LIBRARY EXHIBIT IS INTERESTING

Dr. McCormick Guest Speaker
At Book Week Program

The joint program of the Friends of the Library and the Parent-Teacher Association last Thursday was most successful. In spite of the heavy rain a considerable crowd attended to hear the Education Week speaker, Dr. Helen McCormick of the Office of Education in Washington and to see the annual Library Exhibit.

As Dr. McCormick's fine address will be referred to elsewhere, this article will describe the Library program whose chief feature was the Exhibit of "Old Prince William Before 1860." The center of this interesting collection was Fairfax Harrison's "Landmarks of Old Prince William" together with advance sheets of the new history of the county about to be published under the auspices of the Bethlehem Woman's Club. Along with these records were short accounts of the old towns of the county, Dumfries, Occoquan, Brentsville and Haymarket, and an interesting collection of early land grants, and other legal papers. Among these were two land leases signed by Lord Fairfax, one of them dated 1721. A will exhibited by Mr. Raymond Ratcliffe and dated 1817 bequeathed property and slaves of the Ratcliffe family then in Stafford. Another will exhibited by Mrs. Washington, dated 1776, was a bequest of the property on Broad Run now known as Ellis mill. A court order signed in 1779 by John Williams, Clerk of the Court at Dumfries, and loaned by Miss Florence Lion, recalled the day when Dumfries was the county seat. There were accounts of old Colchester, of Dettigen Parish and of some of the early churches of the county, and also of a number of its old homes; among these were Rippon Lodge, Liberia and Belle Air, the latter the home of the Ewell's. Washington's cousins and friends and the burial place of the redoubtable Parson Weems, his first biographer. There were interesting relics of the early towns also. A map of Dumfries drawn by Mr. Jack Ratcliffe from an old map now lost showed the town in its great days when it was a thriving tobacco port selling goods at wholesale to the retail merchants of the infant town of Baltimore in the Province of Maryland. An old store ledger of Dumfries exhibited by Mrs. Emily Round gave an interesting list of many of its inhabitants in the year of Grace 1796. There were maps also of Quantico, made by the children of the Quantico School showing the location of the early Indian tribes around it. Occoquan was represented by photographs loaned by Mrs. James Bradford and Mr. Fred Hynson, of the old flour mill and some of the early homes; and Brentsville, by an account and a picture of the old court house, loaned by Mrs. Madie Hibbs.

Next followed an exhibit of school books and writing materials of the early 1800's loaned by Miss Pauline Smith, Mrs. S. Morton, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd and Georgia Lee and Bowen Beale. A copy book dated 1815, "Sukey Rogers Property" showed the same beautiful handwriting of those leisurely days as the old Dumfries ledger. Beside it were a quill pen, sealing wafers for letters, slates and pencils. Among the books were Ewell's chemistry of 1806 dedicated to Thomas Jefferson, an early algebra, arithmetic and grammar, Picot's Student's French Assistant, Goldsmith's History of Greece and a Geography of the World by Peter Parley, one of his 170 volumes of school books and juveniles. Reproductions of a complete set of the famous McGuffey Readers, the introduction to good literature of so many of our ancestors, completed the list.

After the school exhibit came the "Books Our Forefathers Read." Some concessions were made among these to purely feminine interests, as in several numbers of "Godey's Ladies Magazine" and a cook of about 1820, loaned by Mrs. S. Morton and Mrs. Douglas Marshall. But the bulk of this exhibit (taken mostly from the George C. Round bequest to the Library) gave point to an observation of Walter Lippman in his recent book, "The Good Society," in which he said that after examining the contest of the reading and of the college training of the founding fathers of the Republic he realized how it was that they had acquired the power of logical reasoning and the imaginative insight that enabled them to create the American Union. For in this collection were a

Manassas, Va.,
Dear Sir:

Will some one of your readers let me know why we have no D. A. R. Chapter in this county.

Surely there must be other men besides my great-grandfather, Hugh Davis, who fought in that war, and if so, why can't we have a chapter. I should like to hear from any one who is interested in this matter.

D. E. Davis.

RATCLIFFE WILL IS EXHIBITED

Seven Generations Now Descend
From Stafford Pioneer

One of the interesting exhibits at Osbourn High School Book Week Display last week was the original will of Richard Ratcliffe of Dumfries dated 1817 which is printed here in full as an interesting record of a family which for many generations has contributed substantially to the prosperity of this section of Virginia.

Richard Ratcliffe, the great-great-grandfather of Mr. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, was one of four brothers who came to America in pioneer days. The other three brothers settled, respectively, in Middlesex County, Va., Maryland, and Kentucky. That they were men of affluence is indicated by the present document.

The generations from Richard to the youngest Ratcliffe in Manassas are as follows:

Richard Ratcliffe,
John A. Ratcliffe
John A. Ratcliffe
George M. Ratcliffe
G. Raymond Ratcliffe
R. Jackson Ratcliffe
Richard Jackson Ratcliffe.

Little Richard Jackson Ratcliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Jackson Ratcliffe carries the name of the original ancestor who settled at Dumfries, but is named especially for his great uncle, Richard Ratcliffe, who was a gallant officer in the Confederate Service. The text of the will, which is written in the fine handwriting of an educated gentleman of that period, is as follows:

In the name of God, Amen.

I, Richard Ratcliffe, of the county of Stafford, being of sound mind, perfectly composed, collected and resigned, hereby recommend my soul to Almighty God, thro the merits of a blessed Redeemer, and make this my last will, revoking every will heretofore made by me.

Viz: First, I bequeath to my son, Alexander S. Ratcliffe, two negroes, James and Terriey, one cow and calf, one wheat fan, and two ewes and lambs.

Secondly, To my daughter, Ann Jones, Negro girl, Lidda.

Thirdly, To my daughter, Elizabeth Ratcliffe, negro girl, Maria.

Fourthly, To my daughter, Mary Homes, negro boy, Peter.

Fifthly, To my granddaughter, Caroline Homes, daughter of Sarah Homes, Dec'd., one negro girl, Mary, at the death of my wife, Margaret, and should my Hebrew Testament and copies of Homer, Virgil and Horace all in the original, a rare copy of Euclid's geometry, a volume of Blackstone's Commentaries on the Law, the Federalist (papers of Madison, Jay, and Hamilton), Gibbon's and Macaulay's histories, Shakespeare and the English Bible. Aside from the book exhibit, reminiscences of the customs of that earlier time were a flax spinning wheel lent by Miss Beatrice Cross and a lovely little exhibit of fragrant, old time garden herbs, arranged by Miss Isabelle Hutchison.

As this year, 1940, is the 500th anniversary of the invention of printing by John Gutenberg of Germany, the Library also commemorated this event by an exhibit of pictures and facsimiles of pages of early printed books from the Library of Congress. The Manassas Journal made a very interesting contribution to this exhibit by sending examples of modern printing processes, as an electroplate of an advertisement, a news story set on the Journal Linotype machine, and the "mat" of a cartoon appearing in the Manassas Journal.

The library patrons also found the considerable display of new books of fiction and current topics in the Exhibit of great interest.

The residue of my Estate, whatever it may be including, every description of my property, not herein bequeathed, I leave and give to my wife, Margaret, so long as she lives, subject first to the payment of all my just debts and after her death subject to the payment of the aforesaid six hundred dollars to my three grand children, Susan, Mary and John A. Ratcliffe and after which payment the residue to be equally divided between my three children, Ann Jones, Elizabeth Ratcliffe, and Mary Homes, their heirs, etc., except negro girl, Letty, whom I give to my wife, Margaret, to do as she may think proper with, and I appoint and leave my wife, Margaret, my Executrix and request the court of Stafford not to require or exact security from her having full confidence in her doing all which is required of her. Receding as witness my hand and seal this eighth day of April in the year of our Lord, One Thousand, Eight hundred and seventeen.

In the name of God, Amen.

I, Richard Ratcliffe, of the county of Stafford, being of sound mind, perfectly composed, collected and resigned, hereby recommend my soul to Almighty God, thro the merits of a blessed Redeemer, and make this my last will, revoking every will heretofore made by me.

PRINCE WILLIAM VOLUNTEERS ARE REJECTED

The two men who were examined as volunteers and from whom the one man needed for the first call from Prince William County failed to pass their physical examination and were accordingly rejected. This leaves the Board under the necessity of drafting one man immediately.

It is stated that 102 questionnaires have now been sent out by the Prince William Selective Service Board and that of these approximately 40 have been tentatively classified and that the ratio of men placed in class 1, but still subject to physical examination, runs around 20 percent. This would indicate that the Board now has eight or ten eligibles and that the first of these who meets the physical requirements will have the honor of being the first man called from Prince William County under the Selective Service Law.

JACK RATCLIFFE IMPROVING

Mr. R. Jackson Ratcliffe, popular young business man of Manassas and Registrar of the local voting precinct, is recovering from an operation in a Richmond Hospital and expects to be home shortly. ## RED CROSS ROLL CALL UNDER WAY

Chairman Waters Lists The Workers In Several Communities

The annual Red Cross Roll Call membership drive is on now in Prince William County. The Roll Call Chairman, Mr. O. D. Waters, lists the names of the workers who will call upon you and solicit your membership. Last year more than 7,000,000 Americans joined the Red Cross. National Headquarters is anxious to go beyond that one dollar will suffice to enroll anyone. Half of this amount will remain in the hands of the local chapter to carry on its work, while one half goes to the National Red Cross. The purpose of the membership drive is to provide funds for the regular work of the Red Cross in America. Emergency relief to foreign countries is sent with funds raised in special relief appeals at other times of the year. The annual Roll Call is what makes and keeps the Red Cross a going concern.

Both Mr. Waters, the Roll Call Chairman, and Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, Chairman of the County Chapter, appeal to the citizens of Prince William to join in larger numbers than ever. Following is a list of county workers.

CULPEPER PASTOR TO PREACH AT SPECIAL MASONIC SERVICES

A union Thanksgiving Service of special interest to the Masonic Fraternity of Manassas and surrounding territory, will be on Sunday night, November 24. The service will be in the Manassas Baptist Church and will begin at 8 p. m. The Rev. Dr. Edwards, pastor of the Baptist Church of Culpeper will preach the sermon.

This service is one of many which will be held at the same time throughout the State and nation. High Masonic officers, aware of trying conditions thru which Masons are passing in many countries abroad, call upon the Masons of America to gather for a service of thanksgiving in a land where laws still operate to protect the rights of free men, and to sound a note of encouragement to persecuted brethren across the seas.

This service is open to all. It is hoped and expected that a fine attendance will be present. Local clergymen will be in charge of the service which is sponsored by Manassah Lodge, No. 182.

WOMAN'S CLUB DANCE

AT HAYMARKET
Don't forget the Woman's Club Dance at Haymarket, Va., Friday, November 22, from 10 til 2 a. m. The popular orchestra from Fredericksburg, Va., will furnish the music.

COMPETITION IN P T A CAMPAIGN

Two Groups Of Students Vie For First Place Honors

The Parents-Teachers' Association of the Manassas Public Schools held their regular monthly meeting on the night of November 14, in the high school auditorium. This meeting was a very special one inasmuch as it marks the ending of the membership drive which the association has been having. The report of the membership committee of which Mrs. P. A. Lewis is chairman, show a total of 169 members. Due a large amount of credit are the pupils of both schools for their splendid co-operation in the contest which the P-T. A. sponsored to obtain new members. The contest, after a slow start, materialized into an exciting race and the end was as melodramatic as any movie. Instead of one winner, there were two, and the outcome was uncertain right up until the last minute of the contest. The dual victors were Miss Billings' first graders from Bennett and Grace Metz's Seventh graders. The winning percentage was 103.1 per cent. A chart showing the standing of all rooms will follow this article.

Another feature of this meeting was the Library Exhibit which the patrons were shown as a part of National Book Week.

Following a short business session a program was presented under the auspices of the Library Committee, celebrating American Education Week and National Book Week. The Rev. R. M. Graham presided. The guest speaker was Dr. Helen McIntosh of the United States Office of Education, Washington, D. C. Dr. McIntosh was introduced by Miss Sue Ayres, elementary supervisor, Prince William County Schools. The subject of her address was "Education and the Defense Program, on an Elementary School Level." Dr. McIntosh gave four "Aims of Education": (1) Self Realization, (2) Human Relations—i. e. working and getting along with each other, teaching to

REDISTRICTING TO BE STUDIED

Legislative Commission Meets
To Study Problem

The Commission set up by the General Assembly of Virginia to study the problem of re-apportioning the districts for representation in the House of Delegates and State Senate at Richmond is meeting in Richmond this week to begin consideration of the perplexing problem which they have been authorized to investigate.

The Commission is composed of State Senator E. R. Fuller of Richmond, as chairman, Delegate Bernard C. Goodwin of Clifton Forge as vice-chairman and A. Fleet Dillard of the division of Research and Drafting as Secretary.

The present study was authorized before the national census, but postponed until the latest population figures should become available, and is designed to remove some of the great inequalities now existing in the populations of the various legislative districts of the State.

It has been decided by the Commission to have its secretary compile comparative data on the present districts based upon the 1930 and 1940 census and transmit them the other members before the next regular meeting on December 16, when it will be decided on as to how public hearings will be held.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Soul and Body" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 24.

The Golden Text will be "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved" (Ps. 66:8,9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's" (1 Cor. 6:19,20).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Ideas are tangible and real to immortal consciousness, and they have the advantage of being eternal. Spirit and matter can neither coexist nor cooperate, and one can no more create the other than Truth can create error, or vice versa. In proportion as the belief disappears that life and intelligence are in or of matter, the immortal facts of being are seen, and their only idea or intelligence is in God" (p. 279).

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!

SO ARE THE T. B. SEALS.

Demonstration Long Distance Calls Provide Laughs For Fair Visitors

Hundreds "Listen In" With Head Receivers And Watch
Calls Traced On Illuminated Map

Hundreds "listen in" with head receivers on demonstration long distance telephone calls made from glass enclosed booths (left and right) at Bell System exhibit, New York World's Fair. Operator at switchboard directs path of lights indicating route of call on huge illuminated map directly above.

Half a dozen new human interest stories develop every day at the Bell Telephone Exhibit at the New York World's Fair. Most of them are the result of conversations overheard by the listeners at the demonstration of long distance telephone calls.

About 150 visitors each day at the fair are permitted to make free long distance telephone calls to any section of continental United States. The only difference between these calls and the regular long distance calls is that approximately 250 persons are listening to both sides of the conversation. The long distance operator carefully explains this when she reaches the called party.

Off told tales include the story of the stenographer who telephoned her mother that she was playing hookey from her office job, only to look around and discover her boss listening intently; the man who didn't wait for the operator to explain but who hung up with: "the telephone company, eh? Alright, I'll be around to pay my bill on Wednesday;" and the man who called his wife because he honestly had a message for her, and who didn't get a word in edgewise in the three minutes of the free call.

Much discussed, but never verified, was the story of the woman who elected to call a telephone in the Bronx instead of one in California when she was selected for one of the free calls; and verified and suspected as a publicity stunt was the story of the Californian who refused to be impressed with anything that could be told him by anyone in New York.

Some of the callers obviously try to be as funny as possible, others completely forget the eavesdroppers and are unguarded in their speech, while some are so overcome at the joy of hearing the voice of some far off loved one, that they completely ignore the listeners-in.

More than a million and a half persons listened to the demonstration long distance calls in the 1939 World's Fair at New York, over half a million of them applying for a call. One out of eighteen of these won and actually attempted a call.

GEMS OF THOUGHT SERVICE Charity

The deeds of charity we have done shall stay with us forever. Only the wealth we have bestowed do we keep; the other is not ours.—Middleton.

The man who confers a kindness should be silent concerning it; he who receives it should proclaim it.—
Seneca.

Give work rather than alms to the poor. The former drives out indolence, the latter industry.—Tryon Edwards.

"Charity suffereth long and is kind", but wisdom must govern charity, else love's labor is lost and giving is unkind.—Mary Baker Eddy.

That charity is bad which takes from independence its proper pride, and from mendacity its proper shame.
—Southey.

The charities that soothe, and heal, and bless, lie scattered at the feet of men like flowers.—Wordsworth.

STEFFI DUNA PLAYS EXOTIC DANCER IN "THE GREAT MCGINTY"

Not so long ago a motion picture writer—who was also a director—wrote a featured part into his script which called for "a talented dancer, dark, beautiful, exotic and able to act; to portray the role of Latin-American dance hall girl." The writer-director was Preston Sturges and the girl he selected without hesitation for the role was Steffi Duna, who answered his every requirement. The picture is "Down Went McGinty", the Paramount comedy-drama which opens Monday and Tuesday, November 25-26 at the Pitt's Theatre.

While the general belief has been that Miss Duna is a native of Mexico, she was really born in Budapest, Hungary, and the Mexican idea originated largely because of the roles she has most often played upon the screen. As a dancer she has appeared in most of the principal capitals of the world—London, Paris, Brussels, Warsaw, Vienna, Leningrad, New York and many others.

Her first role in a show was in the smash success of Europe, "Wonderbar," which starred Francis Lederer. Noel Coward saw her and signed her for a part in his "Words and Music," after which she appeared in several pictures in England. Her first bid for stellar screen prominence was in "La Cucaracha," in which she garnered critical acclaim for her vivid dancing and characterization. Since then she has been seen in a number of pictures, one of the more recent being Paramount's, "The Magnificent Fraud."

The opening scenes of "Down Went McGinty" are set in a cafe in a banana port town in South America, where Steffi is working as a dancer. She is interested in an absconding American bank cashier, who is bent on suicide, but is prevented by Dan McGinty, once the Governor of a Great State, but now the cafe's bartender. It is the life story of McGinty which forms the basis of the picture—a tale that is, in the main, tremendously funny, but which includes several tensely dramatic situations in the development of its plot.

THANKSGIVING

All Americans have occasion this year to be particularly thankful to the Giver of all good things for the continued blessings of peace and increasing prosperity which we are enjoying.

The world is on fire and the flames are daily coming closer to our shores. There is every indication that this fearful conflagration will not burn itself out, but will continue to consume until it is forcefully subdued, and the world-wide nature of the holocaust would indicate that it will finally require the determined effort of all that remains of Democracy to withstand the attack.

Just how long we can remain at peace, or how successfully we can keep the menace from enveloping us depends upon the intelligence and the true patriotism of every citizen. We are being penetrated from two directions in a way calculated to bring about our ruin. From one way we are menaced by the Fifth Column. From the other direction we are being subjected to the foolish experimentations of mis-guided native "experts" who believe they are saving Democracy from within by accomplishing reforms which will appease the Fifth Column, and make it unnecessary for them to gnaw at our vitals.

There should be enough good American common-sense, self-sacrifice, and stern determination to preserve the accomplishments of our forefathers to keep us, with Divine guidance, safely on our course. We should be extremely thankful to Almighty God that we are afforded the opportunity, the resources, and the will to preserve our Nation in this time of extreme peril.

SHALL WE FEED EUROPE?

Led by that distinguished humanitarian, the Hon. Herbert Hoover, a movement is being launched in this country to send food to the starving civilians in the areas occupied and plundered by the armies of Adolph Hitler. Actuated by the finest motives of mercy, many will be led to believe that we should proceed immediately along this line, but as fearful as the situation appears, there are considerations which should make us hesitate to ask England to lift her effective blockade to permit us to do this.

England would be asked to forget the naval supremacy which she has accomplished by great energy and sacrifice over a long period, and to discard the most effective means she has of defending herself from complete destruction.

In addition, we would actually be nourishing the armed forces of Nazi Germany which are the avowed enemies of our way of life, wherever found throughout the world.

Under these circumstances we cannot attempt the rescue of civilian Europe at this time. We would only be destroying ourselves in the attempt, and those who persist in attempting to force the United States to this attempt, however sincere, are only aiding our enemies.

KENNEDY HAS FAILED

The representative of one great nation at the seat of government of another requires absolute non-interference with the internal affairs of the country to which he is accredited.

The United States has never been slow to ask foreign governments to recall ambassadors and consuls who have attempted to interfere with our domestic affairs and especially when engineering propaganda and sabotage against us.

It is more than likely that we will soon be confronted with the necessity of getting rid of German and Italian and possibly Russian diplomatic representatives in this country, and certainly England would be entirely within established precedent in asking that we recall Ambassador Kennedy.

It is reliably published and not yet denied by him that he stated in an interview with a Boston publisher that "Democracy is finished in England", and that the United States would only enter the war "over my dead body".

Whether he said this or not, the fact that he has permitted himself to be so quoted throughout the nation without denial, has destroyed his usefulness as our Ambassador to the Court of St. James, and he should be replaced, even if he should by such action be released to engage more and more actively in Fifth Column propaganda.

Democracy is now standing with back to the wall in a life and death struggle and the very existence of our Nation is at stake upon the outcome. Should Hitler win, which seems increasingly improbable, Fifth Column activity here would instantly expand to amazing proportions, extending to the uttermost communities.

There are those who honestly believe the best way to fight the Fifth Column is not to expose, but to watch them. "Give them rope enough, and they will hang themselves"! The rope idea is acceptable, but we believe that exposure will check them more rapidly than any means we can use in time of peace.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!—
SO ARE THE T. B. SEALS.

Care of Manassas Journal
Manassas, Va.

Dear Mrs. Lamb:

Thank you for your gracious letter of November 13.

I am delighted to learn of the co-operation you are receiving from the Junior Women's Club and others in Manassas. Will you extend my thanks to Miss Walser Conner for her assistance?

We are happy to receive any type of warm clothes or knitted things for children, the only requisite being that they are cleaned and mended. You simply pack them into cartons and send them direct to our warehouse at 112 West 89th Street, where they will be acknowledged upon receipt and re-packed for shipment abroad. These garments are vitally needed now to alleviate the inevitable suffering that winter is bringing to the courageous British people.

With all good wishes to you.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Wales Latham,
President.

At 4:30 on Saturday, November 9, Miss Leah Grace Boyles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Boyles, formerly of Manassas, was united in marriage to Mr. Edward A. Kelly, only son of Mrs. Julia Kelly of Washington.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alvin L. Wills in the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour.

The altar was lighted with candles and decorated with large white chrysanthemums. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was dressed in Soldier Blue with Navy blue accessories and wore an orchid corsage. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Roberta Boyles, who was dressed in maroon and wore a corsage of tea roses. Mr. William Roth was the best man.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Washington.

(4) Economic Efficiency—the appreciation of the value of money and that of natural and human resources. She stressed the fact that education must modify these aims to meet changing conditions. "Our Problem", Dr. McIntosh said, "is to modify them and put the proper emphasis on them in the face of the present national and international emergencies." She also offered several examples of how these principles could be applied. A few of these were (1) to have pupils understand better the great documents the great documents which form the foundation of our democratic way of life. CELEBRATION OF EDUCATION WEEKPrince William Schools Sponsor
Inspiring Program

Prince William County Schools made the most of American Education Week, November 10-16, with many appropriate activities developing the theme, "Education for the Common Defense". In several schools the Parents - Teachers' Associations and Student Co-operative Associations had special programs featuring outside speakers in most cases ministers from the local or nearby churches who contributed inspiration and appreciation of our American System of Education. Patrons and pupils were reminded of the great things America has to defend:

What does America have to defend?

A spiritual heritage, the most precious gift from our forefathers.

A people's government, conceived by heroic men determined to be free.

A great people, over 132 million souls of many races and creeds.

A vast wealth, found in our natural resources from sea to sea.

A hopeful future, to leave to our children and to generations unborn.

In classrooms debates and discussions were held on Compulsory Education, federal aid for schools, origin and meaning of American Education Week, ways of improving the public schools, progress of education in Prince William County, safeguarding on natural resources, building economic security, history of the education system of the United States and developing human resources.

Boys and girls made and sent out attractive, invitation to visit their schools and made posters on American Education Week and Book Week since the two coincided. Many visitors came to the schools where they were received by the children who were hosts and hostesses and in several instances served refreshments following their S. C. A. programs.

Schools tried to create a deep appreciation for the meaning of education for the Common Defense:

What is education for the common defense?

It is individual, helping each person make the most of his talents.

It is universal, seeking to educate all the children and all the people.

It is practical, helping prepare people to earn a good living.

It is civic, preparing individuals to be wise and loyal citizens.

It is spiritual, recognizing the eternal dignity of human personality.

The annual convention of the Virginia Education Association is now in session in Richmond. Many of Prince William Education Association are in attendance.

ALIENS MUST REGISTER BY DECEMBER 26, 1940

Alien registration will end on December 26 and all non-citizens who have not yet registered are warned that severe penalties will follow failure to comply with this Federal law.

Aliens, 14 years of age and older, must register in person and be fingerprinted.

Alien children, under 14, must be registered by their parents or guardians. Registration takes place at the post offices.

There is no charge of any kind connected with alien registration.

The Department of Justice warns aliens to beware of racketeers.

The Post Office Department and the Department of Justice will willingly assist the alien in every possible way.

Earl G. Harrison, Director of Alien Registration of the Department, suggests that those aliens who have not yet registered do so as soon as possible and avoid the Christmas rush at the post offices.

All aliens are also warned that, having registered, they are required to report any change in their permanent residence address within five days to the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Department of Justice in Washington. Forms for this purpose are obtainable at all post offices.

No alien need be unprepared for the questions he will be asked. Sample registration forms which show him exactly what the information he will need at registration are available in all post offices.

YOUNG BRITISHER

THANKS RED CROSS

If Americans could see with their own eyes the good they are doing for British evacuees, it would be all the thanks they would require.

Such is the feeling of Betty Ayres, a Middlesex, England, high school student. Betty wrote to Patricia LaBrot, a local high school senior Part of her letter follows:

"You once said that you would do anything for me within reason. Well, Pattie, there is something I would like you to do. If you live anywhere near an American Red Cross organization, I would like you to thank them for me for the good the medical supplies are doing and the joy their relief and clothing are bringing homeless families, it would be, I'm sure, all the thanks they require for the hard work they have put into their good cause."

THE TREES

By Conrad Richter

This book, published by the Knopf Company in New York, is an excellent example of the new trend toward pioneer stories. Similar to the "Grapes of Wrath", in that it deals with a definite economic problem, it has none of the latter's sordidness.

"The Trees" is a fictional biography of the Luckett family. The seven members, Worth, his wife, Jany, Sayward, Genny, Achsa, Wytt, and little Sulie, all portray the usual characteristics of the first American settlers. This book is wholly realistic without forsaking the romantic.

The tale commences with the Luckett's journey from Pennsylvania into the Ohio wilderness, where the denseness of the woods is so great that for weeks one cannot view the sky.

Having arrived at their chosen destination, they set about the ordinary task of everyday living.

Woodsman Worth easily secures food supplies for his family, and by wintertime, has completed a cozy cabin for their use.

This delights the children, with its one window, and the loft where they sleep.

However, the family soon begins to disintegrate. With Jany's death, Sayward gains control of the family, and through her management achieves closer unity with the outside world. Sulie's death, Genny's marriage to a ne'er-do-well, and the subsequent breaking up of her home, all tend towards the ending of this novel.

Worth's disappearance of a year sets Sayward worrying, but the why and wherefore of the rest of the story had best be left for the reader.

This book, which may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library, will surely be enjoyed by all. Published only this year, it is one of the books which everyone should read.

—Betty Jones.

MY AIRPLANE

By Algia A. Martin

I always feel a little gay,
To set my course and speed away,
Riding on misty clouds so high,
Get a close look at the sky.

I like to watch the friendly stars,
And return a wink to Mrs. Mars.
And I feel so very proud,
When we glide through a cloud.

Yes, I feel so free and proud,
When I'm alone up in a cloud.
And its a new thrill each day,
To set my plane to speed away.

It makes me feel as if "just I"
Was close to God, up in the sky.
I guess that is why I feel so proud,
As high in the air, I feel close to God.

Statistics Reveal U.S. Leads All Countries In World Telephone Development

Washington, San Francisco Have Most Telephones Per 100 Persons, Report Shows

There is enough telephone wire in the United States alone to stretch, if woven in a single strand, from the earth to the sun or encircle the earth itself 3,714 times. In fact there is so much telephone wire in America that if it were laid in a straight line it would take an automobile averaging 300 miles a day nearly 848 years to travel from end to end.

How many miles is that, you say? Well, according to recent statistics published by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company the total number of miles of telephone wire in this country is 92,850,000. This figure and many similar figures are included in an A. T. and T. report representing the results of the latest annual survey of world telephone and telegraph facilities made by the company's chief statistician.

The survey shows that Washington, D. C., and San Francisco lead all large cities of the world in telephone development. Washington with 239,668 telephones and San Francisco with 282,008 telephones had, respectively, 40.14 and 38.53 telephones per 100 population. Such a number of telephones in relation to population is the more impressive when compared with the situation in large European capitals. For instance, Paris had 437,139 telephones or 15.45 per 100 inhabitants; Berlin had 599,911 or 18.83 per 100 population.

Although there are 16 times as many people outside the United States as within it, this country still has nearly one-half of the world's total of 41,090,347 telephones. In the United States there is about one telephone for every six people as compared to only one telephone for every 100 persons outside this country.

The average per capita use of the telephone in the United States amounts to 223 calls per year; elsewhere in the world the average yearly per capita use is only about 16 calls. At the present time the report shows more than 1,000 telephone calls are completed in this country per second or more than 91,000,000 calls per day.

At the beginning of 1939, the latest date for which it has been possible to gather comprehensive, authentic information, the world's 41,090,347 telephones were connected to 174,548,000 miles of wire. The United States alone accounted for approximately one-half of these facilities.

Three-fifths of the world's telephones are operated by private companies, the largest private system being in the United States, while about two-fifths are operated by governmental agencies. The largest governmentally owned and operated telephone system is that of Germany.

Examination of the report indicates in brief that telephone facilities at the disposal of the American public are far more extensive than those found abroad, and by means of a greater and more complete network of long distance lines and cables provides fast and dependable inter-city communication within the country and brings within reach of the American telephone user nearly every important point in the civilized world.

WILL REVIVE OLD LEGISLATION

Council To Begin Study On Measures Next Month

Several administration bills defeated in the 1940 General Assembly session will be revived for study and recommendation by the Virginia Legislative Advisory Council, Governor Price told the Council's membership. The Council will return to Richmond, December 20. At its organization meeting the Council elected Delegate John B. Spiers of Radford as chairman and Senator Vivian Page, Norfolk City, as vice chairman.

A State personnel bill setting up a merit basis for appointment, promotions and tenure in classified service among employees of the State government, will be introduced again, with a chance for passage at the next session, the Governor said.

The jail and probation bills, a retirement plan for State employees, annexation laws, child welfare laws, additional State office space requirements, and study of the election laws also will call for the Council's attention.

The Governor said the Federal government might require additional roads in certain areas to prevent possible refugee congestion, and that clarification of jurisdictional questions between State and Federal governments might be deemed necessary in connection with defense projects.

A special session of the General Assembly is a possibility but not an immediate probability, the Governor said, adding "no one could predict in these uncertain times just what conditions may arise".

On December 16 the redistricting commission will meet at Richmond, to receive prepared maps showing 1930 and 1940 census changes. Views of the people will be sought before the commission makes any recommendations to the 1942 General Assembly, it was stated. It is proposed to elect one delegate for each 25,000 population and one Senator for each 66,000 population.

Commission members are Senators E. R. Fuller, Richmond, chairman; Robert Vaden, Pittsylvania; W. C. Caudill, Giles, and Delegates Tinsley Coleman, Nelson; Bernard Goodwin, Alleghany; Lake Triplett, Fauquier; Marvin Gray, Sussex; W. L. Ferguson, Newport News, and R. W. Ruffin, Norfolk City. Delegate Goodwin was elected vice-chairman of the commission.

On Tuesday, November 26, commencing at 7:30 p. m., there will be shown at Pohick Church Hall PICTURES of Europe in 1939, with explanatory talks on the same. Those pictures should be very interesting to everybody; so be sure and make arrangements to see them. There will be a small admittance charge, which will be for the benefit of Pohick Church "Episcopal"; and Cranford Memorial Church "Methodist". You should not fail to see those very interesting pictures; and you will by your presence be helping those TWO churches in our community.

We suppose you have noticed there was quite a substantial Communist and Socialist vote cast in the recent elections in the GRAND OLD STATE OF VIRGINIA. Now the question is "Who cast those votes?" Of course we will never know, but we should be on our guard for those Anti-Americans in our midst. We hope none of them have any connections with our Public School System.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

Harold Poling, Manassas High student and active 4H Club worker for a number of years, was present at the Friday night meeting of the Kiwanis Club last week as the guest of J. Carl Kincheloe, program chairman for the evening.

Harold told of his work but more specifically about the cheese making contest held at Pittsburg in connection with the National Dairy Show. Harold and his associate won first prize in this contest, having previously won a second in a statewide dairy contest. This entitled him to be a scholarship.

County Agent, F. D. Cox was also present as a guest, and Henry Clay from the Arlington Club came up to visit.

Considerable discussion centered around a proposed project to raise fund. Chairman Graham announced that his committee is working up a special entertainment to be held at the high school on the evening of November 29th.

Three 4-H dairy teams from Virginia competed in the national contests at the National Dairy Show, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, October 11-16.

The Virginia 4-H dairy manufacturing demonstration team from Prince William county, composed of Lester Harris and Harold Poling, competed with 4-H dairy manufacturing teams from New Mexico, Idaho, Nebraska, Wyoming, Illinois, Montana, and Oklahoma. The Virginia team won first place in this contest and each boy was presented with a gold medal and a gold Elgin watch by the National Dairy Show. The subject of their demonstration was "Making American Cheese on the Farm".
