FREE TRIP TO WORLD'S FAIR

Young Democrats Announce Prizes in Membership Drive

The Membership Committee of the Young Democratic Club of Prince William County announces that a five-day free trip to the World's Fair in New York City will be awarded to the Prince William County Young Democrat who obtains the most members for the year 1939. A second prize of $15.00 and a third prize of $10.00 will be awarded to the runners-up. These wonderful premiums have been offered by various good Democrats who wish to see the club maintain its status of being one of the largest clubs in the state. The World's Fair prize will include a round-trip train ticket, and limited but sufficient board and room expenses. Those who wish to enter the contest must so inform Miss Nancy Lynn, Secretary, prior to April 1st. The contest closes May 31st and the winners will be announced and presented with their prizes by State President Robert Lane Anderson at the June meeting. All members will be given credit for each membership they turn in.

The "Neighbor Night," held at the High School Auditorium on the night of March 7th, proved to be one of the most entertaining and successful get-togethers the club has ever had. The business meeting, presided over by President P. A. Lewis, was brief. After the minutes had been read and old and new business disposed of, Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, past-president of the club and present Chairman of the Membership Committee, gave a cordial welcoming address to the visitors and then introduced them to the audience. Among those from neighboring counties who were present were: Mr. John McCauley, Mr. John A. K. Donovan, Mr. R. C. L. Moncure and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Coxen from Falls Church; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Stansbury and Miss Anna Stump from Alexandria; Mr. John Ferguson, Mr. James Keith, Mr. Jim King, Mr. Charles Pickett, Mr. Lewis Coyner and Mr. James Kinchloe from Fairfax; Mr. John C. Mackall from Vienna, and Miss Genevieve Bogues from Richmond.

The guest speaker, Hon. John C. Mackall, of McLean, a former Member of the House of Delegates, was introduced to the gathering in a complimentary manner by Hon. W. Hill Brown, Jr., Commonwealth Attorney of Prince William County. Mr. Mackall's talk was chiefly about the good work done by Young Democratic Clubs. He called attention to the rapid growth of the clubs in Virginia, and to the fact that young people approaching maturity have a chance through these organizations to study the issues of today and have an opportunity to better know the candidates. He proudly emphasized the fact that the Young Democratic Clubs play an important part in national affairs.

In an attempt to put on a "different" program, the Entertainment Committee presented a program of all-colored entertainment. Mr. Jenkyn Davies acted as Master of Ceremonies and first announced a mixed group of about seventeen young colored people from the Regional High School gave excellent performance in singing a group of negro spirituals, the most popular of them being "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot." The insistent applause was quieted by a male quartet, and two of the boys later returned to the stage to show the audience some fast tap dancing. Next a little colored boy named Billy Jackson, very small and very calm, gave his version of tapping and, upon being urged, showed the crowd how to "Susie Q, truck and peck." Billy brought forth a big laugh and a great deal of clapping. Next on the program was a group of songs sung and a dance performed by Hildred and Hazel Morton and Estelle Douglas, three little local colored. Their "A Tisket, A Tasket" was especially applauded.

A few minutes of group singing, led by Rev. R. M. Graham, with Mrs. Eloise Compton Trimmer at the piano, was then enjoyed, after which the audience was served ice cream and sugar cookies, and a general hand-shaking and greeting took place among the crowd before it dispersed. The club enjoyed this get-together with its many neighbors and will include a "Neighbor Night" in its yearly program henceforth.

LEGION SPONSORS MODEL BOY STATE

Two Representatives to be Selected from this County

At its regular meeting last Tuesday night the local Post of the American Legion voted to send two Prince William boys to V.P.I. in June to take part in the Boys State. From June 18 to 25, two hundred and fifty boys from the Junior classes of High Schools all over the state will meet at Blacksburg under the auspices of the Virginia Department of the American Legion. They will set up their own Boys State. A governor and legislature will be elected, and two county and four governments will be established, modeled on the forms in use in the state of Virginia. They will have their own police force and courts.

A similar Boys State is being set up in States all over the Union. The American Legion believes in this type of civil education for the youth of America. The Legion believes that if the youth are thoroughly familiar with our own form of government, they will not be so ready to listen to the advocates of Communism, Nazism, and the totalitarian state.

Two boys will be selected from the present junior classes in Manassas, Nokesville, and Haymarket High Schools. They will be nominated by their class mates on secret ballot, chosen by the faculty, and approved by the local Legion Post.

Last Friday a number of Legionnaires went to Arlington to hear the officers of the Virginia Department of the Legion. Commander Fred Parks of Abingdon and his party are on a tour of all the Posts in the State. Included in the party were W. Glenn Elliott, Dep't. adjutant, and Charles W. Crush of Blacksburg, who is national vice-commander. Mr. Crush will have charge of the Boys State. Not only the Legion but also the State has every reason to be proud of the fine type of men who are the leaders in the American Legion of Virginia. Over ten thousand members are enrolled in the Legion in Virginia this year.

COUNTY 4-H CLUBS SPONSOR CLEAN-UP

Next Week Is Time Selected and Prizes Are Offered

During the week of March 20-25, the 4-H Clubs, Home Demonstration Clubs, and white and colored schools of Prince William County will sponsor a county-wide clean up campaign.

This campaign will be to make the county conscious of cleanliness, whether it be at home, in school or on the roadside.

The Osbourn High School, for its part, will sponsor a clean-up campaign within the school. The Building and the Ground Committees will take charge, and there will be a general cleaning of the school.

The 4-H Clubs and Home Demonstration Clubs will take charge and generally supervise the whole campaign.

Everyone will be urged to clean house and yard and to put everything in good order.

Of course, Manassas will wish to cooperate and all the committees hope that the streets and buildings around town will be put in order.

A good social standing depends largely on cleanliness of thought, word and deed, but the cleanliness of the surroundings is equally important. A great scientist once said, "The cleanliness of the environment is the most important factor in the rearing of children. The environment in early life often distinguishes between a life of good or a life of crime."

YOUNGSTERS WIN THROW CONTEST

Spectators Thrilled by Various Athletic Contests

The first annual free throw contest, sponsored by the Manassas Fire Department, was inaugurated on Wednesday night, March 15.

There were five boys and five girls who survived the semi-final to compete for the award. The contest was very close and the final score showed that "Dick" Haydon was ahead by one point with a score of 32 out of 50 tries.

The winner of the girls division was the shy little Jane Beeton who showed a score of 30 out of possible 50.

The presentation of the awards was made by the Hon. W. H. Brown. Each winner received a gold basketball which may be kept permanently by the winner will be engraved on the trophy and placed in the high school until next year.

Following the contest there were two games. The town team girls played the high school girls. The high school girls coming out on top with the score of 25 to 6. The high school had the second team on the floor the entire first half. Every one on the squad saw plenty of action.

Those that performed for the high school team were: Jean Akers, Lucy Johnson, June Pickeral, Frances Beeton, Marie Bauserman, Jane Beeton, Betty Beane, Lucy Morris, Maxine Ball, Mattie Cannon.

The following girls did their do or die for the town team, Marion Lynn, Helen Lloyd, Letha Foster, Hazel Hotte, Shirley Hynson, Frances Saunders, and Evelyn Hunnicutt.

The final act of the three ring circus was a game between the single men and the married men. The single men proved a little too much for the old boys and won to the tune of 46-33. The single men had plenty of reserves and when they got tired they just sent in a fresh team. The married men had only one substitute. The game proved to be one of the cleanest, fastest, and most thrilling games ever played here.

The married men had such celebrated stars as "Dead Eye" Saunders, "Shortly" Vetter, "Weinnie" Adamson, "Hack" Lynn, and "Little Doc" McBryde.

The single men boasted such performers as, Wallace Lynn, "Pretty Boy" Roszell, "Flat Foot" Worley, "Chubby" Ritter, "Drop Kick" Smith, "Dee" Vetter, "Kite" Roseberry, "Beautiful" Wells "Sleepy" Miller and "Short Stuff" Curtis.

The spectators claim that it was two bits well spent and would like to see the show again. A good time was had by all and every body is happy, I hope.

REGIONAL LABORATORY AVAILABLE FOR PHYSICIANS

In accordance with the state-wide program for more efficient control of pneumonia, the new Arlington County bacteriological laboratory has been designated as the center for offering pneumonia typing to the physicians of Arlington, Fairfax, Loudoun, and Prince William Counties.

This service offered to the physicians free of charge and will make available typing procedures so that physicians may determine the type of pneumonia in the patient within a very short time.

The laboratory will also be a distribution center for the anti-pneumococcal serum, which is sold to the physicians at a very nominal cost. Arrangement have been completed in Arlington County whereby individuals having pneumonia and unable to secure the proper serum will be furnished some without cost. It is presumed that this same service will be available to those in adjoining counties.

The Arlington Laboratory is one of 29 typing stations located over the state of Virginia. This laboratory will serve the 4 counties in northern part of the state.

The physicians in Arlington County have already availed themselves of this excellent services and very beneficial results have been secured where the typing was done almost immediately and the proper type of serum administered to the patient.

The health department has also been instrumental in arranging for the showing of the moving picture, "A New Day," which illustrates, in a very interesting manner, the importance of typing immediately and the administration of the proper serum in pneumonia cases.

COOPERATIVES TO HOLD CONFERENCES ON FARM PROBLEMS

At a recent Committee Conference composed of Board of Directors of Prince William Farmers Service, and leading farmers of the Manassas trading area, it was unanimously agreed that the cost of farm supplies—feeds, seeds and fertilizer—had been greatly reduced as a result of cooperative purchasing. It was further agreed that the quality of supplies generally had been improved, according to J. J. Baker, Culpeper, Virginia, District Manager, Southern States Cooperative and Walter Sadd, Manassas, Virginia, Manager Prince William Farmers Service.

A series of nine Community Committee Conferences to be held in and around Manassas during March was decided upon. These meetings are being sponsored by Southern States Cooperative and will be held so that farmers might become better acquainted with the services of their local Cooperative—Prince William Farmers Service; to lend their advice as farmers as to how their Cooperative can serve them even better and to map out plans whereby farm supply costs can be lowered even more, declared Mr. and Mrs. Sadd.

A representative of Southern States Cooperative will speak at each meeting.

Southern States has a membership of more than 100,000 farmer patron members in Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware and Maryland. These farmers own and operate in their own interest, three large fertilizer plants, three modern feed mills and three seed and farm supply warehouses.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

A BOOK TO READ

by Clarence Wagener

Self-styled stout souls there are who stand unmoved by any persuasion to read a book of fiction. "The very idea!" is their rejoinder. "What? Waste my time on made-up stuff?"

At best, the majority of us can hope to read but relatively few of the great histories, biographies and scientific, sociological and economic treatises of the past and of today. To try to acquire as much sound knowledge as possible is certainly a laudable ambition. Shouldn't we, then, pass up the fiction, since at the most we can give only a few hours a week to a good book in a quiet corner?

What play is to the day's hard grind, what dessert is to the well-balanced dinner—fiction is to factual reading matter. No doubt about it, you can live out your allotted span without reading a single work of fiction. But you'll not be living nearly so well.

Just as there are many kinds of play and many kinds of dessert, so there are many kinds of fiction—play and desserts and fiction to suit different appetites and different moods. A high-grade fiction book is as different from a trashy one as a symphony concert directed by Toscanini is unlike the music one hears in a dime-a-dance hall.

Whoever you are, there's a type of fiction you can enjoy. Try the different kinds. For instance, if you wish to stand with one foot in the land of reality, borrow any of the many fine historical romances to be found in your public library. Or, to be specific, try that gem of a historical novelette "Silver Collar Boy," by Constance Wright (Dutton, N. Y., 1935; 150 pages).

In the year in which Queen Anne of England died—1714—there perished a tiny Negro boy named Pompey, who had been servant to a British lady of quality. Around his neck he had worn a silver collar carrying this inscription: "My name is Pompey; to Belliza I am slave." The story of the little blackamoor, of the beautiful widow Belliza and her ardent suitors, of the painting of the portrait of Belliza and Pompey by an unknown artist, of the manner in which Pompey lost his life and the effect of his death upon Belliza—all is so charmingly, so realistically told that the stout soul, who ordinarily turns thumbs down on "such stuff," needs be a tough customer, indeed, if he fails to become a convert to fiction once he has read "Silver Collar Boy."

WATERFALL

On last Wednesday night, March 8, the beautiful, spacious, home of Rev. and Mrs. P. G. Berry was the scene of a happy group of members of the Olive Branch Church of which Rev. Berry is pastor also relatives and friends who had met to surprise him on his birthday. Rev. Berry has been ill but is much improved and had driven up to Washington that day on his return he was told to lie down and as he was supposed to drive to Gainesville the 11 o'clock bus as his sister-in-law was returning to Washington. He was asleep when the group arrived and awakened by laughter and greeting of a Happy Birthday, "Rev. Berry."

Later when he came down the stairs and across the hall to the parlor he was greeted on every hand. Then he came to the dining room where he was again greeted with a hand-shake and happy birthday. He seemed very happy over the surprise. And said, "How nice it is to know that some one is thinking of you on your birthday."

Rev. Berry received a number of gifts from members of his church and friends. Those present were Mr. Worth Berry, a brother of Rev. Berry; Mr. McPhearson, of Boston, Mass.; Mrs. B. M. Washington, of Washington, D. C., formerly of Thorofare, Va., who played a very important part in making this affair a success. Mrs. Viola Barbour and son, Mr. Austine Barbour, Mrs. Robt. Gaskins, Miss M. V. Stokes, principal of the Antioch Norfolk School, Mrs. H. L. Gaskins and children, Naomi and Harold, Mr. Lawrence Williams, Jr., and Mr. Milton Burke. Refreshments were served which consisted of Rev. Berry's favorite strawberry ice cream with cake. He opened his gifts with admiration and thanked all who had taken a part in making him happy on his birthday. We learned later that Mrs. Sue Hatcher, Mr. Gordon Lansdown, his sisters, Misses Gladys and Frances Lansdown had started to the party but had car trouble and could not get there. Even so Rev. Berry will know that they were thinking of him.

JOPLIN

The community was shocked by the tragic death of French Carney. He has been a resident of this community for several years.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Lucy Crow, who has been quite ill, is much improved at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Roberts called on Mrs. Ida Abel on Sunday.

Mrs. Mildred Firth has returned to Maryland where she has been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Williams.

Mr. Mitchell Bettis motored to Alexandria on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Abel called on Mrs. Virginia Anderson on Sunday.

Mrs. Vergie Liming, who has been on the sick list for several weeks, is much improved at this writing.

Mrs. E. H. Williams has returned home from Washington where she has been visiting with relatives there.

Many of the folks in the community attended the funeral of Mr. Hawkins Abel. He was known by many of the people in this section and will be greatly missed.

VIRGINIA E. BLAKE

Mrs. Virginia Estelle Blake, aged 65 years, died at her home in Washington, D. C., on Sunday last after a few weeks' illness of a heart affection. She was well known in Prince William county where she once lived and had many friends.

She was a granddaughter of the late Redmond Brawner of Manassas, being the daughter of Henry N. and Mary Jordan Brawner, of Broad Run, Fauquier county. Her father was a Confederate soldier of Mosby's command, and was for many years a prosperous merchant.

Mrs. Blake was a woman of noble Christian character, devoting much of time to charitable work in different organizations of her church and community.

She was thrice happily married, first when quite young to James R. Gosson. After a few years of marital bliss, spent mostly in the far South in search of health for the husband, he passed away. During the eleven years of her widowhood, she became a professional nurse. In 1906 she married her cousin, William G. Green, a prominent business man of Washington who died in 1917 leaving her a comfortable fortune. Fifteen years ago through affiliation in church work, she met and married John S. Blake, of Washington.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. W. F. McGarity, by her first marriage, and three grandchildren; also three brothers, Foster, Conway and Page Brawner, of Washington; a brother, H. N. Brawner, Jr., president of Chestnut Farms Dairy, died about two years ago.

RUTH GERTRUDE HULFISH

On Friday, March 10th about noon in Alexandria Miss Ruth Gertrude Hulfish passed away at the home of her niece, Irene Demory Dodge where she had made her home for a number of years.

Miss Hulfish, the daughter of James P. and Mary Virginia Hulfish, was born and reared at Haymarket where their hospitable home was always the center of fun and gaiety. After the death of their father and mother in 1911 and 1914 respectively, Ruth and Lawrence lived on at the old home for a number of years. Finally "breaking up" and going to Marion, S. C., where Lawrence married a very attractive widow, Mrs. Lawson Smith, and after several years, Ruth returned to Alexandria, Va., to make her home with her niece whom she had raised from infancy, as her sister, Mamie died when Irene was a baby. As were her Baptist ancestors, Ruth was always active in the work of her church and served capably and efficiently at any task that came to hand, Sunday School teacher, W. M. U. President, Leader of Group No. 5 in Woman's Missionary Union; these, and many other duties she performed faithfully and well; and in a manner that proclaimed a rich heritage was hers.

Although she had been in failing health for several years, she was only "in bed" for a week preceding her death.

Her funeral services were conducted at the Baptist Temple Church, Alexandria, of which her niece's husband, Ryland Dodge, is pastor. He was assisted by the Rev. C. Wirt Trainham, of Marshall, who was a former pastor of Haymarket who baptized Ruth in the fellowship of her church about forty years ago.

Interment was at Antioch cemetery by the side of her parents and a sister, Netwe, who died in her young girlhood. A short service at the grave was conducted by the Rev. C. Wirt Trainham. Ruth's popularity was attested to by the host of relatives and friends, who accompanied the body to Antioch; and by the beautiful flowers that nodded bravely in the chill March wind.

She is survived by three brothers, namely Randolph, of Upper Marlboro, Md., James A., of Alexandria, and Lawrence, of Marion, S. C.

BING CROSBY RETURNS IN "PARIS HONEYMOON"

Item to be thankful for: Bingo Crosby is back! Dean of the famous radio Music Hall, unchallenged monarch of croon, and certainly one of the big deans of motion picture favorites, Bing arrived next Monday and Tuesday, March 20-21, at the Pitts Theatre, in his latest offering, "Paris Honeymoon"—and if you should ask this reviewer—it is by far and away one of the finest motion pictures in which he has thus far appeared!

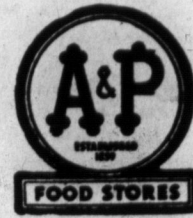

For four reasons:

First, because Bingo does a straight acting job in the picture, without depending upon his lyric genius too much—although he does sing some swell new tunes. Second, lovely Shirley Ross, with whom Bing has already appeared in "Waikiki Wedding," and who has won nation-wide acclaim for her recent performances in "The Big Broadcast of 1938" and "Thanks for the Memory," is with him again!

Third, charming little Francisca Gaal, whom you will remember as the little Dutch girl in "The Buccaneer," is on hand again in a sweet little comedy role which will carry her right into your hearts. And fourth, there are four hit tunes which will get your toes and lips going. Make a note of their titles, because you'll be singing 'em soon: "I Have Eyes," "The Funny Old Hills," "You're A Sweet Little Headache" and "Joobalal."

And there's more! There's Akim Tamiroff, who has impressed us in the past with his character portrayals. We have seen him as a pirate king, as a gang leader, as a Cossack, and in many other roles. It has remained for "Paris Honeymoon" to reveal him as a master of high comedy—and from where we're sitting it looks like we've got a new and great comedian in the making! Then there's Edward Everett Horton, who delivers his usually highly satisfactory performance as a gentleman's (Bing's) gentleman, and Ben Blue, in a comedy role.

"Paris Honeymoon" is the Odyssey of a young American millionaire, played by Bing, head over heels in love with a gay divorcee, played by Miss Ross—until he meets a little peasant girl, Miss Gaal, who falls in love with him. It happens in Paris and in an ancient castle in a principality still unknown to Messrs. Rand & McNally, called "Pushtal-nick," where Tamiroff is not only mayor, but chief real estate operator, owner of the local caravansary and dealer in political offices. He, also, is in love with Miss Gaal.

"MAD MISS MANTON," AT PITTS' THEATRE MARCH 22

A sparkling and novel form of film entertainment is offered in RKO Radio's "The Mad Miss Manton," with Barbara Stanwyck and Henry Fonda co-starred and Sam Levene heading the featured cast. With a mysterious double killing as its basis, the picture combines the thrills of a detective story, the laughs of a high-speed comedy and the complications of a stormy romance to make up what is said to be one of the year's most interesting offerings.

Miss Stanwyck has the title role as a spoiled and wilful society girl, who, with the assistance of a group of debutante followers, manages to keep in continual hot water by her escapades. Fonda is a young newspaperman who castigates the lady in a scorching editorial, and is promptly sued for libel.

Because of her reputation, Miss Stanwyck is disbelieved by the police when she reports finding a dead body—which vanishes before the officers can arrive. Irritated at this attitude, she gathers her faithful cohorts and decides to solve the mystery herself, just to prove she isn't as useless as Fonda's editorial makes her out to be. The first body leads her to a second, which arouses the interest of Sam

Levene, a world-weary detective lieutenant, who suspects Miss Stanwyck knows more about the two killings than she will reveal. His efforts to solve the case, Fonda's hectic conflict with Miss Stanwyck which develops into an impetuous romance, and her dogged search for clues to the identity of the murderer, all lead to an exciting climax in which Levene persuades Miss Stanwyck to act as "bait" in an elaborate trap that has unexpected consequences.

Miss Stanwyck's "gang" of thrill-seeking debutantes also is an important factor in the story. Frances Mercer, Vicki Lester, Eleanor Hansen, Whitney Bourne, Ann Evers, Catherine O'Quinn and Linda Terry comprise the septet of Miss Stanwyck's followers, and their work adds much to the action of the picture.

Some of the most attractive gowns, sports clothes, negligee and furs shown on the screen in years are included in the course of the film, with the eight girls wearing nearly 100 ensembles as they make their way through the stirring complications of the story.

Leigh Jason directed the production by P. J. Wolfson with Philip G. Epstein writing the screen play from an original story by Wilson Collison.

WAR CLOUDS THICKEN

Last year when it seemed almost certain that a terrible European war was about to be servers predicated that the near approach of winter, more than any other circumstances, would stay the hand of Hitler, because of the fact that the nearness of freezing weather would preclude the quick military campaign so essential to German success.

Now with the approach of the season of the year most favorable for the inauguration of extensive military action, events in Europe are rapidly increasing a well founded apprehension that war is again in immediate prospect. This week we are witnessing a further dismemberment of Czechoslovakia, under virtual military enforcement by Adolph Hitler and despite the guarantees made at Munich last year by Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy.

In itself this establishment of the independent State of Slovakia is not sufficient to precipitate the anticipated hostilities, but it does definitely indicate that Germany is striving energetically to subdue all of the small democratic nations of central Europe by political methods, before coming to blows with her more powerful enemies.

and Mrs. John R. Hornbaker. They have three living children and four grandchildren. After his marriage he entered the milling business with his father-in-law at Milford Mills near Bristow. Later he rented the mill for a short period, after which he purchased the business and continued to operate it successfully for several years before finally selling it in 1913 to Messrs. Wissler and Drumheller. He then moved to Manassas with his family and purchased the Shannon house on West Street where they still reside. The same year he established the real-estate and insurance firm of C. J. Meetze and Company. Among some of the larger properties handled by the firm were the Compton and Ben Lomond farms, both of which he managed for some years.

In 1911 Mr. Meetze ran for the State Legislature, was elected and succeeded himself until 1919, serving four terms and one extra session. In 1913 he took up the study of law. He brought Mr. T. E. Didlake, (then of the well-known firm of Tillett-Gover, and Didlake of Charlotte, North Carolina) to Manassas for the purpose of coaching him in law for a period of one month. Later he accepted the Junior Chair of Law at Chapel Hill, North Carolina, where Mr. Meetze studied a month under him at two different times. After Mr. Meetze passed the Virginia bar, Mr. Didlake came to Manassas where the law firm of Didlake and Meetze was formed and remained until Mr. Meetze accepted an offer to organize the Monarch Clubs which were developed by him in every state from Georgia to Connecticut. He was engaged in this work for six years, during which period he was associated with Famous Speakers, Incorporated of New York. During this time, he filled many outstanding speaking engagements in several states, some of which were the dedication of the Olney High School of Philadelphia, the 78th Annual Convention of the New Jersey State Teachers Association, the St. Peters Lutheran Church of New York City, the Advent Lutheran Church of Philadelphia, the Indutry Masonic Lodge of Philadelphia, and many others.

Mr. Meetze secured a position in 1931 with the United States Chamber of Commerce and remained with that organization for more than three years, when he resigned to take the directorship of the Suffolk District Tidewater Automobile Association. At that time the Suffolk District had five counties and only twenty-one members. Through Mr. Meetze's efforts it now has nine counties, and 1300 members have been enrolled by him.

Mr. Meetze has always been interested in the public schools of the state and was president of the Prince William County School League work, and organized the schools of the county in the league. He has addressed many schools and colleges throughout the country. He is an elder in the Presbyterian Church of Manassas, and is Past Master of the Manassas Masonic Lodge.

The Tidewater Automobile Association is loathe to release Mr. Meetze; but, knowing the condition of his wife's health and his desire to be at home, it wishes him every success in reestablishing his business in Manassas.

NOKESVILLE

The Nokesville girls played the Nokesville Town team here March 14. They were victorious with the score of 21 to 19. The Nokesville boys played the Nokesville, Junior farmers and lost with the score of 35 to 17.

We regret that Virginia Hyde has been unable to be with us at school for the last week, and hope that she will soon be back with us.

The Juniors are getting their play, "Here Come Hattie," ready for production.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad and loving remembrance of our dear brother, Willie C. Williams, who left us one year ago, March 12, 1938.

Your leaving us, dear brother, Has filled our hearts with pain; But some sweet day we will meet together, Never to part again.

God above knows how we miss you, He alone our tears can dry; But there will be an understanding, In that home beyond the sky.

SELECTING ARMY PILOTS

How the United States Army Air Corps will pick the men who will enlarge our air force is the subject of a story appearing in The Star next Sunday, which gives the history of the School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Field, Tex.

This school, operated by flight surgeons of the Air Corps, has developed the new science of selecting men who will make the most efficient pilots and save the Government hundreds of thousands of dollars which might be spent in training men not suited to the work.

OCCOQUAN AND VICINITY

Miss Georgia Pierce, of Occoquan, is spending several weeks at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Pierce, in Castleton, Va.

Mrs. Warthen Hall, of Occoquan, will spend the week of March 17 in New York City. Mr. Hall is attending school in New York. They will both attend a dance to be given by the school Mr. Hall is attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Manson, of Alexandria, Va., spent the week-end in Occoquan as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Leary, Mrs. Manson's parents.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. Ernest Plaskett, of Lorton, is quite ill, and we hope he will soon be well again.

There passed from among us to a better world one who was loved and honored by all who knew her; Mrs. John Tanner, of Lorton who was buried at Historic Old Pohick Church Cemetery on March 9th in her eighty-second year. Mrs. Tanner was one of the Old Motherly Women we occasionally meet now days, a woman who was always ready and glad to share with others everything she possessed; a woman who would always give a happy smile. Her face was always the picture of happiness whether she had reasons to be happy or not. Hers was the happiness of those who are favored with an abundance of God's love and kindness. She leaves her husband; and a son, Ray Tanner, of Dahlgreen, Va., and daughter, Mrs. Maude Clarke, of Lorton, Va. Funeral services were held at Cranford Methodist Church by Rev. D. N. Calvert, assisted by Mrs. S. M. Janney, of Fredericksburg, Va., an old friend of the family. Our heartfelt sympathy goes to all those left to mourn the passing away of Mrs. Tanner.

The O-W-O-Volunteer Fire Department was called out TWICE last week to fight forest fires. Once to Indian Springs where if they had not get there the BARNs and possibly the house would have been destroyed. The next time down Gunston Community where they managed to extinguish the fire in time to save all that portion where all the club houses are built and the entire High Point area. This Volunteer Fire Department is certainly doing excellent work, and no place is too far away for them; and they get there in quick time too.

We still owe a few payments on the Fire Equipment, so will thank any who desire to do so if they mail any amount they wish to Mr. Robert S. Hall in Occoquan. We are depending entirely on the members of the communities for payment and upkeep on this Fire Department. Neither the State or County help in any way.

The ladies of the Rector's Aid of Pohick Church met at the rectory on Wednesday, the 15th, their regular monthly meeting. There was a very large attendance. All had a very enjoyable and instructive evening.

The Woman's Study Class meets every Tuesday during Lent at the Pohick Church Vestry House. At present they are studying Missionary work in India and other parts of the Far East. This study is very interesting and instructive.

CATLETT

Mr. Robert H. Armstrong, aged 83 years, passed away at his home near Catlett on March 6, after an illness of 3 weeks. Funeral services were held on Wednesday by Rev. James F. Ferryhough in Warrenton, Va. Burial took place in Catlett cemetery.

Mr. Armstrong is survived by his wife and several children.

We wish to extend to the family our deepest sympathy.

The many friends of Mr. Kenneth Keys who has been a patient in Fauquier hospital for the past 8 months, due to severe gasoline burns, will be glad to know that he has recovered sufficiently to return to his home near Catlett.

Quite a number from Catlett attended the fine musical program given by "The Tobacco Tags" Radio boys from Richmond at Midland, Va., Tuesday night.

We are glad to learn that Miss Catherine Weaver who was operated on in Columbia hospital, Washington, D. C., last week, is improving. We wish for Catherine a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Neff are the proud parents of a baby boy born Tuesday.

Mrs. Rixey Ennis has returned home from the Fredericksburg hospital where she has been a patient for the past week.

Those on the sick list are Mrs. Fannie Heflin, Mrs. Cash Heflin, Mrs. Mary Sauls, Mrs. Pauline Neff, Mr. Gowan.

We are glad to see Mr. Alvin McGowan is able to be out again, after several weeks' illness.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Chas. Mick's father of near Falls Church is very ill.

Mr. Chas. B. Yeatman spent Monday in Wash., D. C.

The many friends of Mrs. Emma Colvin are glad to know she is able to be out again, after several weeks' illness.

BAPTIST CHURCH ANNOUNCES PLANS

The Manassas Baptist Church wishes to announce some services which will be of interest to the entire community.

On Sunday evening, April 2nd, at 8 p.m., Hon. Page McKendree Etchison, will deliver an illustrated lecture on "A PILGRIMAGE TO PALESTINE." This will be given in the church auditorium. Mr. Etchison's lecture deals largely with the Jewish problem which is so much in the news just now, as well as with the scenes of our Lord's life and ministry.

Plans have been completed for a revival meeting to be held from the 7th of June thru the 18th, also. At this time Dr. Solon B. Cousins, Professor of Bible in the University of Richmond, will be the guest preacher. Those who heard Dr. Cousins deliver the address to the graduating class of Osbourne High School last year will wish to set these dates aside so they may hear him again.

CENTREVILLE

Rev. Howarth gave services in Upper Truro Parish on Sunday. Holy Communion was celebrated.

The recent oyster supper given by the Guild of St. John's was quite successful. It is reported that about $40 was taken in.

Illness resulting from a recent accident has prevented Mrs. Dorothy Radford from taking a southern trip. Mr. William Powers is doing some interior decorating at St. John's. Mr. Jimmie Powers has been busy painting the roof of the Methodist church. A dance is being given this evening for assistance of the family of a member of the highway force who is ill in the University hospital. Mr. Homer Wells is in charge of arrangements.

THE WILD ROSE WAY

Out in the fields so far away,
A Ladybug dwelt in a house of clay;
It grew sweeter and sweeter and sweeter and sweet,
As the little Ladybug sat at the feet
Of the Wild Rose tree—
Singing its song, Tweet, tee, dee, dee!

Its color was gay, its color was gold,
And its beauty each day would gently unfold;
But, Alas! a wonderer spied this gem in disguise,
So redolent, sweet, canny and wise.

Who art thou, a gem in disguise,
Or some other costly merchandise?
—Down went the little bug in its house of clay—
Ladybug, Ladybug, come up from your room,
That I may diffuse thy sweet perfume.

I will not, I will not, Tweet, tee, dee, dee!
I'll stay where I am under the Wild Rose tree—
I am only a little lump of clay,
So, please, why do you wander this way?

—If you are only a little lump of clay,
Whence cometh thy sweetness, say?
—It cometh from the Wild Rose Way.
That giveth out the sweetest perfume

To wanderers, that see it, and giveth it room.

Have you not seen the Wild Rose bush,
And breathed its sweetest scent,
Or, have you only seen the thorns,
And not the flowers it lent?

The Wild Rose spoke, as she tossed her head,
With tears in her eyes, to the wanderer, she said,
"Bitter blew the wind, one lonely day,
When I found this little lump of clay."

Beneath my sheltering fold,
With red and pink, and yellow gold,
Life itself seemed to unfold—
But what is that to you, or me,
That I was lonely as could be!

That you take my Ladybug for your merchandise.

'When a lift of your head, a glance of your eyes,
You'd behold the beauty of the Wild Rose Way,
Instead of designs on my pot of clay!

Be-gone, be-gone, go, go away!

Your mercenary purposes you cannot display,
As you travel down the Wild Rose Way.

Do you look for the thorns, or flowers, say?

The Wild Rose gave vent to her indignation,

That she should be changed for self preservation.

The hurt that comes from growing thorns,

Is far from the fragrance that beauty adorns

The bramble bush down by the Way

Of the Wild Rose bush, with its sweet pot of clay—

Friends, listen to the secret that I'll disclose—

—The Ladybug dwells with the Wild Rose—

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

BY
DR. JAMES T. MARSHALL

MAN'S RIGHT TO PROPERTY

"Thou shalt not steal." (Exodus 20:15) The Eighth Commandment defends man's right to acquire and possess material wealth. It is no sin to be rich. Joseph of Arimathea was a rich man and he was also Jesus' disciple. Christianity has no quarrel with the successful business man, provided that his success has been attained honestly and without injustice to the rights of his neighbors; but it warns him of the moral dangers accompanying wealth and of his strict accountability to God for the use of it.

This commandment which forbids stealing has been more persistently violated than any in the Decalogue. Much ingenuity has been displayed on finding ways to evade it. I find this statement in a book on Old Roman Law: "It is no grave sin to steal in moderation. A servant whom force compels to receive an unjust payment may secretly compensate himself." The law of honesty is violated in today in ways more subtle than anything the old Romans ever dreamed of.

In considering the violators of this commandment we naturally think first of the common thieves who infest society, the burglars, bandits, pickpockets, professional gamblers and racketeers of every sort. In spite of the diligence and skill with which the United States Department of Justice seeks the detection and punishment of these "public enemies" the public is still the helpless victim of their depredations.

Bad as the professional criminals are, they are not the only violators of the Eighth Commandment. Many persons who move in respectable circles and would resent being called thieves are guilty of dishonesty in what they consider little things. There is a widespread sentiment that it is not wrong to beat the Government. A man who would not steal from his next-door neighbor will seek to evade the payment of taxes, or try to sell a piece of property to Uncle Sam at a price which could not possibly be secured from a private purchaser.

But money and physical property are not the only things which men steal. We must recognize our moral as well as our financial responsibilities, and every person is under moral obligations to the community in which he lives, to his own nation and to the world at large. Society is in a sorry plight today with its confusion of thought, its hatreds and its barbarities. Does not the person steal from society when he dismisses these problems and refuses to take a share in their solution?

Nor can any man be counted honest who ignores his indebtedness to God. Religion has gone into partial eclipse, and there are hard days ahead for the Church. The very difficulty of the situation should appeal to every manly soul. The prophet Malachi accused the Jews of his day of robbing God. What would he say to those of us who refuse to meet our indebtedness to that One to whom we owe our life, our breath and all the joys we have? Every honest soul will desire to repay his Lord with loving service.

Since from His bounty I receive
Such proofs of love divine,
Had I a thousand hearts to give,
Lord, they should all be Thine.
