CHARMING PLAYS FRIDAY NIGHT

Dramatics Club will Entertain at Manassas

On Friday night, May 10th, at eight o'clock in the High School auditorium, the Dramatics Club will present three one-act plays.

Synopses of the plays and casts follows: "ARE WE DRESSING?"

Polly and Fred Andrews receive an invitation from Greg and Joan Millard, members of the wealthiest family in Brookvale. Being strangers in town and not knowing the type of party usually given by the Millards, they are in doubt as to whether or not they should wear formal clothes. And, of course, they want to make the right impression. Then Dad comes home after a disappointing day at the office. Off come the shoes, off comes the coat, off go orders for corned beef and cabbage. He's getting prepared for a comfortable evening and no pleas for him to look his best when the Millards call have any effect. That's just the beginning of a series of humorous and exciting circumstances. Many laughs await the audience as the play reaches its climax.

Cast: Homes Andrews, the father, Frank Parrish; Lora Andrews, the mother, Sallie Proffitt; Fred Andrews, the son, Dickie Haydon; Polly Andrews, the daughter, Barbara Beane; Greg Millard, son of the town's wealthiest citizen, Roger Cross; Joan Millard, his sister, June Williams, Ivan Konard, a business man, Marvin Gillum and Felicia, the Andrews' maid, Jeanne Coverston.

"BY SPECIAL REQUEST"

Johnny North and his friend, Harold, are victims of an English teacher's wrath. They have been requested to give orations before the whole high school in assembly just because they failed to have their selections ready on the specified date. When the boys feign illness by calling the school, the principal is duly impressed and sends the school nurse out to check audience will laugh at the many situations the boys get into trying to get out of the one they are in.

Cast: John, a sophomore in high school, Shreve Brent; Harold, his classmate, Everett Jones; Mrs. North, Johnny's mother, Shirley Davis, Thelma, Johnny's sister, Lelia Dowell and Miss Cunningham, the school nurse, Betty Chambers.

"YES MEANS NO"

Our hero, Teddy Lawson, is at work in Dad's office. Announcing to his stern parent that he is about to marry Edith Merrill (and desiring a raise in salary and even a little financial help for honeymoon expenses) he receives unexpected opposition. The father informs Teddy that he is disgusted with his incompetence in business, and especially in a credit business where it is essential to be able to say "No".

Teddy has been too tender-hearted, always saying "Yes" when customers plead hard luck. Teddy pleads for another chance. Father agrees. "He leaves Teddy in charge of the office for one-half hour, promising to give him one hundred dollars for each time he says "No". One "Yes" during that time will cause him to forfeit every "No". Within fifteen minutes, Teddy rolls up fifty "Noes". But while he is doing this he faces disaster by having to say "No" to the various questions of his fiancée who has come into the office. But what Teddy does is sufficiently surprising and pleasing to the audience to bring a roar and a cheer for Teddy.

Cast: William Lawson, Wallace Partlow; Teddy Lawson, his son, Thomas Atthey; Edith Merrill, Teddy's fiancée, Peggy Tipton; T. J. Morgan, a financier, Garland Boatwright; and Miss Collins, secretary to Mr. Lawson, June Pickeral.

A between-act program will be presented.

Come and have an evening of fun and relaxation and encourage our young actors.

Doors open at 7:30.

LADIES TOUR LOCAL GARDENS

Annual Tour of Attractive Local Homes Reveals Lovely Plantings

The Garden Section of the Woman's Club of Manassas, as has been the custom for a number of years, devoted their May meeting time on Monday to a tour of gardens in and around Manassas. The group met at the home of Mrs. Margaret Lewis and visited her exquisite and lovely garden, where beds of tulips, in varied hues, splendid specimens of bleeding heart, sweet and winsome plantings of forget-me-nots, early phlox, iris, and the bright yellow touches of the cowslip borders, made an unforgettable picture.

Proceeding to the home of Mrs. Robert Smith, near Bristow, the party lingered to admire not only the attractive garden but the unusual and beautiful hedge which surrounds the garden, composed of hundreds of old-fashioned purple lilacs, which were in full bloom. Truly this is a lovely spot.

The next stop was at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Bockock, near Bristow, where the spacious lawns, and attractively arranged beds and borders created a beautiful picture.

Lovely double tulips, phlox, pansies, violets and yellow alyssum were blended into a riot of color in the early spring borders, and the numerous other perennial borders and rose-beds gave promise of a colorful and ever-changing display of gorgeous bloom throughout the season.

A unique planting in one section of this garden was one devoted exclusively to red and white flowers.

A brief stop was made at the garden of Mrs. Harvey Steele, where the lovely tulip beds and rock garden and pool were admired. Mrs. Steele also has some excellent plantings of evergreens, which are particularly attractive just now.

The final stop was at "Paradise" home of Mrs. C. C. Lynn, where the weary tourists admired the well planned garden, partook of delicious punch and cookies, and also enjoyed the gorgeous, far-reaching and magnificent view of the surrounding countryside.

The Garden Section is holding its annual Early Spring Flower and Bulb Show today, and a very creditable exhibit is being shown in spite of the lateness of the season. A complete list of winners will appear in an early issue of this paper.

Move Is Outgrowth Of Recent Safety Campaign

Continuing the splendid work started by the Junior Woman's Club Safety Drive, a permanent Safety Council has been organized. The second meeting was held Monday night at the Town Hall with Mrs. Paul Arrington presiding.

At the first meeting, it was decided that warning tickets would be made up and given for the 1st of 2nd traffic violation. These tickets are a notification of an offense and a courteous request that the traffic laws be adhered to at all times. There is no penalty attached to these tickets as it is felt that most people will not need more than a warning. However, chronic offenders will be more severely dealt with.

To keep traffic safety uppermost in everyone's mind, a card has been printed by the Council and will be distributed this month in all cars as they are inspected.

The matter of traffic safety must be kept before the public constantly by education and it is the hope of the Safety Council that through efforts traffic accidents in Manassas can be kept at a minimum.

Among those on the Council are Mrs. Paul Arrington, Mrs. R. Jackson Ratcliffe, Mrs. T. E. Didlake, Mrs. T. J. Broadus, Mrs. Paul Cooksey, Mrs. W. Hill Brown, Jr., and Mrs. Edgar Parrish.

Statistics Reveal U.S. Leads All Countries In World Telephone Development

Washington, San Francisco Have Most Telephones Per 100 Persons, Report Shows

There is enough telephone wire in the United States alone to stretch, if woven in a single strand, from the earth to the sun or encircle the earth itself 3,714 times. In fact there is so much telephone wire in America that if it were laid in a straight line it would take an automobile averaging 300 miles a day nearly 848 years to travel from end to end.

How many miles is that, you say? Well, according to recent statistics published by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company the total number of miles of telephone wire in this country is 92,850,000. This figure and many similar figures are included in an A. T. and T. report representing the results of the latest annual survey of world telephone and telegraph facilities made by the company's chief statistician.

The survey shows that Washington, D. C., and San Francisco lead all large cities of the world in telephone development. Washington with 239,668 telephones and San Francisco with 282,008 telephones had, respectively, 40.14 and 38.53 telephones per 100 population. Such a number of telephones in relation to population is the more impressive when compared with the situation in large European capitals. For instance, Paris had 437,139 telephones or 15.45 per 100 inhabitants; Berlin had 599,911 or 13.83 per 100 population.

Although there are 16 times as many people outside the United States as within it, this country still has nearly one-half of the world's total of 41,090,347 telephones. In the United States there is about one telephone for every six people as compared to only one telephone for every 100 persons outside this country.

The average per capita use of the telephone in the United States amounts to 223 calls per year; elsewhere in the world the average yearly per capita use is only about 16 calls. At the present time the report shows more than 1,000 telephone calls are completed in this country per second or more than 91,000,000 calls per day.

At the beginning of 1939, the latest date for which it has been possible to gather comprehensive, authentic information, the world's 41,090,347 telephones were connected to 174,448,000 miles of wire. The United States alone accounted for approximately one-half of these facilities.

Three-fifths of the world's telephones are operated by private companies, the largest private system being in the United States, while about two-fifths are operated by governmental agencies. The largest governmentally owned and operated telephone system is that of Germany.

Examination of the report indicates in brief that telephone facilities at the disposal of the American public are far more extensive than those found abroad, and by means of a greater and more complete network of long distance lines and cables provides fast and dependable inter-city communication within the country and brings within reach of the American telephone user nearly every important point in the civilized world.

VODER WHICH TALKS AND NOW SINGS WILL AGAIN FEATURE BELL EXHIBIT AT N. Y. FAIR

"Voice Mirror" And Hearing Tests Also Included Among Attractions

Last year it talked. This year it talks—and sings like a man. "It" is the Voder, that remarkable electric voice machine which will again be included among the many attractions of the Bell Telephone Exhibit when the New York World's Fair opens on May 11.

Considered one of the three most popular exhibits at the fair last year, the Bell System show will again feature free demonstration long distance calls to any point in the United States. Visitors will also have an opportunity to learn how their words sound to others over the telephone by means of the "voice mirror" and to have their hearing scientifically tested.

During the time that the fair was opened in 1939 a total of 7,878,000 persons visited the telephone exhibit or about 30 per cent of the total paid attendance. Over 31,000 obtained the privilege of making long distance demonstration calls to which 1,500,000 listened. Some 1,700,000 tests of hearing were made, 1,100,000 visitors heard their own telephone voices repeated by voice mirror apparatus, 110,000 were interviewed on the audition stage and over 5,800,000 listened to the Voder.

WHAT IS AMERICA'S POSITION IN THIS WAR?

by Robert H. Bryant (Student at Nokesville High School)

The Position of our antion in this war, is a very vital one. Just as significant as that of the warring nations of Europe. Our task is not to destroy and plunder, but to pre-serve an everlasting peace.

We realize what a mistake we made by entering the last war. A so-called "war for democracy". Our only gains from that war were: one of the worst depressions that this nation ever witnessed, over 50,000 valuable lives lost, and about 22 billion dollars, respectively, for some eighteen months of war. These will be but trifle sums if we enter this war. Why should every generation of young Americans be periled by European wars? It is time that we teach Europe to fight her own wars, if she wants to start them. We, as Americans should realize that wars have no advantages, but peace has every advantage. If America enters this war, how can she hope to gain anything? This war is not different from other wars, it is a war like the last one, only worse.

The best policy for Americans to abide by, is that of minding our own business. If we meddle in Europe's affairs, how can we mind our own?

If we stay on this side of the Atlantic Ocean, we may be able to stay out of this war. Let Europe fight her own wars as often, and as long as she wishes to do so.

After this war is over, the real test will come. This nation will then be able to show her ability as a peace-maker. Democracy will once more reign on the throne of peace, a world peace, an everlasting peace, one which will not fail.

We have a most vital position in this war. Let us stick to it. We may gain everything if we do this, but lose all if we do not.

SEVENTEEN DEPICTS

WOES OF FIRST LOVE

Seventeen, the glorious, golden age of freshly-painted jalousies, two-toned shoes, blind dates, lemon cokes and most important of all—first love, immortalized in the novel, "Seventeen", by the incomparable Booth Tarkington, is given a hilarious going-over on the screen in the new comedy of the same name!

Scheduled to have its local opening next Wednesday, May 15, at the Pitts Theatre, Paramount's film version of the Tarkington classic stars two of the screen's currently best-liked youngsters, Jackie Cooper and Betty Field. Their smash success as the high school sweethearts of the recent "What a Life" is recommendation enough for their new vehicle together.

"Seventeen", which won its universal popularity because of its hilarious picture of the trials of puppy love, its sharp understanding of typical American youth and its exciting presentation of the drama of growing-up, tells a story bound to charm every one who has ever been seventeen.

The plot charts the romantic adventures of one Willie Baxter, played by the energetic Cooper, from the fatal moment when he discovers that he is no longer a mere kid and is violently in-love with a sweet young sophisticate named Lola Pratt, played by that clever film comedienne, Miss Field.

As Lola's peristent suitor, Willie goes through all the crimson embarrassment, dizzy joy and shattering disappointment that seem to be the inevitable lot of a young man suffering his first attack of love. He defies the authority of his apathetic parents; tastes the high life of wild drives, night clubs and cocktails; goes bankrupt buying a new flivver to impress his sweetheart, and fights the discouraging competition offered by a dapper young collegian. Always the woman—even if more scheming, more heartless and unfaithful than most—the amazing Lola rewards her admirer with a broken date and a broken heart, but sends him away much wiser about life—and love!

If Cooper and Miss Field are made-to-order to play Tarkington's youthful sweethearts, the supporting players are, according to advance reports, equally fitted for their roles. Otto Kruger, as the father, Ann Shoemaker, as the mother, and Norma Nelson, as the pesty kid sister, were chosen by Director Louis King for their resemblance to the familiar Booth Tarkington characters.

THE GOOD HERMIT

The myriad lights of th' heavens
Helped, somewhat, my weary way,
But lost in an unknown valley
And without the moon's soft ray.

The Whippoorwill's ceaseless singing
Was sweet music to my ears,
The mocking bird on the tree top
Helped to soothe my foolish fears.

Knowing moss grew on the northern Side of th' many tall, dark trees,
I felt about in the darkness
And then being on my knees,—

I thought of my God in Heaven,
Who hears the prayers of the lost,
Of those in sin, who've wandered, too,
And never counting the most.

I raised my voice in earnest prayer
"My God help me find my way!"
Suddenly! Out of the darkness,
There shone a beaconing ray.

"Lost—my good friend?" A kind voice called,
"Come enter my humble home"
"Thank you, thank you sir" I said
"Very gratefully I'll come"

I offered up a silent prayer
Of thanks giving to my God,
(As soon as I sought help above
My lot was no longer hard).

My human aid, though Heavenly sent,
Left the light stream of his door,
And said "I heard your prayer to God,
Who aids both the rich and poor."

"I little knew that near my hut
Was a man lost in the dark
Till I heard your desperate cry,
To your voice, then, I did hark."

"Come in my friend and spend the night,
Till the morning's cheerful ray,
And have a bite and share my bed
Th' morrow—I'll show you your way."

"For many year I've lived alone
And a lone old man am I
But with God above, whom I love,
All my days go swiftly by."

Good as his word, this hermit kind,
Next morn, early guided me
To th' very place, I sought that night
When the way, I could not see.

Many a time, in after years,
I visited my good, kind friend
Helping to cheer his last days
And was with him, to the end.

With aid of spade, I dug his grave,
With bleared eyes, prayed the last prayer
The birds he loved, the funeral dirge,
Softly sang they in the air.

I covered th' mound with mosses green
With many a falling tear,
Fashioned a wreath of woodland blooms
For the one I held so dear.

From two crude boards I made across Placed it firmly at the head,
Th' dear, kind spirit was still alive—
Just from the body had fled.

The Whippoorwill—the Mocking bird
Never cease to chant his praise,—
Nor will I e'er cease to think of This good hermit's Christ-like ways.
—Eva Everett Davison.

DO YOUR BEST
By Algia A. Martin

If you are feeling low today,
Sunshine will soon come out,
And drive the clouds away,
Life will go only too fast,
So do as much as you can,
While life on earth does last.

We all have our share of trouble,
When everything seems so gray,
But if we do the best we can,
Life will show us some bright ray,
So on cloudy days, let's show our grit,
By standing up, and defying it.

MOTHER'S DAY

Next Sunday is Mother's Day. Every day is Mother's Day, when we consider her continuous devotion to her loved ones, but on this particular day it is definitely in order that she receive some token of love from the rest of the family.

Mother is likely to say that the omission of this little formality is not consequential, but for just once, do not believe her. What she really means is that she overlooks and forgives this neglect with the same maternal kindness with which she condones other faults among her loved ones.

So, whether Mother's Day be the presentation of flowers, or candy, or cake, or some more substantial gift, do not fail next Sunday to remember her, because every day, rain or shine, she never forgets you.

BUY A POPPY!

Saturday, May 11, is Poppy Day!

On this occasion at a most casual and trifling expense, it becomes possible to give some material assistance to the boys who gave almost everything short of life itself in order that we might continue to live in security.

Under these circumstances, the least we should do is to patronize these little annual opportunities to aid our injured World War Veterans, and there should be no citizen among us, unless unable, who should be unwilling next Saturday to BUY A POPPY!

A NEW FORESTRY LAW

Under sponsorship of Hon. Leon M. Bazile, Delegate from Hanover and former Assistant Attorney General of Virginia, a forestry law was passed at the last Session of the General Assembly which, although of local application, is of wide general interest.

YOUNG married couples, housewives, students, beginners in business — all have need for the helpfulness of our checking account service. This is one of the best ways, too, for you to establish a banking connection, which will grow in value as you grow in years. Come in and talk it over if you wish.

NATIONAL BANK OF MANASSAS

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

The law only applies to certain tide-water counties of Virginia, located in the "loblolly pine" belt. These include Hanover, King and Queen, Essex, King William, Middlesex, Mathews and Gloucester.

Under provisions of this law it becomes obligatory to leave "seed trees" of sufficient size to restock the cut-over land with a second growth of the same valuable species.

It is stated that the State Forest Service opposed this legislation on the grounds that it could not be effectively enforced and also on the theory that forestry regulation should be a matter of education and not of enforcement by statute law.

The General Assembly, however, seemed more favorable to Mr. Bazile's contention that legal regulation with due consideration of the biological requirements of the forest would be the better approach to this different problem, and we have reason to believe that the General Assembly has evidenced the greater intelligence in this important matter.

BULLETIN

Last minute advices from the Court House indicate that the proposed beer ordinance was lost on a 4-2 motion late this afternoon.

BIG CIRCUS HERE NEXT WEEK

The Ringling Bros and Barnum & Bailey Circus, with the world's largest big top in solid blue, improved air conditioning, a new opening spectacle, "The Return of Marco Polo", created and costumed in France by Max Weldy, and an all-new performance, star-studded by a tremendous array of new European features, will exhibit in Washington, D. C., 3-days, May 16, 17 and 18.

Foremost among the impressive importations is the great Alfred Court, Europe's most famous trainer, with his three famed mixed groups of performing wild animals — Polar bears, Himalayan bears, Bengal tigers, lions, black and spotted leopards, Siberian snow leopards, black and spotted panthers, cougars, pumas, jaguars and Great Dane dogs, all working together in breath-taking violation of jungle law. Never before has a trainer accomplished this startling mixing of so many species of natural enemies. This is Court's first American appearance.

The leading horsemen of Europe—Hans Strassburger, Vas Concelos and Los Aservas—with their renowned troupes of dressage and liberty steeds bring the Big Show's horse displays to a new high. The war and big money made their importation possible, as it did scores of other troupes and stars who hitherto would not budge off the Continent.

The Greatest Show on Earth, steaming toward this territory on four long trains, with 1,000 people, 50 elephants, 1,009 menagerie animals and hundreds of horses, will open its performances at 2:15 and 8:15 daily, with doors open at 1 and 7 p. m., for public inspection of the huge menagerie, including Gargantua the Great, and the long lines of performing steeds in the new horse fair tent adjoining it.

COLLEGE GRADUATES SAID TO BE IN DEMAND THIS YEAR

Virginians, especially those who will graduate from various colleges in the nation in a few weeks, are heartened by the report that jobs are multiplying for American college graduates this year, due in considerable part to war-stimulated industry. University of Virginia, Washington and Lee and Virginia Polytechnic Institute report encouraging offers being made to their graduates.

Increased employment calls, higher starting salaries and prospects of jobs absorbing "100 per cent of our graduates by fall" was reported by the university. Engineering students were particularly in demand, officials said. Business students run a close second. Where starting salaries last year average $100 per month, the university reports its students this year have been offered an average of $125.

Washington and Lee reported that "so far employment demand is running about the same with similar starting salaries. Most calls are in selling work." Virginia Tech announced its employment demand was running about the same, as are starting salaries. The Blacksburg officials indicated that heaviest demand was for sales work and engineering, and combinations of the two. Prospects are for placement of at least 95 per cent of the graduates by end of the year, they said.

While college students were happily anticipating end of school, federal and state officials met last week in Norfolk to discuss the problem of migratory workers, especially on the Eastern Shore, where the number coming up from the south to pick strawberries and dig potatoes totaled about 6,000—95 per cent of them Negroes. A survey is planned in which it is hoped that information regarding where the workers start from, how far they intend going, the amount of money earned, the number of persons in a family, and other data will be ascertained.

Careers in Engineering

By R. T. Stroh

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

COME authority has determined that out of one hundred engineers, thirty-five will be working as civil engineers, twenty-five as mechanical engineers, twenty-two as electrical engineers, seven as chemical engineers, four as nuclear and metallurgical engineers, two as industrial engineers, and one each in such fields as architectural, agricultural and ceramic engineering.

Under each of these broad headings, the young man may specialize. For instance, the civil engineer may devote his efforts to surveying and mapping; or he may turn to highway and railway engineering in the design, planning, location, construction and maintenance of roadways, bridges, culverts, tunnels and grades. He may find that his interests lean toward the building of hydro-electric dams, draining swamp lands, irrigating desert areas, deepening the channels of rivers and harbors, constructing reservoirs and canals; or he may specialize in sanitary engineering.

Engineering covers almost every phase of human activity. There is research, design, experimentation, construction and manufacture,
sales adaptation, application, service and operation. There are opportunities for men of ability in many special fields. It also is possible for a young man to change from one field to another. The world has need of the trained man today and the demand is increasing.

RACING PIGEONS IN WAR AND PEACE

The opening of the racing pigeon season this year takes on added interest, with a war going on in Europe, as the part that these birds play in warfare is recalled. Washington is one of the American Racing Pigeon Union's major centers and what is being accomplished in the Capital in the training of these birds for peace and wartime activities is told in an illustrated feature article appearing next Sunday in The Washington Sunday Star.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

MICKY ROONEY ENACTS "YOUNG TOM EDISON"

Giving Micky Rooney his first portrayal of a real life character, a role in which the boy star has an opportunity to prove that he is a genuine actor, "Young Tom Edison" opens at the Pitts Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, May 13 and 14 for an engagement of two days.

Not only does this picture present Rooney with his first biographical role but it is the first such role ever given a juvenile player, despite the fact that many adults have played real-life characters repeatedly.

"Young Tom Edison" also marks the second teaming of Micky with Virginia Weidler, who scored as his nemesis in "Out West with the Hards". She plays his sister in the present picture, a role which Hollywood believes will definitely make her a star. In the two other stellar roles of the picture, Fay Bainter plays Mrs. Edison and George Bancroft, Mr. Edison. Others in the cast are Eugene Pallette, Victor Kilian, Bobbie Jordan, J. M. Kerrigan, Lloyd Corrigan, John Kellogg, Clem Bevans, Eily Malvon and Harry Shannon.

The story is an intense human-interest one, complete in itself although it covers only the boyhood of Thomas A. Edison. Replete with comedy, drama, tears, thrills and adventure, it is basically the story of the triumph of a typical American boy who had to show his home folks that he was not the numbskull they believed him to be.

Mr. and Mrs. Roeller, of Vienna, Va., called on Mr. and Mrs. Harry Slack in Occoquan during the week end. Mr. Roeller is connected with the Bank in Vienna.

Mrs. Thos. F. Joyce, of Occoquan, spent several days in Washington, D. C., during the week visiting friends and relatives.

The Regents of Mount Vernon, generally known as the Mr. Vernon Ladies Association will attend services and receive the sacraments of Holy Communion at Historic Pohick Church next Sunday, May 12th at 11:00 a. m., service. Those good ladies make this service an annual occasion, and we are very glad to have them with us on such an occasion. The Regents consist of a Member from each of the 48 states. They take care of Mt. Vernon, and once a year they meet there to hear the reports of the year, and make plans for carrying out work for the following year. They have always been especially interested in Pohick Church it being General Washington's home church. Also, at this annual meeting they elect members to succeed any member who have left during the past year, by death, or etc.

Next Sunday being Whitsunday, the regular congregation of Old Pohick Church will receive Holy Communion. Members of other churches and other denominations are welcomed to those services, and to receive the Holy Communion with us.

Last week was clean up week in Occoquan. If the pickup truck failed to collect your trash, do not be uneasy about it; it will pick it up as soon as it can. There was some delay in hiring a suitable truck to collect trash. We believe it will get proper attention in future. THANK YOU FOR YOUR PATIENCE.

APPLE FLOWER FESTIVAL SUCCESS DESPITE LATE SEASON

Tom Baldrige, director general of the 17th annual Shenandoah Apple Blossom festival held here last week, was informed today by officials of the Winchester Research Laboratory that the great majority of apple trees in this section would be at the height of their bloom by Thursday and Friday, (May 9-10) of this week.

Early varieties of apple trees, especially the duchess variety, have been blooming since last week, and other varieties have been developing in regular succession.

This city, mecca of thousands of visitors last week during the celebration of the apple festival was preparing again this week for the mass of visitors who annually come to see this section carpeted in pink petals.

While some disappointment was expressed over the fact that only the early varieties of the fruit were in bloom during the apple blossom celebration, it was thought that the sight of the 6,000,000 apple trees expected to be in bloom at the end of this week would be compensation enough.

The late bloom this year was attributed to the extended cold weather experienced in this fruit growing section. Usually, according to veteran orchardists, the blossoms reach the height of their bloom about the last week in April or the first of May.

A decision to bill the Falls Church School Board for its proportionate share in administrative and supervisory costs in connection with the operation of the local school system was reached by the Fairfax County School Board Wednesday.

The action was taken following a long discussion between members of the county board and Samuel H. Styles and Mrs. Albert Ware, representing the Falls Church Board. While the school system in Falls Church functions as a separate school district it was pointed out that Division Supt. W. T. Woodson heads the town as well as the county system, and a number of administrative and supervisory functions for the town must be handled through the County School Board.

Another matter brought to the attention of the board was the fact that while the county pays the per diem of a member of the Falls Church board to represent it on the county board, yet the county actually has no direct jurisdiction over Falls Church schools. The town member on the county board may vote on any questions coming up relating either to the county or town.

For this year it was decided to bill the town for $674.32, representing the estimated cost of administration and supervision by the county school department in the town.

Plans for improvements at Chesterbrook School submitted by Raymond V. Long, State school architect, were approved by the School Board, and it was decided to advertise for bids at once. A delegation from Chesterbrook, headed by Dr. R. A. Osborne, urged school officials to take prompt action in making the proposed improvements.

Action by the Falls Church School Board to end the uncertainty over which teachers in the town schools will be retained next year is expected at an adjourned meeting Friday night following a lengthy discussion of the problem at the regular board meeting last night.

Estimates of teacher loads next year, based on prospective enrollment, indicate that it may not be possible to retain all town instructors, it was said. Teaching vacancies in the Fairfax County school system make it probable, however, that employment can be arranged for any instructor dropped by the town.

Meanwhile, the Parent-Teacher Association is preparing to circulate petitions requesting a town school bond election on a proposal to raise $35,000 for the purchase of a tract of land, erection of a gymnasium and addition of any needed rooms.

STATE MILITIA WILL TRAIN IN NEW YORK

Virginia National Guardsmen won't pack away their winter garb until after August. They have been ordered to participate in summer maneuvers with the First American Army in New York in August, clothed in winter attire, including overcoats. Four thousand Virginia troops will concentrate in the metropolitan area to practice quick mobilization and to undertake defensive training on a large scale. Maneuvers, first in New York for Virginia troops since the Revolutionary War, will be held over an area 35 miles wide and 55 miles long. All motorized units except the 11th field Artillery will be concentrated in Northern Virginia, August 4, and will start overland, stopping thrice en route. They return home August 25. Only explanation given for use of winter clothing, in place of traditional summer cotton wear, was the Northern climate.

W. P. A. WEEK TO BE OBSERVED

This week of May 20-25 has been set aside as National W. P. A. week, during which time Work Projects Administration will explain to all citizens interested what the women's projects are doing. The keynote of the week will be a broadcast over a national radio hook-up from Washington, D. C. on the evening of May 20.

It is planned that all communities will have an assembly of citizens to meet on the same night of the broadcast to have dinners sponsored by local organizations and arrange a local program which will precede the national broadcast, thus making each local gathering a part of a nation-wide demonstration.

Details plans and places of meetings will be announced later by the different organizations. All W. P. A. Projects will be open to visitors during that week and all citizens are invited to call and inspect. "THIS WORK PAYS YOUR COMMUNITY".

This is being announced today by Mrs. Celestine G. Brown, W. P. A. Chairman; Miss Nancy Lynn, County Chairman; and Miss Katherine Pattie, Secretary.

A Promise in the Fulfillment

What the Son of Man promised: "—and behold, I am with you all days even unto the consummation of the world."—Matt. xxviii, 20.

What Lord Macaulay wrote:

"There is not and there never was, a work of human policy so well deserving of examination as the Roman Catholic Church. The proudest royal houses are but of yesterday when compared with the line of the Supreme Pontiffs. The republic of Venice was modern when compared with the Papacy, and the republic of Venice is gone and the Papacy remains full of life and youthful vigor. The Catholic Church saw the commencements of all the governments and all the ecclesiastical establishments that now exist in the world, and we feel no assurance that she is not destined to see the end of them all." (Extracts from Lord Macaulay's Essay on Ranke's History of the Popes).

What Gladstone said: "The Catholic Church has marched for 1500 years at the head of civilization. Her greatness, glory, grandeur and majesty have been almost, though not absolutely, all that in these respects the world has had to boast of. Her Children are more numerous than all the members of the sects combined. Her altars are raised in every clime and her missionaries are wherever there are souls to be saved. And this wonderful church, as old as Christianity, as universal as mankind, is today, after twenty centuries, as fresh, as vigorous and as faithful as on the day when the Pentecostal fires were showered upon the earth." (From Gladstone's speech against the law excluding Catholics from the Lord Chancellorship of England).

"Heaven and earth will pass away but my word will not pass away." (Matt. xxiv, 35).

Many non-Catholic historians of today, after honest research into the past, are now declaring that many of the accusations against the Catholic Church, as written in post "Reformation" days, are pure fabrications, and were concocted only for false propagation purposes. True knowledge of all things Catholic is open to everybody at all times. It is to give you this true knowledge in a simple and easy way, that our Society has been formed. Please take advantage of our offer and write us for explanations of anything Catholic.
