We should then fear "Spanish Imperialism" just as Brazil and Argentina now fear "Yankee Imperialism."

COMMERCIAL INTERESTS really dominated the Lima Conference. It is when political manipulations succeed in blocking natural trade relations, making those trade relations depend on political favoritism instead of on merit, that the good neighbor policy breaks down and war is threatened. Argentina and the other republics of South America defeated efforts to establish "solidarity of action" by the nations of the two Americas and insisted on freedom to act independently as the interest of each nation dictates when a crisis arises. In other words, they maintained the principles of democracy for nations as well as for individuals, the right of a nation to freedom of thought and action just as in a democracy each citizen has that right. Political alliances breed war, as the history of European nations clearly shows. Little Switzerland for centuries has refused to enter into alliance with other nations with the result that for more than 500 years she has been at peace with the rest of the world. The refusal of the American republics to form an alliance among themselves to resist aggression from the Old World may be an important contribution to world peace.

THE RESOLUTIONS finally passed by the Lima Conference opposed "all foreign intervention." That means that the United States is as much a foreign nation to Mexico as is England or Japan. The resolutions leave each nation free to settle its own internal affairs and free to decide for itself its foreign policies. The action of the Lima Conference maintains the "Open Door" policy. If that policy is wisely and fairly maintained it should help to improve relations in the world around us.

CATHARPIN

Well the New Year has started off just about where the old one ended, the only difference discernible to the naked eye is that we can now look up and see a lot of new calendars hanging on the walls displaying a lot of new and beautiful pictures to gaze upon during the coming year. These calendars, though containing as they do, some of the finest creations of pictorial art, can not really take the place of the old Hagerstown Almanac which carries in its headlines these letters "CXLI" which indicate that it has been in circulation 142 years during which time it has served up not only dates but moon changes, all kinds of weather, the signs of the Zodiac, eclipses, and just so many other things that the old almanac itself can only show the number; in other words, this old almanac has hung by the fireside or in some other handy location for almost a century and a half being referred to almost daily for such information as it was able to give. In appearance it has been as unchanged as the sun, moon and stars which it tells so much about. Governments may rise and fall, styles may change from the sublime to the ridiculous; but the old Hagerstown Almanac goes on forever in the same old way and always telling you something want to know. Long may it live.

There is one thing however in which the new year is no improvement upon the old; people still get sick. Mrs. Judson Hoffman, of Deserette, has been confined to her room for the past fortnight suffering from heart trouble and other ailments which has caused great concern on the part of her family and friends. At this writing, she is somewhat improved.

Then again accidents will happen. Mr. W. K. Caldwell, of Six Acres, sustained painful injuries when a cupboard fell across his knees injuring them to the extent that he was taken to the Naval hospital, Washington, for treatment. X-ray, however, showed no bones broken but the injury was very painful and the patient confined to his room since the new year began. He is now better and hopes to be around soon.

Mrs. L. J. Pattie, of Belle Farm, is confined to her room as we write suffering from a severe cold. Many others throughout the community are similarly affected.

"Aunt" Sally Berry, an old and respected colored woman, died at the home of her son, Charles S. Berry, of near Catharpin on Friday, January 6th, 1939, interment in the cemetery adjoining the colored Baptist church on Monday, January 9th, 1939. The deceased was familiarly known to all as "Aunt Sally" and lived during the time when Jennie Dean was a noted and useful personage in this community.

The Rev. J. S. Schwartz, wife and son returned home on Friday of last week after a two-week's visit among relatives and friends in South Carolina. Upon arrival in that southern climate they were greeted by a snow storm and low thermometer which surprised them considerably since when leaving home the weather was mild and springlike.

As a mid holiday activity, The Catharpin Good Housekeeping club met at Oakwood on Tuesday, December 27th, 1938, to participate in what is known as a covered dish dinner. This covered dish affair set them all to guessing just what, how, why, which and whither they should prepare for so momentous an occasion; it all being so new that the announcement set them all to gasping. But as is always the case this club is ever ready to try anything once and if successful the idea becomes a fixture and never allowed to die. No one, of course, is privileged to know what any other member is expecting to bring, hence all become as secretive for the time being as is possible for a woman's organization to be, and all hunting up cook-books, recipes, menus, etc., each trying to spring something new and unheard of as a surprise and experiment. Well, believe it or not, it was so successful, pleasing edible and beautifully that it was voted a success beyond their wildest expectations. To the observer the table looked more like a jeweler's display of Holiday silver than just a surprise dinner. That they had plenty to eat there can be no mistake; and that it was all good and in great variety there is no dispute. You remember that old couple about "Books and Cooks" well this bunch is pretty well posted on both and can put up a good bluff either way around. As an experiment it was a great success; as an enjoyable occasion it has but few equals. A pleasant feature of the meeting was the presence of two former members who were visiting in the community at the time in the persons of Miss E. Elma Latham, of Charlotte, North Carolina, and Mrs. E. S. Clary, of Lawrenceville, Va., who together with Miss Ann Robertson, of Lawn Vale,

GUEST SPEAKER AT WOMANS CLUB

Miss Wheeler Discusses Modern Drama

Members of the Woman's Club of Manassas, and their guests, were privileged to hear, on Wednesday afternoon, a splendid and inspiring discourse on "Modern Drama." The speaker for the occasion being Miss Leola Wheeler, professor of Speech, at Farmville State Teachers College, Farmville, Va. The program was sponsored by the Music and Literature Section of the Club.

Miss Wheeler gave, in the brief time allotted to her, a most comprehensive and clear outline of Drama through the ages. She brought out clearly how Drama and the plays were representative of the age in which they were written and played. She also said that Drama was the most living of all the Arts, requiring, as it does, two sets of people, the actors and the audience to make it live.

Miss Wheeler urged the Club women to be more interested in the literature of our age. She asserted that at present America is doing some most interesting work in Drama and will reach much greater dramatic peaks in the next few years than ever before, that the young play writers of America are near a period of great accomplishment.

Splendid reports were given by the various committee chairmen of their activities during the past weeks. A most interesting report of the Christmas parties, given by the Junior Woman's Club and the Fire Department, was read by Miss Walser Conner, representing the Junior Club.

Music under the direction of Mrs. Dennis Baker, featured singing by the group of some of the well known songs of Stephen Foster in commemoration of his death.

The social hour and refreshments were also much enjoyed, the hostesses for the day being Mrs. Richard Haydon, Mrs. Allison Hooff, Mrs. Thomas Howard, Mrs. F. R. Hynson, Mrs. R. S. Hynson and Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson.
