CHURCH GROUP AT WARRENTON

"Christ Preeminent" Was Convention Theme

The Eighty-fourth session of the Potomac Baptist Association met in Warrenton, Fauquier County, on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. They assembled in the Warrenton Baptist Church having a large assembly both days and for the night session as well.

The general theme throughout the meeting was Christ Preeminent. Christ Preeminent in the church, in atonement, in suffering, in all our living. The program on Wednesday morning included the devotion conducted by Rev. E. H. Puryear, a report by Rev. H. A. Sodergren, Mrs. J. M. Rideout, a talk by Dr. R. E. Alley of Richmond. It carried also a splendid address by Rev. C. W. McElroy during which time he gave a very interesting report from the Baptist World Alliance which met in Atlanta, Ga. A very interesting program was put on by a number of children from the Baptist Orphanage of great ability, and careful training, thus reminding us of the good work, and necessity of our Orphanage. Mr. T. F. Reece spoke in behalf of the Baptist hospital at Lynchburg, Va.

Wednesday evening a program was put on for the young people by the Baptist Training Union. This program included good addresses and special music. Rev. C. H. McNeil of Remington and his choir of young people made a wonderful impression with their ability to sing.

Thursday was also a day of splendid devotions conducted by Rev. Puryear, and address by Rev. Ryland Dodge of Alexandria, on Sunday School Work, a report on Southside work by Dr. J. W. Beagle.

An address on Temperance and Social Service was made by Dr. J. T. Edwards of the Culpeper Baptist Church. Dr. Edwards stated that Virginia spends about nine million dollars a year upon schools, colleges, and for public health and welfare, while at the same time she spends three times as much, or about twenty-eight million dollars in intoxicating drinks. He mentioned that we, as Israel, were headed for a promised land at one time, a land of SOBERITY. Why did we not enter the promised land? We all know why. Because this has become a day of the bar, and bar-maids. Thus dragging the youth of the land to lower ideals. However, he said, there is always a wilderness to pass through. Every life has its wilderness, and often the desert mud makes our feet heavy, but under the Cross, and in His name we must endeavor to rise to higher plains. Dr. Edwards quoted a six-year-old boy as saying, "I do not think that man would drink if he would only stop to think."

Then came a splendid address by Rev. Perry L. Mitchell of Clarendon, on this topic, "Christ Preeminent in Evangelism." Rev. Mitchell made it clear that Christ must be Preeminent in all evangelistic ideals, in the Church and in the lives of His followers. The trouble with many churches of today is that its members are putting the church on to lower a level, dragging it down upon the same level in which they live, when the church should be superior to all other institutions, and organizations of this world. The church should be supreme. We should have the greatest respect for the church. Rev. Mitchell said if my brother were murdered, and I should treasure the knife that struck him down—WHAT WOULD YOU THINK OF ME? Then he said, "Christ died upon the Cross BECAUSE OF SIN—yet we go on in sin, and many times in sympathy with sinful living. What then—must Christ think of us?"

Rev. O. P. Lloyd was elected as Moderator of the Association, and R. A. Hutchinson as Vice-moderator. Every one apparently enjoyed this session of the Association. Delegates staying over night were entertained by the members of the Warrenton Baptist Church. The Potomac Association is comprised of a number of 64 churches.

A JOKE FOR THE COMMANDING GENERAL

Observing so many "Keep Out—J. K. Parsons" signs around Prince William County last week, a visitor remarked "This man Parsons seems to own a lot of real estate business round here!"

RADIO ARTIST ENTERTAINS CLUB

New Yorker Visited Kiwanians Last Friday

While the rain was pelting down on Friday evening, the Kiwanis club was hospitably entertained in the basement of Grace Methodist church, where the ladies of the congregation served a splendid chicken dinner.

The thrill of the evening was the dapper appearance of Ray Ratcliffe, who had been indisposed for the past month.

Following the repast, Father Jim Widmer introduced his brother, Michael, of New York City. "Mike" had made a rush trip down just to be with the club for the evening returning to New York immediately after the club adjourned. A radio concert singer, banjo artist, and performer for the phonograph companies of the Big Town, Mike had been on the Newark station that afternoon, grabbing his favorite banjo and jumping a fast train for Washington later.

He gave a number of songs and impersonations, both in dialect (German) and just plain English. He greatly delighted the club by playing a number of their favorite songs in which they all joined quite heartily.

Tomorrow evening the club meets back at its old quarters in the Hotel after being away for the past two weeks. The August program committee has battled fine so far but no program is announced as yet for tomorrow evening.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. J. Hottle. The meeting was opened by the president and Mrs. Walter Sadd read from the 130th chapter of Psalms. Nine answered to roll call.

ONLY ONE MILITARY ARREST

Out of the 74 criminal cases which have come before Judge Compton during the month of August, only one offender was connected with the recent military maneuvers. He was a regular Army man, charged with driving under influence of liquor, and he claimed that his new Army shoes made him stagger.

HOOVER—MONROE

Belle Haven Baptist church was the scene of a quiet wedding on Saturday, August 19th, at 4:00 p.m., when Miss Catherine Elizabeth Monroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Monroe became the bride of Mr. Orville Hoover of Independent Hill.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Murray Taylor, pastor of the church, in the presence of the immediate families. Mrs. Ben Hoover attended the bride while Mr. John Monroe acted as best man.

Following the ceremony, the young couple left for a trip through southern and southwestern Virginia after which time they will return and make their home in Alexandria, Virginia.

17 August 1939 Mayor Harry P. Davis, Manassas, Virginia

Dear sir:

As the troops are about to leave your community, I wish to convey to you, the officials and the other residents of Manassas and vicinity, my appreciation of the courteous cooperation which has been extended to the Army.

It is impossible for such a large body of troops to enter an area without materially disrupting the everyday routine of its citizens; but, we have endeavored to make this condition as unobjectionable as possible.

It has been a distinct pleasure to have been here with you and I trust that this maneuver is the beginning of continued association between Manassas and the Army.

Very sincerely yours,
J. K. PARSONS,
Major General, U. S. Army,
Commanding.

FORMER RESIDENT OF PRINCE WILLIAM PASSES AWAY

News has just been received of the passing of Mrs. William Layton, nee Dora Bartholomew, who moved with her parents from Buffalo, N.Y., to Gainesville in 1884 and owned and resided on the property now owned by Mrs. Kessler formerly Mrs. Thos. Meredith. She was twice married, her first husband being Charlie Sineindivier.

Most of the older people around Gainesville and Haymarket will recall Dora Bartholomew, who was quite a good singer and performer on the piano and organ. Many and singing festivals and occasions were enjoyed in those days and quite a number of people in that territory would meet at Gainesville Church and entertain a packed house with good old hymns and popular music. Her older brother, Vernon Bartholomew, married Mary Galleher of Gainesville who later died and he married her sister, Ada Galleher, who is still living in N. J.

The Bartholomews moved from Gainesville to Princess Ann County about 1891 where Louise R. Bartholomew, the youngest of the family now resides. Dora Bartholomew, was stricken suddenly and died August 11 in Newark, N. J. The passing of her, I am sure, will bring back recollections of pleasant days around the old Church of Gainesville and also friends here will be saddened to know of her passing.

By A Friend.

COMMUNITY CHEST FOR OUR COUNTY

Funds May Be Secured For Local Needs

(Contributed)

Practically all counties in the state and some cities are now making preparations for the Community Chest Drive. Why doesn't Prince William have a Community Chest? Is it because the members of our Welfare Board are not interested or what is the reason? We have a large number in Government Employment who give yearly to a community chest; and because we have no such organization in this county, it all goes to the District of Columbia Community Chest. If we had a Community Chest Organization in Prince William County we would get one half of this for our chest. It would amount to about FIVE or SIX Hundred Dollars a year, which would be great assistance in caring for those in need in our county. Fairfax County has a Community Chest; Arlington County has a Community Chest; Alexandria has a Community Chest. It appears that Prince William folks must be asleep at the Switch in not organizing and getting our share of this money. Wake up Prince William folks and get in step with adjacent counties. All it takes is a little effort, and it costs nothing.

MRS. DAVIS ENTERTAINS GARDEN CLUB AT LAKE JACKSON

Eleven members and two guests of the Manassas Garden Club enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Harry Davis last Tuesday afternoon at their regular meeting held at the lovely summer home of the Davis' on Lake Jackson.

In the absence of Mrs. Didlake the meeting was presided over by Mrs. E. H. Marsteller. After routine business the program brought out the importance of poetry to gardeners and members read choice bits of Garden Poetry, most of them from the pens of Virginia Women.

Mrs. Marsteller urged the members to attend the September meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. V. V. Gillum, when our vice-president, Mrs. Wm. Carpenter Jones, of Richmond, and other guests will be present.

ENJOY CAMPING AT JAMESTOWN

4-H Boys and Girls Live Indian Life

Four boys with their leader, Eddie Russell, and six girls with Miss Webb, our home demonstration agent left Monday, August 12, for Jamestown 4-H camp. The boys were Roy Smith from Nokesville, Franklin Miller of Hayfield, Jimmy Gorman of Occoquan and Johnnie Russell of Occoquan. The girls were Brenda Reid of Bethel, Maxine Weber of Hayfield, Joyce Leach and Helen House of Greenwich and Lucy and Edith Johnson of Manassas.

There were about one hundred and twenty campers from many counties there. The camp was divided into four Indian tribes, the Powhatan, Apache, Mattaponi and Cherokee, to carry on the activities of the camp. For many of these activities the best tribe received a notch and the tribe with the most notches won. Joyce Leach of this county was elected scribe of the Powhatan tribe.

Classes in singing, crop judging, first aid and nature study began the morning. Each camper took two of these classes. Following this each person took a handicraft class.

There was swimming galore, three times a day if you chose. After lunch the tribes held their pow-wows to carry on the business of the camp. After the pow-wows came a game period in which you could play or watch. After supper was vespers and then the evening program. Prince William County put on the Vespers Program Tuesday night. The evening program consisted of "Star Gazing," an amateur hour put on by the tribes, a movie and an informal party followed by the candlelighting ceremony.

On Thursday afternoon nearly all the group toured Jamestown Island and Williamsburg. They saw many points of interest including the old Jamestown Church, the Capitol, the Raleigh Tavern, the City Jail, and the Governor's Palace.

The girls delegation toured Yorktown and visited Wakefield on the way home Saturday.

A wonderful time was had by all, both interesting and beneficial.

FRED A. BARNES

There passed from among us to a better world, one who was endeared by all who were fortunate enough to come in contact with him: Mr. Fred A. Barnes of Rock Ledge, Occoquan, Va., who departed this life on Saturday, August 19, 1939. Mr. Barnes was a lovely neighbor and a good citizen; one who enjoyed helping those in need, and who was always ready and willing to help the less fortunate. He leaves his wife, Emily L. Barnes, of Occoquan and two sons, Wilbur J. A. and Laurence A., of Washington, D. C., and several grand-children, and a host of other relatives and friends to mourn his departure. Our sincere sympathy goes to his wife and other dear ones left to mourn his passing, and we pray God to give them strength in this time of bereavement.

Mr. Barnes was a member of several fraternal and patriotic organizations; notably the Masonic Fraternity of which he was a member for over fifty years. He also was a member of the Corinthian Yacht Club of Washington, D. C., for several years, and one of his sons is now Commodore of that club. Once you met and talked with Mr. Barnes you would not help but like him. Funeral services were held at his home Rock Ledge and conducted by Rev. D. N. Calvert of Occoquan Church, and Rev. C. A. Langston of Pohick Church. Funeral arrangements were in the hands of Mr. Robert S. Hall and Son of Occoquan who are noted for the excellent manner in which they handle funerals. Burial was in Beautiful and Historic Pohick Church Cemetery. May God rest his Soul in peace, Amen.

THE WORLD AROUND US

By

O. J. Schuster

AN IMPORTANT EVENT of the past week was the national convention of the Young Democrats, held in Pittsburgh. More than 10,000 delegates, representing every section of the country, attended and all of them supported the Roosevelt administration and the whole New Deal program. Judging by the actions taken and by their enthusiastic support of the principles and policies expressed by their leaders, these youngsters understand the old game of politics and despite it; they have no use for "lip-service candidates on a straddle-bug platform"; they are in entire sympathy with President Roosevelt's efforts to rid the party of the type of Democrat who is a "tweedledee to the Republican tweedledee"; and they demand that the humanitarian policies of President Roosevelt be continued. In his letter to the convention President Roosevelt reworded his Jackson Day reference to "Democratic tweedledee and Republican tweedledee" so that it read:

"The Democratic Party will not survive as an effective force in the nation if its voters have to choose (in 1940) between a Republican tweedledee and a Democratic tweedle-dummer."

THE YOUNG DEMOCRATS gave a tumultuous ovation to this and other parts of Mr. Roosevelt's letter. On invitation of the organization, Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, an ardent New Dealer, delivered the "key-note address" in which the administration was highly eulogized and the suggestion made that President Roosevelt be drafted for a third term. The prolonged and enthusiastic demonstrations that greeted these sentiments is proof that the Young Democrats favor the third term movement. Other speakers—Mayor Kelly of Chicago, Paul V. McNutt, regarded by many New Dealers as a likely candidate in case Roosevelt refuses to run, Robert H. Jackson, Solicitor General, Senator Alvin Barkley of Kentucky, Senate floor leader for the administration, all of them ardent New Dealers—were enthusiastically applauded. It is reported that Representative Hatch, author of the Hatch law, was invited to appear before the convention but declined—perhaps because the Young Democrats had declared that Hatch law or no Hatch law, they were going to stand on their right to participate actively in the national campaign for good government and the humanitarian policies of the New Deal.

THE OFFICERS ELECTED by the Young Democrats represent North, South, East, and West. Homer Adams, 28, of Springfield, Illinois, was chosen president; Mrs. Verda Barnes, 31, of Idaho, vice-president; John Neff of Staunton, Va., secretary; and John Bailey of Hartford, Connecticut, treasurer. They will hold office until the next convention, which will be held in Louisville, Kentucky, in 1941.

THE MAIN OBJECTIVES of the Young Democrats seem to be: Vigilant protection of our civil liberties—free speech, untrammelled participation in public affairs, etc.—which are so frequently interfered with by the Hagues, the Pendergasts, and other political bosses; opposition to excessive concentration of wealth and economic power in the hands of the few; in favor of a job at fair wages for every able man and woman desiring one; conservation of our natural resources by terminating their exploitation for private profit; social security not only for the aged but for all citizens.

THE WORLD AROUND these Young Democrats is to be one in which humanitarian principles and policies are to supersede cutthroat competition, if their program is adopted by the nation. Their influence in the national campaign next year will undoubtedly be very considerable for a very large number of the older voters, many past the Biblical "four score and ten years," are as staunch supporters of the New Deal as are the Young Democrats. This Youth Movement is worthy of careful consideration by conservatives, Democrats as well as Republicans.

CATHARPIN

Rev. John S. Schwartz began a two-week's revival service at Sudley church, Sunday night. He is being assisted by the Rev. Mr. Cannon of Warrenton, who will preach Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday nights of this week, and next week on the same nights. The meeting will terminate in an all-day service September 3. Our former pastor, Rev. Charles F. Phillips, will preach at the afternoon service, September 3. We cordially invite all friends and former pastors to make this their "Home-Coming Day," at Old Sudley.

Quarterly Conference will be held Saturday morning, August 26, at Gainesville Parsonage.

Our Sudley congregation was inspired, August 6, by the splendid address by Rev. Mr. York, extension sec'y of the Baltimore Conference. He stressed the need of greater fellowship among the members of the church, and a deeper interest in the lives of our fellowmen throughout our communities. We were also glad to have with us, Mr. Smith, of the District National Guards, a native of Alabama and a member of the Young People's Group of Mount Vernon Place Methodist church of Washington.

The maneuvers are over and our community greatly enjoyed the activities of our khaki clad protectors and were kept busy keeping up with the movements of "battle". Perhaps the most spectacular in this immediate community were the searchlights with their 800,000,000 candlepower beams playing across the sky to "pick-up" the planes which dared to circle over our territory. We were impressed by the uniform courteousness of these citizen-soldiers and their great appreciation of all hospitality shown them.

Upon his return to Norton, Sunday morning, he was accompanied by his daughter, Jean, who has spent the past two weeks with her grandmother at "Oakwood."

The Young People's Group of Sudley enjoyed a most delightful picnic at Davis' Beach, Saturday, but the clouds, which threatened rain early in the morning no doubt kept many from attending.

PLANS FOR MARY PICKFORD'S ENTERTAINMENT

"Halifax," termed by several contemporary writers as the prettiest village in the South, is agog over the fact that its populace will be largely responsible for the entertainment of Miss Mary Pickford, who will come to Virginia on Wednesday, September 6, to reign over the fifth annual National Tobacco Festival at South Boston. The queen will receive the hospitality of the Old South, and will be entertained at "Grand Oaks," the Vaughan home in Halifax during her stay.

Unique in plans for her unusual entertainment is a short ride from "Grand Oaks," to old St. Marks Episcopal Church, now the Halifax Methodist-Presbyterian Church, in a coach over 100 years old. Cinderella was make-believe, but when Miss Pickford steps into this coach, driven by "Uncle Henry Mose," long coachman at "Magnolia Hill," adjoining estate, she will ride into a romantic land that is real. From the time tobacco was the coin of the national realm, to this time when the leaf is virtually that in the South Boston community, plantation land has continued very much the same, constantly prosperous, colorful and romantic.

Miss Pickford's first greeting in Virginia will be given in Richmond, Virginia's capital. She will be met there on Wednesday afternoon, September 6, greeted by Governor Price and will broadcast over a radio hook-up her first impressions of the Old Dominion, which she is visiting for the first time.

JOHNNY WEISSMULLER AND MAUREEN THRILLING NEW JUNGLE ADVENTURES

Johnny Weissmuller has not the slightest fear of alligators. He has battled them in several "Tarzan" pictures, knows how to so act in the water to keep them away, and swam among the saurians with perfect impunity at Ocala, Florida, on location for "Tarzan Finds a Son!" which comes next Monday and Tuesday, August 28-29, to the Pitts' Theatre.

Weissmuller and little Johnny Sheffield, playing "Tarzan, Junior" in the fourth of the jungle pictures based on the Edgar Rice Burroughs characters, headed a large company sent to Silver Springs, which has the clearest water known, for underwater swimming thrills in the picture. With them went Bee, the baby elephant which is little Johnny's particular amount in the picture. The little elephant also stages swimming thrills.

With two carloads of equipment the location party left for Ocala, stopping over briefly at Houston, Texas, where a public reception was given them.

The little town of Ocala was turned overnight into a hive of activity. Animal trainers, a school teacher for "Tarzan, Jr.," cameramen, electricians, grips and laboratory men were augmented by labor recruited from among the natives who built platforms, furnished transportation, and performed other duties. The company was housed in a court at Silver Springs near the pool where the swimming action took place. All the town's available trucks and cars were rented. Natives were chosen for "stand-ins" for the players. Special telephones were installed so that the company could be in touch with the studios at Culver City. Lumber and hardware for building were furnished by local merchants.

"Tarzan Finds a Son!" reunites Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan, and adds little Johnny Sheffield as their foster son, a baby surviving a plane crash in the jungles, whom they adopt and who becomes a miniature Tarzan.

Thrills include the baby's rescue from a rhino by Weissmuller, underwater fights, and the charge of Tarzan's chimpanzees who ride elephants as a cavalry unit to rout a torture orgy of savages. Players include Ian Hunter, Henry Stephenson, Frieda Inescot, Henry Wilcoxon, Laraine Day and Morton Lowry. Hundreds of "natives," and wild animals including lions, rhinos, crocodiles, elephants, hyenas and other species are seen in action in the new thriller.

DICTATOR OR DOUBLE? DRAMA GIVES ANSWER!

As headlines scream with the question—is the dictator dead?—as attempts are made on the lives of rulers, Paramount brings to the screen a powerful drama which dares to show how a clever actor substitutes for an assassinated dictator in a mythical South American country, called San Cristobal. Entitled "The Magnificent Fraud," it will be presented locally for the first time on Thursday, August 31, at the Pitts' Theatre.

Directed by Robert Florey from a screenplay by Gilbert Gabriel and Walter Ferris, the daring drama casts Akim Tamiroff as a dictator-actor, offering him the most powerful and dramatic characterization of his distinguished career. Lloyd Nolan is seen as a reckless, romantic, ruthless American—the right-hand man of the dictator—and Mary Boland as an ex-darling of the dictator. Lovely Patricia Morison, member of Paramount's select coterie of talented young players, the "Golden Circle," provides romantic interest, cast opposite Nolan.

The story provides ample opportunity for strong, explosive drama. At a fast pace, it tells how the dictator of San Cristobal is assassinated in a bombing just as he is about to negotiate a loan of ten million dollars from an American source. His right-hand man, in order to get the loan, substitutes an actor for the dictator. All goes smoothly until the actor refuses to sign the paper for the loan, the man behind the dictator falls in love with an American girl engaged to the man making the loan, and the fiery dancing favorite of the man behind the dictator becomes jealous and exposes the dictator-actor.

The result of all these complications is a climactic scene which is powerful, thought-provoking and gripping in its implications.

According to all reports, the romantic scenes involving Miss Morison, who was sensational in her screen debut in "Persons in Hiding," and Lloyd Nolan, are a certain indication that an outstanding new romantic team has been formed.

CHASE SUCCEEDS HEATWOLE

Francis S. Chase, principal of the Suffolk high school for the past 12 years, is the new executive secretary of the Virginia Education association, having been elected by the organization's directors to fill the vacancy created by the death July 6 of Dr. C. J. Heatwole. Chase, who was educated at the University of Richmond and the University of Virginia, was preparing to assume another position with the State board of education as acting supervisor of high schools when he was chosen to the VEA post. He will edit the association's monthly magazine, the Virginia Journal of Education. Long active in the organization, Chase served a term as president of the department of secondary school principals, served on the executive committee and was a member of the board of directors.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in later years.

From whence come wars and fightings among you? Come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members.—James IV, 1.

HOPES OF PEACE ARE FADING

At no time in recent years has there been greater threat to the peace of the world than exists in Europe today. Germany, now completely rearmed and admittedly the most powerful military force in the world, has avowed the intention of immediately dismembering Poland—a nation of great military strength and fine patriotism. Germany believes that she can subdue Poland in a few weeks and that neither England, nor France can make their guarantees effective in that short time.

England and France, on the basis of the experience of Czechoslovakia last year, now recognize the utter futility of appeasement in dealing with the German war machine, and they have assured Germany that they will give Poland military aid if that nation sees fit to resist Germany.

The final attitude of Italy is problematical but presumably aligned with Germany, although it may be recalled that once before Italy deserted Germany to fight with England and France in the World War. The attitude of Russia is becoming clarified and a non-aggression treaty with Germany has been announced. By its terms Japan seems to be more deeply injured than anybody. It is possible that Germany has given Stalin a free hand in northern China on the assumption that Russia is a more valued ally than Japan—a logical viewpoint in Berlin.

England and France have their very national existence at stake and they can hardly afford to sacrifice a brave and powerful ally like Poland for a temporary relief, only to see her great resources finally incorporated into the gigantic war machine which would immediately rise to attack them.

In such an appalling situation, most well informed observers, who have heretofore steadfastly maintained that there will be no immediate world war, have become very pessimistic and now see little hope for peace.

August 16, 1939

Editors,
Manassas Journal,
Gentlemen:

Between August 4 and 16 it was my pleasure to be attached to the 28th Division Headquarters in Manassas as a public relations officer, and become acquainted with your paper. My other is to edit the Pennsylvania Guardsman, the official publication of the Pennsylvania National Guard, and I am again back in Harrisburg getting material together which will cover the camp still in progress.

Your paper has carried so many interesting items which I think it well to quote in our next issue that I would be very pleased if you will send me one each of the copies printed between August 4 and 19, inclusive, as soon after August 19 as possible. In fact, if you will I should be pleased to have them including August 21.

In closing may I express the highest regard for your town and community and the friendly acceptance they gave our boys. Considering the number of men in camp I believe our citizen-soldiers made a favorable impression on your community.

Very sincerely,
Lt. Charles H. Kenworthy
Assistant Editor

New Phone Cable Containing 2121 Pairs Of Wires Is Only 2 5/8 Inches In Diameter

Wire Size Remains Unchanged as Western Electric Co. Discovers Improved Insulation Technique

Above, a view of Broadway in the eighties. The maze of 350 wires all but obscures the view of the street below. At left is the new cable, 2 5/8 inches in diameter, and containing more than 12 times as many wires.

Long recognized as pioneers in the development of lead covered telephone cable, engineers of the Bell System have made another historic advance with the manufacture of cable containing 4,242 separately insulated copper wires. Heretofore, the maximum contained in one cable was 3,636 wires. Despite the increase in the number of wires, the new cable is no larger around than its predecessor, its diameter being exactly the same—2 5/8 inches.

Since the diameter of each wire in the new cable is also the same as before, the feat of placing 606 more within the same girth was made possible by an improved technique of wire insulation invented by the Western Electric Company, a method which reduced the thickness of the insulation surrounding each strand. There was thus produced a covered wire with a diameter of 31/1000 of an inch, compared to the former diameter of 34/1000. The decrease in each case was only 3/1000 of an inch but this tiny saving, repeated 3,636 times, resulted in a total saving of space sufficient to afford room for the additional wires.

The use of a cable core composed of wires so closely packed together was in turn made possible by refinements in the science of transmission and in the telephone instrument itself, achievements of Bell Telephone Laboratories.

The first installation of the new cable took place when 14,000 feet of it, manufactured at the Kearny, New Jersey works of the Western Electric Company, were installed by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company in the Jersey City area.

The method of insulating the wires is in itself a revolutionary development of the last decade. Previous to the invention of this process, wires intended for cable had been insulated by wrapping paper ribbon spirally around them. Then it was discovered that paper pulp could be formed around the wire, and now giant machines literally manufacture a thin coating of paper right on the wire, 60 strands at once, as they pass through a bath of pulp.

The cable core of 4,242 conductors is built up from these individual strands by first twisting two wires into a pair, then binding 101 of these pairs into a unit. Finally 21 of these units are twisted together, and the core, after being dried out in vacuum ovens, is sheathed with lead that is forced through dies under great pressure.

P. T. A. SALE

Be sure to attend the auction sale, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of the Manassas Schools, in the old A.P. Store Building, next to Fisher's store, on Saturday, August 26, beginning at 1:30. Any number of articles will be on sale and you will probably see something that you can use.

Donations are needed to make this sale a success, so don't forget to bring out anything that you feel that you can give. Even though you may have put it aside long ago there are probably lots of people to whom it would be very useful. A committee will be on hand Saturday morning to receive these articles.

In sad but loving memory of Janie C. Abel who was suddenly taken from us one year ago, August 21, 1938.

Our hearts still ache with sadness
Our eyes shed many tears.
God only knows that we have missed you

At the end of this saddened year.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear son, Harvey L. Cornwell.

When days are dark and friends seem few
My dear little Harvey, how I miss you
I miss and love you more each day
Tho it is seven years since you passed away.

Treasured thoughts of you so dear
Often brings a silent tear
Thoughts returns to scenes of the past
Time rolls on but memory lasts.

Sunshine passes shadows fall
Loves remembrance outlasts all
So long as life and memory lasts
My thoughts will linger on this sad past.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Janie C. Abel, who died suddenly at her home, near Dumfries, on August 21, 1938:

The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought your death was near;
A silent thought, a secret tear,
Keeps your memory ever dear.

Home at last, so gently sleeping
On the Savior's gentle breast.
Where there is no pain or sorrow,
There you have found eternal rest.

Gone from earth; yes, gone forever,
Tear-filled eyes shall look in vain;
We shall hear your voice, no never,
Never more on earth again.

'Tis sweet to know we'll meet again,
Where partings are no more;
And that the one we loved so well
Has only gone before

By Her Sister-in-law,
Virginia Peel.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad and loving remembrance of our dear wife and mother, Janie C. Abel, who departed this life one year ago, August 21, 1938.

Oh! the memory of that Sunday evening
As we watched with aching heart
For our darling to get better.
But alas! how quickly we were torn apart.

Our family circle has been broken
A link gone from our chain
But tho we are parted here on earth
In Heaven we'll meet again.

The call was sudden the shock severe
We little thought your end so near
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell
—Loving husband.

No one knows the sorrow to be left alone.
Till God sends a message to our home
Tis sad when he calls for one or the other
But saddest of all when he calls our mother

God needed another angel.
To worship before his throne
So he sent a message from Heaven
And called my dear mother home

My mother, who gave me the best of her life
Who cherished my secrets my sorrow and strife
Who taught me to love who taught to pray.
Oh! dear mother in Heaven God bless you today.

My mother, Dear my mother kind
Has gone and left her boy behind
But for me she did her best
Oh! God grant her eternal rest.
—Her loving son.

FOOTBALL SEASON COMING UP

There's no frost on the pumpkins—nor even any pumpkins, for that matter—but the 1939 football season is just around the corner, and coaches already are busily engaged in rounding up husky young athletes, according to an article to be published next Sunday in The Star.

Where football players come from, how their services are obtained by colleges, what they get out of their scholastic careers—these and numerous other interesting questions are answered in detail in this illuminating article, prepared by a member of The Star's sports staff.

YOUNG SOUTHERNER FIGHTS
TO SAVE PLANTATION

Bringing to the screen with abundant color a segment of life in the old south little known to present-day audiences, "Way Down South," with Bobby Breen as its star, will open next Wednesday, August 30, at the Pitts Theatre.

FLORIDA TELEPHONE CIRCUITS AUGMENTED
12 PER CENT BY NEW CARRIER SYSTEM
Varying Frequencies Make Number of Conversations Possible Over Single Wire Channel

Left: Map showing route of new New York-Florida communications channels. Right: Specially equipped testboards at Charlotte, N. C., enable technicians to see that the various voice channels function satisfactorily. Bottom: McKinney, Va. repeater station containing vacuum tube amplifiers which re-energize voice currents on new communications channels along Atlantic seaboard.

New equipment, considerably increasing the number of voice channels over the telephone wires between New York and Florida, has recently been put in service by the Long Lines Department of The American Telephone and Telegraph Company. This equipment represents the latest development of Bell Telephone Laboratories engineers in "carrier systems." Its use has increased the Bell System circuits into Florida by 12 per cent over those in service a year ago and is expected to take care of substantial growth in traffic along this route.

The new apparatus comprises two systems. One employs aerial wire lines between West Palm Beach and Charlotte, N. C., a distance of 725 miles, and the other uses wires in two cables over the 625 mile route between Charlotte and New York. Both systems operate on the same general principle—the use of high frequency currents to transmit a number of telephone conversations simultaneously over a single channel of wires. In the case of the aerial wire system, it superimposes 12 additional telephone channels on a pair of wires already in use; while in the cables it produces 12 such channels from two pairs of wires.

Transmission over these carrier systems may be thought of as being similar to wire-directed radio. The electrical currents produced by the voice of the speaker at West Palm Beach, for example, instead of traveling the full length of the circuit in the same form as they leave the transmitter, are raised to high frequency—just as they would be if they were to be put on the air.

Instead of being radiated from an antenna, they are fed onto the wire line. The same thing is done with eleven other voices at West Palm Beach, each being raised to a different frequency.

The currents produced by all twelve voices are fed onto a single pair of wires, and transmitted to the distant end, where they are separated by devices known as filters. The action of these several filters may be likened to that of a glass prism on a beam of light—the light being broken up into the rays of different color of which it is composed.

One of the problems in the use of this new type of carrier is the rapid loss of energy in transmission. This has necessitated the development of specially designed repeaters or vacuum tube amplifiers located at intervals along the route. Because of the rapid power-loss in the new carrier system, these amplifiers are installed at relatively short intervals—about 80 miles, instead of 150 or 200 as is the case on ordinary long distance open wire lines. Besides the equipment at the two terminals, there are repeater stations at Denmark, S. C. and at Jacksonville, Daytona, Eau Gallie and Stuart, Fla., and at three other points some distance from any towns.

The cable system operating northward from Charlotte uses the same principle, although the fact that the wires are thus packed closely together introduces additional problems. For one thing, the voices of north and south must travel by separate cables to avoid interference with each other. Again, the energy loss is even greater in this system, and repeater stations are installed about every 15 miles.

While these two systems have already added substantially to the facilities into Florida, the new project makes provision for further additions as traffic growth may make necessary. Service between Florida and the rest of the country requires special study, on the part of telephone engineers because of its unusual characteristics.

staging of traditional dance festivals to make the picture a melodic triumph. Its plot carries much human interest with its tale of a lad whose heart goes out to those less fortunate than he and his stout efforts to maintain on his vast plantation the happiness and peace which are the heritage of its slaves.

Of the seven pictures in which he has starred, young Breen's voice in this is said to be more charming and mellow than ever before. With a new sureness of his presentation of songs, under the direction of Bernard Vorhaus, he demonstrates also that he is becoming an increasingly good actor.

A highlight of beauty and rhythm in "Way Down South" is the presentation of the interesting sugar-cane celebration, an exotic dance spectacle traditionally offered on old-time plantations by the slaves at the completion of the harvest. Nearly four hundred persons are used in this novel sequence.

SPECIAL SERVICES

The anniversary day program of the Aden United Brethren church will be held this coming Sunday. An attractive program is being arranged and a cordial invitation is extended to all friends of the church to come and enjoy the services with us. Bring a lunch and stay for both sessions.

The speaker of the morning will be Rev. Mr. O. R. Kesner, who was for six years pastor of the church. At the 2 p. m. service there is to be a speaker that has not been in this neighborhood before but of whom we have heard a great deal. He is Prof. A. C. Werth, superintendent of the Quincy United Brethren Orphanage and Home, Quincy, Pennsylvania. Prof. Werth is doing a great work in this worthwhile institution of our church and every member and friend will want to hear his message and help to make him feel at home.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 27.

The Golden Text will be "The Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father), full of grace and truth" (John 1:14).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God" (Luke 13:11-13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The physical healing of Christian Science results now, as in Jesus' time, from the operation of divine Principle, before which sin and disease lose their reality in human consciousness and disappear as naturally and as necessarily as darkness gives place to light and sin to reformation. Now, as then, these mighty works are not supernatural, but supremely natural" (Pref. XI).

Hints For Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

FRESH rosy peaches baked with canned unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice and sugar, served hot with a dash of powdered mace or a sprinkling of grated nutmeg will add a special filip to the meat course, especially if roast chicken is the piece de resistance. Or try them for dessert, minus the spice, serving with thin cream instead of hard sauce flavored with nutmeg or mace. Prepare the peaches this way: Pour boiling water over eight firm but ripe peaches, rub off skins and place fruit close together in a baking dish. Sprinkle with one-half cup granulated sugar, pour over one-half cup pineapple juice, cover and bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) about 20 minutes, then remove cover and allow fruit to brown slightly. Serve hot as suggested above. This amount will make eight servings.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

BY DR. JAMES T. MARSHALL

COURAGE

"Courage! I have overcome the world." (John 16:33) A billion and a half people are living today in an atmosphere of fear. To the dread of war there are added the normal fears to which humanity is always subject. The man who says that he is never afraid of anything belongs in the Ananias club. Children fear the dark, terror is seen in the eyes of the pursued animal, soldiers tremble before entering the battle. It is said that on the morning of the battle of Waterloo the knees of Marshal Ney were seen to shake violently, and that he addressed those

PATRONS HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

Southern States Group Studies Cooperation

A testimony of personal experience was given by W. Davis Nolley, Nokesville, when he talked on the subject, "The Effect Southern States Cooperative Has Had on the Price and Quality of Farm Supplies in Our Community," before more than 200 patron members and friends of the cooperative movement who attended the annual Southern States Patrons' meeting held at Nokesville Wednesday, August 16, according to J. D. Puncke, assistant, Membership Relations, Southern States Cooperative.

Mr. Nolley stated that he had always found products obtained through the cooperative to be of the highest quality and lowest cost. He urged his fellow farmers to participate in the cooperative program and experience for themselves the benefits to be derived therefrom.

That farmers are getting more each year from their cooperative was brought out in a discussion, "The Value of the Cooperative to Farmers," led by Frank Foster, Nokesville. He expressed appreciation for the high quality of products handled cooperatively.

In talking on "Woman's Part in an Agricultural Cooperative's Program," Mrs. A. B. Lawson, Nokesville, declared that just because men have taken the lead in establishing and conducting the cooperative is no reason for the women to ignore the organization, as what helps the farmer helps his whole family. The cooperative is a friend to the family in that it encourages sociability among farm people and provides quality commodities at a low cost. The savings obtained through dealing with the cooperative can be used for needed improvements on the farm and in the home, Mrs. Lawson explained.

Walter Sadd, manager of the local cooperative agency, discussed his duties in a talk entitled "My Responsibility as a Southern States Distributor." He explained that the distributor is a partner of the farmer, and that it is not only a duty but also a pleasure for him to serve the farmer in every way possible. Mr. Sadd expressed his appreciation for the loyal support which he receives from the farm people and pledged his continued efforts to serve the farmers of the community and the cooperative.

One of the outstanding features of the program was the presentation of a technicolor movie showing the cooperative in the process of mixing feeds and fertilizers and treating and cleaning seeds for the organization's 100,000 patron members.

The audience participated in a Southern State Quiz contest.

The annual report was presented by Mr. Puncke who declared that farmer members put through the organization more than $13,000,000 worth of farm supply business during the fiscal year ended June 30, making it the most successful year in the history of the cooperative. Mr. Puncke stated that the road to happiness and economic freedom for farmers is through cooperation. The value of the cooperative organization is best measured by the use farmers make of it, Mr. Puncke declared. The fact that members have increased their cooperative purchasing from 15 to 35 per cent each year over the preceding year is sufficient evidence of the real value of the organization, Mr. Puncke concluded.

M. S. Kerlin and Elmer Hurst were elected to fill the vacancies created by retiring board members. Other members of the board are W. M. Johnson, chairman; L. W. Huff, J. F. Hale and Wilmer Kline.

Those largely responsible for the success of the meeting were the following who served as chairmen of patrons' committees in planning the meeting: Mr. Kerlin, D. E. Earhart, B. F. Hedrick, C. B. Fitzwater, Leo Garman and Mr. Hale.
