COMMISSION HEARS FOREST EXPERTS

Local Editor Among Those Invited to Testify.

After an unexplained delay of more than half of the time available under the law for the study, the Governor of Virginia finally completed his appointments and the Commission on Forests and Forest Lands held its organization meeting on April 17 at the State Capitol and on May 2 held a public hearing in the State Senate Chamber, to which leading forestry experts of the State and nation were invited.

The Commission is composed of Robert O. Norris, jr., chairman of Live-ly; Robert K. Brock, Farmville; Leon M. Bazile, Hanover; A. E. S. Stephens, Smithfield; G. F. Holsinger, Harrisonburg; and N. Clarence Smith, chairman of the Conservation Commission. In the absence of the chairman the hearing presided over by Leon M. Bazile, who is delegate to the General Assembly from Hanover and a former Assistant Attorney General of the State.

First expert called was Earl H. Clapp, acting chief of the United States Forest Service, who advocated forcible federal control of privately owned forest land after States should have a fair opportunity to apply regulatory measures set up by the federal government. He was followed by R. Clifford Hall, forest tax expert, who stated that the low land tax in Virginia offered a poor leverage with which to induce our land owners to practice scientific forestry, and he exhibited a recently completed report of forest land taxation, based upon a study of Culpeper county.

The Commission then called William Harrison Lamb, newspaper publisher and author of a book on Virginia trees. Mr. Lamb noted the regrettable fact that the Governor had permitted more than half of the available time for the study to pass before making the appointment necessary to put the Commission into action. He offered a scientific classification of the timberlands of the State as a basis of management which recognizes the forces of natural law and urged a sweeping investigation of the State Forest Service by the next General Assembly.

State Forester F. C. Pederson urged public regulation "as the most effective means of preventing needless exploitation of large areas of timberland in the State". He urged enlargement of the State Forest into 13 administrative districts, with employment of an assistant forester and at least ten trained assistants. He revealed that there were 21 counties in Virginia without organized forest fire protection.

W. L. Gooch, forester of the Chesapeake Corporation of West Point presented a valuable report on the needs of better regulation of pine cutting in the tidewater region, based upon his accomplishments on the lands of his Company, where his forestry work is recognized by authorities as outstanding.

The Commission will conduct another hearing at an early date in southwest Virginia where forest fire control will be especially considered.

THIRD ANNUAL ART EXHIBIT

The county school art exhibit held at the Haymarket elementary school last Thursday and Friday was the third annual exhibit. The one single word which can best describe the showing was "improvement".

The ability with which the schools all over the county had grasped the individual and group problems of perspective, coloring, style, accuracy of detail, and other items entering into a successful piece of art work may be said to be truly remarkable.

It is teaching the children independence of action and a sense of responsibility which they may acquire in no other way. Mrs. Eileen Kilby, who was the first one to develop the subject locally, was present to admire the progress which had been made.

Miss Sue Ayres, rural supervisor, and the many principals and teachers about the county who work under her guidance, are to be congratulated.

One of the best things about the exhibit was that no one school excelled the others. There was uniformly good work from all of them.

CHRISTIAN SERVICE MEETING

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet with Mrs. Warren Coleman on Thursday evening, May 15, at 8 o'clock.

Flag Raising at the Prince William County Court House

Acting on a recent decision of the Board of Supervisors, a handsome cedar pole was recently erected on the courthouse green under supervision of Mr. Robert Vetter. Atop the pole is a bronze eagle and weather vane. On Monday of last week, the flag raising ceremony was held, with Commonwealth's Attorney W. Hill Brown, jr., presiding. Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, of Dettingen Parish, gave the invocation and the flag was raised by two students of Osborn High School, Charles Breeden and Joseph Johnson. At the same time, the Osborn High School glee club, under leadership of Miss Miriam Blough, sang the "Star Spangled Banner".

Professor H. J. Saunders then led the assembly in giving the salute to the flag.

Professor A. E. Jakeman, director of the school under the sponsorship of the Prince William Post, American Legion.

Professor Jakeman has done everything that has been possible to show the pleasant feelings of the school folks toward the community but there has been no general public demonstration of such proportions heretofore. After his introduction last night by Judge Johnson, a member of the local post, he made a very human talk, and certainly the peroration given amid the patriotic finale of the performance was truly stirring.

The play has two more showings and the anticipation held by the folks in the other communities must not be met until they have seen the youngsters in action themselves. Sufficient to say that we have in our midst such performers as the Twigg Family (Mr. Carl Berryman and daughter, Miss Evelyn Berryman) who are good for any show, Rabbit Foot Taylor, who learned a good jig somewhere down in Virginia, Skinny Hughes, and many others.

Our town girls put a lovely touch of color and grace into the action and we could mention that animal chorus but why tell it all in advance to those who have not seen the performance? There was simply one encore after another which fully indicates the quality of all of the offerings.

DELIGHTFUL TREAT

The annual spring operetta of the Bennett school was presented on Friday evening in the high school auditorium, with a capacity house in attendance.

While these plays are always enjoyable, the drill work, singing, scenery, and above all the splendid acting and singing of the young principals made up probably the best rendition ever put on at the school. The patient and thorough efforts of the faculty of Bennett bore its fruit in the repeated bursts of applause at the acting of rather difficult roles over a period almost two hours.

SPEAKS ON MUSIC WEEK

The present week being national music week, one of the sponsors of the Manassas Kiwanis Club, Mrs. Kitty Baker, was called on last week to give some general facts on music. This Mrs. Baker did with her usual sweetness of address and thoroughness of command over her subject.

Treating music as an international art, she told of the origin of much of our best music, both present and past. The club gave her a hearty round of applause at the conclusion of her remarks.

Rev. Bell, of Alexandria, who has been holding services here this week, spoke briefly on the seriousness of conditions in the world today.

The club elected Col. Hutchison as delegate and Professor R. C. Haydon as alternate to the Atlanta convention in June.

Everyone was overjoyed to see E. R. Conner present after his recent accident.

The lieutenant governor of the Capitol District will be present tomorrow night.

GARDEN SECTION ELECTS OFFICERS

The Garden Section of the Woman's Club of Manassas, met at the home of Mrs. William Lloyd, on Monday evening.

Plans for the sections participation in the flower show to be held by the Manassas Garden's Club on May 20th, were discussed, as outlined by Mrs. Paul Cooksey, who is acting as co-chairman for the garden section, and members urged to give as much publicity as possible to this event.

The following were elected officers to serve from May 1941, to May 1942, Mrs. Margaret Lewis, chairman; Mrs. E. D. Wissler, vice chairman; Mrs. R. C. Haydon, secretary; Mrs. Eula Holt Merchant, treasurer.

Mrs. Lewis appointed the following committee membership, Mrs. G. R. Ratcliffe, Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Mrs. C. Wade-Dalton; Publicity, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, Mrs. T. J. Broadus.

Arrangements for the tour which will be held in place of the June meeting, were to be made, by Mrs. Marie Larkin and Mrs. R. C. Haydon.

Announcement was made today by Secretary Stanley A. Owens, of the Prince William Chamber of Commerce that Hon. Charles A. Plumley, member of Congress from Vermont, would be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Chamber.

The affair will be held at the high school gymnasium on Tuesday, May 20, at 7 p. m. Tickets may be secured from any member of the Chamber or from the Secretary.

A good attendance of the business men of the county is desired. Mr. Plumley is a talented speaker and will have something along the line of economics that will be worth listening to.

LEGION SHOW HAS SPLENDID TROUPE

Enthusiastic Audience Shows Its Appreciation.

No one other single thing has been done since the Manassas Vocational School was established last July to bring the school into the community more than the minstrel being put on by the school under the sponsorship of the Prince William Post, American Legion.

Professor Jakeman has done everything that has been possible to show the pleasant feelings of the school folks toward the community but there has been no general public demonstration of such proportions heretofore. After his introduction last night by Judge Johnson, a member of the local post, he made a very human talk, and certainly the peroration given amid the patriotic finale of the performance was truly stirring.

The play has two more showings and the anticipation held by the folks in the other communities must not be met until they have seen the youngsters in action themselves. Sufficient to say that we have in our midst such performers as the Twigg Family (Mr. Carl Berryman and daughter, Miss Evelyn Berryman) who are good for any show, Rabbit Foot Taylor, who learned a good jig somewhere down in Virginia, Skinny Hughes, and many others.

Our town girls put a lovely touch of color and grace into the action and we could mention that animal chorus but why tell it all in advance to those who have not seen the performance? There was simply one encore after another which fully indicates the quality of all of the offerings.

PREPARES FOR GIGANTIC TASK

Local Red Cross to Prepare Its Quota of Six Million Garments.

Volunteers working in the 3,700 chapters of the American Red Cross have been asked to make approximately 6,000,000 garments for war relief during the next seven months, it was announced today by Chairman Norman H. Davis. It is estimated that this immense quota of sewed and knitted garments will be needed for the homeless and suffering men, women and children of war-torn countries of Europe during the coming fall and winter.

"We of the American Red Cross are proud of our war relief production workers, and of the contribution they have made to the cause of humanity", Chairman Davis said in a letter addressed to all chapter chairmen, in which he spoke of the gratitude of the hundreds of thousands of men, women and children—the war refugees—to whom more than 3,000,000 chapter-produced garments have already been sent. "Each of you", he continued, "would feel amply repaid for your efforts if you realized even in a small measure what your help has meant to these unfortunate people. No words can fully express their appreciation and thanks".

Included in the list of sewed garments are cotton and woolen dresses for women and girls, layettes, toddlers' sets, boys' clothing, and articles for hospital use, making a total of 3,822,000 garments in all. The quota has been divided so that the populous Eastern area will contribute 2,263,000, the Mid-west 1,298,000 and the Pacific, 262,000.

Knitted garments asked for are sweaters for men, women and children, mittens, and children's suits to the number of 2,080,000, of which volunteers in the Eastern area are expected to make 1,230,000, in the Mid-west, 700,000 and in the Pacific, 150,000.

The Prince William County Chapter has just been assigned and has accepted a large quota of garments to be made and knitted for this quota, the Chairman of Production Mrs. R. Worth Peters is in need of additional workers to help complete those garments on time.

The quota accepted in January for shipment by May 15, is rapidly being completed and assembled. The chapter hereby wishes to make grateful acknowledgement to the groups, at Haymarket, Woodbridge, Occoquan, Nokesville and Manassas, for their splendid help and co-operation in getting this work completed. More workers are needed however for materials and instruction apply to Mrs. R. Worth Peters, chairman of production, Manassas.

Make this your contribution to the National Defense Program. Enroll as a Production Volunteer in your local Red Cross Chapter. Do it now.

V. P. F. PERFECTS ORGANIZATION

Organization of the Virginia Protective Force is practically completed, with 2,900 enlisted men and 200 officers enrolled to take over the duties of the National Guard while the latter is in Federal service, Brigadier General E. E. Goodwyn of Emporia, commanding officer of the Force, has announced. Only a headquarters company remains to be formed to fill in the structure of the State-wide home defense organization.

The Virginia Protective Force is equipped with 1917 model Enfield rifles, made available by the War Department. Uniforms of slate gray are being delivered to units throughout the State.

DRAFT QUOTA FOR VIRGINIA IS RAISED

Virginia's net selective service quota has been increased by almost 50 per cent, and instead of sending 9,747 men for military training, this State may be called upon to supply a total of 14,164 before June 30.

The increase in the number of trainees came about as a result of an adjustment in the credits allowed the State for men already serving under the colors. No change has been made in the original gross quota of 38,883 selectees who will constitute Virginia's share of the 800,000 national total to be called under the Selective Service Act, State headquarters announced.

COUNTY AGENTS COLUMN

Wheat Marketing Quota Referendum to Be Held on May 31 Applicable to Farmers Producing 200 Bushels or More Prince William

A national referendum of wheat growers will be held on May 31 to determine if growers wish for wheat marketing quotas to become effective on this year's crop. If two-thirds of the farmers voting favor the quota, marketing quotas will be adopted which will apply to farms producing 200 bushels or more of wheat. Under the terms of the referendum, marketing includes feeding as well as actual selling of wheat.

Government estimates indicate that the supply of wheat in the United States in July will amount to 1,200,000,000 bushels which will leave the tremendous surplus of more than 500,000,000 bushels, after allowing liberally for all domestic needs and possible exports. Loss of foreign markets and favorable wheat crops during recent years have brought about this surplus. There is no hope that we can sell our surplus to Britain as Canada, Australia and Argentina also have large surpluses.

Farmers are faced with two alternatives. By accepting wheat marketing quotas a total of approximately 95 cents per bushel may be expected and is practically guaranteed through the wheat loan plan and AAA program payments to farmers who keep within their marketing quota allotment. Because of the provision of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 which prohibits the making of wheat loans when quotas are rejected in National referendums, a wheat price of 35 cents to 45 cents per bushel is very likely to result if wheat marketing quotas are not accepted by two-thirds vote on May 31.

Commercial wheat farmers who have complied with the wheat acreage allotments under the Agricultural Conservation Program will be permitted to market or feed all of the wheat produced on their farms this year if quotas are voted. Non-allotment non-commercial wheat farmers normally producing 20 bushels of wheat or more may in some cases be affected even though they have held down plantings for 1941 harvest to their usual acreage determined under the Agricultural Conservation Program. Because of the reported favorable sentiment for marketing quotas in the intensive states and the possibility of the quotas being voted, it will be to the advantage of farmers of the county who are classed as non-commercial but who produce more than 200 bushels of wheat to obtain all information available on marketing quota provisions from the county agent's office at once.

SPRING CAME ON FOREVER

By Bess Streeter Aldrich

"Spring Came On Forever", the title of Bess Streeter Aldrich's novel, is a line taken from Vachel Lindsay's "The Chinese Nightingale".

It was published by the D. Appleton Century Company, Incorporated, in New York and in London in 1935.

This, like most of Mrs. Aldrich's stories, is of the type known as "wholesome" and through it all runs a vein of optimism.

Bess Streeter Aldrich, American novelist and short story writer, was the daughter of pioneer parents. From her parents she heard many of the experiences which she used later in her writings.

This is a true-to-life story of two mid-western families and the strange way in which their paths crossed. It begins in Illinois in the year 1866 and ends in Nebraska around 1930, separated from all that went before and all that is to come. As of all family histories, it is a thing of incompleteness.

Amalia Stoltz, partly German, and Matthias Meir met in the spring of 1866. Amalia promised Matthias that she would marry him, but her father, who had already promised her to Herman Holmdorfer, a German neighbor and friend, became very angry and, without letting her see Matthias again, forced her to go in a covered wagon with him and a group of settlers to Nebraska.

She left a note for Matthias explaining the situation and, when he received it two weeks later, he also set out for Nebraska.

On the way Amalia was forced to marry the man she did not love.

A terrible snow storm caused both her husband's and her father's death. On his death bed her father made Fritz, her brother, promise that he would not marry and would care for Amalia unless she were married again.

Fritz promised and, as he was in love with a neighbor girl, he secretly wrote a letter to Matthias whom he had discovered was living in Lincoln, the capital of the state, telling him that Amalia was free. The letter arrived just as Matthias, who had been unable to find Amalia, had promised to marry another girl.

The story continues until the generation of Amalia's great grandson and Matthias' granddaughter. Throughout her life Amalia repeated the words "Spring came on forever" just as she had done in the days when she had first met Matthias. I think this would be an interesting, worth-while book for any individual to read.

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

To the Editors of the Manassas Journal,
Dear Sirs:

The announcement in last week's issue to the effect that a grocer, long in business in Manassas, was about to retire, gave many people a feeling of regret that this must be so. I refer to Mr. D. J. Arrington.

Mr. Arrington has been in business at the same location for 28 years. The building was formerly the funeral establishment, carriage works and furniture store belonging to his father-in-law, George W. Hixson. This was taken over in 1913. After the stock was disposed of, the grocery business, which has lasted so long, was established.

Mr. Arrington was born in this county and has lived all his life here. He has always taken a lively interest in local affairs and has served as Justice of the Peace, member of the Town Council, member, and for years chairman, of the County School Board. He was a charter member of the local Kiwanis Club and served as its president in 1940. He has well merited the respect and esteem in which he is held by his fellow-townsmen.

While all careers must eventually end, it is with sorrow that we witness the closing of his business. We know that he will continue to be active in the affairs of the community, and we wish for him many more years of usefulness. He is to be congratulated upon his fine record of citizenship for the has, in a real sense, built his character into the life of Prince William.

WORLD'S GREAT FEATURES

WITH MIGHTY CIRCUS

The Big Show—Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey—will exhibit in Washington, D. C., 21st, and C. sts., N. E., May 15, 16, and 17, and here's a synopsis of its 1941 features:

Mr. and Mrs. Gargantua the Great, the world's most publicized and fascinating gorilla couple; the new fairyland fantasy, "Old King Cole and Mother Goose", designed and costumed by Norman Bel Geddes, of New York World's Fair, Futurama fame, in which 2,000 people and animals take part. Geddes has redesigned the circus from front to back.

"Old King Cole and Mother Goose" cost $80,000, and is the grandest of all Big Show pageants; hence it is spotted on the program to follow Alfred Court's three great mixed groups of performing wild animals, so that late comers won't miss it.

The new Birland aerial ballet, starring lovely Elly Ardely, costumed by Max Welby of Paris and staged by Albertina Rasch, famed Hollywood and Broadway musical show dance director; an invasion of acts from South America, headed by the three flying Diego-Fernandez troupes; the great Truzzi, juggler; Hubert Castle, tight-wire star; the Yacopis, Gauchos and Divisos, springboard somersaulting troupes; Adriana and Charly, trampoline stars; Mlle. Louisa, flying trapeze marvel; the three Flying Concello troupes, with Antionette; the famous Riding Cristiani family—in short, 800 world renowned artists. There are 1,600 people, 50 elephants, 1,000 menagerie animals and hundreds of horses.

SWASTIKA OVER ATHENS

A gentle Mediterranean breeze preceded the Nazi hordes through the streets of Athens. The Greeks waited, reported a Homer of these times, "proud and calm".

Then the "new order" came to the very home of order: tanks lumbering like prehistoric beetles, marching feet ordered by a prehistoric urge.

Iron on the move, marble standing.

The Nazis might cap the Acropolis with a tank, to leave it there beside the Parthenon as a monument to Nazi might. The Greeks would see it as a rusting satire on the conceit of one more new barbarism. Nowhere do the limitations of the "new order" seem so sharply defined as against the ancient dignity of Greece.

Courage in time of trial has made the Greeks glorious in defeat; they yield to their overwhelming adversary only a shamefaced triumph.

Today Greece may be merely a stepping stone in the Nazi path. Tomorrow the Nazis will be merely a page in Greek history.

MARINES ARE SKY TROOPS

Dropping down to earth in parachutes is not entirely new to the U. S. Marines, but developments in Europe have led the sea soldiers to devote more attention to this means of landing and getting the situation well in hand.

In recent weeks groups of Marines have been practicing the gentle art of parachute descending at Lakehurst, N. J. The course includes special gymnastic training for the students as well as the packing, manipulation, collapsing and handling of the chute, method of making the jump and landing.

Jumps from a training tower are followed by the first "live" leap from a plane at about 1200 feet, and then a gradual lowering of the altitude until the "chutist" jumps from 750 to 700 feet. Leaps from a lower altitude are considered unsafe.

It takes six weeks of steady training to make a parachute jumper. The technical problems they might have to solve under actual combat conditions will be taught them later.

About twenty years ago the Army Air Service established a parachute school at Rantoul, Ill., and a number of U. S. Navy and Marine Corps jumpers were trained there. Later many training jumps were made by Marines at Quantico, and at San Diego, Calif.

Although in recent years this type of training has not been especially stressed, parachute troops are now considered by some experts as essential to the success of certain military operations.

FOSTER PARENTS PLAN FOR WAR CHILDREN

Two residents of Virginia have contributed toward the support and maintenance of refugee children in Great Britain through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, it was announced last week by Mrs. Edna Blue, executive chairman. American headquarters of the Plan are at 55 West 42 nd street, New York City.

The contributors are: Arlington, Mrs. G. C. Miles, 3174 21 street W. and Alexandria, Mr. William J. Isaacson, Presidential Gardens.

At the present time the Plan is operating eight social service projects in Great Britain and is caring for more than 4,000 refugee children. Refugee children are cared for by foster parents who pay $10 per month for their support and maintenance. Case histories, photographs and correspondence are sent to foster parents. When the children are too young to write the directors of the colonies send monthly reports to the foster parent on the progress of the children.

The projects which the Plan now operates in England follows:

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Priestley's nurseries, Leominster, Herefordshire; the Anna Freud Recuperation Center, Hampstead, the Worsop Colony, Nottinghamshire the Children's Sanctuary at Leeds; the Camp Project under the supervision of Eir Edward Howarth of National Camps Co-operation, Limited; Resident Colony for children, Stoke Newington, the Farm Colony, Market Rasen, Lincolnshire, and a resident colony for children, Melton Mowbray, Waltham.

On receipt of the an application to become a foster parent, the Plan makes arrangements at once for a war child to be taken into one of the Foster Plan sanctuaries. The foster parent receives as soon as possible, a photograph, and a brief history of the child. The cost of maintaining a child is $10 per month.

The Plan is trying to raise $250,000 to care for its projects. Eric G. Muggeridge, Plan executive secretary, is now in London, directing the work of the projects.

An International committee composed of the Earl of Listowel, the Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Helen Hayes, Russell Maguire and J. B. Priestley are sponsoring the work of the Foster Parents Plan for War Children.

The Commission would welcome any suggestions for reorganization which would tend to produce greater efficiency or economy, or both, in the operation of the State government.

Food Prices
and Profits

A Statement of Safeway Policy

THE forces of market disturbance, fear and speculation are at work. Prices for some basic commodities have already gone up. Increases in Safeway's retail prices on these items reflect the rise in wholesale cost, over which Safeway has no control.

It is a fundamental Safeway policy to earn only a small profit on each sale. Safeway pledges that during the period of war emergency it will not change this policy; and that in the future, as heretofore, it will make every effort through improved methods to reduce distribution cost—the difference between what the farmer gets and the consumer pays. You will always be able to buy from Safeway at the lowest prices available anywhere.

Consumers may assist materially in preventing unwarranted price increases by continuing their purchases on a normal scale. There are adequate supplies of foodstuffs for every American. Hysterical buying which strips retail and wholesale stocks creates artificial scarcity, which pushes prices to abnormal levels.

Machinery exists within the government to control production, storage and release of commodities, imports, exports, quotas and prices—if it should become necessary to employ these methods to protect the economic welfare of the country.

Safeway further pledges complete co-operation with the governmental agencies and with farmer producers in all efforts to stabilize prices; discourage profiteering; and maintain orderly facilities for food distribution.

The great-grandpappy of the modern locomotive headlight was a bonfire on wheels! Strange as it may seem, one railroad during the early 1800's covered the bottom of a small flat car with sand and kept a fire burning on it—this was pushed ahead of the engine to light the track at night! Candles, whale oil, crude oil, kerosene and gas were also used in later years before the advent of electricity!

Here's an economy tip for the next time you send a package or a box to someone in another city—send it Chesapeake and Ohio "package freight" and take advantage of free pick-up and delivery truck service!

Railroad diners serve about 25,000,000 meals a year—enough to feed every inhabitant of a city of nearly 23,000 population with three meals a day for an entire year!

When five hundred million potatoes are ready to roll to market they want a lot of service—with gentle handling, please—and they get it on Chesapeake and Ohio! Big seasonal movements are all in the day's work to this railroad—we're geared to handle any shipment, routine or rush, with the same care and speed that have won thousands of shippers to C. and O.

Imagine a bridge longer than the distance from New York City to London, England! You'd have one if all of the 191,779 railroad bridges in the United States were placed end to end—they'd reach 3,860 mi. in length!

The familiar initials, "C. O. D." meaning "collect on delivery," are 100 years old! This term originated in New England in 1841 when a shipper asked an express agency to collect a payment at the time of delivery. Today, some 5,000,000 shipments by Railway Express and large numbers of less than carload freight shipments are forwarded annually C. O. D.

MISS NELSON WEDS AT PARENTS' HOME

The wedding of Miss Mary Elizabeth Nelson of Huntington, W. Va., and Washington, and Mr. Charles Fenton Mercer McGuire of Washington and Clark county, Va., on April 26, at 7:30 p. m. was attended by a large company of guests representing Huntington society and by a large party of out-of-town persons. The ceremony was at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Paul Nelson of 1230 Sixth avenue.

Dr. Edward B. Willingham, pastor of Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, performed the service with the assistance of Rev. S. Roger Tyler, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church.

The ceremony was read in the drawing room. An aisleway from the stairway was marked through a long hall to the wedding chamber by white standards tied with satin bows and linked with white roping. A white floor covering carpeted the way of the procession.

A massive banking of Easter lilies set in huckleberry foliage and two brass candelabras holding 14 burning cathedral candles each were on the mantle. Two urns on fluted columns, holding lilies and foliage, and a pair of white elevated candle standards flanked this arrangement and behind a satin-covered kneeling stool was a large brass bowl of lilies.

Mrs. J. Harold Ferguson, at a Hammond organ, played a program of nuptial music and the traditional bridal themes from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" and Wagner's "Lohengrin".

Attending the bride was her elder sister, Mrs. Taylor Vinson of Huntington, W. Va. Mrs. Vinson's costume was a two-toned gown of crepe, in lime and chartreuse. In her hair she wore a tiara of gerberas and deep blue delphiniums and she carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman roses, deep blue delphiniums and painted daisies.

Young Miss Betty Jane Vinson and Master Zachary Taylor Vinson, children of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Vinson, were flower girl and ring bearer. The flower girl wore a pattern dress of chartreuse mousseline de soie over a pink slip and carried a Colonial bouquet of Talisman roses, forget-me-nots and sweet alyssum.

Dr. Horace G. Smithy of Charleston, S. C.; a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride's gown was that worn by her mother in her wedding. Made along princess lines, a rich silhouette of cream lace, handmade and imported, was worn over chiffon and satin. The neckline was cut as a rounded V, following the line of a single strand of pearls which she wore. The great fullness of the skirt fell into a long, oval train.

The bridal veil was also used in the wedding of Mrs. Nelson and was of imported rosepoint lace with on-work edging. It was attached to her head by a band of pearls.

The bride's flowers were bouvardias and stephanotis about a center of white orchids and tied with white satin ribbons holding tiny rare white orchids to form a shower.

Mrs. C. Paul Nelson, mother of the bride, was in a sea foam green crepe gown and had white orchids with fuschia lips at her shoulder.

Mrs. Charles F. McGuire of Washington, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a white and black crepe formal dress and wore a deep lavender shade of orchids at her shoulder.

Mrs. Houghton A. Robson of Huntington, W. Va., and Manassas, Va., grandmother of the bride, wore a black lace gown and had lavender orchids on her shoulder.

After the ceremony there was a reception, to which a large company of guests were invited. In the music room there was an orchid tree of choice blossoms.

In the dining room, the bride's table was set with a three-tiered wedding cake in the center. At either end was a large silver bowl of white lilies, snapdragons and larkspur and from the center of these flowers there protruded a silver candlestick holding a single burning taper. The twin commodes in the room held large bowls of calla lilies, which were also on the mantle.

The assistants were Charles M. Gohen, Mrs. B. Bruce Burns, Mrs. Thomas S. Sharnack, Mrs. James D. Francis, Mrs. A. D. Mead, Mrs.

George W. Norvell, Mrs. W. T. Jones, Mrs. George J. Caldwell, Mrs. Samuel G. Biggs, sr., Mrs. George N. Biggs II, Mrs. Samuel G. Biggs, jr., Mrs. Charles W. Cammack, jr., Mrs. Charles M. WHAT ARE MOTHERS

MADE FOR?

(First published in 1932)
Mrs. Margaret Lunsford

A short time ago, as I was preparing lunch for my five school children, I remarked to my eldest son, "Do you ever expect to repay me for all that I am doing for you?" "Why", he answered, in apparent surprise, "what are mothers made for?" ie, "what are we made for, it not to labor for our children,—love them and sacrifice for them, and all that we ask is love from them and that they should walk uprightly thru life, and if that is denied us, our life is just the same. "Bone of my bone, and flesh of my flesh!"

There are many kinds of mothers in the world, but the good ones predominate. Good step mothers also and some of these have more to go thru with than real mothers, in some ways. Patience and charity she must have in abundance.

We are hurt sometimes by our children's selfishness or thoughtlessness but if we look back over the years we will see that we were supremely thoughtless and selfish when we were young, and did not realize it then, but remembered with regret in later years. And our young people will follow in our steps.

My children have rather an enlarged conception of the strictness of our forefathers. For instance, when one had behaved rather naughtily at the dinner table, another child remarked, "If that was in old times you'd be burned at the stake!"

To the most of us I think our children are always "babied" in our hearts.

We like to look back to the days when they were "toddlers", and we rocked them to sleep in our arms.

And now, when we reach up our hands to fix our tall son's tie or smooth his hair, the time seems so short since he held up his hands to us.

And Mother's Day! Do you know what I think it really is? When a mother sits "up front" in a high school or college auditorium and sees her boy or girl step forward on the stage to receive his or her diploma and perhaps to make "in her eyes" a wonderful speech, they are not just anybody's children. They are hers, and on thru life their honors and successes are hers, and when a mother's heart is bursting with pride for her children, then it is Mother's Day in all its glory.

Let us go cheerfully onward, Always striving to do our best, Until Jesus calls over yonder, And we enter the "Haven of Rest". —Mon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Adam And Fallen Man will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 11."

The Golden Text will be "If by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ" (Rom. 5:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak" (Mark 14:38).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We should blush to call that real which is only a mistake. The foundation of evil is laid on a belief in something besides God" (p. 92).

Every rose is an autograph from the hand of God on His world about us. He has inscribed His thoughts in these marvellous hieroglyphics which sense and science have, these many thousand years, been seeking to understand.—Theodore Parker.
