CHARLES BREEDEN WINS BOOK PRIZE

Alumni Banquet First to Be Held in High School Gymnasium

Seated in tables arranged in a good luck "horse shoe" at the Manassas High School gymnasium on Saturday evening, the class of 1941 was the first to be inducted into the mysteries of alumni membership at ceremonies in that building which was renovated and rededicated during the past session. Mrs. John Adams, president of the association, presided. The blessing was offered by Rev. J. F. Burks.

The affair was extremely pleasant. More than 120 alumni and guests gathered in old time fellowship. Two features which immediately followed the splendid banquet served by the P. T. A. and girls of the home economics department, were the annual 1905 class yell which Hon. Wheatley Johnson now has to do by himself since Rev. Joseph Gulick seems to have deserted him and the other was the music by Mrs. Royer and boys from the Vocational School. Both the Ennis Brothers and a quartette sang and played several numbers. The solo dedicated by Mrs. Eloise Compton Branch to Miss Eugenia came later in the program and was an equally pleasant feature. Mrs. Branch also lead the group in singing several selections.

Miss Cornelia Lewis read the secretary's report of the last meeting (in her absence); she also read the treasurer's report. Miss Emily Johnson reported on the library funds, giving some very interesting details incident to the book mart, presents by the Town Council, etc.

Mrs. Adams then named a committee for the coming year to raise funds for the library composed of Mrs. A. A. Hooft, Miss Emily Johnson and Mrs. Thelma Hensley.

The president then called on Miss Eugenia to give some news from the library work. Miss Eugenia first expressed her deep appreciation of the co-operation she had received. Then she exhibited the book plate which is the work of the pen of Woodrow Brown, a former student here. It is to be used to indicate the various donors of books. It is certainly very handsome and a generous act on the part of Mr. Brown. The theme which Mr. Brown used in making his drawing was furnished largely by Miss Eugenia.

Miss Eugenia also acknowledged various individual gifts made to the library work during the past year.

The president then called on Mr. Thomas Athey to welcome the class of 1941, which Mr. Athey did in a short address rendered in an easy and most pleasing way. The response was made by the vice president of the class of 1941, Mr. Tomyns Monaghan.

The next speaker on the program was Mr. Clarence Wagener, who has been a leader in the library movement which has come to the front so forcefully during the past two school sessions.

He spoke affectionately of the value of books and of the field which they occupy. Nothing, he declared, can give so much pleasure and offer such genuine relaxation.

Next he thanked those who had been so helpful with the various book reviews given during the past session. He also suggested having the annual "book mart" during national book week next autumn.

He then awarded the W. C. Wagener memorial prize, which was a ten dollar book order, to Charles Breeden for the 4th year student submitting the best review, and the second prize to Mr. Joseph Lomas, a member of the freshman which was in the nature of a supplementary prize for a review by a student of the first or second years.

The book reviewed by Mr. Breeden was the "Tree of Liberty" by Elizabeth Page and which appeared in the issue of the Journal for January 9, 1941. Mr. Lomas' prize was a copy of the "Story of the Human Race" by Thomas. The book reviewed by Mr. Lomas was "Mosby's Night Hawks" by Clarke.

Mr. Wagener also gave a special prize to Mrs. Keith Lyons, member of the local faculty for her special co-operation. In receiving the gift for Mrs. Lyons, Mr. O. D. Waters made some very appropriate remarks, concluding with a tribute to Miss Eugenia.

The evening was closed by a series of dances of all periods from the station.

COLGATE DARDEN GUEST OF CLUB

Tells Kiwanians of Gravity of Present World Situation.

The Manassas Kiwanis Club was favored by the presence last Friday evening of two very prominent Virginians, namely Hon. Thomas W. Ozlin, chairman of the State Corporation Commission and Hon. Colgate W. Darden, who is a candidate for the next Governorship of the Old Dominion.

Mr. Darden was introduced to the Club by Mr. Ozlin. He gave the latter a glowing compliment for his service in behalf of the Commonwealth of Virginia and stated that it is generally conceded that he will be the next Governor.

As former chairman of the House Committee on Military Affairs, Mr. Darden gave a picture of the state of preparedness of the nation, as affected by the policy of various administrations during the twenties. He described the honest effort of the United States to turn away from war, and how it could only now insure peace by the most extensive and expensive preparations at this hour.

He reviewed history from the most ancient times and the similar efforts of all would-be world conquerors down to the present date. He left no doubt in the minds of the club as to the club as the seriousness of the situation and how thoughtfully and earnestly we must now proceed.

Incidentally, Mr. Darden took occasion to pay his former townsman, Worth Peters a neat compliment for his good work in this area.

MRS. KITTY BAKER ENTERTAINS CHURCH SOCIETY

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met on Thursday, June 5, at the home of Mrs. Dennis Baker. There were twenty-nine members present.

The worship program was in charge of Mrs. Hottle, assisted by Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Blakemore.

Mrs. Baker led a round table discussion on "The Evil of Alcohol and Narcotics." We agreed that the younger people of this generation were realizing the ill effects of alcohol and narcotics. It is the duty of every mother and father to teach temperance in the home and set a good example for their children.

Mrs. Eutsler presided over the business meeting. There were many reports given. We were glad to hear about the improvements being made in the Children's Department and the parsonage. Mr. Luttrell made a few very interesting remarks.

Delicious refreshments were then served by Mrs. Baker, assisted by her hostesses, Mrs. Maloney and Mrs. Champion.

FRATERNAL DANCE

Prince William Council Daughters of America, is sponsoring a dance to be given at Midland on the evening of Friday, June 13.

TRINITY CHURCH IS CONSECRATED

Sermon Given by Dr. E. L. Woodward at Historic ceremony.

Another very notable milestone was written into the history of Dettingen Parish on Sunday afternoon, (June 8) when Bishop Co-Adjutor Frederick D. Goodwin, of the Episcopal Diocese of Virginia, pronounced the sentences of consecration for Trinity Church.

Prior to this, Vestryman Fred R. Hynson, of Dettingen Parish, read the document enacted by the vestry, showing that there are no further civil liens or temporal bonds upon the building. Requests in recent years by Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Rixey had made the final payments possible. Dr. Woodward, in his sermon, paid special tribute to the memory of these gracious ladies and others who had made the payment of the indebtedness possible through their devotion.

On Trinity Sunday, June 11, 1922, Trinity Church was dedicated by the late Bishop Brown. The present rector, A. Stuart Gibson, had then been in the Parish for some three years. Sunday last marked a high point in his career in Dettingen Parish for him will retire within the next year, having served a full generation in this one field, a truly remarkable performance. It is sufficient to say that his influence will be felt for many years.

Assisting the Bishop and Mr. Gibson on Sunday were the latter's brother-in-law, Dr. E. L. Woodward, rector at Shrinemont, and who himself was associated with the Piedmont convocation for years when he was rector at The Plains; also Rev. J. F. Burks, W. F. Carpenter, of Haymarket Parish and Rev. R. O. Masterston, rector of Grace Church, Alexandria.

The procession was led by the vestry of the church, A. A. Hooft, carrying the keys on a satin pillow. These were later turned over to the Bishop by Mr. Hynson after he read the action of the vestry declaring the church debt free. A number of other clergymen of Northern Virginia were also in the line of march. The hymns played by Mr. Cleveland Fisher, who presided at the organ, were "Holy, Holy, Holy", at the processional and "The Church's One Foundation" as the recessional. The choir of the church sang the canticle and the responses.

Following the ceremony, the throng of which filled the edifice to overflowing were invited into the Parish Hall where the ladies of the guild served refreshments which were more than welcome on the rather warm afternoon.

HON THOS W OZLIN ADDRESSES GRADS

State Official Makes 'Faith' the leading theme of his remarks

Citizens of Manassas and vicinity gathered on Friday evening last to view this year's graduating class from the local high school and to voice their compliments for the splendid showing made by the graduates. The attendance was larger than usual, the regular seating space being more than exhausted before 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Keith Lyons, assisted by Miss Miriam Blough, presided at the piano and promptly at the appointed hour the tunes of the familiar march used each year, began. The proud young ladies and young gentlemen, in stately caps and gowns, proceeded down the aisle and gathered before the platform as a student body for the last time.

Rev. R. M. Graham gave the invocation and then the glee club rendered a number under direction of Miss Blough. Following this came two very excellent student addresses which will be printed this week and next week in the Journal.

After another number by the glee club, Hon. E. R. Conner rose to very briefly present Hon. Colgate Darden, former member of Congress from the Second District, who in turn presented the speaker, Hon. Thomas W. Ozlin, chairman of the State Corporation Commission.

Mr. Ozlin's talk was full of good advice. He went right to the point, advising the young people of the serious days ahead. "You have dreamed of many things" he said. "Not all of these can be realized but part of them can be and they will shape the course of your lives—you will have a part in shaping the affairs of history that will be felt for the next hundred years and probably for all time."

He reminded them of the sacrifices which their parents have made to make available the opportunities which now lie ahead. "Everyone" he added, "has his part to contribute to civilization and no one should get a false idea nor perspective. The example which everyone sets has its distinct circle of influence."

Here the speaker paused to pay a glowing tribute to Miss Eugenia Osbourn as a splendid figure in her community and how her influence would long be felt.

Going back again into the serious world situation, he praised the British for their determination to "see it through", adding once more that the lives of the graduating class would be profoundly affected by the affairs of the world today.

In conclusion, the speaker gave his analysis as to the saving grace for present day civilization.

"I have searched", he said, "for one quality that will bind us together and make us successful. I believe that this quality is faith; faith in God, faith in each other, faith in ourselves, and faith in our country."

"Be self reliant", he advised, "It is this kind of young men and women that the world needs. Stand fast for those things which represent the best in life"—"Faith in our country is more necessary now than ever before"—"We are in danger of losing those things for which Democracy stands."

The entire address of Mr. Ozlin carried with it a distinct note of faith and piety. Not only the graduates but everyone in the audience felt the seriousness of his remarks.

Following the award of prizes by Prof. Worth Peters (a list of which appears on page 8) Division Sup't. R. C. Haydon presented the coveted diplomas and the benediction by Rev. A. Stuart Gibson concluded the pleasing exercises.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God The Preserver Of Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 15.

The Golden Text will be "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms" (Deut. 33: 27).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleasant unto thy soul; Discretion shall preserve thee, understanding shall keep thee" (Prov. 2: 10, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs of the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on man by his heavenly Father, omnipotent Mind, who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself, not only from temptation, but from bodily suffering" (p.
387).

GEMS OF THOUGHT SERVICE

Good Ever Obtainable
Because you lack a noble and successful past, is no real reason why you should lack a noble and successful future.—Thomas Dreier.

The law of nature is, Do the thing, and you shall have the power; but they who do not the thing have not the power.—Emerson.

Faith in divine Love supplies the everpresent help and now, and gives the power to "act in the living present".—Mary Baker Eddy.

Look upon every day as the whole of life, not merely as a section; and enjoy and improve the present without wishing, through haste, to rush on to another.—Richter.

The present is never our object;
the past and the present we use as means; the future only is our end.
Thus, we never live, we only hope to live.—Pascal.

Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.—New Testament: James 1:17.

Washington . . . An unusual ceremony occurred in Washington, D. C. recently when a father and son were presented at the same time with their certificates of membership in the Telephone Exchange of America. The father, Herman W. Schram, a stock-keeper in the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company at Washington, only recently became eligible to Florider membership because of previous employment in other lines. The son is James H. Schram, now a senior central office man in one of the large Washington exchanges.

Manchester . . . In the Manchester Royal Infirmary in England, a thirty-year-old medical student, Harold Bay Shaker, was so ill that the doctors thought he was hopeless. The young man's last wish was to speak with his father, 2,000 miles away in Egypt.
Hospital authorities arranged for the telephone call, and at the sound of his father's voice, Shaker rallied amazingly. The call cost about $10.00, but it saved the young man's life.

New York . . . Another new radio-telephone circuit to South America is planned by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company between its Hialeah, Fla., station and Cartagena, Colombia. This will make the third point to which radiotelephone service is available in Colombia, circuits already reaching Bogota and Barranquilla.

San Francisco . . . There are now over 170 transcontinental telephone circuits on four different routes between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.
There were only three circuits available in 1915 when the first transcontinental route was opened.

Hawaii . . . A dial telephone switchboard was recently installed at Wai-luku on the island of Maui, the conversion from magneto operation providing common battery dial service to about 1,200 telephones. The new dial exchange serves the Wailuku, Kahului and Puunene districts, and includes equipment for individual, party-line and private branch exchange service.
The equipment is housed in a new fireproof structure. Maui is the third largest of five islands; the largest exchange is at Honolulu on the island of Oahu.

New York . . . Through the nationwide teletypewriter exchange service of the Bell System in 1939 a record-breaking total of 4,173,000 written messages were handled. Teletypewriters, expediting the written word through exchanges in much the same way as telephones expedite the spoken word, are connected by some 530,000 miles of circuits.

Here's still another reason why the railroads are so important to everyone—more than 50% of all outstanding railroad bonds are held by Life Insurance Companies, Savings Banks, and other financial institutions!

The railroads worked 32 1/2 days in 1939 to pay their tax bills.
Ten years ago taxes took the railroads' total receipts for only 23 days!

Sail Ho! Imagine a locomotive engineer, telescope in hand, pacing the "quarter-deck" of his engine! Perhaps early railroad experimenters had something like that in mind because historians tell us cars equipped with sails for motive power were tried out on two early railroads.

Every year, C. and O. carries about 2,000,000 tons of building material—everything from fragile glass and tile to steel girders and stone! A perfect example of versatile railroad service doing a constantly dependable job for shippers!

Coal from this country's first coal mine, located near Richmond, Va., was transported via the canal system of the James River Co. before 1800. This was the original predecessor company of the Chesapeake and Ohio Lines—today the country's largest originating carrier of bituminous coal!

TELEPHONE PLAYS VITAL PART IN LIFE OF NATION'S FARMERS

Instrument Saves Lives, Money And Time For Three Million U. S. Farm Families

Isolation is not a matter of time or place. It can happen anywhere. Many an American home, in some serious emergency, might be as isolated as a cabin in the Canadian wilds—if telephone service were to fail. This is particularly true in the case of three million U. S. farm homes where the telephone is considered as necessary to the average farm family as the automobile, radio, electric lighting and other similar goods and services.

The instances in which the telephone today serves the farmers of America are many. Hiring or exchanging help and equipment, ordering household goods, arranging deliveries of produce ready for market, and securing assistance in emergencies are all expedited by use of Alexander Graham Bell's invention.

A farmer's wife in Virginia recalls that twenty-five years ago her son's leg was caught in a mowing machine and so badly mangled that he was bleeding to death. Here the telephone played the role of life-saver by summoning medical aid... aid which would not have arrived in time had it not been for the speed of telephone service.

Such incidents, which in this day and age can be multiplied many times, illustrate the value of the telephone to the farmer. But there is still further proof of the faith America's rural families have in their telephones. Not long ago 27 farm families made a study of their telephone calls.

They found that each family averaged 92 calls during the month, 41 of them being business calls, 10 household calls, 32 social and 9 of a miscellaneous nature. Mrs. Farmer made the largest portion of those 92 calls, with a total of 56. Mr. Farmer was next with 21, while the children and help accounted for 15 calls.

Those figures provide a basis for determining the great use the nation's farmers make of the telephone. As a time saver, a money saver, a protector, and a comfort Alexander Bell's discovery has contributed and will continue to contribute much to the progress of U. S. farmers.

FARMERS ACT TO BEAT DROUTH

LAST WEEK at the height of the spring's drouth when hay crops were already lost up to 50% and even more, and pastures were damaged almost beyond repair, a committee of 12 leading farmer-patrons of Southern States Cooperative met in Richmond to consider the best measures farmers could take to overcome losses. Aware that this drouth—most serious since 1930—would damage the farm economy and severely cut production of food needed for the National Defense Program, these men called in representatives of Agricultural Colleges of Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and West Virginia, as well as men from the Departments of Agriculture of these states and the federal government, to ask advice for best steps to take.

Committee's 5-Point Plan

1. That Southern States Cooperative make emergency hay crop seeds available at cost in order to save money for farmers and to prevent private profiteering during this emergency.
2. That Southern States make a dairy feed, high in nutrients, but priced at out-of-pocket cost for farmers who need to supplement shortened forage crops with concentrated grain.
3. That Southern States serve, if and when necessary, as the vehicle through which farmers can buy hay cooperatively in order to save as much as possible on cost.

PATRON PRICES FOR EMERGENCY SEEDS

These seeds can be purchased at these prices from your nearest Cooperative Service Agency. He has full information about this program.

Sudap Grass.....	$4.50 Cwt.
Amber Cane.....	3.25 "
Hegari Sorghum.....	3.00 "
Mammoth Yellow Soybeans.....	1.35 Bu.
Tokio Soybeans.....	1.35 "
Woods Yellow Soybeans.....	1.35 "
Wilson Soybeans.....	1.65 "
Mixed Cowpeas.....	2.55 "

PATRON PRICE FOR DROUTH DAIRY FEED

Cash off car to patrons at Virginia City Rate points.... $32.50

At those places which take arbitrary freight rates the price will be slightly higher. Where other than off car services are performed, the necessary extra charges must be added. Deduct $1.00 per ton if ordered in second hand burlap bags.

eratively in order to save as much as possible on cost.

All Set for Rain

Almost over night this Drouth Committee came together from the four states served by the cooperative. Within a few hours information for reseeding and for planting emergency crops was in the mails and on the way to 100,000 patron-members. Prices of emergency forage crop seeds were drastically lowered and a high quality Drouth Dairy feed was ready for farmers at a price barely sufficient to cover ingredient, bag, and transportation costs. When rains came to scattered communities, the job of seeding got under way without loss of time. In such ways organized farmers who own and control Southern States Cooperative act promptly and effectively to meet farm problems and to help themselves in any emergency.

HOMEOPATHIC

STRIKE TREATMENT

This week the President ordered the United States Army to protect the North American Aviation Plant at Los Angeles, which had been closed by a strike which paralyzed work on $196,000,000.00 of war airplanes.

The action is fully justified and should have followed the very first successful attempt by the C. I. O. to close a defense industry. However, in medical parlance, the present procedure may be likened to a homeopathic treatment, when surgery is really justified.

Strikes and picketing are fundamentally acts of conspiracy and violence and as long as we have one law for the manufacturer, who may not collaborate with associated firms to improve price conditions, and another law for the laborer which protects and encourages the same kind of conspiracy where wages are involved; just so long we will continue to be attacked from within by dangerous enemies of our way of life.

No invading armed force, attacking this country by land, sea or air, could in the same time inflict any more damage upon our military establishment than has been perpetrated by strikers in defense factories and while the government certainly should do no less than apply the present homeopathic treatment where serious infections have been so long neglected, what we really need is stern and skillful surgery, perhaps even to the extent of some major operations performed by a firing squad.

DISCUSS HOBBIES AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Miss Webb Gives Charming Discourse on Subject.

The Manassas Woman's Club held its final and one of the most interesting meetings of the year in the Parish Hall, Monday night, June 9.

Miss Alice Webb, Prince William County Home Demonstration Agent, was the speaker of the evening. Her most interesting and educational talk on "Hobbies" met with the wholehearted approval of all in attendance. Miss Webb said that a hobby was anything that we want to do, without remuneration for our own enjoyment and self expression.

The reasons cited for having hobbies were: they help one to stay young, prevent loneliness, decrease juvenile delinquency and tend to make one more interesting to others.

A person's aptitudes, occupation, age and environment were mentioned as some of the factors governing the selections of hobby.

The broad field of hobbies was classified in four divisions, things to make, things to do, things to collect and things to learn. Many examples were given to exemplify each of these classes.

Miss Webb exemplified her talk with a most interesting display of hobbies brought in by members of the club and their friends. Among the objects displayed were: paintings, scrap books, pitcher collections, stamp collections, leather work, airplane models, railroad models, miniatures, cactus, woodwork, dog collections, relief map of the battlefield, Indian relics, flower arrangements, photograph, needlework, linoleum block prints, books and others.

Miss Nancy Lee Dillake displayed two doll houses, original paintings, a foreign doll collection and a miniature wedding procession all done in a most unique manner. Her interest in interior decoration was given full play in the furnishings of her doll house. Her very interesting and original ideas received the most favorable comments.

Each member was called on to give a short discussion of their own particular hobby or hobbies, and it was found that there was a wide variety of interests among the club members.

WANTS TO PUT ENERGY INTO CONNOLLY AMENDMENT

On Monday Senator Byrd introduced the following amendment, which establishes a new title, to Senator Connolly's amendment with respect to the seizure of plants where strikes occur:

Whereas the unsettled condition of the world today and the uncertainties of the future necessitate complete co-operation between Government, management, and labor; and

Whereas numerous strikes are taking place in national-defense industries throughout the United States; and

Whereas such strikes are retarding and greatly impeding our efforts to build an adequate Army and Navy and to render effective aid to other democracies: Therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That it is the sense of Congress that strikes in industries that affect the national-defense effort are contrary to sound public policy and they are hereby condemned.

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE ACTIVE IN PLACING WORKERS

The Alexandria office of the Virginia State Employment Service assisted employers of Arlington, Fairfax, Prince William Counties and Alexandria City in locating workers to fill 1004 jobs in May, 949 in April, 703 in March, 679 in February, and 832 in January, or a total of 4,166 in the first five months of 1941. This is an increase of 1384 placements, or nearly 50%, over the same period in 1940 when 2782 placements were made.

During May, 1941, 401 persons filed applications for the first time and 559 persons renewed their applications, making a total of 960 applications for the month. Sixty-four visits were made to employers by the Employment Service staff in order to determine their personnel needs.

This year the county high schools in the area served by the Alexandria office are assisting their graduates in their search for work by sending the Employment Service all available occupationally and vocationally significant information on prospective graduates. This includes data on courses taken, results of standardized tests, graduation average, standing in class, extra-curricular activities, hobbies, interests, and the school counselor's evaluation of each person's ability, together with the counselor's recommendation regarding the type of work for which the person is best fitted.

It was pointed out by Manager Carter W. Friend, that this co-operation on the part of the schools will be very valuable in referring inexperienced persons to employers. Employers will be better able to obtain young workers with the aptitudes for the work which they want done, and inexperienced persons will have a better chance to obtain the kind of work for which they are suited.

Employers who desire to employ young persons should let the Employment Office know their needs as soon as possible, it was stated by Friend, as there are more employment opportunities for graduates this year. The Alexandria office is searching for young men, who are residents of Virginia, 17 to 24 years of age, with at least a grammar school education, to be trained in riveting and sheet metal work free of charge. This course will last from three to four months and will prepare them for definite jobs with an aircraft manufacturer in an adjacent state. All interested persons should get in touch with the Virginia State Employment Service. Residents of Arlington, Fairfax, Prince William Counties and Alexandria City are served by the Alexandria Office.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

GAS OFFICIAL OPPOSES TAX

Says Federal Government Should Remove It Entirely.

The proposal now before Congress to impose a third federal tax on gasoline is causing grave concern to officials in many states over its effect upon the stability of state highway finances. E. A. Kyhn, secretary of the Virginia Petroleum Industries Committee, said today.

"Up until 1932 the field of motor fuel taxation was regarded as exclusively belonging to the states. In that year the federal government enacted a duplicating tax on gasoline, despite the fact that motor fuel already was heavily taxed by the states to supply the chief source of highway revenue. Congress intended the levy to run only for a year or two. However, it repeatedly has been extended," said Mr. Kyhn. "Last year, Congress added to the 'temporary' tax another levy. Now it is proposed to add a third federal tax.

"Encroachment of the federal government in motor fuel taxation is widely believed to be an invasion of the tax rights of the states, and has been strongly opposed since the first federal tax was enacted in 1932. The Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation, composed of representatives of a number of states, in 1933 memorialized Congress that 'the gasoline tax is the most important single source of state revenue' and that 'the commission urges the federal government to relinquish this source of revenue for the exclusive use of the states at the end of the next fiscal year, namely June 30, 1934'.

"Again in 1937, the Council of State Governments, comprised of representatives of virtually all of the states, memorialized Congress to cease and desist from subjecting the states to competition for the tax dollars of their motorists in the following words: 'The vital importance of gasoline taxes as state revenue sources, and the essential role of gasoline as a commodity utilized in transportation and communication, prompt the Council of State Governments to request and urge that the Congress of the United States relinquish this recognized field of state taxation at the termination of the next fiscal year'.

"Besides these group protests, the legislatures of 24 states during the past few years have addressed petitions to Congress to withdraw from gasoline taxation," continued Mr. Kyhn.

"Much has been said about 'collective bargaining' in recent years. Should not the principle of collective bargaining be applied to the tax relations of the states and their federal government? The representatives of a substantial majority of the states have expressed their viewpoints as to conditions which they consider unfair and unjust. Should not these viewpoints be weighed carefully by Congress in considering the proposal to impose a third federal tax on motor fuel?"

AN EDITOR'S LAMENT

Lives of poor men oft reminds us,
Honest men don't stand a chance;
The more we work there grows behind us,
Larger patches on our pants.

On our pants, once new and glossy,
Now are stripes of different hue;
All because subscribers linger,
And won't pay us what is due.

So let us all be up and doing,
Send your mite however small;
Or when the snows of winter strikes us,
We shall have no pants at all.

DEFENSE COMMITTEE EFFECTS FORMAL ORGANIZATION

The organization meeting of the Recreation and Entertainment Committee of the Northern Virginia Regional Defense Council met in the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce last night to formulate plans for coordinating the activities of local entertainment and recreation committees in the counties and cities of the area embraced in the Council Region.

Charles R. Fenwick, chairman of the committee, presented a tentative organization outline for local guidance. The outline provided for committees on Entertainment, Transportation, Recreational quarters, local selectees committee to be set up in all the counties of the Region close enough to military organizations to be helpful.

The committees will undertake to provide reading and rest rooms; organize dances properly chaperoned; present plays and athletic contests and other forms of wholesome entertainment.

A Projects Sub-Committee of the Recreation Committee was established to study and report on certain projects which might need government aid and could not get this aid without Regional Council approval.

Captain James Douglas, chairman of the Alexandria local Defense Entertainment Committee outlined the experience his group had in setting up the program and suggested methods of approach to the whole entertainment problem.

Mrs. Elwood Clements of Arlington was appointed Secretary of the committee. Mr. Fenwick said that he would announce personnel of committees within a few days.

MC of the MARINES

MARINES' JUNE DIARY

LISTS LIVELY EVENTS
Stirring events of historic interest so crowd the Marine Corps calendar for June that it has often been called a "red letter" month by that branch of the service. Each of the thirty days marks an anniversary of some importance to the Marines or to the nation.

While nothing in the all-time history of the sea soldiers appears to be more noteworthy than the critical days of June, 1918, when, as members of the 2nd Division, they aided in seizing and holding Belleau Wood in France against all enemy attacks, many other episodes point to the versatility of the Corps.

A fight with natives of Formosa in 1867, a similar action against Korean natives in 1871, and the landing of a battalion in Cuba during the Spanish-American War in 1898 were typical June events.

Other June entries recount a lively sea fight during the War of 1812, the pursuit and destruction of a pirate ship in Mexican waters in 1870, an expedition to China in 1900, and the surrender of the island of Guam by the Spaniards in 1898.

The June diary also reveals that the Marines performed a humanitarian mission when they fought a fire which had broken out on an Italian vessel in the harbor of Callao, Peru, in June, 1873, and that later they received the thanks of the Italian Minister of War.

Even a brief recital of outstanding June events fills several pages of Marine Corps history. The day-by-day accounts begin with a thrilling sea battle fought with an enemy vessel at pistol range on June 1, 1780, and conclude with the renaming of Belleau Wood, "Bois de la Brigade de Marine" on June 30, 1918, a signal honor paid by the French nation to the sea soldiers.

KNIFE WIELDER BEGINS PRISON SENTENCE

On Tuesday of this week Judge Walter T. McCarthy signed an order which required that Mrs. Helen Schuyler be committed to the State Penitentiary to begin serving the three and one-half year sentence imposed by a Prince William County jury for the murder of Private Aubrey N. Heyl at Quantico last Easter Sunday.

Attorney for the defense had moved for a new trial but Mrs. Schuyler appeared in open court on June 2, and stated that she did not desire a new trial but "wished to get started on serving the sentence imposed by the jury". A credit of thirty-nine days was allowed by the court for the time spent in the Manassas waiting trial.

LOOKING FORWARD By Evelyn Tipton (Delivered at the High School Graduation).

My classmate has just spoken of what has happened to us; I believe that the occasion of graduation is a time that calls for preparatory as well as reflective thinking. Tonight I shall seek to look into the future, not to prophecy but to get a glimpse of the possibilities that lie ahead of seniors of 1941.

For some graduation marks the end of formal education. These will find themselves out of school life into life's school. Many will study in other institution. All will continue to learn. Our training in high school is planned to give us skill in using the tools of learning and living. We go forth now to take the tests which life gives in application of this learning. We have passed tests in reading, writing, and arithmetic so far; we believe we are fitted to pass more tests in these subjects. Ahead lie tests of stability, achievement, integrity and adaptability. Under competent guidance, as course clearly marked far us. We have been following under competent guidance, a course clearly marked for us. Graduation and commencement were so definitely ahead that not until the fast few weeks have our short visions seen beyond.

Tonight we say the word "commencement" with a feeling of victory and awe. Commencement, what is it? Why is it? But school had fitted us to think and to understand. We grasp the idea behind it—vaguely at first but more forcibly day by day.

Henceforth we are not members of the junior or senior class of Osbourn High School, but individuals going forth to meet life. We have finished the first lap of life's race; we are in the middle of the course and there are no signposts. Where in our pasts did we miss the lesson which tells us whither we shall go now? Were we absent that day? Did we fail to study our lessons? But we must not linger to answer these questions or to make excuses now; we must begin anew, for this is "commencement" night. If one stands still in this busy world today, he will be lost in a traffic jam.

Somehow my thoughts return again and again to a quotation from William Shakespeare which is addressed to the individual and permits individual interpretation—

"To thine own self be true;
And it must follow as the night the day,

Thou can'st not then be false to any man"

Each one of us now becomes master of his own fate. If to this honesty with self, we add the Golden Rule, have we not already constructed a simple pattern for life. Here and now we may design the pattern and the years to come will finish the product.

I believe no graduating class has even faced a world of greater opportunity and its necessary accompaniment, responsibility. In the dark picture painted by the struggle among nations for world supremacy today we see evidence of the part that the individual can play.

We may argue long and continuously over what we shall do and how we shall do it, but there is no doubt in our minds that we must be up and doing. The world of industry calls forth in a loud voice for strong bodies alert minds, and willing hands. The world of art and literature demands exercises of tireless efforts and great talents to keep alive the heritage of the race in this period of chaos and stress. From the records of past happenings and the teachings of the sages, humanity finds comfort and courage on which to build faith in the future. To the world of science falls much of the responsibility of "carrying on". Experiments and inventions must prove new and better ways of living if civilization is to continue its progress. A glimpse at the world, a hasty thought, and we say reverently "God bless America". Her period of undaunted progress shall cease in our hands.

As we members of the class of '41 go forth to take our places in a glorious democracy, let me present as our challenge the words from our well-known song which say—

"Hold high the torch!
You did not light the glow.
'Twas given you by other hands you know,
'Tis yours to keep it burning clear and bright,
'Tis yours to guide still others to the night.
Lead on, torchbearers, with service light the way,
'Tis yours to brighten pathways every day"

(The graduation address of Guy Bowers on "Individual Development through School Community Life" will be published in the Journal next week).

Letter written by the late Captain J. E. Herrell, C. S. A., to "J" a personal friend in Richmond.

CAMP NEAR GUINEA STATION JANUARY 7, 1863

"Since Christmas we have moved our camp from near Fredericksburg to where we now are, and I have built me a very comfortable little house, made a table and some stools, in fact with some few exceptions—enjoy all the comforts of a civilized life.

Our regiment went on Picquet yesterday. I was left in command of the camp. I failed in getting that little wound in the Battle of Fredericksburg from the fact I suppose of our not having been engaged though we held a position in the center of our lines and were in front during the whole engagement. The enemy attacked our right and left, but did not trouble the center as we were in hopes that they would. We had a magnificent view of nearly all of the Battle field. We saw the whole of the fight and it surpassed anything I ever witnessed. It took place in an almost level field about a thousand yards from our position. The enemy first advanced a very heavy line the best I think I ever saw. Our line stood perfectly still until they got to within eighty or a hundred yards of them, when they opened a destructive fire on them. At the first volley the whole Yankee line broke and ran like dogs. We could see their officers floundering about trying to rally their men, but 'twas no go. They wouldn't stop running until they'd gotten out of harm's way. But they immediately brought up another line much heavier than the first. This time they did a little better, driving our line back for some distance. But our brave boys soon rallied and returned to the fray with redoubled fury, and very soon this line like its predecessor was scattered over the field. Every man that could, running for dear life. You perhaps can imagine our feelings. With me, I don't know which had the ascendancy, joy for the victory, or pride of my fellow soldiers who had so handsomely won it.

CARD OF THANKS

It is thought we will get furlough in the course of the Winter. I hope we will not be mistaken. A thirty day furlough with me now to be spent in peace would be hailed with nearly as much pleasure as a declaration of peace."

J. E. H.

At the time of this writing Captain Herrell was 1st Lieutenant of Company "F" of the 17th Virginia Infantry. He was made a captain later.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all of our friends and neighbors for their many courtesies and acts of kindness and sympathy in our sudden illness and death of our beloved husband and father, Daniel Reid.
