DEFENSE COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

Chairman Boothe Announces
Five-Point Program for Northern Virginia

At a meeting of the Northern Virginia council of defense at Fairfax on Tuesday, a permanent organization was perfected and a five-point program announced by Chairman Gardner L. Boothe, of Alexandria.

Hon. John W. Rust, of Fairfax, former State Senator, was elected vice chairman and Mrs. Marion L. Ramsay, of Arlington, secretary. The chairman stated that he would appoint an executive committee of five to exercise the authority of the Regional Defense Council between meetings.

Among those speaking were Hugh Pomeroy, director of the state planning commission; Brig. Gen. J. A. Johnson, of Lexington, state co-ordinator of the of the national defense council, and A. M. Faure, of Norfolk.

Attending this organization meeting at Fairfax on Tuesday were Hon. William Miller, delegate to the general assembly from Fairfax; G. Wallace Carper, chairman of the Fairfax board of supervisors; E. C. Gibbs, of Mt. Vernon; Burns N. Gibson, of Falls Church; James U. Kincheloe.

From Prince William were Harry P. Davis, mayor of Manassas; C. C. Cloe, president of the Prince William Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the draft board; Rev. J. Murray Taylor, chairman of the Prince William board of supervisors; William Hill Brown, jr., commonwealth's attorney of Prince William.

From Arlington there were former State Senator Frank Ball, Free-land Chew, chairman of the Arlington supervisors; Mrs. Elizabeth B. Magruder, of the Arlington board of supervisors; Frank C. Hanrahan, manager of Arlington county, Hon. Charles C. Fenwick, Arlington delegate to the general assembly.

Members were also in attendance from Fauquier, Loudoun, and Alexandria.

FAIRFAX DELEGATE SPEAKS ON DEMOCRACY

Hon. Francis Pickens Miller, delegate to the General Assembly from Fairfax County, was a guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club last Friday evening. It was a patriotic discussion, apropos of George Washington's birthday. Mr. O. D. Waters was program chairman for the evening.

The speaker had more or less of an inspired subject. He gave a brief picture of the attempts to break down freedom and democracy in the world, declaring that he himself felt glad to live in such a period. He asserted that everyone would have a far better grasp of the importance of real liberty after the world wide effort on the part of totalitarians to seek domination had been broken effectively.

As a member of the national committee seeking aid for Britain and her allies and having visited Europe on a number of occasions, Mr. Miller was fully equipped to give a splendid word picture. His visit was greatly enjoyed by the club.

NAMES COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN FOR YOUNG DEMOCRATS

Mrs. Will Brower, newly elected president of the Young Democratic Club of Prince William County, announced at the monthly meeting held at Quantico February 11th, the appointment of the following committee chairmen: Mrs. George R. Mrs. Ralph Garden of Quantico was appointed General Chairman of Membership and the sectional chairmen are Miss Elizabeth Davies, Manassas; Mrs. Vernon Wood, Gainesville; Mr. N. N. Free, Nokesville; Mrs. W. A. Hampton, Woodbridge; Mr. Avery Reid, Hoadly; and Mr. George Purvis, Quantico.

The March meeting of the club will be held at the Manassas Court House, on Tuesday night, March 11th, at 8 o'clock.

SMITH HITS AT LABOR PRACTICES

Tells Committee "Open Shop" Would Stop New Racket.

Speaking before the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives on Tuesday, Representative Howard W. Smith, of Virginia, vigorously condemned the practice now found to be widely prevalent in government defense projects where exorbitant fees are being exacted by Union organizations as a requirement for employment on the job.

Judge Smith stated that if the "open shop" is permitted in defense industries it would "take away the racket that has been a disgrace to the country." He testified that he had received scores of letters from men who had been for years on public relief, and who now, with an opportunity of employment on defense projects, were being refused work, or discharged unless they pay excessive fees to Union representatives.

Evidence was presented to the Committee at the same hearing showing how workers were required to make heavy down payments and continued weekly additions, until large amounts had been mulcted, and indicating that men were being dismissed where refusing to be victimized.

Representative Smith, who has been very friendly to fair union practices, denounced this nefarious procedure and stated that the Committee should act to end such a disgraceful condition by appropriate legislation.

MRS. COCKSEY NAMED COUNTY CHAIRMAN FOR CHILDREN'S HOME FUND

Mrs. Paul Cocksey of Manassas has accepted the chairmanship for the children's home society campaign in Prince William County, according to the announcement of E. Strudwick, jr., of Richmond, chairman of the state-wide campaign committee. The campaign is scheduled to begin about the middle of April.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Cocksey a group of campaign workers will be organized for personal solicitation and an effort will be made to secure contributions not only from all former contributors, but to solicit many new supporters for the work of the society.

Campaigns similar to the one in Prince William county will be held in practically every county and city in the state during the spring and early summer months, in an effort to raise the 1941 budget of the society, which will exceed $90,000.

If the entire amount of the budget is raised, the society will be able to rescue at least one hundred additional children and continue to care for an average of approximately 350 children who remain constantly in care.

Most of the new children accepted will be babies for whom adoptive homes will be found as soon as possible.

METHODISTS ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE TO WORLD RELIEF

Sunday, March 2, 1941, will be observed as "The Day of Compassion" when American Methodism will make its contribution toward the relief of a stricken world.

The amount raised will be divided for three great purposes: One half will go to the relief of the war-stricken millions in China and Europe; one fourth to the work of British Methodism; and the balance will be expended to provide Christian Social and spiritual ministry to the boys in the training camps of the United States.

Please be at church to present your offering.

The Foreign Invasion That Must Be Stopped

MANASSAS BEATS HERNDON TWICE

The Manassas High school basketball team played two of the most thrilling games of the season.

The boys played one of the most breath taking games ever witnessed in this gymnasium. The local lads took on the highly touted Herndon team and held them scoreless for the whole first quarter, when they picked up five points themselves, four made from the free throw line. The second quarter started with a bang and this period was even closer. The score at the half was 9-8 in favor of Manassas. The second half was even closer and more exciting than the first half. The score changed leads at least eight times and was tied up about four to six times. It was any body's game until the final whistle when the score read 28 to 27 with Manassas on top.

Mr. Saunders and Mr. "Shorty" Vetter officiated the game and did an excellent job. The game was under complete control at all times. There were 48 fouls called on both teams with seven men put out on four fouls.

The Manassas boys showed some improvement over the last few games, but they need a lot more improvement to take Mount Vernon Friday, and Warrenton next Tuesday. Paul Kline led the local scorers with 12 points. Broadus and Bowers each collected five. Beeton, Robinson, Wine, and Conner all played a fine game and held the Herndon team from scoring.

The Manassas maidens had an easy time taking the Herndon girls into camp. The Herndon team was all set to take our girls after beating Mount Vernon 51-12. The Manassas girls started out with a fast pass and shoot, and the first quarter ended 9-1 for Manassas.

The half score was 12-3, and the second team for Manassas went in. The second team was used for almost half of the game. The first stringers went in the final few minutes to polish off the score to 22-14. Frances Beeton lead the attack with ten points, N. Parrish picked 8 and T. Swank sneaked in 4. A Swank, J. Shippe, B. Parrish put up a fine defense with Marshall, Davis, Tipton, Wheeler and Johnson doing a swell replacement job.

Don't forget folks on Tuesday, March 4, will be the last inter-scholastic game this year. On this date Warrenton will come for a visit.

HOME EC. CLASS SPONSORS AMATEUR NIGHT

The home economics club is sponsoring an amateur broadcast Friday, March 21, 1941, at the Manassas high school auditorium. Show begins at 8 p. m.

Cash prize will be awarded. 1st prize $3, 2nd prize $2, and 3rd $1. Anyone in school or out of school may enter.

Report to Dorothy Jones at the Manassas high school by March 17, 1941.

All you talented people come out and join in the fun.

FINE ART PRINTS WILL BE DISPLAYED AT BRENTSVILLE

A splendid opportunity for art education is afforded in the exhibit of fine art prints which will be on display Tuesday through Thursday at the Brentsville District High School. There will be a small admission charge which will be used for the purchase of pictures for our school.

There are one hundred and fifty large colored reproductions of the old and modern masters. Among the most famous artists represented are: Gainsborough, Titian, Da Vinci, Terborch, Murillo, Van Dyck, Raphael, and many others of the old masters, while among the more modern are representative subjects from the brush of Ben Foster, George De Forest Brush, George Ines, Ernest Albert, Frank Duveneck, Gardner Symons, Bruce Crane, William Wyant, Harry Vincent, Robert Wesley Amick, and Gustave Wiegand.

The regular meeting of the parents-teachers' association of the Brentsville District High School will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday, March 4.

We would like to call your attention especially to the art exhibit which will be open on this night; and we should consider ourselves very fortunate in having Miss Eugenia Osbourne of Manassas to give an address appropriate for the occasion. Let us all get together and have a good art exhibit as well as a splendid parents-teachers meeting.

BOOK MART TO AID LIBRARY

On Friday, March 7, the Alumni Association is planning to hold a Book Mart at the High School Building for the benefit of the library.

The Alumni Association is soliciting books from its members, from patrons and friends of the high school. These will be arranged on tables and sold at nominal prices, ranging from ten cents up. A few books may be auctioned off.

Many books have already begun to come in and the range of subjects promises to be a wide one from the most recent copies of the Book of the Month to children's books.

Aid the Alumni Association by donations of books that you have read, then come out and buy those that others have read. In this way you will serve the library which serves you.

(Ed note: We know of few civic enterprises which mean more to a community than a good library. The alumni association here has been working especially hard in the past two years to further this project. Give or buy a book and help this worthy movement).

FRATERNAL DANCE

Prince William council, Daughters of America, is sponsoring a dance to be held at old Brentsville courthouse on Wednesday evening, March 12, beginning at 9 p. m.

A popular radio team from Fredericksburg will play and perform.

TOWN MANAGER DIED TODAY

Mr. W. F. Cocke, town manager of Manassas for the past thirteen years, died at his home today at noon. He had been ill with pneumonia for several days but was reported much improved yesterday. A sudden relapse this morning hastened the end. No funeral arrangements have been made as this goes to press.

RELIGIOUS WORK NEEDS MORE FUNDS

Strenuous Appeal Issued by County Treasurer.

A letter sent recently to all Sunday School superintendents in the county contained a rather discouraging report from the treasurer of the county council of religious education. The council is engaged in a program of religious instruction that reaches over 700 children in the public schools. The teacher, Miss Hazel Saunders, goes to every white school in the county and gives undenominational Bible instruction to children in the 4th to 7th grades. This program is in its fifth year. It costs about $1000.00 per year. This sum is raised in form of voluntary contributions from Sunday Schools, Churches, individuals, and organizations throughout the county.

The treasurer reports that with more than half the year gone, less than one half the needed funds have been received. The program is heartily endorsed by the county school authorities, but it does not receive financial support from tax funds. The work has the approval of the Manassas Ministerial Association, and has the endorsement of most of the pastors in the county.

Personal workers in behalf of the council of religious education are Mr. Henry Maddox in Gainesville district; Mr. Walter Sadd in Manassas district; Mrs. L. J. Bowman and Mr. Felix May in Brentsville district; and Mr. Walter Wine in Coles, Dumfries, and Occoquan districts. Funds may be given to any of these workers or sent direct to the treasurer, Mr. J. J. Conner at Manassas.

The fact that many of the children receiving religious instruction through the work of Miss Saunders never have an opportunity to attend Sunday School, makes this project a real home missionary work. Here is an opportunity to assist in a real character building project right here at home. Surely the people of Prince William County want this work to continue. They will not let it die for lack of support.

NOKESVILLE AGGIES WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

The Nokesville Aggie Cagers last Thursday walked directly into the No. 1 favorite spot to win the basketball trophy in the Blue Ridge federation tournament as they defeated Haymarket five, 25-16, on the Manassas gymnasium floor.

The fast passing, fast breaking Aggies proved themselves superior in every department, out-shooting, and out-passing the hard-trying Haymarket team. Once Nokesville got out in front, Haymarket never threatened, except in the third quarter when Alvey of Haymarket tore loose and caged 8 of their total 16 points.

Herring scored 8 of Nokesville's 25 points with Eddie Nelson, Heister King and Ted Nelson hitting the basket for 2 goals each. Long and Rollins played excellent defense ball.

HIGHWAY FORCE RECEIVE AWARDS

State Fleet Rate One of Safest in State of Virginia.

Approximately 100 engineers and employees of the State Highway Department assembled in the Courthouse at Manassas last Thursday evening at which time awards were made for the good records in operation of State highway vehicles and safety to employees for the past four years.

Mr. R. I. Mount, District Engineer of the Culpeper District, presided. Mr. Giles M. Robertson, State Safety Engineer, gave a lengthy and instructive talk. He dwelt on the necessity of not only operation of the vehicles as a safety measure, but the placing of signs and flags for the protection of men while at work. In this connection, Mr. Mount particularly commended Mr. William Powers, of the Fairfax Division, as having only that day noted Mr. Powers' great care in protecting his men.

Mr. Robertson went on to state that there are nearly 1,500 pieces or more of moving equipment in the Highway fleet safety records in the entire number it was still the leader in Highway safety records in the entire State of Virginia.

He went on to assert that, although, some five million miles have been traversed by this fleet, only about one hundred sixty accidents of any description have been noted in that period which is extremely a remarkable record.

Mr. H. H. Allen, Shop Supt. of Culpeper County showed a unique frame in which were placed clippings and pictures in which the highway provided safety.

Among others present who made brief addresses were: C. W. Staggs of the Prince William Division, Mr. W. W. Sanders of the Fairfax Division and G. B. Bozel from Leesburg residency.

STATE TAX COLLECTIONS IN- CREASED DURING PAST YEAR

A 10 per cent increase in State tax collections over the corresponding period a year ago, provides a welcomed surplus as well as the necessity for setting up reserves to handle post-war problems, Comptroller LeRoy Hodges has reported to Governor Price.

Total collections amounting to $42,227,508 for the first six months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1941 represented a gain of more than $4,000,000 over collections a year ago. Business activities associated with national defense contracts account in part for the increased revenues, Mr. Hodges said, adding that these activities are not of a permanent nature.

A reserve should be set up, he stated, to provide for income deficiencies during the period of liquidation and depression that probably will follow the close of the European war.

Increases included $187,730 from sale of vehicle licenses; $1,230,308 from gasoline tax; $274,670 from the alcoholic beverage excise tax; $657,278 from individual and fiduciary income taxes; $278,761 from instructional revenues, and $142,938 from interest, dividends and rents.

In his inaugural address Governor Price pledged his administration would preserve the splendid financial rating enjoyed by Virginia, by maintaining a balanced budget. With less than a year of his regime remaining, the chief executive is confident a substantial surplus will be available when his successor takes office.

Jobless benefit payment during February will amount to about $200,000, a decline of more than $300,000 as compared with payments made to unemployed eligibles in February, 1940, it is estimated by Edwin S. Reid, chairman, Virginia UCC. The sharp drop is attributed by Chairman Reid to defense projects absorbing large numbers of unemployed men and women.

BRETHREN CHURCH TO HOLD BENEFIT SUPPER

VIRGINIA PREPARES DEFENSE NEEDS

An additional outlay of over $4,000,000 for public school facilities within the State is needed to meet satisfactorily the increase in population in several sections because of intensified defense work.

Dr. Sidney B. Hall, state superintendent of Public Instruction, has received reports of surveys made in the Radford, Hampton Roads, and Northern Virginia areas. These reports show that 9,633 additional elementary and 4,072 high school pupils will have to be accommodated in these areas next September, requiring new buildings, alterations, and additions which alone have been estimated to cost over $3,000,000.

Another State agency which has noted need for increased working facilities and manpower is Virginia's firefighting personnel and equipment.

A complete inventory of the Old Dominion's firefighting facilities is to be made in preparation for pooling the equipment in the event of emergencies which may exist with the expansion of the defense program.

Regional and district organization of the State's fire-chiefs is to be made and plans will be made to coordinate this group with that of the police mobilization unit for State use in time of disaster or major conflagrations.

Virginia, on the basis of receipts for the first six months of the present fiscal year, will break a previous record for Treasury revenue collections by the end of the year. Already the more than $42,000,000 in receipts is more than sixty per cent of the estimated yearly collections, and receipts at this rate during the latter six months will surpass the previous Treasury collections record. Much of this increase is attributed to the defense boom affecting any State localities. It is pointed out that this flux is not normal nor permanent, and should not be regarded as a basis for increased State services of a recurring nature.

Much of the $42,000,000 collected thus far has been acquired through the new ten per cent State tax on wines and liquors. This source has produced $1,152,987.73 for the first six months period.

Intensive study to combat the housing and rental problems affecting national defense workers, particularly as they affect naval officers and their families, is necessary, the National Defense Advisory Commission has advised the Virginia Defense Council.

CATHARPIN

Our community was greatly saddened last Tuesday by the sudden death of Mr. Robert B. Riley which occurred at the home of his sister, Mrs. Roberta Caton, at 2:20 p. m., February 18, 1941.

Robert Beauregard Riley was 71 years of age and was one of the most beloved men of our community, where he was born, and where he spent the greater part of his life. Being of a jovial, happy disposition, Mr. Riley made friends wherever he went. For some years he was employed in the store of Mr. D. J. Arrington in Manassas, and between the two there existed a very deep friendship. His failing sight compelled him to give up his work in the store several years ago. Except for occasional visits to his family in Washington, he has since spent his time at the home of his twin sister, Mrs. Roberta Caton, where, together with their brother, Mr. James J. Riley, they have been engaged in raising poultry.

Mr. Riley had been ill about ten days with the flu and seemed to be satisfactorily recovering when he was suddenly stricken with a heart attack, while his physician was with him, and passed quietly away.

He will be greatly missed by his relatives and friends, especially the little children who loved him dearly.

Besides his sister and brother, he is survived by his wife, nee Miss Rachel Polen; his daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Jackson; his son, Robert B. Riley, Jr., a valued employee of a well-known Washington lumber company, and three grandsons.

The funeral services were held in Sudley church, with the pastor, Rev. John S. Schwartz, officiating, and interment made in Sudley cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. L. K. Lynn of Manassas, John F. Pattie of Triangle, Ellsworth Senseney, Emmett Pattie, Luther McIntosh and Jett Pattie of Catharpin.

The beautiful flowers were borne by neighbors and friends.

WINGED ROMANCE FILM
JOINS COLBERT, MILLAND

A cloud-hopping trouble maker meets a trouble hunting newspaper girl—and boom!—it's love!

That's how it all starts out between Claudette Colbert and Ray Milland in the scintillating Paramount romance, "Arise, My Love", which opens Thursday and Friday, March 16 and 17, at the Pitt's theatre.

When Claudette, the fashion writer, gets a yen to write man-sized stories for Associated News she just casually snatches an aviator from a Spanish firing squad, and flies across the border with him to France. But the girl doesn't count on love, and pretty soon she finds her heart melting under the effects of the Paris moon and Ray Milland's ardent wooing.

When the assignment to the Berlin bureau comes her way, Claudette thinks it's her escape. But the inescapable Milland turns up in her railway compartment. Before she realizes what is happening, she is off on a stolen vacation with the handsome flier.

Love changes them. With the breaking of war, their first thought is to hurry back to safe America. But when this hope is frustrated by the sinking of their boat, they return to their duty. Milland is off to off to fly with the English fighting squadrons, Claudette goes to Berlin to carry out the grim assignment of covering the war from that side.

While grim and amazing pages of history are being written. Claudette and Ray are in the midst of exciting new events. They grow more sober, their love grows deeper as the picture draws them together again for its magnificent emotional climax.

"Arise, My Love", is the directorial job of famed Mitchell Leisen, and was produced by Arthur Hornblow. The supporting cast is led off by Walter Abel, with Pick Purcell, Dennis O'Keefe, Esther Dale and George George Zucco featured.

ROBERT TAYLOR AS FLYING
CADET IN NEW AIR THRILLER

Spectacular thrills of the air come Monday and Tuesday, March three and four, to the Pitt's theatre with Robert Taylor, Ruth Hussey and Walter Pidgeon in "Flight Command", smashing drama of naval aviation.

Taylor plays Alan Drake, Pensacola cadet, assigned to the crack "Hell Cats" squadron. Amid thrills of battle practice and intimate details of life at an air base, he seeks to comfort the wife of his commander when her brother, his best friend, "cracks up". Members of the squadron, loyal to their commander and his wife as is Drake himself, misunderstand the situation and in his anger Drake resigns. After a sensational rescue during maneuvers, the misunderstanding cleared and the squadron, reunited in loyalty, takes to the air.

Amid the dramatic episodes run thrills of dive-bombing, forced landings, battle practice, Taylor's close escape when his fighting plane tangles with an aerial target, and other peak moments of excitement in the air.

"THE SPIRIT OF

ROBERT E. LEE...

Mr. Edwin L. James, managing editor of the New York Times, writing in the weekly publication of Randolph-Macon College, says that the small colleges of the nation and particularly of the South have an especially important role to play in preserving the American way of thought and in American way of living.

Mr. James points out that it is in "many of the so-called great institutions of learning that we find un-American doctrines running from Fascism to Communism."

Continuing, the distinguished editor declares that "there is a fearsome spread of the idea that the world owes something to the graduates of colleges, without any realization on the part of the graduates that they have a responsibility and a burden in life. When graduates imbued with half-baked ideas, based primarily on the conception that if they have a tough struggle it is the fault of someone else, meet life's battles, they fall back on the idea that something is radically wrong with the state, with society, with everything except themselves."

"This condition is especially to be observed in institutions in the great cities, where many of the students are day students and where there is not to be found the benefits which flow from campus experience. It is fair to say that it is more prevalent in the North than in the South and that for a variety of reasons. It is in the North and not in the South that such misguided organizations as the Youth Congress find their strength."

Mr. James taking cognizance of the war between totalitarianism and democracy says that the defeat of totalitarianism will not be enough to protect our democratic ideals unless there be in America wise heads and resolute hearts to solidify our habits of life.

"It is fair to believe," the New York editor writes, "that in that test the men who get their education in the colleges of the South will be found playing a leading role because they will be equipped with the training and the beliefs upon which have been based the progress of the great democracy in which we live. The spirit of Robert E. Lee will serve the country in the future as it has in the past."

SLAVES FEED GERMANY

A drawn curtain largely hides the functioning of internal Europe from outside gaze but occasionally a flicker of light comes through. One bit of information is that 2,500,000 aliens have been conscripted for labor in Germany, this being ten per cent of all labor employed there and contributing an estimated billion and a quarter dollars annually to the total German income.

Poles between sixteen and fifty years of age were first conscripted by the Reich and Polish state property confiscated to the total of $2,500,000,000. Norway was next on the list with conscripted labor and Norway in addition is being forced to pay Germany nearly $2,000,000,000 a year as an occupation tax. France is being bled on an even more colossal scale, as are Belgium and Holland.

Germany is an empire fed by loot and slave labor, an arrangement that may be supportable for a time but which would appear to be absolutely untenable over the long pull, the entrenchment of the spirit of freedom being what is in Europe.

KILDARE PICTURE AT PITT'S THEATRE

"Dr. Kildare's Crisis", latest of the popular Kildare pictures, not only adds new thrills but reaches a new peak in emotional and dramatic intensity amid a constant barrage of typical Kildare comedy. The film, at the Pitt's theatre, next Wednesday, March 5, adds Robert Young to the cast as guest star with Lew Ayres, Lionel Barrymore and Laraine Day.

Young plays Miss Day's brother, arrived from the West on the eve of her marriage to Jimmy Kildare, plans for which are being made by the young couple and Barrymore, who injects a comedy note. Ayres, as Dr. Kildare, discovers symptoms in his fiancée's brother which lead to serious diagnosis. This sends their romance crashing, for, believing the ailment hereditary, Miss Day resolves not to marry. The tragic situation of the three young people is relieved in a dramatic moment in which Barrymore, as Dr. Gillespie, finds the clew that solves their problems.

Showing of a human heart beating was accomplished for the first time in history by new photography technique for a scientific thrill. Another novelty shows the use of hydrotherapy to heal Bobs Watson, who plays the crippled boy.

Young, Ayres and Miss Day are gripping in their dramatic and emotional moments. Barrymore adds comedy to his dramatic role, especially when he dons his old college clothes to warble collegiate songs.

STATEMENT BY SENATOR BYRD

I am very much pleased that Congress has passed and the President signed a law providing for the full taxation of all future issuances of Federal bonds and notes.

When I first came to the Senate eight years ago I introduced legislation providing for this taxation. I have consistently worked for it since then.

I believe that all property should be taxed in equal proportions. The issuance of tax exempt securities provides a haven and refuge for the well-to-do to invest their property and avoid taxation which bears upon all other classes of citizens. I do not think that in a democracy we should have any tax exempt classes.

This legislation however will provide only for the taxation of future issuances of such securities. We will still have more than $50,000,000,000 worth of government bonds partially or totally tax exempt already in existence and $20,000,000,000 in municipal and state bonds totally tax exempt.

The fight must go on so that as these bonds become due they will be taxed on the same basis as all other property.

THE LONG RIFLE
Stewart Edward White

The Long Rifle tells in a very interesting manner the history of the famous rifle which was won in a shooting match by Daniel Boone. This rifle, which was offered as the prize at the match, was made by Farrell, who later became a famous gun-maker.

In Daniel Boone's exciting and dangerous adventures in founding Kentucky, the rifle was his constant companion and saved him in many hair-raising experiences. One of the most dangerous moments, as told by the grandmother of Andy Burnett to whom the rifle was given, was in the famous fight at Boonesborough. The old lady, who, as a young girl, had ridden over the wilderness road into Kentucky to join Colonel Boone's expedition, described the daring feat performed by Boone in saving the fort. In the fight, one of the savages, having climbed into a high tree overlooking the fort, killed several of the people. When his position was located, Colonel Boone himself climbed to the tower of the fort. A few minutes later, the savage, in preparing for another shot, showed just the top of his head. Boone, using his favorite rifle, fired instantly and killed him.

Before Boone left Boonesborough for the West, he presented this rifle as a gift to the grandfather of Andy Burnett. Andy's grandfather had aided Colonel Boone in the rescue of his sister and three other girls who had been carried off by the savages.

In the book, Andy in many thrilling adventures tells of his life as a trader and of the service rendered by the rifle. It is easy to admire this boy for his courageous deeds in helping to settle the Ohio valley. It is, also, hard for us to realize the hardships and dangers that the people of that period had to undergo. Though many lives were lost, we can not fail to realize that the never-dying spirit which was shown by these people helped to make this country a safe place in which to live. This, to me, is the spirit of real Americanism. We as the youth of today, can learn many worthwhile lessons from these early pioneers.

The Long Rifle written by Stewart E. White, was published by the Sun Dial Press in New York City. This book can be borrowed from the Luffner-Carnegie library.

SWORDS OF TRADITION

Mameluke swords are the traditional blades worn by officers of the Marine Corps. Today they are seldom used in battle, as the use of automatic pistols and changing methods of warfare have made them nearly obsolete.

But the Mameluke still remains as a side-arm of the sea soldiers and is used for parades, or ceremonies and on formal occasions. The fighting Mamelukes, after whom it was named, were prominent in Egyptian affairs more than 500 years ago.

Tradition as well as sentiment accounts for scores of blades of various types in the museum of the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Some of them were used by naval heroes in actual warfare; others were gifts made to commemorate some outstanding episode in naval history.

Swords carried by John Paul Jones in the stirring days of the Revolution, by Stephen Decatur, hero of our war with Tripoli, and Isaac Hull, gallant commander of the fighting frigate, "Old Ironsides", are in the collection. Others belonged to Oliver H. Perry, George Dewey, or some other naval leader.

At the close of war with the Barbary States early in the last century, Lieutenant O'Bannon of the Marine Corps, returned from the shores of Tripoli with a handsome sword of the Mameluke type, and many believe that his heroic exploits helped to make the sword popular with the Marines.

Distinctly oriental in type, the sword has a grip which is fashioned somewhat like that of an old-style duelling pistol, a straight cross guard, and a slightly curved blade about thirty-two inches long. The name of its owner as well as the words, "United States Marines" are usually inscribed on its blade.

PRESS BY CLUB HOLDS PLEASANT SESSION

The press by club, men's organization of the Presbyterian church, held its regular monthly dinner meeting on Tuesday night. The Westminster group served an excellent roast beef dinner.

President Sed Saunders presided at the business meeting and then turned the club over to program chairman M. S. Burchard. After group singing, Prof. Frank G. Sigman led in a brief devotional. Edgar Rohr gave an address on facts and oddities in retail merchandise. There was a three minute debate on the relative merits of the tooth pick and the umbrella. The debaters were A. E. Jakeman and John M. DeChant. Many alleged facts were brought to light in regard to the use of these articles. Edgar Arey, employed for years by Armour & Co., showed two reels of pictures on the packing industry. Sausage was made right before our eyes.

Guests were Frank Cox, J. P. Royer and William Varner. The club is composed of members and friends of the Presbyterian church.

OCOQUAN DEFEATS LEAGUE LEADERS

Ocoquan defeated Warrenton, Northern Virginia "B" league leaders, 26-25 in an overtime period. Ocoquan took the lead early in the game and led throughout with the exception of the three period when Warrenton led 19-18. The score at the end of the first half was 14-6, in favor of Ocoquan.

The game developed into a rough and tumble affair in the second half. The score at the end of the regulation period was tied at 23 all. The Ocoquan quintet was paced by the sensational shooting of the Katsarelis brothers and the defensive play of the entire team. G. Katsarelis was the game's high point man with ten points. #### RENT REDUCTION A DEFENSE PROBLEM

Mrs. Boyer, sr., is in bed for a few days with laryngitis. an effective contribution to the national program, defense leaders have been told here by Frank Bane, co-ordinator of the National Defense Advisory Commission.

Increases in rents in some cases amounted to 200 per cent, causing disruption of community rental levels, Mr. Bane said. He urged regional defense chiefs and civilians to co-operate with governmental agencies which are trying to reach uniform rent levels according to varying local housing conditions.

As the Senate prepares to vote on the aid-to-England bill, a summary of Virginia defense activities shows nearly every State department affected by the defense program. Industrial and military concentrations in Virginia brought in their wake problems such as labor, housing, transportation, public health, public welfare, recreation, education and highway traffic. Extra burdens imposed by the war preparations are being studied, and action taken, by Governor Price, the State Defense Council and the regional defense councils. Mobilization of police and fire-fighting resources for emergency use, and organization of a State protective force to replace the National Guard, are nearing completion.

Without impairing essential services, the State government under Governor Price's leadership has gone "all out" for defense measures. Mr. Bane, former Public Welfare Commissioner of Virginia, congratulated this State upon the promptness with which Virginia anticipated and began solving defense problems.

THOSE QUIET SUNDAY DAY AFTERNOONS

When did the quiet Sunday afternoon come to an end—the Sunday afternoon which differs so widely from those of today? Looked upon out of the stir of the present, the Sunday afternoons of the past seem havens of peace. Not even the neighbors visited with one another then. There were no callers. These came week-day afternoons and after having sat stiffly in the parlor went away, leaving engraved name cards in the brass tray on the marble-topped table.

Particularly quiet were the Sunday afternoons of winter. These commenced with a half hour given over to oral reading of the Bible under mother's supervision. Next came the opening of the candy sack and the portioning out of gumdrops, lemon drops, chocolate creams and coconut balls.

Then were hours of great stillness in which the children read of Little Prue and Flaxie Frizzle, read the Oz books and "Little Women", went on expeditions with Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn, followed Christian along the way of Pilgrim's Progress, became acquainted with Aladdin, Jack the Giant Killer and Prince Charming.

It was no time at all until father was out in the kitchen building a fire in the coal stove as a preliminary to the popping of corn—a fire which roared and lighted the front lids to a red heat. Father did not make a small quantity of popcorn, but enough to fill the bowl in which mother put the bread to rise and enough to spill over in a white flood to the rim of the preserve kettle.

When winter sunlight had given over to dark, mother placed a coal oil lamp at the end of the square piano. The children gathered about her while she accompanied them as they sang such hymns as "Jesus Savior, Pilot Me Over Life's Tempestuous Sea", not realizing in the least that life's sea was much more than a calm over which parents presided and in which pleasant Sunday afternoons were to continue forever.
