GRADUATION AT OCCOQUAN HIGH

Students Participate in the Closing Exercises

At the Occoquan High School the commencement exercises began Sunday with the sermon to graduates. This was delivered by Mr. Page Etchison, director of religious education at the Y.M.C.A. in Washington. His topic was "The Two Gates." It was taken from the life of St. Peter who when he was a prisoner in Jerusalem was passed thru the gates of the prison by God's influence and reached his friends thru the little gate by his own efforts. Thus there are two gates in life. Rev. A. H. Shumate and Rev. D. N. Calvert had a part in this program.

The names of the graduates appear on the accompanying photograph. Of these Charlotte Howlett received the highest award and Warren McInteer was second. The former received the medal offered by Buck Keys Legion for her outstanding qualities. She received also a year's subscription to the Reader's Digest offered by the publisher.

The graduating exercise's proper took place Monday night. There were seven speakers and a mistress of ceremonies, Geraldine Porter. She announced that these seven speakers wrote on the double theme, "Education enriching life and life enriching education." She said that the class was divided into groups to gather material each for a different phase of the subject and that one person assembled, wrote and delivered the speech. Charlotte Howlett's subject was the "Mutual Reaction of Education and Life." She stated the full meaning of them, "Lives Given for Others" was John Slovensky's subject. He spoke of Horace Dodge, Walter Judd and Horace Mann. He summed it up in "Be Ashamed to Die Until You Have Achieved Some Victory for Humanity." "Reaction of Life and Travel," Hazel Wolfgang's subject, told how travel and education affect life. She herself has visited much of the United States, beside Porto Rico and Shanghai. She quoted Francis Bacon and the inscription on the Union Station in Washington. "Education and Government" was handled by Claggett Hawkins with great deliberation. He had not much good to say for Nazism or Facism, but had great words of praise for the Democracies of the World.

Natalie Lieberman's theme was "Education and the Occupations." More and more are the professions dependent upon education, and those in the professions must keep up with the times.

Warren McInteer treated in a rather unique fashion "Worthy Preparation for Leisure." In this work-a-day world there is a place for leisure, but not for loafing. Education must show the way.

Dorothy Gordon summed it up in "Education is Preparation for the Moral and Spiritual Life." She took as high ground as did Charlotte Howlett at the outset. Like the others she left with the audience much to think about.

Under Miss Selma Pilands' direction, the Glee Club sang two selections, "Can't You Hear Me Calling Caroline" and "An Irish Love Song."

Cynthia Lacey, undoubtedly accomplished pianist, played in the midst of the program, Frühlingsrauscher by Sinding.

Superintendent Haydon presented a playlet "Beyond the Port" by Beulah Bailey Woolard, a kind of allegory which makes the school course seem like a four-year voyage. Miss Irons directed this play and the credit of its success is due her. The feature of the play was a duet by Mildred Bryant and Claggett Hawkins.

ENTERTAINS FOR CLASS OF 1939

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Harris, and Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Cooksey entertained at a weenie roast at the Cooksey Cabin, on Occoquan Run, Monday evening, for the 1939 graduating class of Manassas High School, in honor of Miss Ardith Harris and Mr. Howard Cooksey, who are members of the class.

Swimming, boating and eating were the order of the evening. The majority of the class attended and enjoyed themselves immensely.

GRADUATION AT MANASSAS

Pupils Conduct Exercises at Osbourn High School

Graduating exercises at Osbourn High School began Sunday evening with the sermon to graduates at Grace Methodist Church. Rev. H. P. Baker presided and the invocation was delivered by Rev. J. M. DeChant, pastor of Manassas Presbyterian Church. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Robin Gould, D. D., pastor of Francis Asbury Church, in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Dennis Baker presided at the organ.

The graduation exercises were held Wednesday evening at the high school auditorium. In contrast to the procedure of recent years, these exercises were conducted by the graduates themselves, with Miss Joscelyn Gillum presiding. The invocation was delivered by the Rev. R. M. Graham and the welcome was extended by Miss Gillum, president of the senior class.

Various aspects of education were presented in sequence, beginning with "School History," by Betty Collins. "The School of Today" was discussed in three sections. Betty Beane presented "The Academic Offering" and this was followed by a discussion of "The Vocational Offering" by Lester Harris. "Student Participation in School Government" was discussed by Herbert Burke.

"Ideal Secondary Education," by Fay Fletcher, was followed by "The Needs of our School" by Lucy Johnson.

Musical selections were rendered by Messrs. Knox and Blakemore, and by the high school glee club under the direction of Miss Faith Van Deusen, with Miss Nancy Waters accompanying. The prizes were awarded by Mr. R. Worth Peters, principal of Manassas Public Schools, and the diplomas were awarded by Prof. R. C. Haydon, Division Superintendent of schools. The benediction was delivered by Rev. A. Stuart Gibson.

The closing exercises of the Gainesville District High School began Sunday evening with the Baccalaureate sermon in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Haymarket, by Rev. Roscoe Johnson, pastor of Pace Memorial Methodist Church, Richmond, Va., assisted by Rev. W. F. Carpenter, rector of the church. Rev. Johnson delivered an inspiring sermon.

On Tuesday evening the auditorium of the school was filled to capacity with patrons and friends. Nine graduates were presented with diplomas. The exercises were opened by a procession by the seniors, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Bevard, of the faculty. After the audience had joined in repeating the Lord's Prayer, led by the Superintendent of Schools, a musical selection was rendered by the Boys Glee Club.

Seventh Grade certificates were presented to 19 children and Mrs. Maude Jordan's annual prize was awarded this year to Burgess Hoffman. The Athletic and Citizenship awards were presented by Mr. W. E. Moore, principal of the school, to Rolfe Ellison. The P.-T. A. prize for scholarship and citizenship was presented by Mrs. John Sweeney to Mary Parsons Carter.

As a parting gift the class left a dictionary and stand to the school which was presented by Andrew Smith and accepted, in behalf of the school, by Rolfe Robertson, Jr.

Musical selections were rendered by Mr. D. B. Eutsler, of the faculty, accompanied by Mrs. Dennis Baker, of Manassas; by the girls glee club, and by Gordon Pattie, of the Junior class.

The commencement address was delivered by Mr. K. E. Wallace, of Washington, D. C., and his inspiring talk was followed by a few remarks from Prof. R. C. Haydon.

KIWANIS HOSTS TO COUNTY GRADS

Young People Furnish Delightful Program

Students from the several high schools were the guests of the Kiwanis Club at its regular meeting last Friday evening. O. D. Waters was program chairman.

Greeting the young people was Father Widmer who stressed the message of service as well as of welcome and hospitality.

In the absence of Professor Haydon, it devolved on Miss Joscelyn Gillum, of Manassas, to conduct the program.

Her message to the club was as follows:

"Mr. President and Members of the Manassas Kiwanis Club:

It is my pleasure tonight to extend to you the most sincere thanks of the graduates of the secondary schools of Prince William County, for your kind hospitality this evening. We, of the schools, are here tonight at your invitation to be entertained and in turn to entertain you. We have partaken of this delicious dinner, and are now at the point at which, I am given to understand, we should show that appreciation by acting in some manner that would touch your sensibilities, either pleasantly or unpleasantly. My task is to say thank you and to introduce to you the representative pupils of the graduating classes of Prince William County schools. Before doing that, I wish to express to you some ideas of what we, as graduates of a modern American school system, have to look forward to. We can look forward only to those things which you, as established citizens of our community, are willing for us to do and will stretch forth your hands to assist us in doing. In this day, when the youth, entering the world as a worker, finds an uncertain future facing him, it is a wonderful thing to find a group who are ready to act as friends and counselors in the way that you have done.

Throughout our four years of high school, it has been a source of inspiration to us that you have been so genuinely interested in our school. We hope that now that we are passing out of school you will continue to give the same kind of encouragement to those who are coming after us, and we trust that we, with the examples that you have set for us of splendid citizenship, high courage, achievement, integrity, and progressiveness, maybe encouraged to follow on."

She then called upon the following to offer numbers, all of whom were vigorously applauded and encored. Duet, by Mildred Bryant and Claggett Hawkins, accompanied by Miss Martha Keller, of the Occoquan High faculty. Their specialty was Indian music, sung very sweetly and well modulated.

Next followed a reading by Miss June Foster, of Nokesville. It was somewhat brief but very humorous.

The Garman sisters of Nokesville High, Misses Kathleen and Genevieve, gave a duet which called for some musical imitations.

Haymarket contributed a violin solo by Gordon Pattie, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Bevard of the faculty.

Visitors for the evening included Miss Nancy W. Waters, Miss Joscelyn Gillum, Mr. John Gregory, Miss Martha Grymes, Miss Dorothy Bevard, Miss Mary P. Carter, Miss Dorothy E. Claggett H. Hawkins, Mr. Warren H. McInteer, Miss Martha L. Keller, Miss Charlotte Hawlett, Miss Dorothy Browne, Miss Mildred Bryant, Mr. C. O. Bittle, Miss Kathleen Garman, Miss Genevieve Garman, Miss June Foster, Mr. John W. Harpine, Jr., and Mr. Rolfe Ellison.

THE WORLD AROUND US

By

O. J. Schuster

INTOLERANCE AND PERSECUTION are not limited to Germany, Italy, Russia, Palestine, India, and other foreign countries. We have plenty of intolerance and persecution here in the United States. There are many ways of suppressing minorities. We still have our Ku-Klux-Klan, our Liberty League, our Mayor Hague, our political Bosses like Pendergast, and our industrial dictators like those in Harlan County, Kentucky. We are not yet wise enough to realize that the devoted seeker of truth is intolerant of nothing—he is, not even intolerant of the intolerance of others, for he is so absorbed in his search for facts that point the way toward truth that he has not time for hatreds, no time to stop and throw mud and stones at others. The example of one such genuine seeker after truth will do more to banish intolerance and persecution than will a thousand voices howling vengeance.

WE, AMERICANS ARE TODAY ASHAMED of the rabid intolerance we displayed during the World War when, in our frenzy, we mobbed, we tarred and feathered, horse-whipped, lynched. Thousands of perfectly innocent persons were cruelly persecuted, deprived of their rights under the Constitution and the laws of Congress. The press, with few exceptions, roused the rabble to furious intolerance; judges presiding over our highest courts often were equally intolerant; and ministers were quite generally as subject to hysterical intolerance as the man in the street. The Rev. Billy Sunday preached: "If I had my way with these ornery wild-eyed Socialists and I.W.W.'s I'd stand them up before a firing squad and save space in our ships." Men were persecuted and imprisoned for quoting the Declaration of Independence, drafted by Thomas Jefferson. Men were prosecuted for quoting the Bible—one of them for quoting from Isaiah: "Woe unto them that decree unrighteous decrees."

MEN AND WOMEN WERE SENTENCED to 20 years in prison for making such perfectly true statements as: "This World War is a business man's war and I don't see why I should go out and get shot to protect Morgan's millions and to help him and other Wall Street profiteers make more millions." In 1918 Jacob Abrams, a Jew, was given a sentence of 20 years for publishing two leaflets which, according to Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, he had "as much right to publish as the Government has to publish the Constitution of the United States." Those leaflets contained such statements as these:

"President Wilson has hypnotized the people of America to such an extent that they do not see his hypocrisy . . . You people of America were deceived by the wonderful speeches of the masked President Wilson . . . It is a crime for workers of America, workers of Germany, workers of Japan, etc., to fight the Workers' Republic of Russia."

One of the leaflets pointed out that Wilson secretly sent our troops into Russia to crush the Russian Revolution while, at the same time, he was uttering beautiful phrases about Russia.

WHEN THE WAR WAS OVER the truth began to make its way and the very men and women were persecuted became national heroes. Even President Wilson made public confession that those who said the war was "a business man's war" were right. Addressing a large audience in St. Louis on Sept. 5, 1919, he said:

"Why, my fellow citizens, is there any man here or any woman—let me say, is there any child here—who does not know that the seed of war in the modern world is industrial and commercial rivalry? This was a commercial and industrial war. It was not a political war."

WE NEED TO REMEMBER that "the seed of war in the modern world is industrial and commercial rivalry." Millions of young men of the warring nations shot, stabbed, and gassed each other to protect industrial and commercial interests. If the war-mongers can now bring on another war for "industrial and commercial" objectives, as they are trying to do, the result will be a pestilence of intolerance and persecution and mass murder far more devastating than was rampant in the World War.

THE WOMEN OF THE WORLD are today the most effective workers for peace, for world-wide cooperation. The mothers of America are shaming the war-mongers and making them look silly. These mothers, millions of them, are organized and their leaders are speaking and writing and leading toward international friendship and cooperation. The mothers of other nations are doing the same. There are now gathering women from all parts of the world for friendly conference in London. Some 250 American women are on their way to that meeting. This London Congress is an important event in the world around us.

CATHARPIN AND VICINITY

The "Homemakers of Prince William County" will hold their June meeting at Sudley Church on June 8th. A program will be given, and luncheon will be served at 12:30 by the women of Sudley Church, who will do their best to serve a delicious and satisfying repast.

The men also are welcome to attend, and we shall appreciate their presence and cooperation and feel sure that they will enjoy the program as well as the luncheon. No doubt a more detailed account will be given in this issue by our Home Demonstration Director, Miss Alice Webb.

Mrs. W. H. Dogan, our new president of the Parent-Teacher Association of Gainesville District, announces that a meeting will be held at the school building on June 9th at 8:00 p.m. This is an extremely important meeting and if you are interested in the improvement of our school conditions, and in keeping it up to the present standard, come to this meeting. Our F.F.A. boys have done excellent work this year—in their agricultural projects, their judging, their shop work, and their athletics. Without your cooperation this valued science may go out of our school. Please be present for discussions, and show your interest in the training of the boys of our district.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Collins, of Anandale, visited relatives at Sudley during the week-end and Mrs. Collins remained to attend the graduation exercises at Manassas where her daughter, Miss Betty, is finishing this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Layton Laws and little son, Layton, Jr., left last Friday for a visit to Mrs. Law's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Goode, of West Virginia.

Those from this community, who attended the baccalaureate services at Haymarket, were impressed with the beauty of the entire program of music as well as the excellent address made by the Rev. Roscoe Johnson, of Pace Memorial Methodist Church of Richmond. Rev. Mr. Johnson is the brother-in-law of Mrs. William E. Moore, wife of our principal at Haymarket High School.

Mrs. James S. H. Henderson and Mrs. Alberta Towers of "Dunrovin" were callers at the L. J. Pattie home Friday afternoon. They report that, at present, the condition of Mr. Morton Howell seems very much improved, but he is still taking treatment at the Naval hospital.

A number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Collins have been enjoying some very delightful quilting parties at their hospitable home.

Mrs. Charles H. Munday and little daughter, Barbara Lee, and Mr. Homer Kidwell, of Washington, spent friends in our community. They were accompanied back to Washington by Miss Harriet Pattie who will visit Mrs. Munday for several days.

SINGING STAR HAS MODERN ROLE IN LAVISH MUSICAL

Taking full advantage of the versatility of its star, "Broadway Serenade," starring Jeanette MacDonald, Thursday and Friday, June 8-9, for an engagement of two days. The new musical, which traces the struggles of a young singer and her husband in their fight for stardom, offers music lovers the full scope of Miss MacDonald's voice. The melodies include everything from grand opera to semi-classical and popular selections.

Frank Morgan once again lends his unique comedy to the role of a Broadway producer. Ian Hunter forms the necessary third point of the film's love triangle, and Al Shean, famous old vaudevillian, gives an interesting characterization as Herman, elderly concert cellist who befriends both Miss MacDonald and Ayres.

The story is woven about the lives of Ayres and Miss MacDonald, as husband and wife who combine to form a piano and song team performing at cheap nightclubs. Ayres' temper costs them their job. On returning home he discovers he has won a scholarship to study in Italy, but the funds are insufficient to provide passage for his wife. Determining to sell his prize song, the two visit the office of producer Cornelius Collier, played by Frank Morgan.

Miss MacDonald sings, but through an accident it is not her husband's song. She gets a job with the show and he remains behind. When she rises to stardom her name is coupled with that of the wealthy "angel" of the production. Ayres misunderstands and there is a divorce. All ends, however, on a harmonious note when Morgan purchases one of Ayres' musical shows in which to star Miss MacDonald.

VISITING ROYALTY

While George VI and Queen Elizabeth are the first ruling sovereigns of Great Britain ever to visit this country, three sons of British monarchs and numerous other titled folk from other countries have been guests here.

A story appearing in The Star next Sunday tells details about other royal visits, relating amusing incidents from the time of the first, the Duke of Clarence, son of George III of England, in 1781, down to the present time.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

Neither shall they learn war any more.—Isa. 2:4.

MEMORIAL DAY

At this season, when we are paying loving tribute to our honored Confederate Dead, the South is being flooded with propaganda calculated to convince the present generation that their fathers were not justified in armed resistance to the Federal Government and that we are so much better situated under one flag.

Students of Confederate History, however, know full well that the cause of the Confederacy was both legal and honorable, and historical events since the World War have convinced all disinterested students that the South merely fought for those basic principles of honor and self-government which the Democracies of the World now are striving to maintain against the unwarranted aggression of dictatorship.

Germany did not more ruthlessly disregard "the scrap of paper" which guaranteed the neutrality of Belgium, than did the United States Government in 1861 disregard our Constitution and its interpretation by the Supreme Court.

The Constitution was a sacred treaty, binding the various states into a union, and it was ratified by Virginia and other states with the distinct provision that they would withdraw from the contract whenever its operation worked to their disadvantage.

It was not vouchsafed that the Confederate Arms should win, but the principles for which Lee and Jackson fought so valiantly, were so fully vindicated that they stand as a perpetual inspiration not only for our own chastened Federal Government but for all of the Democracies of the World.

TO OUR GRADUATES

We extend heartiest congratulations to the young people who this week are graduating from the various schools of Prince William County, and we wish them continued success.

In these days of extreme specialization and of excessive competition, it is necessary to prepare well for life's work and in addition to the acquisition of particular skill, character and dependability under all circumstances are essential to success. Mere education, without personality and common honesty, will not insure one against unemployment and failure.

It is important, however, to learn how to do something essential, and to do it better than any other available competitor. To this fundamental should be added an alert ability to recognize real opportunity during the relatively brief interval that it is presented to every individual. These are the basic requirements for the attainment of success in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, and we commend them to the consideration of our young friends, as we wish them God-speed on life's journey.

SHOWER GIVEN MRS. GRAHAM

Misses Marion Lynn, Mary Currell Pattie and Walser Conner entertained Sunday afternoon at Miss Conner's home on North Main Street at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Maurice Graham, formerly Miss Irma Ball. The guests, about fifty of Mrs. Graham's friends, assembled on the lawn around a well house which was transformed into a "wishing well" from which Mrs. Graham drew up many buckets of gifts, which were opened and passed around for their admiration.

Later the gathering was invited into the dining room where Mrs. Graham cut and served a large wedding cake. The table was beautifully decorated with a centerpiece of laurel over which hung an improvised chandelier of silver and white bells. Miss Lynn presided at the punch bowl and the guests helped themselves to small cakes of different kinds, nuts and mints which were attractively arranged on the table.

The large number of beautiful and useful gifts which Mrs. Graham received were fitting expressions of the well wishes of her many friends.

YOUNG DEMOCRATIC MEETING

The June meeting of the Young Democrats will be held at the Court House in Manassas, Tuesday evening, June 6, at 8:00 p.m.

As this meeting marks the end of the county membership drive, Mr. C. C. Cloe has been asked to award the prizes given for this contest. At the present time it looks as though Prince William will be one of the leaders in the State for second consecutive year, but all former members who have not joined as yet are urged to join as soon as possible.

The Eighth District dance, which was held at Haymarket on May 26, was most successful, both socially and financially, and Prince William hopes to be able to keep her fine record this year, so that we may be so honored again; as the large activities of the District usually take place in one of the city communities.

Methodist Church, Richmond, in October, 1875. An interesting sidelight to that Convention is given in the following paragraphs, which appeared in "The Little Christian," published at Suffolk, Virginia, October 15, 1875:

"Among the many things that impressed us was the fact that ever-increasing attention is bestowed upon the children. Never before in the history of the State have so many children been collected within the walls of the sanctuary to be taught of Jesus. Never before has such a profound and intense affection for the young filled the hearts of God's people. It is a hopeful sign."

"Another delightful thing we saw was the fraternal love which Christians of different denominations manifested toward each other. One night we saw a Methodist and a Disciple singing from the same book, while beside them similarly engaged were an Episcopalian and a Baptist. A Presbyterian, a Christian, and a Lutheran hard by were swelling the chorus of praise. Sankey's 'Hold the Fort' was sung, with the aid of an organ manipulated by an Episcopal rector! These are good signs. When all God's people cooperate thus Satan's throne must crumble and fall."

The Journal notes with pride the name of a local young man, Warren N. Hynson, among the graduates from Washington and Lee Night School. His diploma was presented him at a banquet held last night.

Among the speakers who will participate in the 1939 convention are the following: Dr. Charles Darsie, Greensboro, N. C.; Dr. Hornell Hart, Durham, N. C.; Dr. John B. Ketcham, Chicago, Ill.; Inspector W. H. Drane, Lester, Washington, D. C.; Miss Florence Martin, Dayton, Ohio; Dr. Robert W. Searle, New York City.

All Sunday Schools and all other character building agencies are requested to elect delegates and to send in advance to the Virginia Council of Religious Education, Inc., Bridge-water, Virginia.

JR. ORDER CLOSING SESSIONS

The meeting of the Grand Council of the Order Fraternal Americans, Inc., just closed in Richmond, approved a resolution "strongly protesting the 25-cent fee placed by the Department of Interior on automobiles entering Shenandoah National Park, at the concluding session of its thirtieth annual meeting. There were ten resolutions approved for the administration of the Grand Council, one of which provided for the establishment of an "Arm and Hammer Club" as a social activity of subordinate Councils.

The Order Fraternal Americans is incorporated by the State of Virginia, and is composed of Virginians, its purposes being to maintain and promote the interests of Americans and shield them from the depressing effects of unrestricted immigration; to assist them in obtaining employment and encourage them in business; to uphold the American free public school system; to prevent interference therewith and to encourage the reading of the Holy Bible in the schools. It furnishes without charge Bibles and Flags to any school desiring them, and a large portion of its revenue is used to maintain two orphan homes. The organization is actively engaged in combating the effects of the foreign "ism," communism, Nazism, etc., now so prominently before the American people. It maintains the belief that is now considered "old-fashioned" by some citizens, that the American form of government is the best in the world and must be maintained under its present constitution. The Order has a large membership in this State, distributed among 57 local Councils.

At the meeting in Richmond the following were elected State officers for the next Grand Council year:

S. E. Forwood of Norfolk, president; N. C. Lutz of Woodstock, vice-president; Charles E. Babcock of Vienna, secretary; Col. J. H. Trimmer of Alexandria, treasurer; P. A. Norris, of Norfolk, marshal; P. B. Goochmer of Hamilton, warden; T. P. Scarborough of St. Charles, inner guard; C. H. Franklin, of Norfolk, outer guard; Rev. H. D. Traylor, of Richmond, chaplain; R. I. Jeffries, of Shackleford, W. J. Deans, of Portsmouth, and E. E. Eldridge, of Falls Church, finance committee; J. A. Rawls, of Norfolk, and E. L. Alger, of Millwood, national representatives.

The following were named on committees:

Credentialed committee, P. L. Pierce, of Norfolk; T. B. McLain, of Richmond, and L. E. Lookbill of Roanoke. Law committee, R. D. Wharton, of Manassas, G. W. Maben, of Burke, and R. A. Hollar, of Harrisonburg.

FAVOR
FORD

1 The 1939 Ford V-8 is a beautiful, modern motor car. Its 85-horsepower engine gives you economical, well-balanced performance over the entire speed range—and the 60-horsepower engine is even more economical.

2 The structural strength of the Ford car—frame, bracing, axles, body—makes not only for safety, but durability and long life.

3 Ford hydraulic brakes are exceptionally large and strong in proportion to car weight.

4 The Ford car is stabilized for comfortable riding. Its springbase, the distance between front and rear suspension, is 123 inches. Seats are toward the center, perfectly balanced. The car does not bob or dip and can have very little sway.

These four points—power, strength, safety, comfort—are by far the most important essentials in any motor car. They form the basic value of your investment.

With this solid foundation to build on, the Ford V-8 has been made beautiful, spacious, easy to drive. It is richly upholstered and has all the modern features which add to the luxury and pleasure of motoring.

You can see these things when you take a trial drive, but do not forget that the main value is in the things you do not readily see—quality of materials, precision of manufacture, fundamental engineering.

OCCOQUAN AND VICINITY

TO THE VOTERS OF THE TOWN OF OCCOQUAN. A rumour is being circulated that some of your town officials have stated that if re-elected they will not serve. That is FALSE. They have stated that they will not feel disappointed if not re-elected; but if the voters have confidence enough in them to re-elect them they will serve. Be guided by your belief in who you conscientiously believe will best serve your TOWN, and vote for that person.

Mr. Herman F. Jennings, Occoquan's genial druggist, spent the week-end visiting relatives and friends in Purcellville, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Wicker, of Occoquan, have gone on a trip to North Carolina to visit their parents.

Mrs. Ambrose Petellat, of Occoquan, is in Alexandria hospital for a minor fracture of the shoulder which she got from being in an automobile accident on No. 1, highway. We are all glad her accident was not more serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lambert and children, of Woodbridge, have returned to their home after spending several days with Mr. Lambert's aunts in Washington, D. C.

Miss Blanche Allen, of Woodbridge, spent several days in Richmond last week. Miss Allen plans to enter Memorial hospital in Richmond in the fall, for training as a nurse.

Mr. B. W. Brunt and Mr. Austin Barbee and Capt. Thos F. Joyce, all of Occoquan, and Mr. French Fleming and Mr. Kenneth Dove, of Lorton, attended the meeting of the Clearing House Association in Warrenton, Va., last week, and report having a most enjoyable time.

Mr. John A. Musselman and Capt. T. F. Joyce, of Occoquan, attended the meeting of the League of Virginia Municipalities in Alexandria, Va., last week, and were enthusiastic in their report of all the subjects discussed of interest to the operation of small towns, etc.

Mrs. C. Lee Starkweather, of Occoquan, was a caller at the home of Dr. F. W. Brooks, and Mr. and Mrs. Kidwell in Fairfax on Friday.

Mrs. C. Lee Starkweather and Mrs. T. F. Joyce, of Occoquan, called on Miss Etta Davis and Mrs. Cauldwell in Snug Harbor, Featherstons on Saturday.

Capt. T. J. Joyce, of Occoquan, accompanied by Mr. G. C. Russell attended a meeting of the Milk Investigating Committee in Washington, on Tuesday evening, May 23rd. Capt. Joyce testified as the exorbitant price we have to pay for milk here in the Sticks in Virginia. The same as being paid in Washington, D. C. Washington, D. C., has members of the Congress to fight for them to get a reduction in the cost of milk, but here in the Sticks we are somebody's step-children with no one to fight for a reduction in the cost of milk to us. Let us all protest to our Congressman and to our Governor, and something may be done for us. Write Governor Price and Congressman Smith, and tell them in strong language they should protect our interests.

Miss Thelma Crump, of Washington, D. C., spent several days this week visiting Capt. and Mrs. T. F. Joyce in Occoquan.

REGIONAL HIGH COMMENCEMENT

Hon. F. P. Miller, of Fairfax County, Is Graduation Speaker

The three-day commencement period at the Northern Virginia Regional High School closed with the graduation exercises on Tuesday afternoon.

On Sunday a splendid musical program was rendered during the baccalaureate service. Rev. E. C. Smith, pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist Church, of Washington, preached the sermon.

On Monday night, the annual declamation contest was held, with seven entrants. It was a very close competition, especially for second place. A secret ballot from the judges gave two of the three votes to Dora E. Johnson, of Fairfax county and one vote for Martha Eskrydge, of Prince William County.

A musical program was rendered with a piano solo by Virginia Taylor, a vocal solo by Warren Roy, a piano solo by Charlotte Butler and a trio by Marjorie Finger, Frenchy Grant and Cora Belle Campbell.

The graduation was held on the campus of the school with Professor Barnes officiating. Hundreds of parents and friends were present.

The Glee Club, aided by a public address system, gave a series of beautiful numbers during the afternoon. The graduates marched in and left to the strains of conventional music.

The invocation was given by Rev. Frank White, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Manassas.

After a talk full of tender memories by Trustee J. D. Williams, a generous collection was taken up, this time to go especially toward the erection of the boys' building.

Professor Wilbert Woodson, superintendent of schools of Fairfax County, with a few well chosen words concerning the immediate prospects of the school, introduced the speaker of the occasion, Hon. Francis P. Miller, delegate in the legislature for Fairfax county.

Mr. Miller gave a sound talk, not flowery but extremely practical and rather hopeful in its tenor. He discussed world conditions and compared them with domestic affairs. The youthful graduates were told in plain language that "work" is the hope of the future of democracy, especially work done in a voluntary manner. He decried inactivity as engendering an undemocratic government.

Mr. Miller's language was phrased so that all might understand and certainly gave the graduates something to remember in the years to come.

Diplomas were awarded by Mr. Haydon to the following: Home economics, Ruth Ellen Bell, Hollie Cornelia Hall, Theresa Mae Wells, Clara Belle Alexander, Dora Elsie Payne, Rose Mae Williams, Margaret Washington Davis; Agriculture: Willard Roy Brown, Allison Lee Howard, Thomas Chapman Gibson, Davie O'Neil Tucker; Academic, Carrell Carter, Russell Meade Fincham, Annie Laurie Russell, Clara Flynn Thornton, Herman Eskrydge, Minnie Christine Peters, Thelma Gertrude Smith, James T. Williams.

The honor student award was a two-scholar award, Russell Meade Fincham and Theresa Mae Wells dividing equally both the honor student and the general scholarship prizes. In the student council award, Russell ran just ahead of Theresa and was the winner of the prize.

The following students won prizes for outstanding achievement in the several departments: Home economics, Cora Gaskins; Agriculture, Warren Roy; Carpentry, James Payne; Masonry, George Alexander; Printing, Garland Hicks; Music, Davie Tucker.

The Katherine Barrett Poyer prize for greatest improvement in cooking went to Ella Mae Haney, and the same donor prize for greatest improvement in carpentry went to Mark E. Thomas.

In closing, Professor Barnes made a neat talk in which he thanked everyone for the great interest shown in the exercises and announced that school would reopen on September 7.

"HOUND OF THE BASKERVILLE" ON SCREEN WITH GREAT CAST

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Hound of the Baskerville," one of literature's most shocking, spine-chilling mystery stories and the greatest of all of Sherlock Holmes' astounding adventures, has at last been transcribed to the screen.

Tall, spare, hawklike Basil Rathbone, in the perfect-fitting role of the great detective, is co-featured with Richard Greene and Wendy Barrie in the 20th Century-Fox production which will be presented at Pitts Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, June 5-6.

In this great story the master of a thousand mysteries pits his cunning against the giant unearthly beast that roams the fog-shrouded English moor with blazing eyes and bared fangs, terrorizing the countryside, striking horror into the hearts of two young lovers and leaving a trail so terrifying that only Sherlock Holmes dare follow.

Nigel Bruce plays the famous Dr. Watson, the great detective's constant companion, Boswell and amazed observer. Also included in the cast

Any Paint is Cheaper than NO Paint - - but DAVIS OF BALTIMORE 100% PURE PAINT gives you more for your dollar.

Neglecting a paint job is the costliest extravagance—for depreciation costs more than the most expensive paint! But when you do paint, you naturally want to get all you can for your money. The cost per gallon isn't important—here's what counts:

1. How much coverage you get per gallon.
2. How much "hiding power" the paint has.
3. How long the job holds up.

Come in and we'll show you how you can actually save money by using DAVIS 100% PURE PAINT—the finest paint on the market!

DAVIS OF BALTIMORE TRIM COLORS

Brilliant Greens, Blues and Red to meet the modern trend in house paint styling. Retain their lustre and resist fading for years. The first "per gallon" cost of these colors is naturally higher than house paint but only small quantities are required for the average house "trim" and the extra beauty and years of durability make them well worth while.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Only Cause and Creator" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 4. The Golden Text will be "The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is established, that it cannot be moved" (Psalms 93:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. In his hand are the deep places of the earth: the strength of the hills is his also. The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land" (Psalms 95:3-5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in 'the infinite Mind and forever reflected. These ideas range from the infinitesimal to infinity, and the highest ideas are the sons and daughters of God' (p. 502).

MRS. JOHANNA SPENCER

Mrs. Johanna Spencer, aged 55, who has been residing on the Henry Farm, died there yesterday morning.

Mrs. Viola D. Proffitt and Miss Nancy Lynn attended the 41st annual convention of the Virginia Association of Insurance Agents at the Hotel John Marshall in Richmond on May 26 and 27.

ROBERT JOSEPH BROWN

Robert Joseph Brown, aged seventy, died Thursday morning of last week in the Alexandria hospital where he was taken on Monday night following an accident which appears to have been a case of hit and run by an unknown driver coming into town.

The deceased was born in Orange County, Va., May 8, 1869, a son of Thomas Brown, of Madison County. For many years he was employed by the Southern Railway, retiring recently. He came to live in Prince William about 1935. He was married twice.

Surviving him are his widow, Mollie L. Brown, and the following children: 3 sons, Judson P., Curtis and Wilbur, all of Manassas; daughters: Doris and Dorothy, twins, living at home and one grandchild.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

BY

THE REAL THING

The Bible contains no formal definition of religion. St. James, who looks at everything on the practical side, says that religion consists of two things, keeping our own souls clean and rendering loving service to our fellow men. (James 1:27). When anyone asks you if you are a Christian, you should be able to refer him to your neighbors for an answer.

There are many false tests which have been set up, and we should be on our guard against them all. Our most common mistake is in our confusing Christianity with creeds, and setting up intellectual orthodoxy as the test of discipleship. The fallacy of adopting such a standard is readily seen. Who is to decide what is orthodox? In the United States there are two hundred sects that call themselves Christian. If any one of these is wholly right the other 199 are wrong. Someone has well said that "orthodoxy is my-dox-y," and we have no right to hold up our personal opinions as the standard and to condemn all who insist on disagreeing with us. This is the acme of bigotry.

Jesus never set up any doctrinal tests of discipleship. He asked for people's hearts and not for their heads. Faith into believing things about Jesus, but it is believing Jesus and surrendering ourselves to Him as the Master of our lives.

An equally prevalent mistake is confusing religion with church membership. It has seen some various examples of religion among church members, and some fine examples of real discipleship among those who never joined any church organization. It is well to be honest about this, though it may be humiliating to have to admit that our church rolls do not always coincide with the list of names written in "the Lamb's book of life." One might join all the churches in Christendom and still remain a Pagan.

The true test of christian discipleship has been made very clear in the New Testament. Our Lord Jesus put it plainly when He said, "Not every one that saith unto Me, Lord, Lord shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth the will of My Father which is in heaven." St. Paul gets down to the heart of the matter when he says, "If any man have not the spirit of Christ he is none of His." We need no better definition of a Christian than this. He is one who possesses the spirit of Christ.

We find foregleams of the New Testament idea of pure religion in the Old Testament, notably in the words of Micah, "What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

When we set out to look for true followers of God we will do well to forget our narrow doctrinal differences, our ecclesiastical affiliations, and our zeal for certain forms of worship, and to work those whose purity of soul and loveliness of spirit testifies to their intimacy with Him who is "altogether lovely and the chief among ten thousand," with Him of Whom it is written that "He became flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth."

The great need of the hour is for more people who in their own conduct "adorn the doctrine of God our Savior." No one can gainsay the argument of a saintly life. Henri Frederic Amiel says, "The religion of a child depends on what its father and mother are, and not on what they say."

So let our lips and lives express The holy gospel we profess; Somewhat our works and virtues shine To prove the gospel so divine; Thus shall we best proclaim abroad The honor of our Savior God, While His salvation reigns within, And grace subdues the power of sin.

CATLETT

Mrs. Laura Catlett Burgess was buried at the old Catlett estate at Catlett, Va., Wednesday evening, May 24, 1939. She died in Washington, D. C., where she lived for several years. Her health was poor and on the above date she quietly passed away.

At one time she owned a large estate running from the Catlett depot back to where the Presbyterian Church now stands. This estate was later divided up into lots and sold. She leaves to mourn her loss her and many friends and relatives. Services were conducted by Rev.

She was about the last of the old Catlett family living here and from which the town of Catlett was named.

Rev. Mark delivered the sermon at the funeral service, and made a very touching tribute to her life as a citizen; stating that her character was beyond reproach and that no one living had ever been able to speak a word against her life.

The last part of her life was extremely sad, and the frail little woman bore bravely the loss of fortune and health at last crushed under the load of worldly care closed her eyes and fell asleep.

Mr. Bud Beane was severely injured recently by one of his cows, while attempting to separate two of them which were fighting. He was gored very badly and was carried to the hospital at Warrenton. We are glad to say he is fast covering.

Mr. James Marsh, young son of Rev. Marsh of Catlett, was struck by a car, Thursday night, and badly injured. He was carried to the Warrenton hospital where he was found to be very badly injured. Last reports were he was doing well as could be expected.

The Catlett friends of Mr. Jack Stauff are sorry to learn of his illness and wish for him a speedy recovery.

The regular preaching services are being held at the Presbyterian church each Sunday night at 7:30 p.m.

Owing to the poor health of the pastor, Rev. Geo. W. Orabtree, the pulpit is being supplied by different ministers. Rev. E. A. Smyth, of Warrenton, will preach every second Sunday night.

Rev. J. Royal Cook, of Greenwich, and Rev. Jack Stewart, of Bealeton, also will preach on other dates.

Mrs. W. J. Ashby, who has been quite sick the past month, is able to be out again.

Mrs. C. B. Yeatman is visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Chas. Allen and Miss Betty Wigglesworth, of Washington, D. C., are visiting friends and relatives here this week.

Mr. Ben May and family, of Maryland, visited friends and relatives here Sunday.

Miss Lois Crabtree visited Miss Ellen Lauck in Washington, D. C., the past week.

We are sorry to learn of the illness of Mr. W. T. Cowne, who is very ill in the Charlottesville hospital.
