VIRGINIA N. Y. A. OFFERS PROJECTS

Most Extensive Set-Up Is at Manassas.

The office for the Northern Virginia area of the National Youth Administration, with headquarters at Alexandria, this week announced a number of projects now under way, or about to be started, which are offered to youth between the ages of 16 and 25 to give them experience in work that will enable them to find jobs in private employment and in the national defense program.

A new project, about to be started in Fairfax, will provide employment for 80 hours a month to ten boys. These boys will be assigned to the Fairfax School Maintenance Shop, and they will work with bus mechanics, plumbers, electricians, and painters to learn a trade in which they will become skilled. In addition to the actual work which the boys will do, they will receive instruction for a period of twenty hours per month to further improve their knowledge of the trade which they are learning.

The school board, under this set-up, will provide tools and other materials, and the NYA will pay all wages necessary to carrying out the project.

In Fauquier County, the N. Y. A. is erecting a shop at Bealton, and is the co-operating of the school board, completing construction of a similar plant at the Center District High School in Warrenton. The school board appropriated a sum to purchase materials for the project, and the NYA has provided supervision and all other labor requirements for the completion of the shops. These projects are part of the national defense program, of which the NYA has an important part.

The shops, when completed, will be used for a six-week course for all interested in trades which will train those taking instruction for jobs relating to national defense. The shops will then be turned over to the schools for their own use. On each of the projects, more than twenty local boys have found employment and an opportunity to become skilled in carpentry, brick-laying, and other lines of work.

In Alexandria, an interesting project is located in the Hopkins House, a colored Community Center, which is made available to the NYA by the Alexandria Community Chest. Here the NYA operates a Home Service Center, where more than 25 girls, under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth H. Wright, a former college instructor, receive work and training to enable them to secure employment as maids, cooks and children's nurses. Each of the girls attends the Center for a period of six months, at the end of which, a graduation ceremony is held, and the graduates receive diplomas showing that they have satisfactorily completed their assignments. It is reported that all of the girls who have graduated from this project are now gainfully employed in private jobs.

In addition to this project in Alexandria, there are a number of youth working in school lunch rooms, and in clerical positions, and a new project is planned whereby youth will be assigned to the Alexandria Hospital as orderlies.

In Arlington, Loudoun and Clarke Counties, around 50 boys and girls are working on NYA projects in schools, county offices, and hot lunch projects.

In Arlington, a number of boys assist the maintenance officers of the Washington-Lee High School and the Claude Swanson Junior High School in electrical, plumbing and carpentry work.

The Area office is at present receiving numerous applications from young people between the ages of 16 and 25 who are seeking placements on the projects listed above, or to such similar projects as Manassas and Charlottesville. These applications are being taken at the school board offices in Fairfax, Arlington, Clarke, Fauquier and Loudoun Counties, and in the NYA Office in the Post Office Building in Alexandria. School officials in all the localities within the area will co-operate with the NYA in the development of its program.

TRADE COMMITTEE TO GO ON TOUR

State Chamber Will Send Group to South America

Members of the Committee on South American Trade of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce have voted to recommend to the directorate of the State Chamber that a delegation of ten Virginians tour South America this spring and study trade possibilities. The recommendation will come before the Board on January 16, at a meeting in Williamsburg.

The committee also voted to extend an invitation to the State Chamber of Commerce in Central Freight Association territory to participate in the venture. James S. Easley, president of the chamber, wrote to the State Chambers in West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois this week, inviting them to send delegates with the party.

C. C. Cloe of Quantico, chairman of the committee and some years ago engaged in South American trade, has indicated that he will personally accept the responsibility of heading the delegation to South America if it can be organized. All delegates would go at the expense of their own organizations or corporations. The purpose of the trip would be to study trade possibilities. Several weeks would be consumed. The delegation would travel by air. Several Virginians have indicated their interest in being among the members of the party.

The proposed itinerary will take the visiting party to every country in South and Central America, including the Canal Zone.

Officials of the State Department and the U. S. Department of Commerce have indicated that they will give the mission their active support if its objectives are those adopted by the State Chamber, namely study of trade conditions.

Members of the committee are C. C. Cloe of Quantico, William McC. Paxton of Norfolk, Major Raymond B. Bottom of Newport News, N. W. Kelley of Roanoke, and J. Gordon Bohannon of Petersburg.

PRESIDENT'S BALL AT MANASSAS ON FRIDAY

GOOD ADVICE FROM THE SIDELINES

NEW MATTRESS PROJECT OPENS AT BRENTSVILLE COURTHOUSE

The cotton mattress program will again get under way in Prince William County Friday with new regulations. This program is sponsored by the U. S. D. A., the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the Surplus Marketing Administration. It is conducted locally by the county extension service (county farm and home agent) and the county AAA committee with the close co-operation of the county board of supervisors, welfare office and the farm security administration.

The purpose of this program is to enable rural families whose economic condition prevents them from purchasing the mattresses needed for their homes, to teach low income rural families how to make mattresses and improve bedding conditions, and to help reduce the cotton surplus.

Who may receive materials for making mattress?

Any farm family whose gross cash income for 1940 was not in excess of $600.00, one half of which was derived from agricultural occupations, is eligible to apply for materials to construct a mattress. Any other family living in the country and whose total gross cash income for 1940 was not in excess of $500.00 is eligible to apply for materials to construct a mattress.

Persons desiring to apply for materials to construct a mattress should file application in the office of the county home demonstration agent, county agricultural agent, the farm security office, the county welfare office or at the mattress center at Brentsville Courthouse. Each family can receive materials to make only one mattress. All applications are reviewed for approval by the county A. A. A. committee. (Continued on page 8.)

BETHLEHEM LADIES DISCUSS COUNTY HISTORY

On Wednesday, January 15, the Bethlehem Club was entertained by Mrs. Athey and Mrs. Martin, at the home of Mrs. Athey.

Despite bad weather, the nineteen members and two visitors, Mrs. Elizabeth Voine and Mrs. Walter Sadd were present.

Our new president Mrs. Wheatley Johnson presided over meeting.

The subject for discussion was Ellen Glasgow, famous Virginia author and novelist, members responded with interesting facts concerning her life and writings.

The publishing of "History of Prince William County" was discussed at length and it is the hope of the club, that it will soon, be in the hands of the publishers.

At conclusion of business session, members completed in game called, "Floral Wedding" which was enjoyed by everyone and won by Mrs. Compton. After delectable refreshments and a pleasant social hour the meeting was adjourned.

KIWANIANS HEAR ABOUT FIRST AID

Red Cross Worker Tells of Formation of Classes.

B. H. Gammage, field representative of the National Red Cross was present as speaker at the meeting of the Manassas Kiwanis Club being the guest of Prof. R. C. Hayden.

Mr. Gammage explained the origin of the detailed instructional set-up around the United States since 1909, stating that in that period some three million persons had received certificates of having attained the requirements of these brief first aid courses.

He went into considerable details in statistics showing that Virginia has an undesirable record in regard to highway deaths. The hope was expressed that the time would come when every driver of an automobile would have had one of these courses such as he is now conducting in Prince William County through the co-operation of the county school system. Any one, young or old, is eligible to enroll in these classes.

Secretary Dick read a letter from Mrs. Mildred Russell Lehman expressing thanks to the child's Christmas committee for the splendid co-operation given by that committee in the Cherry Hill area. It will be remembered that it was Mrs. Lehman's father (an honorary member of the club) who labored so faithfully in the work that she is endeavoring to "carry on".

President Frank announced the mid-winter conference which took place at Lynchburg on Monday last. Besides Col. Hutchison there were in attendance, President Frank and Edgar Parrish.

A. A. Hooff announced the absence of five members due to illness. This is unfortunate and all hope that these good members will be back in harness very shortly.

LEE BROADCAST

IS POSTPONED

Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., has been fortunate in securing an address over W. J. S. V., February 1, 1:45 to 10 a. m. upon Commodore Matthew Fontaine Maury. The speaker will be Major James R. Werth, grandson of Commodore Maury, who upon the chapter's request, very graciously consented to participate in the celebration of his distinguished grandfather's birthday, January 14.

Because of the inauguration and other celebrations, W. J. S. V. was forced to delay this talk which is the one of importance and interest, particularly to Virginians who are proud of their "The Path Finder of the Sea".

GARDEN CLUB MEETING

The Manassas Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. A. A. Hooff on Tuesday, January 28, at 2:30 p. m.

PRESIDENT'S BALL AT BRENTSVILLE

Under sponsorship of the Brentsville Community League President's Birthday Ball will be held at the Old Courthouse at Brentsville on the evening of Thursday, Jan. 30, for 9 to 1 o'clock.

An especially good orchestra has been secured from Fredericksburg and the committee extends a cordial invitation to everyone to come, enjoy themselves and help this worthy cause.

SCHOOL PROBLEMS BEING STUDIED

Group Conferences Develop Interesting Discussions.

"To meet the needs of the child and the community" is the watchword of the modern education system. Research done in small localities and on a nation-wide basis has brought forth numerous common problems pertinent to the progress of schools is knowing and meeting these needs.

The constant changes in social and economic life everywhere call for constant revision of plans in education. These changes naturally call for adjustment in the home and the community. Such adjustments require the co-ordinated effort of school officials, parents, and civic leaders. The problem of developing a democratic school cannot be solved within the four walls of the school room. If democracy is a way of life, the schools can teach democracy but the home and the community must help by providing an opportunity for boys and girls and an entirely different kind outside has little opportunity to develop into a worthy citizen with a purpose in life. Respect for the individual is a basic principle in democratic living and the school which sees its children as groups only may be undermining the training which the home seeks to give. The only escape from such procedures lies in common understanding and effort among the home, school, and community.

As a means to this end, the State Board of Education has organized regional conferences in the various sections of Virginia for the purpose of studying the public school program in the state and planning for its future development.

The first of these conferences in which Prince William County participates was held in Fredericksburg, January 14. Local parents and school people attended. The entire group was divided into smaller groups studying such problems as the school's responsibility for the physical fitness of pupils and for the practice of safety, understanding ways of learning, analyzing the problems of the child in his community, developing skills, and many others. Plans were made for attacking these problems in the local schools, hoping to get into these groups the classroom teachers, fathers, and mothers whose first hand experience with the child is the logical starting point. Through this study program, the schools hope to learn what the basic needs of the child are and how the school may provide for them. Realizing that the true measure of educational progress is improved behavior in the individual and in the group, those engaged in the study program are concerned with how the child learns, rather than how the teacher teaches. Learning is based on fact but facts without interpretation and application to the life of the individual can do little to change his behavior.

The home, the school, and the community are shaping the lives of the boys and girls in our county. The influence of these forces is of constant concern to those responsible. The interest shown at the first conference bears witness to this fact. The next regional meeting will be held March 18, and there will be another in May. Through continued co-operative effort we hope to see the schools of Virginia meet the needs of a democratic nation through the lives of the individuals. People are no longer preparing to live, but are living.

FLU EPIDEMIC ON THE WAY OUT

Schools have reopened and the flu epidemic is not nearly so prominent. The majority of the students have recovered and are back on the job again.

Notable Social Event Will Aid Paralysis Victims

The week of January 20, has been designated by Mr. Percival Lewis, chairman of the infantile paralysis campaign committee of Prince William County as a week for bringing to the attention of the people the seriousness of this disease and to raise funds to assist in this work.

As a part of this campaign the President's Birthday Ball will be held in Manassas gymnasium on January 24. Various committees have been appointed to take care of this occasion.

Dancing begins at 10 o'clock, p. m., a fine orchestra has been engaged and the various committees appointed by Mr. Lewis are interested and actively lending their aid to promote the success of this occasion, important in its national and local benefits. Tickets have been popularly priced. A large crowd is expected to be present.

The county schools in co-operation with the committee have set aside the week, January 20, as one in which children will be given as much information about the disease as possible.

As a culmination to the work in the schools, Thursday, January 23, all children will be given an opportunity to make a contribution of one to five cents toward the infantile paralysis fund.

The funds raised from the schools and the Birthday Ball will be divided thusly; one half will be sent to the National Committee for prevention of infantile paralysis; the other half will remain in the county to fight the disease or such other health work as the committee seems advisable.

The committee hopes the public will give full support to this effort.

Come and spend a happy evening with your friends, and feel content in the dual pleasure of helping others and contributing by your presence towards welfare at home and the Warm Springs Foundation.

LOCAL GIRLS VICTOR OVER OCCOQUAN

Last Friday night the local girls team opened the Northern Virginia Basketball League with a close victory over the Occoquan lassies, 21-19.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Truth" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 26.

The Golden Text will be Thou art near, O Lord; and all thy commandment are truth. Concerning thy testimonies, I have known of old that thou hast founded them for ever"
(Psa. 119:151, 152).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it" (Isa. 2:2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The thunder of Sinai and the Sermon on the Mount are pursuing and will overtake the ages, rebuking in their course all error and proclaiming the kingdom of heaven on earth. Truth is revealed. It needs only to be practised" (p. 174).

F. A. MITCHELL NEW UTILITY HEAD

Virginia Public Service Makes Announcement This Week

F. A. Mitchell, vice president of the Virginia Public Service Company, Alexandria, is to become head of the company's operations in the Newport News area replacing N. E. Drexler, formerly vice president, who resigned to become president of Tide Water Power Company, Wilmington, N. C.
It was announced this week by M. J.
O'Connell, president of the company.
The appointment is immediately effective, it was said.

In making the announcement, Mr.
O'Connell stated that the company recognized its great responsibility of providing adequate electric, gas and transportation services in the rapidly growing Hampton Roads area where National Defense activities have been considerably expanded. That is why, he stated, the senior vice president with years of experience in executive posts, was selected for the job.

Mr. Mitchell has been with the Virginia Public Service Company as operating vice president since 1937.
Prior to that he was with the Eastern Shore Public Service Company, Salisbury, Md.

In citing the National Defense activities, Mr. O'Connell said:

"The Newport News area is one of the most important in the nation from the standpoint of National Defense. In the past year, great increases have taken place in the activities of the Army posts. For example, at Fort Monroe, which guards the entrance to Chesapeake Bay and is, therefore, the first line of defense for the nation's Capitol, the Army personnel and civil employees has been increased from 2,050 in 1939 to 9,835 at the end of 1940. Nearby, Langley Field has increased its officers and enlisted men from 3,000 to 8,160, while at Fort Eustis, construction is now going on in preparation for the eventual housing of 15-000 coast artillery troops.

"At Newport News proper, the largest private shipyard in the country—the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company—is experiencing the greatest activity in its history with more than $400,000,000 of construction contracted for "Newport News, itself, is ranked by some trade papers as the number one business area in the nation. Preliminary estimates indicate that exclusive of the work at the Shipyard, some $50,000-000 is going to be expended in building construction in this area.

"This unprecedented activity places a great responsibility on the company since electric, gas and transportation services are provided to this area by the company. In keeping pace with the National Defense activities and the attendant business growth, the company, early in 1941, announced a construction budget amounting to more than $1,750,000 for this area alone."

With the exception of the years of service in the Army during the World War, and a brief interlude with a railroad company, Mr. Mitchell has been identified with the utility business throughout his life. He is a native of Worcester County, Md., and received his early utility training on the Eastern Shore.

Mr. Mitchell first became associated with the utility business by joining the Eastern Shore Public Service Company at Salisbury, Md., in 1913.
His rise was very rapid, particularly in the Accounting Department. He became secretary-treasurer of the company in 1928 and in 1932 he was made executive vice president. In February 1937 he was transferred to the Virginia Public Service Company and made vice president.

Mr. Mitchell has been active in civic and utility affairs. He is a past president of the Maryland Utilities Association and the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce. He is a Beltarian and a member of the Belle Haven Country Club, Alexandria.

GARFIELD'S DEATH FIRST IMPORTANT NEWS OVER STATE DEPT. TELEPHONE

The first important communication over the telephone recorded by the State Department in Washington was recently described by Francis X.
Welch in an article in "Telephony" magazine.

On a July day in 1881, Mr. Welch reports, the one and almost unused telephone in the State Department at Washington, D. C. rang. A retired official who chanced to be nearby answered the call of this "new-fangled gadget." An excited voice told him that President Garfield had just been shot.

Mr. Welch adds that "today the telephone is the most important form of communication used in our diplomatic service."

BUSINESS GAINS IN DECEMBER

Increases Noted Along Nearly All Lines of Commerce.

Virtually all business prosperity induces showed substantial gains for the last month as compared with a month ago, according to the regular business survey by the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, released this week. Power consumption jumped 14 per cent over the comparative month of a year ago, employment rose by 5 per cent and total hours of work in Virginia industry by 17 per cent.
Retail sales advanced 9 per cent and gasoline sales scored a 19 per cent increase.

Estimate on the total value of corps in Virginia for 1940 was revealed as $101,017,000, or 4 per cent above a year ago. Debts to individual accounts in the seven Virginia cities reporting to the Federal Reserve Bank was 6 per cent lower during November of 1939.

During the month just passed outstanding industrial developments included the announcement and beginning of construction of the Triton Chemical Company plant in Botetourt County near Clifton Forge, to employ 950 men in the manufacture of TNT, an explosive.

Another announcement was that of plans for the construction of a bag-loading plant near the recently announced powder factory in the vicinity of Radford, to cost considerably more than $6,000,000 under present contracts, and to employ 2,500.

Morse-Rogers Steel Company of Cleveland also has announced that it will move to Danville, Va., early in 1941, employing about 100.

Virginia Public Service Company
also has announced that another 15-000 kilowatt generating station to cost $2,000,000 will be erected at Alexandria. Scores of minor announcements of construction by railways, federal agencies, housing authorities and other private and public corporations were made during the running Virginia's construction figures, the totals for which are not as yet available in detail, to probably a new high for general construction for any month in the year.

BOMBED-OUT LONDONERS THANKFUL FOR 'BUNDLES'

NEW YORK—Short-wave night broadcasts by air-raid wardens and patrol units in England frequently name Bundles for Britain in thanking Americans for relief supplies for the victims of total war.

Letters to Bundles for Britain tell of the safe arrival of shipments in England and paint touching pictures of the comforts knitted goods and warm clothing provide for service men and bombed-out civilians.

Thank Heaven For "Bundles"
"In London they are thanking heaven for Bundles for Britain, which are going direct to the naked and homeless people there," Valentine Ackland, English poet, writes. "A girl told me of a family of ten, who'd lost everything and were in their night clothes, without money, food, clothes—even without shoes. They went to the centre where bundles were being given out and each got a bundle. Bundles for Britain have been a salvation to the people in London."

A case sent by Bundles for Britain to the Depot for Knitted Garments for the Royal Navy, London, arrived with a piece of a German shell in it, while another was part empty as a result of "enemy action."

Grateful For Wonderful Help
"We are immensely grateful for all this wonderful help which is being given by your organization," the secretary of the depot writes. "Sincere letters of acknowledgment have come from the Soldier's, Sailor's & Airmen's Families Association, and the Royal Air Force Comforts Committee."

"I had eight of your canteens in different parts of (a certain city). They did magnificently," Mrs. Ronald Tree from London says in her letter. "Your interest and generosity would have been amply repaid by the appreciation of those people to whom we were able to give their first hot drink or hot meal in forty-eight hours. They stood amidst the ruins of their homes, full of courage and cheerfulness. Tired women from the crowds offered to help us with the washing up and serving. The town was crowded with exhausted firemen and soldiers clearing the debris."

Canteens A God Send

"Where people slept, I don't know, with houses gone and shelters flooded. As there was neither light, gas, heat or water, you can imagine how welcome the canteens were to these thirsty people. I do hope you realize how appreciated American generosity is by people over here."

"It is magnificent the gifts you are sending over to our homeless people," writes Mrs. E. A. Rose of the Pembroke Depot, London. "If you can, put in a word that the clothes should be as warm as possible. The poor souls have only the one outfit given them. Often the outfit is very scanty and it is essential that what they get should be thick and warm."

DUMFRIES

Mrs. Annie Merchant was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday party given at her home on last Saturday night by the ladies of the community. Many useful gifts were received and a nice time was had by all.

Among those who attended the inaugural fete in Washington on Monday were Miss Elizabeth Brawner, Mrs. Robert Hall, Mrs. Ralph Wismer, Mr. Olney Brawner, Mr. James Williams, Mr. Clay Brawner and Mr. Cecil Garrison.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Burdette and daughter of Alexandria were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grover King last Sunday.

Mrs. Warfield Brawner entertained at dinner on last Friday, Mrs. Walker Merchant and Miss Jocelyn Brawner.

We hope that those who have been and still are in with the flu, will soon be out again.

BELL LAB SCIENTISTS DEVELOP NEW SUPER CALCULATING MACHINE

Arithmetic Made Easy by Device Constructed of Standard Telephone Apparatus

An electrical super calculating machine recently has been developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories to expedite the extended calculations required in the design of electrical filters and networks, and in the solution of other circuit problems.

An operator sits at the keyboard of the new electric calculating machine, the only one of its kind in the world.

Calculating machines of various kinds are familiar equipment in banks and offices, but the new machine differs radically from them not only in appearance and principles of operation, but also in that it performs complicated calculations and returns the answer in written form without any attention on the part of the operator other than writing out the problem on a set of typewriter keys. It is constructed entirely of standard telephone apparatus, using for its computing elements relays and crossbar switches such as are used to connect subscribers in the most modern type of dial exchange.

There is only one of these calculating machines in existence. It is installed in a small room in the Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York City. One need not go to this room to use the machine, however. Instead, the operator sits at a teletypewriter, which may be located at any convenient place, and presses keys to record the numbers and to indicate what operations are to be performed.

This machine recently was demonstrated by its inventor, Dr. G. R. Stibitz, before a meeting of the American Mathematical Society at Hanover, N. H.

When the flying cadets at Randolph Field, Texas, the Army's "West Point of the Air," go up for practice flights, sometimes as many as 300 planes are in the air at once. What might be a confusion of traffic during take-offs and landings is reduced to orderly precision by radio control. Cadets do not leave the ground or land until they receive the "Okay, clear" signal from the dispatcher on the control platform.

AN HISTORIC INAUGURATION

On Monday, January 20, Franklin Delano Roosevelt took office as our first Third Term President under circumstances of international peril which has united the country as would have been thought impossible a few months ago under the widespread and sincere difference of opinion with respect to his domestic policies.

It is possible that within a few weeks, or at the utmost a few months, events will transpire which will provide a fearful justification for the drastic measures now under consideration to provide adequate aid for Britain as our most effective means of preserving our national existence.

It is even conceivable that the United States and the British Empire in their common peril will be drawn even more closely together. Recalling the proposal made just before the fall of France for a consolidation of the two nations, it is not beyond the bounds of possibility that some such arrangement may some day become the only means of preserving our way of life.

As our peril becomes more apparent, and as the Fifth Column invasion of the United States proceeds, domestic concerns are going to become more and more submerged. We will become less conscious of our political identities as Democrats and Republicans, and more responsible as Americans standing solidly behind England in a mutual struggle against the forces of Nazi Germany.

ROBERT EDWARD LEE BRIEF LOCAL NEWS

On the very day that the first Third-term President took his oath of office, we celebrated the birthday anniversary of that cavalier gentleman and Christian warrior, Robert Edward Lee, whose sterling character and heroic sacrifices constitute a permanent strength to the moral fiber of this nation and of the world, which will have to be reckoned with in the present immoral attempt to overthrow the Christian democracies of the world.

Offered the command of the United States Army, then about to engage in an immoral conquest, Robert E. Lee chose the side of right against might, and while it did not please Almighty God to crown his fight with military triumph, yet his cause was so nobly vindicated that the South, in the final analysis, has emerged victorious, and lived to see its righteous viewpoint become the inspiration of those who fought in the last World War, and are fighting today to destroy the same kind of national immorality which attempted to overthrow the South eighty years ago.

The South will never forget its humiliation and suffering of the Northern invasion, but Germany can take no comfort, nor have hope of a separation between North and South in our present determination to aid Great Britain, because Germany today stands in the Southern estimation, where our Northern States stood in '61. Germany now says, as did the Northern States then, that sacred contracts are not alkie binding upon all parties concerned, but may be repudiated at will be the strong against the weak.

So, in the end, the inspiration of Robert Edward Lee, actuates the motives of this whole nation today as we arm ourselves for united action with Great Britain to destroy an idea which attempted ruin of our South eighty years ago, and which now seeks world conquest of might against the right.

Formal orders have been transmitted from the Secretary of War to Governor Price, naming February 3, as the day on which all Federally recognized elements of the following units of the Virginia National Guard will be inducted into the active service of the United States: elements of the 29th Division and Company C, 191st Tank Battalion.

The guardsmen involved, about 5,000 in all, are expected to remain in their armories about ten days before moving to Fort Meade, Md. Units will be brought to war strength about March 15, by taking in selective service trainees.

Enlistments in the National Guard will be prohibited after the date of induction.

CATHARPIN

Our community was visited on Wednesday night and Thursday by the most severe ice and sleet storm we have seen in years.

Much damage was done to the telephone and electric wires, and many trees were broken by the weights of ice. Fortunately there was no wind, which would have caused much greater damage.

Probably the greatest disappointment was our not being able to hear the inaugural address by our President over the electric radios.

Mr. Harvey Fetzner, who has spent the past several weeks visiting his aunts, Mrs. J. H. Akers, Mrs. Etta Lynn and Mrs. L. J. Pattie and other relatives in this community, sailed last week for the Canal Zone where he will be employed with the U. S. Army Engineers in building the bomb-proof locks in the Panama Canal.

Private Charles J. Sterner, jr., of Arlington, who visits often at the home of L. J. Pattie, sailed from Quantico last week with the U. S. Marine Reserve Corps, Company C 5th Battalion, for training at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. Private Sterner was a senior in Washington-Lee High School when he was called to active service.

Miss Betty Brower has been quite sick with an attack of flu.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davis of Washington were the guests of Mrs. Edmonia Davis during the week end.

Miss Harriett Pattie of Alexandria spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kidwell and Miss Bessie Kidwell have moved to the Lake property near Wellington. We are sorry to have them leave our community.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cross and Mr. and Mrs. Newman Cross of Washington were the recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Etta Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Akers and children of Arlington visited their mother, Mrs. Lelia Akers, Sunday.

Mrs. Max Collins and Mr. Jimmy Collins of Triangle were the luncheon guests at the home of the L. J. Pattie's last Tuesday.

Mrs. Frank Eastham, Mrs. Claude Ellis and Mrs. T. F. Sinclair of Gainesville Church and Mrs. L. J. Pattie of Sudley accompanied Rev. John S. Schwartz to the missionary institute held at Washington Street Church, Alexandria, Tuesday, January 21. The session was most delightful and instructive.

The Hickory Grove home demonstration club will meet at Mrs. Jack Hunt's, Tuesday, January 28, at 1 p. m. A very discussion on "What is Cancer?" will be given by a local doctor. All members requested to be present and visitors invited.

ROBERT E. LEE— "STONEWALL" JACKSON

With the age-old forces of despotism again on the rampage, it is truly fitting that we "turn our faces toward Mecca" or rather toward Lexington, Virginia, where two of the greatest captains of Democracy that this nation ever produced taught democracy.

The youth that attend the fine old schools at that point and nearby have these monuments as an every day reminder of the things for which these splendid Christian gentlemen stood. We, of the South, owe it to the men who followed Lee and Jackson to come once each year and hear the cry "Hear, Ye O, Israel" lest we forget and lose our inspiration of the finer ideals in life that have been made perpetual by the men who wore the Gray—that last great army of chivalry for which our Southland may ever be proud for all eons of time to come, and not only our Southland, but the whole Anglo-Saxon race.

—Commonwealth Monitor.

She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Arthur Frances Edwards of near Morrisville, and thirty-two grandchildren and fourteen great grandchildren.

Mrs. Shumate spent the greater part of her life near Morrisville, with the exception of the past few years, she spent at Bristow, where she was tenderly cared for by her daughters, Mrs. Manuel and Mrs. Soutter. She was a steadfast Christian to the end of her life, never wavering in her faith. She had high hopes of a heavenly home and those who knew her, knew her to be a real Bible student, always ready to talk of God's goodness to her. She had many friends who will regret to hear of her passing.

ALL NEW! ALL DIFFERENT! BEST OF A GREAT SERIES!

"Dr. Kildare Goes Home" moves the scientific thrills and funmakers of the Dr. Kildare series from the big city hospital to a country town in the latest of the Max Brand medical mystery pictures, showing at the Pitts' Theatre next Wednesday, January 9.

A small town "goes broke". Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore start a clinic with the aid of John Shelton and others. The natives object to health measures that would close swimming holes and old wells. There are battles and wrangles amid which Ayres and Laraine Day plan to elope. Then Citizen Number One is infected by the swimming hole. The young doctors, after a desperate struggle, save his life and the clinic rides to triumph. Treatment of a strange ailment, an emergency operation on an ironing board, hilarious comedy moments between Barrymore, interines and Alma Kruger, chief nurse, interlard the thrills and romance.

Ayres plays Dr. Kildare more seriously than in former stories, Barrymore barks orders and draws laughs, and Shelton, a new discovery who "arrived" with Lana Turner in "We Who Are Young", handles his character role as the gruff "mystery patient". Others in the cast are Samuel S. Hinds and Emma Dunn as Ayres' parents, Marie Blake, Nell Craig, Frank Orth, Horace McMahon and George Reed.

GABLE, LAMARR IN
"COMRADE X"

When Hedy Lamarr throws a telephone at Clark Gable, tries to part his hair with a chair, and musses him up in general, it is quite a sight, but only one of the many rollicking comedy highlights of "Comrade", their new co-starring picture, which opens Monday and Tuesday, January 27 and 28, at the Pitts' Theatre for an engagement of two days.

Gone is Miss Lamarr, the glamorous siren of the past, and in her place is a slam-bang comedienne, a Moscow lady street car "motor man". Gable is a newspaperman in Russia, who leads an enjoyable daredevil life until he meets Hedy. Then things begin to happen to both of them. They wind up in a Kremlin dungeon as guests of the OGPU. And then escape in a Soviet Army tank, after one of the most hilarious chases ever filmed.

Miss Lamarr not only operates a street car, but a tank, battles Gable and runs the gamut of amusing comedy assignments, giving her a new and vivid vitality. She and Gable make an ideal action team.

OCCOQUAN
AND VICINITY

The following named vestrymen were elected by the congregation of Pohick Church to serve during 1941:

E. Russell White, Springfield, senior warden; Benjamin F. Nevitt, Fairfax Station, junior warden; Herbert R. Haar, Lorton, registrar; Thomas F. Joyce, Occoquan, treasurer. Other members as follows: Judge John W. Price, Overlook on Potomac; Albert W. Smith, Newington; Keray L. Hill Newington; Thurman T. Grimley, Lorton, Herbert T. Baker, Lorton; N. S. Lambert, Woodbridge; H. S. Claggett, Lorton, and Dr. Wm. P. Caton, Alexandria.

The Fairfax County Firemen's Association held their annual meet, and election of officers for 1941 at the high school in Occoquan on January 15. The following officers were elected to serve during 1941:

John H. Carper, McLean, president; Robert S. Hall, Occoquan, vice president; Albert E. Gorham, McLean, secretary; L. E. Wright, Vienna, treasurer; Milton Alexander, Franconia, Fire Marshall. All members of the Board of Directors were re-elected. The following to represent the O-W-L-Fire Company were added to the Board of Directors:

This was a very friendly meeting; more like a home party than a business meeting. The ladies of the Occoquan-Woodbridge-Lorton Firemen's Auxiliary served excellent refreshments which were very much appreciated and enjoyed by all present. There were over FORTY members present for the various fire companies in the area. The O-W-L-Volunteer Fire Company is a member of this organization, having complied with all the rules necessary for admission to membership.

Too bad Prince William County can not organize and have such an organization. Fairfax County finds it profitable to levy a tax to assist those Volunteer Fire Companies, but POOR Prince William County is still sleeping on the job. Although the Occoquan - Woodbridge - Lorton has fought fires and saved thousands of dollars worth of property in the county, the County Board of Supervisors has never allotted ONE RED CENT to the support of this Excellent and Patriotic Fire Fighting Organization. Wake up your Supervisors of Prince William County, and do something to help put down FIRE MENACE in our County.

The First National Bank, Quantico, re-elected the same board of directors to serve during 1941. There are Mr. A. C. Cloe, director and president; Mr. A. E. McInteer, director and president; Mr. J. C. McInteer, director; Capt. Thos. F. Joyce, director; Mr. G. W. Herring, director; Lt. Col. L. E. Woods, director; Mr. H. Ewing Wall, director and cashier and Mrs. Emmitt McInteer, assistant cashier.

The bank paid the usual good dividend to stockholders, and added a good sum to reserves. This bank is in the million dollar class now.

PS: Talk about a wandering Milk Bottle. A dairy supplying milk in Occoquan delivered a quart bottle today from (Oakhurst Dairy, Portland, Maine). Can anyone beat that for a wandering milk bottle?

I MARRIED ADVENTURE
Osa Johnson

When I first read it I flirted with adventure, the second time I read it I courted adventure; but, the third time I read it, 'I Married Adventure'. And I ask, "Who wouldn't?", after reading Osa Johnson's famous book entitled, "I Married Adventure".

After taking you from a Kansas small town, to the pomp of New York and London, one is waited to the wilds of Borneo and Darkest Africa while traipsing around the globe with the Martin Johnsons, collecting animal pictures. On these expeditions to the wilds, Martin steadily stands cranking a camera while Osa holds the gun, waiting until the last possible second before felling the animal with one well-aimed shot.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson have collected the most complete and widest variety of wild animal pictures ever collected by any two persons. After finding a haven in which to photograph wild animals in their natural environment, at Lake Paradise in East Africa, they built a blind, huts, and a photograph developing house.

While situated at this place, the Johnsons were hosts to some of the

Among these were included the present King and Queen of England; George Eastman, of Kodak fame; Carl Akeley, the explorer; and many others. Among their many associations at home were Charlie Chaplin, Will Rogers, and Jack London.

Aside from the photographing of animals, the Johnsons photographed the actions, habits, and customs of the cannibals and pygmies in the jungle. After many hazardous and exciting exploits in Borneo and the New Hebrides of the South Seas, the Martin Johnsons brought back the most detailed and complete photographic account of the native head hunters ever assembled. Many of these picturesque photographs illustrate the book throughout.

This book is not only a true account of the excitement, and adventure, and glory achieved by one of the most famous and loved couples who ever lived, but it is also a human account of the everyday lives of a truly American couple, sharing the bitter with the sweet, hoping for the best, and smiling at misfortune and sorrow.

This book has attained a popular height in the eyes of the American and foreign public since its publication by the J. B. Lippincott Co., in 1940. It is also a book-of-the-month, and therefore merits special attention. This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

DESCRIBED EARLY MARINES

Tales of the American Indian have been admirably told by J. Fenimore Cooper whose stories have lighted untold generations of Americans from 1821 to the present day.

Yet, few persons know that the author of "The Last of the Mohicans", "Pathfinder", "Deerslayer", and other stories of the American aborigines was also familiar with the sea and the sailing ships which were once the pride of the U. S. Navy.

Cooper's experience as a seaman on a merchant vessel and a midshipman in the U. S. Navy gave him a wealth of seagoing lore which occasionally may be found in his writings.

More than a century ago he described the U. S. Marines of that period as "Strictly infantry soldiers who were trained to serve afloat; and their discipline, equipments, spirit and character and esprit de corps are altogether those of an army."

Harking back to still earlier times Cooper wrote in part: "At no period of naval history of the world is it probable that the marines were more important than during the war of the revolution. The history of the Navy abounds with instances of the gallantry and self-devotion of this body of soldiers."

The author of the Leatherstocking Tales had ample opportunities to note the deportment of the sea soldiers, as he served in the Navy from 1808 until 1811. His fame as a writer came several years later.

Perservance

Less good from genius we may find Than that from perservance flowing;

So have good grist at hand to grind, And keep the mill a-going.—Thomas Dunn English.

T. B. CAMPAIGN TO BEGIN SOON

Spreaders of Disease to Be Isolated

Preparations to launch the annual Early Diagnosis Campaign, aimed at discovering incipient tuberculosis in the state, are rapidly nearing completion at the headquarters here of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association, J. Vaughan Gary, president of that organization, announced this week. In most communities the campaign will be during the month of April.

Thousands of pamphlets, posters and other pieces of literature are being assembled for distribution by the State Association to all of its affiliated city and county organizations, because education is the keystone upon which the Early Diagnosis Campaign rests, Mr. Gary explained.

"This plan for the further control of tuberculosis is simple", Mr. Gary said. "Its object is to find the spreaders of this disease and to keep them isolated until the danger of spreading is over. If this is done, there is no reason why tuberculosis will not be brought under control and virtually wiped out."

"This movement, Mr. Gary went on, is of vital interest to the taxpayers of the Old Dominion. A majority of the tuberculosis", he pointed out, "sooner or later, becomes a burden on the community; the disease usually picks its victims from those population groups that are least able to pay for long drawn-out illness, and the victims frequently become public charges, together with the patient's family and dependents. That is why the taxpayer foots the tuberculosis bill", declared Mr. Gary, "and no one knows how much that item is, because the tuberculosis bill is an unknown quantity".

Since 1928, the Virginia Tuberculosis Association, in common with similar organizations throughout the country, has co-operated with the National Tuberculosis Association in sponsoring the early diagnosis campaign.

Endorsing this anti-tuberculosis movement, Dr. Louis I. Dublin, an authority on the subject, writing in the current, "Survey Graphic", puts Virginia in the "tuberculosis belt" of the Southern States. "There are large areas", writes Dr. Dublin, "where the disease is definitely under control, but there are others where it is still rampant. Altogether twenty States had death rates last year above the average for the country; and four-Maryland, Tennessee, New Mexico and Arizona-had rates well over 70 per cent (per 100,000 population). There is a definite tuberculosis belt in the group of Southern States, including Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida. It will obviously be necessary for official and private agencies to concentrate their special efforts in those place".

"The Early Diagnosis Campaign is the instrument which will be used to focus public attention on Virginia's tuberculosis problem," Mr. Gary said. Working with the slogan, "A Good Doctor and A Good X-Ray," Mr. Gary believes that the army of workers fighting tuberculosis in this state will march to further victory in the spring campaign.

NEW MATTRESS PROJECT

All mattresses are made at the county mattress center located at Brentsville Courthouse under the supervision of the home demonstration agent, home management supervisor of farm security, the W.P.A. superior assigned to the project or others trained in mattress-making. Each family whose application is approved must furnish four people on the day assigned by the home demonstration agent to make his mattress.

Cotton and ticking for the construction of the mattress is furnished by the surplus marketing administration. The only cash outlay by the participating family is 65 cents payable on receipt of the mattress to cover the cost of needles, threads and other incidentals necessary for processing the cotton and ticking into a mattress.

The project will be open to visitors (over 16 years of age) January 24, 25, 27, 28, and 29, from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.
