SOFTBALL LEAGUE HOLDS INTEREST

Kiwanis and Fire Department Hold First Place Tie.

The Kiwanis team and the American Legion team played a closely contested game Tuesday with the Kiwanis winning 4-3. Lynn and Douglas pitched beautiful ball throughout the game in allowing only eight hits apiece. Rohr collected three hits during the game.

The Fire Department team stayed a great rally in the last inning to swamp the Chamber of Commerce team 16-8. Wells, H. Saunders, Williams, and Sinclair, led the stickwork for the winners while Breen, Wheeling, Worley, and Fair led the losers.

MCBRYDE HEADS

DEFENSE GROUP

Fight for Freedom Movement Organized Here.

A local branch of the Virginia Fight For Freedom Committee has recently been organized in Manassas with the following committee: Dr. Stewart McBryde, temporary chairman; Miss E. H. Osbourn, secretary; Dr. George B. Cocke, Rev. R. Graham, Mr. R. W. Peters, and Mr. Arthur Sinclair.

The National Fight For Freedom Committee, first organized last winter, has now State and local chapters in every state. The purpose of the organization is to reach citizens of local communities everywhere in order to help them realize the constantly growing world menace of Hitlerism, and to encourage everyone to give whole-hearted support to President Roosevelt and his administration in their efforts in the present state of national emergency to prepare America to face this world menace, to keep Britain's life line in the Atlantic open even if our navy and air force must be used for the purpose, and to help democracies everywhere in this world-wide war that Hitler is waging against them.

Senator Carter Glass of Virginia is honorary chairman of the National Fight For Freedom Committee. In accepting this office, Senator Glass said, "I am putting aside the practice of a lifetime to lend my name and whatever strength I may have to this work." The National chairman is Rev. Henry Hobson, Bishop of Southern Ohio, a World War veteran who declares he is now preaching war as the only gospel for Americans if they would save themselves from slavery. The national Vice-Chairman, Francis P. Miller of Fairfax, Virginia, is already known to a number of our citizens as he gave an address last Spring at one of the Manassas Kiwanis meetings on the Fight For Freedom Committee organization and its work. The Secretary-Treasurer of the Virginia State Fight For Freedom Committee is Mrs. D. Tucker Brown of Lexington, Virginia and is also known to some of our Manassas people. Among the many prominent and very active members of the National Committee are Dr. Conant, President of Harvard University and Wendell Wilkie. Mr. Wilkie has been making a number of addresses lately at the Committee rallies.

Material relating to the county wide activities of the Committees is sub-weekly and is on display at the Manassas Journal Office and at the drug stores. Any wishing to become active members of the local Committee will please notify the chairman.

KIWANIANS RECITE PLANS

"The Cavalcade of Ideas" was the program for last Friday night's meeting of the Manassas Kiwanis club, the original "idea" being introduced to the club by Secretary, Parson Graham. It gave several members a chance to elucidate some corked-up enthusiasm that had been in the offing for weeks past. The program produced some excellent suggestions and got some action that should bear fruit later on. Harry B. King, Governor of the Capitol District, will make his official visitation tomorrow evening.

ALUMINUM DRIVE IS ORGANIZED

Dr. Cocke Appoints Co-Chairmen and Appeals for Assistance.

The nation-wide drive for aluminum finds forceful expression this week in Prince William County under the Chairmanship of Dr. George B. Cocke, of Manassas, who has appointed Co-Chairmen throughout the county and has issued an appeal for assistance.

The aid of every Prince William citizen is enlisted in this important effort to obtain aluminum for the national defense. The drive officially got under way on Monday, July 21, and will continue for several weeks. Progress of the drive and additional information will be published in this newspaper.

Dr. Cocke has appointed the following Co-Chairmen so far, and has asked us to state that if any community does not seem to be adequately covered he will appreciate the co-operation of additional Co-Chairmen for these places. Appointed so far are:

Manassas: Mrs. E. B. Moncure, Mrs. Marion Lewis, Miss Katherine Pattie, Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Mrs. Jack Ratcliffe, Prof. Worth Peters, Mr. Frank Cox, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, Miss Alice Webb.

Nokesville: Mrs. M. B. Leach, Mrs. C. B. Martin, Mrs. Ernest Spitzer.

Quantico: Mrs. H. Ewing Wall, Maj. Gen. Little.

Haymarket: Rev. W. F. Carpenter.

Catharpin: Mrs. Jack Alvey.

Dumfries: Rev. A. H. Shumate.

Joplin—W. F. Keyes' home.

Triangle: Mr. D. J. Martin.

Sudley: Mrs. Joe Lyons.

Buckhall: Mr. Charlie F. Cornwell.

Dumfries and vicinity—W. S. Brawner's store.

One of the important ideas of this aluminum drive, Dr. Cocke has explained, is not to contribute some utensil which will have to be immediately replaced in the home, as this general practice would be likely to create a shortage in some other vital product, but just the same Dr. Cocke expects old Prince William to make a real showing in this defense drive and is making arrangements to handle a lot of aluminum to help relieve the present serious shortage in the metal so necessary in the manufacture of fighting airplanes.

In Manassas the high school gymnasium has been designated as a depository, and at Triangle, the old Triangle garage.

Alexandria has been designated by the State Defense Council as the concentration point for all aluminum collected in the Northern Virginia Regional Council area according to the statement of Mrs. Marion Ramsay, executive officer of the Regional Council, Alexandria.

Instructions have gone out to chairmen throughout the region to concentrate their aluminum collections at strategic points throughout the counties and cities and hold them for instruction as to transportation to Alexandria. In cities and towns of the region, with populations of less than 3500, the collections will be made in State Highway Department trucks, but in the larger communities the local committees will have to make their own arrangements for transportation to the concentration point.

All county and city aluminum campaign organizations have now been completed and Albert V. Bryan, regional chairman of the Aluminum Recovery Campaign announced the chairmen to be as follows:

Alexandria: W. T. Wilkins, Charlottesville: Judge A. D. Dabney.

Arlington: F. Freeland Chew, Arlington C. H.

Albemarle: Judge Lemuel F. Smith, Charlottesville.

Culpeper: Giles Miller.

Fauquier: L. W. Trenis, Catlett.

Fluvanna: Capt. John Hughes Ben's store.

Fairfax: G. Wallace Carper, McLean.

Greene: John B. Gentry, Mission Home.

Loudoun: Phillip Conners, Middleburg.

Louis: W. G. Fisher, Mineral.

Madison: Charles J. Rose.

Orange: Gorce Waugh.

Prince William: Dr. George Cocke, Manassas.

Rappahannock: Lewis J. Turner, county agent, Washington.

IN MEMORIAN

In loving remembrance of Violet
Jean Gallahan who left us July 25, 1938.

She had a smile for every one,
A heart as pure as gold;
To those who knew and loved her,
Her memory will never grow old.

Although we cannot clasp her hand,
Her face we cannot see;
But let this little token show
We still remember thee.

A Sincere Friend.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Truth" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 27.

The Golden Text will be "O praise the Lord, all ye nations . . . For his merciful kindness is great toward us; and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever" (Ps. 117: 1, 2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Give ear, O ye heavens, and I will speak; and hear, O earth, the words of my mouth.

My doctrine shall drop as the rain, my mouth. My doctrine shall drop as the rain, my speech shall distil as the dew, as the small rain upon the tender herb, and as the showers upon the grass: Because I will publish the name of the Lord: ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he" (Deut. 32: 1-4).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The question, 'What is Truth', convulses the world. Many are ready to meet this inquiry with the assurance which comes of understanding; but more are blinded by their old illusions, and try to 'give it pause'. 'If the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch'. The efforts of error to answer this question by some oligy are vain" (p. 223).

OUT OF THE FOG

"Out of the Fog" is essentially a simple story. The people with whom it deals are not great, wonderful or important people. The main characters, in fact, are a small-town telephone girl, a petty gangster, an old tailor and a short-order chef.
But the drama which comes into these lives is drama which is universal in its implications. For just the brief period depicted in the film, these four lives becomes all-important; the little fogbound bay community in which they live, the whole world. Struggle hearted against the arrogant and ruthless makes "Out of the Fog"

one of the nightiest screen thrills of all time.

HELP THE ALUMINUM DEFENSE DRIVE

The aid of every Prince William County citizen is enlisted in the Aluminum Defense Drive which is now being conducted throughout the Nation. This drive started Monday, July 21 and every citizen of the County is asked to contribute all his old and discarded aluminum to the from "POTS and PANS TO PLANES" drive.

I have appointed co-chairmen throughout Prince William County to aid in combing the County for all bits of aluminum that can be found. These co-chairmen are asked to appoint committees to assist in canvassing their communities and also to select a location for their collecting center. I am asking them to solicit every family in their neighborhood and each family to ransack their attics, cellars and kitchens in search of any old and discarded aluminum objects.

The complete co-operation of each and every person in Prince William County will be greatly appreciated by myself, our State and our Nation.

NATIONAL SYMPHONY CLOSSES ITS SUMMER SEASON

The final week of the National Symphony Orchestra's fifth season of "Sunset Symphonies" at the Potomac Water Gate will be opened on Monday (July 28) evening at eight o'clock with a concert conducted by Erno Rapee, musical director of the Radio City Music Hall and conductor of "The Music Hall on the Air".

On Thursday evening (July 31), Hans Kindler, permanent conductor of the National Symphony, will return to the Water Gate for the gala final concert of the summer. As soloists, Dr. Kindler has engaged a ballet group of outstanding merit—Nina Stroganova, ballerina of the Ballet Theatre; Lilla Volkova, ballerina of the Metropolitan Opera Association; and Vladimir Dokoudovsky, soloist of the Ballet Theatre and, formerly, of the Nordkin Ballet.

Rapee, whose close identification with the popular mediums of radio and motion pictures has given him an enormous personal following from coast to coast, drew an over-flow crowd when he first appeared at the Water Gate two summers ago. He probably will repeat this achievement next Monday, and the probability is strengthened by the popular appeal of the program that he has planned. Featuring Brahms' Second Symphony, it is comprised of such favorite works as Beethoven's "Leonore" Overture No. 3, Strauss' Overture to "Die Fledermaus", three Bohemian Dances by Smetana (transcribed for orchestra by Harold Byrnes), Debussy's "The Afternoon of a Faun", and Enesco's Roumanian Rhapsody No. 1.

Since his appearance on the opening Water Gate concert four weeks ago, Dr. Kindler has been making a series of guest appearances—with the Toronto Promenade Symphony on July 10, and with NBC Summer Symphony over the coast-to-coast Blue network on July 19 and 26. His success with the Toronto Symphony was so great that he was immediately re-engaged for two additional guest conducting assignments with that organization in September. Under his direction on Monday night, the National Symphony will play Overture to Glinka's Russian and Ludmilla, Wedding Procession from Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro", Dr. Kind-ler's arrangement of Frescobaldi's "Toccata", a Scriabin Etude arranged by LaSalle Spier, excerpts from Boris Godounov arranged by Dr. Kindler, and Tchaikovsky's Fourth Symphony in F minor.

The Stroganova-Volkova-Dokoudovsky Ballet, which danced with the St. Louis Civic Opera last summer to great acclaim, will be seen in dances ranging in style from the strictly classical to the frankly humorous. Their portion of the program consists of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" (Stroganova and Dokoudovsky), Tchaikovsky's "Swan Lake" (Volkova), "Spanish Dance" by Albeniz (Dokoudovsky), "Die Fledermaus" Waltz (Stroganova), Brahms' "Hungarian Dance No. 6" (Volkova), and Duet and Trio by Offenbach (Stroganova, Dokoudovsky, Volkova).

MARK BROTHERS CHASE GLOOM IN 'THE BIG STORE'

Five hit musical numbers feature the Marx Brothers' newest funfest, "The Big Store", opening next Thursday and Friday, July 31 and August 1, at the Pitt's Theatre. Harpo and Chico have their usual solos on the harp and piano, while Tony Martin sings two songs and Groucho and Virginia O'Brien join forces in a novelty song and dance number.

Most spectacular number is "Temptation Symphony", sung by Martin, with Harpo and Chico playing their favorite instruments during one chorus. A forty-piece orchestra of youngsters and a twenty-four boy choir furnishes the accompaniment.

The story finds Groucho as Wolf J. Flywheel, private detective, assisted by Harpo and Chico, trying to protect Martin from an unknown killer in a department store, setting for most of the film. After almost demolishing the store and scaring the life out of customers and salesgirls, the Marxes finally "get their man". Groucho also gets his woman, the wealthy owner of the store, whom he woos and wins in typical Groucho fashion.

"A woman's face" brings Joan Crawford, Melvyn Douglas and Conrad Veidt to the Pitt's Theatre starting next Monday and Tuesday, July 28 and 29 in one of the most powerful and completely different dramas the screen has seen in many a moon. Directed by George Cukor, who was responsible for such hits as "The Philadelphia Story" and "The Woman", the new picture is hailed as a brilliant combination of characterization, thrills, suspense and unusual romance.

The story deals with Anna Holm, a woman whose horribly disfigured face causes her to be shunned. Through this she becomes the enemy of all mankind, commanding a blackmailing ring that preys on women who are beautiful. Into her life comes a clever, unscrupulous madman who sees in her the criminal potentialities he loves. A famous plastic surgeon finds her, operates, and restores her natural beauty. In the meantime, her sinister lover has set for her the task of murdering the child who stands in the way of his inheritance. Torn between the love she develops for the child and her infatuation for her evil lover, she faces a terrific situation, cleared through a novel dramatic twist.

Miss Crawford plays the disfigured Anna Holm, wearing in the opening scenes a make-up reminiscent of one of Lon Chaney's horror disguises. Later she appears in gorgeous costumes as a beautiful woman. Melvyn Douglas plays the surgeon who restores her beauty, while fearing he is losing a fiend upon society, but who later figures in her regeneration. Conrad Veidt has a powerful role as the criminal madman.

Thrills include a perilous ride in an iron cage on a cable over a roaring gorge, a mad race with the madman in sleighs with galloping horses through a snow-covered forest and spectacular skiing thrills. Dramatic highlights include the surprise witness in the murder trial, rescue of the child from his would-be murderer, and other episodes. Elaborate settings and costumes are used.

The Bible Thought and Prayer

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a real blessing to them in their lives.

The small and the great are there; and the servant is free from his master.—Job 3:19.

A FIFTH COLUMN NEWSPAPER ATTACK

At a time when the Commander-in-Chief of the United States Army and Navy, The President of the United States, advises the Congress that the danger to American safety "is infinitely greater" than when the Selective Service Act was passed last year, a Fifth Column seems to be swinging into action through a great chain of metropolitan newspapers, apparently led by the New York Daily News, and its mouthpiece in Washington, The Times-Herald, stating to their millions of readers throughout the country that, "we do not think that either the United States or Great Britain is in as much danger now as a year ago."

Just how any well informed news agency can conclude that we are more secure today, than a year ago, and can urge that we now begin to demobilize our army at the rate of fifty thousand men a month, is difficult to understand from any other angle than an effort to weaken the defensive strength of the Country.

The best informed military observers in this country and in Great Britain are almost unanimous in their solemn warnings that collapse of Russia is a very great probability and that the next German blitz will be directed toward Spain, Portugal and Gibraltar and then, while the Japanese engage our attention in the Pacific, our Panama Canal Zone may be attacked, possibly from bases in Central and South America.

If there is anything in this prospect to give the American people a feeling of security, and to justify demobilization of the Army of the United States, we fail to see it, and regrettable as the truth may be, we do not see how the Congress can fail to grant the President's solemn request for extension of the Draft period beyond the originally hoped for year.

These are small words but they are large in their application to happiness and security.

SUGGESTS ENTERTAINMENT FOR BOYS HERE

(contributed)

This week we are all doing our bit by contributing aluminum for the Defense Program.

The idea occurs to us that we can do more by helping the boys here in camp occupy their spare time. Why not have a Volunteer Station where those persons in the community who are willing to give rides to Washington, contribute their magazines, have a group in their homes for a real Virginia dinner and in general extend to these boys the hospitality for which we of Virginia are so famed?

We have a real opportunity to do our part and let us register our names together with what we are able to do and show that Manassas is taking an active interest and doing something about helping to fill in the spare time of our soldier boys.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

A WORD OF APPRECIATION

Rev. J. M. Kline, of the Cannon Branch Church of the Brethren, wishes to express his personal word of heart felt appreciation for the many acts of kindness bestowed upon him during his recent lengthy sickness in the Alexandria hospital. He also issues a hearty invitation to all his friends to visit him at his home, where he will continue to be bedfast for sometime. This word of thanks and of welcome comes in the best way he knows how, as he is unable to see all his friends and thank them for their kindness.

REVIVAL AT CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

The annual revival of the Cannon Branch Church of the Brethren will begin this Sunday morning, July 27. Rev. Hugh Garner, the summer pastor, will preach the first two sermons. Sunday morning his topic will be "Standing on the Threshold." Beginning Monday evening Rev. D. B. Garber, of Waynesboro, Virginia will be the evangelist, and will speak each night for two weeks, with two services being held on Sundays. Bro. Garber is the successful pastor of the large Brethren Church at Waynesboro and is a very able preacher. He comes to Cannon Branch with a splendid record, and is certain to be a fine evangelist. Everybody is invited to these special meetings at the "Branch." Bring your visitors and your neighbors to these inspiring meetings every evening and twice on Sundays. Everybody is welcome.

There will be special music and helpful, challenging messages at every service. Bro. Garber's topics during his first week of preaching will be as follows: God, The Christian a Light, The Churches Greatest Task, Workers With God, The Spirit-filled Life, Unload Your Cares, The Christian Home, and the Wonderful Christ.

LOCAL MAN HEADS FUEL CONSERVATION DRIVE

Just how much of the fuel normally used in home heating is wasted, and how much of it can be saved through elimination of wasteful practice was revealed today by Mr. F. R. Hynson. Mr. Hynson is on the local committee of a nation-wide Fuel Conservation Drive.

Explaining the drive, Mr. Hynson said, "Heating experts agree that one of the greatest single sources of wasted fuel is found in inefficient and poorly regulated furnaces and boilers. However, even in those homes equipped with modern automatic heating plants, conditions often exist which cause as much as 50 per cent of the heat produced by the fuel to be wasted. It is the purpose of our drive to tell people of these conditions and what to do to correct them."

The information which will enable Manassas, Va., householders to co-operate in this program is contained in a 24-page booklet "82 Ways to Conserve Fuel for Defense Without Sacrifice of Home Comfort". The booklet lists and suggests corrections for the many common faults in a home, such as leaky doors and windows, lack of proper insulation, etc. Also found among the "82 Ways" are many suggestions which, while not hard to put into effect, are nevertheless seldom thought of by the lay man. The book, which is just coming off the presses in large quantities, will be available in Manassas, Va., immediately. No advertising is contained in the booklet.

MARINES ON GUARD

Scores of ex-Marines are helping to guard the wealth of our country from coast to coast. Virtually every banking house of importance on either coast includes a number of soldiers of the sea among its group of guards.

Well-disciplined, stalwart men, some of whom have grown gray in the service, secure these positions after leaving the Marine Corps mainly on account of their training and their ability to shoot straight. Honorable discharges, usually covering periods of from 16 to 30 years, give proof of their dependability.

An organization called the Ex-Marine Guards is located at Los Angeles, guarding national defense plants against possible sabotage. Smartly clad in olive drab, the former sea soldiers recently passed in review before a group of officials.

Later they demonstrated the approved military method of guarding key manufacturing plants, with emphasis on detection and control of fire. A team of instructors also presented an exhibition of jiu-jitsu.

The Ex-Marine Guards number about 159 men and five officers. Most of them have seen service in many parts of the globe and they are now on 24-hour duty in the Los Angeles area. They patrol aircraft plants, tool and dye works and steamship companies.

ODORS AND PUBLIC HEALTH

(A contribution from the Health Department).

"There is a more or less popular misconception that unpleasant odors in themselves are detrimental to health. Nevertheless, it long has been known that, however disagreeable odors may be, they are not likely to be harmful physically. This does not mean that steps should not be taken to eliminate such nuisances. In fact, civilized living demands that in so far as is possible this should be done," states Dr. I. C. Riggins, state health commissioner.

"No particular odor is associated with disease germs. Such organisms lurking in water, milk or food can not be spotted by smell. Even the existence of harmful dusts or organisms in the atmosphere seldom can be detected through related odors.

"It is a characteristic of the sense of smell that ones sensitivity to any particular odor soon becomes dulled if exposure is more less constant. For example, persons living in the neighborhood of certain types of manufacturing that permeate the air with odors are scarcely aware that they exist, whereas a visitor will be uncomfortably acute to them. A more general illustration is the unconsciousness of a bad atmosphere in an occupied closed room which suddenly is realized if one steps into the fresh air and then back again into the room. When inside air becomes actually vitiated the olfactory sense may detect the situation; even so, sleepiness and headaches are the more likely manifestations.

"The misplaced emphasis on odors is well illustrated by the repeated complaints to health officers of smells from piggins, dumps and rubbish heaps, coupled with the notion on the part of the complainant that it represents a health hazard.

"Undoubtedly, good town, city, and backyard housekeeping indicates that conditions that give rise to offensive odors should be removed. And from the standpoint of cleanliness and decency, personal and official efforts are continually being directed both to prevent and remove conditions of this character.

"However, from strictly a health point of view, it is even more important for the public to appreciate the health value of certain preventive measures. Among these are immunization of children against diphtheria, the protection of the private water supply, the use of safe milk, the disposal of sewage in rural areas either by septic tanks or by a sanitary pit privy, and protection of food and home in summer against flies.

"In short, many persons who become quite agitated over an offensive odor, are quite indifferent to the measures designed to protect them against disease. Consequently, while it is natural to become disturbed about conditions that create disagreeable odors, it is much more important to follow approved practices that result in safe environmental and personal protection against disease."

HAYMARKET

Sunday, July the 20th was "home coming" Sunday for St. Paul's Church. A large congregation that filled the church enjoyed the service and also the sermon preached by the Rev. Mr. Harper, of The Plains. A good sized crowd gathered at the Parish Hall for lunch and a most pleasant social hour of friends old and new was spent. Among the old members and friends were Mr. and Mrs. Elma Carruthers, of the University of Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. William Albertson and daughter, Miss Shirley Albertson, of Falls Church; Miss Lucille Hutcherson and Mrs. Carroll Schaub, of Washington; Mrs. Maude Beal, of Manassas; Mrs. Jeanette Claggett, and Mr. Sam Claggett, of Baltimore, and "Cloverland" farms, and many others.

Haymarket is now a very busy thoroughfare. The John Marshall highway connecting at Gainesville with the Lee highway brings a lot of travel being the most direct route to the National Park with the entrance at Front Royal.

Better come to Haymarket for your summer home. Plenty of nice building lots at a moderate price.

The Altar Guild of St. Paul's Church will hold the annual sale at the Parish Hall Wednesday the 6th of August, opening at 3 p.m. A number of pretty aprons, handkerchiefs and other articles will be offered for sale, also fruit punch and cake. Don't forget and come.

GEMS OF THOUGHT SERVICE Liberty

The liberty of a people consists in being governed by laws which they have made themselves, under whatsoever form it be of government.—Cowley.

The history of liberty is a history of limitations of governmental power, not the increase of it.—Woodrow Wilson.

The world has never had a good definition of the word liberty—Abraham Lincoln.

Truth crushed to earth springs spontaneously upward, and whispers to the breeze man's inalienable birthday—Liberty.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Personal liberty is the paramount essential to human dignity and human happiness.—Bulwer-Lytton.

The only liberty I mean, is a liberty connected with order; that not only exists along with order and virtue, but which cannot exist at all without them.—Edmund Burke.

'Old Hickory' Would Do This To Hitler

By Marquis James

(Celebrated Biographer of Andrew Jackson and Pulitzer Prize Winner)

I HAVE frequently been asked what I thought Andrew Jackson would do if he were here today—in the White House, presumably.

He would lick the living tar out of Hitler, that's what he would do.

Who can doubt what Jackson's foreign policy would be? Witness his settlement of the Spoils Claims against France, totalling 25,000,000 francs, owing since the Napoleonic Wars. France had paid all nations except us. Presidents came and went; none of them getting anywhere against France's barrier of polite evasion and delay. Jackson ordered the Secretary of the Treasury to write out a draft on France for the first installment due.

When the draft came back unpaid, he ordered the Navy ready for sea duty. France honored the draft.

The incident was typical, not exceptional. Genuine respect for American rights abroad dates from Jackson. He reduced complex problems to terms anyone could understand. He would have seen the present conflict as presenting the American people a choice between continuing their way of life and fighting for it—or accepting Hitler's. He would have had the courage to launch that fight and the will to carry it through to victory, whatever the cost.

More than any other chieftain of our Republic, Andrew Jackson exemplified the power of will—the ascendancy of spirit to lead men to deeds beyond their strength and to triumph over odds so great that ordinary folk stood in terror of them.

Jackson's Louisiana campaign is a feat which almost challenges belief. Neither in France nor in the Balkans has Hitler land forces. With most of Maine seized and annexed, Eastport burned, Nantucket captured, the Cape Cod towns sacked or laid under tribute, the British went on down the coast scaring the daylight out of New York and Philadelphia and filling the East with appeasers. Baltimore was shelled, Alexandria plundered, Washington occupied and the Capitol and the White House burned.

The British moved South for the crowning blow—the subjugation of the Mississippi Valley. With the Government in flight, the Treasury empty, and the cry of disunion raised in New England, Andrew Jackson, in Alabama with some 500 regular and 2,000 militia, was given the job of beating off the invasion.

Jackson reached New Orleans on December 1, 1814. The British were on their way with 7,500 men, the most powerful and best equipped military force to set foot in the New World up to that time.

Against such might, what could Jackson do? That was heard on every side. New Orleans was a rich commercial town. New Orleans merchants argued that if they had to do business with the British they could, much as they might prefer otherwise. At any rate, that would be preferable to defeat and the loss of all they had.

But Jackson said he had come to fight. He would fight below New Orleans and, if beaten there, he would fight in New Orleans; if beaten there, fight above New Orleans—until he had no living thing could stand in his path. He proclaimed martial law, and instituted a lease-land program with himself as beneficiary. Of materials and men, he took what he required. He filled jails with traitors and appeasers.

Twenty-three days after his arrival Jackson fought his first battle, halting the British advance. Thirty-nine days after his arrival, he fought his last battle, obliterating the British camp.

Our situation now is serious. The war will probably be long. But contrast our position with Jackson's in 1814. Then ask yourself what you think Jackson would do if he were with us today, and what would be the ultimate result.

For myself, I think that enough of Andrew Jackson survives in enough of us to bring about the same result.

F. S. A. AIDS MANY POOR FARMERS

Prince William County citizens have been named on committees to advise and assist in the operation of the rehabilitation programs of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Mr. W. H. Goodall, jr., Prince William County supervisor for Farm Security Administration, announced the appointments made by J. S. Willis, F. S. A. State Director at Richmond. The members appointed by Mr. J. S. Willis are:

Mr. Goodall, Mr. Conway Seeley, L. J. Pattie, and Mr. Arthur Sinclair, will serve on the sub-committee for the Farm Debt Adjustment and tenure improvement work; Mr. W. H. Wheeler, Mr. L. E. Herring, and Mr. Seeley will serve on the sub-committee for the rural rehabilitation program. Mrs. Marion Lewis, Mr. Frank Cox and Mrs. Alice Webb, are members at large to advise on the various phases of assistance to low income from families.

FSA rehabilitation loans are available to low income farm families, ineligible for credit elsewhere, for the purchase of livestock, workstock, seed, fertilizer and equipment, in accordance with carefully planned operation of the farm and home. About 150 farm families in Prince William County have already been helped by this program.

The services of debt adjustment committees are available to all farmers, as well as to FSA borrowers. The committees will assist creditors and farm debtors to reach an amicable adjustment of debts based on the ability to pay. This service has been used by 21 farmers in Prince William County.

Mr. Goodall said better tenure arrangements is one of the most pressing needs in the rehabilitation of low income farm families. Farm Security Administration provides lease forms for long term leases to encourage conservation and better living on farms. This service is also available to all farmers in the county, as well as to FSA borrowers.

Farm Security Administration is the agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture which assists the low income farm families to take full advantage of the other services of the national agricultural program, such as soil improvement, diversified farming, and increased production for home use, Mr. Goodall said. It enables the disadvantaged farmers to make use of the improved farming practices developed by the Extension Service and State Agricultural Experiment station.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

Footprints of the Trojan Horse

EDITOR'S NOTE: This graphic analysis of "Fifth Column" techniques is published by the (name of newspaper) in cooperation with the National Department of Americanism of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. The text and illustrations are taken from the book "Footprints of the Trojan Horse" published by Citizenship Educational Service, 122 East 42nd Street, New York City, a non-profit association of patriotic organizations dedicated to the preservation of Americanism.

Totalitarian Objectives in America

Do the dictator nations hope for an immediate military conquest by spreading propaganda in America?

Then what do we have to fear?

There are three objectives the Nazis hope to reach in America:

First Nazi Objective

To alienate the loyalties of 20,000,000 Americans from Hitler claims as Germans because they or their ancestors were born in Germany.

Of the "Germans" living outside the Reich, and claimed as part of the German nation, this Nazi map indicates that about 27,000,000 live in the Western Hemisphere.

Second Nazi Objective

To undermine American influence in South America.

The Germans have spread an enormous amount of propaganda in South America against the "Yankee imperialism." The purpose of this is to pave the way to the establishment of future air bases and to dominate South American trade after the war.

Third Nazi Objective

To include America in the plan to isolate and conquer the democracy of the world one by one.

Spread of Poisonous Propaganda in the United States

Allen agents foot susceptible key individuals with their propaganda. These in turn spread the poison either through organizations cloaked with Americanism or through whispering campaigns. The real danger lies in the fact that it is almost impossible to identify the origin of this propaganda despite the vast sums of money poured into it by totalitarian governments. A man may find that even his best friend has been "taken in."

THE TROJAN HORSE

Eight years ago, this country welcomed into national office a "new deal" by which all of then known ailments of mankind were to be relieved or remedied.

Much good has come from the many experiments and changes but one which has not, and which is not new, is the effort continued through the years by those restless souls who feel some urge to go out and aid mankind by advocating "guinea pig" experiments on human beings without going to the root of matters and trying to ascertain whether their revisions of the social order are based on sensible lines or merely an urge to "do something and see how it works".

During this period there have come into existence more crack pot organizations than Job had boils and most of them about as useful. Some of them have been tracked directly to communistic influence, some actually to foreign designs to break down our form of democratic government by separating us into groups and then pitting us against each other.

Was not this damning circumstance behind the War between the States? Do we want to foster it again until similar results ensue?

Stop for a moment and consider. None of us can really grasp just why certain setups, which certainly are not American in their ideals, have been able to see such favor in the eyes of the powers at Washington, nor can we understand how they are so liberally financed to come into our midst and weave into our social structure by honeyed words and friendly gestures.

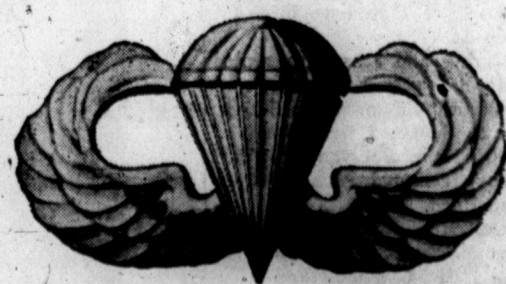

Those groups are at the very height of their combined efforts RIGHT NOW and no portion of America is safe from such influence. We must remember the adage of "eternal watchfulness" and apply the same theory to our "inherited freedom and democracy" which is certainly far from safe.

We see those who have been connected with these unpatriotic organizations change their tunes now to fervid appeals of patriotism. In the same breath we saw the Communist pickets at the White House pull down their banners when Hitler attacked Stalin.

We must regard ourselves outposts of liberty just as the Minute Man of 1776. We have our balloons as well as our pots, pans, and defense stamps. We must use them in the same cause and rout effectively the sinuous influences which have come into midst with well balanced phrases and the same "guinea pig" ideas for the reformation and change of a Commonwealth that established itself 300 years ago and needs no foreign influence today to tell us how to govern a free people.

It is no time consider fine feelings. We are in danger again and the "Trojan Horse" is within our gates just as effectively disguised as it was on that Grecian shore so many centuries ago.

Silver Badge of Courage

Shown above is the official insignia recently authorized by the War Department for wear by the adventurous young parachutists of the U. S. Army. It will be worn by qualified parachutists on the left breast—just as Air Corps Pilots wear their "wings." The "Silver Badge of Courage" was designed by one of the Army's pioneer parachutists, Captain William P. Yarbrough, of the 501st Parachute Battalion. Parachutists are carefully selected for this service and receive extra pay for their daring skill. (RFA MA-22)

PRODUCTION CREDIT GROUPS HAVE LOANED LARGE SUMS

The Warrenton Production Credit Association is participating with the 524 other associations all over the country in celebrating the lending of the second billionth dollar by these short-term credit co-operatives, according to Thos. D. Jones, secretary-treasurer of the association.

This celebration, sponsored by the Newton (Iowa) Association, took place on Wednesday, July 23 at Newton, Ia.

"Our directors have sent the greetings of our 220 members to this farmer's meeting which was attended by farm leaders from all over the country, as well as C. R. Arnold, of Washington, Production Credit Commissioner of the Farm Credit Administration, who was the main speaker of the occasion," Mr. Jones said.

The following message was sent to the Newton Production Credit Association:

"On behalf of the Warrenton Production Credit Association, which has loaned $2,578,308.00 of the two billion total to farmer-members in this section in the last seven and one-half years, we congratulate the Newton Production Credit Association. We are glad to join with them in their observance of an important milestone in the history of co-operative credit."

Martin Paulson, member of the Newton association, officially received the two billionth dollar loaned to farmers in the United States by their own short-term farm credit cooperative over the two billion dollar mark. A member of the association since 1935, Mr. Paulson is borrowing $300 which will be used principally to buy brood sows in order to increase his pork production in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture's food-for-defense program.

This year the Warrenton Production Credit Association is making commodity credit wheat loans in order to carry out more fully its policy of complete financing to its members. A representative of the association is in the National Farm Loan office here each Friday.

Mr. T. Otis Latham, of Haymarket, is a director of the Warrenton Production Credit Association for this county.

Cow Breeding Herds
Versus Steer Cattle

Farm records from 19 beef cow and calf herd farms and 17 steer cattle farms for the years 1937, 1938, and 1939, showed cow herds to be more profitable. Over the three-year period of farms selected as representative by V. P. I. specialists, the average farm income was $140.00 more and the net labor income was $392.00 more on the cow herd farms than on the steer cattle farms. The investment in livestock averaged $1,116 less on the cow herd farms. Efficiency in the use of labor was better on the cow herd farms.
