AUTO STAMP TAX ENFORCEMENT

19 Additional Deputies To Seek Penalties

The federal stamp tax for automobiles which was required on all automobiles throughout the nation by midnight, February 2 will be strictly enforced, it is stated in Richmond.

The enforcement seems to be a function of the State Commissioner of Revenue, and Mr. N. B. Early, Jr., the State Commissioner, says that nineteen new deputies have been added to the existing force of 60 deputy collectors now at work.

Owing to the inability of some postoffices to meet the last minute demands it is thought that there will be some leniency until it becomes possible to make local purchases, although there is no official announcement to this effect, and a fine of $25 or 30 days in jail is the penalty for possessing an unstamped automobile in use on the highways.

Since this stamp seems to be a property tax the question arises as to whether cars not actually in use have to be stamped. While this newspaper has no first-hand information on this it is believed that cars left in garages will not require stamps so long as they are not actually used.

Press reports indicate that all over the country compliance is lagging. In some large cities it is reported that not half of the automobiles believed to be in use had been provided for.

From many places, however, come stories of stamp thefts.

MANASSAS CHAPTER U. D. C. ENTERTAINED BY MRS. CARPER

The Daughters of Confederacy met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. J. Carper on Battle Street, Mrs. A. O. Weedon co-hostess with Mrs. Carper.

Chapter president, Mrs. R. A. Hutchison presided. Meeting opened with prayer led by Miss Eugenia Osbourne; flag salutes and singing "Dixie" followed.

Mrs. E. H. Hibbs, historian, presented Miss Isabelle Hutchison who spoke on the first Universities of the South and the public schools, revealing the vital part the South played in the early construction of education. Miss Hutchison's talk was replete with interest, displaying definite and extensive research and was therefore received with appreciation.

The January minutes was read by the secretary and ordered recorded as read.

The treasurer, Mrs. G. G. Allen gave a financial report showing balances in the several funds.

Mrs. Frank Peters reported on correspondence from last meeting and was introduced to write a note of appreciation to Col. Robert A. Hutchison for his very fine radio talk on the character of Robert E. Lee also to remember Rev. T. D. D. Clark in the same manner for his many kindnesses to the chapter from time to time.

Mrs. A. O. Weedon resigned as custodian of scrap book and Mrs. W. A. Newman was asked to take over the work.

For present day projects, the president appointed Mrs. E. H. Hibbs chairman for distribution of literature to camps and schools and Mrs. R. L. Byrd chairman of Red Cross sewing, the first meeting for cutting garments will be at the home of Mrs. W. A. Newman Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

Experts were read from the Manassas Journal in an article on Judas P. Benjamin the one time Confederate secretary of state and former U. S. senator.

The historian reported a January program put on at the Nokesville school and one at Manassas High; also that the annual prize essays would be competed for as usual.

Tentative plans are being formulated for the District meeting on May when Manassas Chapter will be hostess.

After the business session was adjourned the guests were invited to the dining room where a delectable spread was waiting to be served buffet way. The Confederate colors, red and white, were well designed with a suggestion of the approaching St. Valentine's Day. The guest, lingered long when many bon mots were exchanged before bidding the hostesses adieu.

FIRST AID STATIONS

On page 5 we print the First Aid Stations of Prince William County and urge our readers to note the set-up in their respective communities.

LOCAL PARALYSIS FUNDS REACHED NEW HIGH

Mrs. E. G. Parrish, general chairman of the Infantile Paralysis Fund Campaign in Prince William County, reports receipts of almost $400, which total may yet be reached. Expenses were $19.

This is virtually double any previous campaign and reflects even greater credit upon the chairman and her assistants because of the unusual demands being made on everyone.

Mrs. Parrish desires to extend the heartiest thanks to all the committee for their generous and spontaneous assistance, to the various business houses for aiding in the "Mile of Dimes," the schools and the various faculties, in fact to everyone who contributed in making this year's campaign so very highly successful.

ASSEMBLY ENDS UCC COMMISSION

Three Man Board To Be Replaced By Single Head

Without a single dissenting vote the State Senate has abolished the three-man Unemployment Compensation Commission and substituting in its place a single administrator, who will have a salary of $6,500.

The new set-up is one of the major recommendations of Governor Darden, and if passed by the House of Delegates in its present form will become effective immediately.

The Board which goes out the window is now composed of Majr Frank P. Evans, of Front Royal; Labor Commissioner Thomas B. Morton, who served as an ex-officio member without compensation; and Col. William M. Kemper, former Executive Secretary to Governor Price and only recently appointed to this Commission.

Another measure enacted by the House which also belongs in the group of proposal enacting our penal reforms is a bill setting up a Department of Corrections to take over administration of our state penal program. On this board there would be five members with a Commissioner receiving a salary not exceeding $7,500 per year. The new Commission would have wide powers over jails and prison farms and had the support of both Governor Price and the present Governor, Mr. Darden.

SUGAR STAMPS NEAR

Booklets containing enough stamps of last each individual for three months on the basis of an allowance of 12 ounces per person per week are said to be in progress of printing by the government.

According to press reports from Washington about a month will be required to make these sugar stamp books available and to work out the detailed plans for their use.

The Office of Price Administration is credited with the information that the sugar rationing will be handled by the same boards which are charged with tire rationing, but with their personnel enlarged to cover the sugar situation.

The sugar stamps, it is said, are retained by the dealer as a basis for his next wholesale order.

However there may be important modifications, but the rationing of sugar is seemingly about to begin in earnest.

SPECIAL SCHOOL NEWS

The county schools will operate on "war time" as well as everyone else, except that it will adjust its opening hour at 9:30 instead of the regular 9 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time. This is effective on Monday next.

In view of the fact that many teachers and their school rooms will be used for the registration which takes place on Monday, February 16, all white schools will be closed for that day only.

All colored schools will operate on Monday, February 16th as none of these schools are affected by the registration.

The day will be rated as a regular school day, and will not be counted against either the pupils or the teachers.

TO SUBSCRIBERS

Quite frequently we get renewals or changes of address that trouble us considerably. We know most of our newspapers family after twelve years of enjoyable relations. Once in a while we do get hold of a request that puzzles us no little.

Please note your address where the paper has been coming. That will always simplify matters.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE BILL NEARS PASSAGE

ROAD CLOSED

THE COMMUTER SITUATION

Dozens of anxious commuters in this area are wondering what will become of them after a very few months. They will be glad to know that the County Chamber of Commerce has a special committee headed by Mayor Davis which has been laboring earnestly in their behalf.

Up to date the situation is not bright. The railroad holds out little hope of doing anything and the bus lines have not over anything especially constructive up to the early part of this week.

President Cloe has made other suggestions to the committee and something is likely to turn up within the month.

NOTICE TO COMMUTERS (Contributed)

The matter of transportation for residents of this and adjoining communities who are employed in Washington is becoming serious and it grows more serious day by day.

An official in the office of the recently appointed Director, Office of Defense Transportation, was approached on the subject but he was not at all optimistic, stating that the railroads of the country did not have the equipment to relieve transportation difficulties brought about by tire shortage. He did intimate that some of the problems might be solved to some extent.

It is the consensus among some of us that petitions containing the signatures of all commuters residing in communities adjacent to the Southern Railway should be prepared, in duplicate, asking for commutation service and fares; one copy to be submitted to the operating head of the Southern Railway and the other to the Director, Office of Defense Transportation. Such petitions will be prepared and volunteer solicitors for signatures will try to contact all commuters over the coming week-end. Those who are not contacted should get in touch with such solicitor.

This is important and action should not be delayed.

FINE ARTS SECTION TO SPONSOR HOBBY SHOW

The Fine Arts Section of the Manassas Woman's Club will sponsor a county-wide Hobby Week, March 16-21. The place and complete details will be announced in a later issue of the Journal.

It is hoped that every person who has a hobby that can be exhibited will begin at once to prepare it for the show. The first annual show held last year attracted wide attention and showed that there is an unlimited variety of interests in the county. While your hobby may seem to you to be unimportant to others, you will find when it is exhibited that it will attract a great deal of interest which will serve as a source of pride for the exhibitor and will suggest to others what they might do.

The Woman's Society of the Grace Methodist Church will meet on Thursday evening at 8:00 P. M. with Mrs. Roy Muddiman.

THE JOKE THAT FAILED

Some of the boys at Richmond were having a little fun a few days ago, calling one another, giving each the impression that the Governor was calling personally and desired to confer with them on some phases of his program. Then would follow a good laugh when the "flabbergasted" Delegate would find it all a joke.

Finally they tried it on Delegate Conner, of Manassas, but they made a horrible mistake in their selection of a hypothetical matter about which the Governor wanted to see him.

The call went through to Mr. Conner and the make-believe Governor was heard to say:

"I hear you've introduced a chain-store bill; I'm sorry about that. I have a coop bill I wanted you to sponsor."

Then they got ready with their laugh, but it never developed because Mr. Conner said:

"Sorry, Governor, but I can't go with you on that."

MR. CONNER SPONSORS IMPORTANT SCHOOL BILL

House Bill No. 111, introduced by Mr. Conner and Mr. Johnson is considered quite an important piece of emergency school legislation. Under its terms counties are permitted to unite in establishing necessary schools and also Counties and City have joint enterprises of this kind. The bill is the result of population shifts occasioned by the war emergency.

'WAR TIME' RULING SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

Governor Darden on Monday signed a proclamation to put Virginia on daylight saving or "war" time.

The Governor's edict, in line with a national clock-advancing move for national defense, will have the Old Dominion's time-pieces move forward an hour at 2 A. M. February 9.

BASKET BALL AT HAYMARKET

The boys and girls town team of Manassas and Haymarket will stage another double-header this Saturday evening, this time at the school gym in Haymarket.

The girl's game will start at 8 P. M. Last Saturday's game was quite a thriller, the finish being only one point between. Much interest is being attached to the return engagement.

The admission charge will be small as usual.

BENNETT SCHOOL NOTES

The Bennett School is having a contest to see which room buys the most defense stamps each week. Miss Johnson's sixth grade has won the last three weeks.

The school is selling milk and lunches. Mrs. Cooksey is in charge of the lunch room. The second of February they started a contest each month to see which room has the highest percentage of people drinking milk.

The school wants every pupil to have their teeth fixed by the town dentist.

AGAINST PROPOSED COUNTY BUDGET PLAN

The Prince William County Chamber of Commerce at its meeting on Tuesday passed a motion opposing the change in the state budget law by which the Board of Supervisors could not alter in any way the budget as proposed by the several schools boards.

The bill has passed the Senate, and the Chamber urged immediate action, with the thought that if the bill were to become law that it carry as a rider that all school boards be elected.

LA GUARDIA QUILTS DEFENSE POST

Will Resign To Give Full Time To City Of New York

This week Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia, national director of Civilian Defense and Mayor of America's largest city, announced that he would shortly resign his post as head of Civilian Defense.

Some time ago Mayor LaGuardia stated that he would relinquish one job or the other and the present decision has been anticipated by many, and hoped for very extensively among those who disapprove of his methods in defense work.

Following nation-wide criticisms the President had appointed James M. Landis, Dean of the Harvard Law School and defender of Harry Bridges, notorious Communist, to be the executive director of Civilian Defense under Mr. LaGuardia.

Virginia, and probably many other States, however, has already moved to relieve itself of the LaGuardia influence, by abolishing Defense Councils completely, restoring authority to the various Counties and Cities, and at the same time is working out plans to utilize the fine services of the thousands of patriotic volunteer workers who are ready to do all that is possible in the defense of their communities under whatever system is determined upon.

"My work in organizing Civilian Defense is about completed," the Mayor says. "I still have a few things to do, some odds and ends to complete, at which time I expect to relinquish my duties as Director of the Office of Civilian Defense."

Asked to comment upon the approaching resignation of LaGuardia, Mrs. Roosevelt is quoted as stating that, "I don't plan to stay on permanently, but I fully intend to continue as long as I have a job to do."

In the meantime Dean Landis, Executive Director of Civilian Defense, has announced the appointment of the movie actor, Melvyn Douglas, to be head of an Arts Council in the Information Division of O. C. D. and Congressman Leland Ford of California charges that he is a "parlor pink."

CHEESE DEMONSTRATION AT H. D. MEETING

The Hickory Grove H. D. C. held a most interesting meeting January 27, at the home of Mrs. Jack Hunt when Miss Webb gave us a demonstration in "Cheese making". With prices soaring, this instruction should prove of great help to farmers' wives in their problems to furnish good food for their families at small expense.

NAVAL UNIT COMING HERE

Professor A. E. Jakeman this week announced the fact that in a few days a naval training unit of about one hundred young men will be assigned here to study under the same routine as the young men who are training to learn trades most essential to National Defense.

SPORTS FLASH!! (Last Minute Press Release)

The Manassas Fireballers put out the Upperville basketballers by a 69 to 49 count in the Osbourne High Gym last night, February 4. At the same time our little Fireball Lassies took their first defeat in a freak game. Unable to bring a sufficient number of girl players, Upperville "borrowed" one of our girls to make up a two third team. The Fire Lassies went down by a 15-16 count.

YOUTH PARTY

There will be a Youth Party for Valentine's Day, at the Gainesville District School Saturday, February 14 at 7:30 Daylight Saving Time. Come and bring anything that will help in National Defense.

Civilian Defense To Restore Local Authority and Utilize Volunteer Service

The Civilian Defense Bill, to be enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia, is nearing completion and represents much thought on the part of those charged with restoring local authority to the respective cities, towns and counties, and at the same time fully utilizing the volunteer service of the thousands of patriotic men and women who have volunteered as air-raid wardens, auxiliary police and firemen and other important defense work.

A public hearing on the measure was held on Tuesday by Delegate E. O. McCue, Jr., of Charlottesville, who is Chairman of the House Courts and Justice Committee and patron of the Civilian Defense Bill.

As now shaping up the measure will establish the Governor of Virginia as head of the State's Civilian Defense and make existing city and county officials the key men in carrying out his program. The bill will authorize the setting up of a State Advisory Council, but its membership would be selected from heads of State Departments and other State officers as selected by the Governor, and through them would be established regional councils as found necessary. Rules and regulations would be proclaimed by the Governor who would also be authorized to designate a coordinator or executive officer for the State program.

Local Defense Directors would be the Mayors of Cities, Managers or Executive Officers, who would have authority to name local co-ordinators; and for the Counties, the Boards of Supervisors would be empowered to name co-ordinators for their respective counties.

In response to the Governor's suggestion the Committee has not conferred on him as sweeping powers as at first suggested, the Governor wishing local authority to be fully recognized, and likewise the fine patriotic work already accomplished. Provision is made along this line for the establishment of local defense councils named by the local director of defense, and regional councils may be set up, composed of the local directors in the region. The Governor, however, would be given the authority to dissolve a local or regional council at any time as he saw fit and to remove local directors.

Pending reorganization of Civilian Defense the Alexandria Office of the Virginia Defense Council has appealed to all civilian volunteers and co-ordinators to continue their present activities, stating that instructions have been received from Richmond in the form of a telegram from J. H. W. State Coordinator saying, "Please request all your coordinators to continue their efforts and keep the program rolling. The Governor wishes this done."

WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET AT PARISH HALL

The regular of the Manassas Woman's club will be held next Monday afternoon, February 9th at 2:30 o'clock in the Parish Hall. This will be an open meeting of the club.

The program for the afternoon will be a varied one and will include readings by Mrs. J. Vincent Davis and music arranged by Mrs. Lewis J. Carper.

The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. R. T. Johnson, Mrs. Marie Larkin, Mrs. L. Q. C. Lamar, Mrs. Francis Lewis, Mrs. Margaret Lewis, and Mrs. Robert L. Lewis.

It is hoped for a large attendance of members of the Club and friends.

MANUFACTURE OF ALUMINUM PORTRAYED

Mr. J. P. Royer presented an unusually fine program at the Kiwanis Club last Friday evening. It was a "talkie" of the manufacture of aluminum from the earliest times up to the most modern developments on defense work.

A representative of the company was present to make the showing, and received the thanks of the Club.

FOOD SALE

The Women's Organization of the Church of the Brethren will hold a food sale on Saturday, February 7, from 9 to 12 o'clock in the National Food Association across from Cocke's Drug Store.

TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION

"Tuberculosis - Find It, Treat It, Conquer It" is the slogan selected for the Early Diagnosis Campaign which will be sponsored this Spring by the Virginia Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county and city associations and committees.

Because of national defense priorities governing paper and printing, it was necessary for local tuberculosis associations and committees to order their early diagnosis campaign supplies earlier than usual to insure its delivery in time for use during April when a nation-wide effort is made to inform the public of the danger of tuberculosis and the importance of early diagnosis of the disease to effect a cure.

Miss Foster emphasized that those interested in the movement are determined that there shall be no blackout of the effort to control and eradicate the white plague.

This year, she said, one of the features of the campaign in Virginia will be the conducting of X-ray clinics by local tuberculosis organizations to find the disease, treat and conquer it. These clinics will be sponsored especially in the non-defense areas by the volunteer groups, because the regularly constituted public health authorities are expected to concentrate their efforts in this direction in Virginia's defense areas.

Many of the 117 affiliated committees and associations have notified headquarters of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association that they will sponsor these free clinics to uncover tuberculosis as their contribution to national defense.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

CREDIT CORPORATION REPORTS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The eighth Annual Stockholder's Meeting of the Warrenton Production Credit Association was held at Warrenton in the high school building on Friday, January 30. The meeting was attended by 140 stockholders and guests. W. H. Hurt, of Culpeper County, who has been President of the Association since 1938, presided at the meeting.

Secretary-Treasurer, Thos. D. Jones, reported $523,816.00 loaned during the year 1941. He stated that this represented an increase of 8 per cent over the amount of money loaned during 1940. Mr. Jones also stated that the branch office in Leesburg, which was opened in the latter part of 1940, had been a great success, and that another branch office would probably be opened in the southern end of the territory in order to give the Association's members in that end of the territory a more complete service. Thomas E. Taylor, of Lincoln, is Assistant Secretary-Treasurer in charge of the branch office now located in Leesburg, and Charles E. Egan, of Burlesville, was recently employed as Assistant Secretary-Treasurer to represent the Association in Orange, Spotsylvania, Madison, and Greene Counties.

W. H. Hurt, of Culpeper County, was re-elected as director to serve for term of three years, and Roland T. Egan, Loudoun County, was re-elected director for a term of three years. Directors whose terms did not expire at this meeting are P. M. Browning, Culpeper, Virginia; T. Otis Latham, Jaymarket, Virginia; and H. J. Wilson, Catlett, Virginia. After the business session talks were made by W. Green, of the Production Credit Corporation of Baltimore, and Hugh S. Mackey, President of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Baltimore. The meeting was concluded with a banquet which was served by the Community League of the Warrenton High School.

WOMAN DESCRIBES OCEAN TRIP UNDER WARTIME CONDITIONS

At least one Charlottesville woman knows what it is like to be in a zone where there is real danger.

She is Mrs. Ellie R. Carruthers, wife of Elmer I. Carruthers, bureau at the University of Virginia, and is just back from the Canal Zone, where she visited her sister for two months. Mrs. Carruthers sailed from Cristobal January 4 aboard the S. S. Santa Marta, via Honduras and Havana, and landed in New Orleans January 12.

The ship was escorted from Cristobal for some distance. No lights of any kind were allowed. Striking matches and smoking were forbidden and the use of flashlights were prohibited.

Officers said, under the circumstances, they were almost as afraid of running into another boat as a U-boat.

Passengers had a real thrill one night on the journey. The beam of a searchlight flashed over the boat. Into every mind came the thought of an enemy raider. The situation grew tense. A torpedo was expected, but it developed that the beam was from an American gunboat seeking to learn the identity of the Santa Marta.

Arriving in Havana January 10, Mrs. Carruthers was met by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Schlyer, who gave her a dinner party. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller of the American embassy who like the Schlyers, are summer residents of the Charlottesville section.

Mrs. Carruthers reports an enjoyable trip, including the excitement and suspense. In the Canal Zone she attended the wedding of her niece, Miss Evelyn Shirley, to Lieutenant Scott of the U. S. Air Corps. She spent a week in Panama City, where she was entertained by families whose sons had attended the University of Virginia.

NEW GAME RESTORATION PROJECT ANNOUNCED

Work on a new game restoration project which will involve large scale environmental improvements on the vast public hunting areas within the Virginia National Forests has been started, it was announced today by the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries. The wildlife management work has been planned jointly by technicians of the U. S. Forest Service and Game Commission officials, it was said, and the whole project is to be carried out cooperatively by the two agencies.

This is the latest project which the Game Commission has set up under its "Federal Aid" program. Projects approved under this program are financed in part by Federal funds made available under the Pittman-Robertson Act which provides for Federal aid to the States in wildlife restoration.

Major Game Species Benefitted

Deer, ruffed grouse, wild turkeys, and other game will be benefitted by the many clearings and openings which will be established in the National Forests, and by the large number of food-bearing plants which will be set out. These improvements are expected to prove especially successful now that deer and turkeys are being restocked in many sections where brood stock is scarce or lacking.

Other projects which have been receiving attention are the statewide wildlife survey and management demonstration begun in July, 1940, a wild turkey rearing and restocking project, deer restoration, and a quail management project under which more than 880 small game refuges have been established throughout the farming sections of the State.

The Game Commission is also engaged in restocking raccoons, rabbits, and bobwhite geingrbm-SHRRR and beaver, and in raising and restocking bobwhite quail. Habitat restoration for farm game is being carried out in cooperation with the United States Soil Conservation Service.

PRICE INCREASES REVEAL BEST FOOD BUYS

THE average price increase for a moderate cost adequate diet for a family of four, for one week, has increased 24 per cent in the past year, according to the National Dairy Council. The foods chosen were based on dietary standards set up by the Bureau of Home Economics, United States Department of Agriculture. The prices were from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, United States Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.

Average price increases of each group of foods were computed from the latest retail prices in 51 cities compared to the same period of the previous year. The smallest price increase, 9 per cent, was for flour and cereals. Milk was the next smallest with an increase of only 15 per cent. The price increase for fats varied from 18 to 32 per cent. Among all fats butter with 16 per cent showed the lowest increase.

CHURCH FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHURCH

The Word of God

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years. Ye shall do not unrighteousness in judgment, thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honor the person of the mighty; but in righteousness shalt thou judge by thy neighbor—Lev. 19:15.

JUST PLAIN IGNORANCE

In a current issue of a paper published in Washington which we shall not dignify by mention there appeared this week an editorial from which more plain ignorance emanated than the filthy spite of the Reconstruction period.

The following quotation written in a school-child effort to summarize some high points in American history, says in part, and we quote:

"On July 21, 1861, about 30,000 Union soldiers under General Winfield Scott with General Irvin McDowell doing the active work sallied forth from Washington to meet about 25,000 Confederates under General P. G. T. Beauregard near Manassas, Va. Col. T. J. Jackson, later famous as General Stonewall Jackson, was among the Confederates present.

The Confederates routed the Federals in a defeat which horrified the North and panicked Washington. If the Confederates had refrained from getting themselves gloriously drunk in celebration of the victory, they could probably have taken Washington itself the next day. This battle's best known name is First Bull Run."

The statistics for the Confederate Army are somewhat in error. Even the bitterest of the school books published in the North after this period give more accurate figures than these. If Confederate history were better studied and understood by the youth of today in sections of the country where it got into print only under censorship of some sort, the writer of this article might have known that there was prime discipline in the Confederate Army. In the latter part of the war, there was more loyalty than discipline. Such a bacchanalian affair, of course, is an absurd reference.

People of northern origin have never quite understood

Let's get behind the men behind the guns

Let's show our fighting men that we are with them, all the way! Not just with what we say, but with what we do. Let's be patriots with our hearts as well as with our lips. Let's buy Defense Bonds, pay our taxes, pitch in at home whenever opportunity to do so arises. That's the spirit that will win the war.

NATIONAL BANK OF MANASSAS

why Washington was not taken and sacked as the English did a half century earlier. Few of them know that President Jefferson Davis took a "flat car" and came up hurriedly when news of the battle became known. It was largely due to him that an easy capture of Washington was not written into American history.

Even though the Southern States at that time were smarting under the treacherous treatment that had all of the deceit of "Pearl Harbor" in its premises, they still revered the Capitol of the United States which their fathers and grandfathers had helped bring into existence. This is something that the machine-made patriots of this period can not understand.

Perhaps the misguided author of this childish exposition might, if he studied history a bit more carefully, learn that four months later a war council was held at Centerville. It was here that some of the best brains of the Confederacy considered the same thing. Their verdict was that they were not waging a war of conquest but merely endeavoring to protect their homes and possessions.

Much has also been said of Early's failure to "capture" Washington at the time of Gettysburg. For the information of the same author already referred to, we would say that Early accomplished exactly what he started out to do—alarm and keep as many troops near Washington as possible. He knew that if he took Washington that he could not hold it, so why waste his troops?

The melodramatic hokey that has been published about three quarters of a century the wonderful defense at Fort Stevens just doesn't mean a thing when real facts are considered. It is just part of the drama that has been thrown around the rape of the South for all these years and which most reasonable people no longer heed.

THE END OF PASSENGER AUTOMOBILES

This week we record a circumstance without parallel in the history of the United States and doubtless of the world. It is the ending completely of the most gigantic manufacturing enterprise ever consummated by man—the manufacture of our passenger automobiles.

We are not prepared to say whether it was determined that war should bring about this catastrophic circumstance, or whether it was forced upon us by the almost complete stoppage of importation of our vital rubber supply, but whatever the basic cause, the fact remains that our greatest industry comes suddenly and completely to a halt, to be replaced with manufacture of engines of war.

It is impossible to evaluate the effect of this profound change-over upon the economic and social life of the nation. We cannot go back literally to the "horse and buggy days." We have neither the horses nor the buggies and our personal activities have spread over greater distances and require more speed than could be supplied by the earlier forms of transportation.

We just cannot grasp the significance of the change-over. However, as each individual runs to the end of the rubber on his tires and finds himself faced with absolute frustration in the most legitimate and necessary business activities, he will realize, as he cannot now, the awful character of the world-wide struggle now in progress and possibly not yet reaching its uttermost proportions.

Curtailment of automobile transportation is not a voluntary contribution to the war program, so much as a dire necessity forced upon us by the war. The 33,000,000 automobiles now said to be in use may be extremely essential to our all-out victory program. For example there are said to be 2,320 cities and towns with a population of over 12 million without any kind of public transportation; 872 cities with no mass transportation other than busses; 48,000 communities completely dependent upon highway transportation; 18 million workers who live in the country but not on farms; and last but not least 32,400 rural letter carriers. Enforced readjustment of such a gigantic transportation problem cannot but shake the nation to its very foundation.

WASHINGTON HIGH
BEATS MANASSAS

Washington High School beat Manassas High in a thrilling and close game by the score of 22-21. Bishop center for Washington flipped in the winning goal seconds before the game ended. Unable to penetrate the stout defense set up by Manassas, the Washington team made good their long shots which eventually brought them victory. For Manassas, John Broadus and Capt. Dick Haydon looked best for the local lads scoring 7 and 6 points respectively. Bishop and Settle looked best for Washington.

In the girl's game the Washington lassies beat the local girls by the score of 18 to 10. F. Miller, Captain of Washington lead her team with a total of 11 points. Faith Ellis scored 6 points to lead Manassas.

CATHARPIN

Rev. Clark H. Wood desires a meeting of the stewards and trustees of Sudley Charge at Sudley Church immediately after preaching services next Sunday morning, February 8. Please be present so that plans may be made for reports for the quarterly conference.

The Red Cross First Aid Class, which has been conducted at Gainesville District School with Mr. Jack Stauff as instructor, held its last meeting Monday night. Those receiving certificates were Miss Mary Buckley, Mrs. Mabel Cox, Miss Ellen Caldwell, Mrs. William H. Dogan, Mrs. Edgar Hefin, Mrs. Jack Hunt, Mrs. Audrey Kerr, Mrs. Bernice Lightner, Mrs. Edith M. Latham, Mrs. John Piercy, Jr., Mrs. Pickett, Mrs. Bertha J. Pattie, Miss Dorothy Bevard, Miss Charlotte Ramsburg, Mrs. Claudia Smith, Mrs. A. B. Rust and Mrs. John Sweeney. Several others who began the course were prevented from completing it because of illness and other unavoidable reasons. We are grateful indeed to Mr. Stauff who gave so generously of his time to come to teach us, and also to Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Johnson and Mr. Arthur Sinclair of Manassas for their invaluable assistance.

EXTRA MILEAGE

Switch Wheels Every 3,000 to 5,000 Miles—Don't let your spare go to waste. Your Esso Dealer will change all tires periodically as shown in the diagram above. The charge is trifling compared with the additional mileage.

Keep Tires Properly Inflated—Air standards at your Esso Dealer's are checked for accuracy—important today when a difference of a pound or two is vital. Properly inflated tires go more miles and last longer.

Drive Moderately—At 30 miles per hour, tires last twice as long as at 50.

Check Regularly—Let your Esso Dealer check your tire pressures every week. Most motorists used to neglect this for indefinite periods. Now it is urgent that they learn not only to watch tires, but to retard wear of every possible part. Learn to rely on your Esso Dealer for help.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Gossom and daughter, Janice of Washington were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gossom on Sunday.

Miss Mary Margaret Thomas of Arlington spent last week-end with her aunt, Miss Margaret Shirley at "Oak Shade."

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wayland and family of Occoquan were recent guests of Mrs. Wayland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gossom at "Mt. Atlas."

Mr. Robert L. Smith, one of our boys, who went to Phoenix, Arizona, little more than a year ago, writes that he has found health and happiness as well and he and his bride, who was the former, Mary Ellen Mason, of Montana are buying a home in Phoenix and expect to settle permanently there. Bob writes, too, that he is now teaching a class of 25 boys in Sunday School.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pickett and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Garrett who attended the wedding of Miss Rebecca Croson to Mr. Richard Jordan in Montgomery, Ala. and spent several days with Lieutenant and Mrs. J. V. Garrett, Jr., who are stationed there returned home on Sunday last. They were accompanied home by Mrs. J. W. Garrett, Jr., who visited in Haymarket and relatives in Suffolk, before returning to Ala.

Services were conducted at Antioch Sunday at 11 o'clock A. M. by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Barnett Grimsley. He and Mrs. Grimsley were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gossom.

Mrs. Thomas Pearson who is keeping house for her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lynwood Leonard, who is a patient at Blue Ridge Sanatorium, spent the week-end at her husband's home near Purcellville.

In a letter received recently from Ellie Caruthers of University, Virginia, she enclosed the clipping which appears in another column and was published in Richmond Times Dispatch January 24. Mrs. Caruthers in describing her exciting voyage, says there was perfect co-operation between crew and passengers; every one on the alert and ready to obey orders. The passengers about 89, were mostly women and children; as a number of them are leaving Panama now on every available ship. Mrs. Caruthers, who has been a frequent visitor to Panama during the 32 years she has had relatives employed there, says that in looking from her state room window as the "Santa Marta" left the dock at Cristobal, in the early morning mist; across to the lovely cocoa nut palms on the grounds of the Washington Hotel; that seemed to be waving a gentle farewell; it was hard to associate such a peaceful scene with the grim instruments of war which those very trees, and others like them concealed. But Mrs. Caruthers, adds in closing; in spite of the tenseness of conditions in Panama, the grimness of complete "blackouts" from 10 P. M. to 5:45 A. M. every night, there is a spirit of cheerful co-operation among the residents and a determination to keep the Stars and Stripes flying from the Fortified Islands in the Pacific to Ft. Randolph farthest out just in the Atlantic, and as the "Santa Marta" slipped through the break water, she breathed a prayer to God to save the Canal Zone and its people.

DUMFRIES

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Speake had as their guests last Sunday relatives from Culpeper, Va.

The Junior Missionary Society met at the home of Mr. Sammy Bauckman on Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvan Keys entertained at a family dinner at their home on Sunday.

Several of the folks have been indisposed with colds for the past week.

Mrs. W. E. Austin are Miss Eleanor Austin were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Rawlings in Quantico on Sunday.

ACTIVITIES AT CAMP LEE

Posters Will Stress Importance Of Keeping Military Secrets

The fight which General Douglas MacArthur is making in the Philippines adds another reason for the pride which we all take in wearing the uniform of the Army of the United States," said Major General James E. Edmonds, Commander of Camp Lee, in a five minute address to soldiers of the post January 26. Speaking on the event of General MacArthur's 62nd birthday, General Edmonds used the public address system which reaches every mess hall in camp.

Since 1939, nations at war with the Axis have deterred divulging of important information by posters with captions such as "Careless Talk Costs Lives," or "Hitler Wants to Know This." Camp Lee's own ideas about impressing the necessity of keeping information of military value secret will take tangible form on posters during February. A contest for posters stressing discretion in conversation and writing will run through the month, with a $25 prize for the soldier submitting the best poster.

The first dance in the newly opened U. S. O. building on Main St. in Hopewell took place Friday night, with the new surroundings contributing to the pleasure of the event. Refreshments consisted of soft drinks and cookies.

Under construction since last fall, the building passed its final inspection January 27. In the inspecting group were officials from Camp Lee's Area Engineers Office, from the U. S. O., from Federal agencies in Richmond, and from the contractor.

A "bike-krieg" take place every Monday evening at Camp Lee, conducted by Pvt. Charles Underwood of the Quartermaster Replacement Center Public Relations Office, who has three radio broadcasts within an hour and a half. First is over a Richmond station from a building in the Replacement Center, Second broadcast is a mile away in the main Service Club of the post, which Underwood having a three minute interval, to make his 8 o'clock "bike" appearance. His bike enables him to make the "bike" in time.

INVISIBLE DEATH

"Carbon monoxide is a tasteless, odorless and colorless gas which is deadly to those who come in contact with it in a sufficiently concentrated form. Possessing a perfect mask, it represents an instrument of death at top-notch efficiency. This fact only is proved by its quick and mortal stealthiness, but by the number of persons in the United States who annually succumb to this poison, especially throughout the colder months," states Dr. I. C. Riggins, State Health Commissioner.

"The defense against this potential menace is easily applied caution, inasmuch as its killing power largely is limited to defective or worn piping of portable gas or oil heating appliances and to the captured automobile exhaust fumes in the closed garage or any other enclosed space. Indeed, were attention paid to renewing worn out hose and connections on portable combustion heaters and to proper ventilation, as well as to opening doors when it becomes necessary for any cause to idle the motor in the garage, deaths due to carbon monoxide largely could be eliminated. Nevertheless, in spite of seasonal warnings from professional as well as commercial sources, personal negligence aids and abets this slayer, and the premature funeral results.

"In extremely diluted quantities, carbon monoxide can cause drowsiness and headache. In lethal amounts, however, it stabs in the back quite suddenly, so to speak, and the victim loses consciousness before he realizes that he is in mortal danger. Unless quickly removed from the poisoned atmosphere he will succumb.

NAZI PLANS FOR AIR RAIDS ON U. S.

A possible German design for bombing attacks on America's highly industrialized Atlantic seaboard begins to emerge from the information available on Nazi warship construction. Needless to say, any attempts at such forays would be met with the steel of America's protective cordon of surface ships and warplanes. But Germany is designing craft with invasion in mind, and, based on the most available information, these are described in an illustrated feature article appearing in the Washington Sunday Star next Sunday.

PATRIOTIC ATTITUDE OF BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

(Taken From Congressional Record of January 8, 1942.)

Mr. CAPPER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the Record my tribute to the Boy Scouts of America.

The VICE PRESIDENT. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The matter referred to is as follows:

Many of us remember—I, for one—and most of us have heard of the invaluable aid which the Boy Scouts of America were able to give during the first World War. I well recall the splendid record which Scouts made in the sale of Liberty bonds then. Tirelessly and cheerfully these lads kept at their appointed tasks, Scout training was good in the days of the first World War—it showed up in Scout ability and willingness when a job had to be done. The nation saw these things happen then and was thankful—thankful to the four-hundred-thousand Scouts and Scout leaders who individually and as a group performed so brilliantly.

It was with considerable personal satisfaction that I watched the Boy Scout movement grow, especially during and immediately after the first World War. It was as if the Scouts, having come through their first great baptism of fire, as it were officially and nationally approved. Thousands of boys everywhere crowded each other to join this great movement. But it wasn't mushroom growth. Even in those early days I knew that scouting had its feet solidly on the ground. This growth has continued steadily through the years.

In these very momentous times I feel considerably safer as an American and far more hopeful of the future because the Boy Scout movement is as strong as it is in the United States. I look upon the youth of our country, as any intelligent person must, as the leaders and the followers of America tomorrow. The trust we must repose in our boys is important—grave. But with our active Boy Scout movement training them in character and citizenship that trust is well placed.

You see evidence all about you of the way Boy Scouts are assuming their responsibility to their country. They are cooperating with the Treasury Department in many ways. They are placing conspicuously 5,000,000 posters for the Office of Civilian Defense on what to do during an air raid. They have collected 10,000,000 pounds of aluminum, and everywhere you see them collecting waste paper for their country. In the next few days Boy Scouts will be gathering books from the homes of America for the recreation centers for soldiers, sailors, marines, and members of the Coast Guard.

At the risk of appearing a sentimentalist, I say hearty, "Thank God for a movement like this one." On December 18 the national executive board of the Boy Scouts of America passed a resolution entitled, "What the Boy Scouts of America will do in war times." It is a retirement of the application of the Scout oath and law. In the light of the Scout record in peace as well as war his is not just an opportunist announcement to gain publicity. Those of us who have seen the Boy Scout movement develop know that this resolution is more liable to be an understatement of what Scouts eventually will do in these times.

The more one hears about Scouting the less sentimental it appears to thank God for Scouting, and the more logical.

It is a mathematical fact that 70 percent of the men studying at Annapolis to lead our naval forces are former Boy Scouts. West Point counts 68 percent of its cadets as former Boy Scouts. The Coast Guard Academy, which trains officers for that branch of the service, has 73 percent of its men with Scout training. Most recent figures inform me that 25 percent of the selectees now training in our armies have had Scout training.

These figures mean something. They mean that there is something fundamentally fine and strong in basic Scout training—something that develops that character and the citizenship that will continue to make democracy a living, vital way of life.

In closing I wish to pay final tribute to Scouting. What finer examples of Scouting could America seek than those brave officers and men who died valiantly in defense of our great flag in Hawaii and the Philippines.

I refer humbly to Capt. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., whose daring and heroic deeds in the Philippines will stand out in history. Captain Kelly was a Boy Scout in his native Madison, Fla. Keefe R. Connolly died for his country at Pearl Harbor as a member of the crew of the U. S. S. Oklahoma. In his home town of Markesan, Wis., Troop 28 is proud of their former senior patrol leader.

Lt. Gordon H. Sterling, Jr., another officer performed heroic deeds in attacks on Hawaii. He was a Scout in West Hartford, Conn.

I Like This Book

One of a series of book reviews by students of Osborn High School, Manassas—Session 1941-42 in competition for the W. C. Wagner Memorial Prize.

"The Epic of America," written by James Trusler Adams, was published by the Little, Brown and Company in Boston 1931.

Some of the Indians were standing on the shore as Columbus's boat came in sight. Columbus and his sailors thought they had found the West Indies.

Columbus returned to Spain with some of the Indians. So the people, thinking Columbus had found the West Indies, set out for the new land. Finally they discovered that this land which Columbus had found wasn't the Indies, but a new continent. Since so many of the people of England wanted freedom of religion and speech, they formed companies and came to the new country named America. After a short time every country was represented in this new land.

These people in America, continuing under England's rule, still did not have freedom of speech. Consequently they soon felt as though they could do without the help of the Mother Country.

The people of America then elected George Washington as their president. The people progressed very rapidly, considering what they had to do and the troubles with the Indians. The Americans were slowly pushing the Indians back.

After a short period of time some of the people felt as though they should be completely separated from England. North Carolina informed Congress that she was in favor of an independence from England. Richard Henry Lee of Virginia introduced to Congress a resolution "that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States, that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connections between them and the State of Great Britain is and ought to be, totally dissolved." John Adams of Massachusetts seconded this and spoke in behalf of independence.

Finally on July the second, seventeen hundred seventy-six, Congress voted for the resolution by Lee and considered a written Declaration of Independence, which was formally adopted on July the fourth.

This is a very interesting American history book. It tells of the discovery of America, of the hardships the people went through, and of all the interesting things that happened from the time America was discovered up to the reconstruction after the War Between the States.

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

—Anne Utterback

PENDER

There was a wreck going around the curve toward difficult last Monday. One man killed instantly.

Mrs. Birch who lives at Chantilly and past her 95th birthday, is still very weak and they are looking for the worst any time.

Mrs. Woolfy, formerly Miss Bobbie Stewart presented her husband with a 7 1/4 pound son on Thursday A. M. Mr. Marshall Alder celebrated his birthday on 29th.

The weather has turned very much colder. The sick of neighborhood are improving very nicely.

Jimmy Croson was visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Croson on Sunday and took the opportunity to call on the Allers while in neighborhood.

Robert Smith, formerly of Troop 13, Flushing, N. Y., was a member of the crew of the target ship Utah when the Jap raiders came over Oahu.

Lt. George S. Welch, more fortunate than the above men, was able to personally receive a citation for heroism in an air fight over Hawaii. He was a Scout of Troop 33, Wilmington, Del.

Many more former Scouts are daily performing heroic deeds—standing watch to defend America. These men are glad, I'm sure, that they had Scout training—I know we as a Nation are.

So when I say, "Thank God for Scouting," perhaps I'm more practical than sentimental.
