COUNTY HISTORY IS COMPLETED

Bethlehem Club Sponsors Valuable Publication

The names of over 2,000 persons, who have contributed to the making of our county and of the nation appear in "Prince William, the Story of its People and its Places," the history and guidebook sponsored by the Bethlehem Good Housekeeping club, of Manassas, and written by the Virginia Writers' Project of the Work Projects Administration. Two thousand people, intimately connected with the past or present history of Prince William—think of it! Unquestionably, men and women whose names you revere—your ancestors, your relatives, perhaps your parents—are included in this book that you will want to own and pass on to posterity. The book is fully indexed, with page numbers following each name for quick reference.

The club feels very proud of this work and expects a copy of it to go into every Prince William home. For months a staff of research experts of the Virginia Writers' Project has been traversing the highways and byways, delving into dusty records, interviewing people, and scanning rare documents. The narrative is more colorful and thrilling than a work of fiction.

The 240 pages of this book are packed with history. For the first time, all important points of interest in Prince William have been accurately located in such a way that they can be readily found. A handsome volume withal, attractively bound and lettered in gold, and with contents more than matching the appeal of its format. Eudora Ramsay Richardson, state supervisor of the Virginia Writers' Project, wrote the final draft, upon the careful research of several specialists in various fields of Virginia history.

The book is divided into three sections. Part I contains historical narrative, dealing with the story of the county from its beginning to the present day. Part II is devoted to "Tours", in which every nook and cranny of the county is described—each visited by a Virginia Writers' Project supervisor who studied architecture at the University of Virginia and Oxford University. Part III is given over to the appendices, including invaluable source material. Appendix A gives a complete list of Prince William taxpayers of 1783, compiled through painstaking research in the Division of Archives of the Virginia State Library. Appendix B contains a complete roster of Prince William troops in the Confederate Army, compiled from photostatic copies of the original muster rolls now in the War Department at Washington. A full bibliography and detailed index follow.

A special pre-publication price of "Prince William, the Story of its People and its Places" is being made and copies can be obtained from the following ladies: Mrs. R. L. Byrd, Mrs. A. A. Hooff, and Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, all of Manassas.

MANASSAS TO SEE NEW STREAMLINER

Manassas will get its first glimpse this month of "The Southerner", new streamlined train of the Southern Railway now nearing completion in the Chicago shops of the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Company. The new train will serve the territory between New York and New Orleans, with the exhibition planned for the middle of March.

Built of high-tensile steel, with sheathing of stainless steel, "The Southerner" which will operate as three diesel-powered trains, includes all the latest refinements for the ultimate in safety, speed and comfort. Each train will consist of straight, partition and baggage-dormitory chair cars, dining car and lounge-tavern-observation unit, all reflecting the latest ideas in structural development and modern styling and beauty.

Passenger units have thermostatically controlled heating and air conditioning, are insulated throughout the make judicious use of a number of advancements made in favor of gracious living. A good part of the luxury picture appears in the comfortable seating arrangement in all cars, the commodious and up-to-date dining car arrangements and the facilities for an active enjoyment offered in lounge, tavern and observation rooms.

Diesel locomotives for the trains are being built by the Electro-Motive Corporation, a subsidiary of General Motors.

WILLIAM R. MYERS

William R. Myers, 79, active church worker and father of a Danville minister, died suddenly Monday at his home.

Mr. Myers was steward of Grace Methodist church. His son, the Rev. Harwood Myers, is pastor of a church in Danville.

Mr. Myers was born in Baltimore in 1862. He married the former Miss Cora Jacobs of Bridgewater, and came to Manassas to make his home in 1901.

Besides his wife and son, Mr. Myers is survived by a daughter, Miss Willette Myers of Manassas and four grandsons.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist church at 2:30 p. m. yesterday afternoon with burial in the Manassas cemetery.

Dr. Horace Cromer of Washington, D. C. officiated. The "pall bearers" were J. L. Bushong, L. B. Williams, J. H. Steele, Warren Coleman, A. O. Beane, and Dr. Dowell.

ESCAPED PRISONER RETURNED TO CAMP

Lee England, who was convicted in connection with arson at the plant of the Prince William Farmers Service some months ago and who escaped from Camp No. 26 in Albemarle last October 29, was recaptured near midnight at his home, the old Libeau place.

He seems to have come home on Thursday night. On Friday evening, Sheriff Kerlin with the aid of Deputy Partlow, Special Officer Robert Vetter and Town Sergeant Herring drove to the man's place and found him in the cellar of his father's home, where, it is stated, he was armed with a shot gun.

England submitted with little or no struggle and was placed in solitary in the local jail from which place he was removed by state officers on Monday night and on back to the camp in Albemarle.

BOOK MART TOMORROW TO AID LIBRARY

It is hoped that the book mart held by the alumni association for the benefit of the library will be a great success. The alumni and friends of the library have been very generous in their contributions of books. These will be on sale Friday evening at the high school from seven-thirty to ten. There will be a short program given by the high school students. There will be no admission charged. Come out, spend a pleasant evening and buy any books that appeal to you. The books will be priced so that you will get some real bargains and all money that is taken in will go to buy more books for your library. Can you think of a pleasanter way to aid your library?

CHICKEN AND OYSTER SUPPER

On March 22, there will be a baked chicken and oyster supper at Bethel school from 5 to 8 p. m. Benefit of P. T. A. and church.

Particularly interesting from the standpoint of detailed comfort planning is the fact that chair cars have twin rotating, reclining type seats, cushioned and attractively finished. The dining car has accommodations for forty eight persons in satin metal framed chairs with rubber seats and back cushions. Settees, lounge chairs, writing desk, card section and refreshment facilities have been planned to fit the comfort and utility requirements of passengers in the lounge chairs, writing desk, card section and refreshment facilities have been planned to fit the comfort and utility requirements of passengers in the lounge-tavern-observation unit.

A rich decorative treatment has been designated for all units of "The Southerner" with basic colors being blue, green and beige in light, medium and dark tones. Blue and beige are distributed in straight chair car planning, each car carrying out variations of the same color treatment throughout. Partition chair cars emphasize beige and the baggage-dormitory chair cars are done in tones of blue. Green is the predominating scheme in dining car and lounge-tavern-observation units.

The whole scene is enriched with an attractive arrangement of photographs which have been especially planned to heighten the atmosphere of luxury and beauty in "The Southerner".

DISCUSSES TECHNOLOGICAL UNEMPLOYMENT

The Kiwanis club had as its employment is speaker's subject last Friday evening, Prof. A. E. Jakeman, who was present as the guest of C. C. Lynn.

Mr. Jakeman had as his subject "Unemployment". He subdivided his theme into three groups, Seasonal, Cyclical and Technological.

The first portions he dealt on rather shortly, stating the many large businesses were dealing with the one rather sensibly and successfully while the other was something that was very hard to control and was too general in nature to handle comprehensively.

The technological side of it, he said, meant a good deal more to him for he was vitally interested in combating unemployment among Virginia youth between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five, which throughout the nation furnish half of the unemployed. He described the South as rich in economic possibilities, which if properly developed would make the South the Nation's number No. 1 asset instead of being called Economic Problem No. 1.

Professor Jakeman's talk was much enjoyed as one of the outstanding programs given this year.

FINE ART PRINTS DISPLAYED AT HIGH SCHOOL

A splendid opportunity for art education is afforded in the exhibit of Fine Arts Prints which will be on display Monday through Friday, March 17-21 at the Osborn high school. There will be 150 large colored reproduction of the world's great master painters. Famous portraits, landscapes, and pastoral scenes in the colors of the original canvases will be on display.

To be able to recognize a number of good pictures at sight, to describe them, to be familiar with the artists' names, pictures, subjects, and style is the aim of art appreciation in modern life. The desire to know good pictures may be realized by visiting art exhibits and museums. This opportunity is coming to you in your home town. Remember the place and the date.

Osborn high school, March 17-21.

FOOD SALE

The children division of the Methodist church are sponsoring a food sale to be held in Cocke's Pharmacy, Saturday, March 7, at 10 a. m.

WILLIAM FAULTEROY COCKE

Last Thursday, just as the Journal was going to press the mournful news came in that W. F. Cocke, Town Manager of Manassas, since 1928, had passed away after a severe illness lasting only a few days. Every aid that medicine could give was exerted and hope was held out the day before for his recovery.

Born at his ancestral home in Cumberland County on February 7, 1875, Mr. Cocke had just passed his 66th birthday. He was the son of the late Thomas Lewis Preston Cocke and Mrs. Mary Doolittle Cocke, of Gloucester County, Virginia. He was a descendant of the famous Randolphs, of Turkey Island, some of the very earliest settlers of the Old Dominion.

He was educated as an engineer, graduating from the Richmond Mechanical Institute and later at Columbia University. He was chief engineer of the Virginia Highway Commission in its earliest days under Governor Davis. He was also a resident engineer in both Lee and Frederick Counties, in Virginia. Later he went to Florida and became its first Highway Commissioner.

In 1928, he came to Manassas as the second Town Manager to be employed. Most of the present streets improvements have been made under his administration.

The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon in Trinity Episcopal Church, the Rev. A. S. Gibson officiating, assisted by Rev. John M. DeChant. The pall bearers were Messrs. Alan Mackenzie, J. R. Ratcliffe, Paul Arrington, Ned Bradford, Sedrick Saunders, and Jack Fray, Mayor Harry P. Davis, members of the Town Council, Town Clerk Byrd, former members of the council, Mr. A. A. Hooff and Mr. Hunton Tiffany were honorary pall bearers. The entire fire department in uniform acted as a guard of honor all during the service. The church was filled to overflowing with those who came to pay respect for the departed official. The floral decorations were unusually beautiful and entirely filled up the chancel.

In 1909, he was married to Miss Minnie Woltz, of Fredericksburg, who survives. Others are his two daughters, Mrs. John Holt Merchant, and Miss Mary Faulteroy Cocke, the latter now residing in Culpeper. He is also survived by the following relatives: three sisters: Miss Elizabeth Cocke, Mrs. Cocke, N. E. B. Talcott and Miss Harriett T. Cocke, all of Richmond; two brothers, Charles C. Cocke of Kinsale, Va., and Randolph Preston Cocke of Williamsburg, and a grandson, John Holt Merchant, jr., of Manassas.

DARDEN TO FINISH WORK AT CAPITAL

Representative Colgate W. Darden, candidate for the governorship of Virginia who has resigned from congress, will remain in Washington in an unofficial capacity to care for the business of his district until his successor arrives, he has announced. Mr. Darden's decision has been occasioned by the fact that many matters of vital interest to the district must receive attention. Leaders of the house have allowed him to occupy his offices in the House Office Building until a new representative is named, which political observers point out as an unusually complimentary prerogative. He will begin his active campaign only after he is freed of his Washington duties, Mr. Darden has stated, and will meanwhile confine his public addresses to discussions of defense problems.

OPERETTA POSTPONED

Due to illness in many of the families of Bennett school, it has been impossible to carry through full rehearsals for the operetta so the faculty has decided to postpone the presentation of "Kay and Gerda" until a later date. Watch the Manassas Journal for further announcements.

HAYDON NAMED SUPERINTENDENT

Will Begin Fifth Term in Office on July 1st.

The county school board met yesterday with all members present.

A committee comprised of Rev. W. F. Carpenter and Supervisor C. B. Roland appeared in the interest of retaining the high school department at Haymarket. Several letters were read on this subject, one being from the Deputy State Fire Marshall on the physical condition of the building, another from State Department of Education to the effect that it would be unwise to attempt to operate the high school at Haymarket after the close of the present session.

After lengthy discussion the board finally decided to confirm the action taken at the December meeting of the board closing the high school department at Haymarket as of September 1, 1941.

The resignation of Mrs. Joubert of the Nokesville faculty was accepted, and Mrs. Marshall Douglas was appointed to fill out the balance of the teaching session.

The superintendent and the chairman reported jointly on the convention of the American association of school administrators which met at Atlantic City on February 22. The report contained some advanced ideas of educational progress and were appreciated by the board for being both interesting and informative.

The board approved the purchase of twenty five of the new histories of Prince William County to be placed in school libraries throughout the county.

As previously advertised, this was the meeting at which the division superintendent of schools was to be elected for a quadriennial term. The board unanimously re-elected Prof. R. C. Haydon to that position.

The balance of the session was devoted to routine business.

EDGAR M. CORNWELL

Mr. Edgar Montreville Cornwell died at the home of his son Ellis in Manassas on Wednesday, March 5, at 1:35 a. m., and will be buried from the Manassas Baptist church on Friday at 2 p. m. The Rev. R. M. Graham will officiate.

Mr. Cornwell was a life-long resident of Prince William county, having been born here on November 23, 1861. He was well known and had a wide circle of friends. He served at one time as justice of peace.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie L. Cornwell; by three sons, Ellis, well known business man of Manassas; Harry and Thornton, by two sisters, Mrs. Mollie Barbee and Miss Martha Cornwell, by three brothers, Luther, Robert and Harrison.

Pall bearers will be Messrs. R. M. Weir, commissioner of the revenue; C. A. Sinclair, treasurer of Prince William county; E. R. Conner, delegate to the general assembly of Virginia; Hawes Davis, sr., and Milton Hottle.

Interment will be in the Manassas cemetery.

INDIAN EXHIBIT PLEASES WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

The Fine Arts Section of the Woman's club of Manassas met Tuesday evening, February 25, at the Osborn high school. After the business meeting, the program chairman introduced Mrs. Heber Jackson, who sang two Indian songs, accompanied by Mrs. Lewis Carper.

The members then repaired to the library to view the exhibit of Indian art.

Mrs. Worth Peters explained the origin and use of many items in the exhibit, which was very good, at the conclusion of her talk.

The hostesses, Mrs. Margaret Lewis and Mrs. Eula Holt Merchant served delicious refreshments.

O! March winds blow, blow away from Earth

My countless sins of years! Sweep, oh, sweep, with Thy Infinite Love

Thoughts, failures words and deeds So grievous to Thy Sinless Heart That pure and lovely I may be!

Only Thou art my shield and defense, From the Tempters snare. But in Thee, my Saviour.

I'll be forever safe from harm With Thy Love and Power to guide me,

On Divine Resources, I'll build my hope

Onward, Upward, Heavenward! And find my way,

BROADWAY FOR SOLID YEAR

Back on the screen after an absence of more than two years, during which she scored one of Broadway's outstanding comedy successes in "The Philadelphia Story", Katharine Hepburn returns in the hilarious film version of her New York hit, with Cary Grant and James Stewart as her co-stars. The picture opens Monday and Tuesday, March 10 and 11, at the Pitt's Theatre for an engagement of two days.

The sparkling comedy of high society behind the scenes of the hidden Philadelphia "Main Line" casts Miss Hepburn as Tracy Lord, whose first marriage was broken up because she behaved "more like a Moon Goddess than a wife". About to be wedded a second time to a man of the people, George Kittredge, portrayed by John Howard, her serenity is spoiled by the appearance of her first husband, Dexter Haven, an ideal role for Grant's comedy talent.

Dexter, realizing that Tracy is making a mistake, arranges a deal with Spy Magazine, a keyhole society publication, to have the wedding covered by Mike Connor, a highbrow writer forced to do low brow magazine work to live. This is the role played by James Stewart. Through Mike, Tracy learns that it is better to be a human being than a goddess, and in the end finds the right man in an exciting, romantic finish.

Adapted to the screen from the play by Philip Barry, the picture features a notable supporting cast, headed by Ruth Hussey, John Howard, Roland Young, John Halliday, Mary Nash and Virginia Weidler.

FRANK MORGAN, ANN RUTHERFORD HEAD KEEPING COMPANY

The trials and tribulations of young newlyweds, and particularly the danger of their first quarrel, becomes the subject for a gay, romantic comedy in "Keeping Company", with Frank Morgan, opening Wednesday, March 12, at the Pitt's Theatre for an engagement of one day.

John Shelton and Ann Rutherford, two of the outstanding young players of the screen, and both rated as strong probabilities for future stardom, appear as the youthful bride and groom. It means the formation of a new romantic team on the screen and a big step upward for each of the young players.

Teamed are Morgan and Irene Rich, repeating their dramatic success of "The Mortal Storm", as Miss Rutherford's screen parents. Thirteen-year-old Virginia Weidler and youthful Gloria De Haven play her younger sisters.

The story, in brief, is that of a boy and girl and their marriage. After much plotting on the part of the girl's father and kid sister, the wedding takes place. Then trouble appears in the person of the boy's ex-sweetheart. She persists in hounding the boy, which is called to the bride's attention by all the gossiping villagers. When her jealousy reaches fever pitch, the newlyweds have their first quarrel, with the result that she returns to her home and he rejoins his mother. It takes some wholesale plotting after that, one the part of both families, to get the two back together again and pull them safely past their first crisis.

POWERFUL STORY IS DRAMATIZED IN NEW PICTURE

Against a background of chilling mystery and eeriness, David O. Selznick's production of "Rebecca", best-selling novel by Daphne du Maurier, will have its first showing at the Pitt's Theatre on Thursday and Friday, March 13 and 14, through United Artists release. Directed by Alfred Hitchcock, master of mystery-thrillers, "Rebecca" was filmed with Laurence Olivier and Joan Fontaine in the stop starring roles, while the featured supporting cast includes Judith Anderson, George Sanders, Nigel Bruce, C. Aubrey Smith, Reginald Denny and Florence Bates.

"Rebecca" was transferred to the screen from the scenario written jointly by Robert E. Sherwood and Joan Harrison. The story concerns a young and unsophisticated girl who becomes the bride of the wealthy and socially prominent Maxim de Winter. When they return to live on his vast Tudor estate, Manderley, the second wife learns, to her horror, that her life is being dominated by the past of Rebecca, Maxim's first wife, a very beautiful woman who fascinated all who knew her.

Furthermore, the memory of Rebecca is kept alive by Mrs. Danvers, de Winter's housekeeper, played by Judith Anderson. Mrs. Danvers resents the second Mrs. de Winter and does everything in her power to harrow her. After an elaborate ball given at Manderley, the story moves swiftly to a smash climax, stunning in its surprise, and terrifying in its impact. This scene takes place in an abandoned boat house during the entire sequence, with Olivier and Miss Fontaine entirely alone. Because of the emotional intensity required for this scene, Producer Selznick and Director Hitchcock ordered that the stars be given complete privacy while it was filmed. The scene lasts about eight minutes on the screen, but because of the care exercised during its filming, it required three days to complete.

Among the unusual settings constructed for the production of "Rebecca" were a London street, old taverns, a coroner's office and a boathouse facing a windswept bay on the coast of Cornwall. The most elaborate set, depicting the Tudor estate known as Manderley, was built as a two story affair on a stretch of ground that measured 100 to 125 feet.

Every detail of English country life in "Rebecca", down to the last drop of ale used in a country tavern scene, is said to be authentic. Major W. A. Bagley, one of the leading experts on British modes and manners in filmland acted as technical adviser on "Rebecca" for Producer David O. Selznick. Director Alfred Hitchcock, also an Englishman, was likewise familiar with the customs and characters portrayed in the film and taken from Miss du Maurier's internationally popular novel.

"HIGHBALL"
EARLY RAILROAD SIGNALS WERE LARGE BALLS SUSPENDED FROM HIGH POLES. ENGINEERS KNEW THAT THE "HIGHBALL" SIGNAL—WITH THE BALL AT THE TOP OF THE POLE—MEANT CLEAR TRACK AHEAD. SO TODAY, WHEN AMERICANS SAY "HIGHBALL" THEY MEAN GO AHEAD OR SPEED UP.

"DRAFTED"
COLD WEATHER AND AN UNFINISHED HEATING PLANT, THREATENED TO DELAY THE USE OF A NEW ARMY HOSPITAL UNIT. IN THE EMERGENCY, A RAILROAD LOCOMOTIVE WAS PARKED ON A NEARBY SIDING AND FURNISHED SUFFICIENT STEAM TO PERMIT THE USE OF COMPLETE HOSPITAL FACILITIES.

THE AMERICAN RAILROADS BUY AND USE APPROXIMATELY ONE-FIFTH OF THE TOTAL LUMBER PRODUCTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

CLEARING THE TRACK FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Day begins at the Potomac Railroad Yard in Virginia near the Nation's Capital as a train conductor telephones in to the classification clerk to get clearance to a free track. It may be as early as 3 a. m. To Washington and the Eastern seaboard it means that the main gateway between the North and South of the Eastern United States is open and that the machinery of transit through it has begun functioning.

The story of an average day in this important railroad center and of the significance of the work which is carried on there is told in an illustrated feature article appearing next Sunday in The Washington Sunday Star. 44-x

BEANS...

THE BEAN IS ONE OF THE MOST VALUABLE VEGETABLES. IT IS RICH ENOUGH IN PROTEIN TO SERVE AS A MEAT SUBSTITUTE. IT WAS CULTIVATED FIRST IN THE AREA SOUTH OF THE CASPIAN SEA AND IN NORTH AFRICA. IN THE BRONZE AGE, PRIMITIVE ALPINE TRIBES RAISED A SMALL-FRUITED VARIETY.

ANCIENT EGYPTIANS KNEW OF THE BEAN, BUT PRIESTS MADE THEM SHUN IT, THINKING IT "UNCLEAN".

BEST KNOWN TO AMERICANS IS THE WHITE NAVY BEAN, THE GUSTON BAKED TYPE. IT IS ONE OF 150 VARIETIES OF THE KIDNEY BEAN, WHICH, LIKE THE LIMA BEAN, CAME FROM SOUTH AMERICA. THEIR SEEDS HAVE BEEN FOUND IN THE TOMBS OF THE INCAS.

BEANS WERE USED IN THE RITES OF SACRIFICE TO THE ROMAN GODDESS, CERE. PLINY REFERS TO THE BEAN'S IMPORTANCE IN ITALY.

GROWERS AGREE THAT NATURAL FERTILIZERS NOT ONLY INCREASE THE YIELD OF THEIR BEAN PLANTS, BUT IMPROVE THE FOOD VALUE. VITAL FOOD SUBSTANCES—VITAMIN ELEMENTS—CONTAINED IN NATURAL PLANT FOODS ARE ONE OF THE REASONS FOR THEIR EFFECTIVENESS IN ALL CROPS.

OUR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

It is with pleasure that we announce the re-election of Professor R. C. Haydon for his fifth consecutive term as Division Superintendent of Schools for Prince William county.

It has been the fate of many counties who have had the services of strong men in important positions to lose them by call to higher service, but Professor Haydon has chosen to devote his fine abilities to his home county regardless of opportunities of greater emolument elsewhere, and his devotion to the building of character and useful scholarship among our boys and girls; his care in selecting his teaching staff, and his wise and economical application of available funds to meet the ever growing needs of our public schools has endeared him to the mothers and fathers of a grateful county.

A monumental work on Prince William was once produced by the late Fairfax Harrison, in two volumes, but this valuable and profusely illustrated publication was not really made available to the general public but only offered in a very limited edition, long since exhausted.

The Prince William County School Board more recently sponsored a brief history of

MR. AND MRS. L. MERRILL

With full hearts and sorrowful understanding we bow in humble submission to the Providence of God in removing from us within so few days of each other Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Merrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill came to Virginia from Wisconsin nearly forty years ago and settled in the Independent Hill neighborhood, where they were loved and respected by all with whom they came in contact. About five years ago they moved to Clearwater, Indiana, at which place they were living at the time of their death. Mrs. Merrill had been a great sufferer for several months and surrounded by her immediate family on January 24, passed peacefully away. Mr. Merrill was stricken with pneumonia and on February 5, yielded to that dreadful disease. Funeral services were held Monday, January 27, at 11 a. m., and February 8, at 3:30 respectively at Chambers Funeral Home, 11 street, S. E., Washington, D. C., with interment in Memorial Park cemetery. Services in charge of J. Murray Taylor, assisted by Rev. R. T. Hays of Warsaw.

"They were lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in death they were not long divided."

They are survived by two sons, Earl Merrill of Rochester, N. Y., Lester Merrill of Washington, Va., and three daughters, Mrs. Frank E. Hill of Clearwater, Indiana, Mrs. T. H. Carrio of Greenwich, Va., and Miss Annabell Merrill of the faculty of Mary Washington college, Fredericksburg.

We shall miss their gracious friendship, their wise counsel. Their association has sweetened and uplifted the lives of all with whom they came in contact, and their memory will abide as a blessed heritage throughout the years.

In the home-going of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill their children have lost tender, loving parents, the community, useful and loyal citizens.

The large crowd, in attendance upon the funeral from Virginia, Maryland, and the District of Columbia, and the beautiful floral display, gave evidence of the esteem in which these dear people were held.

"I can't say and I will not say they are dead. They are just away. With a cherry smile and wave of the hand, they have wandered away into an unseen land, And left us dreaming how very fair, it needs must be since they are there."

And you, O you who the wildest yearn for the old time step and the glad return.

Thinking of them faring on, or dear in the love of there as the love here.

Think of them still as the same, I say, They are not dead they are just away."

CANOVA

The community welcomes the new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Odie Warren of Manassas.

Mrs. Carlin Posey of Manassas, Mrs. Bradford Lowe and daughter, Betty Jean, Mrs. Johnnie Petty, and son, Fred of Brentsville, Mr. Hubert Burke of Washington, Miss Ivalee Lloyd of Manassas were the Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wheaton.

STREAM LINER ALMOST READY FOR OPERATION

Deluxe units for "The Southerner", new streamlined train of the Southern Railway, are being completed in the Chicago shops of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company, according to advice from Frank L. Jenkins, passenger traffic manager, Southern Railway System. The new modern cars will be ready to inaugurate a new phase of luxury travel between New Orleans and New York next month, the exhibition date having been tentatively announced as March 17 for New Orleans.

"The Southerner" cars are part of an order for forty seven ultra-modern units placed with Pullman-Standard by the Southern Railway. The entire order comprises eighteen straight chair cars; six partition chair cars; five dining cars; three lounge-tavern-observation cars with square ends; three lounge-tavern-observation cars with round ends; six passenger and baggage cars; two mail-baggage cars with sixty foot mail apartments; two mail-baggage cars with thirty foot mail apartments, and two mail storage cars.

Six complete streamlined trains will be made up from the forty seven unit order. Three trains will operate under the name "The Southerner". The other three trains, to be completed at a later date, will be known as "The Tennesseean" and will operate between Washington, D. C., and Memphis.

Featured in the new trains will be the latest refinements for safety, comfort and beauty. Cars are fabricated of high tensile steel, each being particularly attractive in sheathing of stainless steel. Heating and air conditioning are thermostatically controlled. The new trains are powered by diesel locomotives built by the Electro-Motive Corporation, subsidiary of General Motors.

Comfort arrangements in chair cars include twin rotating, reclining type seats throughout the main compartments, with special lounge chairs for both men's and women's rooms. Settees and card playing accommodations are part of the lounge-tavern planning. In the observation rooms are lounge chairs, settees, writing desks and other comfort and utility arrangements.

Particularly appealing is the decorative treatment of all train units. Predominant colors are blue, beige and green, applied in appropriate tones to harmonize with individualized cars schemes. Draperies, seat fabrics, floor coverings and the like have been planned to reflect luxury, beauty and comfort. Photomurals are important items in the general decorative treatment.

The dining car of each train seats forty eight persons. Accommodations in each of the other units are as follows: straight chair cars, fifty six persons each; partition chair cars, forty two persons each; lounge-tavern-observation unit, fifty four persons, and the baggage-dormitory-chair car, twenty two persons.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Summers, and daughter, Georgia of Joplin was the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Madison Holmes.

Miss June Purcell of Hoadly was the Sunday evening guest of Miss Bernice and Gladys Posey.

Farm Cash Income From Milk Records New Three-Year High

NEW YORK—Farm cash income from milk for 1940, totaled $1,502,000,000—an increase of $147,000,000 or 10.87 per cent over the 1939 total and the largest since 1937, according to a Milk Industry Foundation report.

Figures for 1940 show the importance of milk as a mainstay of farm purchasing power, the report says. The increase is also impressive as milk is a cash crop paid for monthly and not at the end of the season as in the case of most crops. Milk cash is widely used for current farm purchases and merchandise.

While 1940 figures are not yet available for all individual farm products, it is indicated that milk is again the largest single source of farm cash income. While cash income from milk was up 10.87 per cent the income from all other farm products rose only 7.39 per cent during 1940. Milk production of 111 billion quarts was the largest on record.

More significant, farm cash income from milk for the year 1940 was $1.3 based on 1934-29 as 100, compared with 77.6 for total farm income. The milk figure for December, 1940, was 104.5, while all farm income was 84.0. This shows how farm income from milk has been relatively much better maintained than farm income from all other crops and commodities, contrasted with the latter half of the more prosperous 20's.

For 1940 the Milk Industry Foundation monthly milk sales reports from 136 leading U. S. cities indicate increases in sales of fluid milk of 1.4 per cent over 1939.

MADE SUPREME SACRIFICE
It is a long time since the echoes of the first World War rolled away, but in the voluminous records of the War Department stories of gallantry and self-sacrifice are still being revealed. In such cases some appropriate recognition is made, even though more than a score of years have passed.

More than twenty-two years ago U. S. Marines were holding tenaciously to the gains they had made in Belleau Wood, France. An intense enemy bombardment of high-explosive and gas shells wounded or killed many members of the company.

One badly wounded marine had his gas mask shot away, yet disregarding his own safety and knowing full well that the effects of the gas would be fatal to him, Gunnery Sergeant Fred W. Stockham insisted upon giving his gas mask to the wounded man.

Then, with undaunted courage and valor, Stockham continued to direct and assist in the evacuation of the wounded in an area saturated with gas and swept with artillery fire, until he collapsed from the effects of the noxious fumes. His exposure to the gas caused his death a few days later.

When a review of the War Department records several months ago revealed the heroism of Stockham, he was posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor by direction of President Roosevelt. Rarely have the records brought to light a story more replete with nobility of character, human interest and self-sacrifice.

LORNA DOONE

Lorna Doone is a romance published in 1893 by the Thomas Y. Crowell Company and written by John Blackmore.

It is the story of the deeds of the savage Doones of Bagworthy Forest and the hapless maid "Lorna" brought up in their midst. The story is told in the first person by John Ridd.

The Doones were outlaws, murderers, and traitors who lived in dark Bagworthy Forest in Exmoor, England. A company of the Doones often rode out on a stormy or a foggy night to waylay some weary traveler who happened to pass by, first robbing him and then killing him. All the Doones were of high birth and were noted for their great size and stature.

John Ridd, although he was nothing but a farmer, came from a good and honest family. John's father had been killed one night by the Doones, as he was coming home from the market. Thus the responsibility of taking care of the farm and his family fell upon John's shoulders. His mother was broken-hearted by her husband's death and urged John to do something to avenge his death.

Lorna was a rich child whose parents had come to grief at the hands of the Doones. The Doones took Lorna home with them and she grew up there. John was a small boy when he first met Lorna, but as he grew older, he fell in love with her. He had no hope of marrying her because he felt himself to be beneath her, but since John was the only person Lorna saw outside of the Doones, it is not surprising that she in time also fell in love with him.

When the Doones were finally conquered, Lorna and John were married. In addition to this, John went to London and was given a coat of arms and made a knight by His Majesty, the king.

I have told only a little about the two important characters, but there are many more that you will want to read about: John's sister Annie and the daring Tom Faggus, little Ruth Huchaback, John's tiny cousin, and the talkative Jeremy Stickles.

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie library.

STORES TO AID EGG FESTIVAL

Committee Comprised of Important Merchandisers

Appointment of a committee to represent chain stores of Virginia in helping the state's farmers and poultrymen observe the Spring-time Egg Festival was announced by Thos. P. Thompson, managing director of the South-eastern Chain Store Council.

The committee, named by Hunter C. Phelan, president of Colonial stores and head of the council, which represents over 40 of the nation's largest chain store companies, is composed of George T. Trumbo of Richmond, an official of Safeway stores, chairman; Wilbur R. Korengel of Roanoke, Kroger stores, and R. D. Gibbs of Richmond, Peoples Service Drug stores.

These men will serve to co-ordinate chain store co-operation with Virginia egg producers during the festival, which is to be observed nationally as well as in this state during the weeks of March 6-12 and May 1-7. The festival committee in this state, representing the producers, is headed by R. L. Jones of Petersburg, and other members are E. C. Rhodes, Harrisonburg; W. B. Coles, Airport; Daniel J. Winn, Elmont; M. C. Garst, Route 3, Roanoke; C. B. Williamson, Harrisonburg; V. S. Shaffer, Maurertown; K. N. Ellis, Petersburg and F. T. Holmes, Profit.

"As with other commodities, chain stores welcome the opportunity to help Virginia producers of eggs with their marketing problems", said Mr. Thompson. "We fully realize that all business is affected by the extent to which producers can sell—especially when a surplus emphasizes the importance of mass distribution to the consuming public—and we are glad to have the facilities to be of service at such times."

Needed for additional promotion efforts as egg output reaches its spring peak is revealed by U. S. government reports indicating farm hens are now laying more eggs than ever before, being more than double the average of 17 years ago. An all-time high of 26.6 eggs per 100 layers in farm flocks was reached on January 1, as compared with the 10-year average of 19.3.

867 MILLION FOR DEFENSE

National defense contracts and expenditures up to February 1, amount to more than 867,654,000, Brigadier General James A. Anderson, co-ordinator for the state defense council, has revealed.

Of this total, $66,936,252 is for army construction, and $36,596,262 for army supplies. Navy construction includes $54,850,937 and new ships $680,314,244. "I am informed that the majority of prime contracts have now been placed", General Anderson said. "The problem now is to develop machinery for speeding up the subcontracting phase of the program."

General Anderson stated that Virginia's state and regional defense councils will co-operate to the fullest possible extent in an effort to see that idle plant facilities in this state are drawn into the defense program.

Tackling Big Virginia Egg Problem

This big egg in a super-skillet is suggestive of the record egg output expected this spring and these men plan help for Virginia farmers and poultrymen in connection with the Springtime Egg Festival to be observed nationally during the weeks of March 6-12 and May 1-7. At left is R. L. Jones, of Petersburg, head of the state's egg producers, and at right is George T. Trumbo, of Richmond, a Safeway Stores official and chairman of a committee representing Virginia chain stores, which are cooperating to boost egg consumption. Welding the axe is Miss Norma Hart, of Petersburg, while in the background, spelled with blackened eggs, may be seen part of the slogan, "Eat More Eggs."

BYRD OFFERS AMENDMENT

Would Restrict Transfer of Money to Europe

The amendment offered by me, and adopted by the Senate today, provides that no funds hereafter appropriated for our own defense purposes can be diverted or transferred to foreign nations, and that before any funds hereafter appropriated can be used under bill 1776, Congress must specially authorize the appropriations for that purpose.

Senator George, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, agreed with me that this amendment would not hamper or injure the effectiveness of the legislation. Prior to the adoption of this amendment, under bill 1776 all future national defense appropriations for our own defense could have been diverted or transferred to other nations, and no provision existed in the bill even to compel that Congress be notified of such transfers.

If our own future defense appropriations and the articles of defense procured by virtue of such appropriations were transferred without limitation, confusion compounded would result and our own defense perhaps imperiled.

As a Senator, my oath was to preserve the United States of America first, last, and all the time. I do not feel I could be true to that oath and my own patriotic impulses, as well, if I voted to make possible an unlimited transfer of defense articles regarded as essential for our own security. And I say this without expressing any doubt of the patriotic intentions of the President. He has his responsibilities and we in Congress have ours, and we can work together best by each performing his own duties.

As amended, the bill provides that in all future appropriations for defense, the amount to be expended for our own purpose shall be kept intact and the amount appropriated for the purposes of H. R. 1776 shall be clearly defined.

This amendment definitely assures that Congress will retain its power over the purse, which it would lose, if our own defense appropriations were diverted to other countries, thereby compelling Congress to make duplicate appropriations.

I have no desire to hamper in any way the operation of this legislation. The right to transfer 1,300,000,000 worth of defense articles already in existence or for which appropriations have heretofore been made, still remains. This is adequate to meet the emergency until Congress further acts.

I know the American people are in favor of aiding England, although not to the extent, I believe, of any wholesale depletion of our own defense, but even so, both Congress and the people certainly have the right to know and determine the obligations that will be assumed for this aid.

I have been consistently in favor of all peaceful aid to Great Britain, just as I am consistently opposed to becoming a participant in the present war. There is no reason why such aid should not be rendered without impairing our own defense and security. There is no reason, too why we should not preserve the co-ordinated power of Congress in all matters relating to appropriations, and otherwise, as the Constitution provides.

I intend to support the most effective legislation, properly safeguarded, to accomplish these aims.

Cassius Moncreux Chichester, native of Fairfax county, was appointed director of the division of statutory research and drafting, to fill the vacancy caused six months ago by the resignation of William R. Shands, the salary being 6,000 annually.

Mr. Long, former conservation commission member, is president of Southwestern Virginia Inc., and president of the citizens' road league. Mr. Rogers, member of the House of Delegates from Loudoun county, formerly was a member of the board of supervisors of Loudoun.

Mr. Chichester for the past seventeen years has been on the staff of the state corporation commission, first as counsel and later as director of the securities division. He has been secretary of the Virginia Bar Association for many years.

SELECTIVE SERVICE STATISTICS

Slightly more than one in every ten men classified for selective service in Virginia has been placed in Class I-A as immediately available for military training, according to figures released by the State Selective Service Board.

Of 66,191 registrants, who have been classified as of February 15, 6,680 were placed in Class I-A. Of these, 4,555 were white men and 2,325 were Negroes, the figures showed. Other registrants have been placed in one of the three following groups: Class II, deferred for occupational reasons; Class III, deferred because of dependents, and Class IV, deferred for physical disability or other cause.

CONVENTION PICKS WINDER HARRIS

Winder R. Harris, managing editor of the Norfolk Virginia-Pilot and widely known radio commentator, has been chosen by unanimous vote of a second district Democratic convention to fill the unexpired term of Representative Colgate W. Darden, who resigned from Congress to run for the governorship of Virginia.

In accepting the nomination, Mr. Harris paid tribute to the "outstanding service" Darden has rendered in congress, and pledged that he would strive to emulate the example of his predecessor if elected.

Mr. Harris will have opposition from two other Democrats in the district, Norman R. Hamilton, Portsmouth newspaper publisher, and Maurice McCarthy, also of Portsmouth.

NEW DRAFT ORDER IS SENT TO VIRGINIA

Virginia received her seventh selective service call—540 white men and 195 Negro men—this week from Major General W. S. Grant, commanding general of the Third Corps Area.

The new call brought to 1,317 men the quotas allotted this state for March. The sixth call, announced last week, was for 480 white and 112 Negro selectees who will be inducted March 17 to 29 at Baltimore, Richmond and Roanoke.

Under the seventh call the Virginia selectees will be inducted at the same three stations during the period from March 21 to 31.

Including the latest call, Virginia will have contributed 2,874 men, white and Negro, toward her year's quota of 9,747, leaving 6,873 to be inducted before the close of June if the full quota is to be attained.

Lieutenant Colonel Mills F. Neal, state selective service director, said that the call on the 153 local boards for men to fill the new call would be forwarded from state headquarters within a few days. He added that he expected succeeding calls on the state at the rate of perhaps three a month.

Under the No. 7 call, 243 white and 39 Negro selectees will be inducted at Roanoke, 92 whites and 16 Negroes at Baltimore, and 205 whites and 130 Negroes at Richmond.

PLANS MADE FOR GAME REFUGE

Warden Brower Announces Quail Protection Project.

A number of quail refuges are to be established in Prince William County under the supervision of the commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, according to word recently received from Game Warden William S. Brower.

Mr. James E. Thornton, one of the commission's field biologists, and Mr. Brower have been instructed to make a study of the quail situation in this county and to arrange the leasing of refuge areas from farmers who wish to co-operate with the commission in the establishment of refuges on their lands.

The refuges established in Prince William county will be part of the statewide refuge system which was started last year. More than 450 refuges, were set aside during 1940, and it is believed that a still greater number will be leased this year.

The establishment of refuges, which is one part of the game commission's quail restoration program, is not an attempt to close certain lands to hunting, Mr. Brower pointed out. The refuges are designed to provide a safe home for the birds which must be carried over from year to year as brood stock. Lands surrounding the refuges will be kept open to hunting, and the refuges will serve as an automatic mechanism for keeping these hunting grounds properly stocked with game.

All refuges are established with the co-operation of the landowner. The refuge areas are leased for a period including not less than two quail breeding seasons. Landowners who desire to make plantings of food and cover patches will be given all possible help and encouragement, it was said.

Since Bobwhite quail move about very little, many of them spending their entire lives within a quarter of a mile of where they are hatched, the refuges will be small. They will be kept between 40 and 100 acres, to insure a good outflow of excess birds.

This project, financed in part under the Pittman-Robertson Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration Act, is being carried out by Game Wardens and a staff of field biologists who are under the direction of C. F. Phelps, superintendent of Game Propagation for the commission of Game and Inland Fisheries.
