POLL TAX NO BAN TO LICENSES

Test Case Won by Richmond Attorney

The Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia this week has ruled against the Commonwealth of Virginia in its contention that the poll tax must be paid before other licenses can be secured.

The opinion was handed down by Justice C. Vernon Spratley and concurred in by the remainder of the State Supreme Court. The ruling ends the efforts of Comptroller LeRoy Hodges to force payment of poll taxes as a prerequisite for the issuance of automobile and other licenses, and will unquestionably result in the loss of considerable revenue to the Commonwealth.

Attorney General A. P. Staples had already issued the opinion that enforced collection of the poll tax was unconstitutional, but the court ruling has been obtained to make the decision final. No appeal may be taken to the United States Supreme Court on this purely State question.

In the opinion of the Court the "imposition of a poll tax was not intended primarily for the production of revenue, but to limit the right of suffrage to those who took sufficient interest in the affairs of the State to qualify themselves to vote."

The ruling was granted a mandamus to T. O. Campbell, a Richmond Attorney, who had been refused his license to practice law until he paid his poll tax.

Guests were Misses Anne Bradford, Lucy Arrington, Ethel Cadmus, Margaret Turner, Rose Ratcliffe and Madeline McCoy and Mesdames J. E. Bradford, Jr., Ralph Sharrett, John Holt Merchant, Alan Mackenzie, William Hill Brown, Jr., Paul Arrington, Sedrick Saunders, Stewart McBryde, Jr., Higgs Lewis, Charles Harris, Dorothy Allen, Carl Kincheloe and Jack Ratcliffe, of Manassas; Misses Coda and Esther Kincheloe and Mrs. Paul Kincheloe, of Fairfax, and Mrs. Robert Fox, of Alexandria.

SQUARE DANCING FEATURES PARTY

Young Democrats to Make Merry at Social Gathering

Square dancing will be the feature of the evening at the Tacky Party which the Young Democratic Club of Prince William County is giving Wednesday night, April 26th. A string orchestra has been engaged to play for the party, as an inducement for the older members of the club to enjoy one of the many entertainments which have heretofore been attended mainly by the younger members. The party will be held from 8 till 1:30 o'clock, and round dance music will be furnished later in the evening for the younger folks. Refreshments will be served and there will be a charge. Appropriate costume to fit the occasion is requested but not compulsory.

Young Democrats throughout the county and the public at large are invited to attend. A number of neighboring county Young Democrats have signified their intention of coming, especially those who attended the Barn Party last year and enjoyed its gaiety and entertainment.

Candidates - here is your chance to shake hands and get acquainted with the people you want to vote for you. Voters - here is your chance to come face to face with your would-be representatives and take stock of the men who are soliciting your votes. Last year the Young Democrats numbered 600 members in this county and almost 300 have already joined this year. So let the Tacky Party Wednesday night be the stamping ground for candidates and voters both to enjoy themselves and get better acquainted.

A BOOK TO READ

by Clarence Wagener

Of humor there are about as many varieties as there are kinds of apples. Just as there are tart apples and sweet apples, juicy apples and mealy apples, so there are different sorts of humor. Starting at the bottom, culturally speaking, there is the undisguised bawdy joke, next the comic-page, slapstick type of fun. Then, skipping various in-between divisions, we come to the kind of humor that best can be described by the adjective, subtle.

Refined, educated people are supposed to rate subtlety in humor as tops, and to look down on the raucous, loud-laughter-producing kind of fun. There is considerable truth in this supposition. But many a person who uses excellent English and goes about well-dressed and who professes to be intrigued by specimens of shrewd, nicely discriminating humor is by no means distressed when he hears the latest coarse joke or sees an out-and-out slapstick short at the movies. It is often said that nearly everybody reads the comic strips in the daily newspapers. If you are a close observer of your fellow men you need no confirmation of the accuracy of this statement.

The point of the foregoing is simply this: There are people who enjoy only the so-called low forms of fun; others there are who prefer the so-called elevated kinds of humor exclusively; and a third class, comprising the majority of America's millions, who are eager for anything and everything that is sufficiently elementary in its appeal and manner of presentation to make for ready laughter.

To foresee what will positively make an individual laugh is no easier than for a doctor to guess what will make a sick man well. In each instance, the prescriber stands the risk of erring, no matter how conscientiously he applies himself to the task in hand.

With trepidation, then, the suggestion is made that anyone who relishes humor of the subtle kind will enjoy "After 1903—What?" by Robert Benchley; illustrated by Guy Williams (Harper & Bros., 1938; 271 pages).

While this volume was by no means intended principally for such use, it should be especially welcome to the sick-a-bed or the convalescent who likes something light to read and who enjoys having his fun served a teaspoonful at a time. A couple of pages of "After 1903—What" and you've read a chapter. And the Guy Williams' drawings—thirty of 'em—are real rib-ticklers.

JOHN MOORE REID

The passing of John Moore Reid on Wednesday, April 12th, was a shock to the Greenwich Community as well to the entire county of Prince William, and adjoining counties, and to many in the city of Washington, where he had many loved ones and warm personal friends.

John, as we all loved to know and call him, was born near where he had lived all of his long and useful life. He was born October 10, 1861. He was united in Marriage to Miss Annie Hall, January 16, 1896.

John was a member of the Gainesville Methodist Church for more than thirty years and was a member of the Official Board of that church for a long period of time; he was a friend of all the churches and was often seen at his neighborhood churches, when he felt able to go. He enjoyed his friends, who were many, was delighted when they came to visit at his home, and never tired of enjoying a social good time. He was a member for many years of the Jr. O.U.A.M. Lodge and was an outstanding member of the local Unit at Greenwich.

The writer of this article always held him up to young people, as well as older ones as an ideal husband, father and neighbor; to know John was but to love him.

Although in failing health for more than three years, he continued his interest and looked after his farm and always advised his splendid son and the family in the operation of the place until the last few months when he became so ill it was impossible to ever think of the business.

Besides a host of friends and relatives he leaves to mourn his loss, his widow and two children, Mrs. William Hoffman and Shirley Moore Reid, three grand children, Ellen Lucile Hoffman, Frederick Reid Hoffman and Joseph Warren Hoffman, (Frederick Reid Hoffman lived with his grand parents since a little fellow and was as one of his own.) He leaves also two sisters, Mrs. Lucy Ellis, Miss Rhett Reid and one brother, Eleazer Reid.

—A Friend.

WE WELCOME OUR YOUNG FRIENDS

On Friday and Saturday of this week our historic little town of Manassas is honored by the presence here of delegations from the most progressive High Schools of Virginia in the Fifth Annual Convention of the Virginia State Student Government Association.

We extend a cordial welcome to these outstanding young people. Our town is small, but our hospitality large, and we are delighted to have them here in the community where General Jackson stood like a stone wall for the sacred rights of self-government.

These are days when the desires of men to govern themselves are being questioned throughout the world, as dictators rear their ugly heads and attempt to destroy democracy. It is, therefore, especially important that our citizens learn how to govern themselves so well that there can be no question as to the desirability of the American system. Student Government in the Public Schools is making a fine contribution to the national welfare by providing early and actual experience in self-control.

We congratulate the Virginia State Student Government Association upon the splendid program of their Convention here and wish them the fullest measure of success in attaining the ideals of their organization.

ROOSEVELT APPEALS TO ADOLPH HILTER

he named, and to promise to keep the peace for at least ten years.

From a less distinguished source than our President, the appeal would appear very childish, for there is no reason why two of the world's greatest military should place themselves on parole, and disarm, at the mere request of a peaceful democracy which has the temerity to make the suggestion.

Surely the President does not actually believe that his message will materially affect the line of action determined upon by these ruthless and bloody-handed dictators. It is more probable that he anticipates rejection of his plea and that his procedure is based upon this eventuality.

As a nation we are not neutral in sentiment, but we do desire to remain out of the forthcoming conflict. Our experience in the last war inclines us to this determination. Having a common cause with the great democracies of the world in their fearful struggle with dictatorship, it will be increasingly difficult to maintain neutrality, and it is possible that this kind of interference in European affairs is more likely to plunge us forward into war than to contribute to maintenance of world peace.

Where once we visioned sunny dawn;
Gray shadows now are drifting west
We wonder if tomorrow morn
Will prove that early days were best

I wonder if we'll meet again
When we have crossed the border-land

On this; or on some other plane
Where hopes, and thrills, will seem as grand;

As those appealing long ago
Now slowly drifting out of sight,
Beyond the sunset's fading glow

AMERICAN AIRPLANE ENGINES

In an emergency the American aviation industry could produce 7,000 military planes and more than 16,000 engines a year, according to a story appearing in The Star next Sunday, which compares the quality of American engines to those being used by other major powers.

Beginning with the creation of the famous Liberty motor in 1917, under wartime pressure, the history of airplane motors is sketched. The need for adequate appropriations to expand research facilities, so that the efficiency of American motors will not be exceeded by those in other countries, is stressed. adv.

was strongly stressed in connection with the Tuberculosis campaign.

Pupils at Brown had the privilege of seeing the Health Movies: "Let My People Live," and "A Fight Against Tuberculosis," which were shown in Manassas by Miss Fleeman of State Tuberculosis Association.

The Dental Clinic opened in the County on January 9th. This activity was entirely new to the patrons and some were reluctant to accept it. By the time the clinician reached Brown, the pupils, supervisor and teachers had won the support of the parents to the extent that every child who was examined was treated, thus making the school 100 per cent. Indigent children were treated at the expense of the Parent-Teacher and the local Tuberculosis Associations. There were 147 examinations, out of which 112 pupils needed and received treatment with the result that the Minimum Five-Pointer record was increased from 30 or 12 per cent, to 107 or 67 per cent, a difference of 55 per cent improvement.

Not only was the clinic a financial advantage to the parent, but also a strong force in the development of the health conscious mind of the child. Our pupils are so very proud and happy over the results of the Dental clinic that they have already launched a campaign, through the Junior League, to make necessary preparations for the return of the clinic. Now that this movement has had its initiation we feel confident that the parents will lend their hearty support in making it a part of our annual health program.

The clinician, Dr. R. O. Wilson, was highly commended for his efficient service by the patrons, and local school and health officials.

Pupils at Brown observed National Health Week, April 2-9, by cleaning the school premises, discussions by teachers, learning health poems and

IS SUCCESSFULParents and Pupils Cooperate
One Hundred per cent

The series of health activities conducted at Brown at intervals since last October has been a success not only numerically but taken from the standpoint of pupil and parental evaluation. Our pupils have become health conscious and the parents have realized the value and advantage in carrying on these activities.

Our campaign began with the wiptheria immunization and vaccination against Smallpox. To this end Brown cooperated 80 and 100 per cents, respectively.

In the unit of work which was carried out in the primary grades during the month of December, health

NORTHERN VIRGINIA COLORED
GROUP ORGANIZES FOR CIVIC & EDUCATIONAL BETTERMENT

In the first of a series of regional mass meetings in the interest of civic, educational and economic betterment among the colored group of Northern Virginia, the Northern Virginia Educational and Civic Federation was the guest of the Prince William unit at the First Baptist Church here, Sunday afternoon.

Under the leadership of Dr. Stephen J. Lewis, of Manassas, the Federation president, the organization meeting was addressed by Thomas H. R. Clarke, of Washington, D. C., former Deputy Recorder of Deeds of the District of Columbia. The speaker stressed the need and value of united action through regional organization and local and county adhesion of organized groups through an organization which could direct its regional activities and lend united support to all movements for the advancement of civic, educational, economic and political betterment. He pictured the historical background of the group when Douglass and Langston and other race leaders did such effective work in awakening citizenship consciousness among our group and lay the foundation upon which the following generations have builded for constructive progress.

He urged the local, community and county organized groups to hook up with the Federation as a regional clearing house for the group problems and activities, in the common interest of all the citizens of the region.

Music was furnished by a group from the Manassas Industrial School and by representatives from Warren, Culpeper and Fairfax. Delegations with the official heads of the county organizations and the Jeanes Supervisors were present from Fairfax, Arlington and the City of Alexandria.

The series of mass meeting will continue throughout the year, in all sections of the 8th Congressional District, which is the geographical scope of the organization. The next meeting will be held at Culpeper with the Culpeper County Unit as host, Sunday afternoon, May 21st.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear mother, Susie Graham Powell, who departed this life eight years ago, April 20th.

Mother has gone to dwell with Jesus.

In the mansions of the blest,

Where her heart ceases its struggles

And her soul has eternal rest.

You fought life's battle bravely

And patiently stood every test.

You shall always be remembered

Because you were one of the best

Although I cannot clasp her hand,

Her face I cannot see;

But let this little token show

I still remember thee.

—Her Devoted Daughter,
Grace Yowell.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my wife, Susie C. Powell, who passed away in April, 1931.

I have lost my souls companion
A life linked with my own
And day by day I miss her more
As I walk through life alone

Some may think I am not lonely
When at times they see me smile
Little do they know the heartache
That I suffer all the while.

Nobody knows my longing
But few have seen me weeping
I shed my tears from an aching heart
While others are fast asleep

Her Devoted Husband.

PROTECTION FOR YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

If You Knew

That you might purchase for your family use, a beautiful plot in National Memorial Park on Lee Highway in Virginia, at pre-development prices, with a small down payment and on easy terms:

That if you pass on within the period of payment your family would receive without additional cost to your estate, burial services and cash to the value of more than $500.00:

That in addition, a deed to your plot would be delivered to your estate without further obligation:

If you knew that these advantages would be assured to your family, provided you are able now to qualify, you would know that you ought to investigate this Protective Plan.

It Costs You So Little!

It Offers You So Much!
