STRIKE DELAY HITS RADFORD

Judge Smith Reveals Affect of Sabotage at Radford.

Continuing the discussion in this column last week in which Hon. Howard W. Smith on the floor of Congress condemned the manner in which the national defense program was being sabotaged by strikes in vital industries, the Congressional Record of March 26 is quoted as follows:

Mr. Smith of Virginia: "... In my State the Radford powder plant was built and completed in less time than the contract required. Only one quarter of this plant can go into operation. Why? Because the machinery for the other three-quarters is tied up in the Allis-Chalmers plant, and this strike, as the gentleman from Alabama has just demonstrated very clearly to you, was called and fostered and brought about by communistic influences. Do we not realize that when we put these boys in the Army at $30 a month we have got to give them some powder to shoot with? Do we not realize that when we are training these boys at the risk of their lives every day to fly planes, that we must give them some planes to fly?

Then there is the Harvell strike, which was shown by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. Dies) yesterday conclusively to be engineered by the Communists. This strike is typing up the vital production of parts for airplanes, and you are advised authoritatively that unless the strike is immediately settled, the whole airplane production program is going to be slowed up because they cannot get that particular part. I have several instances of similar character, and if I had a few minutes more I could tell you about them. I wish I had time". (Here the gavel fell).

Judge Smith concluded his forceful appeal for legislation to end strikes in defense industries as follows:

"On yesterday strikes that have been delaying our defense preparations flared into violence amounting to civil insurrection. The recently appointed Mediation Board confessed its lack of authority or power to act in the premises. The Congress has so far failed to exercise its constitutional function to legislate in behalf of a nation facing the most critical period in its history.

Again I urge the Congress to enact legislation before it is too late that would put a stop to the racketeering, the strikes and the threatened strikes that many cause us to face the crisis ill armed, ill trained, ill equipped and ill prepared".

SECOND DISTRICT NAMES HARRIS AS DARDEN'S SUCCESSOR

Winder R. Harris, managing editor of the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot, has scored a decisive victory at the polls in his campaign to succeed Colgate W. Darden as U. S. Representative from the Second District. Mr. Harris, running against three other contestants, including Norman R. Hamilton, publisher of the Portsmouth Star, led his nearest competitor by more than 1 1/2 to 1, early tabulations showed.

Virginia's new Congressman served in the press gallery of Congress from 1918 to 1925. He has twice been president of the Norfolk Community Fund, and in 1935 was awarded the Cosmopolitan Club medal as "Norfolk's First Citizen".

SOAP BOX DERBY IS ON AGAIN

Z. T. Almond, a legionnaire from Washington, made a fine address before the Kiwanis Club last Friday evening, at which time he gave a very graphic description of the last derby in Akron where Bo Lamar and his "Manassas scat-cat" were so much in evidence.

Reviewing the history of the movement which originated in the middle West about 1934, Mr. Almond stated that the promoters are the various metropolitan dailies, the Chevrolet Motor Company and the American Legion. Some very fine prizes are awarded. The twelve year old winner is 1940 will get a four year college course at any school he picks.

A group of the local youngsters were present as interested listeners. Hunton Tiffany was sponsor for the program of the evening.

DRAFT QUOTA IS 2,078

The eleventh selective service quota for Virginia has been set at 2,078 men, who will be inducted during the first 10 days in May. This will leave 2,051 to be called to the colors before June 30, at which time the State quota, 9,747, will be completed for the current year.

It is expected that these remaining to be called before June 30 will include 1,474 Negroes and 577 white selectees. So far 6,626 whites and 1,070 Negroes have been drafted.

ARMY WILL TAKE 70,000 ACRES

Whittling down the originally proposed tract of 110,000 acres in Caroline, the War Department has announced that it will now require 70,000 acres for a divisional maneuver ground. If additional territory is needed later, adequate notice will be given, military spokesmen said.

The northern part of the area, above a line running between Bowling Green and Port Royal, will be acquired before June 1, and the rest of the territory will be possessed by September 1, according to present plans. A list of some 600 separate tracts that will be purchased from an appropriation of $1,650,000 has been prepared, and Federal and State agents are mapping assistance in finding new locations for the 4,700 persons will have to move when their residences and farms are absorbed in the training area.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY IN FATAL STABBING

Mrs. Helen Schuyler, 21, of Quantico, was held for action of the grand jury Wednesday on charge of murder of Private Aubrey N. Heyl last Saturday night.

Trial Justice Lacey Compton presided at the hearing which was conducted by Commonwealth's Attorney Wm. Hill Brown, Jr.

The testimony indicated that the fatal stabbing resulted from an altercation in a rooming house outside of the military reservation.

The jail record shows that Mrs. Schuyler had previously been confined in the Manassas jail on May 8, 1940, being released at that time in custody of her parents in Richmond upon condition that she would leave the county.

Mrs. Mary E. Sherry, in whose home the fatal stabbing occurred and who reported the circumstance to the police was held under $500 bond as a material witness.

Mrs. Shuyler, unable to post the necessary $10,000 bond was returned to custody of the sheriff to await action of the grand jury.

Private Aubrey Heyl was a native Warrenton boy, well known and highly esteemed. He had made a fine record in the Warrenton High School, where he played basketball and football. He is survived by a widowed mother Mrs. Mecie Heyl of Warrenton.

On Thursday the grand jury brought in a true bill. The defendant was immediately arraigned before Judge Walter T. McCarthy, who set April 22 for the trial.

WAR GAMES IN PRINCE WILLIAM

Fifth Engineers Practice on Historic Battlefields.

Manassas is accustomed to military activity. Two of the most important engagements of the War between the States were fought over our ground. Then there were thousands of armed men among us during the great Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration in 1911 when Franklin D. Roosevelt, then the inconspicuous Assistant Secretary of the Navy, presented Manassas with the big naval anchors which adorn the monument on the Court-house plaza.

Then came the Seventy-fifth Anniversary in 1936 with its spectacular re-enactments. And two years ago we witnessed the First Army Maneuvers, which were so impressive. Now again there has come into our history area somewhat smaller, but no less valued military activity as the First Battalion, Fifth Engineers this week are practicing on the fields that made Stonewall Jackson immortal.

The present unit is commanded by Lieut. Col. R. M. McCutcheon and includes field kitchens and full equipment. And one of their stunts is "blackout driving". Over the roads they go at night with all lights extinguished until some civilian car makes them open up.

Another battalion, The Second, is at the same time carrying on maneuvers in the Occoquan area, where they are employing the new 200 pound assault boats and moving heavy equipment across the lower Bull Run waters which are known as The Occoquan.

At Fort Belvoir this week about 6000 selectees took part in their first regimental parade and review, led by the Fifth Engineers Band and reviewed by Lieut. Col. George W. Gillette, commanding officer.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTOR ADDRESSES CHURCH GROUP

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met with Mrs. R. S. Hynson on Thursday, April 10, at 7:30 with 27 members present.

Mrs. Fisher who had charge of the devotion rendered a very impressive service based on the theme of Easter. She was assisted by Mrs. Eutsler who sang a solo, Mrs. Lund, who read the scripture lesson and Mrs. Burchard who sang.

Miss Hazel Saunders made a most interesting talk on "Investing Our Heritage of Education". She threw out a challenge to all of us to help the child to become a well rounded Christ-like personality.

An interesting business meeting followed this talk. All the reporting committees making favorable reports.

The annual meeting of the District Woman's Society of Christian Service meets in Danville April 27. Mrs. Luttrell being the leader of this zone will be our representative.

It was decided that we would meet until further notice at 8 o'clock instead of seven.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. R. A. Muddiman on May 8, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Hynson, assisted by her hostesses, Mrs. Carter and Mrs. William Johnson, served delicious refreshments.

FIND LARGE TURTLE

On Easter Sunday, Messrs. Dolly and Odie Cornwell were taking a stroll when they observed what first appears to be a large rock in the stream running through Libeau's old place.

When the rock moved, Mr. Odie Cornwell went after it, and pulled up a turtle weighing at least forty pounds. Its neck was about fourteen inches around. Its toes were so worn that it appeared to be at least fifty years old.

Nothing like this has ever been known of in these parts before.

REHABILITATING MAN POWER

Although all of the States, the District of Columbia, Hawaii and Puerto Rico have now accepted the National Rehabilitation Act of 1920, there are many people not familiar with the fact that their State is engaged in salvaging the economic and human waste resulting from physical disabilities. What the Government is doing in this vital and interesting work is told in an illustrated feature article appearing next Sunday in The Washington Sunday Star.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 20.

The Golden Text will be "All things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation" (II Cor. 5:18).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more" (Jer. 31:34).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The nature of Christianity is peaceful and blessed, but in order to enter into the kingdom, the anchor of hope must be cast beyond the veil of matter into the Shekinah into which Jesus has passed before us; and this advance beyond matter must come through the joys and triumphs of the righteous as well as through their sorrows and afflictions. Like our Master, we must depart from material sense into the spiritual sense of being" (p. 40).

ATTENTION FISHERMEN

The attention of all Virginia fishermen is respectfully invited to the importance of extreme care in smoking, building camp fires and warming fires along the streams of Virginia during the trout season beginning April 20th and thence through until the end of the fire season. Practically all of our trout and game fish streams traverse timber or wooded areas and conditions making it possible for fish to survive in these streams depend entirely upon the perpetuation of the forest cover adjacent to these streams. The cooperation of all fishermen is solicited to the end that they may do what they can to suppress any fires that occur and the existence of which comes to their attention, and to promptly report such fires as they can not handle to the nearest warden or fire suppression organization.

NORTH AFRICAN CONFLICT RECALLS TRIPOLITAN WAR

The recent conflict between British and Italian troops in North Africa has thrust the little town of Derne into the limelight. Normally, the fortified Libyan stronghold is rarely mentioned in the news.

Yet the same Derne, or Derne, as it is sometimes called, was a focal point in the struggle between Americans and Tripolitans at the beginning of the last century. The capture of that city in April, 1805, was a noteworthy triumph for the American Navy.

America balked at paying tribute to the Barbary pirates as the price of our freedom on the seas. William Eaton, naval agent to the Barbary States, planned to depose the governor of Derne and to place in power a ruler more friendly to the United States. His military leader was Presley N. O'Bannon, of the Marine Corps.

With the handful of American forces at their disposal they knew that this could not be accomplished. At Alexandria, Egypt, they organized an expedition composed of Greeks, Turks, Arabians and the polyglot dwellers of northern Africa, headed by a few Marines, and they set out for the Tripolitan stronghold.

On their march of nearly 600 miles across the desert the Americans met with revolt, dissension and open mutiny among their followers, while the lack of food and water added to their woes. Only the firm attitude of Eaton, supported by O'Bannon and his Marines, brought the expedition to a successful climax.

At Derne, the overland party was reinforced by the crews of three American gunboats. The surrender of the town was demanded. It was refused. The Americans and their allies swept forward, captured the fortress and turned its guns upon the enemy, while Lieutenant O'Bannon of the Marine Corps, and Midshipman Mann, of the Navy, tore down the Tripolitan standard and flung Old Glory to the breeze.

This was the first time the Stars and Stripes had ever flown over a fortress of the Old World.

NEW PHONE EXPENDITURES

Expenditures amounting to $1,652,170 for the construction of telephone plant and installation of equipment in the state of Virginia were authorized by the directors of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia at their regular meeting this week, according to a statement by Robert C. McCann, vice president and

The major portion of the amount approved, $898,400.00, will be spent for the day-to-day work of installing, disconnecting, and moving telephone facilities on subscribers' premises during the second quarter of 1941.

Over $317,000 will be spent to provide additional equipment in the dial offices in Norfolk and the central office in Falls Church. The Norfolk project requires an expenditure of $274,000 to provide for the unusual growth in the number of telephones expected as a result of national defense activities.

Approximately $25,000 will be spent to install a toll cable between Pearisburg and Narrows. The expenditure of $19,000 will be required to provide facilities for the connection of Norton, Martinsville and Wytheville to the State Police Teletype System. These installations will bring to 30 the total of localities served by this system.

Another Mighty Power...

FARMERS' PURCHASES

Each year you buy a tire or two, a few gallons of oil, a little paint, perhaps some fence. These purchases of yours, together with those of other farmers, run into millions of gallons of oil and paint, hundreds of carloads of steel wire, fence and roofing, thousands of dollars worth of poultry and barn equipment—a total purchasing power as great as any industry.

The power is there—but you could not use it until it was correlated; you had to choose a workable method, form an organization, select men to run it, and build up enough capital.

Now, through the Southern States Cooperative, which you have built, you have buyers working for you on a tremendous volume of purchasing. They buy on specifications acquired

ON THE ALERT

The Junior senator from Virginia, Hon. Harry F. Byrd, is striking some resolute blows in behalf of our defense program. Some of them seem to be getting through the thick skins of persons in high seats who should be exercising their authority to better effect.

Referring to the Congressional Record of March 27, we see that Mr. Byrd gives a dynamic resume of the situation, with especial emphasis on the unreasonable delays in the matter of unusual and apparently totally unnecessary stoppages of production.

The Senator demands in no uncertain language to know why when these strikes do come onto the horizon the remedial course which is open is not followed. He indicts the Secretary of Labor in one case for deliberate dilly-dallying. This step produced some action by the Government on at least this one case. It may bring about more prompt procedure on other matters at such a vital time.

Senator Byrd is showing his patriotism at a time when stout hearted action is necessary. His State and in fact all those interested in the preservation of human liberty will appreciate his attitude.

SAFeway POLICIES

Seldom has it been the pleasure of this paper to see in finite terms a symbol of business ethics and procedure as has been set forth in a small, attractively printed booklet recently issued by the Safeway Grocery Company, formerly and more generally known as the Sanitary Grocery Company.

To comment suitably on this admirable precedent is not easy. One must review the history of the Company from a rather small beginning to a more expansive set-up and find some of the things behind this. Com-

$32,000,000 BUDGET PLANNED

The Governor's Advisory Budget Committee is studying a program which provides for the spending of $32,000,000 by the State of Virginia over the next six years. Included in the figure are building needs and other capital improvement outlays which have been filed with the committee by State institutions. It is contemplated that the six-year period over which expenditures would be made will begin on July 1, 1942. The committee, which is composed of Senators John S. Battle of Charlottesville and Aubrey G. Weaver of Front Royal, and Delegates Frank Moore of Lexington, Thomas B. Stanley of Henry County, W. N. Neff of Abingdon and L. Gordon White of Albemarle, has also heard a proposal from representatives of 24 State-wide organizations of business men that Virginia promote its "revenue-producing business" by increasing the appropriation for tourist advertisement and promotion, and allocate funds to attract industrial growth. Outlay of $50,000 has been asked for industrial promotion, and $108,000 for the tourist trade.

I Like This Book

One of a series of book reviews by students of Osborn High School, Manassas. Session 1940-41. In competition for the W. C. Wagener Memorial Prize.

SAD CYPRESS

Agatha Christie

"Sad Cypress", by Agatha Christie, a Hercule Poirot Mystery, is one of the annual Red Badge Detective prize winners. It was published by Dodd, Mead and Company, New York in 1940.

This story has its setting in England, at the mansion, Hunterbury, owned by Aunt Laura Welman, who was in very poor health. After her death, which she expected to occur soon, her money was to be bequeathed to her nearest kin, Elinor Carlisle. Mary Gerrard, known to the public as Aunt Laura's young friend, but who was really her daughter, stayed with Aunt Laura during her illness.

One day Elinor Carlisle received a letter from a well-wisher, warning her that Mary was becoming very fond of Aunt Laura and that she might inherit the money. This letter confused Elinor a little, but she discarded it and tried to forget it. Elinor and Roddy, the man she was to marry, went to see Aunt Laura; they found Mary there also.

While there, Elinor had two tremendous shocks. Roddy fell in love with Mary Gerrard. This almost killed Elinor. Then, something even worse and very mysterious happened. Despite the fact that the doctor had said that Aunt Laura was as well as usual, during the night, she died. Later on, Mary Gerrard died of morphine.

As a result of this mysterious confusion, Elinor underwent much agony and heartache before her innocence was proved.

"Sad Cypress" is a very true-to-life story. The mysterious situations and love scenes make it an entertaining book.

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

PARACHUTERS FURNISH THRILLING SPECTACLE

"Like popcorn spilling from a bag" was the way one Army officer recently described the sight of members of the 501st Parachute Battalion at Fort Benning, Ga., dropping one after another from a low-flying transport plane to carry out their missions on the ground.

His simile was apt enough, Leland W. Skaggs, Lt. Col. Inf., Recruiting Officer, U. S. Army Recruiting Station Parcel Post Building, Richmond, said this week in discussing the "daring young men" of the battalion. But behind the ease and expertness with which the young parachutists perform their thrilling duties, he added, are months of training, study and special preparation.

Leland W. Skaggs, Lt. Col. Inf., Recruiting Officer, pointed out that the 501st has been undergoing intensive training for many months, its 34 officers and 412 enlisted men working forty-four hours a week to develop their technique, for parachute jumping has been one of the world's least known arts.

Long hours were spent in learning the new and unfamiliar nomenclature of the parachute as the student jumpers assembled and disassembled their packs time and again until they were thoroughly familiar with them. Finally they were able to pack their chutes so they could trust their lives to them with confidence.

Meanwhile, more long hours were devoted to arduous physical exercises, designed to increase their agility, sharpen their reflexes and put them into excellent physical condition. They went through a seemingly endless course of scientific calisthenics, tumbling, parachute packing, suspended-harness exercises and lectures that continued for many weeks before they were deemed ready for their first jump from an airplane in flight.

The never-to-be-forgotten first jump, made at a comparatively high altitude by the novices, showed that all this preparation was important. They quickly found that a parachute can be guided by an expert so that it is not easy prey to any idle breeze that seeks to take it off its course. They learned that it can be guided to the right and to the left, that it rate of fall can be quickened and lessened by an expert.

It was only then that the 501st was able to tumble out of planes "like popcorn spilling from a bag" at only 750 feet of altitude, landing on the ground swiftly but carefully and taking up their weapons in practice assaults from the air.
