DARDEN COMMENDS 1942 ASSEMBLY

All Vital Legislation Is Passed, Including Local Measures

The 1942 session of the General Assembly of Virginia is now history. Its members have returned to their homes and many of the laws it enacted have already been put into effect while others will have to wait many months before becoming law.

Penal Reform, Reorganization and Redistricting head the list of important legislation. In the latter, the cities of Richmond and Norfolk and the county of Arlington gain one delegate each, Lynchburg gains one delegate with Amherst County and Wise and Buchanan counties gain extra representation while other counties are considerable shuffled around. Arlington County and Roanoke City obtain an additional senator each. Of this bill, the first real redistricting measure in twenty years, Governor Darden commented "It represents an earnest attempt at redistricting and I think it is an important improvement over our present situation."

Other outstanding legislation includes the repeal of the liquor tax; the reduction of the Small Loan interest rate; Lowering of auto speed limit; abolition of the three-man Unemployment Compensation Commission and its re-organization under one head; the abolition of the Division of Motor Vehicles with its duties to be set up under two departments, police and licensing; the enlargement of the State Highway Commission allowing for one man from each construction district; the Slot Machine Bill, which would outlaw and prosecute all gambling machines and their operators, not excluding those in use in private clubs. The bill further provides that the ABC license of an proprietor found disobeying this law shall be revoked.

The closing hours of the session were highlighted by the appearance before each body of the Assembly of Governor Darden himself to personally thank, and praise the legislators for their constructive work and to say "goodbye and good luck."

Major legislation passed by the General Assembly is briefly as follows: Penal Reform. The new penal reform measures include the abolition of the fee system as a method of compensating sheriffs and city sergeants, placing them on salaries regulated by the State Compensation Board within prescribed brackets. The minimum salary is fixed at $1,200 and the maximum at $6,000.

(2) The establishment of a statewide system of probation and parole. (3) Direction of penal matters generally, placed in the hands of a new Department of Corrections. The Sheriff's bill will become effective on January 1st, 1943; the Department of Corrections will begin to operate July 1st, and Probation and Parole System will start October 1st, 1942.

Other bills dealing with sheriff's and their duties include the one giving sheriffs and constables custody over prisoners in county jails in counties having county executive form of government, and another one placing an 8 cents mileage allowance for sheriffs and witnesses who come from another state to testify in Virginia cases. Another bill abolishes the office of constable and transfers the functions of the office to the sheriffs.

Another important law just passed allows for the salaries of trial justices to be fixed by a three-man committee composed of three circuit judges selected by the Governor and who will serve at his pleasure. In addition to fixing the salaries of the trial justices, the committee will also fix those of clerks, deputies and clerical assistants.

Motorists. Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public will probably be more effected by the bill cutting down the speed limit than by any other of the hundreds passed. This bill reduces the speed of passenger vehicles and buses to 45 miles an hour and trucks to 40. This will become law 30 days after it is signed by the Governor. Further reductions in the speed law may be made in the near future by the Governor himself under an amendment to the bill which gives him authority to reduce the speed limit to 40 miles an hour, if it is deemed necessary. (2) Another bill of special interest to motorists in that which allows the car owner a refund on his State license tag if and when he can no longer operate his car due to lack of tire replacements. (3) Another bill provides that persons buying automobile tires from unlicensed persons or otherwise than through rationing boards, must

SENIOR PLAY IS RARE COMEDY

Cast Includes Well Trained Ensemble.

On the night of March 20 the Senior Class of Osborn High School will present "Don't Take My Penny" a sparkling comedy in three acts. For weeks past a stellar cast composed of seniors have been practicing night and day to insure a hit performance. The play is now in rehearsal under the direction of Mrs. Vincent Davis, whose vast experience in dramatics is proving a life-saver to our young actors. A clever plot supplemented by scintillating dialogue makes "Don't Take My Penny" one of the most attractive plays ever attempted by high school dramatists.

The action is centered in the Pringle Household, Lydia, the mother, played by Dorothy Lawson, Caleb the father, played by Joseph Johnson, Gram, Caleb's mother, played by Betty Thomas, Mark, the son, played by Frank Parrish, Mavis, the older daughter, played by Sylvia Prost, and finally, Penny, the younger daughter, played by Frances Brower.

A Best-seller has been purchased by Gigantic Pictures for a film version and the author, Harrison Day, (John Broadbudd) is scouring the nation for a leading lady. Penny, an impulsive, pretty, and impressionable girl of 16 is obsessed with the idea that she is to be chosen. As the play opens Mr. Day is due in town the next day and Penny, confident that Hollywood is waiting for her, informs her boyfriend, Kerry Harper (Dick Hayden) that she can no longer play with him in a tennis tournament which they are scheduled to win the next day. Unknown to Penny, Sally, the Pringle's (Continued on page 5.)

A BOOMING BUSINESS

DRAFT LOTTERY HELD TUESDAY

441 Is First Number For Prince William

The Third Draft Lottery under the present Selective Service Law was held in Washington Tuesday night. The same old glass bowl which has been used in nearly all of the drawings was brought down from Philadelphia for the occasion and the drawings required the entire night.

A feature of this draft lottery, not before used, was an automatic stirring device, instead of the old wooden spoon. The new device was built somewhat on the lines of a miniature concrete mixer, and possibility it caused the slight trouble which occurred.

The first number selected was 3485 which would only apply to Boards of high registration. The first number applying to Prince William was 441, which seems to belong to Wesley Ralph Kidwell, of Bristow.

In spite of all the care taken to avoid any mistakes there were several errors which require rulings from the Director of Selective Service and may shift positions of many numbers one or two places. Therefore the names which we here record are subject to correction, and of course are not official. The only reliable and sure source of information in these matters is the local Selective Service Board, which in due time will receive corrected master-lists from which the local orders will be determined.

The total registration for Prince William was 766, which also might be changed by the addition or removal of one or two names, so that only numbers in the national lottery below 767 apply here. Striking off the higher numbers, therefore, we find that the first fifty men in our County will (continued on page 8)

SENATOR CONNER

(Editorial)

For years the many friends of Hon. E. R. Conner have affectionately addressed our distinguished Delegate to the General Assembly as "Senator."

Now, if Mr. Conner should be willing to announce his candidacy, his friends will gladly add the position to the complimentary title.

Our Senatorial District has been restricted to exclude Arlington. Thus we will lose our present capable Senator Medley, who will doubtless continue as Senator from Arlington.

Mr. Conner has served with such distinction in the House that his elevation to the Senate would meet widespread approval, and since good old Prince William has not had a Senator for many decades, it is our turn.

KIWANIS OFFICIAL GUEST OF LOCAL CLUB

Dr. Leslie N. Coblenz, attorney of Frederick, Md., and lieutenant governor of this section of the Capitol District, made his official visitation to the Manassas Kiwanis club at its regular meeting last Friday.

Dr. Coblenz made a many-sided address. He dealt with the power of such an organization as Kiwanis in any town, and recited several short poems relatives to the small town and its assets.

Referring to war conditions, the speaker rehearsed the aims of the first world war and how selfishness and shortsightedness had worsened those high ideals as set forth by President Wilson.

Dr. Coblenz stated that the challenge was plain to all and that the job for Kiwanis was directly ahead of them. He urged a faithful adherence to the objectives of Kiwanis, especially in these troublous times.

The speaker was introduced by President Ernest Trusler.

Previously to this, the president had eulogized the late Rev. A. S. GGibson and appointed a committee to prepare suitable resolutions.

The Manassas club will send a delegation to the interclub meet at Arlington next week, and Col. Hutchison, chairman of the committee, is working to get up a crowd.

Manassas will have its interclub meeting on April 25th, according to Col. Hutchison.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

Next Wednesday is Union Signal Day and local WCTU members are urged to be present to renew their subscriptions to the fine magazine. The meeting will be on that day at the home of Mrs. Bertha Embrey, president of the local group.

Introduces Bill To End 40 Hour Week, Extra Pay For Overtime And Closed Shop.

Waiting with patience until an opportune time to get results, Representative Howard W. Smith has delivered another smashing blow at the labor racket. He secured action from the House on his Anti-strike Bill by waiting, keen-eyed and alert, for the psychological moment. Again, on the national wave of indignation and anger which is sweeping the nation over the Administration's apparent insistence that "social gains" are more important than the national security, Judge Smith this time struck with telling effect at the forty-hour week and extra pay for over time which is throttling the defense effort.

The astute legal mind of our Representative also devised a strategy calculated to divert his legislative proposal from the tender mercy of the Labor Committee which would have instantly killed it. He restricted his measure to naval construction. Everybody except those who have an axe to grind believed that the measure should apply to all defense manufacturing, but by restricting his bill to naval supplies, his bill goes to the Naval Affairs Committee, where its Chairman, Representative Vinson favors its enactment, and, in fact, is a co-patron of the bill.

The Department of Labor immediately went into a huddle. There followed a pronouncement from the President that he believed this legislation was unnecessary at this time. "In time" the President conceded, "we might need legislation on the forty-hour week and on strikes." But he advised against "rushing things." In other words the national anger over the way Labor has placed its selfish interests above the national safety has reached such a degree that the President was no longer willing to oppose the Bill outright. According to apparent instructions from Labor leaders the only thing they can hope to do now is to "postpone the bill to death."

Evidently the Administration has lost control of the House on the Smith Bill, and they are turning to the Senate, where Judge Smith's Anti Strike Bill was killed Continued defeat of the United States in the Pacific has somewhat modified the Senatorial attitude toward forty-hour work, but Labor believes it can still control the Senate and as a last resort they count on a Presidential veto.

In the meantime Judge Smith has been deluged with congratulations from all sections of the United States on his patriotic insistence that Labor really should go to work in earnest to back up the boys who are giving their lives at the front.

Whether Uncle Sam Withdraws From
The Philippines Or Not The Christian Must Go On.

The Islands mark the farthest reach of our American political interest and are a center of great importance in developments on that side of the Pacific. There are many angles of interest in the Philippines from this side of the water and not least should be the progress of the Christian enterprise in these Islands where our government has charge. Those who have imagined the tropics as a region of languor and ease will be interested in the imposing list of activities carried on by Mrs. J.
Leon Hooper formerly of Manila, who served there under our Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions from 1916 to 1941. What years of change and challenge since she first went to the Islands. Here was a crowded life in a great city where the Church was making rapid growth, coupled with an equally rapid advance of the people along cultural and intellectual lines, all of which made imperative demands upon missionary time and energy.

The increasing development of the national church in the Philippines ave an opportunity to share with national pastors in problems and programs. The training of young people or religious leadership also came into Mrs. Hooper's program as an item of great importance. She taught in the Ellinwood Bible School and Seminary.
Many departments of the church, such as women's society, Bible School, and leadership training have felt the effect of Mrs. Hooper's contagious zeal and enthusiastic interest. Dr. Hooper (now Secretary of the Presbyterian Foreign Board) was both Mission Secretary and Treasurer; when he was way office work slipped in to take up moments that were left over. We almost feel with her the burden and challenge of such a life in the capital city of the Philippines.

Mrs. Hooper's knowledge of so many forms of mission work and her acquaintance with the problems of evangelism in a Spanish colonial background made her an invaluable member of the Second Century Reputation" which made an extended tour to Latin America in 1939 to survey the work of the Bible and Brazil Missions.
As a speaker Mrs. Hooper combines in these different fields with the warm and friendly personality of one born in Texas. It will be a real opportunity to hear Mrs. Hooper.

GEMS OF THOUGHT SERVICE NEIGHBORLINESS

One person I have to make good:
myself. But my duty to my neighbor is much more nearly expressed by saying that I have to make him happy—if I may.—Robert Louis Stevenson.
Teach me to lose my selfish need,
And glory in the larger deed,
Which smooths the road and lights
the day,
For all who chance to come my way.

Adding To America's Voice Highways

The recently announced 1,600-mile underground cable line, to be constructed by the Bell Telephone System at a cost of nearly $20,000,000, will be laid along the route shown on the above map. Running from Omaha, Nebraska to Sacramento, California, the proposed cable will increase coast-to-coast communication facilities to meet future national defense needs. The line will consist of two cables buried for almost their entire lengths by a special tractor-hauled "plow train." The "cable train," able to travel over any kind of terrain except marsh land and solid rock, plows a ditch, feeds in the two cables, covers them with earth and moves forward—all in one continuous operation.

NEW BOOKS IN THE RUF- FNER CARNEGIE LIBRARY

The War situation in the East is well represented by a number of the new books now in the Library: Van Loon's "Story of the Pacific" gives outstanding episodes in the history of the vast new theatre of the War; Smith's "The Burma Road" is the amazing story of the building by hand labor of this great mountain highway, China's only recent means of supply from the outside world. In "The Soong Sisters," the biographies of Madame Chang Kai-shek, wife of China's Generalissimo and of her almost equally famous sisters Madame Sun Yat-sen and Madame Kung, we have a vividly interesting account of China's tremendous four years struggle against the Japanese, the magnitude and the importance of which the world is just beginning to realize. Gunther's "Inside Asia" also gives an excellent back ground study of the struggle now going on in the east, and Walker's
"War in the Air" and Van Metre's
"Tramps and Liners" add much information in the aviation and naval fields.

Among the new biographies, Gerald Johnson's "Roosevelt: Dictator or Democrat" makes out an excellent case for the latter characterization of the President. For, while many believe that the New Deal record by no means matches up to the New Deal spirit, yet the author of this book shows fully that in the President's well considered speeches, acts, and programs there is no threat to American institutions. Other biographies of interest are Nott's "Young Churchill"; Baker's "He Wouldn't Be King" a life of Simon Bolivar, the South American liberator; Thomas' "With Lawrence in Arabia"; Armstrong's "Trelawny," the story of the dashing, romantic found of Shelly and Keats, and Virginia Woolf's "Flush" a delightful little biography of Mrs. Browning as seen through the eyes of her pet spaniel Flush.

In fiction there are three new best sellers: Chase's "Windswep," a story of the Maine Coast; Edna Ferber's "Saratoga Trunk" with scenes laid in the 1890's between New Orleans and Newport and Pearl Bucks "Dragon Seed," her latest book on China—a moving story of the life of the people in Occupied China under the heel of the bestial Japanese. Walton's "The House of Exile," on the other hand, gives a fine picture of China's rich and ancient civilization before the War. Other novels are two of John Buchan's earlier stories of adventure, "Mr. Standfast" and "The Thirty Nine Steps," also Cormac's
"Land for My Sons," and Knight's
"Rendezvous With the Past," a my-

THE LIGHT IN THE CLEARING — Irving Bacheller —

"The Light In The Clearing" was written by Irving Bacheller and published in 1917 by Grosset and Dunlap.
This is a story of the North Country
during the time of Silas Wright, Barton Baynes, and President Van Buren. Into it is brought all the love, kindness, and forgiveness with hatred and jealousy pictured in this book.

The characters are painted very accurately and vividly. Barton Baynes is the main character. He is very passionate, willing, and sympathetic.
Sally Dunkelberg, beautiful and charming, encouraged Bart to go on to success.

Bart, when a very small child, was brought to live with his uncle and aunt because of his parents' death.
Here, he grew up, was educated, and was led into success by the aid of the senator, Silas Wright. While children, Bart and Sally met, grew fond of each other, and were united to the end.

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner Carnegie Library.

SOUTHERN STATES COOPERATIVE FARM BULLETIN

GROWING CHICKS is not quite as simple as A B C, but if you'll be careful of these three things your worries with poultry will be few and far between:

FIRST, give your chicks really adequate care, and keep a complete record of growth, costs, and profits. (Southern States will be glad to furnish you free helps.)

SECOND, feed them balanced, high quality feed—with plenty of vitamins, balanced minerals, and proteins. (Southern States feed has already grown 100 million chicks.)

THIRD, buy chicks with good breeding—healthy, disease-free chicks. (Even if they live, poor chicks aren't worth the feed it takes to raise them.)

HYBRID CORN. There will be a critical shortage of some of the outstanding hybrids that Southern States supplies.

Add to this the farm labor shortage and you can see that it's far more important than ever to use high quality seeds, so that maximum results can be obtained from the land that CAN be farmed.

The Flag On Ehrenbreitstein (May, 1919.)

By Joseph Mills Hanson,
Captain, Field Artillery, A. E. F.

Between its craggy summits
And ruined castles gray,
Between its clambering vineyards
And orchards white with May,
The rushing Rhine rolls seaward
And, hard by Coblenz town,
A flag on Ehrenbreitstein
Upon that tide looks down.

Its stripes of white and crimson
Are blazoned forth on high;
Its stary field of azure
Seems part of God's own sky;
By winds that touched his eagles
When Caesar's legions came
The flag on Ehrenbreitstein
Is fanned to rippling flame.

Below it in the city
The passing townsfolk stare
With eyes of smouldering anger
To see it waving there,
Where once the Prussian war lord
Gazed forth across the land
And dreamed the world lay conquered
Beneath his iron hand.

What make ye of that banner
Ye folk of Coblenz town?
What think ye of the field guns
That from the ramparts frown?
And know ye all the meaning
Of the blue and red and white
That waves from Ehrenbreitstein,
And ye it aright?

Saint George's cross is floating
O'er the spires of Cologne;
Above the roofs of Mayence
The T. J. is flown,
But now between them flutters
Fair freedom's final sign—
The New World's starry banner

Because ye dreamed that terror
Could stay the arm of right;
That steel was more than honor
And justice less than might,
Our strong-limbed Western legions
Have put your hosts to rout
And set on Ehrenbreitstein
The flag ye dared to flout.

We have not brought that banner
Through storms of gas and lead, Through your shell-swept leagues of trenches

That are mounded with our dead;
For a tinsel hour of triumph
Above the ancient Rhine,
But to leave you for the future
A warning and a sign.

Ye may bask you in your legends
Of niebelungeon lore;
Of the mighty sword of Siegfried
And the hammer strokes of Thor,
But drink no more the potion
Of gods and superman
OR THE FLAG OF EHRENBREITSTEIN
WILL CROSS THE SEAS AGAIN.

For the lands that through the decades
Have borne your threats and sneers,
And brooked your clanking armor
And the rattle of your spears
Now guard earth's peace and freedom
With Columbia's steel-blue lance Beside the English broadsword
And the rapier of France.

We take no meed of vengeance,
Nor gold nor gear nor crust;
Ye dared us to the combat
And we stretched ye in the dust—
But touch no more our sister Whose lord ye hoped to be,
And goad no more our brother
Of the islands of the sea.

Of your creed of blood and iron
The world has had surcease;
Mankind is over-weary
To walk its ways in peace.
Lift up eyes, ye people;
Mark well that high-flung sign—
The flag on Ehrenbreitstein

AMERICA, AMERICA (A Patriotic Acrostic)

America, America!
My God given land, so free,
Earth's greatest land of production,
Rich in gorgeous scenery,
I love the lofty mountains,
Cataracts and rivers wide,
And stately trees and flowers, too

Are here, viewed on every side
Many blessing e'er surround us,
Echoes of Heavenly love,
Revert here to each one daily,
I thank our Father above!
Countrymen let's be more thankful,
And evidence love in heart,

And do, now, for other nations,
More really, than just our part;
Ere we find we're slow in planning
Realize, then, its far too late,
Innocent ones dying daily
Could not we have barred their fate?
America, be more loving,

And all do our duty now,
Men and maids of America,
Ere we break our Christian vow,
Repenting past, doing our best
In our God most truly trust,
Cease harboring hatred of th'heart
And let God's love drive out lust.

MAC ARTHUR TAKES COMMAND

General Douglas MacArthur has taken over supreme command of the Allied forces in the South Pacific. His wife and little son flew with him from Bataan Peninsula.

The shift from the Philippine Islands to Australia came by order of President Roosevelt following a request from the Australian Government.

The brilliant defense of the Bataan Peninsula against overwhelming odds has qualified General MacArthur as the most logical man available for the superhuman task which confronts the Allied forces in the Far East, and his assignment will do more to dispel the gloom which has been settling down upon the English speaking people than anything that could have happened at this time.

Realizing that up to the present time our powerful nation is suffering a definite defeat, while all sorts of unconscionable waste and extravagance continues to characterize the defense effort of the Washington Government, the Nation will take heart from this time on and will see, in the Battle for Australia a turning point on the hard and bloody road which lies between us and ultimate victory.

PING PONG DEFENSE

When the American public finally really comprehended the astounding fact that the Government in Washington had actually appointed a Coordinator of PING-PONG (Table tennis) there can be little doubt that the White House received such a pronounced condemnation that something had to be done.

Defense-bond sales have been so seriously damaged by all this "boondoggling" that the Administration recognizes that the public mind must be directed away from all these extravaganzas. There does not seem to be the slightest twinge of conscience in Washington that the peoples money is being poured out like water in all kinds of socialistic experiments which have little or no bearing upon the military defense of this Country against an implacable and dangerous enemy, but nevertheless, since something has to be done, and done quickly about this Physical Fitness "boondoggle" in Civilian Defense, the President has ordered its transfer from the Office of Civilian to another Department.

STILL VERY ILL

Friends of Mr. William A. Varner, residing on the Centreville Road, regret to learn that he is not making much improvement and hope that he will get well soon.

America will not be satisfied! The fathers and mothers of the boys who are to die in the Pacific are not interested where the COORDINATOR OF PING PONG is located. They want him led gently to the door; given a swift kick in the pants!

The Observer Says

Representative Howard W. Smith has made another astute move in Congress to open the bottleneck which seems to be choking the war effort of the Nation.

Organized labor, while stoutly maintaining its patriotism, insists that it can only work the actual equivalent of five days a week. Any effort beyond this, they demand, must be compensated by double pay, or "time and a half." And while these dollar-an-hour men are pampered by the Government, the dollar-a-day men in the trenches work and fight and die any and all hours, day and night, holidays and every day.

Judge Smith, sensing the wave of indignation which is sweeping the Nation as we see ourselves being badly defeated in the Pacific, believes in the possibility that the "liberal" bloc in Congress, which the man in the street cannot distinguish from other Communists, may now be thwarted if the legislation can be kept out of the Labor Committee which apparently does not hesitate to place "social gains" ahead of the national security.

Howard Smith's new proposal to set aside the forty-hour week and extra pay for overtime is written to apply only to naval construction. By this device it must be referred to the Naval Affairs Committee a patriotic group which would unquestionably report it out. Then if thought advisable it could be amended to include all war manufacturing. The Senate might kill it, as it did his Anti-strike Bill which passed the House so overwhelmingly; but the American people, already thoroughly angered, would then find out who is really sabotaging our war effort, and in the end would certainly deal sternly with them.

BYRD PROTESTS OCD EXPENSES

Produces List Of High Salaried "Health Coordinators"

Statement made by Mr. Byrd in the United States Senate on Thursday.

"Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania today read in the Senate a statement by his constituent, Mr. Jack Kelly of Philadelphia, who is the National Coordinator of Physical Fitness under the Office of Civilian Defense.

In this statement, Mr. Kelly referred to me as a "classic example of one of our national leaders boondoggling in Congress instead of focusing his attention on what is happening in the South Pacific and in Europe," and this, merely because I exposed the fact that Mr. Kelly had appointed a National Coordinator of Bowling, and expressed to Mr. Landis my disapproval of such an activity as a part of the Civilian Defense program, saying that unless the Office of Civilian Defense is stripped very promptly of such non-essential activities, what little respect remains over the country for this organization would completely disappear.

Yesterday afternoon the office of Senator Guffey asked me to accord Mr. Kelly an interview, and this I courteously did. During this interview in my office I was very much astonished to be told by Mr. Kelly that not only had he appointed a National Coordinator of Bowling but had appointed 61 other coordinators of various activities in sports and recreation.

I shall list some of them:

- National Badminton Coordinator, R. Ward Starrett, Chicago
- National Archery Coordinator, H. A. McCune, Pine Bluff, Arkansas
- National Bag Punching Coordinator, Albert A. Nino, Upper Darby, Penna.
- National Billiards Coordinator, Charles C. Peterson, Chicago
- National Canoeing Coordinator, Theo Altender, Philadelphia
- National Code Ball Coordinator, William E. Code, Chicago
- National Miniature Golf Coordinator, Frank Beal, New York City
- National Paddle Ball and Paddle Tennis Coordinator, also Frank Beal, N. Y.

National Weight-Lifting Coordinator, Robert Hoffman, York, Penna.

These are just a few, and there are others so fantastic as to be almost unbelievable as being an integral part of a program of national defense at a time of great peril to our country.

The plan also provides that every national coordinator of each activity will appoint a regional coordinator for the 9 regional districts, which would make, in all, 610 main coordinators, and then local coordinators will be established in every community. The problem then will be to coordinate the coordinators which can only be done at the expense of great effort and public funds, which should be utilized for national defense.

Mr. Kelly further told me that he believed Congress should appropriate one million dollars annually for these physical fitness activities, and then said that unless an appropriation of at least $300,000 annually is made, he would resign, which he seemed to think would be a great catastrophe to the country. This was an admission that the effort will be made to institute a gigantic plan of regimentation for physical fitness and recreation as a part of the national defense program.

This I do not believe is a proper function of civilian defense. The necessary results can be accomplished through the public schools and the various other agencies that are now interested in the improvement of public health.

In this time of war and great peril such as we face today, it seems to me we need less of badminton, billiards, and similar activities, so we may devote our total and undivided effort to winning the war.

As Mr. Kelly refers to my interest in the Pacific, may I ask him if he thinks the playing of games at home inspires the American boys who are fighting under MacArthur for their lives and our security and who have no time for such things. I think the chief obligation of this country today is to produce the implements of war necessary to protect our boys already abroad and to bring the war to a successful conclusion. My efforts as a member of the Senate have been exerted in this direction for many months.

Since the above statement was made on the floor of the United States Senate, I have received from Mr. Ellwood A. Geiges, Administrative Executive of the Office of Civilian Defense, a list of the National Coordinators and their activities, which follows:

(Ed note: Senator Byrd then read a long list of coordinators of every form of game and sports in the calendar—too long to reproduce here, except to say that it starts with "archery" and winds up with "yatching." Mr. Byrd added that this list contained over fifty and was by no means complete as many similar "state officials" had yet to be appointed.)

BENNETT SCHOOL

The Bingo party sponsored by the Bennett School Grammar Grades, and held in the high school gymnasium on Friday evening, March 18th, was a big success.

There were between seventy-five and a hundred people playing each game of Bingo. The numbers were called by Jack Davis, Ralph Tolley and Mr. Coleman, with some of the other boys helping.

The many, nice prizes for these games were donated by business firms or people of the town. We are grateful to them for their contributions.

Refreshments were sold by the room mothers, teachers and students of the school. For added amusement there were grab bags, fortunes, and guessing the number of beans in a can. The prize for this guessing game was a cake which won by Mrs. A. O. Beane.

The air raid warning and blackout in Quantico and vicinity Friday the 13th was sure a surprise. The movie house emptying caused a big rush. The sirens sure are powerful. The Quantico telephone called Triangle and told her it was a blackout and air raid and forgot to say it was a practice and she started crying.

By the way, everyone in this section of lower Prince William knows who our air raid warden is for Triangle. Its Mr. D. J. Martin. Let's hope a raid doesn't come at night because then he's in Manassas.

There's quite an epidemic of measles around here, the real old fashioned kind that you know when you've had em.

Spring is beginning to show itself. Jonquills are blooming and we've had some almost summer days. Soon Easter will give us a new lease on life. New hats and costumes despite the emergency. We hear all sorts of things about women's clothing. It will all be one pattern, no pleats, shorter skirts for evening to save materials, etc. But I'll bet it won't lack individuality or fixins. As long as there are women there'll be new costumes that differ at least a little from their next door neighbors.

I will remember to say a prayer this Easter, for a brave young Lieut. who defended Pearl Harbor on that never to be forgotten day. Three years ago Easter Sunday he attended Sunrise Service and a Christening with us and later Easter breakfast. There will be served who will remember how he loved babies and be sad because he can't witness the christening of his son he never saw.

Our Bibles tell us Christ died that we may be saved. In his image our boys are dying for the same purpose.

Did you feel happy, too, over the fact that Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his family are in Australia. A man with his military background and practical experience is what we wanted and needed as Supreme Commander for the United Nations in that area. Here's hoping we will now see offense as well as defense.

Saint Patrick took a back seat this week since parties are taboo, but all of the Irish thrilled to the tunes on the radio, Tuesday the 17th and wore our emerald green for Erin.

RICHMOND ON THE JEEMS

R. L. Sale, In The Old New York Sun

A homesick Southern traveler lay gasping on his bed; There was lack of beaten biscuits, there was dearth of batter bread;

And a Northern comrade watched him, ere he yielded up the ghost, From the ravage of oatmeal and mangled wheat and toast. The fainting traveler groaned aloud and wildly tore his hair, And said: "I never more shall taste my own, my native fare; This cold bread diet, truly, will be my death, it seems, For I was born in Richmond, in Richmond on the Jeems."

"Take a message and a token to my mother, dear, and tell Her if I'd taken her advice I would be strong and well. But I was e'er a restless bird and thought I knew it all, So heeded not her warnings that ere long this grub would pall. Alas, I know she told me true, now that 'tis all too late. Ah, would that I were entering the old familiar gate, And could see the smoking cornbread that forever haunts my dreams, As they bake it down in Richmond, in Richmond on the Jeems."

"Tell my sister not to weep for me, not that I think she will; She'd only say: 'I told him so; I knew 'twould make him ill'; But tell her I forgave her and 'twould be a goodly thing, If she would hasten Northward and our mother's cook bring And when some exiled Southerner had sought and won her hand, She then could fry his chicken as 'tis fried in Dixie land. Thus casting o'er his darkened life some sunlike, cheering gleams, Like those that shine on Richmond, fair Richmond on the Jeems."

"Last night I dreamed that I was home and smelled, or thought I did, The grateful fragrance that arose when cook removed the lid From off the pot wherein there boiled an old Virginia ham— Too soon I woke to find my dream was but a hollow sham— Eat here the recollection grew too strong for him to stand, So hastily he packed his grip and sought that Southern land, To barter all his prospects and wealth producing schemes, For potage a la Richmond, la Richmond on the Jeems."

Handles Seven Billion Dollars Worth Of Alien Property

President Roosevelt tapped a bachelor, Leo T. Crowley, to face the $7,000,000,000 temptation of Alien Property Custodianship—a job which was a ticket to prison for another man a generation ago. Crowley's appointment, announced officially last week, makes him the new champion officeholder in Washington. The man Crowley and his far reaching new job are revealed in an illustrated feature article appearing next Sunday in the Washington Sunday Star.

VICTORY GARDENS

The farm agent and the home agent, join in reminding everyone of things to do now, if that Victory Garden is to be a success. Housewives should think ahead to next year's family food needs and determine now much of each vegetable she will want for use fresh and for canning or storing.

With this as a proper starting point a garden plan should be made up and the required amount of seed of the most desirable varieties should be ordered. The agents add that it is well to order seed early, for better service and satisfaction.

Succession planting will make vegetables available for many weeks, and seed quantities should be determined with this in mind. Plans should also include plantings for the fall and winter garden. The assortment of seed should include an appropriate variety of the three main types of vegetables—leafy, root, and fruit. A "Suggested Garden Plan" available at the County farm and home agent's office, will be of value to any gardener who wants to know how much to plant, what varieties will do best, how much will be needed, and when to plant.

While detailed plans are being made, work in the garden should be under way. Only good soil will produce abundant crops of vegetables; and any garden soil can be improved by an application of manure. The vegetable gardening specialists of the Agricultural Extension Division of V. P. I. recommend using 20 or more tons to the acre and if manure is not available, compost, leaves, pine needles, straw, or green manure crops will help add the much-needed organic matter, and the earlier the better. Leave the ground rough until a few days before planting. Then apply at the rate 1000 to 1500 pounds to the acre (25 to 5 pounds to 1000 square feet) a 5-10-5 or 4-12-4 fertilizer and harrow it in, at the same time providing a firm, well-prepared seedbed.

Another thing to plan for now is the disease and insect control program that must be carried on during the growing season. Necessary materials should be purchased, and all gardening equipment put in the best shape possible.

A Million Dollar Tree

TREES that yield oil have always attracted industrial nations and none more than the one yielding tung-oil. The Chinese have used it for years in making varnish, but since the turn of the century many planters in other countries have seen in tung trees a possible Eldorado. Disaster has dogged

The Chinese have used tung-oil for years in making varnish.

some of these trials, for two reasons. The Chinese tree needs a winter chilling, but flowers so early that its bloom is often killed by late frosts, which means a total loss of the nuts for that year. Millions of tung-oil trees, especially in the southeastern United States have been uprooted because the planters did not know this.

A long growing season and intense summer heat are also essential. Present day plantations of tung-trees, comprising thousands of acres, are located in the climatically favorable parts of Florida, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

But unfortunately the very regions suited to tung are the most malarial sections of America, and successful planters have to guard their workers against this scourge or suffer a labor shortage during their busiest season.

Most of the more intelligent owners use quinine to prevent malaria, giving their field hands six grains a day. To those who are careless enough to ignore or forget this preventive measure a spell of malaria is pretty apt to be the sequel. For these unfortunate a dose of 20 grains of quinine a day for 5-7 days is the remedy. This dosage is the one recommended by the United States Public Health Service, and its cost is so low and tung-oil so valuable that few are likely to ignore it.

report the purchase to local police within 10 days after purchase. (4) Another tire bill, which sets forth a penalty of ten years imprisonment for the use of tires.

(5) The Truck Tax Bill provides the reduction of the maximum license tax rate from 50 to 45 cents on gross weight above 29,000 pounds and exempts operators of two or less trucks of one and one half tons or less, carrying less than 18,000 pounds. (6) Another automobile measure brings up to date the motor vehicle law on headlights, requires garagemen to report to police all cars with radio transmitting sets and eliminates the automatic revocation of the drivers license permit for two convictions for speeding.

(7) Another law passed early in the session would make a jail sentence mandatory for persons convicted a second time of drunken driving. (8) For the safety of school children a law has been passed requiring all motor vehicles to come to a full stop when approaching a school bus which is taking or discharging passengers.

Schools. Among the many acts passed by the Legislature was the $500,000 per year allocated to localities for assistance with school bus transportation expenses; (2) an actuarially sound retirement plan for school teachers as well as a bill which would raise the minimum state contribution per teacher unit in 1943-44 to $720; (3) cut the interest rate on literary loans from 4 to 3 per cent and the limit of the amount which may be borrowed from the literary loan fund was raised from 75 per cent to 85 per cent of the cost of the school site. Local boards may also anticipate payments on literary loans. (4) The Assembly adopted a joint resolution to amend the Constitution so that the Literary Loan Fund could be frozen at $10,000,000 and allow all excess accumable to go towards the teacher retirement plan. (5) A conditional appropriation of $50,000 a year was made for county and regional libraries and another bill passed would allow school libraries to loan books to residents in areas not served by public libraries; (6) another bill would enable persons over 25 to attend school; (7) another would increase the minimum salary scale for school superintendents; (8) still another would provide staggered terms for school trustees (9) establish medical scholarships for educating doctors who promise to practice in rural areas; (11) permit increases in school tax game and conservation chairmen are rates in the counties of Page, Warwick, Essex, Albemarle, Smyth and Mecklenburg, and (12) approved bills for vocational training.

Agriculture. Of great interest to the State at large is the successful bill which provides for an inspector of beef in Virginia so that it can be sold in the State. It is in Federal grades. (2) A bill allowing the State Board of Agriculture or State Veterinarian, in lieu of immediate slaughter of Bangs disease reactors, to enter into agreements with owners of the cattle for supervisory control of the herds. (3) The bill adding livestock to the items which may carry landlord's liens. (4) The bill creating a commission for the supervision of the production and distribution of certified seeds. (5) The bill which relieves the owners of motor vehicles used exclusively for agricultural purposes from securing licenses and allows him to receive gas tax refunds. (6) The pine conservation bill, requiring four large cone-bearing loblolly pine trees to be left on each acre of cutover land. This is optional with individual county governing boards. (7) The much disputed "COOP" bill died in committee on the last day.

Labor. Legislation was passed which brings 60,000 or more workers within range of benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Act by broadening list coverage to employees of seven or more, as compared with the present 11. (2) Maximum weekly benefits were increased to $18, from $16, and death benefits from $5,000 to $6,000 and maximum total benefits from $6,000 to $7,000. (3) adopted a resolution condemning any regulation or practice that made membership in a labor organization a prerequisite to obtain employment on any army camp construction project.

Liquor. Repealed the 10 per cent liquor tax; (2) restricted the sale of fortified wines and beers to ABC stores; regulated the sale of drug-store liquors, requiring Doctors to use ABC blanks and setting forth how they shall be filled. Passed numerous other regulatory matters.

Small Loan. Reduced the small loan interest rate from 42 per cent to 24 per cent. (2) Adopted the bill requiring small loan companies to supply lists of their stockholders, officers, employees and salaries to the State Corporation Commission and added to this bill the provision that borrowers might pay up their loan at any time and allow recovery of all payments made when interested beyond the legal limit was charged.

Reorganization. Under the Reorganization Bill the terms of the fish, (11) permit increases in school tax game and conservation chairmen are rates in the counties of Page, War-the Game and Inland Fisheries Commission is enlarged from seven to nine members with an executive director, to be selected by the Commission. (2) the bill also provides for a department of mental hygiene and hospitals.

Defense. One of the first pieces of legislation to pass was the one overhauling the civilian defense organization so that authority was concentrated in the Governor and local officials for the purpose of expediting decisions and action in emergencies. Six companion bills authorize the Governor to order air-raid precautions; provide for enlisting voluntary firemen in emergencies; authorize the Governor to declare highways open or closed, in cases of emergency and other matters pertaining to defense.

Budget. Passed the Budget Bill by a safe margin and included in its provisions a "war bonus" for lower salaried State workers as well as a retirement plan for State employees and teachers.

Miscellaneous legislation of both local and general interest was passed by the wholesale, while much fell by the wayside and never got out of committee, but the 1942 session of the General Assembly will go down in history for its constructive work.

The More Dollars You Save in Defense Bonds . . .
The More "Axis-Crushers" Our Army Will Have

AMERICA must produce 45,000 tanks this year! 60,000 planes! 20,000 antiaircraft guns! Altogether, 56 billion dollars worth of fighting equipment to smash the military maniacs attacking us.

That's why billions of fighting dollars—your dollars saved for Defense Bonds and Stamps—are needed and needed now!

That's why every American man, woman, and child must put every dime and dollar not into auto tires but into automatic rifles—not into luxuries, but into tanks—not into spending for the pursuit of happiness, but into Defense Bonds for the relentless pursuit of our enemies.

An important part of America's job, your job, this year is to spend less and save more—to invest in safety with perfect safety! Not only does the U. S. Government guarantee your money, it guarantees to give you $4 for every $3 you save in Defense Bonds when you hold the Bonds to maturity!

Make up your mind right now to save for Defense Bonds—regularly. Set aside as much as you can. Make every pay day Bond day!

IS THE TYPE-
WRITER A BLESSING

Diversion of the typewriter manufacturing industry into the channels of war activity, and the accompanying restriction of civilian use of these mechanical writing machines causes a person to wonder after all whether in time of war there is not entirely too much typewriting going on.

The amount of human energy expended in Washington alone in typewriting is almost beyond computation. Officials write ponderous memoranda to one another across their desks, or to an associate down the hall. And the filing cases needed to house these communications! And the waste of paper!

We fancy that a prodigious number of typewriters are attached to our fighting machine—military and naval. Maybe they are all necessary, but probably many of them would have contributed more to the confusion of the enemy if their materials had gone into machine guns and other fighting equipment.

Axis Commanders, especially in the field, are said to carry a long little or no office staff. We do not pretend to uphold them as a model of efficiency but they certainly are going places, and we doubt if they are taking many typewriters with them.
