

SMITH EXPLAINS
THE LABOR LAW

Advises U. S. Chamber That Collective Bargaining Is Here To Stay

The 2,000 business men attending the annual convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce last week in Washington represented big business in its largest sense. The notable session was divided in interest into five sections, one of these being the most important subject of "Industrial Relations". The guest speaker was Representative Howard W. Smith, of the Eighth Virginia District of Virginia and Chairman of the Special Committee of Congress investigating the National Labor Relation Board.

Those who have taken it for granted that Judge Smith was an enemy of the Wagner Labor Act, and of the principle of collective bargaining generally, were more or less astounded to hear the distinguished speaker state "that the Wagner Act can work", and that "collective bargaining is here to stay".

Quoting directly from the New York Post of May 2, the following interesting narrative presents Judge Smith and his investigation in true perspective as friendly alike to labor and to business:

"Yesterday afternoon there were six sectional meetings for the delegates. They were assigned to discuss (1) the consumer movement; (2) government control (or lack of control) of natural resources; (3) the effect of war on trade; (4) state supervision of insurance; (5) industrial relations; (6) the whole field of transportation.

The chief speaker for No. 5 was Rep. Smith of Virginia, author of Smith amendments to the Wagner Act and chairman of the committee investigating the NLRB.

On the programs of the other sections were some of the country's outstanding experts.

But Smith was the man who drew the crowd. The program makers apparently hadn't realized what a drawing card he would be; otherwise, they wouldn't have assigned his section to the Rose Room on the top floor of the Washington Hotel.

The turnout to hear Smith taxed the Washington's elevators far beyond capacity, and Chairman B. C. Heacock (president, Caterpillar Tractor Co., Peoria, Ill.) almost failed to get in himself. He had to bribe a hotel employee to take him up in a freight elevator.

Some 600 other delegates fought their way into the Rose Room, and the meeting started at 3:08 instead of 2:30.

The five other meetings were pretty thin, with only 1,400 delegates to divide among them in competition with all the cocktail bars and sight-seeing tours.

But those who went to hear Smith weren't disappointed. He isn't exactly an orator; rather, he is a word artist. The first thing he told them was, "The Wagner act can work." Then he said: "Collective bargaining is here to stay, and you might as well make up your mind to that whether you like it or not."

Nobody seemed to like it very much, but that didn't bother Smith. He paused to bawl out flash-lighting photographers in the nicest way. He said he didn't want to interfere with a photographer's work, but he wished the photographer would hurry and get through because he was just a country boy and wasn't used to that sort of thing.

That got him his first big hand. Then he explained his amendments to scattering applause.

Then he gave the NLRB as presently constituted the works and assured his hearers that under current rulings they might have to pay as much as 10 years' back pay to people they had never even hired.

Smith had a point there because he was able to cite two cases in which the NLRB has ordered firms to "re-instate with back pay" men who allegedly were refused employment because they belonged to unions.

"In other words," said Mr. Smith, "you can be ordered to reinstate somebody who never was instated in the first place."

(That issue is still in the courts.) When Smith wound up he got an ovation of which a candidate for President would be proud. Chairman Heacock tried to get the audience back to order, but it took him a long time. When Smith started back where he came from (the House of Representa-

FLOWER SHOW
IS SUCCESSFUL

Seventy-Five Exhibits Entered
By Local Contestants

The garden section of the Woman's Club of Manassas, held a most successful and lovely flower show, on Thursday of last week, in the Parish Hall, here.

All classes were well filled, and some beautiful and artistic arrangements were shown, those desiring special mention, being the white flowers in white containers, in this class, Mrs. Robert Smith was the winner.

The miniature arrangements, which are rapidly growing into a favorite class, also had some sweet and original entries, first place in this class, being given to Mrs. Margaret Lewis.

Judging from the numerous, and lovely specimen tulips on display, this flower is being grown quite extensively, by local gardeners, and some keen competition was given here. First place in the tulip collection was awarded to Mrs. Lewis.

Another attractive and unusual class, was for foliage arrangements, a new one this year, Mrs. O. C. Martell, getting a blue ribbon for her arrangement.

Altogether there were seventy-seven exhibitors and a large number of guests and visitors dropped in during the afternoon to view the exhibits and partake of tea, which was served by a committee of garden section members, headed by Mrs. Harvey Steele, the recently elected chairman of this active group.

(atives), the demonstration started all over again.

This correspondent, somewhat amazed at the demonstration, asked delegates about their own experiences with the NLRB.

I couldn't interview all the 2,000, but those I did see were divided into these classes. (1) employers of small groups who had never been asked to engage in collective bargaining; (2) those who had signed contracts; (3) those who were still wrangling.

I found a delegate whose badge showed that he was a lawyer from a southern town where I directed coverage of a violent strike 11 years ago. I asked him how things were coming along in his town. He said:

"Swell. Both sides got their lesson in that strike. Then after the CIO came along, they organized the big mills. They signed contracts and there hasn't been a bit of trouble since."

"Is the whole town unionized?" I asked.

"The big mills," he answered. "The rest don't amount to anything. They are just chiselers."

I asked him what he thought of Smith, and he said he thought Smith was a great man.

"The way they're going you can't tell what they'll do to you," he said.

And by that he meant the NLRB and the CIO.

So there you have it. A business man with perfect labor relations trembling in his boots about what tomorrow.

TEACHERS HOLD
FINAL MEETING

Rev. R. M. Graham Speaks On Education

On Wednesday, May 15, the final meeting of the Prince William County Teachers' Association for the school year 1939-40 was held in the auditorium of the Manassas High School.

Mr. Sigman, the president, opened the meeting with a very nice talk in which he expressed his interest in Vocational Guidance, stating that it is very hard to know just what is the best way to carry this out. He said it seemed to him that teachers give to the pupils the best they can in life and when these pupils get out of school, many of them are numbered with the unemployed. He deplored the fact that some method could not be found to help the pupil to find his true vocation. He gave several interesting examples of boys who had achieved success in a chosen vocation which grew out of childhood interests.

Mr. Sigman introduced Rev. R. M. Graham, guest speaker for the meeting. Rev. Graham gave an excellent talk on "Education" by saying first, that our profession as ministers and teachers is really not a profession but a calling. He insisted that the main purpose of the public schools of today is to develop personality, and urged that this can not be done by any set rules of the teacher. He believes that personality is caught rather than taught and that teachers should not be overworked with extra curricular work to such extent that it impairs their physical condition and hinders them from giving the proper amount of time and individual attention to their pupils.

Second, Rev. Graham made mention of consolidation of schools and gave as his chief reasons against this plan the following:

1. Breaks up home ties too suddenly.
2. Moral influence—Too many immature minds made too mature.
3. Places a heavy burden on the teacher whose duty it would be to visit all the homes of her pupils.

Last, he believes the public school is not supposed to finish a man so he can take over a job, but instead it is to be a foundation affair and not a finishing affair.

The association elected new officers for the year 1940-41 as follows:

President Miss Evelyn Irons, Dumfries High School; Vice President, Mr. W. E. Moore, Haymarket High School, and Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Maude Brown, Ocoquan High School.

This meeting of the association brought to a close two very successful years under the efficient leadership of its president, Mr. Frank Sigman.

NOKESVILLE

Rating first place in a competitive examination offered in three counties, Warren H. Landes, a senior of Brentsville District High School, won a scholarship to Strayer Business College in Washington.

We are very proud of this honor for our school but we are more proud of the fact that Ernest C. Spitzer, Jr., another senior of B. D. H. S., rated second in this same examination in which there were 87 contestants from the various high schools of the above mentioned counties; also, it is most commendable that seven of the nine contestants from B. D. H. S. were in the upper half.

The Methodist Young People will hold their monthly social at the home of Miss Frances Owens on Saturday, 19.

The Nokesville boys' and girls' baseball and softball teams respectively will play Falmouth on Tuesday, 14, at their school.

Nokesville girls' softball team scored another triumph over Manassas with a score of 10 to 11.

The Juniors and Seniors will take their annual trip to Annapolis on Wednesday 15. The seniors will be the guests of honor. We hope the trip will be educational and enjoyable to all. The main object of the trip is to view the Naval Academy.

The Nokesville Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Luther Bouman, at Aden last week. Besides a large attendance of regular members, a number of visitors were welcomed, several of whom are prospective members.

Mrs. Paul Cooksey, of Manassas, was guest speaker and her delightful talk on flower beds and rock gardens was most entertaining and instructive. Mrs. Cooksey's visits are always anticipated with a great deal of pleasure.

The club was particularly pleased to have its president, Mrs. Edmund Hooker, back after a long illness.

The club will serve the Brentsville district school alumni banquet on May 30, as has been the custom for several years.

The program committee outlined an interesting summer and fall schedule.

IS THIS THE "BLITZKRIEG"?

At 1 o'clock, a. m. on Friday, May 10, the long expected German drive through Holland and Belgium began. Military authorities are as yet undecided as to whether the present attack is merely designed to gain control of vitally important coastline opposite England, or whether it marks the beginning of the most gigantic battle of modern warfare.

In any event the "war of nerves" is seemingly giving place to dramatic action, the outcome of which will almost determine whether democratic government shall survive throughout the world.

We have a great interest in this titanic struggle. At present England, France and their lesser allies are fighting desperately and at great disadvantage for those principles upon which our own form of government is based. So long as they win, we may continue to view the contest complacently, congratulating ourselves upon the width of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, but if they become sorely pressed and find themselves face to face with the possibility of defeat, shall we then be merely disinterested spectators?

There is, in fact, much possibility that we ourselves may have to face the fire and steel of the barbarian hordes who seek the overthrow of all those institutions of home, religion and government which we hold most dear, and certainly with the awful holocaust creeping nearer each day, we must put our house in better shape to meet any eventuality. It is quite possible, and indeed entirely probable, that our country, even our government, is honeycombed with foreign agents and native Communists, and unless we can rid ourselves of these vermin, we will fare no better than Poland or Norway when the "Blitzkrieg" comes to us.

What would you do without it?

● The best way to visualize the importance of banks in your daily life is to imagine carrying on without them. How would you protect your money? How would you pay your obligations? Where would you keep your cash reserve? Without banks our whole economic machine would stall. We would go back to the primitive, unsafe and uncertain financial procedures that existed at the time of the Revolutionary War. Whether or not you are a depositor, banks are important to you and deserve your full cooperation and support.

We will gladly give you full information about any of our modern services.

BETHLEHEM CLUB MEETING

Mrs. R. B. Larkin and Mrs. A. C. Hart entertained the Bethlehem Goodhousekeeper's Club at the home of the former on Wednesday afternoon of this week.

The life of Jane Adams, great settlement worker and founder of Hull House, was studied at this meeting, and the name of Amy Lowell was chosen for discussion at the June meeting.

A donation was voted to the local Red Cross chapter for war relief.

Mr. Andrew Riffe, representative of the Historical Research Department of the Federal Writers' Project, Richmond, and Mrs. Susan Morton, of Haymarket, were present and told of the progress being made on the History of Old Prince William, which is now being compiled under the joint sponsorship of the County Board of Supervisors and this Club. Mrs. T. J. Ashford, of Manassas, was also a guest.

Mrs. Frank Gue, as "Madame Inez Moranti", made some very startling prophecies regarding the future of each of the members. She was introduced by Mrs. R. L. Byrd, program chairman.

Mrs. A. A. Hooff and Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson will be hostesses in June, with Mrs. R. C. Haydon and Mrs. B. F. Knox presenting the program.

Mrs. George Dessler and Mrs. Margaret Laws assisted the hostesses in serving delicious refreshments.

W. P. A. SUPPER AT WOODBINE SCHOOL

Under sponsorship of the student co-operative association, a W. P. A. Supper will be given at the Woodbine School next Monday night, beginning at 6 p. m.

It is also being arranged through courtesy of Mr. Fred Hynson to have a radio hook-up with the national W. P. A. program scheduled for this evening.

COUNTY AGENT BEARD
DISCUSSES FARM PROGRAM

County Agent John Beard was guest speaker at the Manassas-Kiwanis Club last Friday evening. He was presented to the club by P. A. Lewis, chairman of the committee for the evening. Past President John A. Cummins, of the Arlington Club, was present. He stated that last week made it nine straight perfect attendance marks that his club had made. Incidentally, it was the first one made by the local club this year.

Mr. Beard gave a comprehensive discussion of the history of the growth of the co-operative farm programs, going back to the days when the Smith-Lever Bill was first passed. He stated that the use of the lime was one very important factor that had developed, the consumption in Prince William rising some 300 per cent in about as many years.

He stressed the fact that the aim of the program was to make living conditions among the farmers better, and by their prosperity reflect better business in the whole county.

Tomorrow evening, Lieut-Governor Art Stickley, of Arlington and Waterfall, will be here on his official visit. Next week will be the annual entertainment of a selected list of this year's high school graduates in the county.

UNUSUAL ACTS AT MAMMOTH
CIRCUS THIS WEEK

With the most sensational mixed groups of performing wild animals ever seen in America—those of Europe's foremost trainer, Alfred Court—the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus will exhibit in Washington, three days, May 16-17-18, its performance further notable by its new and fine array of other super-features from the Continent and countless innovations in presentation.

Racing with Alfred Court for peak honors in this thrilling European invasion is the new opening spectacle, "The Return of Marco Polo", fashioned and costumed in Paris by Max Weldy, designer of the Folies Bergere productions, at a cost of over $80,000. This is the last word in pageantry, its color tones, gorgeously fantastic garb and rich trappings are like nothing ever seen in American before.

The newly-imported horse acts for the Big Show—sixty-four marvelously-trained equines—brings Europe's most famous horsemen to the world's largest big top, now a solid blue canvas, with its air conditioning perfected by a season's experimentation.

Scores of European headline troupes and stars, headed by the unparalleled Les Bretinis, Elly Ardely, Truzzi, the Akimotos, Rola-Rola, Adriana and Charlys and Tanita Iko, perform aloft and in the rings with such favorites as the Riding Cristianis, the three Flying Concello troupes, Hubert Castle, wizard of the tight wire; the marvelous Yacopis and the Davissos.

The performances begin at 2:15 and 8:15 P. M., with doors open at 1 and 7 p. m., to permit public inspection of the menagerie, including Gargantua the Great, giant gorilla, and the hundreds of blue-blooded steeds in the new horse fair tent adjoining it.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 19.

The Golden Text will be "This corruptible must put on incorruption and this mortal must put on immortality" (1 Cor. 15:53).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound: they shall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance. In thy name shall they rejoice all the day: and in thy righteousness shall they be exalted" (Psa. 89:15,16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy: "Human capacity is slow to discern and to grasp God's creation and the divine power and presence which go with it, demonstrating its spiritual origin. Mortals can never know the infinite, until they throw off the old man and reach the spiritual image and likeness" (p. 519).

OLD BRICK WALL DISCOVERED

I KNOW HE IS THERE

By Algia A. Martin

Discovery of an early brick foundation on the campus of the College of William and Mary during digging preparatory to planting trees has given rise to speculation as to the history of the foundation. The portion of the wall uncovered is located just west of the Sir Christopher Wren Chapel wing, and the north-south wall uncovered ran exactly to the end of the present chapel. The foundations were recovered so that excavations could be resumed after the college commencement. A Edwin Kendrew of the architectural staff of Williamsburg Restoration said the find was "intensely interesting". No records exist, according to the Restoration staff, which shows a building of such magnitude of the site. The brick wall uncovered was 36 inches in width. Found in the fill was a one-cent piece bearing a 1789 date and a "butterfly hinge" of ancient vintage. Bricks of varying widths were discovered.

When the hurry is over
At the close of day,
I love to go off by myself
And kneel there to pray.

To give thanks to my Savior
For guidance through the day,
And ask for more strength
To carry on my way.

When my burdens get heavy
And I can not seem to bear,
I talk to my Savior
As I know he is there.

And as I kneel to pray
I seem to hear him say,
Your burdens will be lighter
Just keep going on your way.

SCREEN OFFERS SOMETHING NEW IN "FLORIAN"

Thundering drama of the glories which is told a tender love story, comes Monday and Tuesday, May 20 and 21 to the Pitts Theatre in "Florian", cavalcade of world turmoil, based on Felix Salten's noted novel.

The picture traces Austria's collapse after the World War through its effects on the lovers and a magnificent Lippizan stallion, owned by Emperor Franz Josef. The story opens in the romantic Austria of 1910, with spectacular Imperial social affairs, reviews of the Emperor's horses and other spectacles. Robert Young and Helen Gilbert play a groom in the Imperial stables and a duchess, who, through mutual love for "Florian", the horse, find themselves in love, a romance forbidden by their difference in social station. The war, revolution, and collapse of the Hapsburg dynasty sweep away social differences as the three are reunited in America.

Irina Baronova, beautiful Ballet Russe dancer, not only figures in a spectacular ballet at an Imperial reception but plays the role of a fiery sweetheart of a grand duke, portrayed by Lee Bowman. Charles Coburn plays a faithful friend of the lovers, Reginald Owen is seen as Franz Josef and Lucile Watson plays the Countess.

"Florian", Lippizan stallion presented to the opera star Maria Jeritza by the Austrian government, plays the title role. Edwin L. Martin directed the picture. Replicas of Vienna's Imperial palace, the Imperial Riding School where a lavish review of the Emperor's horses is held, native festivals, and other spectacular detail surrounds the central romance and its thunderous background. Winfield Sheehan is the producer.

GREENWICH

Mother's Day was observed in our community Sunday. I think all children realize the advantages of having a living mother. Mothers have a large responsibility in raising their children to respect them and the rights of others. A "Mother" is something we should appreciate and honor them, not only on this day, but everyday.

During the past week citizens of Greenwich have planted, shrubs, bulbs, and flowers on the school grounds.

Church services will be at the Oak Dale Baptist Church, Sunday, at 11 a. m. Rev. Grimsly will give the sermon.

The regular meeting of the young people will be at the Presbyterian Church, Sunday night at 8 p. m. Mrs. N. K. Middleton will be the leader. We would like to see more of the young people attend the constructive meetings.

The Daughters of America presented an American flag to the Greenwich S. C. A., Wednesday night at the P-T-A. meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lunsford, of Bethel, were visitors of Mrs. Josie Mayhugh, Sunday.

The Greenwich School presented the three act comedy, "Mr. and Mrs. Vinegar", Thursday night at the school. The play was quite a hit and was enjoyed by all of the audience.

The "Haymarket Yellowjackets", defeated the "Greenwich Wildcats", Monday with the following score:

Haymarket boys, 26 Greenwich boys, 14; Haymarket girls, 72, Greenwich girls, 14.

WEATHER RETARDS

FARM WORK

Both farm work and crop growth were retarded during April by unfavorable weather conditions, according to the Virginia cooperative crop reporting service. Frequent rains interfered with plowing and the unusually cold weather delayed planting and retarded the growth of most crops. Frost occurred frequently during April and in some sections there was frost as late as April 30. The greatest damage to crops was caused by the freeze on April 12 and 13 when fruit trees were in bloom in the southern part of the State. At the end of the month there were ample moisture in the soil and crops should make rapid improvement with warm weather.

THE FIGHT FOR LIFE

The United States Film Service a few weeks ago produced a marvelous motion picture, "The Fight for Life", and, paradoxically, at the moment of its greatest achievement the Film Service is today engaged in a fight for its own life. The story of this Federal service, devoted mainly to the cause of education, which has produced such other epic films as "The Plow That Broke the Plains" and "The River", and the present struggle in Congress over its existence, is told in an illustrated feature article appearing next Sunday in The Washington Sunday Star.

SAYS CHAIN STORE BILL WOULD HURT FARMERS

Passage of a bill to tax chain stores out of existence would "strike at the very vitals of the farming industry", members of a House Ways and Means Subcommittee were told by A. W. Burfoot, of Crozet, Va., sales manager of Chesley A. Haden & Co.

His firm handles approximately 1,000 cars of apples and peaches annually.

"With the increasing production of almost all farm products throughout the country, we are more than ever dependent on mass distribution to keep these products moving to the consumer in increasing quantities", Burfoot testified.

He complimented chain stores for their "valuable assistance" in moving farm surpluses and declared: "On several occasions, when we were hopelessly lost as far as marketing was concerned, special drives by chain stores saved us from incurring severe losses".

Burfoot told members of the Subcommittee that "more than ever we need marketing outlets because many foreign markets have been destroyed."

"Who else is better able to bring to the attention of all housewives everywhere the desirability of purchasing our products than the chains operating many large retail units throughout the country?" he asked.

Chain stores have never "taken advantage of technicalities in any way", he said, "and have accepted shipments regardless of an unfavorable market condition. Our experience has been that the chains do not speculate, but buy from day to day, depending on their needs, and this method of operation keeps the market healthy and normal".

A MESSAGE OF SYMPATHY

TO ENGLAND

A motion passed by the annual council of the Episcopal diocese of Virginia clearly shows its loyalty to the church in England. A motion passed yesterday called for an expression of sympathy be sent to Archbishop of Canterbury over present distressing conditions. One layman sprang to his feet and offered an amendment that "we hope they win" but was ruled out of order.

But you'll find the mightiest arguments of all in the 8 fine cylinders under the hood. As 6 million Ford V-8 owners now know, only a Ford adds V-8 performance to low cost and thrift. Only a

Ford gives you, at low cost, the kind of powerplant of which so many highest-price cars boast.

Drive a Ford V-8. Before you pick out your new car, let the world's most famous "8" tell you its own matchless story . . . on the road!
