WAGENER MAKES VALUABLE GIFT

Former Journal Editor Presents Collection to Library.

The Ruffner-Carnegie Library has recently received a very considerable gift of books from Mr. Clarence Wagener, an alumnus of the local high school, a former editor of the "Manassas Journal" and a member of the staff of the Baltimore Sun for a number of years.

The 400 books in the collection were a part of Mr. Wagener's very considerable private library, and will be a most welcome addition to the Ruffner-Carnegie Library's resources. The collection contains about 65 volumes of recent and standard fiction; a considerable number of books on contemporary world conditions in Europe and the East, and on American problems and policies; a number of recent biographies; a collection of poets and essayists including some outstanding modern writers; a number of travel books, among them some very finely illustrated and expensive editions on England, Italy, Egypt and Palestine; standard books on economics, history and civics including a fine edition of Bryce's "American Commonwealth"; some excellent material on art and science; and, finally a considerable collection of books on child and adolescent training. These last were sent especially for the Parent-Teacher section recently arranged for in the Library.

Mr. Wagener, it will be remembered, has contributed very materially to the growing interest in and use of the Library, both by his numerous gifts of books, and by his offer of a prize for the last two years for the best book review of the year by the high school English pupils. As the book reviews are published weekly by the courtesy of the Journal, the plan offers an admirable opportunity to bring worthwhile books before the public. His new generous contribution, while conducting to various interests has also added materially to the Library's collection of books on modern world conditions and on problems of modern democracy. Mr. Archibald McLaughlin, the new head of the Library of Congress, contends that libraries can actively stress the meaning of democracy. Among his plans for such a campaign he has established a "democratic alcove" in the main reading room containing outstanding books on democratic theory and history, which may spur up the general readers interest in the system under which he lives.

If libraries throughout the country follow the example of the Library of Congress, they may well become a dynamic force in stressing the meaning and value of democracy. Mr. Wagener's notable contribution helps our home library materially in following this distinguished example.

STAGGS HEADS LEGION

Officers were elected at the regular meeting of the local Post of the American Legion on Tuesday night. County Engineer W. C. Staggs was elected commander, succeeding Councilman E. G. Parrish, who has held this position for several years. Under Parrish's leadership the Post attained the largest membership in its history and is now in a position to take a larger part in civic affairs.

Other officers elected were vice commander A. O. Beane; 2nd Vice Commander Ernest C. Spitzer; 3rd Vice Commander Dr. W. C. Payne; Adjutant and Chaplain John M. DeChant; Finance Officer W. N. Curtis; Sergeant at Arms W. L. Coverston; Service Officer Miss Margaret Lynch; and Historian E. G. Parrish.

Edward Jasper, of Osborn High School, who was sent by the Legion to the Old Dominion Boys at V. P. I., was present and gave a most interesting and enthusiastic account of his experiences. Francis Joyce, of Nokesville, also a Legion delegate to Boys State, was unable to be present but will make his report at a later date.

The annual meeting of the Department of Virginia American Legion will be held in Alexandria August 17-20. Delegates to this meeting will be chosen when the local Post meets on August 12.

MANEUVERS HERE AGAIN

Army officers have been active in this area during the past week securing leases for an encampment of the 2nd Division, composed mostly of Virginia and Maryland Militia, with Gen. Milton Reckord in command.

Many of these lads were here with us two years ago and will be welcomed back. The maneuvers will be over much of the same ground on and about the Henry Farm. The camp itself will probably be located south of the town.

U. D. C. STUDIES MORE WAR HEROES

Mrs. Hibbs Reads Interesting Historical Paper.

The Manassas Chapter U. D. C. met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert A. Hutchison.

Mrs. Frank Peters was acting hostess for Mrs. Thomas E. Didlake, who was out of town. In the historical period, Mrs. E. H. Hibbs read an interesting paper on the life of Sam Houston, Louisiana jurist.

Mr. McEvery being Governor, and Mr. Nicholls Lieut. Gov. of Louisiana during the reconstruction days.

Mrs. McDuff Green, jr., read an article from the U. D. C. Bulletin telling of the dedication of Belvoir, home of Jefferson Davis after his release from Fortress Monroe.

Mrs. Green also read a poem, sent her by Mrs. James Connor, clipped from an old paper, entitled, "The Old Flag Forever". It is worth reprinting.

The Old Flag Forever
She's up there—Old Glory—where lightnings are sped.

She dazzles the nations with ripples of red,
And she'll wave for us living, or drop o'er us, dead.

The flag of our country forever.

She's up there—Old Glory—how bright the stars stream,
And the stripes like red signs of liberty gleam;
And we dare for her living, or dream the last dream

'Neath the flag of our country forever.

She's up there—Old Glory—no tyrant death scars,
No blur on her brightness, no stain on her stars.

The brave blood of heroes has crimsoned her bars—
She's the flag of our country forever.

As District Chairman, Mrs. Green reported, she had sold for this year 105 copies of U. D. C. minutes, and exhibited the book she had ordered for the chapter, "United Daughters of the Confederacy History".

Mrs. Lewis J. Carper, Mrs. R. L. Byrd, and Mrs. Maude Kinchele, were named as a committee to nominate chapter officers for the ensuing year. It was voted to dispense with the August meeting this year, and the July and August ones hereafter. At the close of the meeting cooling refreshments were served, and a social hour enjoyed.

CIVILIAN REGISTRATION IN CENTREVILLE DISTRICT

The places of registration for Saturday's civilian registration in Centreville District and the persons who will set have just been released by the District Chairman, R. D. Wharton. They are as follows:

Clifton—Mrs. Helen Buckley, Masonic Hall, hours 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Fairfax Station (Swetnam's)—Mrs. Dorothy Brown Collier, Fairview School, hours 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Pender—Mrs. Ray Gooding, home, hours 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Centreville—Mr. Lester Mohler—Store, hours, regular business hours. Wells—Mrs. Daisy Wells, home and store, hours 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Except to observe county lines preferably, no one is restricted by political boundaries and may register at the most convenient place.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey E. Ferguson, of Clarksburg, W. Va., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Swartz and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sines, of Nokesville.

THE KEY TO THE CITY

SPEAKS ON MEANING OF INDEPENDENCE DAY

Col. Hutchison was the program speaker at the weekly meeting of the Manassas Kiwanis Club which was held on Thursday evening of last week, the advanced date being because of the regular day being a holiday.

Using Independence Day as a theme for his address, Col. Hutchison made a very scholarly and thoughtful talk on the real meaning of true independence. He urged the seriousness of the hour and the need for individual thinking and action by which the government would truly represent the people in freedom and not in mere servitude.

The club welcomed back President Frank who had been on a two-weeks vacation.

FOOD SALE

The Young People's Division of the Methodist Church will sponsor a food sale in the window of Cocks' Pharmacy, Saturday, July 12.

There will be cakes, pies, candy, and chickens for sale.

RICHARD WAYNE PATTIE

"To Live in Hearts We Leave Behind is Not to Die"

A great wave of sorrow swept over our community Tuesday afternoon, July 1, 1941, when Richard Wayne Pattie passed so suddenly from us into the keeping of the Great and Good Heavenly Father.

His going was the result of an accident which occurred shortly after noon on the farm of Mr. J. W. Alvey, where he was assisting in the wheat threshing. He was immediately rushed to his home and a physician summoned, but in less than half an hour he had peacefully fallen asleep without a sign of pain or suffering on his countenance.

Wayne was born at "Bellefarm", Catharpin, Va., on June 8, 1924, and was 17 years and 23 days old. He was the son of Luther Jett Pattie and his wife, Bertha Jefferson Polen. He was of a happy, fun-loving disposition, and a great favorite among his friends and schoolmates and teachers. He was very alert in thought and action. His lessons were learned seemingly without effort. He was graduated among the highest in his class from Haymarket High School, June 5, 1941. Shortly afterward, he was among the group of students who accompanied Prof. R. R. Fishpaw to the F. F. A. Rally at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in Blacksburg. While there he was awarded a gold medal, emblem of the 3rd degree in the Future Farmers of America, which is presented to those who have attained a high standard of efficiency in Vocational Agriculture.

Very recently he volunteered his services in our defense program as an Airplane Observer at a post to be established near his home.

He was a member of Sudley Me-

WOULD LIKE TO HEAR FROM ANYONE

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ellenberger, of 744 Coleman ave., Johnstown, Pa., were in Manassas last Saturday and Mr. Ellenberger, who was born in Manassas in 1909, would like to communicate with anyone who remembers his father, Mr. Melville E. Whipp, who was a railroad employee. Mr. Ellenberger when only a few days old was adopted by an aunt at the death of his mother.

BETHLEHEM CLUB TO MEET AT GREENWICH

The Bethlehem Club will meet at the Manse, Greenwich on Wednesday, July 16, at 2:30 p.m., with Mrs. Washington and Mrs. Middleton serving as hostesses.

LINE WORKER INJURED THIS AFTERNOON

Leroy Wells employed by the Bull Run Power Company was injured this afternoon at Camp No. 3, National Park Service. No details are available as yet as to what caused the accident or the extent of the injury.

GIVE THE FIRE DEPT. A CLEAR RIGHT-OF-WAY

Attention is directed to neglect generally of the ordinance regarding traffic during the time that fire calls are being answered.

It is a fact that members of the department are subjected to bodily harm by trying to get through to take their places because of the fact that drivers will not give them a perfectly clear right-of-way.

The ordinance requires that drivers not only give way entirely to oncoming fire engines but that they must cede the same privilege to the firemen themselves while speeding to the fire house.

We have been fortunate enough thus far to escape a serious accident but no one can tell when a thoughtless act will precipitate a fatality or some bad smash-up. No amount of regret or sorrow afterward will undo the damage thus brought about.

DRIVE TO THE CURB AND STOP ENTIRELY UNTIL ANY APPROACHING VEHICLE SOUNDING A SIREN HAS PASSED.

FIRE DEPT. NOW IN FIRST PLACE

Chamber of Commerce Finally Scores a Win at Soft Ball.

The Fire Department softball team moved into first place in the Community League as they played to a 12-12 tie with the American Legion team.

The Chamber of Commerce team finally broke into the win column and knocked the Kiwanis team from first place with a well earned 6-3 victory.

The Chamber of Commerce team scored most of their runs in the early innings and staved off the late inning rally of the Kiwanians to bring their first win in five starts. Breen and S. Vetter were the hitting stars of the game and the team as a whole played good defensive ball. Beeton, S. Saunders, and Fox collected two hits apiece to lead the attack for the losers. Leith hit for the circuit in the last inning.

In the other game, the American Legion and Fire Department teams played a closely contested game and finally ending in a 12-12 deadlock. The score was tied four times during the game when the American Legion overcame a one run deficit in the last inning to knot the score. Byrd, Bourne, and Rohr lead the hitting assault for the American Legion team and Sinclair, Albrite, and O. Kline leading the attack for the Fire Department. Sinclair collected five hits in as many trips to the plate.

Since the heavy rains seem to have passed the parents are urged to send their children to the playground during the day so that they may enjoy the many games that are played.

VIRGINIA AN ENEMY TARGET

Experts Declare This Area Open to Attack.

By Walter Karig

Jittery New York City and nervous Boston, self-importantly clamoring for more anti-aircraft defenses than the Army and Navy could ever supply, would be far safer from an enemy attack in the event of war than the west banks of Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac river.

In fact, students of military strategy declare, an enemy who wanted to account for the greatest damage to the United States' resources and civilian morale would concentrate his deadliest effort against eastern and northern Virginia and the District of Columbia. From Norfolk to Anacostia the region is dotted with vital defense industries and military and naval concentrations. Like precious gems strung along the silver thread of the Chesapeake's and Potomac's waters are naval bases and flying fields, powder factories and proving grounds. In Northern Virginia live hundreds of the most important executives in the Army, the Navy and the civilian establishments of the federal government.

Manhattan could be reduced to a twenty-mile long ash heap, and the fighting strength and the morale of the United States would not suffer. The potential enemies of the United States know that. Offensive operations against the great cities of the north, say the men whose business it is to know, would be wholly served by a combination mine and submarine blockade of New York and Boston harbors. The bombs and the costly airplanes which the enemy would have to calculate upon sacrificing would be reserved for this area.

This is not alarmist talk. It is a cold-blooded, unemotional appraisal of the facts, and it is straight from headquarters. It is the most compelling argument for civilian defense registration and organization that can be offered.

Of course if you take stubborn refuge in the assertion that "there ain't going to be no war" you might as well stop reading this, and turn at once to the comics. But for the realists, for those who may want no war and who would resist our entry into conflict but who realize we may have no choice except to defend ourselves against attack, this is of personal importance.

Even though an attack upon this region were beaten off, incalculable damage would be an inevitable consequence. Even if not one of the military targets were struck by the enemy bombers, vast wreckage to highways, homes and farms would be wrought. Though the defending forces, which are concentrated in this area to a larger extent than those who live in it realize, accounted for every enemy airplane, the terror and the confusion such a battle in our skies would produce are awful to contemplate. Only a self-disciplined, well organized civilian defense system will be able to withstand the paralyzing shock of such an attack, for in modern war the disorganization of the non-combatants is as important to the aggressor as the destruction of the defenders. One great contribution to the defeat of the Allied forces in Holland, Belgium and Northern France was the panic of the civilians who rushed blindly for escape, clogging the roads, hampering the defenders, and offering a prime target for the enemy machine gunners who filled the highways with the corpses of the women, the children and the aged.

Every resident should, and must be determined to know what to do and to be trained to do it, in the defense of home and country.

Modern, total war is directed against civilians, and in combatting it the civilian has just as important a job to do as the man behind the gun, be it an anti-aircraft gun or an airplane's artillery.

It isn't playing games, therefore, to register as an airplane spotter, a fire warden, a first-aid worker, hospital attendant, canteen operator or typist, automobile driver, what have-

AN APPRECIATION

Knowing that it is impossible to reach each one with individual notes, we desire to express to our friends our deepest appreciation of their kind acts of sympathy during our sorrow
in the loss of our dear son and brother, Richard Wayne Pattie, and for the beautiful flowers.

The L. J. Pattie family.

OCCOQUAN AND VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Lynn, of Occoquan, spent the week-end visiting at Mrs. Lynn's home in Back Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Petellat, of Occoquan, with their son, LeRoy, and daughter, Mary, and Junior Beach, motored to Fort Jackson, S. C., during the week end, to visit Harvey Petellat, who is stationed there, in the regular army. They reported having a very pleasant visit there.
Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Wilcher, of Washington, D. C., were holiday guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilcher
in Occoquan.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams
of Stafford were week-end guests of Mr.
and Roger Sanford in Occoquan.

Mrs. R. Warthen Hall has returned to her home in Occoquan, after spending several months in Charlottesville, for her health. We are glad to have her back with us again; and glad to see her look so well, and trust
she is on her way to full recovery.

Miss Etta Davis and Mrs. Campbell of Featherstone entertained a number of her lady friends at luncheon last week. Those good ladies always entertain pleasing and homey manner that one ever fails to accept their invitation.

Mrs. Fred A. Barnes of Rock Ledge, Occoquan, entertained some of her lady friends at luncheon to meet with her sister who was visiting her for a few days.

The Corinthian Yacht Club of Washington, D. C., held their mid year rendezvous at Occoquan on July 5-6. There was a large assemblage of yachts, with a large number of members and friends. They held a special entertainment program on the wharf in rear of Mr. R. S. Hall's home, after which they had EATS in the basement of Mr. Hall's new apartment building. We are always glad to have those GOOD FOLKS come to our town, and sorry they do not come oftener. They can always feel assured that while in our town they have the freedom of the town "and are considered citizens of our town during their stay". Heretofore they held their mid year rendezvous at Gunston Cove, but they have found the water and other facilities at Occoquan are much better than to Gunston Cove. We hope to expect them often in future.

Miss Evelyn Herring has been reappointed principal and teacher of Wide Water School and she has accepted the position.

Miss Evelyn Herring and Mrs. Herring, motored to New York Saturday to spend a week with Dr. and Mrs. Cajigas.

Mrs. Pat Davis will join them in New York and they will make a tour of Canada and other points north.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY MEETING

The W. M. N. of the Baptist Church will be held at the home of Mrs.
Robert A. Hutchison on Tuesday,
July 15.

There will be a missionary study class in the morning beginning at 10:30 o'clock.

Mrs. David Ferguson will conduct the class. Lunch and social hour at noon.

The regular monthly meeting will be held in the afternoon at 2:30 o'- clock, Mrs. John Broadus will have charge of the program.

ON THE WAY

July 29-August 1, days of special interest of Virginia farmers and farm women, are not far off. Now that July has begun it will not be necessary to turn another leaf on the calendar before it is time to start for V. P. I. to attend the annual meetings of the Institute of Rural Affairs, State Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs and State Farmers Institute. And if anyone is interested in the meeting of the Agricultural Conference Board they should get to Blacksburg early in the morning of July 29. The officers of the State Federation have been asked by their president, Mrs. H. H.
Walton, to come to an executive board meeting Monday, July 28, and the regular business session of the Federation will begin at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

This will be the thirteenth meeting of the Institute of Rural Affairs at V. P. I. and, as in past years, the Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, the Farmers Institute and the Agricultural Conference Board will have their annual meetings concurrently with the sessions of the Institute; this year there will be a special section for older farm youth.
The morning and afternoon of July 29 will be given over to special meetings of these and other organizations, and the Institute proper will begin that evening in the auditorium of the T. and A. building, with its seating capacity of three thousand people.
Dr. Julian A. Burruss, president of V. P. I., will formally welcome the visitors to the college and present certificates of merit to the two people
the board of visitors selected to receive these certificates for outstanding service to the state from a list submitted by the staff of the College of Agriculture. There will be an address at this first session on "Pan-American Solidarity" by an outstanding authority, and a special program of music. The evening will end with a social hour in the War Memorial Hall gymnasium when all the folks will have a chance to get acquainted.

The general theme of the Institute this year will be "The Impacts of National Defense on Agriculture", and every effort is being made to secure men and women of national reputation as speakers and discussion leaders. Between now and time for the meetings the names of those who it is definitely known will be on will be given through the papers, and the complete program will be ready for distribution well in advance of the meetings.

The usual arrangements for the accommodation of all who will come
are being made at the usual reasonable rates for room and board. Committees are busy now with plans for the pleasure and comfort of the men and women of this and other states who have come to look on these three summer days and nights at V. P. I.
as a part, and a mighty pleasant
part, of their "vacation", something they all need in these days of hard work on the farm and in the home.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Sacrament" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 13.

The Golden Text will be "A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.
By this shall all men know that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another" (John 13:35).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus, walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net
into the sea: for they were fishers.
And he saith unto them, Follow me,
and I will make you fishers of men" (Matt. 18:29).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus established in the Christian era the precedent for all Christianity, theology, and healing. Christians are under as direct orders now, as they were then, to be Christlike, to possess the Christ-spirit, to follow the Christ-example, and to heal the sick
as well as the sinning" (p. 138).

WOMBLE-LEGALLAIS

A marriage of unusual interest to the young set in this section of Virginia took place June 30, at 5:30
p. m. in the Emmanuel Chapel of the Theological Seminary near Alexandria, the Rt. Rev. Edwin A. Penick, Bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina, officiating.

The bride, Miss Lucy LeGallais,
entered the Chapel at the appointed time to the beautifully rendered strains of the wedding march escorted by her cousin, Dr. Frederick Yates Williamson of Washington, D.
C., who gave her in marriage. She was attired in a gown of white silk marquise with lace, fashioned with full skirt. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a tiara of orange blossoms. On her right hand she wore her great grandmother's wedding ring and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and baby's breath.

The matron of honor was Mrs.
Edward James Carter of Brooklyn, N. Y. She wore pink organdie with picture hat and matching accessories and carried pink and blue larkspur.

Master Edward Randolph LeGallais, nephew of the bride, dressed in white, carried the wedding ring on a white satin pillow.

The groom, Rev. Rufus J. Womble
of Roxboro, N. C., rector of St.
Mark's Episcopal Church in Roxboro,
was attended by his father, Mr.
Edgar A. Womble of Raleigh, N. C.

The bride's mother wore dark blue chiffon, with matching accessories
and a corsage of Talisman roses.
The groom's mother wore white fantasia with corsage of Talisman roses.

The music was rendered by Mr.
Edgar Long, of Roxboro, and included Schubert's "Ave Maria", Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Love",
"Leibstraum" and "Traumerei" and the wedding marches.

The ushers were Mr. Howard Lee
Williamson, Jr., cousin of the bride,
Mr. John C. Link of Raleigh; Mr.
Willis Thompson of Raleigh, and the Rev. John Peabody of Arlington.

The bride and groom followed the friendly custom of greeting their friends in the vestibule of the chapel,
after which they left for a motor trip through Canada and the New England states.

The bride chose for her going away costume Sahara rose crepe ensemble with brown and beige accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Rev. and Mrs. Womble will be at home in Roxboro after July 18.

COMPREGNATED WOOD

A NEW MATERIAL

Representatives of the army, navy,
and aircraft manufacturers have followed with interest a process of com-pregnated wood, which may be useful in producing a smooth, tough,
and durable material for fuselages
and wing covering for airplanes, that has been developed at the Forest Products Laboratory, Madison, Wis., a research unit of the Forest Service,
U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In making this product thin sheets
of wood were treated with resin forming chemicals and then compressed by means of heat and pressure into a material impossible to make by the old method of treating wood so that it can be molded. The new method differs from ordinary gulling in that the resin chemically binds together the wood cells when the wood is pressed.

The Forest Products Laboratory
test samples showed the new material to be as smooth and as hard as glass and practically free from warping and shrinking. Although machining much harder than wood, but easier than steel, it can be tolled to any desired shape. Chemists at the Laboratory report that the material is highly resistant to alcohol and water, indicating it being more resistant to weather than paint or lacquer.

The smoothness of the material
as well as its good molding properties increase its potential value in plane construction because of the constant effort to get great speed
by reducing wind friction. The material could be used to advantage in making propeller blades varying in specific gravity from one end to the other or even in molding the propellers to their final shape. There is a distinct possibility that the propellers can be molded to the finished dimensions, thus eliminating the exacting lathe work that has been necessary heretofore.

Several other types of uses are also possible for this new material.
It should be highly satisfactory for flooring and paneling in houses. The hard finished surface should be very resistant to marring and grain raising. The upkeep cost should be negligible as no finish, other than the high polish obtained in the molding, is necessary.

Plywood with compressed faces
could be used to advantage in furniture manufacture. The possibility of refinishing by merely sanding and buffing is also of considerable importance.

GAME WARDENS TO STUDY AT BLACKSBURG

Virginia game wardens will travel to Blacksburg this week to attend the annual game wardens' short course which will be held at Virginia Tech on July 10 and 11. Instruction in game management, law enforcement, legal procedure, public relations and other subjects will be given at this in-service training course conducted by the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries with the co-operation of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The annual wardens' pistol match will be held the morning of July 11. Defending pistol champion will be Warden J. M. Reeves, of Galax, who took place in last year's shoot.

Dean H. L. Price will welcome the wardens to the campus on behalf of Virginia Tech. Representatives of the U. S. Forest Service will conduct classes in forest wildlife management, and Dr. E. H. Graham of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service will discuss problems of correlating game management with other practices on farm land. Dr. J. E. Shillinger of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service will give instructions in collecting and preserving birds and mammals in preparation for post mortem examination, and C. O. Handley, Leader of the Virginia Co-operative Wildlife Research Unit will speak on the results of recent research in game management.

Chairman Carl H. Nolting of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, Executive Secretary M. D. Hart, Superintendent of Fish G. W. Buller, Superintendent of Game C. F. Phelps, and the Commission's Director of Education, C. F. DeLaBarre, will also address the wardens attending the course. Other members of the staffs of the various divisions of the Commission will be present to take part in several open forum discussions.

At an evening meeting on July 10 Justus H. Cline, director of the National Wildlife Federation will speak on recent accomplishments in game restoration, and Paul S. Blandford, president of the Virginia Wildlife Federation, will speak on the future of wildlife conservation in Virginia. This meeting will be open to the public, and will be held in the auditorium of the V. P. I. Student Activities Building at 8 p.m.

'MILLION DOLLAR BABY' BRINGS FUND OF FUN

If you've ever wondered what you'd do if you suddenly fell heir to a million dollars, you won't want to miss the Pitt's next attraction, "Million Dollar Baby", which is scheduled to begin its local run on Monday and Tuesday, July 14-15. Starring Priscilla Lane, lovely young star of "Four Daughters", with Jeffrey Lynn, her "Four Daughters" boy friend, and Ronald Reagan, "Million Dollar Baby" is a Cinderella story with a couple of reverse angles.

Priscilla is working in Lacey's basement, demonstrating a wonder-working vegetable cutter when she gets a check for a million dollars. She goes completely berserk, tosses vegetables all over the place, and standing up on the counter, proceeds to unroll the gadget she has been trying to sell all morning. With Jeffrey Lynn, the young lawyer who has delivered the check to her from his client who wishes to remain anonymous, she goes on a wild shopping spree, returns to her boarding house loaded with gifts for everybody there. She runs up against her first obstacle when she finds that her boy friend, Ronald Reagan, a cynical young musician, is anything but delighted at her news. He leaves New York to take a job with a swing band, and she finds herself very lonely, with all her erstwhile friends at the boarding house snubbing her because they are jealous of her good fortune.

When Jeffrey learns how unhappy it is, he betrays his trust to his client and takes Priscilla to her house. The benefactress is a wealthy old expatriate, played by May Robson, who has come home from Switzerland to right a wrong her father did years ago when he cheated the girl's father out of million dollars. She is planning to go right to Europe, but realizes she has not done her full duty by Priscilla by giving her the money. She must also teach her how to enjoy the money. She takes the girl under her wing, teaches her how to dress, act and talk like a debutante, then gives a big coming-out ball for her. At the ball, Jeffrey proposes to her, but Priscilla realizes that it is Ronald she loves. In order to get him back to New York, she arranges to have his symphony play at a concert at Symphony Hall. She meets him backstage during the concert and they are rapturously happy in each other's arms—until the orchestra stops playing. Then the audience's hissing and booing breaks the spell. The symphony is a failure, and Ronald tells her that he is going back to Chicago and write jazz, the only thing he can do well. Real-

'LADY EVE' COMEDY HAS STAMP OF STURGES' WIT

If there still remain some few who hesitate to believe Preston Sturges a genius at handling comedy, a visit Pitt's Theatre, where his new Paramount picture, "The Lady Eve", opens next Thursday and Friday, July 17 and 18, will be enough to convince them that it is time to start singing his praises.

For, with "The Lady Eve", Sturges proves that there is really no word short of that term that would adequately suit this brilliant writer-director. First he gave us "The Great McGinty", following that up with the hilarious "Christmas in July", and now, topping both his previous films, comes "The Lady Eve".

It has been a long time since this reviewer heard such unrestrained laughter as filled the Pitt's Theatre as a great comedy cast went about enacting Sturges' sparkling story of a man in love with one woman, who thinks he marries another, never dreaming they are one and the same person. From this intriguing circumstance stems a number of situations that all work up to explosively hilarious climaxes.

As stars of the picture, both Barbara Stanwyck and Henry Fonda show themselves to be superb comedians in the roles of the romantically mixed-up pair. The supporting cast, even those who have only walk-ons, does a great deal to give this picture its sparkling comedy. Heading the featured cast are Charles Coburn, Eugene Pallette, William Demarest, Eric Blore, Martha O'Driscoll and Luis Allen.

The story begins with Fonda, a snake authority, returning home aboard a cruise ship from an expedition in South America. He meets beautiful Barbara Stanwyck, and her father, Charles Coburn, a pair of Shipboard cardsharps. From then on the picture moves into high speed and stays there. Miss Stanwyck and her father are bent on making Fonda, a scion of a wealthy ale manufacturer, one of their victims. But Miss Stanwyck didn't consider falling in love with the charming yokel-like Henry.

When he finds out she's a cardsharp, the romance is over as far as he's concerned, and he goes off to his wealthy father's home. Thirsting for revenge, Miss Stanwyck poses as the Lady Eve, titled English niece of a former confederate, who has joined the circle of wealthy socialites living in Connecticut and found them easy pickings.

A charming and witty "phony", Miss Stanwyck is readily accepted. Fonda is sure he has met her before, but is convinced she couldn't be the same girl because she has done nothing to disguise herself. He falls in love with her and they're married. Their honeymoon on a train leads up to a climax that had last night's audience roaring with laughter.

In the persons of Miss Stanwyck and Fonda, and the rest of the cast, these characters all come to life with rollicking hilarity. "The Lady Eve" is a comedy you will be laughing about and talking about for some time to come!

PENDER

Alliene Adams is celebrating her eighth birthday today.

Mr. and Mrs. Broadus Alder and Mrs. F. M. Alder returned Sunday from Lansing, N. C., where they were visiting Mrs. Nell Baldwin.

Mrs. F. M. Alder's granddaughter, Mrs. Baldwin, has an 8½ lb. son born on the second of July.

The friends of Mr. Wesley Carter of Lincolnia are glad he is improving after an operation for appendicitis.

There was quite a good attendance at Pender Church Sunday at 9:30 a. m.

Alice Louise Alder celebrated her sixteenth birthday on the eighth with her friends. They are giving her a surprise Tuesday night.

I guess every one is pleased over the good rains.

DAVIS SUPPORTS DARDEN

Former Governor Westmoreland Davis, publisher of the Loudoun Times-Mirror, has announced his support of Colgate W. Darden, jr., for the governorship of Virginia. A front-page editorial in the newspaper, headed "Darden For Governor" stated "The Loudoun Times-Mirror and those who direct its policy will support Colgate W. Darden, jr." "We find," the editorial stated in part, "the great Southwest, with Governor James H. Price, Hon. John W. Flannagan, jr., and those in public life who are always loyal to the Democratic Party and to our great President early in support of Darden's candidacy."

izing that the only way she can get him to marry her is to get rid of her money, she tells Jeffrey to give it away for her, then rushes to the train and Ronald.

COUNTY AGENTS COLUMN

Choose The Breed That Predominates—Keep One Breed

With the increasing tendency toward establishing quality, registered herds of both dairy and beef cattle, the question of which breed to select often arises. Successful livestock breeders recommend that a farmer just starting in with registered, purebred animals select the breed that predominates in his locality. Advantages in having the same breed as his neighbors include the possibility of exchanging sires and of using good purebred sires co-operatively. Where there are all breeds in one locality, there is always the danger of the accidental crossing of breeds and the temptation to use a sire of another breed when one of the same breed is not readily available. When there are many breeders of the same breed in a county or locality, buyers are attracted to that section because of the better chance of getting the desired number of animals with a minimum of time and travel. Selecting the breed that predominates in a county, section or locality is usually good policy from a purely business standpoint as well as because of the fact that farmers working together on developing one breed are usually working together in other civic endeavors. A group of animals, all of one breed, show up much better on the farm or in the sales ring.

Dairy Breed Associations

The various dairy breed associations and clubs maintain offices and forces whose duties are to assist prospective breeders in locating desirable foundation breeding animals, to keep the herdbooks for their respective breeds, to keep records of animals with meritorious performance and to further the interests of the breeds in other ways. The names of these national organizations, the names of their respective secretaries, and their addresses are as follows:

American Guernsey Cattle Club, Karl Musser, Secretary, Peterboro, N. H.

American Jersey Cattle Club, L. W. Morley, Secretary, 324 West Twenty-third street, New York, N. Y.

Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Houghton Seaverns, Secretary, Brattleboro, Vt.

Limed and Fertilized Pastures for Cows

The importance of good pasture for dairy cows is well shown in studies by the United States Department of Agriculture in seven of the leading dairy districts of the country. In these districts pasturage furnished nearly one-third of the total nutrients consumed by the cows during the year. Yet the cost of pasturage was only one-seventh of the total annual feed cost. These studies show that when well fertilized, limed and properly managed pastures are provided, a high yield of milk can be obtained throughout the grazing season with a minimum amount of harvested feed, and labor.

CATHARPIN

Friends of Mrs. Harry J. Ayres will regret to learn that she is quite ill in Georgetown Hospital. We trust that she may be greatly benefited by treatment. She has been visited frequently by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Harrover.

Mrs. E. N. Pattie is in Doctor's Hospital, Washington, where she is satisfactorily recovering from a recent operation.

Mrs. James J. Riley, of Washington, spent the week end with her relatives at the home of Mrs. Bertie Caton.

Miss Mildred Smith, of Atlanta, Ga., recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith.

A little son was recently born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cross at their home at Sudley.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Miller, of Baltimore, visited their parents during the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Doren, and son, of Hoadly Community, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie Sunday afternoon.

CANDIAN CONDUCTOR TO APPEAR AT WATER GATE

Opening the second week of "Sunset Symphonies" concerts, Reginald Stewart, eminent Canadian conductor-pianist, will make his second appearance at the Potomac Water Gate as guest conductor of the National Symphony Orchestra on Monday evening (July 7) at eight o'clock. With him, as soloist, will appear the National Symphony's gifted young concert master, Millard Taylor, who will be heard in the Bruch Violin Concerto in G minor.

On Thursday evening (July 10) Jessica Dragonette, "sweetheart of the air" will be the National Symphony's soloist, returning for her second appearance at the Water Gate in two years by what is called "popular demand". The orchestra on this occasion will be under the direction of Antonia Brico, America's foremost woman conductor.

Three years ago Mr. Stewart, then unknown as a conductor in Washington, made his local debut at the Water Gate. His brilliant performance with the National Symphony on that evening, however, has never been forgotten by those who witnessed it, and each year since then the Summer Concerts Committee has endeavored to bring about a return engagement. This year the Committee was successful, and Mr. Stewart, who founded the famous Promenade Symphony Concerts of Toronto, will conduct on Monday evening a program comprised of Overture to Smetana's "The Bartered Bride", "The Brahms Third Symphony", Warlock's "Capriol Suite", the Bruch Concerto (Mr. Taylor, soloist), Polka and Fugue from Weinberger's "Schwanda".

When Miss Dragonette made her Water Gate debut last summer, every one of the 7000 seats was taken and some two thousand would-be customers had to be turned away. Such an experience, however, is not a new story for the lovely soprano for she holds the longest commercial broadcasting record of any artist and her concert appearances almost invariably set attendance records. For her second

OCCOQUAN

Mr. and Mrs. Bowers, of Purcellville, were Sunday guests of Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Jennings.

Mrs. R. W. Hall, of Alexandria, is receiving treatment at the Blue Ridge sanatorium for several months, returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sealeman on Sunday.

Miss Joan Shepherd, of Alexandria, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Bernard Cross.

Mr. Roy Walker and Mr. George Hendrick, of Winston-Salem, N. C., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Mooney. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Hendrick and daughter and Miss Jane Mooney. Jane expects to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Walker, sr., of Winston-Salem for the remainder of the summer.

Mrs. Tyson Janney, of Alexandria, is staying with her son, Mr. H. M. Janney during the absence of Mrs. Janney who is ill in Alexandria.

Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Beach, of Richmond, were week-end guests of relatives here.

GEMS OF THOUGHT SERVICE Elements of Happiness

Happiness is the legitimate fruitage of love and service.—Arthur S. Hardy.

Seek happiness for its own sake, and you will not find it; seek for duty, and happiness will follow as the shadow comes with the sunshine.—Tryon Edwards.

If the principles of contentment are not within us, the height of station and worldly grandeur will as soon add a cubit to a man's stature as to his happiness.—Sterne.

Pure humanity, friendship, home, the interchange of love, bring to earth a foretaste of heaven. They unite terrestrial and celestial joys, and crown them with blessings infinite.—Mary Baker Eddy.

There is little pleasure in the world that is sincere and true beside that of doing our duty and doing good. No other is comparable to this.—Tillotson.

An act of goodness is of itself an act of happiness. No reward coming after the event can compare with the sweet reward that went with it.—Maurice Maeterlinck.

Chessie Chats

Besides all their rolling stock, the American railroads operate 1,989 units of "floating stock"—steamboats, tugboats, barges, scows, car floats, ferries and other floating equipment. Chesapeake and Ohio has sixteen floating units.

Over a million tons of forest products were shipped over C. and O. last year... lumber, millwork, pulp, crate and box materials, built-up woods and finished of thousands of big freight jobs handled regularly by Chesapeake and Ohio!

Because of better locomotives and rolling stock, improved signaling systems and terminals, the railroads now turn out more than twice as much transportation service per train hour as they did in 1918.

TRIMETHYLENETRINITRAMINE, CHLORVINYLDICHLORARSINE and TRINITRONAPHTHALENE are some of the names railroad traffic men are running up against these days! Yes, you guessed it, they're materials essential to National Defense.

Coal mines shipping via Chesapeake and Ohio in one year loaded more than 1,000,000 coal cars—enough to have made up a double string of cars from San Francisco, Cal., to Newport News, Virginia.

Call your Chesapeake and Ohio Ticker Agent today and ask him about the Chessie TRAVEL PACKAGE! It's the carefree way to travel!

The railroads are good spenders! In 1940 they spent approximately $850,000,000 for fuel, supplies and materials—an increase of $81,000,000 compared to the preceding year.

CIVILIAN VOLUNTEER REGISTRATION

We cannot too strongly urge every able-bodied citizen, white and colored, to register for volunteer service on Saturday, July 12.

The national emergency and danger is much greater than you may think and your country needs you help, even if you are only able to give a few hours occasionally.

Find out where your local place of registration is and fill out a card at once. In many localities they are not waiting until Saturday but registering now.

What is your answer to Hitler's boast that Americans are too selfish and too greedy for personal profit in everything they do, to really come to their government's aid in time to prevent his final victory?

KLINE-SENSENEY

Miss Mary V. Senseney, daughter, of Mr. Elworth Senseney, and niece of Mrs. Allen C. Harley, and Mr. Everett Lewis Kline, son of the Rev. and Mrs. John M. Kline, were married at 7 o'clock, on June 28, in the Manassas church of the Brethren, which was decorated with ferns and flowers and with lighted candles.

The Rev. E. E. Blough performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Hugh Garner. Mrs. Loren Simpson was at the piano and solos were sung by Miss Jessie Mae Conner.

The bride was gown in white chiffon and lace. Her finger-tip veil of tulle fell from a lace halo and was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Sara M. Senseney, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was gown in yellow chiffon fashioned like that of the bride, and carried a bouquet of garden flowers tied with blue satin streamers.

Little Miss Sylvia Kline was flower girl. She was gown in white trimmed in pink ribbon.

Mr. Paul Kline, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Mr. Orrin and Mr. Claron, brothers, of the groom, and Mr. Wilson Harley and Mr. Gilbert Rollins, of the bride.

The reception which followed the ceremony, was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Allen Harley.

Out-of-town guests here for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Emory Senseney, Harrisonburg, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kline, Bridgewater; Mr. and

FORMER MANASSAS RESIDENT
GETS LETTER FROM ENGLAND

"I am writing this in my big kitchen, while directing the packing and arranging of baskets of fruits and vegetables. We have had an 'Alert' since early morning, and bombs have been falling near enough to rattle things. However I am as safe in the kitchen as anywhere."

This calm acceptance of danger was written in a recent letter to Mrs. Leo Kasehagen, 1353 Jefferson street, Northwest, by her sister, Mrs. Frederick Carpenter Holland Griffith, whose home, Biddenham Close, is near London. In the letter Mrs. Kasehagen, a member of Monticello Chapter, D. A. R., received word of activities of several D. A. R. friends in war relief work in London.

"Taxes are up again, but no one seems to mind. We must win the war, else what is the good of anything?" Mrs. Griffith wrote.

Mrs. Griffith made little ado about deprivations, but did mention casually that "the rector's wife just came in to bring me an orange, the first I've had since Christmas."

Her gardens are producing fruits and vegetables sufficient for her to send out 100 packages to friends, hospitals and canteens, she said.

Mrs. Griffith attended a luncheon given by the American Chamber of Commerce in London in honor of Ambassador Winant, a week after she went to the American Women's Club luncheon for the Winants. "I am glad I didn't spend the intervening week in London as my friends tried to persuade me to do, as the place where I would have been sleeping got bombed," she said.

At the Sesame Club, a place of assembly for the voluntary workers, "I found Mrs. George Straken, one of our D. A. R. members doing her bit as one of the receivers of the garments," she reported.

"I was thrilled with the layette obtained from the W. V. S. for the little son born to one of my evacuees. The husband is the sailor about whom I told you, who took part in the battle of the Graf Spee and in the rescue work of the Benares survivors. The layette had a woven label, 'American Red Cross' and written in indelible ink were the words, 'Kent County, Maryland'."

you. If that is silly and alarmist, then it is silly and scare-mongering to take out fire insurance, and to have your automobile inspected. If every non-combatant, man and woman and half-grown child knows what to do in the evil moment that word is flashed of an aerial invasion of this region, then the damage an enemy can do is reduced to its lowest terms and the efficiency of our fighting forces multiplied in proportion.

The doubter has a final question: How on earth can enemy airplanes reach Virginia in damaging force? Let us forget bombers with a payload cruising range of 5,000 miles and more; let us discount the chances of any enemy obtaining bases in this hemisphere at shorter than trans-oceanic range. Two or three or four airplane carriers, sneaking up to within a few hundred miles of the Virginia coast, could and would launch a couple of hundred bombers manned by suicide crews who knew their fate will be death or internment, for a simultaneous attack that would include in its objectives the north-south and east-west railways and highways—and the more crowded with panic-stricken refugees the better.

Register on July 12, not only to do your part for your state and your country, but for the selfish reasons of self-interest and self-protection.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS ENJOY
MEETING AT ADEN

The annual convention of the Brentsville District Sunday School Association was entertained Sunday, 29, by the United Brethren Church at Aden. The convention opened at 10:30 a.m., with the local church conducting the devotional period. Other contributions followed including an address by our county week day religious instruction, Miss Sanders and short talks by Messrs. Knupp and Beahm, and Mr. L. J. Bowman.

After a bountiful and delicious lunch the meeting was reassembled at 1:30 p.m. The regular program was followed after a brief devotional period. In the business period it was decided to pay $17.80 to the State Council of Religious Education. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, J. W. Ellis; Vice President, F. L. Foster; Secretary-Treasurer, C. M. Beahm.

Prof. C. O. Bittle talked on "Dispel the Shadows of Hunger and Despair". The program was climaxed with an address by Rev. M. C. Miller, who outlined the Christian education advance in Virginia. He also told about the steps taken by the National Council in their Christian Education Program. If the various Sunday Schools are called upon to make an extra contribution to help support this national program, we hope they will give good response.

During the day inspiring musical numbers were contributed by members from the following Sunday schools—Aden, Valley View, Brentsville, Greenwich and Nokesville Church of the Brethren.

We feel the convention was inspirational and effective. The hospitality shown us by the local church and the co-operative spirit of the participants of the program was all appreciated. Much profit can be derived from good Christian fellowship.

MISS SHIRLEY ENTERTAINS
8th VIRGINIA REG'T., U. D. C.

The July meeting of the 8th Virginia Regiment Chapter U. D. C. was held at the home of Miss Margaret Shirley, Friday, July 4.

This has been a yearly occasion for some time, and is looked forward to by every one.

The Waterfall people are noted for their hospitality and they certainly lived up to their reputation at this time.

The Hostesses, Miss Margaret Shirley, Mrs. Randolph Smith, Mrs. R. B. Gossom, and Miss Flora Smith, assisted by Mrs. Henry Thomas of Arlington had prepared delicious refreshments of cake and ice cream, which were served after the program and much enjoyed.

The program consisted of salutes to the U. S. and Confederate flags. Readings by Miss Margaret Shirley, and Mrs. Henry Thomas, patriotic music and the presentation of a book by Misses Shirley and Mary Ewell, the History of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

The book, which is very attractively bound will be a great addition to our library.

Besides the daughters, a number of visitors were present and we adjourned, having spent a delightful afternoon.

VIRGINIA TREES

By William Harrison Lamb

Volume I of this valuable publication explains just how our native trees are associated in the forest and how they should be handled to the best advantage.

Detailed descriptions and illustrations of each species are carried in this volume through the commercially important group known as the conifers and a complete checklist of all Virginia hardwood species is included. Students, boy-scouts, farmers, timber-land owners, and nature-lovers generally will derive as much pleasure and profit from this book as will the professional forester. Orders are now being accepted for immediate delivery.

ROMANCE IN SCIENCE
FURNISHES DRAMA

Wednesday, July 16's, new picture is "Shining Victory", which has its first local showing at the Pitt's Theatre. James Stephenson and Geraldine Fitzgerald are co-starred in the drama, which was written by world-famous novelist, A. J. Cronin, author of "The Citadel", and directed by Irving Rapper.

"Shining Victory" brings to the screen for the first time the mysteries of psychiatry. With bold, masterful strokes, the film lays bare the innermost secrets of a woman's mind. Stephenson who scored such a sensational success in "The Letter", is cast as a psychiatrist, a brilliant young man so intent on his work that he very nearly misses the happiness and love that is his for the taking. Charming and talented Irish Geraldine Fitzgerald, who won so many plaudits for her work in "Wuthering Heights" and "Dark Victory", portrays a young woman doctor who assists Stephenson in his work and falls in love with him after hours. The tender story of their romance is woven through one of the most exciting and unusual dramas ever screened.
