ART EXHIBIT AT MANASSAS HIGH

Unusual Display of the Works of Great Masters to be Shown.

A wise man once said "Tell me what pictures hang upon his walls and what books are his companions and I will tell you what manner of man he is." Would you be willing to be rated by this scale?

Modern life calls for a many-sided development. Schools have always tried to train for the use and choice of good books. Today school seeks to give guidance in the choice and use of many other materials also.

The Manassas Public Schools have been fortunate in securing an exhibit of Colonial Art Prints consisting of masterpieces from the French, Italian, Flemish, English, Dutch, Spanish, German, and American Schools of Art. These pictures will be on display in the library of the Osborn High School from Monday through Friday, March 17-21. You will see there the work of Gainsborough, Titian, Da Vinci, Raphael, and many others of the old masters, while you find subjects from the brush of George Innes, Harry Vincent, Gardner Symons, Gustave Wegand, and others representing modern painters. This is an opportunity to learn to recognize these great pictures and to know something of the artist who painted them.

The exhibit will be open everyday from nine to three-thirty. On Monday the Room Mothers of Bennett School will serve tea from two-thirty to five. Come in Monday and enjoy a cup of tea with the art. If you come early, you will surely be tempted to see the pictures again before the week is over.

MRS. HILLEARY SPEAKES

Mrs. Esther Speakes, wife of Hillary Speakes, died at George Washington Hospital March 4, 1941, following a short illness.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. King of Forestville, Va. She was born February 9, 1902, and moved to Prince William County in 1918. She joined the Baptist Church in 1918 and was an active member of the United Brethren Church of Buckhall. She married Hillary Speakes of Manassas in 1918.

Funeral services were held in the United Brethren Church, at Buckhall, by Reverend Graham, with Reverend Knapp assisting, and she was laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery.

She is survived by her husband and the following children, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Arlington, Va.; Hilleary, Jr., Ruby, Clara, Kenzie, Helen, Stanley and Marvin; also her mother, father, four sisters and four brothers, and one granddaughter, Frances Ann Johnson.

DEADLINE FOR A. C. P. APPLICANTS IS MARCH 31

March 31 is the deadline for signing ACP applications for payment under the 1940 Agricultural Conservation program, and farmers who do not attend to this matter on time will lose the payment they would otherwise receive, says S. K. Cassell, state AAA executive officer.

The regulations say that payment will be made only upon applications submitted through the county office on or before the closing date. It has been pointed out that some county offices have applications ready to submit for payment, except that farmers have not responded to the request to come in and sign them. Any producer eligible for payment for participating in the 1940 Agricultural Conservation program who has not filed an application should be sure to call at the county AAA office and file his application before March 31.

The application a farmer submits is for payments he has earned on his farm by participating in the 1940 program, Mr. Cassell says. Actually, it is a record of performance under the program, which includes payments for approved soil-building practices, and also payments for planting with in his special acreage allotments.

An estimated 91,700 Virginia applications are expected under the 1940 Program, of which 82,286 had been received in the state office as of February 28. These applications will involve about four million dollars, less the amount spent for lime and superphosphate that farmers requested in lieu of payments.

THAT MEANS ALL OF US

UP-HILL OR DOWN

Now that the United States has definitely become "The Arsenal of Democracies" and has been obliged to take a hand in the World War as the only possible way of safeguarding our national security, it must be the concern of every patriotic citizen to put a shoulder to the wheel and shove with all the strength possible.

Opinions may and should differ on the wisdom of a line of action in the interest of national defense, but once a course is mapped out and adopted by legislation, it becomes the law of the land, and right or wrong, wise or seemingly inadvisable, it is reasonable in the extreme to obstruct the program. Either one is for the United States or he is against it, and there is no middle course. He, who is not for us, is against us.

At the present moment there is wide spread and justifiable concern for fear that we are heading in exactly the same direction that took France to ruin, and a growing conviction that unless we sternly check this down-hill course, we will eventually suffer the same miserable fate.

Just so long as one citizen is called upon by his government to respond willingly to the great sacrifices imposed by the Selective Service, and his labor-union neighbor is officially protected in sullen and criminal obstruction of the progress of national defense under the guise of the sanctity of collective bargaining, just that long are we destroying the foundations of our national security and swinging apart the gates which open the way to military invasion and conquest of our beloved Country.

Events lie just around the corner which may bring us to a realization that world conditions make it impossible for us to have our pie and eat it also. "Social gains" are important, but when they conflict with national security, such considerations must become secondary, since they are absolutely dependent upon that security.

Public opinion is like a mighty pendulum. It has moved far out upon a pathway of national socialism, and although still swinging that way, the movement is definitely slowing, and must, in the face of international menaces which are rapidly arising, soon begin to move in the opposite direction. At first the reaction will be almost imperceptible. A local circumstance, accompanied perhaps with regrettable loss of life and property, will surprise and outrage public opinion. Un-American collective-bargaining organizations will begin to fail in attaining recognition of their sacred rights. Then as the pendulum moves toward the true point of balanced judgment, it will be carried far past the perpendicular and those who deliberately did wrong will be similarly dealt with, and their cries will rend the heavens, but however fatal to the fine ideas underlying collective bargaining, they will be wiped out, and we will lose much that could have been retained profitably in our national life if they had proceeded with patriotism and becoming unselfishness in the face of threatened destruction of their Country.

LEGISLATOR DISCUSSES HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENTS IN TOWN

Hon. E. R. Conner put on his own program last Friday evening at the Kiwanis club, speaking on "eyesores" about the town. As a resident of many years and former member of the town council he was amply able to talk at length on this subject.

Using the town's approaches, Hon. Ed went into details, with maps, etc., pointing out each one's good points or weaknesses, mainly the latter. The present set of "town fathers" had two able members present and they entered into quite a three-way discussion with E. R.

The heavy storm which was going on at the time of meeting had a very depressing effect on attendance and those absent missed a very fine meeting. All of the eyesores mentioned during the evening were not restricted to the streets by any means, and it would appear that some which the speaker brought up had about been ironed out by the late Town Manager and would be perfected shortly.

COUNTY CONTEST AT NOKEVILLE

Winner of Finals Will Receive Scholarship.

The county contest of the fourth annual National High School Oratorical Contest will be held in the auditorium of the Brentsville District High School on Friday afternoon, March 14. This contest which is sponsored by the National Americanism Commission of the American Legion is of vital importance to the youth of today as it is based on the civil liberties of the individual. In this period of chaos, it is necessary to emphasize the meaning of "Life, Liberty, and Pursuit of Happiness" in order to help the youth to build on a firm and constructive background.

The elimination contests will be held on Wednesday afternoon in the two participating schools, Manassas and Nokesville. From the four entrants of each school, one will be selected to represent the school on Friday. The winner of the county contest will be selected by judges from Fauquier County on his presentation of a ten-minute oration on the general subject of "Life, Liberty, and Pursuit of Happiness" and an extemporaneous oration of six-minutes on the Constitution of the United States. This winner will take part in the District contest which will be held before April 5, at Alexandria. A regional and a national contest will be awarded a scholarship and an engraved wrist watch.

The contestants from Nokesville are: Frederick Harpine, Emlyn Herring, Eugene Nolley and Harry Smith. Those from Manassas are: Guy Bowers, Roger Cross, and Joseph Johnson.

COUNTY HISTORY WILL GO ON AIR

Program Scheduled for Next Wednesday morning.

Prince William County will be honored by having an entire radio program devoted to a tour within its borders when the "Virginia Traveler" broadcast is heard on Wednesday evening, March 19, at 10:15 over station WRVA, Richmond. N. Clarence Smith, chairman of the Virginia Conservation Commission, and Eudora Ramsay Richardson, State Supervisor of the Virginia Writers' Project of the Work Projects Administration, will conduct the program.

The Writers' Project has just supplemented its major work, Virginia, A Guide to the Old Dominion, with an interesting book titled "Prince William, The Story of Its People and Its Places", and this volume, the result of long and exhaustive research, forms the basis for this broadcast. The scope of this work may be measured when it is recalled that more than 2,000 names of Prince William persons appear in this history and guide to the county.

The broadcast also will feature the story of the Prince William woman who spanked her husband before their guest, and visits will be made to old homes that ghosts are still supposed to haunt.

The Bethlehem Good Housekeeping Club, with the co-operation of the Prince William County Board of Supervisors and the town council of Manassas, is sponsoring the publication of the book. The committee from the club is composed of Mrs. R. L. Byrd, Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, and Mrs. A. A. Hooff.

The "Virginia Traveler" series is presented every Wednesday in co-operation with the Conservation Commission. At the conclusion of each program a question is asked concerning some phase of Virginia life or history, and for the best answer of 100 words or less a copy of Virginia, A Guide to the Old Dominion, a 700-page book, is awarded as a prize by the publishers, the Oxford University Press.

HEAVY SNOWFALL

Beginning Friday morning and continuing through most of Saturday mixed rain, sleet, ice and snow piled up to a depth rated at from ten to twelve inches in all of this area.

The highway department operated with a splendid degree of efficiency but blocked driveways, entrances and etc. made a number of public and church meetings inadvisable, and those which were held over the week end were very poorly attended.

This one snow is about our average fall for the entire winter. It came just at a time when our March blizzards have a habit of dropping in on us.

Mild temperatures have prevailed and most of the snow has already disappeared. The ground was rather dry and the gradual thaw has been very beneficial.

I Like This Book

One of a series of book reviews by students of Osborn High School, Manassas, Virginia, 1940-41, in competition for the W. C. Wagener Memorial Prize.

"SONG OF YEARS"

"Song of Years" was written by Bess Streeter Aldrich, author of many other interesting books such as "Spring Came on Forever", "A Lantern in Her Hand", and "Miss Bishop". "Song of Years" was published in 1939 by the D. Appleton-Century Company.

The story takes place along the Red Cedar River between the years of 1854 and 1865, the time of the Civil War.

It is a love story of Wayne Lockwood, who is pioneering alone in Iowa, and Suzanne Martin, one of the family of seven daughters and two sons. Jeremiah Martin, her stern but lovable father, is the one that keeps the Martin family in touch with the latest political news of that day.

The story tells of the thrilling adventures of the Martin family and of Wayne Lockwood. Humor is added to the story by Mrs. Martin and all seven of her daughters, Sabina, Melinda, Phoebe Lou, Suzanne, Celia, and Jeanie.

The story starts when a young lad about twenty one years of age, Wayne Lockwood, comes wandering out into Eastern Iowa and buys for himself a piece of land large enough for a farm. Here he meets the Martin family and falls in love with Suzanne, the youngest daughter of that family.

He visited this family very often because they were his nearest neighbors and because he liked their merri-ment. All these good times were brought to an end when Wayne and the husbands of the Martin girls were called to war. To this family the war brought great misfortune, but to Suzanne it brought a happy life.

While Wayne was fighting in the war he was wounded. When the list of men that were killed or wounded was sent back to the town that he had come from, they listed his name among those killed.

Suzanne, thinking that he was killed, was about to marry Cady Bed-son, whom she didn't love, when Wayne Lockwood walked in. The wedding of Suzanne and Cady was then called off and Wayne and Suzanne were married.

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

Did Papa monopolize Junior's toy train last Christmas? Don't be alarmed, Papa's normal according to the results of a recent census of model railroad builders! The average age of these enthusiasts is between 30 and 35 years and almost 60% of them are between 25 and 40 years of age.

Railroads are good customers! Their shopping list includes more than 70,000 distinct items ranging from soap to steam locomotives, from toothpicks to telephone poles, from box cars to bituminous coal!

Is the water we drink fit for use in a locomotive? The chemists tell us "No!" Chemical treatment of water prevents rusting of boilers and boiler tubes and increases locomotive efficiency. This may seem unimportant—but it's one of many factors contributing to constantly improved freight and passenger service.

The first genuinely air-conditioned sleeping car train in the world was placed in service on Chesapeake and Ohio Lines in 1932.

A train starts on its run somewhere in the United States on an average of every 23 seconds!

Did you know that Ancient Roman chariots influenced railroad development? Their wheels were built with a 4 foot, 8 inch spread, a measurement that became standard for cars in England during the Roman invasion of the British Isles. Early English tramways were built to accommodate carts of this size, and much later, their railroads were also built with tracks 4 feet, 8 inches apart. Principal early American railroads adopted this gauge, too. Finally, so many roads conformed to it that the measurement became standard!

THE REDISTRICTING PROBLEM

The Fuller Report on Redistricting the legislative areas of Virginia has been made public and at least offers something concrete as a basis of discussion. Hearings will be held in Richmond on March 17 and a final plan will be offered for consideration of the 1942 General Assembly.

It will be recalled that an effort to solve the problem failed in the last Session probably very fortunately because we did not then have the benefit of the 1940 Census figures. We have that information and can proceed much more intelligently.

Many areas in Virginia have remained approximately stationary in population since the last Census but Northern Virginia has made remarkable gains and these will be much increased under the present defense program. Alexandria has gained 38.8 per cent Fairfax 62 per cent Prince William 27.1 per cent while Arlington shows the phenomenal increase of 114.3 per cent. It is certain from these figures that a re-districting is imperative but in readjustment of representation in the General Assembly it is highly important that the agricultural section of this Senatorial District is not completely overwhelmed by the more populous metropolitan area. So long as we have a Senator of the alertness to the interests of his District as a whole as Senator Medley has proven to be we are well taken care of but the present voting strengths makes it increasing impossible for us to elect a Senator from Prince William.

Indeed the agricultural sections of Fairfax are said to be so discouraged by the high tax rate and zoning restrictions being imposed upon them by the

THESE four simple words are asked thousands upon thousands of times daily. You may have had the experience yourself in seeking credit accommodations, applying for a job, discussing a business deal, opening a charge account or in other ways.

It's gratifying at such times to be able to name this modern, progressive institution. If you are seeking a well-rounded banking connection, we shall be glad to tell you about our facilities.

more populous area of the County ty that Dranesville District citizens are even discussing the advantages of becoming a part of Loudoun County and in Centreville District some farmers would like to be incorporated within the boundaries of good old Prince William.

In fact it has been so long since Prince William had a Senator in the General Assembly that no-one seems off hand to be able to recall even the name of the last gentleman to serve in the State Senate from Prince William.

Political considerations are bound to figure prominently in any new arrangement and it is likely that a final solution may be achieved which no one at present has conceived but whatever the final redistricting plan, it should not forever sink the possibility of Senatorial representation from attainment by a fine old County like Prince William, by having some kind of Senator at large who would always be the choice of the population center of the District, unless thwarted by the utmost political ambidexterity, three-cornered race, gentleman's agreement, political deal, or other device distasteful to the general public which always prefers a straight-out above-board four-square and unhampered contest at the polls for these high honors and opportunities of public service.

FAREWELL PARTY

The Friendship Class of Manassas Baptist Church spent a most enjoyable social evening in the home of Dr. and Mrs. V. V. Gillum, on March 5. The occasion was a farewell party in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Lyle C. Hedman and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cobb.

Dr. Hedman is president of the class and a charter member of it. Mr. Cobb, although a newer member, has been very active and at present serves as secretary-treasurer. Their leaving will be much regretted by the entire class and by the Manassas community. Dr. Hedman goes to Fort Eustis on the 15, for active military duty. Mr. Cobb returns to Florida to take a position with a private business concern.

Mrs. Earl Hurst, Mrs. E. B. Hughes and Mrs. Gillum were in charge of arrangements and refreshments. Miss Anna B. Wood, Mrs. Gillum's niece, poured tea. The games and fun of the social hour were directed by Misses Amelia and Isabelle Patton.

WILL SERVE COMMUNITY AS NOTARY

Captain Thos. F. Joyce was recently commissioned a notary public for a four year term.

Mrs. J. H. Havener has improved so much that she has left the hospital.

Mrs. W. B. Cross, who was improving after her appendicitis operation, was taken sick Tuesday night and came nearly having Quinsey. The doctor has paid her two visits and the patient is now improving somewhat.

Mrs. Elliott Robertson continues quite sick.

Mr. Paul Fox Alder, while working at Fort Belvoir, fell twelve feet on the frozen ground and hurt his shoulder quite badly. X-ray proved there wasn't any bones broken and I guess Mr. P. F. A. is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. Thomas Harrison celebrated his ninety-second birthday the 9th and Mrs. Milton Tinder also was celebrating her birthday with a big dinner and all the children and grand children here.

Miss Marie Tinder and her friend attended the movies at Herndon last week.

We sure had a fine snow Friday and we are in hopes it turns warmer, and it will soon melt.

Quite a good attendance at Pender Sunday School and a good many out to the 7:30 p. m. service Sunday night.

Mrs. R. L. Adams and her mother, Mrs. P. M. Alder, motored over to see Mrs. Alder's son Friday who got hurt by the fall at Fort Belvoir.
