EIGHT NEW ARMY FLYING SCHOOLS

The expansion program of the Army Air Corps is getting under way and announcement has been made that arrangements have been made to conduct elementary flight instruction, under Air Corps supervision at eight new non-civilian schools. These are in addition to the nine civil institutions already employed for this purpose.
The new schools will be established at Alabama Institute of Aeronautics, Jackson, Miss.; Chicago School of Aeronautics, Albany, Ga.; Dallas Aviation and Air College, Fort Worth, Texas; Cal-Aero Training Corporation, Oxnard and Ontario, Calif.; Lincoln Airplane and Flying School, Lakeland, Fla.; Parks Air College, Sikeston, Mo.; Ryan School of Aeronautics, Hatbox Field, Muscogee, Okla.

After undergoing elementary pilot instruction under Army Air Corps supervision of these civil flying schools, candidates will be sent to one of three large Air Corps Training Centers. These three training centers are the existing one at Randolph Field, Texas, and two additional ones: The Southeast Training Center in the vicinity of Montgomery, Alabama, and the West Coast Training Center in the neighborhood of Stockton, Calif.

Young unmarried men having 2 years collegiate training or its equivalent, interested in becoming flyers should call on the local recruiting officer or write to the Commanding General, Third Corps Area, Baltimore, Md., for literature concerning requirements for Flying Cadets. Booklets giving full details of what is needed to qualify will be mailed to any applicant.

"AMAZING MR. WILLIAMS"—WORLD'S GREATEST SLEUTH.

To Sherlock Holmes, Arsene Lupin, Phio Vance, Nero Wolfe, Perry Mason, Hercule Poirot and other famed fictional sleuths add the name of Kenny Williams, Lieut. Kenny Williams to police subordinates and the underworld, and "The Amazing Mr. Williams" to despairing Maxine Carol, his pretty fiancee.

Only, in adding his name, place it at the top of the list! In the course of "The Amazing Mr. Williams", which opens Wednesday, July 17 at Pitt's Theatre, this gay, debonair super-sleuth makes his celebrated contemporaries look like so many dumb, struggling flatfeet.

"The Amazing Mr. Williams" is a sparkling New Columbia comedy with a Joan Blondell and Melvyn Douglas in the co-starring roles, reunited by popular demand following the sensational success they scored in "There's Always a Woman" and "Good Girls Go to Paris".

Douglas, of course, is the amazing Kenny, and Joan the fiancée he leaves waiting at the altar while he solves crime after crime with astonishing ease.

In doing this, Douglas combines the best methods of the great man-hunters he so effortlessly tops. He shows the deductive genius of Holmes, Vance's urbane man-of-the-worldliness, Lupin's flair for pouncing on the essential clue, the flourish of Poirot in pointing out the guilty.

He lacks only the laziness which prompts Nero Wolfe to take up the trail without leaving his armchair.

The star sleuth's follow officers in "The Amazing Mr. Williams" are as interesting, if less able criminologically. Clarence Kolb, of Kolb and Dill fame, plays Douglas' harassed superior. Donald MacBride and Don Beddoe, by their obnoxiousness, are excellent foils for added comedy.

Other outstanding players in the supporting cast include Ruth Donnelly, Edward Brophy, Jonathan Hale, Barbara Pepper, Luis Alberni and Robert Middlemass. Alexander Hall, who directed the two earlier Blondell-Douglas hits, again directed, and advance notices credit him and his cast with having turned out one of the enthralling treats of the season.

APPOINT LABORATORY HEAD

Dr. Curtis I. Newcomb, of the University of Maryland, has been selected from a long list of likely candidates to head the important new department of Aquatic Biology at the College of William and Mary, beginning in September.

Dr. Newcomb's appointment was confirmed last week by G. Walter Mapp, head of the Virginia Commission of Fisheries, which will operate a marine biology laboratory at Yorktown in co-operation with the College. The laboratory has formerly been operated in conjunction with the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries.

R. W. Menzel, a Bachelor of Science graduate of William and Mary, will be Newcomb's assistant, in charge of the Yorktown laboratory. E. B. Sheherd, student graduate, has been named second assistant at the College.

The new department is the first of its kind in Virginia. By adopting it, William and Mary becomes the first 'd' Dominion school to enter an important new field of research which Duke, the University of North Carolina, and the University of Maryland entered several years ago.

Besides familiarizing William and Mary's young science students with the problems and processes of under-

NEW SAVINGS FOR FARMERS USING LAND BANKS

Farmers in Prince William County will save about $10,700 a year as a result of legislation just enacted by Congress affecting interest rates on Federal land bank and Land Bank Commissioner loans.

The temporary rate of 3 1/2 per cent on first mortgage land bank loans will be continued for two years ending June 30, 1942. During this period the interest rate on first and second mortgage Land Bank Commissioner loans will be reduced from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent. Land bank and Commissioner loans were originally written at contract rates averaging about 5 per cent.

At present about 248 Prince William County farmers have land bank aggregating $716,000. The difference and Commissioner loans outstanding between the contract rate and the temporary rate thus effects a substantial saving for farmers.

In a statement from Baltimore, Charles S. Jackson, president the Federal Land Bank, said that the saving to farmers through the reduced interest rate will have the same effect as an addition to the farmers' net income.

"The ultimate purpose of the reduced interest rate on land bank and Commissioner loans is to help farmers keep down their fixed charges and thus leave more income for the retirement of debt principal, or to meet necessary operating and living expenses", he said.

"Money saved on interest charges will thus be reflected in safeguarding farm ownership and in helping to raise farm living standards".

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in later years.
The meek also shall increase their joy in the Lord, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel.—Isaiah 29:19.

THE BIBLE IN EUROPE

If Europe is going to the devil, as many suspect, it can't be due to the lack of Bibles. The American Bible Society reports a remarkable increase in the distribution of the Scriptures in European countries. And strange to say, it isn't only in the democracies that the increase has been noted. Incomplete figures compiled by the Society indicate that at least 1,225,000 volumes were distributed in Germany last year, which represented a substantial increase over the previous year.

Increased sales are reported in other Central European countries also. The Bible circulation has more than doubled in Hungary and Czechoslovakia and has almost doubled in France. It is reassuring to learn that Hitler's Mein Kampf isn't driving out the Scriptures, on which so many generations have depended for consolation and guidance. Apparently the wave of atheism which came with the Nazi movement has begun to ebb. And this is one of the most reassuring signs seen in Europe for some time.
