COMMISSIONS BEING FORMED

Governor Completes Study Of Recent Measures By Assembly

The 1940 General Assembly has gone into history with a record of having adopted 455 bills. Controversy over several measures the legislators failed to approve, which flared up recently, has died down. Chief among these measures were those proposing reforms in the State's jail system, including one for abolition of the fee system for compensating sheriffs and sergeants. One of the controversial bills that passed both houses and has stirred considerable debate pro and con throughout the State is the Heller, "free speech" bill, which has the several groups and individuals have urged Governor Price to veto the Heller measure while others have been as strong in supporting its provisions. The Heller bill declares it contrary to public policy for the custodians of public buildings and grounds to permit their use by persons advocating the overthrow of the government by force or violence.

The Heller measure was one of 221 sent to the Governor following the assembly's "constructive" session at the Capitol on March 23. The chief executive has 10 days in which to sign the bills, veto them, or let them die by a "pocket veto" by not signing them during the 10-day period. Of the first 233 measures sent to the Governor while the Assembly was in session, only one was vetoed. That was House Bill No. 9, which created the proposed new division of corrections. Governor Price did not sign it because no funds were set aside to administer the measure. All the measures passed by the Assembly and signed by the Governor, other than the emergency acts that are effective on adoption, will become laws "on and after 12 a. m., June 22," according to Col. E. Griffith Dodson, keeper of the rolls of the Commonwealth.

Appointments to special agencies and commissions made by Speaker Ashton-Dovell of the House of Delegates and Senator Henry T. Wickham, president pro tem of the Senate, were: On reappointment of legislative districts: Senators W. C. Caudill of Pearisburg, Robert C. Vaden of Gretna and E. R. ## BYRD ENDORSES FARM PROGRAM

Cites His Policies With Regard To Assistance Of Agriculture

Senator Harry F. Byrd, D., Va., discussing the farm program, this week, gives a strong endorsement to the principle underlying the soil conservation program with its benefit payments.

While saying some details of the program's administration wisely might be changed, he regards "the program of conservation as fundamentally sound and capable of being financed as a permanent policy within budget estimates and without undue hardship on taxpayers, provided extravagances of federal expenditures are eliminated."

"I have supported the farm conservation program from its inception," Senator Byrd says, adding that he regards the rural electrification program as "self-sustaining" and "approves of soil erosion projects."

"What the American farmer today primarily wants," he continues, "is a higher price for his farm products—a price more in proportion to the increased cost that has occurred in recent years for all other things he must purchase for the operation of his business."

"The farmer, while compelled to pay higher and higher prices for his necessities, faces these constantly increasing costs with the price of his own farm products declining."

"Low taxes are vital to farmers," Senator Byrd asserts with emphasis, "and realizing this throughout my public career I have worked for low taxation on land."

"Today the Virginia farmer is fortunate in having, according to federal government statistics, the lowest taxation on farming land in proportion to true value of all the states in the union."

"I favor and have voted reduction in interest rates on farm loans; I believe cooperative buying of supplies offers opportunities for saving and feel that permanent relief to the farmers fundamentally must come on the one hand by increased prices for farm products through improved markets at home and abroad, and on the other hand through concerted efforts to reduce the cost of farmer's operations—lower taxes, lower costs of his other necessities, and especially reduction in what appears to me to be an exorbitant increase, during recent years, in the cost of farm machinery and other materials."

OFFICIAL STRESSES IMPORTANCE OF CAREFUL DRIVING

No phase of Traffic Safety is more compelling or important than that which deals with the safety of our school children. Many sections of our country and of our own State have been shocked and saddened by serious accidents occurring while children were being transported between their homes and schools. Prince William County has been peculiarly blest in having been spared great tragedy of this kind.

This matter of Safety is a social problem and an individual responsibility. It is the duty of every citizen driving any form of motor vehicle to so educate himself that he will unconsciously observe the necessary precautions.

Did you know that in Prince William County 2,300 children are being transported in school buses?

Between the hours of 7:30 and 9:00 a. m. and 3:15 and 4:30 p. m. these 2,300 children are more or less at the mercy of individual drivers. Make yourself feel a deep, urgent need for particular care wherever you drive during those transporting hours. In the morning the children gather in groups along the roadside to wait for the bus. The wind may blow one little fellow's hat across the road, he naturally runs to retrieve it; if you are driving along at 50 miles an hour, that child would not have much of a chance. In the afternoon a school bus will have just unloaded several youngsters. They are trained to wait until the bus pulls away, to cross the road so that the view will not be obstructed. One small child does not see the car coming around the curve—his young eyes glanced only hurriedly. Again, if you are driving 50 miles an hour, what chance would he have?

In the case of the child running into the road, what child would not have acted so impulsively? This is a natural child behavior. He is not the adult in thought or judgment that the driver of the on coming vehicle should be.

For your information, the State law is quoted:

"Reckless driving within the meaning of this section shall be deemed to include the following offenses, which are expressly prohibited: Passing a school bus while taking on or discharging school children, whether going in same or in opposite direction, at a greater speed than 5 miles per hour." (Section 2154 (109) C11.)

But no law can protect these children. Their greatest protection lies in your sense of responsibility for them. People everywhere must develop a consciousness of the need for extraordinary care whenever school traffic is on the road. Drive as carefully as though the school bus ahead of you were carrying your own children!

CHARITY BALL A SUCCESS SOCIALLY

The annual Easter Ball, given by the Woman's Club of Manassas on Monday of this week was as always a most brilliant and enjoyable affair. The gymnasium was tastefully decorated in green and white, carrying out the spring color idea. A popular and well known orchestra furnished delightful music, which was enjoyed alike by the spectators and the dancers.

Many out of town guests were present and a large representation on hand from the younger set and sub-deb class of Manassas.

Mrs. Harold McCall, deserves much credit for the thorough and complete arrangements made for the entertainment of the guests.

Proceeds above expenses, will as always be devoted to the work done by the charity committee of the club.

MAYOR ENDORSES SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Says "Help With The Warm On Accidents"

The following is a statement from Mr. Harry P. Davis, Mayor, urging public cooperation in the Safety Campaign:

"Twenty-five years ago, the motor vehicle and the highway were in their swaddling clothes, and so was the driver."

"Today, the motor vehicle and the highway have reached a degree bordering on perfection; but, alas, the driver, figuratively speaking, is still wearing rompers."

"The average driver hasn't been able to keep up with the improvements made on the highway and the motor vehicle. The speed of the motor vehicle has quadrupled, but the speed of reaction of many drivers has not increased one iota."

"Many drivers are the same harum-scarum persons they were in the 'horseless carriage' days; still in a hurry to get NOWHERE in particular. Many are getting somewhere in a hurry all right, but that place may be the hospital or the cemetery, or contributing to the cause of some innocent person going there."

"Motor vehicle accidents will continue to take a terrific toll of life and limb until drivers are educated to realize that DEATH rides the running board of a speeding vehicle."

"Anybody can turn a corner on two wheels ONCE, but it is better to lose a minute and save a life or limb."

"I heartily commend to every citizen the Safety Campaign sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club and earnestly appeal to every motor vehicle driver to join this campaign and assist in applying the old adage, 'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.'"

Harry P. Davis, Mayor.

KIWANIANS HOLD REGULAR MEETING

A round table "experience" meeting was the basis of the program at last Friday night's meeting of the Manassas Kiwanis club, Col. Hutchison introducing the several speakers.

The return of Al. Hooff to the town was hailed with the greatest of pleasure and all expressed delight at seeing him look so well. The Florida breezes he brought in with him were not so hot, though. (Ed. note.)

Sheriff Kerlin made the unwelcome announcement that Mr. J. C. Kincheol was facing hospitalization, following a kick administered by a horse while on a fox hunt the preceding Wednesday.

BUSHONG CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bushong celebrated the Twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of their business on Monday afternoon. The store was decorated in appropriate manner with baskets of cut flowers and potted plants.

Many business firms were represented as well as friends and customers of the Bushongs.

Refreshments were served and souvenirs given those present.

All in all it was a very pleasant occasion, and the many well-wishers of the Bushongs hope to be able to return and celebrate the 50th anniversary of their business here in Manassas.

A VALUABLE PROJECT

"The old Meeting House," a very interesting booklet featuring the Wapping Church in the county of South Windsor, Conn., is published by the Wapping Christian Endeavor Society and presents a very fine historical research. Among the first members of this church were the Sadd family of England. The sketch begins with the April of 1636 and is carried to the present. Families of many of the early members are still represented in the community.

JUNIOR WOMEN COMPETE TASK

Exert Every Effort To Secure Unified Action In Safety Movement

Throughout the week representatives of the Junior Woman's Club have continued to contact and to speak to local organizations in an effort to wage a campaign to educate the public toward safety mindedness in order to improve traffic safety. Already a number of organizations have volunteered to appoint representatives from their groups with a view toward forming a permanent Safety Council. Waging such a campaign, however, is not, in itself, enough to make the campaign successful. There must also be developed an appreciation of the necessity for group control in the interest of safety and a willingness to cooperate in sound safety activities suggested by officials and private agencies.

The Junior Woman's Club has outlined a list of aims, all of which are possible for realization, which the Club believes will do much toward forwarding traffic safety. They are as follows:

1. To erect more distinct and effective signs to clearly show speed limits in different sections;
2. To have Council put on additional police so that all speed and parking laws may be adequately enforced at all times;
3. To have Council arrange for and to rule a time limit for parking on this street and on busy side streets—signs to plainly state limit;
4. To have Town provide convenient well-lighted parking lots at either end of business area;
5. As a suggestion for enforcement: first and second warning cards for offenders—these cards to be placed on car, or mailed to offender in case of speeding or any offense on the move—after second card, a fine.

The task which now confronts the community is the adoption of some such sound and thorough program for the solution of our traffic problems, and the organization of a permanent Safety Council to urge enactment of the proper legislation and efficient enforcement of regulatory measures. If this can be accomplished, the club will feel that its Safety Campaign has been a success.

KAY KYSER BOWS IN UPROARIOUS, TUNE-PACKED FILMUSICAL

Marking the first film appearance of Kay Kyser and his famous band, "That's Right—You're Wrong" co-stars Kay Kyser and Adolphe Menjou at the head of a brilliant cast in what is said to be the novelty screen hit of the season. It opens Monday and Tuesday, April 1 and 2, at Pitts Theatre.

"That's Right—You're Wrong" joyously probes the troubles encountered by a film company in trying to produce a band leader picture. The first attempt has Kyser as a romantic Latin type—and by no stretch of the imagination can Kyser be considered a torrid Latin lover!

After several successive attempts to shape a likely story, the scenarists give up. Meanwhile the members of the band go Hollywood in a big way; and the luckless producer, unable to see any other way out of the dilemma, tries to maneuver Kyser into breaking his contract.

The scheme almost succeeds when Kyser is informed of the producer's chicanery by the disgruntled scenarists. He turns the tables on the producer by agreeing with all his ridiculous suggestions, even making a complete screen test as the romantic Venetian gondolier of the original story.

The producer's further attempts to ease Kyser out of the contract, and the popular batonist's retaliation in side-splitting manner result in a unique climax to this hilarious melodic screen fest.

Refreshing in its presentation and its ingenious plot, "That's Right—You're Wrong" is said to come as one of the most entertaining offerings of the year. "The College of Musical Knowledge" radio program, with which Kyser achieved radio fame is presented in the course of the story, featuring his entire company, including Ginny Simms, Harry Babbitt, Sully Mason and Ish Kabibble, who introduce a notable quante of catchy new tunes in the hit-parade groove.

As the double-crossing producer, Adolphe Menjou has one of his funniest roles to date. May Robson as Kyser's common-sense grandmother; Lucille Ball as a glamor girl; Dennis O'Keefe as manager; Edward Everett Horton as an eccentric scenarist; Roscoe Karns and Moroni Olsen form the principal support.

David Butler produced and directed "That's Right—You're Wrong" for RKO Radio, and also created the original story in collaboration with William Conselman, who with James V. Kern wrote on the screen play.

SPENCER TRACY AND HEDY LAMARR THRILLING TEAM

Hedy Lamarr definitely becomes an outstanding dramatic actress in her first American picture background, in "I Take This Woman," opens Thursday and Friday, April 4 and 5, at the Pitts Theatre, in which she is co-starred with Spencer Tracy, one of the screen's greatest actors.

The story of a social butterfly who, when her romance crashes, finds sanctuary and finally real love, happiness and a new destiny at the side of an earnest, faithful scientist, "I Take This Woman" follows. "Lady of the Tropics," in which she was co-starred with Robert Taylor.

The action of the story is in New York, in locales ranging from glamorous night-clubs and fashion salons to a dingy tenement. W. S. Van Dyke II directed.

Veree Teasdale has one of her best wise-cracking roles and Kent Taylor enacts Tracy's rival for Miss Lamarr in the play. Laraine Day, Mona Barrie, Jack Carson, Paul Cavanagh, Louis Calhern, Frances Drake, Marjorie Main, George E. Stone, Willie Best, Don Castle, Dalles Frantz and Reed Hadley are other principals in the large cast.

Dramatic highlights include an attempted suicide and rescue; a dramatic encounter between Miss Lamarr and her former lover; the event that brings her to a realization that the physician is her real love; and gay revels in the colorful Zebra Club, its pillars formed of huge painted zebras. Penthouses of the rich contrast with action in the humble clinic. Miss Lamarr wears a number of gorgeous gowns, and other glamorous modes are shown in a colorful scene in a fashion studio.

"THE GHOST COMES HOME"

Frank Morgan ceases to stammer and stutter, but reaps laughs galore just the same through the various catastrophes that dog his recalcitrant footsteps in "The Ghost Comes Home," comedy of a man who's given a million to spend, shows at the Pitts Theatre, Wednesday, April 3.

Morgan plays a small town pet shopkeeper, henpecked and browbeaten by his wife and family, who is suddenly appointed to spend a million on the home town. The appointment starts him for Australia but he gets no further than a New York night club, a fight with a policeman and a term in jail, during which he's reported lost at sea and returns home supposedly dead, with his family gleefully spending the insurance money.

Amid many hilarious complications he emerges from his status as a ghost to expose the crooked town banker and eventually become the man of the hour.

William Thiele directed the picture with deft skill and human handling of the situations. Billie Burke drops her jittery characterizations to play the domineering but loyal wife, and Ann Rutherford is the pretty daughter who disobeys Mamma's behest to marry the town banker's son and marries a jazz band leader instead.

Reginald Owen is amusing as an American tuba player, imitating an English accent to pose as an Australian millionaire. John Shelton, Donald Meek, Nat Pendleton and Frank Albertson are other principals

CONVENTION ON COOPERATIVE CHRISTIANITY

The Ecumenical spirit will find expression in Virginia this spring in the State Convention on Cooperative Christianity, which will be held at the First Baptist Church, Roanoke, Virginia, May 8, 9, and 10, 1940.

This will be a convention for the whole church and every local church is invited to elect delegates. Churches are requested to select their delegates in such manner as will best represent the men's, women's, and youth organizations. There is no limit to the number which may attend from a local church and any person may register, even though he or she may not have been officially elected.

It is probable that the Christian people of Virginia have never before had the opportunity to attend a Convention which has brought together such outstanding speakers and leaders. The major denominations will be represented and the leadership will include specialists in the various phases of church work. The partial list of speakers will include the following:

Jesse M. Bader, New York, Department of Evangelism, Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Oscar F. Blackwelder, Washington, Pastor, Luther Church of the Reformation.

Roy A. Buttrick, New York, Pastor, The Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, and President, Federal Council of Churches.

Mark A. Dawber, New York, Executive Secretary, Home Missions Council.

Ivan M. Gould, Chicago, Director of Young People's Work, The International Council of Religious Education.

Ivan Lee Holt, Dallas, Texas, Bishop, The Methodist Church.

Edith E. Lowry, New York, Executive Secretary, Council of Women for Home Missions.

J. Quinter Miller, New York, Associate Secretary, Federal Council of Churches. Jon R. Sampey, Louisville, Kentucky, President, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Churches are urged to register delegates in advance. There will be a registration fee of $1.00 and this will entitle a person to all the privileges of the Convention. Sunday, April 7, has been designated as FIRST CALL FOR ADVANCE REGISTRATION and it is hoped that a minimum of 500 delegates may be registered on this day. All registration fees and requests for information should be sent to the Virginia Council of Religious Education, Inc., Bridgewater, Virginia.

APRIL 12th FINAL DATE FOR FILLING OUT AND SIGNING 1940 FARM PLANS

April 12th is the final date on which farmers who have not already done so may fill out and sign their farm plans and become eligible to receive 1940 conservation payments. Signing the farm plan signifies that the farmer desires to participate in the program but carries no obligation on the farmer's part. This farm plan is a guide worked out for each farm that points out to the operator the maximum payments he may earn by carrying out soil building practices during this coming spring and summer. Assistance will be given at the county agents office in making plans to obtain the greatest possible benefits from the 1940 farm program.

PLACE LIME ORDERS NOW

Farmers wishing to obtain ground limestone under the 1940 Agricultural Conservation Program are advised to place their orders at the County Agents office at their very earliest convenience. This can be done on the same visit to the county office to fill out the farm plan. Approximately 6,500 tons have been applied for by Prince William farmers to date.

LAUGH-GETTERS HEAD CAST OF NEW COMEDY

Martha Raye and Charlie Ruggles, two of Hollywood's front-rank laugh-getters head the cast of Paramount's "The Farmer's Daughter," which is slated to open Saturday, March 30, at the Pitts Theatre.

With two such zanies in the top roles, the film settles down to accumulate laughs, and its success in that direction is indicated by the unusual story angles. Charlie is a Broadway producer with a backer for his new production, who adds two conditions to the sum of money needed.

The "angel" insists that Charlie star an ex-love, and keep the show out of New York for three months. Charlie agrees, and sets out with his company for an unsuspecting barn, which suddenly blossoms out with a balcony and orchestra.

Gertrude Michael, as the ex-love proves difficult to handle, and Charlie assigns Richard Denning, his leading man, to soothe her. Martha, in the title role, has already set her cap for Denning. Rehearsals proceed in anything but smooth style. Press Agent William Frawley has to keep a straying playwright happy by importing Broadway noises and scents, Gertrude discovers her boy friend has eloped, and Martha, who has left a trail of accidents behind her ever since she broke the doctor's spectacles at her own birth, commits jinx after jinx.

On opening night, Gertrude deserts the troupe, pursuing her fleeing friend on his honeymoon. With a multitude of misgivings, Charlie allows Martha to try the leading role in the production.

Martha's awkwardness, mistaken by the audience for meant comedy effect, makes a smash hit of the show, and, with Gertrude out of his way, the arms of Denning are open to her. Martha gets a chance to sing both sweet and swing songs in "The Farmer's Daughter." "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair" gets smooth treatment, while a new tune, "Jungle Jingle," finds Martha really "singing."

"THE SCARLET PIMPERNEL" By Baroness Orczy

"The Scarlet Pimpernel" by Baroness Orczy was published by Grosset and Dunlap.

What could be a more thrilling and a more interesting incident to base a story on than the bloody Revolution in France when the dreaded guillotine was demolishing so many lives?

The marriage of Sir Percy Blackeney and his wife, Marguerite Blackeney, seemed to be a complete failure. He seemed never to pay much attention to her, and he acted stupid at times. She made fun of his stupidity when ever the opportunity presented itself. Their lives seemed to become more and more separated as the days passed.

Percy Blackeney was tall, above the average, broad-shouldered, and massively built; he was considered unusually good looking also. He was one of the richest men in England, and the leader of all the fashions. His wife's beauty was at its most dazzling stage. Her rich auburn hair, straight chiselled nose, round chin, dazzling eyes, and delicate throat made her a very lovely creature.

Many heads had been rescued from under the very blade of the guillotine by a band of men under the leadership of the gallant and renowned "Scarlet Pimpernel," whose identity was unknown. This mysterious figure had become the hero of England while the French Revolutionists sought desperately to capture and put to death this man who had so many times outwitted them. The "Scarlet Pimpernel" himself, even risking his own life, had made many daring escapes from the scenes of the bloody killing in France to the then peace-loving shores of England.

What was the connection between Percy and Lady Blackeney and the "Scarlet Pimpernel"? Who was this elusive hero? Such questions as these will be revealed as the plot unravels.

This is a story of love, mystery, excitement, and humor, a memorable tale of a stirring period of history.

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

—William Knox.

GREENWICH

From the looks of Easter bonnets and Easter baskets, Easter bunny did not pass Greenwich.

There was a large attendance at each Sunday School and preaching was held at the Presbyterian Church. The sermon was delivered by Rev. J. Royal Cook.

We failed to mention last week that Miss Evelyn Wood was also a $30.00 prize winner in the William E. Miller contest.

Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Wood entertained guests for an Easter dinner on Sunday. Among the guests were four generations which were: Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wood, Sr., Mrs. Josie Mayhugh, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hopkins and their daughter, Emma Jane Hopkins. Other guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillon Wood and family spent Easter Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dowell, of Aden.

Miss Easter Mae Taylor is spending Easter week with her relatives at Greenwich.

Miss Margaret Mayhugh returned to Madison College on Monday after spending Easter at home.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear husband, Jessie Williams, who departed this life, (1) one year ago today, March 27, 1940.

One sad lonely year has passed since my great sorrow fell. The shock that I received that morning, I still remember well.

My heart still aches with sadness. My eyes have shed many tears. But as long as life, my heart shall hold, your memory ever dear.

And over your grave my loving grief. I shed many a silent tear. In my heart your memory lingers sweetly, tender food and true.

There is not a day dear Jessie That we do not think of you.

My heart has been crushed and wounded. This world is so lonely and sad. My life would be much brighter if you were here. It's now gloomy and sad.

Gone but not forgotten. By his wife and daughter, Fannie and Ruby Jane Williams.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus. — Philippians 4:19.

"BE NOT THE FIRST TO TRY THE NEW!"

The latest national society to come to our notice is "The American Synergists." It may or may not be a worthy movement. Certainly there is nothing lacking in its aims which are stated to be work for "needed citizen understanding."

In their literature they quote extensively from the late Chief of the United States Forest Service, F. A. Silcox, who was recently exposed as a national secretary for some kind of an association characterized by the Dies Committee as a Communist Front organization.

It would seem that the Communists organize and disband their various penetrating groups so rapidly as to defy scrutiny. The same apparent group is known by one name yesterday, another today and as something else tomorrow, and always they ensnare good unsuspecting American citizens who naturally sympathize with their stated objectives, but who are likely later to become disillusioned.

The answer is not to affiliate with these irresponsible, mushroom societies which spring up over night and wither before sun-down. We have plenty of established civic and religious organizations through which these aims may furthered, and we would do well for our State and Nation to work untiringly to make our influence effective for the good of our country by identifying ourselves with long-established institutions whose aims and accomplishments are fully recognized.

NOTICE TO BEER DEALERS IN PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY AND OTHERS

I, John R. Clarke, owner of Clarke's Lunch at Gainesville, Va., wish to advise my fellow dealers of this county that we must get together and contest this would be law to ban the Sunday sale of Beer & Wine in Prince William County. I urge each of you to get in touch with your Supervisor and ask him to vote against this rule, which if enacted would deprive Prince William County of hundreds of dollars and drive business from our County to the adjoining Counties of Fairfax and Fauquier. What would be the good of Prince William County not being able to sell Beer on Sunday while our adjoining counties are selling Beer on Sunday and will continue to do so? Loudoun County recently tried to enact this law and after a small fight it was thrown out of court. Anyone interested in this fight or that has any suggestion of a method of a campaign that we might use in this fight is here requested to call me at Manassas 118-F-3 or Haymarket 59.

Very truly yours,
John R. Clarke.

HAVASY-PERSONS

The marriage of Miss Virginia Marion Persons, daughter of Mrs. R. Forest Persons and the late Mr. Forest Persons, to Mr. Stephen Edward Havasy, of Baltimore, Maryland, was solemnized in the rectory of the Nazareth Lutheran Church, Baltimore, Maryland, Saturday, March sixteenth, at two P. M.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Beverly Warren, of Quantico.

Mr. Havasy chose as his best man the bride's brother, Mr. Forest Persons, Jr.

Only the families and a few friends were present.

The bride was lovely in a beautiful blue suit of dressmaker type with hat and accessories of blue and white. Her corsage of gardenias completed her appropriate costume.

Following the marriage luncheon was served to members of the party at Hassanners Restaurant.

Immediately following the luncheon the newlyweds left on a short honeymoon, and will be at home, after April first, at Flushing, New York, where Havasy is affiliated with Pan American Airways, Atlantic Division.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Reality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 31.

The Golden Text will be "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning" (James 1:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "When thou art come into the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt not learn to do after the abominations of those nations. Thou shalt be perfect with the Lord thy God" (Deut. 18:9,13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "All the real is eternal. Perfection underlies reality. Without perfection, nothing is wholly real. All things will continue to disappear, until perfection appears and reality is reached" (p. 353.)

Much to our relief the goats had been taken care of. While our families are widely scattered our school is flourishing. Mr. W. R. Gosson of Hickory Grove, adds greatly to the cause by driving his truck, and gathering up all children on the route who have no other way of attending.

Edward, Bob and Carroll Wright, of St. Paul's School, Baltimore, are spending their ten day holiday with their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wright. Their mother, Mrs. Alice Wright spent the week end with Miss Florence Smith and also visited with the boys.
