KIWANIANS LOSE TO FIRE BOYS

Have Gone Into A Tie For First Place in Softball League.

The Fire Department stopped the march of the undefeated Kiwanis team in scoring a 5-1 upset in the softball league. The Kiwanis team had won three straight games without having met defeat when the Firemen pulled the upset.

The pitching of Albrite was the highlight of the game in allowing the losers only four hits. Sinclair and Albrite were the only two players to collect more than one hit.

The American Legion scored eight runs in the first inning to hand the Chamber of Commerce its fourth straight loss in as many games. "Dickie" Haydon, playing his first game, banged out two home runs and two triples, scored five runs, and batted in five runs to lead the attack for the Chamber of Commerce team. Worley, Phillips, and A. Conner collected three hits apiece to help lead the attack for the losers.

The American Legion team had on its hitting clothes in rapping out 21 hits off the offerings of the losers. Rohr, C. Merchant, and Robinson collected four hits each to lead the slaughter.

NO BACKSEAT DRIVERS NEEDED

McMICHAEL-HOOKER

Miss Lena Ruth Hooker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hooker of Belle Glade, Fla., was married to Stuart Ashby McMichael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewing McMichael of Nokesville, Friday evening at 8 p. m. at the Church of the Brethren of Nokesville. The candlelight ceremony was performed by Rev. Guy West of Roanoke, before a large company of relatives and friends.

The bride is the niece of the late Hon. Murray Hooker, chairman of the Democratic Party of Virginia.

The groom is a descendant of two of the oldest families in Virginia, the Berkeleys, of Hanover County, and the Hoos of old Prince William. He is the grandson of the late Howson Bernard Hooe, of "Evergreen", Va.

Before the service Miss Jessie Mae Conner, soprano, sang "At Dawn" and "Ave Maria". Miss Edna Armstrong, pianist, presented a short program of nuptial music while the guests were assembling and played the bridal marches. She also played the accompaniments for the soloist.

A green and white floral setting was created by the use of large quantities of white gladioli against a background of palms and ferns.

The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore a white satin gown made with sweetheart neckline, leg-o'-mutton sleeves, and a long train. Her tulle veil was held by a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of calla lilies, and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Nancy Lee Hooker of Belle Glade, Fla., was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a dress of blue marquisette and lace and carried a bouquet of pink rose buds. Mrs. W. Julian Field, of West Palm Beach, Fla., sister of the bride; Mrs. Howard Payne, sister of the groom; Miss Janet Trenis, Miss Arlene McMichael, all of Nokesville; Miss Eleanor Gray Thomas, Palmyra, Virginia and Mrs. Phillip Reading, Washington, were bridesmaids. Miss Mary Hooker, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. All the bridesmaids were dressed in frocks of pastel shades of marquisette and lace. For their hair they had clusters of red roses worn as a tiara. Their bouquets were of red roses.

Mr. McMichael had as his best man Phillip Reading of Washington. The ushers were John Hooker, Howard Payne, Stanley Harpine, Earl Somers, Ernest Spitzer, Jr., all of Nokesville; and William Hedrick of Washington. Master Walter Mosley, Belle Glade, Fla., four year old nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

The wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's grandfather, Mr. J. A. Hooker, Nokesville. Tables on the lawn of the home were decorated with mixed garden flowers and ferns. Mr. J. W. Mosley, Jr., Misses Jean and Mary Elizabeth Hooker, all of Belle Glade, Fla., assisted in receiving guests, who numbered more than five hundred.

Later Mr. and Mrs. McMichael left on their wedding trip to Maine, after which they will reside in Nokesville. The bride's traveling costume was of black and white bengaline, worn with matching accessories.

Mrs. McMichael attended Stetson University, Deland, Fla., where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi, social fraternity, and was graduated from Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg. She has just completed graduate work at Madison College in Harrisonburg.

Mr. McMichael is affiliated with Trenis and Co. of Nokesville.

Saw Revolutionary War Soldiers

Miami, Florida, June 22, 1941.

Dear Cousin Georgia;

I am writing to tell you of my memories of my first 4th of July. Mother had moved from the plantation to the city, the first time I had ever been out side the front yard of our beautiful country home. Grandmother Darden was in poor health and the doctor advised mother to make a change for her.

This 4th of July, 1853, I was in my fifth year. I had never heard nor seen a band of music. I heard the drum and Father took me on the front porch and explained to me what the Day meant.

I was so excited at the huzzahs as the cavalry rode by that I can never forget the sight. It was the most beautiful I had ever seen. More than fifty men were mounted on horseback, followed by a band of music.

Next door to us lived two old men. The drummer boy and the color bearer brought out chairs to the side walk and seated the old soldiers. The horsemen saluted as they passed and each got off his horse and shook hands with the veterans.

Father explained to me that they were Revolutionary War soldiers.

The uniforms of the cavalry company were orange and blue—the prettiest sight I ever saw. In later years our families became dear friends.

I shall be 93 years old on the 7th day of August, if I live.

With love,

Cousin Mary.

(Ed Note. The above is from Miss Mary Jane Burnley, of Miami, one of the very few actual living granddaughters of the Revolution. Her grandfather, Captain Harry Burnley, is buried in Warren County, Ga. Some years ago she was invited to a special unveiling in Georgia because of her rank as a living granddaughter of the Revolution. The letter was written to Mrs. W. H. Lamb, of Manassas, Va.)

AIRCRAFT WORK DRAWS WORKERS

Alexandria Employment Service Offers Opportunities.

In co-operation with the National Defense Council and the National Youth Administration, the Virginia State Employment Service is accepting applications for free training in sheet metal work, riveting, welding, and other courses necessary to the manufacture of aircraft to young men between the ages of 17 and 24, it was announced today by Carter W. Friend, manager of the Alexandria Office which serves the residents of Arlington, Fairfax, Prince William Counties and Alexandria City.

The office is accepting applications for enrollment in a course requiring several months for completion at the Manassas State Vocational School at Manassas. Applicants must have completed grammar school education in order to be eligible for enrollment in the aircraft courses, Friend added.

While enrolled in these courses, students earn their room, board, and living expenses. The instruction is free of charge.

With the demand for aircraft workers increasing daily, those who successfully complete the course can be placed almost immediately in an aircraft manufacturing plant in a neighboring state through an agreement with the manufacturer, Friend stated. The firm has agreed to employ, as rapidly as possible, all persons who receive the desired training for an indefinite period, and over 25 youths already have been placed with the aircraft manufacturer from the Alexandria office.

"This training offers an exceptional opportunity, particularly for young men who have just graduated from high school", Employment Manager Friend said. "They now receive instruction at no cost, and for the time being, at least, are assured of immediate employment when they complete the course".

In addition to the aircraft courses in sheet metal work, riveting, and welding, the Manassas State Vocational School also conducts training courses in Machine Shop, Auto Mechanics, Electricity, Painting and Decorating, Carpentry, Radio, Shoe Repair, Plumbing and Heating, and Cooking. Young men between the ages of 17 and 24 years who reside in Virginia are eligible to apply for training at the Manassas School.

396,000 LOANS BY VIRGINIA BANKS

Totaling $318,000,000 In Last Half of 1940.

Thirty-three per cent of the banks in Virginia made more than 396,000 loans totaling $318,000,000 to business firms and individuals throughout the state during the second half of 1940, according to the semi-annual survey of bank lending activity made by the Research Council of the American Bankers Association.

The American Bankers Association loan survey was participated in by 103 Virginia banks, or 33.4 per cent of the 314 banks in the state.

These 103 banks reported that they made between July 1 and December 31, 1940:

104,168 new loans totaling $91,549,345
289,404 renewals of loans totaling 220,333,585
2,503 new mortgage loans totaling 6,732,339
396,075	$31,615,269

The survey showed that business firms in the state used less than half of the "confirmed open lines of credit" maintained for their use on the books of banks. A total of 31 banks in the larger centers of the state reported that they carried on their books $33,894,700 in "open lines of credit" offered to and kept available for regular borrowers for use as needed by them. Of this amount $13,633,742 or 40.2 per cent was used.

The average number of new loans made per bank during the six months period under review was 992 and the average size of loan was $879.

The average number of loans renewed per bank was 2,756 and the average renewal was for $761.

The average number of new mortgage loans made per bank was 24 and the average new mortgage made was for $2,690.

(Editorial comment on the banking situation appears on page 4).

MEMBERSHIP OF TELEPHONE PIONEERS OF AMERICA NOW NUMBERS 47,000

Over 2,000 Employees Of C. & P. Companies Belong To Chapters Of Organization Founded In Boston, Mass., Twenty-Nine Years Ago

Twenty-nine years ago in the city of Boston, Mass., a group of telephone employees organized the Telephone Pioneers of America for the purpose of promoting and continuing the friendships made during the progress of the industry and to recall from time to time the traditions, memories and facts of the business. Any person having served twenty-one years in telephone work was eligible for membership.

From that small nucleus has grown a great organization which today numbers over 47,000 members with pioneer telephone men and women affiliated with chapters throughout the nation. The association has increased by 22,000 members in the last five years, and in the next five years a growth of almost 30,000 is expected, which would place the membership above the 75,000 mark in 1945. Of the present 47,000 members, 8,238 are life members.

It was on September 12, 1922 that the Alexander Graham Bell Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America was organized to serve Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company employees. At that time about 35 employees in Washington held memberships. Today the roster has grown to 13,45 of which are life members.

Eleven years after the Washington chapter was organized, a group of employees in the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of West Virginia formed a West Virginia Chapter of Telephone Pioneers of America. This chapter today has a membership of 232, 30 of which are life members.

On July 11, 1934 a Maryland Chapter, to serve employees of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City, was organized. Approximately 840 telephone men and women are now members of this group, 137 of them being life members.

The Old Dominion Chapter was organized in October, 1934 by employees of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia. Its present membership numbers 445 with 49 life members.

There are now 55 chapters in the Pioneers' Association; five of them are in Canada and a new chapter is in the process of formation in British Columbia. The largest chapter is the Manhattan Empire, New York City, with a membership of 3,053; the smallest chapter is the Manitoba, Canada chapter, with 85 members. Thirty-nine of the chapters have memberships of less than 1,000, 12 have between 1,000 and 2,000 members and four are above that figure, the Theodore N. Vail Chapter, Chicago, having 2,900; Manhattan Empire, New York City, 3,053; Thomas Sherwin, Boston, 2,073; and Charles Fleetford Sise, Montreal, 2,745 members.

SOUTH AMERICAN AND PACIFIC PHONE CALLS REACH ALL-TIME HIGH

Messages Over Bell System's Radiotelephone Circuits Hit 2,000 For Month Of June

Smashing all previous records, telephone calls over the Bell System's radiotelephone circuits to South America and across the Pacific reached a new high with a total of nearly 2,000 messages for the month of June, according to figures of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The report shows that overseas traffic generally is less than 15 percent below what it was a year ago, despite the sharp drop in transatlantic business due to the imposition of military censorship.

South American business is at present averaging about three times what it did last year at this time, while transpacific business is more than double the figure for the corresponding period last year.

At the outbreak of the war, military restrictions abroad shut off all private and commercial telephone service with Great Britain and continental Europe. Within ten days, however, general service to continental Europe, except France, was restored over two new circuits.

HILLBILLY RADIO ACE JOINS POPULAR MESQUITEERS TRIO

Rufe Davis, a country boy from the town of Mangum, Oklahoma, and also a man who made good in a big way, is now featured by Republic in their popular Three Mesquiteers series, the latest of which, "Under Texas Skies", comes to the Pitt's Theatre for a run of one day starting Saturday, July 5.

Several years ago, claims Rufe, he got tired of picking cotton on his farm near Mangum (population 4,000) and decided to do something "on his own". Thinking of his childhood when he and his brother had imitated all of the animals on their farm, Rufe determined to see what he could do in the way of capitalizing on his imitations.

Rufe's first appearance was in a small theatre near Mangum, and apparently the debut was so successful that from that time on, Davis was convinced that he was cut out for the entertainment field.

The "Radio Rube" was evidently right for since that memorable day, he has played practically all of the major vaudeville circuits, and there is scarcely an important city in this country that has not been entertained by Rufe Davis.

In New York, long engagements at the Palace Theatre (seven times), the Roxey, Loew's State and the Paramount are ample proof of Rufe's popularity. As far as the country's second largest city, Chicago, is concerned, audiences at the Chicago, Palace, Oriental and State Lake theatres have all been convulsed by the Rufe Davis imitations, not only once, but on repeat engagements.

Eight months on the air for NBC increased Rufe's popularity via the ether waves, and he has extended his career to the silver screen, having been featured in a number of short subjects as well as important feature length pictures including "Mountain Music", "Big Broadcast of 1938", "Blossoms on Broadway", "Cocoanut Grove" and "Dr. Rhythm".

His addition to the "Three Mesquiteers" series marks another milestone in his career, establishing him definitely as one of the screen's high ranking comedians.

COLUMBIA FUNFEST FEATURES JOHN HUBBARD & EVE ARDEN

Both Joan Bennett and Franchot Tone, who come to the Pitt's Theatre in Columbia's "She Knew All the Answers", on Thursday and Friday, July 10-11, make refreshingly different appearances, according to advance reports of the hectic new comedy. Miss Bennett, is a wise-cracking young Broadway night club star who goes to work, both literally and figuratively, on Wall Street. Tone is said to be equally enjoyable as a stiff-necked, ultra-conservative Wall Street broker.

"She Knew All the Answers", a love-and laugh farce, directed by Richard Wallace and based upon a popular magazine story by Jane Allen, is concerned with Miss Bennett's efforts to marry a millionaire playboy with the consent and approval of his dignified guardian. Her several stratagems result in a wedding, with the consent and approval of the dignified guardian aforementioned. And why not? He's the bridegroom!

John Hubbard, who recently was seen with Miss Bennett in "The Housekeeper's Daughter", appears as the playboy. Determined to elope with the lovely brunette actress, despite his guardian's dictum that such elopement will result in summary and complete loss of inheritance, Hubbard permits Joan to talk him out of the idea. She is unknown to Tone, and she decides to win from him a "letter of recommendation" before she marries the boy. Persuading the broker to give her a job as switchboard operator in his office, although she is completely unaware of office routine, she manages virtually to destroy not only the smooth functioning of the establishment, but the equanimity of Wall Street itself. In the course of her various troubles, she succeeds in losing and making a fortune for Tone in the Stock Exchange, in unbending his stiff neck. And why not? He's the bridegroom! falling out of love with the playboy and into love with the guardian!

"BLONDIE GOES LATIN" HIT LAUGH HIGH!

The Bumsteads, those masters of mirth, also are masters of melody, according to enthusiastic Hollywood report. They cut loose Monday and Tuesday, July 7 and 8, at the Pitt's Theatre in Columbia's "Blondie Goes Latin", a motion picture said to be the singiest, swingiest, danciest comedy of the year!

That the Bumsteads are fit protagonists for a musical extravaganza virtually goes without saying; that the stars who play the roles of Blondie, Dagwood and Baby Dumpling are perfectly fitted for a liting, lyrical rhythm jamboree was well-known to Hollywood. But nothing was done about it until Robert Sparks started production on "Blondie Goes Latin", with its five hit tunes by Bob Wright and Chet Forrest.

Penny "Blondie" Singleton brings to the gay new hit that musical comedy training which made her one of the most popular stars on Broadway. Arthur "Dagwood" Lake was a renowned song-and dance man in vaudeville before he turned to motion picture comedy. And "Baby Dumpling" Simms is the son of a well-known radio chateau. With such a background of musical training to make "Blondie Goes Latin" one of the top-notch melodic memories of the year, Columbia has added two equally famed singing stars—Tito Guizar, of radio, concert and screen, and lovely Ruth Terry, delightful night club songbird of New York, Florida and Chicago.

The musical numbers heard in "Blondie Goes Latin" include "Querida", "You Don't Play a Drum (You Beat It!)", "Brazilian Cotillion", "I Hate Music Lessons", and "You Can't Cry on My Shoulder". In addition, the hauntingly beautiful "Solteiro E Melhor", by Rubens Soares and Felisberto Silva, is also to be heard.

"Blondie Goes Latin" sends the Bumsteads on a South American vacation—everybody, that is, except Dagwood, who goes along anyway!

Mr. Dithers, Dagwood's boss, needs a rest; he takes the Bumsteads with him on his cruise. But, at the last wood's presence at the office; the ship sails without him. So, at least, think Mr. Dithers, Blondie and Baby Dumpling!

Dagwood knows better. Indavertently forced to remain on board, he spends his spare time dodging his wife, his boss, his inquisitive youngster. He winds up garbed as a woman, drummer for the ship's band, but Baby Dumpling readily penetrates that disguise! Nothing, it ed manner, and, most important, in falling out of love with the playboy and into love with the guardian!

S. S. AMERICA, NEW $17,000,000 U. S. LINER, CALLED SAFEST VESSEL EVER BUILT

Modern Communication System Is Important Part Of Precautionary Measures Adopted On Ship

When the S. S. America, new flagship of the United States Lines passenger fleet docked in New York recently, it wrote "finis" to another chapter in the drama-packed history of U. S. shipbuilding.

when the United States Lines began to plan for the construction of a ship to serve as a mate for the S. S. Manhattan and the S. S. Washington. From that time on the designing, constructing, decorating and equipping of the new vessel added page after page to this story of American shipbuilding.

One of the most interesting and by far one of the most important features of this story was the part played by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company of Newport News, Virginia. Theirs was the job of construction . . . of making the ship on paper a reality. That they succeeded in this tremendous task is best illustrated by the opinion of the U. S. Maritime Commission which considers the S. S. America the safest and most comfortable vessel ever built.

The liner deserves this accolade partly because of the ingenuity and skill of the thousands who had a hand in its making and partly because the employees of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company remembered and followed a creed . . . a creed which reads:

We shall build good ships here
At a profit if we can,
At a loss if we must,
But always good ships.

In spite of the fact that the Virginia Shipbuilding concern set something of a record in fast work for ship construction, the S. S. America is in every respect a "good" ship. Built at a cost of $17,000,000, the new luxury liner is of 35,440 tons displacement and is 723 feet in length from the stem to the fore part of the rudder post.

From the top to the bottom of its ten decks, the liner is equipped with all the modern conveniences of a metropolitan hotel. Such practical services as telephone, valet and laundry combine with the pleasures of moving pictures, dancing, music and sports to weave around the 1,219 passengers who can be accommodated, an atmosphere of "being right at home."

More than 90 per cent of the vessel is constructed of non-inflammable material and she is the first ship ever designed with magnetically operated steel doors. These doors can be closed in an instant to shut off any section of the ship.

This "floating town's" communication system—in itself a vital link in the chain of safety measures—is as complete and modern as that found in many communities. She is equipped with a 360-line common battery lamp signal switchboard and power plant. She has more telephones than any other liner afloat today, with instruments linking all sections of the ship, including a large proportion of the staterooms. Through the use of the latest type of radiotelephone equipment those on the ship can be connected with any Bell System telephone regardless of the ship's position. When the liner lies at dock, the switchboard provides for 12 trunks for use in connecting with central offices on shore.

Designed for a service speed of twenty knots and a reserve speed of twenty-three knots, the America was originally scheduled for North Atlantic service. This schedule was revised, however, and United States Lines officials placed her in service to the West Indies.

Thus, the new queen of the seas, built in America by American labor and with American materials has closed another chapter in the history of U. S. shipbuilding. She is now ready to take her place along side the great fleet of ocean-going liners which have and are now serving America.

Footprints of the Trojan Horse

EDITOR'S NOTE: This graphic analysis of "Fifth Column" techniques is published by the (name of newspaper) in co-operation with the National Department of Americanism of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. The text and illustrations are taken from the book "Footprints of the Trojan Horse" published by Citizenship Educational Service, 122 East 42nd Street, New York City, a non-profit association of patriotic organizations dedicated to the preservation of Americanism.

After winning domination over Germany, Hitler decided to use the same strategy in conquering other nations. So he searched for a group that was a minority in the populations of his chosen victims.

If the strategy were reduced to simple terms it could be expressed as follows:

MILITARY HEADQUARTERS

To the Intelligence Staff:

In line with regular procedure, stir up suspicion in the population in order to set group against group and destroy the internal unity of the country. As a first step, sell the upper classes on the idea that Jews are communists and we are a bulwark against communism. Sell the lower classes on the idea that Jews control everything and are a menace to their jobs.

Under cover of this smoke screen we can move in and follow out our plan for economic and political conquest.

(signed) Chief of Staff

Barometer Warning

The record of the last 2,000 years of history has provided us with an unmistakable norm warning when human rights are in danger—a campaign against minorities. If this is allowed to continue, it is only a question of time until the civil rights and liberties of everyone will be lost.

America's Self-Interest

The whole of America is definitely concerned with stopping the use of prejudices as a means of creating disunity. Whether the propaganda is foreign or domestic, the result is always the same: Under the smoke screen of group hatred, unscrupulous elements attain objectives destructive to our common interests.

AID TO RUSSIA

There is every indication that we need not become unduly exercised over the perplexing problem of what we should not about extending aid to Russia.

We are lagging deplorably in our "all-out" aid to Britain and we will do very well to attend to our own major problem.

There are great probabilities that Hitler will quickly conquer "Gory Joe" and it could even-tuate that in the end we may actually have to fight Germany, Russia and Japan.

Under these possibilities, the question of Russian aid becomes an academic one and we can only hope for the present moment that when "thieves fall out honest men get their dues". So let us prepare with all our might for the day of trouble which will certainly come at the conclusion of the present conflict between Germany and Russia.

CONSULT YOUR LOCAL BANKER

In evidence of the great service to the Commonwealth rendered by the Banks of Virginia, we are printing on page one of this issue a resume issued by the Virginia Bankers' Association which indicates a most gratifying volume of business, despite the invasion of the banking business by the Government.

It would require the remainder of this column merely to designate the various Federal banking concerns which have sprung up under government sponsorship to compete with private banking business, and, strangely, to compete with one another.

Remembering that the government spends millions of the taxpayers money in propaganda to urge its citizens to borrow their way out of their financial difficulties, somewhat in the same manner as the government itself plunges forward deeper and deeper into hopeless

THE AMERICAN BANKING SYSTEM

IS Democracy at its Best

There are some 16,000 American banks, each owned and operated by local citizens. Separate in a sense — yet they are knit together into one great "system" by the common aim of service. Responsive to the needs of each community, yet they are geared to meet the nation's needs instantly in its hour of crisis. There's nothing like it elsewhere; it's the envy of every other country; it's democracy functioning at its very best.

debt, the private citizen, in need of financial assistance would do well to scan the enormous number of government foreclosures before he yields to its enticements of loan facilities.

Local bankers are our friends and neighbors, generally big hearted fellows who know how to help without endangering the safety of the funds entrusted to their management and their record of foreclosures, contrasted to the stony hearted policy of federal financial agencies should make it most important that every citizen in need to financial help first consult the local banker who will help him if he can, and if he cannot, will certainly give him most valuable advice.

THE LIBRARY'S NEW BOOK PLATE

The Ruffner-Carnegie Library has recently acquired a Book-plate designed especially for it. The gift of two of the high school alumni, Miss Williette R. Myers and Mr. Woodson Brown.

The new book-plate which is intended to be placed inside the cover of special gift books has for its device the coat of arms of the High School, a space for the name of the donor of the gift book and the Library's own motto from Proverbs 4:13 "Take fast hold of instruction, for she is thy life".

The plate is the gift of Miss Williette R. Myers, the founder of the Commercial Department of the High School and now on the Faculty of Eastern High School, Washington, D. C.

The finely executed design of the Book-plate is the work of Mr. Woodson Brown, a graduate of the Washington School of Design, and now employed as the designer of illustrations for the Washington Telephone Company.

The Library is fortunate in possessing its own beautiful Book-plate, for only very large libraries, as a rule, enjoy this distinction.

sold privately or at auction. Non-registered purebreds are classed with grades and appraised accordingly by the buying public. The United States Government and the state government recognize the higher value of registered animals by paying double indemnity in the disease control program. The cost of foundation breeding cattle and of keeping up registrations of eligible animals is small in proportion to the comparative return when they are sold or in case they react to diseases for which Government indemnities are paid. These prevailing conditions offer encouragement to gradually building up a quality, registered herd and to keeping up registrations on all good purebred cattle.

Reseeding Spring Clover and Grass Failures

Since much of the clover and grass seeded last spring was killed by the early drought, it will be necessary to reseed it this summer or there will be a shortage of hay next year and the rotation will be broken. The land should be disked as soon as possible after the grain is removed and then redisked after the first good rain in August, when the grass and clover should be seeded on a compact seedbed. August seedings should give a crop of hay next year, the same as seedings made on small grain this past spring would normally have done.

About 300 pounds of 4-12-4 or 4-16-4 fertilizer should be used. If the land is very fertile, an equal amount of 0-14-6 fertilizer may be satisfactorily substituted.

State Institute of Rural Affairs

The State Institute of Rural Affairs (State Farmer's Institute) will be held at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, July 29-31 inclusive. The theme of the Institute will be the "Importance of Agriculture in National Defense". Tours of experimental work at Blacksburg will have an important place on the program. As in the past, excellent furnished rooms may be had in the college dormitories for the nominal charge of 50c per day and good meals will be available in the college dining halls for 35c each or $1.00 per day. About 1,500 rural people from every Virginia county meet at this time each year for three days on the V. P. I. Campus. Programs will be supplied by the County Agents office upon request. The inspection tours of results of animal and crop experimental work being carried out on the State Experiment Farm are alone well worth the time and expense required for attending the annual farm meeting.

"God" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 6.

The Golden Text will be "I am the Lord thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour" (Isa. 43:3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And God spake all these words, saying, I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me" (Ex. 20:1-3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The human mind has been an idolater from the beginning, having other gods and believing in more than the one Mind" (p. 186).

NEW PHONE EXPENDITURES ARE AUTHORIZED

Expenditures amounting to approximately $2,000,000 for the construction of telephone plants and installation of equipment in the state of Virginia were authorized by the directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia at their regular meeting today, according to a statement by R. C. McCann, vice president and general manager. This brings the total amount authorized during the first six months of 1941 to $5,750,000, an increase of 42 per cent over the first half of 1940.

$1,105,000 will be spent for the day-to-day work of installing, disconnecting and moving telephone facilities on subscribers' premises and for minor outside plant construction during the third quarter of 1941. This amount is about 40 per cent the amount spent during the same period of last year, due to the growing demand for telephone service resulting from defense activities throughout the state.

More than $378,000 will be spent to install additional equipment in central offices at Alexandria, Hopewell and Richmond.

Approximately $124,000 was authorized to provide new toll offices at Fredericksburg and Lee Hall where National Defense activities have brought about an increase in telephone service.

The localities now served by the state police teletypewriter system will be increased from thirty to thirty-three with the expenditure of approximately $27,000 for additional equipment to connect Farmville, South Boston and Williamsburg to the teletypewriter system.

Also included is the sum of $96,000 for new cables in several sections of the state.

English Writer Says Control Over Foods Can Safeguard Imports from the Nazis

A clipping just received from London, England, contains an article entitled: "The Feeding of Children In Occupied Areas" which urges that steps be taken to this end. It is written by Edith M. Pye, member of the Executive Committee For War Refugees In Great Britain, and appeared originally in the monthly news sheet of the Women's International League. The following are extracts:

"The question of feeding by American of civilian populations in occupied countries and in unoccupied France is an extremely complicated one. There is some evidence for the belief that Germany would welcome it, and it is partly on this account that many people reject the idea, believing that it would minimize the effect of the blockade and prolong the war."

"The question of control would be extremely difficult if it were proposed to bring in sufficient food to feed whole populations in these countries. But the proposal to feed children, including nursing mothers, comes under a different category, since experience has proved that control is perfectly possible.

"There is a theory that if a population is sufficiently starved it will be stimulated to revolt and to create disorder which will lead to the overthrow of the occupying power. However, experience in Germany and in Spain seems to show that starvation, especially where the process is gradual, merely creates apathy and despair and takes away all possibility of energetic action. If it happens in the present instance, with the apathy and despair will come hatred, not of the occupying Power, but of the Powers who by means of blockade have assisted in bringing about starvation, and whose share will be magnified by the Occupying Powers, by every device of propaganda, since to increase hatred for this country is one of her war methods."

"It will not be to Germany's interest to feed the populations she has occupied, since she can put upon Great Britain the whole blame for shortages."

HOW THE NAZIS

WERE STOPPED

The terrific Nazi air raids on Britain last September were intended to open the way for invasion, in the opinion of many military experts. But the Royal Air Force took to the sky and, in a single day, shot down 185 enemy planes. That was the so-called "Battle of London".

A Canadian pilot who participated in this historic battle recounts his experiences in an illustrated article scheduled for publication in The Washington Star of Sunday, July 6.

The intensive training program of the First Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force, is being continued as an even greater pace in preparation for any emergency, it was made known here in an announcement by Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox.

The fleet unit of the United States Marine Corps, which returned to the United States in April after several months of rugged training maneuvers in the Caribbean and at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, has been continuing its fast program at Marine Corps bases at Quantico, and Parris Island, S. C. The force is developing and improving upon new techniques in landing operations in conjunction with ships of the Atlantic fleet.

The First Marine Division moved into the Caribbean area in October, 1940, and carried on rigorous joint operations with the fleet throughout the winter.

In February the Marines conducted strenuous maneuvers in the area of Puerto Rico.

It has also been announced that the new training area of the First Marine Division at New River, N. C., is well under way and that temporary facilities for 6000 soldiers of the sea will be completed by July 1.

Additional training facilities have been added to the Marine Base at Quantico, including motor transport, amphibian tractor, water distillation, demolition, camouflage, and signal communication schools.

Thanks to all who attended and assisted.

SERVICE MEN GREAT DRINKERS OF COFFEE

Washington, June—Uncle Sam's military and naval men are heavy drinkers—of coffee.

An inquiring reporter once made a check at the Commerce, War and Navy Departments and discovered that three times as much coffee is consumed per capita by service men—soldiers, sailors and marines—as by civilians.

His inquiry also showed that blue-jackets and marines who serve at sea consume an average of 36 pounds of coffee a year, or about two pounds more than that consumed by soldiers.

Coffee, or "Java" as it is usually called in the Navy and Marine Corps, has always been a popular beverage and has been gaining in popularity ever since the last grog ration disappeared from aboard ship in 1862.

All alcoholic beverages were banished from wardrooms of the Navy before the first World War, and even then coffee was the preferred drink of a large part of the naval personnel. It is always available and is served to men before and after "watches".

Marine Corps orders direct that, under certain travel conditions, a marine will be allowed one pint of coffee per meal. When officers aboard ship get together to discuss news from home and incidents of ship life, the by-word is: "Let's have a cup of coffee".

BETTER TO BE SAFE THAN TO BE SORRY, RED CROSS WARNS

The Fourth of July week end will be even more hazardous than in previous years because of increased congestion on the highways and at resort and recreational centers resulting in part from National Defense activities, it was pointed out by Harold F. Enlow, director of First Aid, Water Safety and Accident Prevention of the American Red Cross.

Traffic death figures for the first three months of 1941 released by the National Safety Council, reveal that if the present rate continues, the total for this year will surpass 40,000 deaths—an all-time high. Highway fatalities last year totaled 34,000—an increase of seven percent over the total for 1939. Deaths from drowning each year average approximately 7,000.

The vacationist must not only see to his own safety, but must anticipate the carelessness of others, Mr. Enlow warned. The mistake of one motorist may result in fatality to those who may be obeying all the rules of the road.

This year's list of accidental deaths and injuries will be largely

COLORED COUPLE CELEBRATES 50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Winter W. Ford gave a most enjoyable reception to more than 200 of their relatives and friends in their home on Liberty street, Manassas. The lovely couple, Winter W. Ford and Channie Stokes, were married on June 24, 1891; and are the proud parents of four sons and four daughters, all of whom are now married and live in the District of Columbia, where they have employment in the Federal service. There are quite a number of grandchildren, all of whom were in attendance with their parents at the reception.

A handsome purse of money, quite suitable to the occasion, was lovingly tendered to the distinguished couple; also, their children gave them a most magnificent, consolidated purse of money. A very large display of table service wares were also presented to them by their children and many friends, which were very attractive and in strict harmony with the grand occasion; and brought great applause and admiration from the friends assembled. The twenty-pound wedding cake was grand; and the honored couple of fifty years were tastefully dressed and gowned to suit the happy occasion. For obvious reasons, the reception was held on Sunday, June 22, from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m.

VIRGINIA TREES

By William Harrison Lamb

Manassas :: Virginia

Volume 1 of this valuable publication explains just how our native trees are associated in the forest and how they should be handled to the best advantage.

Detailed descriptions and illustrations of each species are carried in this volume through the commercially important group known as the conifers and a complete checklist of all Virginia hardwood species is included.

Students, boy-scouts, farmers, timber-land owners and nature-lovers generally will derive as much pleasure and profit from this book as will the professional forester. Orders are now being accepted for immediate delivery.

DAVIS SUPPORTS DARDEN

Former Governor Westmoreland Davis, publisher of the Loudoun Times-Mirror, has announced his support of Colgate W. Darden, jr., for the governorship of Virginia. A front-page editorial in the newspaper, headed "Darden For Governor" stated "The Loudoun Times-Mirror and those who direct its policy will support Colgate W. Darden, jr." "We find," the editorial stated in part, "the great Southwest, with Governor James H. Price, Hon. John W. Flannagan, jr., and those in public life who are always loyal to the Democratic Party and to our great President early in support of Darden's candidacy."
