DEMOCRATS HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Hear Encouraging Talks From Prominent Guests

Despite the intense cold last Thursday evening, nearly 100 young Democrats and their guests assembled in the auditorium of the Manassas High School to celebrate their annual banquet.

The tables were beautifully decorated with yellow tapers and beautiful bouquets of cut flowers. The assembly was called to order by the President P. A. Lewis. Invocation was then given by Rev. J. F. Burke, after which everyone sang a verse of "America." Miss Rose Ratcliffe presided at the piano.

Following a delightful repast, which was served by the Parent-Teacher Association assisted by the Home Economics Department, President Lewis gave a brief but hearty welcome to everyone present. He then called on Commonwealth's Attorney, W. Hill Brown, Jr., to present the officers. This was done in due form and style and the Club was made acquainted with all officers present.

Arriving somewhat late was Hon. John T. Duval, of Williamsburg, State President of the Young Democrats, who was introduced by former Club President William T. Sweeney.

Mr. Duval pleaded not guilty to having prepared any sort of speech. His remarks were nevertheless quite entertaining, a good portion being devoted to humorous stories.

He discussed in some detail the committee organization in the state. Especially did he congratulate the Americanization Committee, of which Miss Nancy Lynn of the local Club is a member.

His whole talk was a very warm and sociable little chat and it got right into the hearts of all of his listeners. His anecdote concerning the Republicans particularly drew much mirth and laughter.

Hon. C. Lacey Compton, Trial Justice of the County and a member of the Club, next had the duty of introducing the official visitors present. Two of the three invited were not there to answer their names, one (E. R. Conner) responding by letter and the other Mr. Charles R. Fenwick, delegate from Arlington County, not arriving until after adjournment.

State Senator W. D. Medley gave a very timely address mentioning especially the new budget. One item of this on which he enlarged, was the proposed increase in teachers' salaries.

Speaking more generally of the work of the Young Democratic Clubs, Mr. Medley lauded the real democracy of the United States, praising the privilege of freedom in having such groups meet in a free country as the one he was then addressing.

Mr. Medley, who had endeared himself very much to the people of Prince William County, was heartily applauded by his audience, who were more than glad to see and hear him.

President Lewis then called on visiting officials, past club presidents and all county officers.

John A. Curry, State Secretary, lauded the work of the local club and that of Miss Nancy Lynn, College Secretary, particularly.

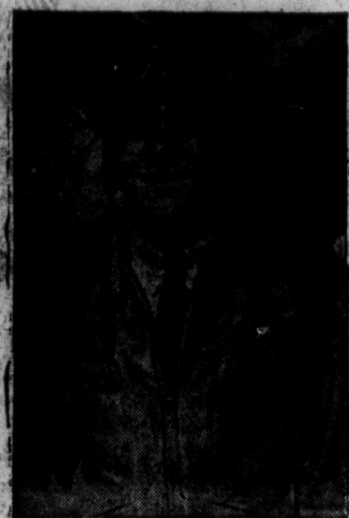

Those making a bow in response to their names were Miss Nancy Lynn, College Secretary, Miss Margaret Banks, of Orange, Vice chairman of the Eighth District, Raymond Larcombe, of Warrenton, Eighth District Chairman of 1939, John McCauley, of East Falls Church, past President of the Falls Church Club, and Mr. Henry DeJarnette, President of the Orange and Mrs. W. D. Taylor, past President of the local club.

At the last minute John A. K. Donovan, Eighth District Chairman this year, phoned his regrets at being unable to attend the meeting.

County officials present were Mr. Leamon Ledman, Clerk; and his Deputy, Mr. John Piercy; Mr. R. M. Weir, Commissioner of the Revenue; Prof. R. C. Haydon, Division Superintendent of Schools; Mr. J. P. Kerlin, Sheriff; and Mr. C. B. Roland, Supervisor for Gainesville District.

The meeting closed with the singing of "God Bless America," Irving Berlin's patriotic air.

Officers of the 1940 Club are: President, P. A. Lewis; First Vice President, Mrs. Elizabeth Brower;

Sam Hottle

PILOT'S LICENSE TO MANASSAS BOY

Will Later Receive Commission In Reserve Corps

Sam Hottle, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hottle, of Manassas, has received his private pilot's license at the Dallas Aviation School, in Dallas, Texas, which is the first milestone in his aviation career.

Mr. Hottle is enrolled for a commercial pilot's course, which requires six months for completion, and will prepare him for a position flying an airplane anywhere for hire. Holders of this license usually do charter work or cross-country flying.

He plans to continue his studies for an eventual airline career.

During his school career in the Manassas High School, he was a member of the dramatic club and the student council. Subsequently he attended Washington and Lee University, where he majored in journalism. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi, social fraternity.

His long journey from home to study aviation was necessitated by the fact that Dallas occupies a strategic position for the aviation industry due to its climatic and geographic position in Texas. This section is practically free from fog, rain and sleet, and daily flights from the school are not impeded during the winter months.

This school was one of the nine civilian schools recently designated by the Secretary of War to give primary flight training to Army Air Corps flying cadets, and 140 of these army students are now studying at the Dallas Aviation School.

At the end of the training period the flying cadet may continue his army career or turn to commercial aviation. Many airline pilots received their training in the army or the navy.

REPORT OF BUILDING ASSOCIATION SHOWS STEADY GROWTH

At the annual shareholders' meeting of the Piedmont Federal Savings and Loan Association of Prince William County the following shareholders were elected to serve as directors of the Association for a term of three years: Mr. C. C. Cloe, Mr. J. M. Piercy, Mr. A. A. Hooff, Mr. C. B. Linton and Mr. W. Hill Brown, Jr. These gentlemen along with Mr. O. O. Holler, Mr. R. C. Haydon, Mr. G. C. Russell, Mr. Stanley A. Owens, Mr. W. E. Trusler and Mr. M. J. Hottle constitute the Board of Directors of the Association for the year 1940.

At an organization meeting of the Board of Directors held immediately after the shareholders' meeting the following officers were elected for the year 1940: Mr. C. C. Cloe, President. Messrs. W. E. Trusler and A. A. Hooff, Vice Presidents and Mr. W. Hill Brown, Jr., Secretary-Treasurer.

The annual report of the Association shows a steady growth and reveals that it has lent locally, approximately $200,000.00, and has investments of $162,080.50.

The Association has for the past year paid dividends at the rate of 4 per cent on all investments. Each investment account is insured up to $5,000.00 with the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Second Vice President, John Haggerty; Third Vice President, W. R. Free; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Walter Conner, and Sergeant-at-Arms, Charles W. Lewis.

STILL MARCHING FORWARD

This girl and boy, so well known in last year's "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign, are again being featured by the National Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday, in this year's drive for funds. Representing the legion of children in braces and the army of youths on crutches, they remain the unknown soldiers in America's war against the crippling disease.

PLANS BEING PERFECTED FOR BENEFIT BALL

The executive committee directing the President's Birthday Ball met at supper at the Hotel on Tuesday evening as the guests of the Chairman, Hon. W. Hill Brown, Jr. Plans were discussed in detail for the part that this affair will play in raising funds for such commendable work.

It should be generally known that one half of the funds secured in this way remain in the county for local work. The other half goes to the Warm Springs Foundation itself.

A very well known orchestra has been secured. Door prizes will be awarded and special features will be announced on the evening itself.

The date is February 2, (Friday of next week); the hour is ten o'clock, P. M., and the place, the Manassas High School gym.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS ENTERTAINING TALK ON SCHUBERT

Regardless of the bad weather and sickness the Music-Literature Section of the Manassas Woman's Club had a very enjoyable meeting on Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Fred Hynson.

Mrs. Lewis Carper entertained the group splendidly, giving a sketch of the short life of Franz Schubert, the first romantic composer and one of the most beloved of all times. His unfinished symphony held the audience spellbound, even though it was only recordings. By closing the eyes it was easy to imagine one's self in a large theatre listening to this wonderful work of a master genius. The hostesses, Mrs. Hynson and Mrs. Worth Peters, served enjoyable refreshments to this congenial group, the snow storm outside making it doubly pleasant and cozy inside.

The sponsors invite all farmers and other interested persons to come and be their guests. There is no admission charge.

DANCE AT DUMFRIES NEXT FRIDAY

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Dumfries School is having a dance at the school next Friday, February 2nd, from 9:30 P. M. to 1:30 A. M. The music will be furnished by a popular orchestra from Fredericksburg.

The Monday Afternoon Bridge Club met with Mrs. K. Jackson Ratcliffe this week. Mrs. H. T. Davies, Jr., won high score.

1939 WAS GOOD FOR BUSINESS

The banking institutions and other indices of business in this county report 1939 as a good year. Two of our banks paid special dividends in addition to the regular cash dividend, and also gave Christmas bonuses to their employees.

One day recently we were favored by a call from Mr. O. C. West, of the Railway's Express. Speaking not only in a local sense but for all of his contacts, Mr. West gave a good report on the business as being reported to him by his agents.

Business houses generally report the recent holiday trade as excellent. All of this news is very cheering for a good start in 1940.

MRS. MARSTELLER HOSTESS TO GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. E. H. Marsteller entertained at luncheon on Tuesday. Miss Lea Bouligny, Mrs. Gwynn Tompkins, and Mrs. P. G. Marsteller, all of Warrenton.

Miss Bouligny, headmistress of the Warrenton County School, was guest speaker at the Manassas Garden Club meeting, held that afternoon with Mrs. Marsteller.

Miss Bouligny's lecture on how to grow a garden, was most interesting and helpful. Other guests present were Mrs. Stuart Gibson, Miss Elinor Gibson, Mrs. Hunton Tiffany, and Mrs. Morgan, from Morgantown, West Virginia.

Mrs. Dillake being absent on account of illness, Mrs. Marsteller presided over the meeting. Five dollars was voted to be given the Blacksburg Arboretum.

V. P. S. GETS O. K. TO CONTRACT NEW PLANT

At a regular meeting of the Alexandria City Council, the application for a permit to build a $2,000,000 power plant to supplement the present facilities of the Virginia Public Service Company, was approved.

This 15,000 KW generating plant, on which construction will begin as soon as engineers can order material, will make available for the people of Northern Virginia extra capacity to act as a safeguard against overloads and interruptions.

GARDEN CLUB SPONSORS ILLUSTRATED LECTURES

All garden lovers should try to take advantage of the opportunity to attend the two illustrated lectures, one showing gardens in Tennessee and the other instruction in the art of table arrangement, which are being shown at Pitts' Movie Theatre, Manassas, on Tuesday afternoon, January 30th, beginning at 2:00 P. M.

The Manassas Garden Club is sponsoring the showing and the ladies cordially invited you to be their guests.

The County Treasurer is anxious to have all citizens owning dogs to remember that the dog license fees were actually due on January 1st. The period of grace ends on February 1st. Game Warden Brower states that the law will be strictly enforced after this time.

In view of the inclement weather and uncertainty of travel dog owners should not put off getting tags until the last minute.

MANASSAS HIGH GETTING IN FORM

Local School Humbles Herndon

The Manassas High School leather ning from Herndon. Despite the fact tappers hit mid-season stride in win that the local team had three of its veteran members laid up with sickness or injury, the squad came through in fine style.

The local boys took the lead in the first quarter, 20 to 12, and never were in much trouble for the rest of the game. The score at the half was 26 to 16.

Much credit is due to the first starting five boys, since they never had played together as a team. They exhibited fine ball handling and passing and were on the aggressive the full period. Coach Litwin was quite satisfied with this lineup and believes that the squad will prove some up and coming basketballers. The team did miss the playing of Kite Roseberry, Guy Bowers and Eugene Curtis, but as to the game itself showed that the team suffered no serious loss. It is hoped that the full squad will be in fine shape for the next game.

The big gun of the game was acting captain "Daisy" Knox, who pushed no less than 10 field goals for 20 points.

MANASSAS GIRLS ROUT HERNDON IN SECOND HALF

The present girls' basketball teams of Manassas High School promises to be one of the best war to represent the high school as they continue to win games from their opponents.

Last Friday night the Herndon lassies journeyed to our fair city confident of a win, but as the game started the Manassas team began to roll and the spirit was lost by the visitors. The home team continued to show the same brilliance that has carried them to victories over their past opponents.

The whole team plays with the smoothness of a well oiled machine and in this way comes out victorious.

The Herndon girls made a game of it for the first quarter which ended with the score tied 2-2. But from this point on the local team forged on to their third victory of the season.

Thirteen girls took part in the game with each showing promise of making good players.

Be sure to be on hand Friday night to see your own boys and girls play. They need your support.

PHONE WORKERS RESTORE SERVICE

Chatham Fire Proves Severe Test For Rapid Action

The story of how fire spread from an adjoining building and destroyed the Chatham telephone office early the day before Christmas, putting out of operation the entire Chatham telephone system, of how telephone men and women rallied to meet the emergency, of how temporary communication with Danville and the outside world was quickly reestablished, and of how a complete new temporary system was put in service a little more than forty-eight hours after the interruption began, is one of the most dramatic episodes in Virginia telephone history.

While the fire was still raging preparations for the reestablishment of service began. Two emergency telephones were installed in the Chatham hotel, connected with Danville by means of long distance lines, and restoring communication with the outside world. District and company headquarters quickly got on the job, arranging to send in trained men, needed material, and experienced operators.

A hurry call was made to the Kearny, New Jersey plant of the Western Electric Company, suppliers for the Bell System. It was Sunday morning, the day before Christmas, and the plant was closed, but men were summoned, the plant opened, and a switchboard was speeding south in a few hours.

Meanwhile at Chatham two operators with the help of a messenger and two taxicabs were keeping long distance messages flowing in and out of the town, and through their efforts not a single long distance call went uncompleted during the emergency. Engineers worked to assemble all the necessary generating apparatus, ringing machinery, distributing frames, wire, cable and miscellaneous apparatus which, together with switchboards, make up a telephone central office. A vacant building was procured and splicers went to work bringing the telephone cables into the new location.

Christmas Eve came, usually a time of peace and quiet, but tonight there was work to do, and through the night it went on. Christmas morning the switchboard arrived and a crew of skilled workers, which by this time had grown to twenty-five men, worked to install it. But the Christmas spirit would not be downed in spite of the hard task. The mayor and his wife sent a plate of fruit cake to the operators, the friendly druggist supplied refreshing drinks, and at dinner time the entire force were served a thirty-minute Christmas dinner, the only bit of Christmas which the emergency permitted.

All day long and all through Christmas night the work was rushed and on the following morning, just a little over forty-eight hours after the exchange was silenced, operators were calling each telephone to say "Your service is working again." For hours then the wires hummed as Chatham subscribers, surprised and delighted at the speed with which service had been restored, poured a flood of calls through the new exchange.

As for the thirty telephone men and women who had been summoned from their homes and their Christmas festivities by the call of duty, they could all take the trail homeward amply repaid for their interrupted Christmas by the satisfaction of a job well done and the thanks of a grateful community.

"LOST HORIZON"
James Hilton

With a story and setting offering almost incredible possibilities, James Hilton has put together a most remarkable novel. This narrative, which won the Hawthornden Prize, was published by Grosset and Dunlap and copyrighted in 1933.

This novel is a story of three men and a woman estranged in a most magnificent but strange monastery. The atmosphere of the surroundings created in the people of the lamasery a prolonged life; therefore, the monks lived many, many, years. The four visitors, with the exception of a young man, found the place to be most enjoyable and remarkable. After a few months the High Lama of the monastery received one of the visitors; the visitor was told of the history of the lamasery and was practically tricked into becoming one of the monks. Finally two of the visitors returned home and two remain—one to evade police, the other to teach the Christian religion.

The setting takes place in the snow-peaked mountains of Tibet during the nineteenth century. Though the mountains were very high, the climate was very agreeable.

Mr. Conway, the main character, was more or less the leader of the four unfortunate people. They looked upon him for their confidence, and his ability to keep them out of trouble. When arriving at the monastery, he found the life to be most enjoyable. Being a man of few cares, he cared not whether he returned to civilization again. As a boy, he was tall and extremely good looking, and excelled not only in athletics but also in scholarship. At the lamasery he was fond of reading and always spent his time in the best practical manner. He was an ardent lover of music, had few friends, and while at the monastery had almost persuaded himself to become a monk. Through his devotion to one of his friends, he finally escaped from the lamasery.

The author of this haunting novel is James Hilton, an Englishman, who wrote also the popular "Goodbye Mr. Chips." These two novels prove that he is very imaginative and versatile. Hilton, who is considered an author without temperament, is an ardent advocate of journalistic training for authors.

"Lost Horizon" is a book which enchants the reader so much that he actually can place himself in the same position as the characters. It does something to the reader which no other novel I have ever read can do. It appeals to the emotions, and holds one's attention throughout. It is well-expressed, depicts the lives of Tibetan monks, and the outcome of the story is very mysterious. It is a book very crisp and authoritative in style, haunting, and well worth one's reading.

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

THE WORLD AROUND US

By
O. J. Schuster

IT IS AMUSING how some good people are frightened by such words as Socialism, Public Ownership, Dictatorship, Un-Americanism, shouted by some pin-headed bully. It reminds us of the prim spinster who for 30 years had gotten down on hands and knees to look under her bed just before turning out the light to see if there might be a burglar hidden there. A prankish urchin who knew the lady's habit decided that 30 years of such persistent effort ought to be rewarded with success. So he donned some false whiskers and crept under the bed just before the lady retired to her room. When, with candle in hand, she peered under the bed and beheld those whiskers her frantic screams brought the whole household to her room. The burglar was pulled out and shorn of his disguise. The roars of laughter that followed the discovery of the bad boy shook the rafters. That laughter angered the spinster but it also cured her of her stupid fear—nothing but laughter could have done so.

SUCH BAD BOYS ARE A BLESSING to society. They shake a good many silly fears out of our heads, but we have plenty of stupid notions left—our fear, for instance, to look Public Ownership squarely in the face. It's better to examine the thing carefully than to run blindly away from it, as most people did last November when they were asked to vote on the question of public versus private electric light and power. We are not now concerned whether the decision was or was not best. We just regret there wasn't enough light thrown on the matter to reveal the bad boy under the bed, courage enough to pull off his whiskers, and laughter big and loud enough to rid us of our fears.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP AND OPERATION are everywhere about us. We walk on public sidewalks and streets and roads to the public school, the courthouse, the publicly owned and operated postoffice, the library, the public parks, and a score of other publicly owned and operated property. We have public art galleries, museums, asylums, harbors, docks, canals, and ferries. The United States Postal Service is said to be the biggest single business concern in the world. In the early period of our republic only the rich could afford to send letters because private carriers charged such high rates. Now the government carries our letter not only over the length and breadth of this large country but to most parts of the world at a mere rate of three cents.

THIS POSTAL SERVICE of the United States is really tremendous, it has an annual turnover of more than $8,000,000,000. It has taken on banking services of vast extent. It sells securities for us, collects debts, serves as advertising agents, operates the best savings banks in the country. And all this vast business is carried on more economically and efficiently than any private business approaching it in size. In spite of the low cost for mail service and the subsidies to newspapers and other publications this government owned and operated business under proper accounting nets a profit of more than fifteen million dollars a year.

THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT owns and operates the biggest electric light and power projects in the world, producing and distributing current for service to the people and not for private profit. The Grand Coulee project in the state of Washington alone represents a capital investment, when completed, of about $400,000,000. It is operated on a sound business basis, will not only pay for itself in dollars and cents but will yield a net return that will reduce public taxes. And, better still, it will turn a desert of about a million and a quarter acres into one of the finest agricultural sections of the country, giving homes and secure incomes to half a million people.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH at the Jackson Day dinner this week reminds us of a story told of David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford, Jr., University, about "Teddy" Roosevelt who was President at that time. In an address Dr. Jordan said:

"Some years ago when Mr. Roosevelt and I were boys together, he told me a story of his experience with a New York politician. This man was a Democrat who was working secretly for the election of a Republican. Mr. Roosevelt was surprised at this but the politician explained: 'You are a young man, Mr. Roosevelt, but when you are as old as I am you will know there is no politics in politics.' In other words, when it is a question of putting one's hand in the public's purse, the thin disguise of party and partisanship is laid off."

PARTY WHEEL-HORSES do not like F. D. R.'s nonpartisanship, but that is exactly what the people of the United States like in their president. The voters made that as clear as bright daylight in the election in 1936 when every state except Maine and Vermont gave Roosevelt a majority. The politicians have much to learn from the men and women who are independent of party politics and who do not worship at the shrine of Money. Rare indeed is the politician who can understand—much years ago. When the newspapers made a sensation of the fact, the young man made a public explanation, saying:

I refuse to accept the money because it is not mine. A system which starves thousands while hundreds are stuffed condemns itself. A system which leaves a sick woman helpless and offers its less appreciate—a young man, a Harvard man, who refused to accept a million dollars inherited from his father, a multimillionaire of Boston. That's what Charles Garland did some services to a healthy man condemns itself. It is such a system that offers me a million dollars.

"It is blind to the simplest truth known to every child, the truth that the hungry should be fed and the naked clothed. I have had to choose between the loss of private property and the law which is written in every human heart. I choose the one which I believe true."

THOSE WHO KNEW and loved Marie Tudor Garland, mother of Charles Garland, could easily understand the young man's refusal to be a parasite, even through the politicians could not. Thousands of other men have turned resolutely from the lure of great wealth. They were (and are, for their number steadily increases) wise enough great to understand that free, frank, reliable, and unselfish service brings a thousand times more joy and satisfaction than can inherited wealth.

CLARENCE SAUNDERS became a millionaire by developing a new type of grocery store, the Piggly-Wiggly, now a feature of the Sanitary Self-Service stores. Wall Street speculators wiggled their way into the Saunders' finances, got control of the business, and at 45 Clarence Saunders found himself penniless. Through he had lost every dollar, Saunders was wise enough to laugh over his vanished fortune. A few years later he had made a new start, although he was not rich he was happy. To a reporter he said:

COLDS Cause Discomfort

For quick relief from cold symptoms take 666

LIQUID-TABLETS-SALVE-NOSE DROPS

"My loss in Wall Street was the best thing that ever happened to me. It taught me to think, to look ahead and analyze the other fellow."

"I remake myself every day. I have absolutely quit living in the past. Why, I never think of money. If I had the reward in mind, I would never get anywhere. It's the fun, the battle, the game I am interested in. I want to be an active part of things. I don't want merely to be happy, if by that one means we should be content with everything. Why, I am happiest when I am uncrating vegetables and pottering around in the store."

THE ABLEST THINKERS of all past ages have practiced the same sound philosophy followed by Clarence Saunders. So did all the great prophets of religion, Jesus most of all.

Will Advertising Do Me Any Good?

Certainly, madam! Let us answer your question by pointing out some of the things advertising already has done for you and your family.

Advertising I given you new and better food, trade-marked to guarantee quality. It has brought you the pleasure of movies...made your automobile comfortable and safe...and given you labor-saving devices in your home.

Through advertising you have learned where and what to buy to save money. As a result of nationwide sales, possible only through the power of advertising, great laboratories and factories have been developed...giving you higher quality merchandise while prices have come rapidly lower. Hence, advertising has opened the door to developments which have freed you from kitchen drudgery...saved you from fatigue of long hours of washing, cleaning, baking.

Advertising has a direct effect on your income in two ways. First, you buy more for your money because large-scale manufacturing, possible only when advertising delivers quantity sales, brings prices down. Second, your income is larger because advertising makes jobs...and when jobs are plentiful all incomes are higher.

To eliminate advertising is to destroy American enterprise and the American Way of Living.

OCCOQUAN AND VICINITY

Mrs. Lindsey Dawson of Deep Hole Farm, Woodbridge and her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Riley of Occoquan, have gone to Florida to spend several weeks.

Miss Margaret Giles of Washington, D. C., was the week end guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lambert in Woodbridge.

Miss Natalie Lieberman of Washington, D. C., was the week end guest of Miss Cynthia Lacy in Occoquan.

We are sorry to report that two of our good citizens and friends are reported on the sick list: Mr. Harvey M. Janney, and Mr. H. Caldwell Slack. We hope they will soon be well. Also reported on the sick list is Miss Mary Davis of Occoquan.

This community is very much pleased in knowing that a real Boy Scout Troop, (Troop No. 120 of Occoquan, Va.) has received its charter and is now a Full Pledged Boy Scout Troop. The occasion of getting the charter was a grand event, held at the Occoquan District High School auditorium on Thursday, January 18th. Many parents and friends of the Troop attended the presentation of the charter, evidencing the fullest support for the future support of the Troop.

Mr. Freeman, assistant Scout Executive of the National Capitol area council, presented the charter. Mr. Freeman was introduced by Mr. C. P. Critcher, assistant Scout Master of Troop No. 120. Mr. Freeman also presented each of the committeemen with their membership cards, and Mr. Taylor, Scout Master with the Troop charter. Mr. T. Webb, Troop Committee Chairman, gave a short address, and also spoke in behalf of the institutional body, the P. T. A. of Occoquan District High School, the sponsors of the Troop.

Mr. Taylor, Scout Master and Mr. Critcher, assistant, gave short talks on scouting, and presented the following eleven Scouts with Tenderfoot Badges and membership cards: Henry Arrington, Thomas Arrington, Carl Eike, Jr., David Eike; Walter Haislip, Jr., Robert Hammill, Harvey (Mack) Janney; John Musselman, Robert Payne, William Timms and Ralph Ward. The meeting was then turned over to Mr. Sturges, Scout Master of the explorers patrol of Vienna, Va., Scout Troop.

Mr. Sturges' Troop gave a demonstration of second class test requirements, which was very interesting and very instructive to all present, and very instructive to the boys of Troop No. 120. The Occoquan Troop then gave a demonstration in: The Fireman's three man carry, in which the patient was supposed to have an injured back or neck. They also demonstrated various rope knots with Scout John Musselman in charge. Captain Joyce commented on the progress the Troop had made in the past two months during which time it has been organized. The meeting was dismissed with the Scout Sign, Scout Oath, Bugle Call and taps, at which the National Colors were presented. Following are the troop committeemen: Messrs. T. M. Webb, Howard Petellat, Henry S. Davis, Elmer E. Payne, H. L. Mooney, E. R. Shanklin and Mr. John of the high school faculty. Mr. Davis is treasurer.

Scout meetings are held each Thursday evening at 7:30, at the firehouse in Occoquan. A cordial invitation is extended to all boys over TWELVE years of age to visit the troop meetings, and to join if they so desire. The following boys belong to the troop, and are working to pass their tenderfoot test: Leroy Arrington, Fred Beach, Carl Lynn, Douglas McKenzie, Richard McKenzie, Joseph McMahan, John Webb, Ezelle Williams, John Dawson, Bernard Green, Robert Tyrrell and Amos Musselman.

This is a grand opportunity to the boys of the community to get together under well qualified leaders and learn something that will benefit them all through their lives.

Mr. Taylor and Mr. Critcher are to be congratulated on their untiring efforts to get the troop organized, obtain a charter for the troop, and on getting the boys of the community doing something beneficial to them, and to the community as well.

No better recommendation could be given Boy Scouts than that of a Juvenile Court Judge of one of our large cities when he stated: That thousands of boys had been brought before him for various offenses, but that a Boy Scout had never appeared before him for trial. GOOD FOR THE BOY SCOUTS.

At an election of vestry for Pohick Church held on January 21, 1940, the following vestrymen were elected: Mr. E. R. White, Springfield; Capt. Thomas F. Joyce, Occoquan; Mr. Herbert T. Baker, Lorton; Dr. William P. Caton, Accotink; Mr. Ben. F. Nevitt, Ox Road; Mr. H. S. Claggett, Lorton; Mr. Albert W. Smith, Newington; Mr. Herbert R. Haar, Lorton; Mr. N. S. Lambert, Woodbridge; Mr. T. B. Mason, Accotink; Mr. Keary L. Hill, Arlington; and Judge John W. Price, Broadview, on

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYERIf parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a precious heritage to them in their lives.
The wicked flee when no man pursueth; but the righteous are bold as a lion. Proverbs 28:1.

SENATOR BORAH

In the death of the veteran Senator from Idaho the world loses a forceful and picturesque personality and perhaps the outstanding obstructionist of modern times.

There are relatively few great legislative accomplishments of Congress which may be accredited to effective championship of the deceased "Lion of Idaho," but there are many proposals of vast significance which have been unable to survive his energetic opposition. He was distinctly an antagonist, not a protagonist.

More than any other figure in the world, Senator Borah was responsible for the withdrawal of the United States from the League of Nations, which this country, under the leadership of President Wilson, organized, and then hopelessly crippled by refusal to join. The present generation may not be able to accurately judge the ultimate effect of this action upon the welfare of humanity, but, right or wrong, this was the outstanding contribution of Senator Borah to world history.

The South loses a valuable friend, as Senator Borah was a firm believer in States Rights and was preparing to devote his great forensic power to our defense against the effort now being made by the New Deal to destroy the friendly relationship between the races in the South in order to gain political advantage in the North.

However, absolute individualism, such as characterized the public life of the Senator from Idaho, must of necessity create many unfortunate hazards for mankind, as has resulted from the honest, but certainly misguided zeal which impelled the Senator to champion recognition of Russia by the United States, and postponement of the Arms Embargo Repeal until after war occurred in Europe.

Thus we find that an analysis of this great personality brings a confusing array of contradictions so baffling as to raise a question as to the ultimate value of such a life. But when the fine character of the man himself is taken into the consideration with its inspiration of high idealism in public life, an affirmative answer must follow and we may feel assured that his was a genuine contribution to the welfare of mankind.

THE SOUTH HONORS ITS HEROES

Today the Southland pauses in all its phases of public and private life to pay homage to two of its great heroes, Lee and Jackson. Loyal groups of Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy are meeting to celebrate in the evening with banquets and dances, for it is not a period of mourning but one of rejoicing.

With the world around us tottering in its very idealisms because of jealousy and hatred, these two figures stand out in the sublime as exponents of a land which gave to the universe some of its greatest champions of freedom and justice.

We witness a spectacle in the frozen wastes of Europe not unlike the one which took place in our own borders three quarters of a century ago and less. Our people did not break down as did the unhappy people of Germany nor did they have the assistance that comes from worldwide efforts of such organizations as the Red Cross nor private rehabilitation work such as the Finnish relief.

Today as at the very beginning of the history of the United States the Southland with its high regard for the same principles which brought the United States into existence is guarding the same portals. It does not need lectures nor treaties on the subject for it is the second nature of its citizens.

All hail to Lee and Jackson! All hail to the men and women of their day who stood foursquare in the defense of the principles of democracy. May we ever go to them for inspiration and for comfort in our own trials and problems! In spirit they will always furnish the guiding light for our footsteps in the hour of need.

CHARLES EDWARD CLARKE

Mr. Charles Edward Clarke, aged 75, died at his home at Minnieville, on Saturday night after an illness of less than a week. He had been a resident of this community all his life, the son of John and Sophie Carter Clarke, and was born at Rock Hill in August 20, 1864. He had been an active farmer and merchant here since his youth.

On September 29, 1887, he married Katherine Sale Alexander, daughter of Thomas R. and Sarah Sale Alexander, of Pilgrim's Rest. Mrs. Clarke passed away only about one month before her husband, on April 22, 1939.

Three children survive, a daughter, Mrs. Lucille Kidwell, of Arlington, Va., and two sons, Paul and John Clarke, of Washington; a sister, Mrs. Frances Seelman, of Washington, D. C., his step-mother, Mrs. Fannie Shackelford; five grandchildren, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Elder A. J. Garland, of Washington, D. C., conducted the funeral at Greenwood Baptist Church on Tuesday, at 2:00 P. M. Interment was in the cemetery there.

The pallbearers were six nephews: Ewell Clarke, Harry Clarke, Warren Clarke, Lee Clarke and Allen Alexander.

In the passing of Mr. Clarke, the county has lost a most beloved citizen and Christian gentleman. His figure has been one long known in the substantial progress of the county. The community will find his place a hard one to fill.

How Credit is Born

BANK CREDIT comes into being in a perfectly natural way. Depositors bring their money to us for safekeeping and to obtain the advantages of a bank account. A smaller number of borrowers then come and obtain some of this money in the form of loans. The interest they pay provides part of our bank's earnings.

Two important facts thus become clear:

1. We are anxious to lend.
2. We lend our depositors' money, and thus must demand adequate security for loans.

Mrs. Eudora Ramsay Richardson, state director of the Virginia Writers' Project Administration, expects to be present at the February meeting and will have the completed portion of this history with her.

Gene Stratton Porter, celebrated novelist, was chosen for discussion at the February meeting.

The club members were urged to help make the local President's Birthday Ball a success, and reminded that one half of the proceeds are used in this county, half of this amount going to the library fund and the remainder to the Junior Woman's Club for support of the baby clinic.

The program was opened by the singing of Christmas Carols by little Chalice Haydon and Jackie Martin, with Betty Lee Jenkins at the piano. A beautiful religious reading, based on the twenty-third Psalm was given by Mrs. Frank Gue.

Mrs. R. A. Hutchison and Mrs. R. L. Byrd will be hostesses in February, with Mrs. Athey and Mrs. Martin in charge of the program.

DETAILS OF PLANS FOR A GREATER WASHINGTON

Rev. Marshall Milton, Centreville, Virginia. Dear Reverend:

Please convey to all of the officers and members of your church how deeply thankful the officers and members of Mt. Olive Baptist Church, at Uniontown, Va., are to be the happy recipients of the very splendid organ sent to us. (Also the light.)

We do appreciate the thoughtfulness and generosity as expressed by such a gift.

We are already organizing a choir, under competent leadership which in due time we shall invite you all to hear.

This would not be possible without the organ and lamps. For this great gift we heartily thank you.

Very res. yours, Rev. B. F. Payne, Mt. Olive Baptist Church.

Continuing his absorbing series of articles on plans for the future development of Washington, Joseph S. Edgerton, in the Washington Star of Sunday, January 21, turns his attention to the long-neglected area east of the Capitol.

Illustrated with official architects' drawings, the article gives full details of the long-range plans for improvements of the East Washington section—plans that include a huge stadium, a National Guard armory, various Federal buildings, major parkways and highways, etc. The plans will interest not only Washingtonians, but residents of nearby areas, and even occasional visitors to the Capital.

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING OF PROPOSED V. P. S. GENERATING PLANT

GETS IMPORTANT ASSIGNMENTS

State Senator from this District.

Committee assignments in the State Senate were not made until last week. "Bill" Medley, recognized as an experienced legislator has been assigned to three important posts.

1. General Laws; 2. Counties, Cities and Towns; 3. Courts of Justice; 4. Nominations.

"BABES IN ARMS"

Mickey and Judy sing, dance, do imitations and offer everything in heart-warming story.

America's boy and girl stars, present and future, have their day on the screen in "Babes in Arms," elaborate screen version of the Broadway musical success, which comes to the Pitts' Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, January 29 and 30.

Headed by the incomparable Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland, who are starred, more than two hundred of Hollywood's most talented youngsters combine to present what is said to be one of the most exciting and entertaining musicals of the year.

"Babes in Arms" is set in the period that saw the passing of vaudeville, and concerns those happy-go-lucky headliners and their children who saw that world totter and crumble about them when motion pictures shoved their two-a-day into the discard. But mostly it deals with the kids of these performers, who save the day when they crash Broadway on their own steam by the very talent that made the names of their fathers and mothers household words.

Besides Mickey Rooney and Judy June Preisser, Betty Jaynes, Douglas Garland, important roles are filled by McPhail, Leni Lynn and John Sheffield of "Tarzan Finds a Son!" fame. The adult members of the cast are Charles Winniger, Guy Kibbee, Grace Hayes, Rand Brooks and a host of odd-time vaudevillians, including such names as Irene Franklin, Harry Fox, Margaret Young and George McKay. Mickey plays the son of a famous vaudeville team who, born backstage at the Palace Theatre, inherits all his father's talent plus a modern viewpoint. He is the guiding light of the go-getting youngsters, while Judy is given her finest opportunity to date to display her talents as one of America's most accomplished juvenile entertainers.

Based on one of the most successful Broadway musical hits of the famous composer-author team of Rodgers and Hart, "Babes in Arms" has abundant opportunity for music, song and dancing logically fitted into a plot that is filled with pathos, comedy and, at times, real drama. Musical highlights include hits from the original Broadway production, new songs written especially for the screen play, and some never-to-be-

January 16th, at the regular meeting of the Alexandria City Council an application was filed by the Virginia Public Service Generating Company for a permit to build a $2,000,000 steam power generating plant to be located at Union and Wilkes Streets in the city of Alexandria. The application was held over until the meeting of the council on January 23, 1940.

The new concrete and brick building to house the generating machinery, is to be erected immediately adjoining the present Virginia Public Service Company plant and will abut that part of the present power station which was built in 1936.

In keeping with the growth of Northern Virginia, especially Alexandria and Arlington County, the need for extra capacity was felt months ago when plans for financing and erecting additional generating capacity were filed with the various governmental regulatory bodies having supervision over power company expansion. Approval has been received from the Virginia State Corporation Commission and the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission and all that is needed before actual construction of buildings and installation of machinery can begin, is the approval of the Alexandria City Council to the application filed last night.

The new plant will be modern throughout, incorporating the latest advances in engineering and designs to obtain highest economy. The new 15,000 KW turbine generator will be provided with a closed system of air cooling to eliminate any noise from this source. The 30,000 pound per hour boilers, together with underfeed stokers are designed for complete combustion in the furnace and in addition are equipped with electrical precipitators to prevent the emission of cinders and dust.

With the plant located in Northern Virginia, especially Alexandria and Arlington County, will be safeguarded and not subjected to interruptions which may occur with long transmission lines, particularly during periods of heavy electrical storms.

The above illustration shows the engineers' and architects' impressions of the proposed plant when tied in with the present Alexandria facilities and totaling 29,000 KW capacity. The building will be of concrete and brick construction to harmonize with the 1936 power plant. Special consideration is being given to the appearance of the plant so that it will be a worthwhile addition to the community. 42-inch intake pipe will be brought in from the Potomac River to a new screen house adjacent to the plant.

Months ago, when this extra capacity was found necessary, unsettled international affairs were looming up in the offing. Prices and delivery on heavy machinery were bound to be affected by such conditions. As a protection against advancing prices, as well as delay in delivery of material, options were obtained on a great portion of the equipment to be used in the new plant. This will help speed construction of the building and installation of machinery after the Alexandria City Council grants the permit for which application was filed.

The new plant will be tied in with the Virginia Public Service Company's 66,000 volt transmission system that interconnects the Company's steam generating plants at Bremsburg, Charlottesville and Farmville, Va., and Ronceverte, W. Va., as well as the main hydro plants at Cushman, Balcony Falls, Emporia, Halifax, Eland's Ford, Grottoes and Woodstock. This transmission system is also tied in with the Virginia Electric and Power Company lines at two very important points, one at Occoquan and the other at Roanoke Rapids. The Company's facilities are, therefore, interconnected with a super-power system supplying most of the Southern and Mid-Atlantic States.

The tie-in of the Alexandria Plants with these other facilities, makes available to Northern Virginia for emergency use a supply of power from many sources.

The phenomenal growth of Alexandria and Arlington County has accounted for a good percentage of the many new customers added to the Company's lines. During the past twelve months, 10,000 new customers were added, bringing the total number of homes, stores, offices, and factories served at the present time to 105,000 customers. In 1926, when the Virginia Public Service Company began operating in Virginia and West Virginia, the total number of customers served was 45,000. Over a period of fourteen years the Company has made electric service available to 60,000 additional customers, an increase of 135 per cent. The extra 15,000 KW generating capacity is to be operated as a guarantee of uninterrupted service to each and every customer, large or small.

Making available this new power plant capacity is in line with the Company's policy of anticipating the needs and desires of its customers and the communities in which it operates.

"REMEMBER?"

Greer Garson, whose memorable performance as Kathie opposite Robert Donat in "Good-bye, Mr. Chips" made her the most talked of screen newcomers of the year, is starred with Robert Taylor in her first American film, "Remember?" romantic comedy of modern married life, with Lew Ayres as the remember of a romantic triangle. The picture opens next Thursday and Friday, February 1 and 2, at Pitts' Theatre.

Taylor and Miss Garson have been ideally teamed in "Remember?" with roles perfectly suited to their talents for fast-moving comedy. As Jeff Holland, Taylor plays an ambitious young advertising executive who falls in love with beautiful Linda Bronson "at sight" but becomes too wrapped up in his job after their whirlwind marriage to take her on a honeymoon.

Forgotten tunes from the minstrel shows of other days.

Miss Garson plays Linda, a vivacious, fun-loving girl of today, the type of action comedy part that made her a favorite on the London stage in such plays as "Accent on Youth," "Mademoiselle" and "Old Music." Linda is a role to further display the versatility of the red-headed, green-eyed Irish actress who is equally at home in drama or comedy.

Third member of a gay romantic threesome is Lew Ayres as Sky Ames who has Linda stolen from him by his old college pal, Jeff, and then comes to the rescue when they get into a matrimonial muddle.

The story has a warmly human and serious theme running through it, offering proof that no matter how many difficulties marriage may entail two people really in love would go right back and do it all over again if they had the chance. By an exciting and unusual interweaving of plot Jeff and Linda get this chance and make the most of it.

legumes, (3) crop rotation, (4) wise and efficient use of commercial fertilizers, (5) farm manure and crop residues, (6) cover crops. Time is placed at the head of this list, as it is the foundation on which a sound soil management program must be built.

A lime spreader is a good investment and probably fits in better for joint neighbor ownership than any other farm implement.

MRS. ELIZA CREEL

Mrs. Eliza Creel quietly passed away at her home near Greenwich, on Sunday night, January 7, 1940. She was sixty-nine years old.

She was the wife of Mr. Albert Milton Creel which preceded her to the grave many years ago. She had been in failing health for several years, but a strong constitution and will power enabled her to attend to her home duties off and on until a few weeks previous to her death.

She was a devoted mother, a kind friend, always having a word of encouragement to others. She was a consistent Christian. She truly loved the Lord, and her faith was manifested in him until the last.

A short time before the end came she told the Lord she knew her life was ebbing away, but he knew all about it. She bore her illness with the greatest patience and silently, patiently, waited for her Savior's call.

She is survived by three sons, William, Nokesville; Albert, Washington, D. C.; E. G., Nokesville; one sister, Mrs. Mary Luncford, The Plains; ten grandchildren and several great grandchildren, many other relatives, and a host of friends.

Funeral services were conducted at the home by Rev. H. Salter of Manassas, Va., singing was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Washington, D. C. Hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus."

Flower girls were her five granddaughters, Frances, Hazel, Anna Creel, May Griffith and Mrs. Alice Christian.

She was laid to rest in the Warrenton Cemetery to await the resurrection morn.

A friend.

PASTURES BENEFITTED FROM LIME

Where old pastures have become reduced in carrying capacity and where broom sedge, running briars and plantains have appeared, the pastures can unquestionably be improved by the use of lime and phosphates. Field tests have repeatedly shown that where lime and phosphates are used on run-down pastures, the broom sedge gradually disappears and the desirable grasses thicken and improve. It is sometimes stated incorrectly that "lime and phosphates will kill out broom sedge." It would be more nearly correct to state that lime and phosphates restore the fertility of the soil to a point where the palatable pasture grasses can grow. The crowding out effect of the desirable grasses, and the grazing due to the presence of the palatable grasses, gradually reduces the broom sedge growth. The presence of broom sedge may be generally accepted as an indication of depleted pasture land fertility.

1940 agricultural conservation program ground limestone will be available for use on permanent pastures as well as for use on field in the regular crop rotation.

BENEFITS FROM LIMING

In addition to correcting soil acidity lime assists in maintaining the fertility many other ways. Correction of soil tilth and productivity of the soil in acidity was for many years thought to be the only reason for the use of lime, but investigations have shown that the addition of calcium and magnesium as plant nutrients and the correction of undesirable conditions that are associated with soil acidity is of even more value than the correction of soil acidity.

A few of the more important benefits are (1) elimination of toxic or poisonous substances that retard plant growth, (2) increase in availability of plant nutrients already in position of organic matter and plant the soil, (3) more thorough decomposition of soil, (4) improvement of physical condition of soil, (5) increase in fixation of nitrogen by soil organisms, (6) supplies calcium and magnesium as plant nutrients.

A SUCCESSFUL SOIL MANAGEMENT PROGRAM FOR PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY

A successful soil management program to maintain and increase soil fertility must include (1) lime, (2)

HASTING WILLIAM HERRING

Hasting William Herring, aged 78, died at his home near Nokesville, Va., on Sunday after a prolonged illness. A native of Albemarle County, where he was born May 10, 1861, the son of Henry Allen and Juliana Ann Hall Herring, he came to this county about 38 years ago and has been identified in much of its public life since that time.

He resided for a time in Hooversville, Pa., where he was married July 7, 1881 to Sarah E. Specht, daughter of Daniel and Elizabeth Specht of that community. Several children blessed the union, two daughters, Mrs. Clara Hale and Miss Bertha Herring, both of Nokesville; six sons, W. H., Charles C., George W. and John Herring, all of Nokesville, E. L. Herring, of Independent Hill, and Quinter Herring, of Fredericksburg. Others surviving are his sisters, Mrs. Lucy Weaver, of Boswell, Pa., and Mrs. Lena Mangus, of Hooversville, Pa., and two brothers, J. C. Herring, of Nokesville, and Joseph Herring, of Manassas.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at Valley View Church. The officiating ministers were I. N. H. Beahm, N. J. Miller and A. K. Graybill. Interment followed in Valley View Cemetery.

The funeral was one of the largest held in this section for sometime and the floral offerings were very profuse and beautiful, testifying to the high esteem and popularity in which the deceased was held.

Mr. Herring was a member of the Brethren Church in his religious affilations. As a business man he engaged in up-to-date farming and livestock raising. He was also closely identified with the banking interests of Nokesville. In politics he was a devoted member of the Democratic party, which he faithfully served to the time of his death. For many years he had been an Election judge, both in the Primaries and in the General Elections.

The active pallbearers were all George, Jr., and Emlyn Herring and Warren Hale.

The honorary pallbearers were Messrs. Giddings, Burrows, Will Green, Stanley Owens, P. L. Profit, W. F. Hale, J. P. Kerlin, Sam Huff, Harry Davis, W. Hill Brown, Jr., T. E. Didlake, George Baker and Dr. George Cocke.

CENTREVILLE

No services were held at St. John's Episcopal Church last Sunday on account of bad weather and illness among the congregation, and there will be no services next Sunday. However, Rev. Marshall Milton announces that on the first Sunday in February, the Holy Communion will be celebrated at the regular time, 9:45 A. M.

Miss Sada Woltz attended the Fairfax-Washington and Lee basket ball game Tuesday night.

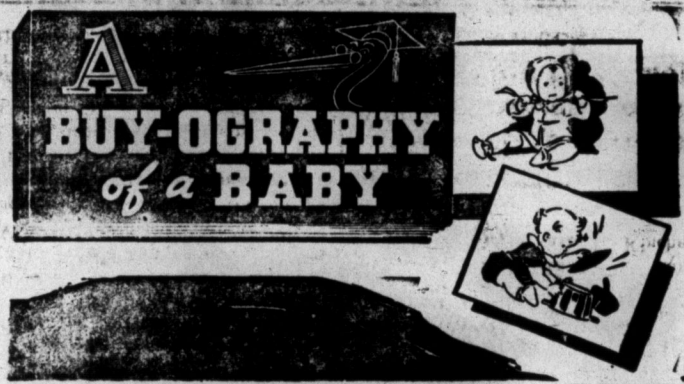

Miss Louise Prince is slowly recovering from her recent illness. Miss Mildred Kellar has been ill with the flu.

Mr. James Payne is at home and doing well after his operation for appendicitis.

PROUD PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Wightman, of Honolulu, are the proud parents of a daughter, Patricia Mary, born on January 3rd. Mrs. Wightman is the former Miss Harriett Kincheloe, of Manassas.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
"Truth" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 28.

The Golden Text will be "O Lord, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth" (Isa. 25:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Give ear, O ye heavens, and I will speak; and hear, O earth, the words of my mouth. Because I will publish the name of the Lord: ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he" (Deut. 32:1, 3, 4.)
