CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

And therefore will the Lord wait, that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you; for the Lord is a God of Judgment: blessed are all they that wait for him.—Isa. 30:18.

HON. CLAUDE A. SWANSON

With deepest sorrow we record the passing of our good friend, Claude A. Swanson. In commenting on this truly great man, the Fauquier Democrat says: "The passing of Secretary Swanson removed the last of the triumvirate that during the entire period of the public life of Senator Martin dominated the politics of the state. Senator Martin, a genius in organizing, was the directing head of the group that had its ramifications in every precinct in the state. Martin, Swanson, Flood, Speaker Byrd, James—they are all gone now, and with them a colorful period in the political annals of the state. Younger men stand in their places, carrying on in the Virginia tradition. Swanson, the orator, the lovable character, loyal to his friends, magnanimous to his political adversaries, the Henry Clay of Virginia politics, was the last. Virginians will not soon forget his service to his state and his country."

The secret of Swanson's magnetic personality lay in his breadth of vision, his keen humor, his sincere generosity and his undying loyalty to the South. Every Virginian has lost a personal friend.

THANK YOU, JUDGE SMITH

Patriotic citizens throughout the country, and particularly in the South should be deeply grateful to Hon. Howard W. Smith for the determined and effective stand he is maintaining in this session of Congress to protect American institutions from continuous assault by foreign agitators; and his firm stand to safeguard the South from the Northern attack which is being directed against us through unfair regulatory measures by the Northern controlled Federal Government.

All of the vital industries of the South was being subjected to this unfair method of checking our growth, enterprise and the migration of Northern industries into our better environment.

In Virginia this dastardly attack takes the form of suppression of our dairy industry by introducing Northern and Western low grade competition into the milk market of Washington. Judge Smith is fighting effectively to protect the vital dairy industry of Northern Virginia and his deep concern for the economic welfare of the Eighth Congressional District and the high position which he occupies on powerful committees, has made it possible for him to earn and deserve the gratitude of every dairy farmer in Virginia by the successful manner in which he has used his fine abilities and unquestioned power to protect this important industry.

And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and thought I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.—I Cor. 13:3.

MY DREAM

There's a dream in the firelight tonight,
It keeps leaping before me so near,
And even in the ashes it glows
I wonder why it has to appeal.

It's a beautiful dream, Oh, too fair,
But it haunts me and hurts me tonight,
Though I long for it with my whole heart,
All I can claim of it is just sight.

Then I close my eyes for a moment,
And hope that I may forget the dream,
But I open my eyes once again
Only to see its vague, haunting gleam.

In my heart is a struggle tonight,
I am trying to forget it all,
But it is so hard to cast it aside
When in my ears is its haunting call.

So I'll pray for guidance in this dream
For the Prince of Peace understands right,
He'll show me how to answer the dream
And give no peace in my heart tonight.

—H. G. Inscoc.

CHARITY

The deeds of charity we have done shall stay with us forever.—Only the wealth we have so bestowed do we keep; the other is not ours.—Middleton.

How often it is difficult to be wisely charitable—to do good without multiplying the sources of evil. To give alms is nothing unless you give thought also. It is written, not 'blessed is he that feedeth the poor,' but, 'blessed is he that considereth the poor.' A little thought and a little kindness are often worth more than a great deal of money.—Ruskin.

Charity has the courage of conviction; it may suffer long, but has neither the cowardice nor the foolishness to cover iniquity. Charity is Love; and Love opens the eyes of the blind, rebukes error, and casts it out. Charity never flees before error, lest it should suffer from an encounter.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The charities that soothe, and heal and bless, lie scattered at the feet of men like flowers.—Wordsworth.

Let him who neglects to raise the fallen, fear lest, when he falls, no one will stretch out his hand to lift him up.—Saadi.

TEN years ago the first transcontinental "air-and-rail" flight was inaugurated by the old Transcontinental Air Transport line, starting from east to west on July 8, 1929. This summer the crack T.W.A. "Sky Chief" celebrated the tenth anniversary of that flight, which required 48 hours by airplane and railroad, by flying on regular schedule from coast to coast in 15 hours. Upper left shows Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, just before he took off on the first flight from Grand Central Airport at Glendale, Calif., near Los Angeles, with Mrs. Lindbergh (left) and Mary Pickford, who flagged the plane off the runway. At the upper right is the "City of Columbus" which made the inaugural flight from east to west. The map shows the two routes—ten years ago and today—and below is the modern "Sky Chief," winging through the clouds from New York to the Pacific Coast.

SHRINE CLUB HAS ENJOYABLE EVENING

Nearly four hundred members of the Alexandria Shrine Club, their wives, and notable guests from many places gathered in the large gymnasium of the Herndon High School on Tuesday evening where they are annually greeted by their host, Dr. William Meyer, representative of the Club in Herndon.

The ladies committee, with Miss Edith Rogers, general chairman, had prepared and served a most appetizing repast in the most generous proportions. Sigmund Meyer, of Rocky Mount, N. C., brother of the host, was master of ceremonies. He started the ball to rolling with the singing of America, followed by invocation by Col. John H. Trimyer, of Alexandria. Sigmund lasted the whole evening, even at the floor show. He was quite a show by himself and kept everyone in good humor at all times.

Time permitted introduction of only a few of the leaders in Acca Temple (Richmond) and Almas (Washington). From Acca, Chief Potentate Mosmiller and Mrs. Mosmiller, Chief Rabban Charles Pinnell and Mrs. Pinnell; assistant Rabban Pemie L. Arnold and Mrs. Arnold, High Priest Ollie Hope; Prophet Lillard J. Miller and Mrs. Miller; treasurer, Charles A. Overton; recorder, Wythe D. Anderson; first ceremonial master, Claude M. Woodward; 2nd assistant ceremonial master, Mark V. Pence and marshal, L. T. Christian and Mrs. Christian. From Almas Temple there were present Chief Potentate Stanley D. Willis and Recorder, Lawrence Walker.

There were delegations of various sizes from West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, North Carolina as well as Virginia and the District of Columbia. The Oriental Band of Almas Temple, Washington, was out in full force, led by Noble Jack Jenkins (and was he a riot!).

Officers of the club are: president, S. Tipton Dove; 1st vice-president, Harry H. Newton; 2nd vice-president, Clarence Sutton; 3rd vice-president, Riley Nixon; secretary, Sam Wade; treasurer, Claude Fletcher; chaplain, J. H. Trimyer; assistant chaplain, Harold W. Davis.

Among other announcements made by Chief Potentate Mosmiller was a greeting from Governor James H. Price, just recently resigned as scribe of the temple after many years of service.

Prizes were drawn by a number of fortunate guests including an automobile, delivered right across the counter. It was red streamlined and weighed all of two pounds. Bill McShea, of the Arlington County Board, got something nice but nobody saw what it was.

The floor show was made really beautiful by two performances by Misses Anne and Jean Ames, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ames, of Arlington county. Miss Anne gave a reading (humorous) and later danced an interpretive solo, while Miss Jean played and sang the accompaniment.

Mr. Harsch, of the 5th Engineer Corps, gave several selections on the xylophone. The numbers were classical and medleys. Needless to say they were well rendered and much enjoyed.

The baby bottle contest was won by Noble Jenkins, who developed real system, even if it broke down momentarily.

The Gardner orchestra, of Dranesville, wound up the floor show with some old time music. They also played for the square dance which was an integral part of the program.

It was a swell show, put on as good as any and the cool temperatures added much to the general satisfaction registered by all.

VIRGINIA TREES

By William Harrison Lamb
Manassas, Virginia

Volume I of this valuable publication explains just how our native trees are associated in the forest and how they should be handled to the best advantage.

Detailed descriptions and illustrations of each species are carried in this volume through the commercially important group known as the conifers and a complete checklist of all Virginia hardwood species is included.

Students, boy-scouts, farmers, timber-land owners, and nature-lovers generally will derive as much pleasure and profit from this book as will the professional forester.

Orders are now being accepted for immediate delivery.
