YOUNG DEMOCRATS WILL MEET AT NOKESVILLE

Mr. John A. K. Donovan, attorney, counsel for the town of Falls Church, will speak to the Young Democrats of Prince William County at the Nokesville School auditorium on Tuesday night, April 8, at 8 o'clock.

His subject will be "What the Young Democrats have done to eliminate subversive activities in National Defense". Last year Mr. Donovan was appointed by the president of the Young Democratic Clubs of Virginia to act as chairman of the newly formed Committee for the Investigation of Un-American activities.

Mr. Donovan is a past chairman of the Eighth District Young Democrats.

It is hoped that a large number of people will be present at Nokesville Tuesday night to hear him speak on such a timely subject. The public is cordially invited.

He was recently honored by Governor Price by an appointment to the Potomac River Basin commission.

TRURO RECTOR DISCUSSES FORWARD IN SERVICE MOVE

The Trinity group of Trinity Episcopal Church met Thursday night at the home of Miss Nancy Marsteller. Rev. Gray Temple of Truro Parish in Fairfax County was guest speaker of the evening and gave a very interesting talk on Bishop Tucker's new movement in the Episcopal Church, "Forward in Service". This movement is a step to endeavor to improve social, political, and economic conditions through closer fellowship with God, spread by the members of the Episcopal Church.

WARNING TO BRUSH BURNERS

Pursuant to ordinance adopted by Board of Supervisors of this county, it is unlawful to burn brush or set fires within three hundred feet of woodland or brush land, or to any field or brush capable of spreading fire to woodland except between the hours of four o'clock in the afternoon and midnight, from March 1st to May 15, of any year.

It is my duty to submit names of those violating the law to the District Forester. I hope there will be none from this county.

JAMES M. RUSSELL,
County Fire Warden.

OWL FIRE DEPARTMENT HOLDS 1st FIREMEN'S BANQUET

On Thursday night last March 27, at 7 p. m., the Owl Fire Department had its 1st firemen's banquet with 39 guests and firemen present. The delicious supper was served by the Yellow Lantern Inn, one mile below Woodbridge, on U. S. Route No. 1.

The President R. S. Hall of the Owl Fire Department presided as toastmaster in his genial and hospitable way. After the chicken a la carte dinner had been disposed of by all of those present, President Hall, welcomed those present with well chosen remarks and gave a brief history of the inception and beginning of the Owl Fire Department, and then introduced the visiting fire representatives, members of the Board of Supervisors, Fire Wardens and also the Rev. R. M. Graham of the Manassas Baptist Church, who pronounced the invocation and also later gave a short, but interesting talk as he is always capable of doing.

Brief talks were made by Hon. E. R. Conner, and the representatives of the visiting fire companies, after which the Hon. Wm. Hill Brown, jr., commonwealth attorney of Prince William County was presented, who after a very instructive and enlightening talk, presented the speaker of the evening, the Hon. Frank Moncure, former member of the House of Delegates from Prince William, and Stafford Counties. Mr. Moncure gave one of the best talks that we have ever heard on patriotism and our American Democracy that we have been privileged to listen to for a long while.

From this beginning, the Owl Fire Department bids fair to become one of the best volunteer fire companies in this part of our county. Under the leadership of its president and the whole-hearted co-operation of the members of the department, we presume of the department, much success for the Owl Department is predicted.

The following guests were present:

Mr. John P. Kerlin, Hon. E. R. Conner, Hon. Wm. Hill Brown, Hon. Frank Moncure, Rev. R. M. Graham, Dr. George B. Cocke, president of the Manassas Volunteer Fire Department; Mr. Arthur Vetter, chief of Manassas Volunteer Fire Department; Mr. Wallace Carper, president of Fairfax Firemen's Association; Mr. Albert Gorham, secretary of Fairfax Firemen's Association; Mr. G. C. Russell, supervisor of Occoquan District; Mr. V. S. Able, supervisor of Dumfries District; Mr. James Russell, Fire Warden for Prince William County; Dr. Benj. F. Phillips, R. S. Hall, president of O. W. L. Volunteer Fire Department; John A. Musselman, chief of O. W. L.; Claude M. Green, C. W. Hixson, Elmer Riley, Leroy Pettellat, R. W. Hall, Henry S. Davis, W. F. Weidner, E. ## WINS COVETED PRIZE

Prince William Motors had a signal distinction awarded this month when its sales manager, Mr. Louis M. W. Carter was awarded a prize of $125 for his department in the Alexandria District for the months of January and February.

Inasmuch as the area mentioned covers a considerable portion of Northern Virginia, it means that the volume of business reported by Mr. Carter had to be outstanding.

RUMMAGE SALE

The Trinity group of Episcopal Church will hold a rummage sale in the Parish Hall on April 12 from 10 a. m. 'till 5 p. m.

POLITICS IN THE DRIVER'S SEAT

CHAPTER WILL AID IN RESTORING DAVIS HOME

Mrs. Margaret Lewis was hostess to the Manassas Chapter U. D. C. on yesterday afternoon at her home on West street. Miss Edgitha H. Osbourn was co-hostess.

The President, Mrs. McDuff Green, presided. The historical program consisted of reading by Mrs. R. L. Byrd from an old Journal dated 1911, describing the first meeting of the local Confederate memorial association and its organization which was formulated in May 25, 1867. Since the article is replete of interest, Mrs. Byrd is asking the Journal to make a reprint.

From the memorial page of the 1940 minute book Mrs. R. A. Hutchinson read a short poem entitled "To the Confederate Soldier".

Mrs. L. J. Carper read minutes of the March meeting. The treasurer, Mrs. G. G. Allen, reported that all annual obligations had been met including taxes paid on ninety one members were absent because of illness; the remembrance committee, Mrs. Margaret Lewis and Miss Nolie Nelson made mention of having sent cards and fruit.

Mrs. Green asked 15 cents per member for the Jefferson Davis shrine at Beauvoir. The home is to be reclaimed and the dedication date has been set for June 3, 1941.

It is the purpose and plan of those in charge to restore the home to the state, Mississippi, in which it was kept by "Mrs. Davis and Miss Winnie".

The Fourth District meeting is scheduled to meet in Leesburg with the Loudoun Chapter on May 10. Mrs. McDuff Green, chairman, will preside. Ten delegates from Manassas are expected to attend.

The chapter voted to present a copy of the Prince William History to Rev. T. D. D. Clark. Mrs. E. H. Nash is chairman of committee.

The hostess served delicious refreshments and a very pleasant social time was enjoyed.

Mrs. W. Fred Dowell and Mrs. E. H. Hibbs are hostesses for May meeting.

DARDEN CAMPAIGN

Ozlin.

The Darden campaign headquarters will be opened in May, it is understood. Meanwhile, announcement has been made that J. Vernon Rice will be manager in the Richmond area, and J. Frank Wysof of Pulaski will occupy the same post for the Darden forces in the Ninth District.

Come out and see the local beauties.

Dr. Phillips as a blonde. Mr. D. J. Martin as a brunette. It would take too much space to name them all. But be sure and come out to see them and have a good laugh.

It will be worth while to see Jack Fick in his yellow satin evening gown.

OUR NEW TOWN MANAGER

(Editorial)

It is with great pleasure that we announce the appointment of Mr. Hunton Tiffany as Town Manager to fill the position made vacant by the regrettable death of Mr. Cocke.

Mr. Tiffany is too well known in the Town and throughout the County to need any introduction as he takes up his important duties as manager of the metropolis of Prince William County.

By professional attainments, personal character, friendships, and acquaintance with our municipal problems, he is eminently qualified for the position and we are indeed fortunate that he has been able to immediately accept the appointment.

We do not believe that any selection could have possibly been made which would have given more general satisfaction and we predict that Mr. Tiffany will continue to serve as our Manager with eminent success as long as he chooses to devote his fine talents as executive officer empowered to carry out the mandates of the Council.

Mr. Tiffany is a native of Fauquier County, a graduate of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and an engineering executive of wide and successful experience.

OLD TIME MINSTREL SHOW TO BE STAGED

Rehearsals have begun for the Melody Minstrels of 1941. This show, sponsored by the American Legion, is to be given in Manassas in April. It is under the direction of Mr. Carl Berryman of the Manassas State Vocational School. Mr. Berryman states that this will be a revival of the old Show Boat Minstrel. The cast is composed of boys of the school and local talent. Names will be announced in a later article.

The music will consist of Negro Spirituals and popular numbers. A feature of the show will be a tabloid version of the well known show Ten Nights in a Bar Room. This is a popular dramatic show, and Mr. Berryman's version of it is sure to be a hit. To bring the show up to the minute, there will be a vaudeville sketch entitled We're In The Army Now. The present writer is not sure whether Rookie Joe will be in this sketch or not. The Legion guarantees that this production will mean an evening of good entertainment, a show well worthy the support of Prince William folks.

Posters announcing the dates and places of showing will be seen about town in a few days. Prepare now to see Melody Minstrels of 1941.

SPECIAL BUS ORDERED FOR HAYMARKET PUPILS

The school board held its regular April meeting yesterday.

The most important piece of business was the election of principals and teachers in service. Principals are as follows:

Occoquan High, Miss Elizabeth Vaughan; Dumfries, (elementary) Miss Evelyn Irons; Woodbine, (elementary) W. Y. Ellicott; Manassas High, R. Worth Peters; assistant, Mrs. Ossie Tipton; Haymarket (elementary) Miss Dorothy Bevard; Nokesville High, C. O. Bittle.

The Board authorized the purchase of two new buses. One of these will be specially constructed for adults. This will serve to bring the pupils from Haymarket High to Manassas.

MADISON ORCHESTRA COMING TO MANASSAS HIGH SCHOOL

Don't fail to reserve Wednesday evening, April 16, for the orchestra program, which will be given in the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. This is an all-girl orchestra representing Madison College. These girls are visiting schools in this section and we feel that Manassas is fortunate in being on their lists. This is an opportunity to learn something of the accomplishments of the students of our state colleges and enjoy an evening of good music.

Remember the date, the time and the place:

April 16, 8 p. m., Manassas High School.

ELECTRIC POWER LINES EXTENDED

55 miles of Additional Lines Energized Last Week.

Last week the energizing of fifty-five miles of line South of Manassas extending into the vicinities of Triangle, Dumfries and Hoadly marked the successful completion of efforts by the Rural Electrification Administration and the Bull Run Power Company to extend its services into new farm territory of the county. Previously last month the Bull Run Power Company had energized approximately seven miles of new line South of Woolsey in Northwestern Prince William County.

A large number of persons have already had their homes and farms wired and are connected for service. Additional consumers are being connected every day and shortly everyone within reach of the lines should be receiving energy.

Electricity on the farm is no longer a luxury, but a necessity and both the Federal Government and the local Company are interested in extending service further to meet fully the needs of this and neighboring counties for adequate electric service.

Because of the thinly settled areas into which Rural Electrification extends it is essential that considerable emphasis be placed upon the use of electricity to make it possible for these lines to pay out as it is only through revenues from the lines constructed that the loans from the Federal Government can be repaid. The use of electricity to the fullest extent by every farmer assures him of the continuance of low rates and should make possible further rate reductions in the future.

It is of further importance to the farmer as an individual to see that he makes use everyday of the money making, time saving devices which will make it possible for him to increase his farm revenues and farm profits. This means one thing-appliances.

The Bull Run Power Company, is working in conjunction with the Electric Home and Farm Authority as a collection agency for appliances purchased on credit from approved E. H. F. A. dealers.

A number of local appliance dealers are approved E. H. F. A. dealers. Under the E. H. F. A. Plan, any person whose credit is satisfactory may purchase on credit appliances including refrigerators, electric ranges, water heaters, motors-stationary and portable types, pumps, washers, ironers, radios, oil burners and stokers, milking machines, milk coolers and feed grinders.

Depending on the appliance purchased down payments of five or ten percent to the dealer are made by the individual consumer and the balance is financed by the E. H. F. A. over a period of from one year to forty-eight months depending on the appliances purchased and the total value of the sale. Interest at a rate of five percent is charged. Payments are made through the local utility, the Bull Run Power Company, every month in equal installments until the appliance is paid for.

Complete details of this plan may be had from any of the approved E. H. F. A. dealers in Manassas or in the neighboring towns.

All consumers of the Bull Run Company are urged to take advantage of this method of purchasing appliances.

These consumers who have not yet had their homes and farms wired are urged to act immediately.

Mr. J. H. B. Lee, local manager of the Bull Run Power Company, states that his company stands ready in every way to assist any of its consumers or prospective consumers to enjoying the full living that comes with having electricity available at the touch of a switch.

THE MARCH S. C. A. MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Bennett S. C. A. was held in the high school auditorium on Tuesday, March 18, 1941. The meeting was called to order by the President Marjorie Sloper. The minutes were read by the Secretary Bonnie Lynn. Reports were then given by the various committees.

Miss Johnson's room gave a one act play called, "The Light", which was very much enjoyed.

The meeting was then adjourned.

trades and specialties. Practically every trade found in civil employment is now being taught in the Navy trade schools and aboard ships of the U. S. Fleet. Young men between the ages of 17 and 31 years are urged to contact the Navy Recruiting representatives.

GEMS OF THOUGHT SERVICE Actions

The actions of men are like the index of a book; they point out what is most remarkable in them.—David Thomas.

I have never heard anything about the resolutions of the apostles, but a great deal about their acts.—Horace Mann.

Deliberate with caution, but act with decision.—with gracefulness, or oppose with firmness.—
Colton.

Thought is the essence of an act,
and the stronger element of action;
even as steam is more powerful than water, simply because it is more etheral.—Mary Baker Eddy.

It is vain to expect any advantage from our profession of the truth if we be not sincerely just and honest in our actions.—James Sharpe.

The chief value of superior knowledge is that it leads to a performing manhood.—Bovee.

CRISTIAN SCIENCE

Unreality will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 6.

The Golden Text will be "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy" (1 Tim. 6:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God beside me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me: That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none beside me. I am the Lord, and there is none else" (Isa. 45:5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "A mortal, corporeal, or finite conception of God cannot embrace the glories of limitless, incorporeal Life and Love.
Hence the unsatisfied human craving for something better, higher, holier, than is afforded by a material belief in a physical God and man. The insufficiency of this belief to supply the true idea proves the falsity of material belief" (p.
258).

GOODBYE, MR. CHIPS

"Good-bye, Mr. Chips" was written by James Hinton and first published in New York by Grosset and Dunlap in 1934.

The story takes place in England where he is a school professor. Mr.
Chips is well liked by all the boys in the school and often invites them to play at Mrs. Wicketts' across the road from the school.

One afternoon while out walking he met a young lady, Katharine Bridges. They were later married, and he took her back to Brookfield with him. She captured the hearts of everyone in Brookfield and took an active interest in school life. She died in 1938.

The story has a few events which takes place in later years. Mr. Chips consols one of his boys who believes that his father was lost on the Titanic.
Before the outbreak of World War
I, Max Staefel, one of Mr. Chips' popular students returned to Germany.
Next time in Chapel the minister reads the list of casualties and many of the boys are former pupils of Mr. Chips.

One day he receives a letter from Germany. Max Staefel had been killed on the Western Front. The Western Front meant that Max was an enemy.

Then came the Armistice. Mr. Chips did not see any more of "his" boys.
One day he receives a small boy at his door who said that someone told him Mr. Chips wanted to see him. It was an old joke, but he invited the boy in, gave him cake, talked to him, and then bade him good-bye.

Mr. Chips lay in bed and thought about the past and all the boys he had taught. The next day in a speech at school Cartwright broke the news that he had said good-bye to Mr.
Chips the night before he died.

This book reads very easily and is interesting to both young and old.
This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

—Billy Curtis.

NEWLY ORGANIZED SUNDAY SCHOOL

The Clifton Presbyterian Church has organized a Community Sunday School just North of Farr P. O. The school meets every Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the Misses Gertrude and Goldie Phillips.

At the present time this school has 20 members and four teachers. This is the only organized religious group in that immediate locality and all the residents of that part of the county are invited to attend and participate in the school's services.

At an election held on Sunday, March 30, Miss Goldie Phillips was chosen superintendent, Virginia Maley, secretary, and Francis Connell, treasurer. With the selection of its own officers, it is felt that the school is well established and ready to carry on a fine Christian work.

WILD TURKEYS BRED IN CAPTIVITY ON STATE FOREST

Wild turkeys for restocking Virginia woodlands are being produced in captivity on the Cumberland State Forest by the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries. The Commission's turkey plant was recently moved from Camp Lee when the U. S.
Army took over that area.

Eighty wild turkey hens are being held in captivity in open-top pens on the Cumberland Forest near Cartersville. These hens will be mated with native wild gobblers, which are plentiful in the Forest this spring.

Egg laying will begin early in April.
Officials of the State Forest Service have been working with the Game Commission in developing the wildlife resources on the State Forests, and the game men have received very fine co-operation from the foresters in setting up the new turkey propagation plant which had to be moved from Camp Lee on short notice.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN BILLS
 Differences of between 27.5 and 125 per cent occur in the highest and lowest electric bills for Virginia communities of 1,000 people or more, according to a report of the Federal Power Commission.
 Twenty-five kilowatt hours in Arlington County cost 98 cents, the report shows; but the same quantity of electricity in Radford costs $2.25.

The power commission pointed out that many factors operate to explain this difference in rates, but stated that these factors were not considered in making its report.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER
If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a precious heritage to them in later years.

THE CAROLINE PANIC

Not without considerable justification have the citizens of Caroline County, Virginia, become "panicky" over the recently announced plans for the War Department to take over a large area of the county without regard for the economic welfare of the region.

It is stated that the Army wants some 110,000 acres of farming land there and that more than 3,000 persons will be vacated from their homes and places of business. Indeed, with the withdrawal of so much taxable values from local revenue, they very continuance of County Government there becomes difficult.

We have a State Planning Board, which seemingly should have been studying this very kind of problem, but apparently the Board has been caught unaware and is offering little comfort to the perplexed citizens of Caroline County who are wondering why one county should be called upon to make such excessive sacrifices in the interest of national defense, while most others will apparently be unaffected.

It is possible that the Army may proceed to condemn and purchase this land regardless of local opposition to the idea, and the low appraisals which generally accompany such acquisitions offer compensation totally inadequate to make it possible for these people to maintain themselves respectably elsewhere.

Here is a problem which is certainly worthy of the finest effort of the Governor, and we sincerely hope that with the facilities at his disposal that he will speedily reach a solution which will be satisfying and quieting to all parties concerned.

Without special reference to the Caroline situation, but calculated to meet just this kind of an emergency. Hon Charles R. Fenwick, delegate to the Virginia Assembly from Arlington, has just proposed in a letter to Senator Byrd a procedure which should have the most careful consideration of those faced with the solution of this perplexing problem.

Mr. Fenwick suggests a lease idea which would permit land secured by the government for national defense purposes to revert to the original owners at the expiration of the government's need, and further urges the acquisition of marginal lands rather than good farming tracts for military use.

Soft Spoken Fashions for Easter

THE DESIGNERS HAVE PLANNED THE BEAUTIFUL SOFT PASTEL COLORS FOR THIS SEASON

"Our Congress recognized this truth when they established the American Red Cross as a medium of cooperation between the American people and their Army and Navy", he said.

Leading its field forces with the growth of the Army and Navy, the Red Cross now has a total of 371 workers stationed in military stations and service hospitals.

Pointing out that anxiety and fear hinder the making of a good soldier, General Marshall declared that the War Department "attested the value of the Red Cross as a link between the soldier and his home when it wrote into Army regulations the services the organization undertakes".

To workers in the 3,700 Red Cross chapters throughout the country General Marshall said:

General Marshall spoke at the opening broadcast of "Frontlines of Mercy", a 13-week series on national defense being sponsored by the Red Cross. The program is heard Sundays at 11:15 a. m., EST, through June 15, over the blue network of the National Broadcasting Company.

URGED TO REGISTER WITH LOCAL STATE EMPLOYMENT

An appeal to workers throughout Virginia to register at once with the nearest State employment office was issued this week by Mr. Frank A. Cavado, director. He said that by April 15, the Virginia State Employment Service hopes to find out exactly how many workers in the State are available for jobs or training in occupations needed by defense industries and other types of business now expanding. "This registration is being conducted on a nation-wide scale," he explained, "as part of the national defense program and is designed not only to get the unemployed back to work as quickly as possible, but also to insure that as soon as workers are needed in defense production they can be reached without delay."

He particularly appealed for the immediate registration of: (1) All workers in Virginia who are unemployed and capable of holding jobs, and; (2) All employed persons in the State who have had experience in the following trades but whose present employment does not utilize the skills of these trades: In aircraft manufacturing — airplane sheet metal workers, airplane woodworkers, aeronautical engineers and inspectors; in shipbuilding — ship carpenters, loftmen, boatbuilders, ship fitters, caulkers, and marine machinists; in machine shops and machinery manufacturing — machinists, tool makers, the makers, lathe operators and tool designers.

The employment service does not encourage or discourage workers who are employed in any of the above industries to register.

Mr. Cavado said that the Virginia State Employment Service, as well as the employment service of every other State has been asked by the Federal Government to push this registration as a means of speeding up production of defense materials and also to insure that other types of business will not suffer for lack of workers. He pointed out that all State employment services are affiliated with the United States Employment Service which has been designated as the official agency to supply workers for defense production. In this connection, he called attention to a letter recently sent to all business organizations with defense contracts by William Knudsen, director of the office of production management, the federal agency in charge of defense production. "The letter," he said, "urged these employers to get their workers through local State employment offices."

"Utilization of local offices of State employment services by workers and employers," Mr. Cavado stated, "is the method which the office of production management had determined upon as the most efficient and orderly means of quickly filling jobs for the unemployed and supplying employers with the workers they need in the present emergency."

"That means," he said "that if a worker is registered with his local State employment office he will have the best chance at the jobs in his line which are opening up daily all over the country, not only in defense production but in other expanding industries. He can also get information about the many types of training courses which have been set up to help equip workers for jobs in defense industries."

WILL PROCEED TO ACQUIRE CAROLINE TERRITORY

The U. S. Army will go ahead with its plans to acquire 110,000 acres of land in Caroline County, for use as an artillery range and divisional maneuver ground, according to a statement released March 29 by Major General Walter S. Grant, commanding the Third Corps area.

General Grant stated that this action was taken only on account of "the pressing demand of suitable national defense," and that it was a "matter of profound regret and concern."

It is understood that $1,650,000 will be appropriated to acquire the tract, and that acquisition will involve moving 3,566 residents to new homes.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT FINAL STUDENT CONCERT

The final student concert of the season of the National Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Hans Kindler, was held Saturday morning March 29, at Constitution Hall in Washington, D. C.

Three hundred and fifty students with their teachers attended the concert from Prince William County. This is a record attendance for this County and probably was the largest attendance according to population that was represented there on Saturday. Mrs. Lewis Carper, who does so much toward interesting the younger people of this community in fine music, was quite proud of this fact.

Mrs. Carper and the school faculty along with the students should be congratulated considering that only fifteen attended the first Symphony Concert from Prince William County.

20 Per Cent Superphosphate Fertilizer Available Through Farm Program

Farmers who have not applied for their full allotment of soil building materials may obtain 20 per cent superphosphate fertilizer through the Agricultural Conservation Program for use on pastures and hayland. Superphosphate fertilizer, just as lime, may be advantageously applied to pastures at any time of the year. While pastures may be improved by the use of either fertilizer or lime, better results may be expected when both are used. Farmers who plan to obtain superphosphate through the farm program are advised to place their orders at once so that it may be included in the next cars now being made up to come to Manassas, Nokesville, and Gainesville. Applications for 438 tons of 20 per cent superphosphate, mainly for use on pastures, have been received at the County Agent's office to date from Prince William farmers.

1941 Agricultural Conservation Program Closes June 30

The 1941 Agricultural Conservation Program closes on June 30, two months earlier than last year. It is hoped that every farmer will try to earn the maximum allowance for his farm. Both ground limestone and fertilizer is available through the program. The ground limestone is delivered directly to the farm by truck and may be used on any land. The superphosphate fertilizer is delivered by railroad and is to be used on pasture and hayland.

Hybrid Corn

Many Prince William farmers are planning to plant hybrid corn this year. Three hybrids have particularly shown up to be adaptable and in most cases have made heavier yields than open pollinated varieties. In addition to planting one of the proven hybrids, it may be well to plant a few rows of each of several new hybrids this year in order to determine which are best adapted to the county.

Orchard Grass seed.

With the foreign supply of orchard grass seed cut off and many regular seed growers turning to other grasses and legumes because of the high cost of seeding the crop, the price of the seed is likely to remain high for the next three or four years. Fertilizing present stands and holding over the crop of another year's cutting, rather than pasturing it or turning it under for corn, may prove to be profitable. Remarkable increase in orchard grass seed yields have been made in the county as a result of applying nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia as a top dressing and the favorable price on these nitrogenous fertilizers will encourage local growers to top dress their crops when growth starts in the spring.

A DISTRESSING ACCIDENT

Last Sunday ended gruesomely for the residents of West Manassas. A Southern train number 36 going North struck a one-seated Ford car on the Industrial School crossing. The three occupants of the car were: Wilbertine Roy Riley, who died before she was taken off train number 12 at Manassas depot, Marguerite Campbell, who died in Alexandria Hospital Tuesday, and her husband, Manuel Campbell, who is now critically injured in the Alexandria Hospital and is not expected to live.

Wilbertine Riley was the daughter of Lewis Roy of Manassas. Manuel Campbell worked here on the Southern railroad for years and recently obtained a job in Washington, D. C. Marguerite Campbell leaves several small children.

The car after it was struck, with all the occupants, was carried about a quarter of a mile from the crossing towards Manassas on the front of the engine.

Neighbors called doctors and ambulances immediately. Dr. Williams arrived at the scene of the accident on number 12 which was then at the depot. A few minutes later Dr. Marsteller and Mrs. Gue arrived and they together with the railroad employees put the injured on the train and they were taken to the depot where Baker and Cross's ambulances were waiting. Manuel Campbell and his wife were rushed to the hospital. Wilbertine Riley was taken to Cross' Funeral Home. Services were held from the First Baptist Church, Wednesday, at 1:30 o'clock, and burial at the Rose Hill Cemetery.

Hon. C. R. Fenwick Proposes Lend-Lease Procedure for Government Land Purchases

March 24, 1941

Hon. Harry Flood Byrd,
U. S. Senate,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator:

I have been very much concerned with the Federal Government acquiring land in the State of Virginia, both in Arlington and Caroline Counties and other portions of the State. I realize that in the present emergency concessions and sacrifices must be made; but I believe that they can be accomplished in an orderly manner and without disrupting the sovereignty of the State and its citizenry. Section 8, Clause 17 of the Constitution reads:

"To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever, over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular states, and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of the government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the legislature of the state in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dock-yards, and other needful buildings."

When the United States acquires title to lands by purchase with the consent of the Legislature of the State, the Federal jurisdiction is exclusive of all State authority. U. S. v. Unzenta 280 U. S. 18. Buildings constructed within the states and under this clause are exempt as instrumentalities for the execution of powers of the general government, and such control of the states as would defeat or impair their use for that purpose. It is necessarily temporary, to be exercised only so long as the places continue to be used for the public purpose for which the property was acquired or reserved from sale. When they cease to be thus used the jurisdiction reverts to the State. Fort Leavenworth Re. Co. v. Lowe, 114 U. S. 525.

Note: In later years, such land has invariably remained the property of the Federal government and been converted into parks and for other uses).

Federal jurisdiction being exclusive, private personal property thereon cannot be taxed by the state. Surplus Trading Co. v. Cooke, 281 U. S. 647; Nikes v. Commonwealth, 144 Virginia 618.

There is no provision in this section of the Constitution against reservations as to how the land should be used or other restrictions in connection with the consent by the Legislature. James v. Dravo Contracting Company, 302 U. S. 134. It is not unusual for the United States to own within a state lands which are set apart and used for public purposes. Such ownership and use without more do not withdraw the lands from the jurisdiction of the state. Surplus Trading Company v. Cooke, 281 U. S. 647.

The phrase "places purchased" limits the national government to one mode of acquiring exclusive legislative authority over land within a state, namely, by purchase with the state's consent; when land is acquired any other way as by cession, any conditions may be annexed to it, not inconsistent with the public use contemplated. So a state may impose a condition that jurisdiction may be retained by the United States only so long as the place is used for the purpose specified; it may continue its laws in force and do so long as they do not conflict with necessary Acts of Congress. It may provide that civil and criminal processes of state courts may be executed therein; but where a cession has been made subject to certain conditions, the United States takes entire political jurisdiction, save as expressed in the conditions. Chicago R. I. and P. R. Co. v. McGlinn, 114 U. S. 545; Palmer v. Barrett 162 U. S. 399.

Consent or ratification by the State is necessary to the acquisition of exclusive jurisdiction, but it is necessary for no other purpose and cannot be required in order to permit the United States to exercise its rights of eminent domain. Chappell v. United States, 116 U. S. 499.

Under this last provision the Federal government can promiscuously acquire lands without the consent of the State Legislature, although it does not acquire exclusive jurisdiction. Such procedure is the most damaging and unless exercised with discretion can demoralize a community and destroy a political subdivision of a State.

Two suggestions are made:

First: That the Federal government, through its proper authority, consider with the state the particular problem, and if such land is acquired, it be on a lease-lend basis so that at the end of the emergency, or when no longer used for the particular purpose, that it will revert back to the state in the case of purchase under the terms of the Constitution, or to the individuals when acquired through eminent domain.

Second: That land be selected as far as possible not in cultivation, or of the sub-marginal type. There are today thousands of acres in Virginia not under cultivation, or if cultivated, so sub-marginal that the tillers cannot earn a living. The removal of families from such land onto fertile, tillable land, would mark a great advance in the State, and at the same time, fill the wants and needs of the government.

It is realized that some sites desired for a particular purpose may not be available in such localities as mentioned, but certainly this matter should be given every consideration before fertile farms are removed from cultivation and the homes of people destroyed when other measures are available.

I would greatly appreciate your giving this matter consideration and discussing it with the proper authorities.

Respectfully yours,
Charles R. Fenwick.

W P A WRITERS COMPLETE BOOK

History of Prince William County is Published.

Prince William, The Story of Its People and Its Places, latest work of the Virginia Writers' Project of the Work Projects Administration, has just been published and will be available to the public on March 25. This 260-page book, attractively bound in blue with gold lettering, is probably the most exhaustive, as well as interesting, work ever devoted to a Virginia county.

The names of more than 2,000 persons who figured in the early history of Prince William, as well as in more modern times appear in this volume, which is the result of more than a year's extensive research in state and county archives, personal interviews, and observations in the field. Visits were made to hundreds of old homes and all highways and by-paths in the county were covered.

Because Prince William when originally organized included several other counties, many old families and their descendants now residing beyond the borders of the present county regard it as the palace of their origin. They still maintain an interest in its history and affairs. An unusually wide-spread interest, therefore, has been evidenced in the publication of the book. Even families who for generations have resided outside of Virginia have made inquiries concerning this work.

Grants of land now lying in Prince William and dating back to 1653 were painstakingly plotted, their owners and descendants traced, and facts as well as traditions concerning the various families and estates in two of the great battles of the unearthed.

The book is sponsored by the Bethlehem Good Housekeeping Club of Prince William County and a special committee, composed of Mrs. R. L. Byrd, Mrs. A. A. Hooff, and Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, all of Manassas, is in charge of its distribution.

Prince William, The Story of Its People and Its Places is divided into three main sections, which in turn are subdivided. A preface by Eudora Ramsay Richardson, State Supervisor of the Virginia Writers' Project of the Work Projects Administration, who wrote the final draft of the book, gives credit for special work to her principal assistants, John S. Widdicombe, Frank A. Browning, H. Ragland Eubank, and Susan R. Morton, as well as to several others.

The first section of the book is titled "Background" and includes such divisions as "From Indians to Englishmen", "Education", and "Roads Old and New". The genesis of Prince William is carefully traced, and a comprehensive history of the county from the first settlements to the present day is given.

Part two of the book is devoted to four main tours of the county, which in turn contain hundreds of side trips. Old homes, churches, schools, stores, graveyards, inns, bridges, fords, and even the sites of former places of interest are visited. Accurate descriptions and locations are given. Places far from the beaten paths of the usual tourist are brought to light, stories of ghosts who reputedly still haunt homes or mills; quaint, and sometimes amusing, inscriptions on tombstones are included. Tragedies and comedies of life, in which residents of Old Prince William played leading roles, are interwoven with more serious facts.

The movements of the various troops, both Confederate and Union, facts as well as traditions concerning the various families and estates in two of the great battles of the War between the States, First and Second Manassas, are accurately described and dated. The part that Prince William played in other wars also is related in detail.

The third section of Prince William, The Story of Its People and Its Places contains a list of every taxpayer in the county 1783 and a roster of officers and men who served in the War between the States, their various organizations, homes and dates of service. The roster was compiled from original muster rolls now in the War Department in Washington. A complete bibliography and a voluminous index complete the third section.

BOYS TELL CLUB MEMBERS OF FFA WORK

An agricultural program of merit was introduced last Friday evening at the Kiwanis Club by Mr. J. Carl Kincheloe who had as his guests on that occasion Prof. Fishapaw and two of his FFA boys, Harold Hurst and Jake Connor.

Both of the lads gave an interesting picture of work among the boys as represented by their own efforts. Following their accounts, Mr. Fishapaw dwelt more fully on the aggregate work of the group under his charge.

In the absence of the song leader, Mr. Lewis J. Carper took over on an invitation from President Frank. His volunteer services were very kindly received.

EASTER SERVICE AT CENTREVILLE

The people of Sudley Circuit have a treat in store for them when the choir from the Methodist Orphanage at Richmond will come and present a program of music on Sunday, May 11th. This will be "Mother's Day" and the young people will sing at Sudley at the morning service; at Fairview Church in afternoon and at Gainesville at the evening service. The homes of the charge will be open for the entertainment of these boys and girls and we hope that the public will attend the services and enjoy their program.

The boys and girls of Haymarket High School recently showed a fine spirit of citizenship when they arranged a basketball game to raise funds for the infantile paralysis victims. Their opponents were the boys and girls of Aldie High School. The boys won by a score of 31-27, while the girls lost by two points 23-25.
