Mr. Booth expressed satisfaction that all the counties covered by the Regional Council now had complete administrative organizations for handling the rationing, but declared the machinery would not be in operation for several days because of the failure of the federal governmental agencies handling the rationing to furnish the state with the necessary forms.

"This is war," said Mr. Booth, "and in wartime things do not always run as smoothly as we could wish, but I beg of all our people that they exercise a degree of tolerance toward any inconvenience they may suffer incident to procuring tires."

FIRE FIGHTING MOST IMPORTANT

Capt. Joyce Gives Valuable Advice To Air Wardens

Community Air Raid Wardens should organize FIRE FIGHTING squads for their communities; so they may be available and may know what to do in case of fires, caused either by incendiary bombs, or, from any cause. Every community should have an organization to fight fires in the community. Canvass your community, and instruct those having BUCKETS to bring them to the fire, if there should be a fire. Also, those having Fire Extinguishers should bring them to the fire. Nothing a community could do to help National Defense is more important than protect property from destruction by fire. If every person in the community knows what to do in case of fire, fire fighting will be one hundred per cent more efficient than every person doing as they think best.

Those having Fire Extinguishers, should make sure they are in good working condition. They should be inspected periodically, and if necessary refilled. Relying on a Fire Extinguisher that will not operate when you need it is bad business.

All citizens of Occoquan - Woodbridge - Hoadley - Lorton and adjoining communities should join the O-W-L-Volunteer Fire Department. "This is in the interest of National Defense." When you join this Fire Company, you will receive instructions that will be beneficial to your community and to our Nation. You will be carried on as auxiliary firemen, and as such if a fire starts in your community you will know what to do to assist in putting it out. (The time may soon come when everybody will be required to take part in some activity in the community in the interest of National Defense.) If you volunteer before you are compelled to join, it may be more pleasant for you. That is your neighbors will think you have a community spirit. Unfortunately, a large number of people in the community have VERY LITTLE COMMUNITY SPIRIT. When the time comes, they will be very reluctant to volunteer to assist in community organizations, it will make every community a better place in which to live; but where selfishness and greed prevails above community spirit; those selfish and greedy persons should be ostracized by all public spirited persons.

THE O-W-L-FIRE DEPARTMENT needs your assistance as an aid to National Defense, so why wait until you are compelled to join. JOIN NOW, and show your PATRIOTISM. You will be a much better Citizen and American when you let the Community SPIRIT catch a hold of you.

The O-W-L-Fire Department will answer calls to fires anywhere. It seems however, foolish to call a Fire Department to put out brush fires. If you have a small organization to fight fires in your community, they should be able to put out all brush fires. The best tools to fight such fires is: Long Handle Shovels; Old Brooms; and Wet Burlap Sacks.

Mr. John A. Musselman of Occoquan who recently graduated a Men's Class in First Aid is now instructing a Woman's Class. Mr. Musselman is doing an excellent job in First Aid Instructions.

Some of the residents of Occoquan have constantly made complaints about children roller skating on the sidewalks in front of their homes and causing a nuisance. While there is nothing in the Town Ordinances against Roller Skating on the sidewalks, it is hoped Parents will so control their children as not to interfere with the peace of others in the Town. There is an ordinance against Bicycle Riding on the sidewalks; and against bicycle riding anywhere within the corporation after dark without proper lights. It is expected this law will be enforced.

The course includes police subjects, first aid, incendiary bombs, fire defense, gas defense, and will be carried for at least 15 hours and be devoted to every phase of civilian fire fighting under was conditions.

LADIES TO HAVE

FIRST AID CLASS

At a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Manassas Volunteer Fire Department at the Town Hall Monday night, a first aid course for ladies was discussed and plans were made for a twenty-hour course to be given, with Mrs. Florence Gue as instructor. Two-hour classes will be held each Monday and Friday, beginning Monday, January 12th. Those ladies wishing to join the classes may contact Mrs. John Broadus, President of the Auxiliary.

DOES SOMEONE WANT A PUPPY?

One of those fiends who sometimes parade as human beings, turned a playful little puppy in the streets this severe weather; at present it is sleeping under someone's steps and being fed by kind hearted ladies who are begging for a home for it. Any person who would turn a little animal out in such weather is in a class with Hitler, his Italian buddy and the japs.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ALL BUS AND TRUCK OWNERS

Commissioner R. M. Weir is in receipt of an urgent request from Col. M. S. Battle, state motor vehicle commissioner asking that all questionnaires previously mailed out to truck and bus owners in this county be sent back to Richmond at once, as figures must be completed this month.

Mr. Weir is passing this request on to the said owners who have been asked in the interest of National Defense to make known whether or not their vehicles will be available.

PRINCE WILLIAM QUOTA $2000

January 11 Designated As Red Cross Sunday

The National Red Cross has asked that January 11 be designated as Red Cross Sunday. This is part of a plan to raise an emergency fund of $50,000,000, to care for the greatly expanded work of the Red Cross as it seeks to take its place in the war effort of our Country.

The quota assigned to Prince William is only $2000.00. We should have no difficulty in raising this amount in a County that has a population of over 18,000 people. Yet Prince William folks have been slow in responding.

Any sum, large or small, is acceptable. It should be sent to Judge C. Lacey Compton, the general chairman, or to the Red Cross Roll Call worker in your community. It is not necessary to wait for some one to call upon you. Send in your gift now.

Well over ten per cent of the Emergency Fund has been raised in all parts of the country. Our neighboring County of Fairfax is over the top with its quota. If you belong to some club or organization, make it your business to bring up this matter and secure a contribution. Everyone wants to have a share in giving to the Red Cross. It is the great organization that binds up the nation's wounds, and is always there whenever disaster strikes. It is time for us to stop lagging. Let us make up our quota NOW.

REGULAR MEETING OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Next Monday afternoon, Jan. 12th, at 2:30 o'clock the regular meeting of the Woman's Club will be held in the Parish Hall.

The program for the afternoon has been arranged by Mrs. R. C. Haydon, chairman of the education committee and the speaker will be Dr. James W. Brown, Supervisor of Audio-visual Education in the State Department of Education at Richmond, Va. His subject will be "The Place of Audio-visual Education in the Public School Program." As this is a new department added recently by the State Department, it is expected that many will want to hear his talk which should be most interesting.

The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Allison A. Hooft, Mrs. Thomas Howard, Mrs. F. R. Hynson, Mrs. Richard S. Hynson, Mrs. A. F. Jakeman, and Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson.

IMPORTANT LEGION AUXILIARY NOTICE

The newly organized auxiliary of the American Legion will meet at the home of Mrs. E. H. Pickered on Tuesday evening, January 13th, at 8 o'clock.

A good attendance is very necessary.

DEFENSE STAMP AND BOND SALE

The Journal hears daily of the wonderful records being made by persons selling and buying defense stamps and bonds.

We are indebted to a good reader in Gainesville District for the idea of carrying weekly the names and amounts purchased.

Therefore, we are calling on all schools, banks, organizations or authorized agents of any type to let us have at the end of each a report of all sales of five dollars or more.

It is probable that an official committee will soon be designated to promote bond sales in Prince William, as was done during the first World War, but until this is done, we are making the present suggestion.

COUNCIL WILL INSTALL OFFICERS

Prince William Council, Daughters of America, will install its officers on Monday night, January 12th. O. B. Hopkins, past national Councilor, will officiate at the installation.

Loss Of Rubber Supply Upsets National Program

Manilla has fallen! Important military stores were removed or destroyed and American resistance continues, although we are faced with possible loss of the entire Philippine Islands. The gallant American Army fights on under overwhelming odds, their strategy being obviously to hold as many Japanese troops possible in the Philippines in order to relieve pressure upon the Singapore area which is of greater strategic importance to the Allies.

The week just past was also marked by the formal agreement among twenty-six powers, including Great Britain, Russia, China, and the United States, that none will make a separate peace, but will fight to the finish against the Axis Bearing in mind that at the end of the last World War the United States made a separate peace with Germany, the great importance of the new agreement becomes apparent.

Realization that the rubber supply of our nation has been practically cut off until the Axis can be defeated, rationing of the present stocks became an immediate necessity, but hardly had the machinery been set up to determine who should draw from our dwindling tire supply, when out of a clear sky has come the dramatic order bringing to a close the entire automobile manufacturing industry.

It is stated that this necessity, originally contemplated in a more gradual transformation, has been precipitated by stoppage of the rubber supply, and thus some 350,000 auto workers in Detroit alone face loss of employment, together with some 45,000 dealers throughout the country. Indeed it is believed that around 82 million automobiles now in use are vitally affected.

It is estimated that 48 per cent of our 32,025,365 automobiles are over five years old. Consequently, even if tire rubber should be found in sufficient quantities, the transportation system of the nation is faced with stern readjustments which will bring a grim reminder to every American that we have a real war on hand.

However, on Tuesday the President proclaimed February 16 as registration day for all men between the ages of 20 to 44 inclusive, who are not already on Selective Service rolls by previous registration. It is estimated that this will bring to the military authority for selection for combat duty 600,000 twenty year-olds, 300,000 who have become 21 since last registration, and 400,000 in the age class 36 to 44.

Finally, the week's dramatic events have also brought announcement that the new Selective Service registrations will be undertaken in February, when an additional 25,000,000 men will be enrolled for military service. It is stated that the first registration will include those between 18 and 20, and those between 36 and 64. They will probably be handled in age groups leaving the older registrants to the last.

President Roosevelt, doubtless, will shortly proclaim the registration dates which make all men from 18 to 64, inclusive, eligible for war service of some kind, while those between 20 and 44, inclusive, become liable for active duty. In the meantime the Selective Service Boards of the nation have been ordered to speed their classification of the 17,500,000 men now registered.

It is stated that existing Selective Service Machinery, assisted where needed by volunteer workers will be assigned to the gigantic task. Registration cards are believed to remain as now, but it is believed that the questionnaire, especially going to the older registrants will be enlarged to provide more detailed statement of individual qualifications and abilities.

Of military interest to this section also is the appointment this week of Major General Milton A. Reckord as Commanding General of the Third Corps Area, which includes Virginia. General Reckford made many friends here in Northern Virginia when he commanded an important sector during the First Army Maneuvers in Prince William County two years ago.

A conspicuous development of the past week has been the night howl (Continued on page 5)

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible readings, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

Though your sins be scarlet, they shall be white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.—Isaiah 1:18.

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

Three words or phrases may be used to sum up President Roosevelt's speech of Tuesday before the Congress of the United States. They are ACTION, WORK, SACRIFICE.

The nation now has the final facts on what military experts of the Allied Nations figure is our share of the all-out effort to defeat the axis nations on their own ground. These figures are aroused to the need of a twenty-four hour day and a seven day week in all its factories and mines throughout our broad land.

No longer will haggling labor leaders who nearly sell our country "up the river" as did Laval and his crowd did France continue to "Bog Down" our war effort. With their most greedy desires apparently satisfied for the time being, they see a land too thoroughly aroused for them to carry on their nefarious practices further, and our industrial activities will now proceed at the full speed for which the President has been praying for months past.

We turn from a brief era of unusual prosperity developed by the warring nations before we were forced into the midst of hostilities to a stage of effort during which every demand of luxury must be laid aside totally, now and for the duration of the war, to be followed by years of proportionate sacrifice by which we may realize and appreciate that liberty for which our forefathers in their turn also sacrificed even more greatly.

A GHASTLY SPECTACLE

The magnitude of the military blow which has befallen the United States is just beginning to dawn upon the public mind. We are not a warlike people and we do not readily grasp military facts. We glory in our potential strength and in our ability to do gigantic things, but we prefer to leave little irksome details to "experts" who are willing to take the responsibility while we pursue our un-interrupted vocations. In other words we hire our administrative talent, pay them salaries in proportion to their vast responsibilities, and then we put our vast publicity machine to work telling the world what stupendous accomplishments will shortly become possible.

Too many of these "experts" in key positions in our defense program are not All-American

BANKING FIGHTS, TOO—

on Four Fronts

America's banks, with their trained organizations and their valuable experience, are already in this war on four major fronts: The financing of war production and plant expansion, the sale of U. S. Defense Bonds and tax anticipation notes, cooperation with the government in control of consumer credit, and collaboration with the Treasury in the control and freezing of alien funds.

Not every bank can serve in every one of these ways. We for one, however, pledge ourselves to help whenever and however we can.

in ideals. They apparently wish to experiment with European methods, which have mostly failed, and we have no assurance that they are measuring up to their job, and that we are at all safe under their direction. They seem to be determined to preserve their so called "social gains" regardless of the national security, and this "brain trust" apparently has entirely overlooked most vital safeguards.

To be specific: While our great publicity organization was proudly proclaiming that General McArthur had been advanced to the position of a full General to over-rank the other Allied commanders in the far east and thus take supreme command, the Axis was planning how to make him a prisoner of war.

And while War Mediation Boards are being set up to protect the sacred right to strike in American industry, the whole rubber supply of the nation is cut off, threatening a greater dislocation of industrial and private life than would be the case if the entire City of Washington were blown up, killing every man, woman and child there, including all of these "experts".

Before we change our defense methods it is probable that the nation will have to be purged with blood and fire, but at least there is some comfort to be found in the fact that the country is becoming restless over having the Italian-born Mayor of New York in charge of Civilian Defense.

BRITISH UNION

Through the medium of full page advertisements signed by "Federal Union, Inc." a campaign has been launched, accompanied by a solicitation for funds to enlarge the propaganda designed to establish a Union of the United States with the British Empire, along the broad lines of our Constitution which united our independent colonies, into a "powerful Union of free people to win the war".

The proposal is sponsored by distinguished citizens, including a member of the President's Cabinet and a Justice of the Supreme Court. The advertisement makes the statement that 30 million American adults now believe that after the war the United States should join a Union of democracies to keep world order, and points out that the present frightful world conflict has grown out of failure of the League of Nations.

The idea is not new, but seems to pretty closely follow proposals made in two books published some time ago by Clarence K. Streit on "Union Now." The common government of the Soviet States is also cited as an evidence of how peoples once divided are now united.

It would be presumptuous for a little weekly newspaper to attempt evaluation of such a gigantic formula as is presented, but from our more or less limited study of history, we conclude that the present proposal contains a basic weakness which dooms its practicability.

We believe that no State can retain dominant power in a stable confederation, but must sacrifice its original advantage for the good of all. The outstanding example in the formation of the United States was the Voluntary surrender by powerful Virginia of its western lands.

Yet in apparent ignorance of this basic requirement, the present proposal contains these words:

"These plans provide for representation responsible to the people and in proportion to self-governing population. They work out the details and ASSURE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE A MAJORITY IN THE UNION CONGRESS AT THE START."

In that statement, we believe that "Federal Union, Inc." has ruined itself, if ever there were anything substantial to destroy. For this attitude is what really killed the League of Nations. When we found that we would not be able to dominate that proposal we pulled out. So here we promised dominance at that outset, a fulfillment which would destroy the new United States, just as our United States would finally have been destroyed if the Virginia empire had continued to extend to Pacific, or even to the Mississippi.

However we do take this occasion to express the hope that our readers will not be beguiled into contributing to this or to any other national propaganda organization. We have a hard and bloody war yet to win, and that will require all of our resources.

FUTURE FARMERS TO BUY BONDS

Geraldyn Herring of Nokesville is Secretary and member of the executive committee of the Virginia Association of Future Farmers of America, which voted to buy a $1,000 government bond from funds in the organization treasury at a meeting in Richmond, December 30.

Dr. Walter S. Newman, Executive Secretary-Treasurer of the organization and State Supervisor of Agricultural Education, said that the money used for the purchase of the bond did not represent a surplus in the treasury, but the committee felt that sacrifices should be made in every phase of life for the furtherance of the war program.

The purchase of the bond, Dr. Newman added, is the lead of the State organization in a movement by which the F. F. A. chapters throughout Virginia will supplement the work of the Defense Savings Educational Association in the promotion of the sale of defense stamps and bonds through the public schools.

Virginia's F. F. A. Association, which holds the No. 1 charter of the national organization of boys studying vocational agriculture, has more than 8,000 members. It includes pupils enrolled in agriculture classes in some 250 high schools in the State.

LOCAL METHODISTS TO ATTEND MISSIONARY COUNCIL

Methodists of this and surrounding communities will be among the 3,000 men and women to attend the "Missionary Council" of the South-eastern Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church in Nashville, Tenn., January 27 to 30. This will be the first Council meeting since the union of Methodism. It will gather representative church leaders from Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, Georgia, North Carolina, South Caro-
Florida.

The Missionary Council will be under the joint leadership of the Board of Missions and Church Extension and of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Southeastern Jurisdiction. They represent 2,000,000 Methodist church members. All bishops of the Jurisdiction will be present and on the program: Bishop A. J. Moore of Atlanta, Bishop J. L. Decell of Birmingham, Bishop Clare Parcell of Charlotte, Bishop William T. Watkins of Columbia, Bishop H. M. Dobbs of Jackson, Bishop U. V. W. Darlington of Louisville, Bishop Paul B. Kern of Nashville, and Bishop W. W. Peele of Richmond. Each of the 9,500 churches in the Jurisdiction has been invited to send delegates.

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, of India, author, evangelist and probably the best-known missionary in the world today; Dr. George A. Buttrick, of New York, president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America; Dr. A. L. Warnshuis, secretary of the International Missionary Council which represents the evangelical churches of all the world; Dr. Y. C. Yang, noted Chinese president of Soochow University, China; Dr. Ralph E. Diffendorfer, of New York, executive secretary of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church, and long a recognized leader of the Christian missionary movement; and Dr. Roy L. Smith, author, traveler, preacher, and editor of the Christian Advocate, are some of the principal speakers on the four-day program.

Each morning and afternoon the men will meet in the First Presbyterian Church, of Nashville, for a program of addresses and jurisdictional business provided by the Board of Missions of the Jurisdiction; and at the same time the women will be meeting in McKendree Methodist Church for an inspirational and business program directed by the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Then, in the evening, there will be a general mass meeting in the War Memorial Auditorium of Nashville at which time addresses will be made by some of America's outstanding church leaders.

The Council will open on Tuesday evening, Jan. 27, with an address of welcome by Bishop Paul B. Kern. This will be followed by two addresses: Bishop Francis J. McConnell, of New York, on "Outstanding Elements in Modern Missions;" and Dr. Roy L. Smith, of Chicago, on "The Challenge of Missions in the World Crisis." On Wednesday, Bishop Adna W. Leonard, of Washington, will tell what the Methodist Church through chaplains and other services is doing for boys in army camps.

A mass meeting for Methodist youth will feature Thursday evening. Dr. George A. Buttrick will speak on "Youth and the Missionary Challenge;" and Kempton Jones, leader of the Methodist youth organization, on "Methodist Youth Mobilizes for Missions."

Dr. E. Stanley Jones will close the meeting on Friday noon with an address on "A Forward Movement in Foreign Missions."

DEFENSE LAWS ARE PROPOSED

The Virginia Advisory Legislative Council said in a report released today that it was definitely of the opinion "that the General Assembly should be careful to avoid a frantic rush to enact all proposals for legislation labeled with the word 'defense'."

The Federal Government has the power and means to deal with most of the problems incident to the war, it was pointed out, and insofar as this is true "the State should stand aside."

The comment was contained in recommendations submitted to Gov. Price for the enactment of four bills, all carrying emergency clauses, providing for:

1. Establishment of the Virginia Defense Council and regional councils on a statutory basis.
2. Regulation of the manufacture, sale, possession and use of explosives.
3. Prevention of sabotage and conspiracies for the commission of sabotage.
4. Authority for the military forces of Virginia to continue close pursuit of insurrectionists and saboteurs across the borders into other States and providing reciprocal authority for the forces of other states under certain circumstances.

"Inasmuch as actual war has come to us since the Committee on Defense Legislation completed its work there are probably other essential measures which doubtless will be offered and enacted," the council said.

The defense legislation study was made by a committee composed of Senator Charles W. Crowder of Richmond, Chairman; Brig. Gen. James A. Anderson, State highway commissioner and formerly co-ordinator of the State Defense Council; Col. Robert T. Barton, Jr., chairman of the Richmond-Petersburg-Hopewell regional defense council; Maj. Raymond B. Bottom, chairman of the Hampton Roads Council; C. O'Connor Goodrick, chairman of the Fredericksburg Regional Council; Morton L. Wallerstein, member of the State Defense Council, and J. H. Wyse, assistant co-ordinator of the State Council.

Their report was approved by the council, with some modifications, and transmitted by authority of the chairman, Delegate John B. Spiers of Radford, to the Governor.

LOTS OF FUN, SONGS, ROMANCE IN "WEEK-END IN HAVANA"

Tropical magic, catchy Cuban rhythms, warm blooded senoritas, dark eyed romances, are neatly combined in the story of the "sing-sational" new 20th Century-Fox musical which opens Thursday and Friday, January 9-10 at the Pitts Theatre.

With Alice Faye, Carmen Miranda, John Payne and Cesar Romero in the starring roles, the film is set in the capital city of our Latin-American neighbor and shows Havana with all its beauty in the naturalness of Technicolor.

Alice portrays a New York salesgirl who has carefully budgeted herself for several years in order to treat herself to a Havana vacation. When her ship is caught on a reef, she refuses to sign a release to the shipping company until she has had—and company's representative, John Payne postpones his wedding to make sure she has a grand time.

In a magnificent Havana night club the exotic Carmen Miranda, who has captured the admiration of American film audiences in her previous screen appearances with her unusual songs and dances, does a spectacular new number with 200 feminine dancers—"The Tango."

Mack Gordon and Harry Warren have written five new tunes for "Week End in Havana." They are "When I Love I Love," "The Man With The Lollypop Song," "A Week-End in Havana," "Tropical Magic" and "The Tango." "Romance and Rhumba" was written by Gordon and James V. Monaco.

The featured cast of "Week-End in Havana" includes Cobina Wright, Jr., George Barbier, Sheldon Leonard, Leonard Kinskey, Chris-Pin Martin and Billy Gilbert. It was directed by Walter Lang from the screen play by Karl Tunberg and Darrell Ware, and produced by William LeBaron.

GOV. DARDEN TO SPEAK IN RICHMOND, JAN. 15.

Governor-elect Colgate W. Darden, Jr. will address the seventy-fourth annual meeting of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel John Marshall (Richmond) the evening of Jan. 15, to which members of the General Assembly and other dignitaries throughout Virginia and from the nation's capital are being invited to attend. Governor James H. Price will introduce his successor and John Stewart Bryan, publisher of Richmond Newspapers, Inc. and president of the College of William and Mary, will be toastmaster.

William T. Reed, Jr., president of the Chamber, said today that although Governor-elect Darden has not announced his subject, he is expected to discuss the international crisis and the job facing Virginia because of it.

C. Irving Arnall, who has been named chairman of the arrangements committee for the meeting by President Reed, said invitations are being sent to numerous Federal, State, and Richmond officials, and executives of Chambers of Commerce in many sections of Virginia, as well as all General Assemblymen and the 1,600 members of the Rich. Chamber. Richmond representatives in the Legislature are on the official reception committee to help welcome the distinguished guests who will come to Richmond for the event.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION FOR GOOD NUTRITION

1. I will eat at regular hours every day, for I know irregularity leads to poor digestion.
2. I will not hurry at meals. I will eat slowly, giving myself time to enjoy eating.
3. I will make eating a cheerful occasion.
4. I will not overeat.
5. I will not eat between meals.
6. I will get enough liquids daily, taking stimulants (coffee, tea, etc.) in moderation.
7. I will get some fresh air and exercise each day, and sunshine whenever possible.
8. I will try to build a sound foundation of health by eating a variety of foods, including milk, meat, seafoods, eggs, green vegetables, fruits and whole grain cereals and breads.
9. I will not go on a self-prescribed diet, but will see a physician if I feel the need of a special diet.
10. I will relax before and after meals whenever possible, and get sufficient sleep at night, for I know a tired, nervous body makes poor use of its food.
11. I will be very careful to wash my hands before eating.
12. I will endeavor to have regular habits of elimination.
13. I will keep my teeth in good condition, for I know thorough chewing is the first stage of good digestion and nutrition.
14. I will not necessarily let habit and custom rule my diet, for many of our ancestors' eating habits were shaped by superstition.
15. I will try to learn to like new foods, and endeavor to teach my children to eat all foods.
16. I will endeavor above all to try to choose foods sensibly and wisely, regardless of where I am eating.

HALF MILLION DOLLAR FUR CROP EXPECTED

The harvest of Virginia's most valuable fur crop will be full swing after the first of the year, and muskrat trappers all over the State are expecting this to be one of the most profitable seasons in many years, according to officials of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries.

Muskkrats are plentiful in most sections, it is reported. Mild weather last winter and the absence of floods and high waters during the summer made this an especially good year for rats. Low water may have caused muskrats to leave some of the smaller streams, but the animals on the big marshes and streams are not believed to have been seriously affected by the drought.

In spite of the abundance of muskrats this year, authorities warn, trappers should not allow the prevailing high fur prices to lead them to over-trapping their marshes and streams. A survey recently conducted by a Game Commission Field Biologist revealed that the annual muskrat crop brings around half a million dollars to Virginia trappers, and that the crop could probably be doubled in a short time if many marshes were not badly over-trapped and otherwise abused.

Wise management of muskrat areas often pays big dividends. It is possible to make some marshes yield annually as high as ten rats per acre, and some marshes in Virginia are already producing for their owners a yearly income of around six dollars an acre. Suitable streams may produce from fifty to one hundred rat pelts per mile each winter.

Muskkrats require an abundance of suitable vegetation which provides food and cover and plenty of water. They prefer a deep, soft soil containing the peaty remains of decaying plants. Large numbers of muskrats are not likely to be produced in places lacking these essentials, wildlife men say. However, it is quite possible, they point out, to improve areas for muskrats by introducing suitable food and cover plants, by fencing against livestock, and by building dikes and ditches to supply the necessary water throughout the area.

Landowners interested in increasing the production of valuable furbearers on their lands should consult one of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries' Field Biologists.

In order to conserve newsprint, we must proceed to adjust our mailing lists more strictly than we have in the past.

Our notice, in December, met with wonderful response. However, there are still subscribers who are accepting the paper with no arrangement as to payment. We do not charge our regular correspondents, or anyone who has rendered some special service for which we are giving the Journal is recognition of that fact.

We are extending our period of "grace" for a few more weeks, after which the names of those who are far in arrears, and who have made no payments during 1941, will have to be removed.

We would truly appreciate your courtesy in using a penny post card and notifying us of the fact that you do not want the Journal continued. After your name has been removed, the twenty-five cents penalty will be imposed to reinstate it.

NATION STAGGERS UNDER IMPACT OF WAR

that has gone up from leaders of the C. I. O., many of whom have been gaining advantages by holding a knife at the throat of Uncle Sam. "We told you so," they have literally screamed with full page advertisements in metropolitan dailies. If the government had accepted our plan of converting the automobile industry to war use some time ago, all this would not have suddenly happened. But their plan is the Russian scheme of replacing ownership-management with Union Committees, who without financial responsibility or experience, would direct both Government regulation and industrial operation! In other words they would use the tragic national emergency to further their Communist aim of overthrowing Constitutional Government, replacing its function with "Working-men's Committees" of the Soviet characteristics.

KLINE HERD LEADS

FOR DECEMBER
Wilmer M. Kline, Manassas, had the high producing herd in the Prince William County Dairy Herd Improvement Association in December, with an average cow production of 1,069 lbs. milk and 44.6 lbs. butterfat. Russell W. Fary, D. H. I. A. Testing Supervisor, announced this week. The herd of J. M. Kline, Cannon Branch, was second with 965 pounds milk and 43.1 pounds butterfat per cow. Third was the herd of Johnson and Wimsatt, Centerville, with 1,197 pounds milk and 38.2 pounds butterfat. The herd of Egbert Thompson, Woodbridge, was fourth with an average production of 65 pounds milk and 37.8 pounds butterfat for each cow in the herd. Butler Brothers, Alexandria, was fifth with 891 pounds milk and 31.8 pounds butterfat while C. C. Lynn, Manassas, ranked sixth with an average production per cow of 976 pounds milk and 37.8 pounds butterfat. Clover Hill Farm was next with 580 pounds milk and 29.9 pounds butterfat. Mr. Fary in announcing the December production of the leading herds states that the Ben Lomond Farm herd, owned by Solomon Costa, Manassas, has been signed up for the testing service available through the local association.

The Pr. Wm. D. H. I. A., which performs an invaluable and economical testing and herd record service for its members now has the largest membership that it has had for the past several years. This association, one of the first in Virginia, has been in continuous operation since 1916 and several of the present members cooperated in its organization at that time.

MUST APPEAL

BEFORE EXAMINATION
State Selective Service Headquarters has announced that any registrant who wishes to appeal from his classification by a local selective service board must do so before the registrant appears for physical examination by his regional examining board. No right to appeal will be extended to registrants on grounds of physical qualifications.

Under the new system, it is provided that "no registrant found acceptable by the Army board will have his classification reopened prior to delivery for induction except where there is a change of the registrant's status for which he is in no wise responsible."

Probably for the first time in the history of Sudley Church we must apologize to our congregation for not being able to present our usual Christmas program. A good congregation was present and enjoyed the Christmas message from our pastor. A most generous offering was given for the Home for the Aged at Gaithersburg and for the Orphanage at Richmond. Many from this community attended and enjoyed the splendid Christmas program given at Gainesville Church Sunday night.
