MANASSAS, VIRGINIA THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1940

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

WILL PROMOTE SCHOOL LIBRARY

Committee Appointed At Alumni Banquet For This Purpose

Saturday evening saw the annual initiation of the immediate alumni of the Manassas High School. As usual it was held at the high school auditorium although the ever-increasing numbers indicate that seating capacity is about taxed to the limit.

As previously stated the central theme of the evening was the library, the thought being to carry forward some of the ideas advanced last year by Miss Eugenia, Mr. Wagener, and others.

After the invocation by Rev. J. F. Burks, the ladies of the P. T. A., assisted by the Home Economic girls, put on a very nice supper, which punctuated largely by 1939 which was there almost en masse. They called on all their favorites to make themselves known amidst lusty applause. They applied to the same idea to the usual roll of classes.

In the absence of Rev. Joe Gulick, Wheatley Johnson kept the banner of 1905 on high, with an unsupported class yell went over with the usual gusto.

"Miss Eugenia's Bookshelf" progressed as Toastmaster and Librarian W. Hill Brown called on his aides, after a cheery word of welcome to all. Judge also urged them as an evidence of interest to try and read some good book at least once a year.

Treasurer C. Lacey Compton reported that about one third of the sum projected for modernizing the gymnasium had been raised.

The Manassas of a few years back was called to mind vividly and humorously by Mr. Johnson who told of the olden scenes that could be brought to mind since the first class (1896) graduated from the old Manassas Institute. Quite a number of very interesting anecdotes were interwoven with his remarks. The course of his address showed plainly the development of the school and the community, intermixed with a little political economy. He closed with a good wish and a toast for the future.

"Musical Books" were rendered by Miss Mary Lee Ruten and Mrs. Gladys Ball White, both of whom were encored. An extempore "book" was given by Miss Nancy Waters who read some poems by Dr. Elizabeth Waters.

This was followed by J. Jenkins Davies who added his advice to the assembly, and closed with a toast to "Miss Eugenia". He, too, urged consistent support for the library.

"Anthology of Poetry" by Alice Boorman Williamson which proved to be a very sweet array of original poems by the lady herself.

Mr. Clarence Wagener, who has done so much to further the cause of the school library, spoke of the plans for creating interest in the work. He referred to the book review contest in warm words, presenting Miss Waters with a special gift for her assistance in the judging work. First prize was given to Miss Lelia Dowell and second to Miss Helen Kane.

Professor Peters gave what the program termed a "book review".

The funds received by the National organization will be used entirely and exclusively for war relief and no part of them will be applied toward the support of the normal program and expenditures of the Red Cross.

The American Red Cross, will apply the funds raised in this campaign for extending aid through the French and British Red Cross Societies and through other responsible operating organizations of the counties where assistance has been requested and is being given.

A Red Cross ship, loaded with supplies for the relief of the wounded, sick and needy refugees of France and Belgium will sail around June, first for Bordeaux, France.

CHAPTER HONORS BERKELEY FAMILY

Flag Presented To Memorialize Former Chapter President

The 8th Va. Reg't Chapter, U. D. C. Hall was well filled with members and friends on the afternoon of Monday, June 3rd to honor the memory of the President of the Confederacy Jefferson Davis, and the first President of the Chapter Miss Lucy Fontaine Berkeley, who passed away five years ago. The outstanding feature was the presentation to the chapter by Mrs. T. L. Berkeley, of Alexandria, a Confederate flag, the Stars and Bars. In presenting the flag.

Mrs. Berkeley said: "Madam, President, Daughters of the U. D. C., 8th, Va. Reg't. I have the honor of presenting this flag in memory of our beloved, first and only President, until her death; Miss Lucy Fontaine Berkeley, whose memory, we shall always love and cherish." After the acceptance of the flag by the chapter, Mr. R. B. Gossom was asked to speak in response to the presentation.

Mr. Gossom so well qualified to do this honor, being long associated with the family, as Trustee of Evergreen.

He spoke of the family's contribution to the Confederate cause, father and three uncles, all officers in the 8th Va. Reg't., a brother in the cadet corps. Va. Military Institute; of the family's noble lineage, of the beautiful Miss Lucy, her brilliant mind; yet so modest and unassuming, so gracious and devoted in serving her loved ones and ever doing good to those in need of sympathy and help. He likened her presence to a ray of sunshine through a rift in a cloudy sky; that during their many pleasant associations, he always delighted in doing her a favor, so sincere was she in her appreciation of the least.

HOWARD SMITH REBUKES EDITOR OF THE RICHMOND TIMES-DISPATCH

Resents Un-American Attitude Of Richmond Newspaper

May 31, 1940

Personal
Mr. Virginius Dabney, Editor,
"Times Dispatch",
Richmond, Virginia.

Sir:
The despicable deception perpetrated upon the readers of the "Times Dispatch" by the editorial in your paper of May 19th entitled, "Fifth-Column Jitters" impels me, in the interest of accurate information to the public in these times of peril, to take notice of statements that in normal times I would ignore.

In your attack upon me, you characterize me as "sponsor of a dangerous antislavery bill which passed the House last year". For the information of your readers, it should be known that the bill passed the House by a vote 272 to 48. Its provisions, briefly, are as follows:

1. It prohibits subversive efforts to effect the loyalty and discipline of the United States Army; (this provision was drafted and endorsed by the United States Navy Department and endorsed by the War Department).

2. It makes it unlawful for persons to advocate the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force and violence;

3. It orders the mandatory deportation of aliens who unlawfully assist in smuggling other aliens into the country, of aliens who violate the narcotic laws of any State, of aliens who are machine gun gangsters and convicted criminals;

4. It requires the fingerprinting and registration of all aliens in the United States and of all aliens who may hereafter be admitted;

5. It excludes from admission to the United States aliens who are anarchists or who advocate the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force.

Your readers will agree with me that it is a "dangerous antislavery bill", but dangerous only to the subversive "fifth column" movement which has assisted in the destruction of so many European governments in recent weeks, and which apparently you seek to protect through your vaunted advocacy of the Constitutional right of freedom of speech and of the press.

In your attack upon me, you further state that, when asked if a certain provision of the foregoing bill violated the guarantee of freedom of speech and the press, I replied "I do not think so. If it does, we ought to change the Constitution". You carefully refrain from advising your readers what the "certain provision" referred to was. The question propounded to me was whether the provisions prohibiting any person from advocating the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force and violence violated the "right of freedom of speech and freedom of the press, and I replied then as I would reply now, that, if it did, the Constitution ought to be amended. Of course, such a provision violates no right of freedom of speech or of the press. The Bill of Rights and the Constitution were never designed to protect treason.

This bill passed the House on the 29th day of July 1939, before the present war started, and it will be heartening to your readers to realize that, notwithstanding the carping criticism of some self-styled liberals, their Congress had the foresight, by a vote of 272 to 48, to pass such a bill, even before the emergency arose, and that every Member of the Virginia Delegation in Congress supported the bill.

For the further information of your readers, my so-called "dangerous antislavery bill" was favorably reported by the Judiciary Committee of the United States Senate on yesterday without a dissenting vote.

People in responsible positions in Washington, devoting their energies to preparing to meet the emergency that has come upon us, have little time at present to meet flank attacks from those who should be giving us their wholehearted support in this hour of the country's peril, and I take notice of your publication only for the purpose of letting your readers be informed of the facts, which you should have given them, if you saw fit at all to notice my feeble efforts.

I trust that your belief in the Constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech and of the press will lead you to accede to my request that this, my answer, be published in full and given as prominent a place in your paper as that given your unwarranted attack upon me.

Very truly yours, Howard W. Smith.

HON. JERE WILLIS GUEST SPEAKER

Manassas Graduates Get Practical Advice From Prominent Virginian

Graduation last week brought much happiness and just a little sadness to the many splendid young graduates of the county high schools. The spirit of the times tempered the ceremonies to no little degree. The speakers were more serious than usual, and the young people were urged to help keep the world on its feet so far as humanly possible.

Such a talk was the one given here by Hon. Jere Willis, former Mayor of Fredericksburg, Va. Interspersed with some old-fashioned humor was a prevailing appeal to the young mind to prepare itself not for a changing mechanical world so much as for a world upheaved by barbarian cataclysms that will need more and more the practicable, sensible attitude of thinking people.

Mr. Willis was introduced by Hon. E. R. Conner, legislative delegate from this county and Stafford.

Other highpoints in the program were the awarding of prizes and the diplomas. The former were presented by "O. D." Waters as follows:

Charles E. Lipscomb Award—Kite Roseberry.

Fannie Osborn Metz English Prize—Tommy Athey.

Third Year Latin Prize—Tommy Athey.

Lucy Arrington Commercial Prize—Violet Mae Kane.

George C. Round Prize (High Average for 4 years)—Tommy Athey.

George Oliver Lynch Athletic Prize—Guy Bowers.

Home Economics Prize—Margaret Hundley.

Elizabeth Quarles Johnson Mathematics Prize—Peggy Tipton.

Best Book Review in 3rd and 4th Year—Lelia Dowell.

Best Book Review in 2nd Year—Helen Kane.

Professor Peters presented diplomas to the graduates, who are named in the accompanying picture.

The program closed with a very sweet little word of farewell from Principal Peters to his charges.

The invocation was given by Rev. Luttrell and the benediction by Rev. Gibson. Music was furnished by the Glee Club under direction of Miss Miriam Blough, Miss Nancy Waters, accompanying.

The executive board meeting of the Manassas Woman's Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd on Tuesday, 1:30 p. m.

U D C HERE HONORS PRESIDENT DAVIS

Col Hutchison Speaks At Memorial Exercises

The motto of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, "Love Makes Memory Eternal" was never more manifest than on Monday, June 3rd when U. D. C. members and friends met at the confederate cemetery to engage in a memorial service commemorating the birthday of Jefferson Davis and to perpetuate the memory of departed veterans and Daughters of the Confederacy.

The program opened with a procession of children led by Mrs. McDuff Green and her small son, Sammy, while Mrs. Dennis Baker played softly on the organ, "Onward Christian Soldiers". Bo Williams, Morton Ellis, Jr., Tommy Beane, Robert Parler and Richard Graham carried Confederate flags and formed a bower under which the smaller children passed into the enclosed burial plot, where a profusion of lovely flowers were tenderly scattered over the confederate graves by Mary Lou Trimmer, Anne Warren Coleman, Kathrine and Martha Graham, Joan Alpaugh, Mary Louise and Robert Wine, Bettie and Mary Blakemore, Dolly Lomas, Katherine Dennis Baker, Peggy Anne Rice, Georgia Lee and Mary Ellen Beale. All lineal descendants of Confederate veterans.

Mr. Stanley Owens was master of ceremonies and Rev. A. Stuart Gibson impressively read the U. D. C. ritual. Mrs. James E. Rice sang in a clear, sweet voice, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia".

A beautiful tribute to the late Mrs. J. B. T. Thornton was given by Mrs. Robert A. Hutchison.

Hon. E. R. Conner, in a few well chosen words introduced Col. Robt. A. Hutchison, who touched briefly on the life of Jefferson Davis and the principles for which he stood. He paid a glowing tribute to the men who wore the gray and to the loyal and faithful Daughters of the Confederacy. He diverged and was most eloquent in calling attention to a National Patriotism, exclaiming, "The flag of the United States is my flag and this is my Country; let us have no boeing in from without".

Mrs. Dennis Baker read a poem, "The Blue and the Gray" which most appropriately followed Col. Hutchison's address.

Essay prizes were awarded to students of the Osborn High School in a most pleasing ceremony as follows:

Mr. Arthur Sinclair presented the 7th grade prize to W. Fred Dowell, Jr., Rev. R. M. Graham, the junior prize to Roger W. Cross, Jr., and Judge C. Lacey Compton, the senior prize to Miss Elizabeth Stuart Miller.

The benediction was pronounced by Graham.

Mrs. R. L. Byrd was chairman of program and arrangements; assisting her were, Mrs. Hutchison, Mrs. R. B. Larkin, Mrs. Dennis Baker, Mrs. Joseph Kinchele, Mrs. C. B. Compton, Mrs. G. G. Allen, Mrs. W. A. Newman and Mrs. Warren Coleman.

"JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB LUNCHEON"

On Saturday, June 1st, thirty-two members of the Virginia Federation Junior Woman's Club attended a delightful luncheon at Dicky Ridge Inn on the Skyline Drive. After luncheon the club members played bridge. The president of the district, Mrs. Jane Mauck, of Leesburg, presided. Mrs. Jack Ratcliffe, of Manassas, and Mrs. Hannsberger, of Orange, were in charge of the arrangements of the enjoyable outing. Those representing the Manassas Junior Women were:

Mrs. Arthur Sinclair, II; Mrs. Hawes Davies, Jr.; Mrs. Charles M. Harris, Mrs. Ralph Sharrett, Mrs. R. Jackson Ratcliffe, Mrs. Connie Kinchele, Mrs. Carl Kinchele, Miss Walser Conner, Miss Money D. Lynch and Miss Mirian Lynn.

Careers in Engineering

By R. T. Strohm

Dean, International
Correspondence Schools

SOME authority has determined that out of one hundred engineers, thirty-five will be working as civil engineers, twenty-five as mechanical engineers, twenty-two as electrical engineers, seven as chemical engineers, four as mining and metallurgical engineers, two as industrial engineers, and one each in such fields as architectural, agricultural and ceramic engineering.

Under each of these broad headings, the young man may specialize. For instance, the civil engineer may devote his efforts to surveying and mapping; or he may turn to highway and railway engineering in the design, planning, location, construction and maintenance of roadways, bridges, culverts, tunnels and grades. He may find that his interests lean toward the building of hydro-electric dams, draining swamp lands, irrigating desert areas, deepening the channels of rivers and harbors, constructing reservoirs and canals; or he may specialize in sanitary engineering.

Engineering covers almost every phase of human activity. There is research, design, experimentation, construction and manufacture, sales adaptation, application, service and operation. There are opportunities for men of ability in many special fields. It also is possible for a young man to change from one field to another. The world has need of the trained man today and the demand is increasing.

DO WE KNOW CHRIST

This man was born in a out of way village, the child of a peasant woman. He was a carpenter until he was thirty years old, then for three years, a preacher. He never owned a home. He never was two hundred miles from the place he was born. While still a young man, he was her turned over to his enemies. A mock trial, nailed upon a cross. While he was dying, they gambled for the only property he had on Earth and when he was dead, he was laid in a borrowed grave. The time came when he went out of this grave. The Roman seal was broken. Many saw him after he had come forth. His followers put on new life and more pep, after they saw the Roman seal broken and talked with him. Nineteen centuries have come and gone and today he is the central figure of the Human Race and the greatest of all leaders.

And we are not out of the way. When we say his life is worth more to the human race than all the armies that ever marched, all the navies that ever sailed. The greatest thinkers of all times can only say he is more than man. He is our only hope. We, who are his followers, must work together, worship together. If not, we are not his followers, creeds have no place in the new Law. In the spirit

SCHOOL OPERETTA AT CENTREVILLE

"Magic Gingerbread", an operetta of fun and frolic will be presented at the Centreville School, Thursday, June 13th, at 8 p. m.

You'll love this clever operetta in which the cook puts too much magic in the dough and the Gingerbread family come to life.

Also hear our rhythm band and glee club.

The pupils in the primary grades have recently enjoyed several field trips. The first grade summed up their unit by observing the animal life at the zoo. The second and third grades made a visit to the museum, observing jungle life and birds, particularly. The children were also interested in the different means of transportation, since this had been a part of their interest throughout the year.

world there will be no creeds, no seals. No one will be there, who wants a little corner off to himself. The Divine law talks plain and straight from this shoulder.

CATHARPIN

Come to Sudley for supper, Friday June 7. Strawberries and ice cream will be served with your supper of ham and all the "fixins" that go with it. Serving will begin at 4 p. m. Come and bring your family and friends and have a pleasant evening together at "Old Sudley".

Rev. John S. Schwartz has begun a Study Class at Sudley Church with meetings to be held once week.

Every person, young and old, is most cordially invited to attend these classes.

Our pastor has announced that a congregational meeting will be held next Sunday morning at Sudley, to prepare complete reports for the quarterly conference which will be held at Sudley, June 15th.

The commencement exercises of Haymarket High School, with a graduating class of nineteen, were enjoyed by one of the largest crowds of patrons and friends ever seen at our school. (One of the seniors, Miss Edna Moore, was stricken with typhoid fever, a few days prior to commencement).

The "George Grayson Tyler Memorial" prize given each year by the P.T.A. to the graduate making the highest average was won by Miss Virginia Wines, of Broad Run. Her valedictory address was pronounced, by her vast audience, to be the best ever heard from a graduating student.

Our guest, Dr. Jarman, of University of Virginia, who spoke on "Learning to Live", admitted that Miss Wines had left little for him to say.

The prize in athletics was divided between Lucy Ellis and Lavallette Carroll, while the citizenship recognition went to Rolfe Robertson.

Rita Robertson won the medal for highest grade in Mrs. Jordan's 7th grade pupils, while Clara Belle Carter, making an equally high grade but absent on account of sickness, was also awarded a prize.

Many patrons express great regret over the possibility that our high school may be removed from Haymarket in the future. With the going of our young people, we shall certainly lose the greatest asset in our district.

The F. F. A. baseball team of our Haymarket High School has won the trophy in the Blue Ridge Federation. One of the most spectacular players on the team is Clifton Osbourne Polen, Jr., a left-hander, who pitched eight and one third innings at the championship game against Calverton, and allowed only three hits. With such players as this, let us keep Haymarket on the map.

The Hickory Grove Home Demonstration group held a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Jack Hunt, with Mrs. S. N. Lightner and Mrs. T. Otis Latham, hostesses.

Among the speakers were Dr. Jackson, health director, of Prince William County, Mr. Simpson, Sanitation Inspector of the county, and Dr. Gardner of the State Health Department at Richmond. After the business of the day, delicious refreshments were served.

The music recital at Haymarket, given last Friday evening by the piano and violin pupils of Mrs. John Broadbuss, was a very delightful affair. The progress of the young pupils reflect much credit upon Mrs. Broadbuss' ability as an instructor.

Prizes, awarded to the ones making the most diligent efforts, were received by Mildred Caton, pianist, and Breckenridge Rust, violinist.

Mrs. Charles Paul McDonald, of Norton, Va., has returned home after an extended visit to Mrs. R. McDonald at "Oakwood" and Dr. and Mrs. Robert B. Hightower at the "Century Apts." in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. McDonald was entertained by many of her friends while in this community, among them, Mrs. W. K. Caldwell and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson.

Mr. Benjamin G. Steele, of Collingdale, Pa., was recently an over-night guest of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson, of "Dunrovin".

Mrs. Willie Davis has returned home after undergoing an operation in Alexandria Hospital. Her many friends are hoping for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lynn and little daughter, visited Mrs. Lynn's mother, Mrs. Metz in Manassas, Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. John S. Schwartz entertained a number of the young people of his churches at the paragonage at a delightful weiner roast, Monday evening.

QUANTICO

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Rawlings and son spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Austin in Dumfries.

Miss June Abel spent last Thursday with Miss Jane Bawner in Dumfries.

Miss Gayle Bowman left last week to spend the summer at her home in Nokesville.

A NEW ARRIVAL

The arrival of Mr. C. C. Kuhn, Jr., in Charleston, W. Va., is of interest to the friends of his great grand father, the late Mr. H. Lion. The young man is now several weeks old.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in later years.

He hath made everything beautiful in his time.—Ecclesiastes 3:11.

A DESERVED REBUKE

Attempts to conduct an insidious campaign against the most deeply cherished traditions of the majority of his readers is bound to hit a snag once in a while. It would be impossible for any editor, however clever, to consistently and covertly advocate ideas which he would not dare to endorse openly, without occasionally overstepping the bounds of propriety, and thus bring upon himself and his newspaper deserved rebuke.

Apparently in this category may be placed the recent attack by the Richmond Times-Dispatch upon Hon. Howard W. Smith, who so ably makes answer on the front page of The Manassas Journal.

For a long time it has been increasingly difficult to understand how a daily paper, published in the heart of the South, could so consistently stab editorially at the finest Southern ideals and traditions. One would expect a substantial Richmond newspaper to reflect the ideals of the geographical area in which it is produced. But for the past few years, particularly, the Richmond Times-Dispatch has seemed at times not only distinctly anti-southern, but even un-American. We can not explain this anomaly. We understand, however, that this newspaper is not owned by Virginians, but by outside interests.

If this is the case, then it would seem that its ambidextrous editor is simply the creature of his employers. In any event, for once his idiosyncratic fulminations have brought upon him and his newspaper the stinging rebuke administered this week by Hon. Howard W. Smith, who undoubtedly has won the gratitude of Virginia and of the Nation in his distinguished accomplishments as Chairman of the Special Committee of Congress investigating the National Labor Relations Board.

AN OPEN LETTER

To the Editors,
The Manassas Journal:
With the awarding of the prizes in the W. C. Wagener Memorial contests at the alumni banquet of the Manassas High School last Friday evening, a season's activities which, it is hoped, proved of some value to the Ruffner-Carnegie Library, came to an end.

The major award—an order on a Washington, D. C. bookstore for $10.00 worth of books, and a Certificate of Achievement—for the best book review written by a third-year or four-year student of the Osbourn High School and printed in the Manassas Journal during the session 1939-40—went to Lelia Montague Dowell, a member of this year's graduating class, for her review of "The Haunted Bookshop", by Christopher Morley. Miss Dowell's review was printed in The Journal on March 7, 1940.

The supplementary prize—a copy of "The Wonder Book of History, Science, Nature, Literature, Art, Religion, Philosophy", by Henry Thomas—offered for the best book review written by a member of the first-year or second-year class of the Osbourn High School—was awarded to Helen Kane, a second-year student.

The undersigned, donor of the prizes, received splendid cooperation on every hand, and is grateful.

Basic, of course, was the grant of space by The Journal (twenty-two reviews were printed). Messrs. Lamb and Wharton, editors, have again concretely evidenced their spirit of public-mindedness and interest in community development.

Prof. Worth Peters, Principal of the High School; Miss Eugenia Osbourn, Librarian, and Miss Nancy Weir Waters, teacher of English—all three have done everything possible to make the project a success. Special thanks are due Miss Waters, who handled a vast amount of detail work in the most commendable and cheerful manner at all times.

No inconsiderable task was that of judging the entries in the two contests. To Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, Father Widmer and Mr. O. D. Waters, I express deep appreciation for their fine work.

Finally, to each and every contestant I tender thanks for participating. These alert young people, by choosing to write reviews, made the contests possible. I was pleased at the quality of their work and am sure that each participant was benefited by the effort he or she expended.

Sincerely,
Clarence Wagener.

Baltimore, Maryland,
June 4, 1940.

SURPLUS FOOD GOES TO WAR VICTIMS

As the American Red Cross "mercy ship", the S. S. McKeesport, was being made ready for a dramatic voyage to France with a million-dollar cargo of relief supplies, assurance was given the Red Cross by the Department of Agriculture that thousands of tons of surplus food products would be made available at half price for shipment to victims of the European war. Chairman Norman H. Davis announced the products would be made available through the Export Subsidy provision of the Surplus Commodities Corporation. Immediate shipment of tons of supplies will be made to Jersey to be loaded in the McKeesport which will sail for Bordeaux shortly after June 10. GRADS HEAR TALK BY ARLINGTON KIWANIAN

The graduates of the four high schools were entertained at dinner by the Kiwanis on Friday evening, there being fifteen present from the different schools.

Former Lieut.-Gov. Lyman Kelley of the Capitol District was introduced by Dudley Martin as the guest speaker. His message was quite inspiring and had for its keynote an urge to find one a task and have the courage to carry it to completion. Community cooperation was also stressed as an outgrowth of the such character development.

Ashton Jones, of the Arlington Club, was also present, his attendance giving the Arlington Club an entire quarter of perfect attendance, something seemingly unheard of in Kiwanis circles in a club so large.

Parson Dick Graham gave an humorous welcome to the young guests and charming Miss Mary Brown, of the Occoquan School, responded for the students.

"VERONICA"

The following lovely little poem, "Veronica", by Mrs. Alice Boorman Williamson was one of several read by the writer in her "Bookshelf" talk at the High School Alumni Banquet last Saturday night. Mrs. Williamson is a member of the poetry club of Washington, D. C., and a number of her poems have appeared in the American Poetry Magazine and other literary journals. "Veronica" was recently published in the New York Times.

Veronica
So grand a name for such a tiny flower!

Veronica, who would have even guessed
That you had come to mark the springtime hour,
But that some other sign his mind impressed
And bade him stoop to find you at his feet,
Soft-creeping through the grass, sedate and sweet?

The skies of March are not more brightly blue,
Or violets more wonderfully made,
You could be drowned in half a drop of dew,
And yet you keep your way, all unafraid.

If courage were a measure of your size,
You would appear a mountain in our eyes!

Careers in Engineering

By R. T. Strohman
Dean, International Correspondence Schools

WHO enriched our lives by the airplane, the modern refrigerator, the automobile, the radio? Who provided us with light at the flick of a switch? Who, indeed, has wrought more changes in our manner of life than the engineer?

In conquering the forces of nature man learned engineering. The first lever used to pry a rock, the first wheel built to move burdens, the first wedge shaped to split a log were creations of prehistoric engineers. Over four thousand years ago, engineers built the dams on the Euphrates and erected the Egyptian pyramids.

Two thousand years ago Roman engineers tied Europe together by highways, spurred the migration of older civilizations into unexplored countries. There the conquerors provided uncontaminated water supplies and shelter against the elements. So down through the ages, making life more secure and more satisfying, the work of engineers has gone forward.

The work of engineers, often unsung, has provided for ever-widening and continuous benefits to the human race, through control of nature's forces and materials.

Today the youth of vision, interested in knowing more about our fast moving age may well consider engineering as one of the most utilitarian and fascinating professions.

Engineering embodying a knowledge of mathematics, technological arts and sciences and the ability to direct and work with men offers worthwhile careers for youth of ability!

CHURCH LEAGUE ORGANIZED FOR LOCAL PLAYGROUND

On Monday morning the gates to the playground were opened to the public and approximately 70 people took part during the day.

The three sections took part in the following games, softball, ping pong, croquet and badminton.

On Tuesday, the groups were enlarged by a number of new comers; the most of these were in the adult section. The adult section played a softball game which was thoroughly enjoyed by the whole group.

A church league was drawn up Monday night with the Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, and Baptist Churches as entries. A schedule has been drawn up for the summer. The teams will play on Monday and Thursday of each week and the games will begin at 6:15 p. m.

On Monday, June 10, the two games will see the Methodist Church battling against the Presbyterian Church and the Baptist team lacking horns with the Episcopal Church team.

There is no admission to these games, so if you have a free evening, come out and enjoy them.

At the end of the year when the winners of the first and second halves play for the championship of the league a small fee will be charged for admission to the game and this money will be either divided among the four teams and given to some charitable organization or to the playground for next year.

SCHOOL LIBRARY

Calling his book "Time", he analyzed the stages of development, citing the library work as a specific example.

He insisted that some concrete action be taken to promote a closer union within the alumni association of the past, present and future.

Almost at once, a motion was offered on the floor to have a library committee formed to take over this plan. The president named Mrs. Allison Hooff, Mrs. Frances Saunders and Miss Emily Johnson.

Before the class initiation, announcement was made by President Brown as to the new officers for 1941 who are:

President Mrs. John Adams, Vice President Miss Lucy Arrington, Secretary Mrs. Arthur Sinclair, Treasurer Miss Cornelia Lewis, Executive Committee Mrs. A. A. Hooff, Mrs. Ned Bradford.

The initiation consisted of musical offerings and a conundrum that spread over many feasts, too many for the dizzy performers to work out. Miss Jocelyn Gillum was head inquirer of this section and all of 1940 were in the "outfield".

The evening closed with "Auld Lang Syne" after a number of toasts had been offered, Miss Eugenia being the favorite. 1940 is now a duty in the ranks of the honored alumni of Manassas High, and may they live up to its high traditions, always!

MACS BEAT STAFFORD

On Sunday, June 2, Manassas traveled to Stafford and with Billy Ward, Manassas ace hurler and "Knuckleball" King turning in a six-hitter and beat Stafford 5 to 2.

This was Manassas second win in five games. Manassas started easily on E. Hefflin, scoring 3 runs in the first inning. D. Posey walked, Smith singled, D. Vetter singled, Roseberry sacrificed and F. Vetter singled. Manassas made another in the third when D. Vetter singled, sole second and scored on F. Vetter's single.

Stafford came within two runs of a tie when D. Knickville singled, F. Hefflin singled, J. Byram walked, Regsby singled, and they had two runs. Manassas scored a useless run in the ninth. Special mention should be given Charleton Posey, who made nine assists at short, to get Billy out of a lot of trouble.

Manassas will play the "Washington Travelers" on June 9, at 3 p. m. on Swavely Field, Manassas. Come out and see a great team.

COMMENCEMENT AT OCCOQUAN

The Occoquan High School gave three evenings to this year's commencement, Sunday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Rev. R. M. Graham delivered the sermon to the graduates on Sunday night. He used as his theme, "Use what you have!" He based his talk on the question that Jehovah asked Moses, "What is that in thy hand?" He used various illustrations, mostly from the Bible, and showed that often we need no other resources than those at hand.

The seniors used Wednesday as class night. The evening was spent in an original farce. It was supposed to be the last day in school and they were assembled in Mr. Sigman's room for an English class. A mouse was found and as a joke was put in his carrying case. The play started seriously enough but various specialties were introduced a piano two by Virginia Shanklin, Barbara Webb and Amy Browne; a drum solo, accompanied by various "traps" by Frank Mervin; a monologue by Ellen Haislip; two delightful solos by Mildred Bryant; two couples Rachel Watson and Chester Bourne, Hedwig Jagiello and Gilbert Liming jitter bugged; a quartette, Barbara Webb, June Brawner, May K. Sanford and Mildred Bryant sang "Playmate". In the midst of the play came the class will. Class gifts and the prophecy were given.

The last was given after the class had scattered when the mouse was released. Two had supposedly fallen asleep and dreamed the various prophecies. The class returned and enacted the parts as their prophecies were told for example, Henry Hinton, the detective, charged in his handcuffed personer, Dick Hicks.

The audience seemed very amused at this performance.

On Thursday night the serious part of the commencement took place. Howard Crawford as master of ceremonies introduced his two classmates, Ellen Thompson and Amy Browne, who spoke respectively on "The Educated Citizen is Economically Literate" and "Education in Social Relations". These speeches showed ability in their composition as well as ability in rendition.

The address of the evening was delivered by Dr. Abner Robertson on "A Philosophy for Success". It was a speech with some optimism in spite of the troublous times we are in. It was inspired by a questionnaire that appeared in the Saturday Evening Post of some months ago. It inquired for example, "What is your attitude toward money?" "What is your attitude toward marriage?" Mr. Parrish, of Quantico, gave the prizes to Harry Alexander and Ellen Thompson, because they seemed best to satisfy conditions laid down by the veterans. Capt. Haydon presented the diplomas.

The graduates were Amy Browne, Ellen Thompson, Howard Crawford, Virginia Shanklin, Hilda Amidon, Geraldine Safley, Vivian Napier, Rachel Watson, Gladys Hinton, Henry Hinton, Dick Hicks, Lively Abel, June Brawner, Jesse Curtis, Hedwig Jagiello, Christine Nelson, Mitchell Raftelis, Gilbert Liming, Barbara Webb, Chester Bourne, Elzora Allen, Mildred Bryant, Mary Sanford, Ellen Haislip.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Only Cause and Creator" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 9.

The Golden Text will be "Ah Lord God, behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee" (Jer. 32:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hoe is in the Lord his God: Which made heaven, and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth truth for ever" (Ps. 146:5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy: "Infinite Mind creates and governs all, from the mental molecule to infinity. This divine Principle of all expresses Science and art throughout His creation, and the immortality of man and the universe. Creation is ever appearing, and must ever continue to appear from the nature of its inexhaustible source" (p. 507).

SLACK-BOTKIN

The wedding of Miss Florence Edith Botkin, of Lorton and Mr. Harry Caldwell Slack, of Occoquan, took place at the Occoquan Methodist Church on Saturday evening, June 1st, at 7:30 p. m.

Miss Botkin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Botkin, of Lorton, and Mr. Slack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Slack, of Occoquan. The church was beautifully decorated, and with lighted candles on the altar and on the window sills, it was a beautiful sight.

The attendance at the church showed the popularity of the bride and groom. After all the seating was occupied, a large number who could not get seats, stood in the aisles and even some outside.

Miss Marian L. Meade was maid of honor, and Mr. Henry Lindsey was best man. The ushers were Mr. Leo Beach, Mr. W. French Fleming, Mr. E. A. Green and Mr. Kenneth Davis. Mrs. French Fleming was the organist and Mr. John Keller, the pianist. Mr. Fague Springman sang the wedding march.

After the wedding, there was a reception at the home of the bride at which refreshments were served. Immediate community were Miss Madeleine Marian, Washington, D. C.; Miss Margaret H. Brannack, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Florence Moulton, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Ned Morris, Washington, D. C.; Judge and Mrs. Arthur D. Wood, Washington, D. C.; Miss Anne Munninkamp, Washington, D. C.; Miss Katherine Larick, Washington, D. C.; Mr. Richard Meehan, Washington, D. C.; Mr. Myron A. Elliott, Washington, D. C.; Mr. William Watson, Pgh, Pa.; Miss Eleanor Jones, Cleveland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Lee and Miss Louise Lee, Akron, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Beach, Richmond, Va.; Anna and Fremont Day, Vienna, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver, Vienna, Va.; Mrs. Tyson Janney, Alexandria, Va.; Professor Fague Springman, Washington, D. C., who sang the wedding march.

In addition to the wedding reception at the home of the bride's parents; Mr. and Mrs. Botkin entertained the ushers and other attendants at their home on Friday evening, the day before the wedding. All in all it was a gorgeous affair. The newlyweds will spend their honeymoon seeing America; visiting the New England States and other points of interest North of the Mason-Dixon Line.

They will make their home in Alexandria, Va., on their return from the wedding trip. We wish them the best of luck and happiness for the air future married life.

The wedding presents were on display at the home of the bride's parents. No one would believe that any couple could get such a large number of beautiful and useful presents, but seeing is believing. How happy they must have felt in knowing they had such a large number of good friends.

BING, LAMOUR AND HOPE ROMP IN SOUTH SEAS

The new travel trend to sojourns in the South Seas has its motion picture counterpart in "Road to Singapore", the sportive film which Paramount releases on Monday and Tuesday, June 10 and 11 at the Pitt's Theatre, with Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour in the leading roles, seconded by Charles Coburn, Judith Barrett, Anthony Quinn and Jerry Colonna, the redoubtable Professor of Hope's Pepsodent show.

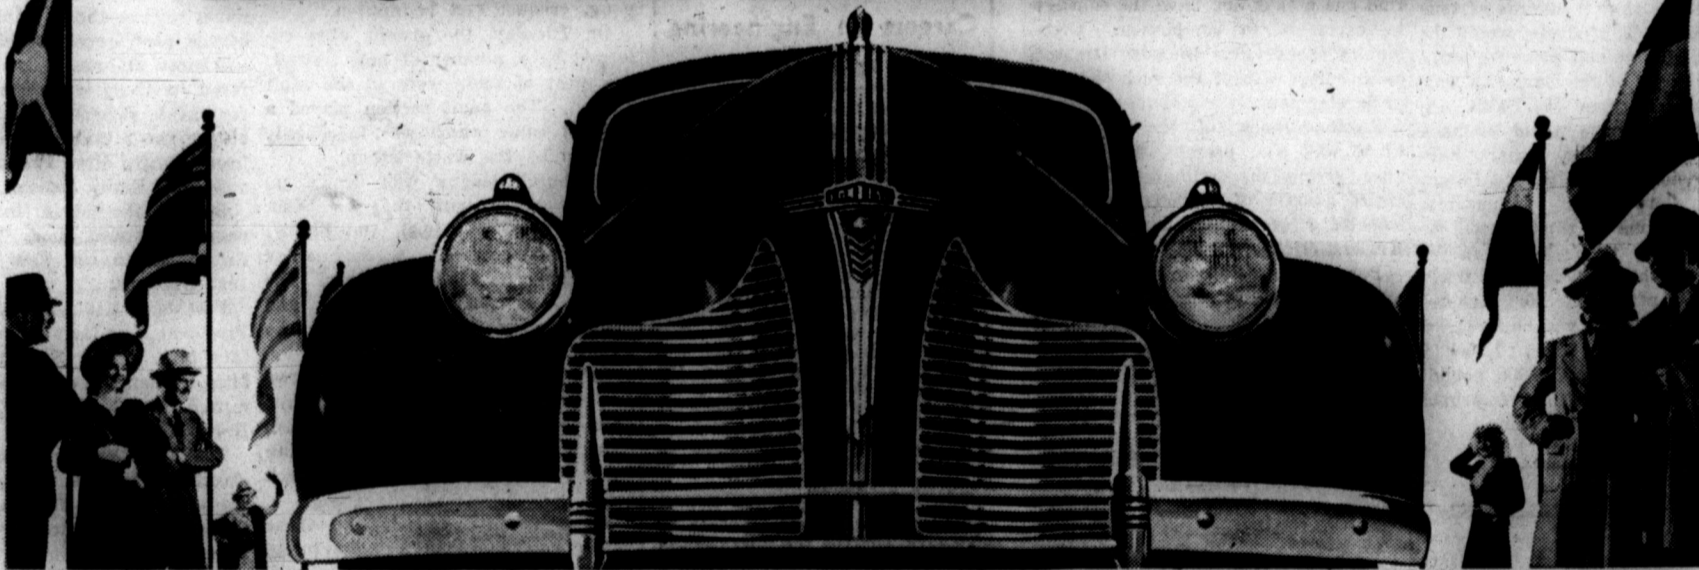

The Dean of the Kraft Music Hall and his old pal, Bob Hope, are reported to be in their finest form for this picture. They sing, they clown, they go to town, they get into brawls, and they look over the native girls, all to the accompaniment of at least five new hit songs as sung by Bing and Miss Lamour.

The story provided for the pair and Miss Lamour starts with Bing and Bob disposing of several romantic entanglements by indulging in a little game of "Patty-cake", clapping hands gaily, then socking the guy. Then they get away from his, Bing's, father — Charles Coburn — by the simple process of starting a riot at the engagement party at which Bing's fiancée, Miss Barrett, is announcing the betrothal.

Then fate tricks the lads as Professor Colonna tells Papa where Bing is living, and he and Miss Barrett arrive with all sails set to sail into Bing. They find him at a native feast, and complicate the whole thing by getting him to promise to come with them on a world cruise, leaving Miss Lamour to Bob. It all gets straightened out, but only after plenty of horseplay and suspense.

The new songs include "Too Romantic", "The Moon and the Willow Tree", and "Kaigoon" among others, and Professor Colonna is at his best in an old number and in his eye-rolling and moustache-flourishing.

"HIS GIRL FRIDAY" IS HAILED AS YEAR'S GAYEST ROMANCE

Once in a while a motion picture projects the elusive essence of light-hearted gaiety against a suspenseful background of melodramatic action in such deft fashion that it is immediately hailed as a smash hit.

Such a picture is Columbia's Howard Hawks' production, "His Girl Friday", which opens at the Pitt's Theatre on Thursday and Friday, June 13 and 14.

Notable in a long list of highlights is said to be the superlative stellar cast, the pungent, sparkling dialogue, the careful development of characters and the inspired direction of Hawks.

Cary Grant, Rosalind Russell and Ralph Bellamy provide a formidable triumvirate of talent, exacting laughter from hilarious situations, adding meaning to exciting and dramatic scenes. Miss Russell, the central figure in an unprecedented triangle, bears out previous encomiums of critics. Grant is so engaging as a likable rascal that his peccadilloes are forgiven almost at the moment they are revealed. Bellamy, playing a grand character part, imparts a believability and naturalness to its interpretation that beggars description.

The picture has been hailed for its gay comedy—the argument over a certified check; the scene in which Bellamy's mother, bewildered by the unpredictable antics of Miss Russell takes matters into her own hands; the expose of a dim-witted sheriff; and the intrigue employed by Grant in postponing to impending marriage between Bellamy and Miss Russell.

"His Girl Friday" establishes Miss Russell as the ex-wife of Grant and amount-to-be bride of Bellamy, gains momentum with Grant's efforts to forestall his former wife's matrimonial plans, and reaches a crescendo with the exciting events which transpire at a metropolitan city jail.

Hawks handles the melodramatic theme without resorting to questionable tactics, making all of his characters natural, depending upon brilliant dialogue and real characters to keep the story moving at a swift pace throughout.

The supporting cast, excellently chosen, keys its performance to the headlining trio. Gene Lockhart, Helen Mack, Ernest Truex, John Qualen, Roscoe Karns, Porter Hall and Cliff Edwards are featured.

"His Girl Friday" is based upon a play by Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur.

NAVY STARTS PERSONNEL EXPANSION TRAINING PROGRAM PLANNED FOR 25,000 MEN

The U. S. Navy has started an extensive program to train 25,000 young men to bring the total number of Naval personnel up to a strength of 170,000.

The accelerated building of ships and aircraft has created immediate vacancies for qualified men. The Navy plans to accept young men for enlistment in large numbers and start their training immediately. The Navy training as planned will fit men for a great variety of trades and specialties such as electricians, carpenters, shipfitters, pharmacists, boilermakers, stenographers, storekeepers, gunners, printers, photographers, radiomen, machinists of all kinds, metallurgists, and aviation mechanics of all kinds.

A Navy Recruiting Officer will be at the Civil Service Room, Post Office Building, Fredericksburg, Va., on Monday, of each week for the purpose of accepting applicants for enlistment in the Navy and to furnish information concerning the Navy and enlistments therein.

OLD GLORY'S BIRTHDAY

Our Flag has been waving in the breeze since June 14, 1777, when it was adopted by the Continental Congress. U. S. Marines display the Stars and Stripes along with their regimental standard. At right: Grand Union, rattlesnake and pine tree flags, prominent among early colonial banners.

Romance has trailed Old Glory since it became our national flag 163 years ago. Since that time it has symbolized the hopes, aspirations and spirit of a nation devoted to the cause of liberty.

Prominent among early American flags, forerunners of the Stars and Stripes, were pine trees, rattlesnakes and other designs. The Grand Union flag, with a British jack appearing where forty-eight stars are now shown in a blue field, was the immediate ancestor of our national flag. Pine tree flags were displayed by the cruisers of Washington's fleet which operated in New England waters, and such flags bore the words, "An appeal to Heaven".

Rattlesnake designs were frequently used by the southern colonies, and a flag of this type was carried by the U. S. Marines and bluejackets from the Continental Navy, who made a landing in the Bahamas in March, 1776. The rattlesnake symbol, with its motto "Don't tread on me", also appeared on the drums of American Marines at that time.

The Grand Union flag was popular with naval men and it was sometimes called the "First Navy Ensign". There were scores of other colonial banners, each of which found special favor in the colony where it originated.

Even today there is a certain mystery about Old Glory. Historians fail to agree as to who designed it, although tradition points to Betsy Ross, a Quaker City seamstress as the maker of the first Stars and Stripes adopted by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777.

With a deep appreciation of the benefits we enjoy as citizens each of us should display the Star-Spangled Banner on Flag Day, and by so doing honor the birth of our flag. No flag in the world is more beautiful. No flag spreads its folds over a more highly favored land than ours.

500th ANNIVERSARY OF PRINTING

Eyes of the civilized world are focused with reverence this year on the war-threatened cities of Mainz and Strasbourg, where 500 years ago Johann Gutenberg invented and perfected the art of printing with movable types. The event is being honored alike by friend and foe, and the story of the celebration of this 500th anniversary of world-wide importance and the events in the history of printing leading up to it is told in an illustrated feature article appearing in The Washington Sunday Star.

DEFENSE COUNCIL IS APPOINTED

Intensive Plans For New Artillery Range

Preparations for the defense of Virginia, as of the nation, continue to hold the spotlight. June 4, the Virginia Defense Council, members of which were appointed by Governor James H. Price, May 29, will hold its first meeting at the State Capitol. It will be the Council's task to co-operate with the President's national defense program, and to prepare a survey of Virginia's facilities for meeting military emergency. Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, of Richmond, is chairman of the council. Other members are: W. J. Jenks, Roanoke, vice chairman; Lieutenant-Colonel Mills F. Neals, Richmond, co-ordinator; James S. Easley, Halifax; Homer L. Ferguson, Newport News; Major-General C. E. Kilbourne, Virginia Military Institute; Dwight Morgan, Norfolk; State Labor Commissioner Thomas B. Morton; State Highway Commissioner Henry G. Shirley, State Agriculture Commissioner L. M. Walker, Jr., and Brigadier-General S. Gardner Waller, State adjutant-general.

In line with the duties of the Council, Governor Price has said that a protective force must be organized to take the place of the National Guard, in case the latter is ordered into Federal service. Moreover, Virginia industries must be prepared so that adaptable plants may be converted to the production of defense materials in the event of an emergency.

A special legislative committee headed by Brigadier-General Samuel Gardner Waller, chairman, and including Brigadier-General William H. Sands, of Norfolk, secretary; Colonel E. Scater Montague, of Hampton; Lieutenant-Colonel LeRoy Hodges, State Comptroller; Senator William A. Wright, Essex, and Delegates James B. Martin, of Gloucester and Harry B. Davis, of Princess Anne, has been formed by Governor Price. It is considering areas suitable for establishment of a 50,000 acre field artillery range, to be used by the Virginia National Guard and regular army regiments.

General Sands has said that a site at least nine miles square would be desirable—large enough for fire by medium as well as light artillery, with a maximum range of 12,500 yards. At the same time it would be well, he said, to provide for ultimate ranges up to 20,000 yards. "If we can, we should obtain an area which has 'backstops' for the shells, and which is adjacent to public parks or other land that could be used for maneuvers. There should not be any primary roads through the area, for it will be necessary to block all avenues of approach during practice," General Sands stated.

Both General Sands and Lieutenant-Colonel Hodges said that it would be desirable to secure sufficient land to include a divisional camp site, which would require an additional plot about one mile square. Colonel Montague pointed out that an adequate range for Virginia troops would mean the expenditure of at least $50,000 a year in Virginia.

Catholic Information

"But Catholics Go to Church Because They Have to!"

Yes, we have to. The Church commands that we assist at Mass 58 times a year—52 Sundays and six week-days which are special Feasts known as Holy Days of Obligation. But to intimate that Catholics go ONLY because they have to is as unjust as it is untrue. This is not a mere statement. It is a fact which you can prove to yourself in an easy and interesting manner.

If you happen to be in the vicinity of any Catholic Church, large or small, urban or suburban, on a Thursday afternoon or evening which immediately precedes the first Friday of any month, step in through the door and look about. You'll be amazed to find the church thronged with people—some waiting in line along the sides, some praying in pews, some leaving, others coming in.

What are all these people doing on a Thursday afternoon? They are taking time off from their jobs, their shopping, their pleasures, to go to Confession so that they may receive Holy Communion at Mass on the following morning, which is the First Friday of the month.

Do these people have to do this?

Not a bit of it! Just once a year is the requirement for Confession and Communion. Yet at nearly every Catholic Church in the land these same crowds are going to Church on a Thursday and a Friday every month—freely, willingly, lovingly—as they do many other uncommanded things—for the honor and glory of God.

The Church gives each Catholic his foundation—the correct foundation, but only a foundation. How well he builds on that foundation depends upon the individual and the Grace of God.

If your idea was wrong in regard to Catholic church-going, perhaps it is wrong about other Catholic practices and beliefs. It was for the purpose of explaining to you things from the viewpoint of the people who actually believe and do them, that our Society was formed. Won't you, therefore, take advantage of our offer to explain to you the why and wherefore of any Catholic subject? Write to:

The supplies to be shipped by the Red Cross, are clothing for men, women and children, drugs, soap, cooking utensils, gauze and a wide variety of food stuffs.

These pitiful victims of unhuman warfare need everything we can supply.

Americans, who lived in France during the World War and witnessed refugee scenes then, say the present influx of refugees is much more appalling, and the end is not in sight.

The quota for the Prince William County, Chapter, your chapter of the American Red Cross, is at present $800.00 to date only a small part of this has been subscribed. The chapter officials are most anxious to complete this quota as quickly as possible, with this in mind we again make the appeal.

"Won't you give individually and collectively to the fullest extent of your ability."

"Give individually out of your earnings and savings."

"Give out of your treasures in such amounts as you may find it possible to contribute."

Please make your contributions promptly and generously, send them to Mr. O. D. Waters, treasurer of the County Chapter, Manassas, Va.

MEETING GIVEN INTERESTING DATA

Davis Birthday Marked With Unusual Emphasis

Mrs. Stuart McBryde and Mrs. William Hill Brown, Sr., were hostesses to the Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., on Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. McBryde's home on Battle Street.

Arrangements of cut flowers, roses and peonies were lovely in the Confederate colors, forming an appropriate setting for an assembly in June.

The meeting was promptly called to order by the president, Mrs. McDuff Green.

In the historical half hour, Mrs. R. A. Hutchison read a news clipping concerning a ninety six year old veteran, George W. Shreve, born in Fairfax County, Va., but now in California where he has resided for the past sixty two years;

Mrs. Green read from the "Bulletin" an article under the caption, "Jefferson Davis".

Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson in making literature report told of the valuable material contained in the recent publications from Oglethorpe College, included, a most excellent account of Sidney Lanier. Mrs. Johnson also called attention to a book of interest, "Flight into Oblivion," a recent addition to the library.

Mrs. W. A. Newman told of visiting the cemetery at Haymarket on Memorial Day and of placing floral wreaths on several graves of Confederate veterans including the grave of her father, Captain James E. Herrell. She reported several unmarked graves of veterans in this cemetery. Mrs. Newman read excerpts from a letter written by Captain Herrell in 1863 while in camp near Fredericksburg. Among interesting items were that Haymarket had been burned by the Yankees at one o'clock in the morning, barely giving the women and children time to escape. The letter is of inestimable historical value.

The birthday of Jefferson Davis, the South's Memorial Day was given unique observance as reported by chapter historian. Rev. R. M. Graham spoke over station W. J. S. V., Columbia broadcasting system; the Confederate flag waved over the Town Hall and a program of interest was presented at the Confederate cemetery as reported on another column.

(Ed. Note: There was also one at full length in Journal window.)

A report of the Fourth District Convention which was held with the Stover Camp Chapter at Strasburg, May 11th, was given by Mrs. McDuff Green. The Manassas Chapter was represented by Mrs. Green, Mrs. R. L. Byrd and Mrs. Joseph Kinchloe. Special honors came to Manassas in the appointment of Mrs. Byrd as chairman of courtesy committee and Mrs. Green being invited by the State President to succeed Mrs. N. I. Hall as chairman of Fourth District. The 1941 session is scheduled to convene in Leesburg.

The Treasurer, Mrs. Allen, gave a statement of finance. The building fund was supplemented by $15.00 received from Miss Isabelle Hutchison, accumulated from sales of the T. D. D. Clark book.

An appeal from Red Cross committee met with a response of $5.00 contribution, also $3.00 was subscribed to the Lee Mausoleum Endowment at Lexington.

Mrs. Robert A. Hutchison presented for membership the name of Mrs. Isabelle Harrison Neff, a resident of Ohio, granddaughter of the late Rev. Westwood Hutchison. The registrar, Mrs. Knox was requested to send application papers to Mrs. Neff.

The hostesses served a dessert course, assisted by Mrs. Daisy Brown Williams and Mrs. William Hill Brown, Jr.

The meeting was well attended present from a distance were Mrs. Clyde W. Rector, Upperville, Miss Constance Henry, Harrisonburg and Miss Frances Montgomery, of Washington, D. C.

Other present not herein named were Mrs. Mary D. Douglas, Mrs. Nannie Keith Middleton, Mrs. E. H. Nash, Miss Florence S. Lion, Mrs. T. J. Ashford, Mrs. W. Fred Dowell and Mrs. M. M. Washington.

act of kindness. He likened her to malarrie in "Gone with the Wind" and of Rhett Butler's tribute, "A Great Lady, A Very Great Lady."

The chapter had two more presentations at this meeting, a picture of General Ewell, done in color, presented by the Misses Ewell, and a history of the life Jefferson Davis, presented by Mrs. Morton, of Haymarket. Both were accepted with appreciation and thanks by the chapter.

Mrs. Robert Conner introduced Mr. Crittendon, an attorney, of Arlington, who gave an interesting and appropriate talk on the War Between the States and the beauty of our country side so peaceful in comparison to war torn Europe. What he said, was spiritually up-lifting and inspiring.

We hope to have him visit us again. Miss Margaret Shirley gave a quiz on the life of Jefferson Davis, also read some interesting notes on his life.

Miss Maude Ewell read an interesting paper on one of Prince William honored sons, Robert Tancill, of the Confederate army.

Appropriate songs were sung during the services, with Miss Mildred Ewell at the piano.

Rev. Carpenter gave the benediction and followed with special prayers for world peace. With heads bowed and responding hearts, all joined in a silent amen.

The Daughters served delicious ice cream and cake at the conclusion of this delightful meeting.

The next meeting will be held at Hagley, the home of Mr. Randolph Smith on July 4th, following a precedent established years ago when the Waterfall daughters entertain all the chapter at the July meeting.

CHAMBER WILL HOLD WEEKLY MEETING AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Prince William County Chamber of Commerce has inaugurated a program of weekly luncheons, with attendance open to all who are interested in the work of the Chamber. From twenty to twenty-five men from town and county have been coming to the meetings. Next Tuesday the Chamber will meet in the basement of the Presbyterian Church for luncheon at 12 o'clock noon. The meal is fifty cents. There is no solicitation for dues.

Information about the activities and objects of the Chamber may be had from its secretary, Mr. Stanley Owens. A committee of the Chamber will go to Baltimore to interview a pants manufacturing concern, with a view to locating a plant here. Results of such activity can not be forecast because we must remember that scores of Virginia towns are trying to induce industries to move into their communities.

Another committee of the Chamber is investigating the possibilities in cooperative egg marketing for the benefit of egg producers in the county. The committee will visit successful cooperatives in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The Chamber is constantly seeking means of advertising Prince William County to the general public. A cordial welcome awaits you at the luncheon next Tuesday.

BOOK CLUB MEETING

The Book Club, under the auspices of the Manassas Woman's Club will meet at 2:30 o'clock, Friday, June 7, the home of Mrs. Jesse Herrell. It is hoped that members and all those interested will attend.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear father, George Bryant who died one year ago, June 6, 1939.

June Days again are here,
To me the saddest of the year.
Because it was the sixth day my dear father passed away.

Your tired hands are now at rest,
Your voice is forever stilled.
As a devoted father, you were the best.

Your place can never be filled.
Devoted Daughter,
Minnie B. Sauvour.
