SPARE THAT TREE!

THREE CENTURIES SMILE UPON HAPPY GATHERING

Three hundred and forty two years, the total ages of four members of an esteemed Prince William family, smiled down upon a happy gathering at the home of Mrs. Lulu Brawner, at Dumfries last Sunday as she celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Brawner was 90, her sister, Mrs. Annie Merchant 88, a brother, Mr. H. C. Speake, 83, and the other brother, Mr. William Speake, 81. Another sister, Mrs. Joe Lynn, passed away two years ago at the age of 86.

There were present on this pleasant occasion more than eighty guests, friends and relatives from Manassas, Washington, Alexandria, and Dumfries, and it is not often that so many members of a single family are spared to such good old age, for their earlier activities go entirely beyond the memory of most folks of the present generation, although they are still active and well.

Few indeed will recall the days when Mrs. Brawner was Assistant Postmistress at Dumfries under the Administration of President Grant (1869). The late Mrs. Joe Lynn was Postmistress there at the time.

Mrs. Brawner received many congratulations on her ninetieth milestone. It was recalled that she had joined the Methodist Church at Dumfries in 1871, being made a life member of the Missionary Society at that time. She has 7 children as follows: Messrs Claude, Clay, Warfield, Randolph and French Brawner and Mrs. Cecil Garrison, of Dumfries and Mrs. Thomas Bell of Washington.

The dinner will be served from 12:00 noon until 2:00 p. m. and again from 5:00 p. m. until 8:00 p. m. All friends of Grace Church are invited to be in attendance at the Bazaar.

BASKET BALL TEAM MAKING FINE RECORD

The Manassas High Yellow Jackets will be seeking their first win of the season today as they encounter the Warrenton High Team on Swavely Field at 3 o'clock.

The Yellow Jackets have played four good games thus far this season and have lost two of these games by a one point and one touchdown margin. With the members of the local team gaining experience in these games. Coach Saunders expects the team to hit the win column against Warrenton.

The record of the win and lost column of the visitors or not known, but Coach Saunders seeing them play in Charlottesville last Friday predicts that the Yellow Jackets should win by a two or three touchdown margin providing his boys play up to par.

There will be two new faces in the starting line-up of the Yellow Jackets, namely, Ashby Lewis and George Oleyar. Oleyar has just recovered from a knee injury and will be playing in his first game. Lewis, a good defensive man has worked his way up from the second team and is expected to give Warrenton plenty of trouble before the afternoon is over.

The probable line-up of the Yellow Jackets is as follows:

Right End	----- Lewis
Right Tackle	----- Hinton
Right Guard	----- A. Conner
Center	----- Broadus
Left Guard	----- Breeden
Left Tackle	----- Johnson
Left End	----- Parrish, Capt.
Left Half Back	----- Breen

PHONE GROUP HONORS DR. COCKE

Elected President Of Virginia Independent Telephone Ass'n.

Last Friday the Board of Directors of The Virginia Independent Telephone Association elected Dr. George B. Cocke, of Manassas, as President. Dr. Cocke had been serving as Vice-President of the organization and his elevation to the head office of this important group was not unexpected as he had filled the Vice-Presidency most capably and his abilities were sought at a time when the National Defense situation is making a heavy demand upon all communication agencies.

Dr. Cocke is President of the Central Mutual Telephone Company of Prince William County. He is also head of our local Volunteer Fire Department and prominent in many other financial, fraternal and civic enterprises, including the recently organized Protective Force of the Defense Council.

The Virginia Independent Telephone Association is one of the more important of State Associations, representing, as it does, 86 Companies, 194 Central Offices, and serving 6,203 subscribers. And among these Many Companies our local Central Mutual Telephone Company receives gratifying recognition in having its President head the State Organization.

While in session at Roanoke the Association considered many problems which have arisen on account of the National emergency and the session was one of the most important in the recent years. A very pleasant feature of the occasion was a unique entertainment given by the Association to the Trial Justices of Virginia who happened to be in session in Roanoke at the same time.

Other officers elected were W. W. Gibbs, of Staunton to succeed Dr. Cocke as Vice-President; and F. G. LaPrade, of Martinsville, Secretary-Treasurer.

Attending the State Convention at Roanoke from Manassas were also Mr. J. A. Vetter and Mr. Floyd Vetter, and members of the Association from Prince William County in addition to the Central Mutual are the Nokesville Telephone Company, The Tri-County Telephone Company and The Lorton Telephone Company.

ARMISTICE DAY DEDICATION HERE

Alabama Congress Will Be Guest Speaker

The American Legion is planning a dedication service here on Armistice day that is believed will long be remembered by the community and all who have the privilege of attending. They are building this program around the official dedication of seventy-seven American flags which form the first group to be placed along the business section of town in the plan for uniform flag display, being sponsored by the Legion and Town Council.

The program will start at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and all of the schools of Manassas, including the Vocational School will attend. After the opening invocation by the Post Chaplain, Rev. John M. DeChant, the singing of "by the entire assembly will be led by Miss Lillian Knight, music teacher at Osbourne High School. Then will come an address of welcome, after which will follow the presentation of the massed flags of the United States, carried by boys from the Vocational School. Upon presentation of the flags, the official American Legion dedication service will be read by Commander Claude W. Staggs. At the end of this service, Miss Knight will lead the audience in singing "America the Beautiful." The program had been arranged so that exactly at eleven o'clock there can be one minute of silence in memory of those who served and died as the result of the last war, and further as a rededication at this time of everyone's wholehearted effort for the best interest of our country and our allies in the present conflict.

The Memorial flags of the High School will be presented and explained by Prof. R. C. Haydon and as the main feature of the program, the Commander will present the Hon. E. R. BERLIN DIARY

To sit in a good seat at a fairly exciting show is an experience which many of us have had and enjoyed. To have a front box at the most important event of a season is a rare privilege, a treat which the majority of people never experience. Yet such a privilege is yours if you read "Berlin Diary."

Without a doubt, William L. Shir-er's chronicle of the prelude and opening acts of World War II will, in later years, be the standard record of facts concerning the building and subsequent attempts at world conquest of the Nazi war machine.

Mr. Shirer, who, as a correspondent of the Universal Service and also as a news analyst for the Columbia Broadcasting System, braved Nazi censorship to bring to us the real truth about Hitler and Co., has written a virtual eye-witness account of Hitler's preparation and execution of plans of Germany's fight to her present position.

Never have I been more fascinated than by the author's intimate and analytic accounts of the inside story of European intrigue. His day-by-day description of the highlights of the Nazis' precisely planned program gives one a much fuller understanding of the completeness with which "Der Fuehrer's" faithful followers worked.

Recorded in the style of a personal diary, the book chronologically lists in minute detail the moves of the important cogs in machinery of the Third Reich. The workings of the famed and feared, swastika-wearing secret police, the Gestapo, are touched upon, and here again, is shown the uncanny precision with the disciples of Hitler operate.

Publication of this book has doubtless limited Mr. Shirer's travels in the future to countries not yet conquered by the Nazis. As long as control of the German people lies in Hitler's hands, such an accurate description of conditions in the Reich is tantamount to a one-way ticket to a concentration camp.

To anyone who wishes to be well-informed on the current war in Europe, "Berlin Diary" is a must book.
The situation cannot be clearly understood without reading this thorough and unique account of things Nazi.
William L. Shirer's book is a contribution to the democratic people of the world, giving them better insight into the affairs of the German people at the present time.

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

"Berlin Diary" by William L. Shirer was published by Alfred A. Knopf, June 20, 1941.

HURRAH FOR

JOHN L. LEWIS!

We salute John L. Lewis, hero of the United States!

Thrice the President vainly and obsequiously requested him to call off his coal strike. "For the third time," the President wrote Lewis, "your government, through me, asks you and the officers of the United Mine Workers to authorize an immediate resumption of mining."

We think John L. Lewis is justified in striking. Not that his contentions are valid; not that he is not aiming a fearful blow at the national security; but because of the contemptible mediation machinery the President has set up to handle these disputes, raising labor above the Constitutional law of the land and enthroning it as its own judge, jury and executioner.

Being an amateur student of international labor history, we have it stored in the back of our head that Alexander Kerensky dealt with Bolshevik labor just as Mr. Roosevelt has been doing. For fear that the organized workers of Russia would destroy the national security and the military strength of Russia, Kerensky temporized with them, believing that unless he gave them as much as possible of what they demanded, Revolution would follow and they would take all. He found to his own undoing and to degradation of his country that they greedily swallowed his largess and then cut his throat anyway.

So the President, and the United States, we fervently pray not too late, will find that Communist dominated Labor will devour all that the New Deal in fear has thrown 'hem and will still bite the hand that feeds them.

John L. Lewis has a right to be scornful of the National Labor Relation Board, The Mediation Board, and all the rest of contemptible clap-trap which the President has set up to protect the right to strike as the most precious jewel in American life. Lewis should strike, and is justified in thumbing his nose at the President!

There is only one way to handle Lewis and all the rest of his clan. Congress should legislate to declare strikes in defense industries as sabotage, punishable by adequate penalties and to be prosecuted in the regular courts of justice having jurisdiction. But Sidney Hillman and the boys in the other Labor camp say this must not be done or they too will make trouble.

So Mr. Roosevelt is really on the spot, and a hundred and forty million Americans, as well as the German High Command, are waiting to see who is boss here, John L. Lewis or Franklin D. Roosevelt.

BLONDE BETTY GRABLE IS STAR WITH BEST FIGURE

Betty Grable's figure has been chosen as the best in Hollywood. She was unanimously selected by a jury of four experts who staged a competition under the auspices of a national magazine.

The experts included Paul Hesse, famed artist and photographer; Dr. Mary Halton, noted physician; Billy Rose, the famous showman; and Irene outstanding Hollywood designer.

Betty achieved the high mark of 83, beating such headliners as Claudette Colbert, Ginger Rogers, Ann Sheridan and Paulette Goddard, who follow Betty in the ranking in that order.

Featured with Don Ameche and Robert Cummings in the new 20th Century-Fox Technicolor musical, "Moon Over Miami," due Monday and Tuesday, November 3-4 at the Pitt's Theatre, Betty shows her figure off to good advantage in the film. For the first time on the screen, she will appear in a bathing suit—and not any suit, but a special bathing suit wardrobe created for her by Travis Banton, the studio's famous stylist. Of the six bathing suits, two are of the knit variety and two of white clinging silk.

Betty's been a hit ever since she was seven. She made her professional debut at the age in her home town, St. Louis, Mo. In 1929 the precocious beauty induced her mother to remain in Los Angeles, where she studied with Albertina Rasch, the famous dancer.

One year later she was doing a specialty number in a movie called "Let's Go Places." Following that was a part in Eddie Cantor's picture "Whoopie."

But her vivacious, youthful appearance caused her to be cast as the eternal coed. She was finally graduated from cinema colleges by an important role in "Du Barry Was a Lady," the successful Broadway musical. The curvaceous blonde was so sensational, that she won top spot billing in "Down Argentine Way," "Tin Pan Alley," and now "Moon Over Miami," all 20th Century-Fox productions.

The supporting cast in "Moon Over Miami" includes Charlotte Greenwood, Jack Haley, Carole Landis and Cobina Wright, Jr. Walter Lang directed from the screen play by Vincent Lawrence and Brown Holmes.

DR. KILDARE AND COMPANY IN NEW THRILLS

Another gripping story of young Dr. Kildare and his crusty preceptor, Dr. Gillespie, is next showing at the Pitt's Theatre, with Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore. This one is "Dr. Kildare's Wedding Day," dealing with a famous symphony conductor whose increasing deafness furnishes a baffling problem for the physicians. A counterplot in which the young doctor faces and conquers tragedy and the youthful romance of the older doctor is disclosed, brings in a symphony concert episode in which Barrymore's own composition, "Tchaikovsky's Russian," recently played with success by several symphony orchestras, is performed.

Ayres has one of the most dramatic roles in his career, as also has Laraine Day, in the new picture. Nils Asther, as guest star, is compelling as the symphony conductor facing loss of his hearing, and Barrymore, as Dr. Gillespie, divides his role between

ARMY TRANSPORT SERVICE! MAKES NEW RECORD

Carrying on traditions of U. S. Army transportation units since days when buck-skin clad irregulars manned conestoga wagons, modern convoy units of the Quartermaster Corps have added another feat to Army transportation accomplishments.

Since September 13, truck convoys of Camp Lee's Quartermaster Replacement Center have been plying over hills and along the stretches road between southern Virginia and Philadelphia carrying out the biggest job ever undertaken by Camp Lee motor units. In each south-bound trip the trucks have safely carried beneath their brown canvas tops the valuable equipment of Philadelphia's Schuylkill Arsenal for the transfer of the famed Philadelphia Quartermaster School to Camp Lee.

After the last truck had delivered its cargo, Capt. George Ammon, Motor Transport Officer of the Quartermaster Replacement Center, compiled the report of operations and delivered the 75 page record of success to Brigadier General Charles D. Hartman, Commander of the Center. The magnitude of the job was revealed as these facts were shown:

Moving 463 tons, 170,630 cubic feet of the Quartermaster School's equipment and property by a crew of one officer, eight non-commissioned officers and 577 selectees using 74 vehicles and traveling 157,794 truck miles was the accomplishment revealed in Capt. Ammon's 75 page report to General Hartman.

When it was decided to transfer the Quartermaster School from Philadelphia's Schuylkill Arsenal to Camp Lee, the moving job was assigned to the Motor Transport Office of the Quartermaster Replacement Center. Convoys began the series of 546 miles round trips Sept. 13. Convoys of trucks left daily, except Sundays, with each convoy operating on a four-day schedule to allow time for the round trip, loading at Philadelphia, and unloading at Camp Lee.

The daily convoys averaged ten trucks each, until October 7, when each convoy contained fifteen trucks. There were no injuries or accidents during the transfer of the School. Operations required 31,559 gallons of gasoline and 3,613 quarts of oil. Despite the extent of the convoy activity, only $15 worth of parts were needed for replacements and repairs.

Exactly 25 round trips were necessary to transfer the property and equipment of the of the Quartermaster School. While 68 two-and-a-half ton trucks, 4 Federal four-ton tractors, and 2 semi-trailer six-ton vans were the vehicles actually used, an equivalent of 289 trucks were employed in the convoy trips.

Moving was completed October 14, and the Quartermaster School was formally opened in its new location at Camp Lee October 17.

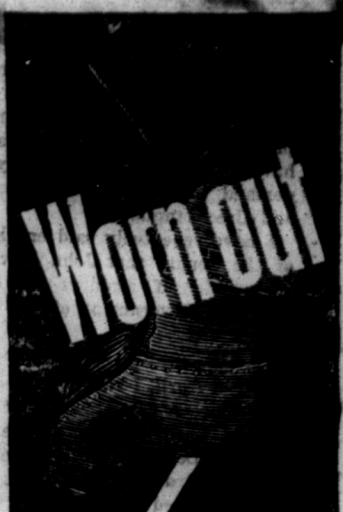

In addition to the successful transfer of the school, important training was provided by the convoy operations. By changing part of the drivers on each round trip, 577 selectees in training at the Quartermaster Replacement Center gained experience in motor convoy work.

During the operations, Lieut. Robert Harrison of the Quartermaster Replacement Center was assigned to act as liaison officer in Philadelphia. Maj. John Kasper, Quartermaster of the Philadelphia Quartermaster School,

BYRD DEPLORES LABOR EPISODE

Declares That His Efforts To Stop Strikes Were Not Supported

I know of no more disgraceful or humiliating episode in American history than John L. Lewis' action closing the coal mines, essential to the operation of the steel plants, all with vital defense contracts. The letter from the President to Mr. Lewis is concluded in such polite and diplomatic language as to be almost object in presenting his plea to keep the mines open.

Twenty-four hours after the request, the mines were still closed, and the President apparently had not received the courtesy of reply. John Lewis knows the power of force and despises weakness. Perhaps Lewis would have responded more quickly to a demand in stronger, more emphatic and direct language.

I have repeatedly said on the floor of the Senate that John Lewis considers himself stronger and bigger than the Government of the United States.

During the process of the coal strike in April, I stated in the Senate that this April strike placed the country, in the future, at the mercy of John Lewis. Coal reserves have been depleted and subsequent events have sustained my April statements. Thirty million tons of coal production were lost in this strike, and it was not certified to the National Defense Mediation Board by Miss Perkins, Secretary of Labor, until nearly four weeks after its beginning.

So now it is in the power of Mr. Lewis to close up as tight as a drum every coal-department defense industry in America.

Even upon withdrawal of this action by Mr. Lewis, it still represents the culmination of strike after strike, delay after delay, that have sabotaged our defense efforts for many months. From January 1, until now, more than 7 million man-days have been lost in defense strikes alone, and these man-days lost are equivalent to the time required to build more than 1,000 4-engine heavy bombers, which could have been sent to England to bomb Hitler when he was engaged in Russia. Instead, only about 40 have been sent. But the actual man-days lost do not tell the whole story, as the confusion and disorganization incident to strikes and threatened strikes reduce appreciably the production capacity of those plants where strikes have existed or have been threatened.

We must recognize now that for the government to take charge of the plants is not a solution of the strike problem, as this does not prevent the constant recurrence of other strikes. Today, from information sent me by the Army and Navy, 43 defense strikes are in existence, and this number or more have continued for many months. The afternoon papers report that the giant Navy Yards in Brooklyn are closed and that the Ship Yards in the Los Angeles area have been ordered to stop work.

I introduced legislation in the Senate declaring strikes in defense industries to be contrary to public policy and as deserving of the condemnation of Congress. This resolution was adopted by the Senate, after a long and heated debate, by a vote of 46 to 2. Not receiving the support of the Administration, it was allowed to die in the House. In this emergency, with greater and greater powers being vested in the Executive, it must be obvious to all that constructive legislation to stop, and stop quickly, strikes in defense industries can only be achieved with the approval and support of the President.

The longer forceful action is delayed, the greater will be our failure to prepare ourselves and to send implements of war to England, when every hour, and in fact every minute, counts.

The present National Defense Mediation Board, established by Executive Order, by the very terms of its power, cannot be effective. It can neither begin nor conclude. It can not even investigate a strike unless Miss Perkins, the Secretary of Labor, gives it permission, nor can it enforce its decisions after a verdict has been rendered.

No agency can be effective without the power in the original instance and without the power to make operative its decisions. The Secretary of Labor, Miss Perkins, remains in the face of her proven incompetence and a nation-wide demand for her removal.

If we cannot meet at home the challenges to our defense effort, this, in itself, demonstrates our capacity to solve the problems of foreign nations. We have menaces at home today as great or greater than those abroad, and these home menaces must be dealt with before we can hope to cope with the others.

Today the United States Senate is debating legislation which, in my sincere judgment, if and when enacted by the Congress under existing conditions will ultimately make a total and unlimited offensive shooting war on the part of the United States as inevitable as any human prediction can be today—a war that almost certainly will involve America on both the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans, and ultimately will mean sending millions of America boys in expedition forces to fight on foreign soils.

As a supporter, up to this date, of the President's foreign policies, I serve notice now that I do not intend to consider voting one step closer to war, except in our own defense, so long as sound and constructive measures are not adopted stopping at once all defense industry strikes and removing barriers of incompetency and inefficiency now permeating the defense program.

KIDD—HERNDON

On Saturday, October 25, 1941, the home of Rev. Johnston, Methodist minister of Warrenton, Va., was a scene of simple beauty, when Miss Virginia Herndon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Herndon of Nokesville, Va., and Alford Kidd of Vienna, Va. were united in holy matrimony.

The bride was attired in navy blue with matching accessories. She had as her only attendant, her sister, Naomi Herndon who also wore navy blue. Mr. Aubrey Richey of Clifton, Va., a good friend of both families, acted as best man.

The bride is a graduate of the Brentsville District high school and served as secretary to the principal there for 1 1/2 years. The groom is a graduate of the Fairfax high school and is now employed with American Airlines at Gravelly Point, Va.

The only guests were members of the two immediate families.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a short motor trip to Harrisonburg and Roanoke, Va.

Upon returning Mr. and Mrs. Kidd will make their home in Vienna.

PRINCE WILLIAM DELEGATES ENJOY NASHVILLE CONFERENCE

Among the twelve Virginia delegates attending the Youth Section of the American Country Life Association Mary Norman from Front Royal, METAO were Misses Estelle Browne and Mary Norman from Occoquan and Haymarket, representing Prince William County. This conference, which was held in Nashville, Tennessee from October 22-24, was attended by 325 young men and women who are interested in rural life.

The Youth Section aims to promote the discussion of rural life objectives and problems, to give information for a better understanding and appreciation of country life and to facilitate the improvement of home and community living. It includes local young people's organizations such as Rural Life, Older 4-14, F. F. A. Alumni, Home Economics Clubs, Alpha Zeta, Junior Divisions of Farm Organizations and our own Older Youth groups.

Every minute of the three days was crammed with a specially planned program centering around the theme "Youth and Democracy in the Rural Community." These young men and women representing eighteen states are so vitally interested in country life and its problems that it should be an inspiration to their elders. Most of them were from the farm and proud of it!

Through panel and small group discussions they talked about the weaknesses of democracy in the rural communities and how they as young people could help their communities to be more democratic. Among other topics discussed were "Citizenship in Our Democracy, How and Where to Get Help along Special Interests" and "Citizenship in our Democracy and in our clubs."

However they could not work all the time so about three hours each day and were designated as social periods. During these times approximately three hundred people would gather in the gym for party and mixer games, folk games and dancing or square dancing. While playing they learned leadership techniques, and many new games and dances which can be carried over into our local communities.

A TRIBUTE OF LOVE AND DEVOTION

In memory of our dear son, and brother, Willie L. Russell, who departed this life, one year ago, October 29th, 1940.

The month of October, once more is here.

To us, the saddest of the year, For a dear one, who was laid to rest. One thought, comes to us in our sadness

That our dear son, and brother, is free from all sickness and pain, He has crossed the raging sea of time, And left us in the storm,

The angry billows, around us roll. By fate, we are sailing on. It is sweet to think, we'll meet again Where partings, are no more,

And there, we loved, so well, love only gone before

Could he ask us, if we miss him, Yes it fills our hearts with pain and sorrow,

But your spirit sweetly whispers, "Loved ones," we shall meet again Through this world is full of trouble

Full of sorrow and of pain, Yet to us, it would be Heaven Of our dear son and brother, was here again.

His loving mother, father, sisters and brothers.
