V. E. A. Meeting Presented With Immediate Objectives

While most Virginians were gathered around their Thanksgiving Turkey last week, several hundred State educators assembled at the annual convocation of the Virginia Education Association in Richmond to hear speeches and to strengthen their campaign to have the maintenance and support of an adequate school system in the Old Dominion. Whether or not those who attended the sessions were in accord with all that transpired, it was pretty generally accepted that modern school marmas are not plain, prim and "ugly as a fence post," but imbued with charm, beauty and intelligence. At least that was the observation of several veteran educators on the scene.

Dr. Hardy Cross Dillard, member of the University of Virginia faculty, bemoaned the fact, however, that most teachers enter the profession as a "stop-gap until marriage or a better job comes along." He mentioned that there are three conditions every teacher should meet—a sense of integrity, a sense of culture and a feeling, almost a passion, of the worth of his job. I submit again in all humility that character and citizenship are attained as ends—better by the teacher who himself insists on accurate honest work than by all the curriculum frills in all the schools in the country.

"Crackpots and demagogues have been trying to indict business before the bar of public opinion," the delegates were told by Dr. Allen A. Stockdale of New York, "but the swing of common sense toward business is unmistakably on in this country. American business is getting out of the doghouse," he said, declaring that "When you smear American industry you smear the whole town in which you live and cast reflections upon the honest citizens who have made the history of the United States." Pointing out that people generally anticipate better economic conditions in the next two years, he reminded that the best way to insure prosperity is for the government to "leave business alone."

The association passed a resolution at the meeting, calling on the next General Assembly to support the Governor in his efforts to comply with the constitutional mandate "to maintain and support an adequate school system." Other resolutions requested Congress to "actively promote and support measures giving Federal aid to the public school of several States," and called on every teacher to become an active qualified voter; another commended the educational programs initiated by State Superintendent Sidney B. Hall; others advocated higher teacher salaries; called on individual members of the profession to be true to the responsibilities and opportunities facing them; urged superintendents, principals and teachers to make membership in their professional organizations their immediate responsibility; and pledged loyalty and support to Francis Chase, new executive secretary.

Dr. Hall endorsed the comprehensive high school in preference to the "special type school," the latter being defined as those in which "only technical phases of vocational education are taught" and which are designed to instruct students in work that they appear suited to follow rather than general training. Dr. Bertram E. Packard, commissioner of education for the State of Maine, told the group that "money raised for public education is the only appropriation which is an investment for the future perpetuation of American Democracy." Dr. Packard termed public education the greatest collective enterprise in the U. S., employing over 33,000,000 persons, and declared that "it is the responsibility of the community to guarantee every youth at least a minimum program of education that meets his individual needs."

Teachers at the convention apparently were in accord with the observation of Robert Lee Webb of Gate City, Virginia's oldest school board member, who said "more pay for teachers" is the most pressing need of public schools in the State. Before adjourning Saturday, the convention was presented five "immediate objectives" of the State

THE CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE DRIVE IS ON

When you received your $1.00 sheet of Christmas Seals and felt that you cannot send the whole $1.00 for this glorious work, take off as many seals as you can possibly spare pennies. Do not send back the sheet unbroken. If only one stamp is used that one stamp helps to keep the foundation of the year's drive from collapsing, just as one brick in the foundation of a building keeps that building from weakening.

VOICE RECITAL MUCH ENJOYED

Classic Musicals Features Club Meeting

A most delightful voice and piano recital was given by Mrs. E. M. Colvin and Miss Sally West before the Music-Literature Section of the Manassas Woman's Club on Tuesday evening in the Osbourne High School. Mrs. Colvin is a well known vocalist, both in Washington and this vicinity. She was accompanied by Miss West, an accomplished pianist of Washington.

Miss West first gave two very pleasing selections by Bach and later gave four lovely selections from Chapin, including, "Waltz in C minor," "Nocturne in C minor," "Fantaisie-Improvisation" and "Ballade in G Minor."

Mrs. Colvin chose very lovely numbers for her first group and still lovelier ones for the second group including, "Little Star" by Manuel Ponce, "The Bitterness of Love" by Johannes Brahms, and "Ecstasy" by Rummel.

These artists were obtained through Mrs. Lewis Carper and the club feels very grateful to her for giving them the opportunity of hearing such lovely music.

The literary part of the program was taken care of by Mrs. Dennis remarks on the times during the Baker who gave a few sparkling lives of Mr. Currier and Mr. Ives, who were very famous print makers of the Victorian Era. These men were more than mere print makers as they left a pictorial record of the most colorful period in our history through their prints.

The hostesses Miss Alice Webb, Miss Sara Donohue and Miss Katherine Omohundro served very nice spicy refreshments and all enjoyed a lovely evening.

MISSION STUDY CLASS AT LOCAL CHURCH

Mrs. Goldeke of Baltimore, who spent 13 years in India, will conduct a Mission Study class on "Gleanings from the Madras Conference," at the Bethel Lutheran Church here on Thursday, December 7. Board of Education, namely: Calling for setting up of procedures (1) for the formulating of school policies, in developing a program of instruction, and in devising ways to finance the school program; (2) for school administration to enlist and utilize suggestions of school personnel in improving education in the State; (3) for coordinating services of the State education department and State teachers colleges in providing effective instruction Virginia school, and (4) for getting and holding all children in school with an effective instructional policy. The fifth objective called for studies to be made "for the purpose of suggesting sound procedures for extending the school program upward and downward."

HUNT BREAKFAST

About seventy people gathered at the hospitable home of the Robert L. Lewises on Thanksgiving day following the meet of the Bull Run Hunt club that morning. Mr. William Wheeler and Mr. Victor Haydon were assistant hosts. The occasion was the annual Hunt Club Breakfast which is becoming a most enjoyable social event.

Guests were received in the living room at 12:30, but soon filled the entire first floor. A delicious plate dinner was served the hungry riders and the guests. Assisting the three hosts, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Haydon and Mr. Wheeler were Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. Percival Lewis, Mrs. Higgs Lewis, Mrs. Demaine and Mrs. Burks. Afterwards, the fox, which was the prize of the day, was brought in and the brush awarded to Buddy Lynn. Several hours of jovial chatting preceded the departure of the crowd in the afternoon.

The guests included: Comm. Melvin Hazen, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mitchell, Miss Margaret Davis, Mr. Roy Herring, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Lewis, and Mr. Lee Lewis, of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kincheloe, Mr.

ZONING SHOWN TO BE VALUABLE

State Board Chairman Visits Kiwanis Club

Mr. Hugh Pomeroy, chairman of the State Planning Board, was guest speaker at the Kiwanis club on Friday evening. He was present as the guest of Edgar Parrish, as was also Mayor Davis and Town Manager W. F. Cocke.

Mr. Pomeroy explained in a very interesting way the functions of the State Board in cooperation with local set-ups. He gave a number of incidents to show that it is more expensive not to plan than to plan.

The speaker complimented the Town of Manassas on having provided for most of its difficulties in its early layout, and especially for its present day provisions for handling zoning matters. He declared that the town manager had in preparation a very complete and competent mapping system for future problems.

Mr. Pomeroy promised to come to the assistance of any local group in its problems. He is a recognized authority, having just completed a chapter on planning in a book being produced by the international association of town managers.

GREENWICH CLUB HOSTESS TO COUNTY COUNCIL

The Prince William County 4-H Council was entertained by the Greenwich Club in the school building on November 21, 1939. This meeting was for the purpose of electing council officers and planning 1940's county 4-H program.

Joyce Leach of Greenwich Club was elected president; Mildred Akers of Manassas club, vice president; June Abel of Dumfries club, secretary and treasurer; Margaret Blakemore of Manassas club, song leader; Evelyn Dean of Occoquan club, reporter.

County goals were drawn up by Ellen Thompson, Jack Young and Miss Grace Yorkdale. Plans for County Picnic were made by Betty Anne Blakemore and Eddie Russell. The 4-H budget was made by Margaret Blakemore and Helen House.

After the business meeting, Virginia Ross and Jacqueline Armell led the group in games and delicious refreshments were served by the Greenwich club members.

Those attending the council were: Jacqueline Armell, Helen House, Marie House, Joyce Leach, Virginia Ross, Frances Wood, Kay Wood, Junior Carrie, Carrol Mayhugh, Miss Katie Boley and Miss Doris Bubb from Greenwich 4-H club; Mildred Akers, Betty Anne Blakemore, Margaret Blakemore, Peggy Tipton, and Miss Flora Bullock from Manassas; Ellen Thompson, John Russell, Mr. Eddie Russell, Miss Grace Yorkdale, and Mrs. E. HOME TEAM FACES FAIRFAX FRIDAY

Has Made Great Improvement Since Season Opened

The Manassas High School Grid Iron Gladiators have been grueling all week in final preparation for the final fracas with Fairfax High Friday.

This final game will wind up a successful season not in the line of victories but in the line of established football in Manassas and in respect to the material for our future teams.

The team, after the last game with the Richmond Masonic Home team has had plenty of rest and is raring to go. The Manassas High School team was the second team this year to score a touch down against the Masonic team. The Randolph-Macon freshmen scored the only other touch down against that team. We should feel proud of our team, which shares the honors with the Randolph-Macon freshmen.

The boys have promised to do their do or die Friday, since there are several on the team who end their high school football careers with this game. For some it may be the last organized game they may ever play again. Coaches Saunders and Litwin are quite satisfied with the results of the team this season and feel that there will be some good football material for next year. We feel that this final victory will put the finishing touches to this Grid Iron season.

This football team is your team, your own boys trying their best for you and your school. Come on out and give your team the support it deserves. Don't forget, Friday is the day, 2:30 is the time and Swavely is the place. You come out and supply the noise.

THURSDAY, NOV., 30, 1939

And let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap if we faint not.—Gal. 6:9.

E. LEE TRINKLE

We record with regret the death on November 25 of Hon. E. Lee Trinkle, former Governor of Virginia, and distinguished citizen of Southwest Virginia, at the age of sixty-three. The Ex-Governor died suddenly at his hotel in Richmond, where he was attending a session of the State Board of Education.

Mr. Trinkle had a long and distinguished career in public life, and was continuing to serve the Commonwealth at the time of his death, as a member of the State Board of Education. He was prominently spoken of as a possible candidate in the next campaign for the office of Governor, to which he was elected in 1921 by the largest majority any candidate for the office had received up to that time. From 1914 to 1921, he had served with distinction in the State Senate.

In addition to serving as President of the State Board of Education, Mr. Trinkle was active in commercial affairs, having held the position of Vice president of the State Chamber of Commerce, and he was prominently identified with a number of large insurance companies, being active in these matters to the very day of his death.

He leaves a widow, who was Miss Helen Ball Sexton, of Houston, Texas, and four children, E. Lee, Jr., Helen Sue, William S. and James, who have the deepest sympathy of an entire Commonwealth in their great and sudden loss.

MAGNETIC MINES

While the world is speculating upon the mechanical construction of the newest German weapon, the "Magnetic mine," citizens of Manassas are nearer to a probable solution of the mysterious and destructive device than most folks, by virtue of the location within our city of a research laboratory known as "The Magnetic Control Corporation," which is developing a traffic signal light which operates by magnetic control occasioned by the passing above a device concealed beneath the pavement of a mass of iron, as in the case of an automobile, which causes a magnetic field within the device to become unbalanced and thereby throwing a switch to operate a traffic light.

It is most probable that the German "Magnetic mine" operates on the same basic principle. The mine itself is not attracted to the steel hull of the ship by magnetism, but the iron mass of the ship passing nearby most likely unbalances a delicate magnetic field within the mine, establishing electrical contacts which releases and brings the mine to the surface, or explodes it where it is, if designed for shallow water use, as seems to be the case is the recent indiscriminate sowing of mines by Germany.

It may be, therefore, that our local research laboratory has something more vital to the national welfare than a mere device to control traffic and that they may eventually make a substantial contribution to national defence. In any event we are proud to have this quiet little research laboratory in our midst as a local institution, and we wish them much success in their experimentation.

COMMISSIONED AS LIEUTENANT

The following clipping appeared in the Denver, Colo., paper: "Dr. Otis W. Snyder, 1065 Gaylord St., yesterday was one of 23 physicians commissioned first lieutenants in the Army Medical Corps, it was announced at the War Department in Washington." We understand that Dr. and Mrs. Snyder expect to leave for Ft. Sam Houston today.

Dr. Snyder has visited here different times and is the son of Dr. Harvey W. Snyder of Denver, Colorado, who has many friends in Prince William County and is the brother of Mrs. L. J. Bowman, W. W. and J. C. Snyder of Nokesville.

Mr. Jackie Wetherall, age 9, proved himself a very good hunter when he killed his first bird on a recent hunting trip to Madison County, Va.

BOXWOOD PLANTS

USED AS PRIZES

Historic boxwood plants taken from the originals imported from England and planted by President James Monroe in the famous gardens at "Ashlawn," Charlottesville, Va., will be donated by Mrs. Jay Winston Johns, the present owner, for the exhibit and sale of rural arts and crafts, produce and Christmas greens which the Woman's National Farm & Garden Association will sponsor for the benefit of its agricultural scholarship fund on December 7th, 8th and 9th, at the Virginia Public Service Company auditorium, Alexandria, Va. Also rooted ivy slips taken from the vines at "Monticello," home of President Jefferson, and from the "Serpentine Wall" at the University of Virginia will be given by Mrs. Murray Boocock, National President of the Association.

The exhibit will include some of the American rural arts and crafts displayed at the London meeting of the Associated Country Women of the World, last June, and many beautiful articles of native handicraft are expected to be loaned by the Washington Diplomatic representatives of other countries which participated in the London meeting.

LUCY MAY PAYNE

Mrs. Lucy May Payne, age 84, widow of Melvin Mayo Payne, a highly respected and beloved citizen of the Clifton neighborhood, died at her late residence there last Friday morning. She had lived in this community for 40 years.

She was the daughter of James Lewis and Lucy B. M. Fitzhugh Cross and was born at the family home near Cub Run, Fairfax County. Her parents were both natives of Fairfax County.

She is survived by two sisters, Miss Mollie Cross, of Clifton Station and Mrs. Fannie Whaley, of Washington, D. C., and one brother, James Cross, of Tulsa, Okla.

Funeral services were conducted at the Clifton Presbyterian Church on Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. Carl Maxwell, pastor of the Fairfax Methodist Church, officiated, assisted by the rector of the Clifton Church, Rev. J. M. DeChant. Interment was in the Clifton cemetery.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Robert Wrenn, James Cross, H. J. Hoppe, Eppa Watkins, Otto Saunders and Arthur Cross.

SLEEPLESS-NERVOUS-UPSET-SORE?

FROM COUGHS DUE TO COLD TRY ONE DOSE RELIEF

The very first spoonful of pleasant tasting Menth-Mulsion will give you expected relief, or your druggist will return your money. Menth-Mulsion is a scientific compound of also important ingredients without narcotics or opiates. Children like its taste, and the first dose will show you why it is different, so soothing, and how fast it puts pleasant medicated vapors into the bronchial passages to relieve that stuffy-up feeling and stop coughing immediately. Menth-Mulsion, now only 75c. Thousands are finding relief—with Menth-Mulsion.

MENTH-MULSION

APPLE MARMALADE

Pare the apples, put through a food chopper, and to 3 pounds of fruit use 1-1/2 pounds of sugar. Cook slowly until stiff enough not to run when placed on a cold saucer as a test. Spices, as cinnamon, cloves, ginger, may be added to suit taste. A can of grated pineapple added to the apples makes a most delicious flavor. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to loosen germ laden phlegm, increase secretion and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding that you are to like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

WATERFALL

After all Thanksgiving day was only one day earlier than last year. While many objected to our President changing a precedent, we are sure he was thinking of doing the housewives a favor, in not crowding too much into one short month. Now we have a whole week more to prepare for Christmas. For which we thank our wise President.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pickett and son, George of Clarendon, were neighborhood visitors Thursday afternoon. Mr. Pickett, who was born and reared in this community, says nothing gives him more pleasure than to return occasionally to the scenes of his childhood to visit old friends, and the church where his father was a deacon most of his adult life.

Mrs. R. R. Smith is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Barnes, in Arlington. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are proud grand-parents of their first grandson, Robert Barnes, who arrived Friday, November 10, via Georgetown hospital.

Mrs. R. J. Wayland and children, of Occoquan, spent Thanksgiving day with her parents. Others who joined the family at the festive board, were Mrs. Alice Wright and Mr. Barton Padgett of Washington and Miss Florence Smith.

Mrs. Albert Gaines of Falls Church, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bell, several days last week.

Mrs. W. W. Wright returned on Thursday evening from an extended visit in Alabama.

Edward, Robert, and Carroll Wright, who are attending St. Paul's school for boys in Baltimore, spent Thanksgiving holiday with their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wright, and other friends in neighborhood.

Mrs. T. B. Thomas is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Bell, also her daughters, Mrs. Nim Lightner and Mrs. Jack Hunt; Mr. and Mrs. Hunt and small son are planning to leave for California, Wednesday, Nov. 29th, to spend the winter.

Charles Sinclair, Jr., of Aurora Hills, visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gossom, over the week end.

The new highway being built parallel to the old Carolina road is under way and there are no vacant houses in these parts. All have been rented to employees of the highway department and temporary buildings have been erected for their use, also convict camps near Hickory Grove.

Folks don't forget services Sunday 11 A.M., at Antioch. Also, remember, if every one stayed away for some excuse, it would be just too bad, wouldn't it?

BRENTSVILLE

Thanksgiving services were conducted last Sunday morning by Rev. J. A. Bowman.

Services will be held at the usual hour next Sunday night.

Lights have been installed in the church, so every one come out see them used for the first time.

Bells have been ringing in the neighborhood. We think they are wedding-bells, but it is near Christmas. One can never tell.

The Home Demonstration club met in the Old Court House last week.

Mr. "Redd" was a recent visitor at the home of Mr. J. T. Bean.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Keys entertained a number of relatives on Sunday.

Mrs. Lillie Keys is able to get around on her ankle which she had the misfortune to break several weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Dove of Nokesville, were recent visitors at her home.

NOKESVILLE

The many friends here of Mrs. Virginia Swank Smith of Stewartville, N. J., are glad to hear that she is at home from the hospital and is getting along so nicely.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. S. S. Stultz still remains ill at her home in Nokesville, we hope she will soon be well again.

Miss Elsie Gough spent her Thanksgiving holidays in Baltimore, Maryland.

Mr. Beamer, agricultural teacher of Brentsville District High School, underwent a tonsil operation at the University hospital in Charlottesville, during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hale and Frances Hale attended the V. P. I. and V. M. I. football game in Roanoke on Thanksgiving day.

Miss Virginia Hyde visited in Alexandria, Va. She also attended the W. H. I. football game.

The following students spent Thanksgiving holidays at home: Messrs. William Hale, Stanley Harp, Selwyn Smith, John Bear, Harry Bear, and Ralph Newman from V. P. I. Misses. Margaret Mayhugh, Minnie Squires from Madison, Janet Trennis from Mary Washington college, Letha Foster and Cornelia Miller from Bridgewater.

The Junior Farmers basketball team played Bridgewater Freshman team on Friday, November 24. Although the team was defeated the boys reported a very exciting and interesting trip.

Miss Lois Sloop spent Thanksgiving at her home in Harrisonburg, Va.

Miss Hazel Ritchie spent Thanksgiving at Bealton, Va., with her parents.

REDSKIN INVASION

When the Washington Redskins move into the Polo Grounds on Sunday, December 3, to play the New York Giants for the Eastern division championship of the National Football League some 10,000 inhabitants of the Capital and its immediate vicinity will be in the stands rooting for them.

An interesting advance story of the Redskin-Giant game will appear in The Sunday Star, December 3, the day of the big game, adv.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

OCOQUAN

AND VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Hall of Occoquan, spent the week end at Luray, Va., as the guests of Mrs. Hall's mother and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Todd Wekk and family of Occoquan, spent the week end visiting their folks in North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lambert and Dr. and Mrs. Bogikes of Woodbridge, attended a baseball celebration in Stafford, Va., on Saturday night. Mr. Lambert plays on the Quantico Indians Team, a member of the inter-community teams.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Brunt of Occoquan, spent Thanksgiving day in Alexandria as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. McClaskey of New Alex.

Mr. Aleck Williams of Colchester, and Mr. Herbert Haar, Jr., of Lorton, who are away in school, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with their respective parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilcher of Occoquan, were guests at a Buffet Supper on Sunday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sinclair in Manassas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Leary off Washington, D. C., and Mrs. C. Lee Starkweather of Occoquan and Mr. Charles Critcher of Lorton, were Thanksgiving day guests of Capt. and Mrs. T. F. Joyce in Occoquan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Petellat of Occoquan, has as guests on Thanksgiving day, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ford of Baltimore, Md., and Mr. William Genuine of Occoquan.

Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Wilcher of Laurel, Md., and the Misses Helen and Geraldine Wilcher of Washington, D. C., and Mr. Ralph Griggs of Washington, D. C., were Thanksgiving Day guests of Mrs. F. W. Hornbaker and family in Occoquan.

Mr. A. B. Rogers of Occoquan, spend Thanksgiving holidays with his relatives in Orange, Va. Mr. Rogers is the amiable postmaster in Occoquan. His assistant, Mrs. Fred Woodard took very good care of our mail matter in the absence of the P.M.

The Big Game Hunters; Messrs. E. R. Shanklin, H. L. Mooney, R. E. Wayland and Capt. Tacey mentioned in the last issue of the Journal, killed TWO BIG BEARS; one half a bear each. They were real big fellows too. Congratulations to you, hunters.

There will be a TURKEY SUPPER at Occoquan High School on December 2nd. Don't miss it. It will be the BEST EVER.

THE YEARLING
Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings

"The Yearling" was written by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings, author of "South Moon Under."

"The Yearling" is the story of Jody Baxter, son of the backwoods farmer and huntsman, Penny Baxter. The Baxters lived on a piece of land in the Florida scrubs, known as Baxter's Island. Their nearest neighbors were a family of rough people who lived on Forrester's Island, the land next to Baxter's Island. The youngest Forrester was a little crippled boy named Fodderwing.

All of his life Jody had wanted an animal for a pet, but his mother would not let him have one, no matter how hard he pleaded with her.

One day Jody found a fawn. He took it home and asked his mother whether or not he might keep it. He told her that it was only fair for him to raise it since his father had killed the doe. Finally she consented to let him have it. But even a fawn needs a name. Since Jody could think of no suitable name, he went to see Fodderwing. Surely Fodderwing would be able to think of a name!

When Jody reached the Forrester's home, he found that Fodderwing was dead. He was very mournful over the death of his friend. He told Ma Forrester why he had come. Then she told him that Fodderwing, before he died, had named the fawn Flag.

That evening Penny came over. Finding that Fodderwing was dead, he promised to stay until the next day when the little crippled boy was to be buried.

At the grave next morning, the Forresters, who could not pray, asked Penny to say a few words over the body. Although the prayer was very simple and in the native vernacular, it was very touching.

The book was very interesting because of its vivid description of the Florida scrub lands and the backwoods hunt, the tender relations between Jody and his fawn, and the excellent use of the native vernacular.

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner Carnegie Library.

Charles M. Beahm has just been named rural route carrier for Nokesville and completed the necessary arrangements to take over the work at once.

IN MEMORIAM
In sad and loving remembrance of our darling baby boy, Stanley Ray Carter, who departed from us one year ago, November 28, 1938.

One sad and lonely year has passed Since my great sorrow fell. The shock that I received that morning I still remember well.

My heart still aches with sadness My eyes have shed many tears. But as long as life, my heart shall hold Your memory ever dear.

And over your grave my loving grief, I shed many a silent tear In my heart your memory lingers Sweetly, tender fond and true. There is not a day dear (Baby Ray) That we do not think of you.

My heart has been crushed and wounded; This world is so lonely and sad. My life would be much brighter if you were here. Let's now gloomy and sad. Gone but not forgotten.

His devoted Mother and Father, Sister and Brother, Ralph and Louise.

BATTLE OF THE CENTURY

On Friday night, December 8 the married men of Manassas, will take on the single men in a basketball contest. This game should be the most spectacular contest ever set before the public this year. Any one who witnessed the bruising, bone-crushing, breath taking spectacle last year certainly would not turn down an opportunity to witness an even more exciting performance this year.

The married men have had their most capable talent scout, "Dan Cupid" on the go all year, and good old "Dan" has come back with new material for the "ball and chain" squad. Any married man in Manassas who can play basket ball report to the high school gym., Monday night at 7:00 P.M. In case of any doubt a marriage certificate must be offered as proof.

The "free lancers" are in a fine shape and say that it will be a tough battle and that the married gents have to show them. The married men say they have a few tricks up their sleeve and Friday night, December 8 will be proof enough.

The "ball and chain" squad shall have performing for you such outstanding stars as: "Canvas Back" Lynn, "Rough and Ready" Leith, "Shorty" Vetter, "Pitt" em in Saunders, "Ace" Adamson, "Dead eye" (Herb) Saunders, "Limpy" Litwin, "Eagle eye" McBride, and others.

The "Bachelor gang" will shall present such super performers as, "Bump" Smith, "Flash" Roszelle, "Push" Worley, "Baldy" Lynn, "Sleepy" Byrd, "Mokey" Miller, "Shag" Ritter, and others.

Please for your own sake don't miss this under estimated battle of the bruisers. For the infinitesimal compensation of a few cents, we present to you a three ring circus rolled into one.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT SUDLEY
The Woman's Missionary Society will hold a special service at Sudley Church Sunday morning at 11:00. All members please attend. A Week of Prayer offering will be made at this time.

WOODBIDGE

Mr. William Sullivan got shot the 22nd when one of the men shot at one of the U. S. guards. He was hit in the neck and shoulders, and was treated at Alexandria hospital. He is able to go around now.
