MANY FLAGS ARE DISPLAYED

American Legion Expresses Appreciation

Since it is nearly a year since the American Legion and the Town Council jointly adopted the Uniform Flag decoration plan for use in our town, it seems fitting that a report should be rendered in a public manner showing the progress that has been made up to this time. Under the division of activity as originally planned, The American Legion accepted the responsibility of selection and advance financing of a suitable flag set in quantity lots and later distributing one or more to merchants as requested while the Town Council through the Town Manager became responsible for proper spacing of the flags so as to achieve the best appearance and also the work of placing the socket securely in the sidewalk.

While it might seem to some that the number of flag sets actually placed had been rather small considering the time that has elapsed since the program was started, yet anyone who looks over the town on a day that the flags are displayed will realize that a lot of work has been done and the result so far has been definitely worth while. Claude Staggs, Commander of the American Legion also advises that additional persons are still requesting new flag installations and the number is increasing each week.

To give proper credit to those who cooperated with this patriotic program in the initial effort to properly decorate our town, we are giving the first list of participants who have become "charter members." At a later time further lists will be published showing additional flag sets placed.

RETAILERS PUSH WAR BOND SALES

New High Records Indicated By Early Reports

New and effective steps are being taken by retailers here and throughout Virginia to increase the sale of War savings stamps and bonds, and indications point to new high records in the months ahead, according to Thomas P. Thompson, of Norfolk, state chairman of the retailers war savings committee.

Instead of merely having stamps and bonds for sale, more and more retailers are now actively promoting them as the most important item which their customers may purchase. This promotion frequently is carried out by means of appealing window displays, sponsoring patriotic advertisements in newspapers, installation of special booths and cooperation with local women's organizations that supply volunteer workers to operate these booths.

Among those leading part in war savings activities here are Raymond Ratcliffe, county chairman; and Mrs. J. Vincent Davis, chairman of the county women's war savings committee.

Reports from all sections of the state, Mr. Thompson said, show intense and widespread enthusiasm among retailers in putting the selling power of their store organizations behind the nationwide drive for $1,000,000,000 a month from sale of war savings stamps and bonds to finance the country's war effort.

Hundreds of requests for information are being received from Virginia merchants in rural areas as well as in the larger cities for specific information on how they may best help, said Mr. Thompson, and to meet these requests he has prepared illustrated bulletins giving facts and figures in answer to such questions as: "Where may our store obtain the red, white and blue aprons and caps for girls and women serving in booths; materials for war stamp corsages, or completed corsages; quarter coin cards to be given with change, cash register stickers and other helpful materials?" Retailers may secure these bulletins by writing T. P. Thompson, 400 Dickson Building, Norfolk, Virginia.

MUSIC FOR THE SERVICES

It is most gratifying to see the response that Prince William Folk are making to the plea for old sheet music or unused musical instruments to be used in the recreation rooms in service camps.

Those of you who have not already gone through your music and gathered together the old sheet music or song books, please don't forget to do so. This will be your little "extra" for "our" boys.

Remember the place to take them—the library in the Manassas High School. If you cannot take them there, please call Mrs. Burchard, phone Manassas 157 or any member of the Fine Arts Section of the Manassas Woman's Club and other arrangements will be made.

This is a very little thing—but it means a lot to those who give as well as those who receive, for it takes time which is so precious in these hurried days, to go through our old treasures and decide "our" boys need them more than we, who have probably kept them for sentimental reasons. After all, it is the little things in life that really count.

WRIGHT TAKES OVER CONSERVATION MANAGEMENT

William A. Wright of Tappahannock, former State Senator representing Essex, Middlesex, Gloucester, Mathews, York and King and Queen Counties, took his oath of office as head of the Virginia Conservation Commission last Saturday morning, succeeding N. Clarence Smith of Buena Vista.

HOWARD SMITH WINS SMASHING VICTORY

VIRGINIA PRIMARY

The smashing primary victory which has been won by Representative Howard Smith of Virginia establishes two things so far as the voters of his district are concerned. First, that Mr. Smith's stand on the labor question, which rests on the premise that unions should be required to assume responsibilities commensurate with their privileges, is overwhelmingly approved by his constituents. And, second, that a political campaign based in part on a distortion of issues cannot be waged successfully in the eighth Virginia District. In this contest Mr. Smith's opponent was an officer of an international labor union. His campaign, when directed toward the supposedly strong labor vote in Alexandria and Charlottesville and the "New Deal" vote in Arlington County, was designed to make political capital out of what was described as Mr. Smith's "anti-labor" sentiments. The effort was a dismal failure. Representative Smith, denying that he was hostile to any legitimate labor aspiration, stood squarely on his record and solicited the support of the voters on the basis of his record. He carried every precinct in Alexandria, Charlottesville and Arlington.

In the rural areas, where it was considered unwise from a political standpoint to attack Mr. Smith on his labor record, the campaign of his opponent was aimed at convincing the electorate that the incumbent had obstructed the war effort by his activities in the House. This charge was based on a flagrant distortion of Mr. Smith's record, and the tremendous majorities returned in his favor by the rural voters are indicative of the extent to which they resented this political maneuver. The labor candidate might have made a better showing in the rural areas, and could hardly have done worse, if he had confined his campaign to the labor issue. There can be no doubt that organized labor, both AFL and CIO, was out to get Mr. Smith's political scalp in this campaign. His opponent had the unstinted support, financial and otherwise, of the national labor groups, and a determined effort was made to line up against the incumbent those persons who have recently moved into the eighth district to engage in war work. Yet Mr. Smith rolled up a 4-to-1 vote against his opponent, a greater margin of victory than when he was opposed during the "purge" effort of 1938 by William E. Dodd, Jr. Despite the larger total vote cast, Mr. Smith's opponent, on the basis of nearly complete returns actually received fewer votes than were cast for Mr. Dodd four years ago. The significance of this fact, plus the even more decisive victory of Representative Woodrum in the sixth Virginia district despite labor's oppression of those members of Congress who have been hesitant to deal with labor excesses through fear of an unfavorable public reaction.

There is one more conclusion which seems justified by the results of the primary. Even those who disagree with Mr. Smith's views on the labor question concede that he has the courage of his convictions. At no time during the campaign did he attempt in any way to modify or misrepresent the stand on the labor question that he has taken in the House. This reflects a forthrightness which is the exception rather than the rule in politics, but in this case at least it is a quality which has strongly appealed to the voting public.

U. S. O. LEADER TELLS OF NATIONAL WORK

Courtenay Savage, of New York and Washington, a member of the Writers' Committee of the National USO gave a wonderful talk at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club last week. Mr. Savage was present as the guest of Kiwanian Robert Davis.

Going back to the start of the war, Mr. Savage told of the various phases of the set-up, stressing its complete success in bolstering the morale of the fighting men and many of those "behind the lines."

The speaker declared that he had seen the nation at war. His first picture of the work of the USO was that of conditions thrust suddenly upon a midwest farming town, no larger than Manassas. He gave similar pictures of town in various parts of the land and told how the USO had solved the entertainment problem. Some of his stories carried a great deal of real pathos and of real service in so many instances.

Kiwanian Conner told of the success of the local U. S. O. drive in Manassas District, stating that the whole county had not yet reported.

JAMES BOLTON IS NOW STAFF SERGEANT

Sergeant James R. Bolton, son of Mrs. Pauline S. Bolton, of Woodbridge, has been promoted to Staff Sergeant, it was announced by Capt. James E. Ligon, Ass't. Adjutant.

Stationed at Camp Lee, Sgt. Bolton is assigned to Headquarters Company for duty with the Enlisted Personnel Division, Quartermaster Headquarters. Since his induction last November 12th, he has shown by his ability and willingness to perform his duty that he merits all promotions given him.

Coming to Camp Lee for basic training with the Quartermaster Corps, Sgt. Bolton was placed in the 6th Quartermaster Training Regiment where he underwent training in military fundamentals and schooling in preparation for eventual placement as an administrative clerk. A call for a man with his qualifications placed him on special duty with the Battalion Headquarters of his company. Transferred to the Enlisted Personnel Division, Sgt. Bolton has been administering the work in the Distribution Section.

Through the Distribution Section, all matter passes to be directed into the hands of the proper channels with a minimum of time expended. The examining, sorting, and the distributing functions are part of the regular activities that Sgt. Bolton carries on daily.

Graduating from the Ocoquan High School in 1932, Sgt. Bolton entered the Strayer Business College in Washington, D. C. to prepare himself for a business career. Employed by the National Savings Bank and Trust Company in Washington, he was in their auditing department for 7 years until called for army service.

It was the wide background of civilian training coupled with the record of achievement in the army that has been a factor in his promotions. The responsibility and alertness to his duty is summed in the slogan, Sgt. Bolton uses, "Every Minute Counts."

Foe Fails To Carry Any Precinct.

Landslide have frequently occurred in this section of Virginia but not in any recent time has there been delivered such a smashing blow as that administered Tuesday by the friends and admirers of Hon. Howard W. Smith, Democratic candidate for reelection to Congress, who was opposed by the Secretary-Treasurer of the International Machinist's Union, Emmett C. Davidson, of Alexandria.

As returns came sweeping in the odds became two to one, then three to one, then four to one, and finally the District total reached the unofficial proportions of 20,522 to 4,904, or something like five to one.

The Smith landslide did not completely surprise old-time political observers but the overwhelming proportions of his victory did outrun the most optimistic predictions. The labor candidate failed at carry any precinct in the entire Congressional District, if early reports prove correct. Even in Alexandria, and Arlington, where the Davidson support was thought to be the most prevalent, the Smith popularity remained secure. The vote in Arlington was Smith 3,382; Davidson 1,404. In Alexandria Smith received 3,025; Davidson 1,679.

In Fairfax County the vote was Smith 2,501; Davidson 698. In Charlottesville, where a larger vote had been anticipated the result stood Smith 906; Davidson 245. One of the first reports to come in at Judge Smith's home in Alexandria was "The Lick" in Fairfax County where the Judge's opponent was licked 151 to 26. The trend of the strictly rural was shown a few minutes later when Centreville in the same county reported 71 to 7 in favor of the Judge, and Pender, 20-0.

As the vote continued to roll up Howard Smith's rapidly increasing majority, he issued the following statement to the press:

"I am extremely grateful to the people of my district for the overwhelming evidence of their continued confidence and to the many loyal friends who by their untiring efforts contributed to the results."

The unofficial count, with a few scattering precincts missing was as follows:

How to make your car last a lot longer

Five neighbors, with only 6,000 miles left on their tires, can, by taking turns driving, each ride 30,000 miles before any re-treading is necessary. Start or join a driving club today and save precious tires.

Don't bump into or scrape curbs. Check pressure weekly. Thirty per cent under-inflation reduces tire mileage 50 per cent. Drive "40 or less." Avoid "squeaking" on turns... many extra tire miles will result.

Visit a Pontiac dealer at least once a month for a wheel alignment check. A wheel one-half inch out of line will drag a tire sideways 87 feet in every mile. Have him switch tires every 4,000 miles, too.

Pontiac's FREE "Motor Doctor" inspection prevents little troubles from becoming costly repairs. Regular inspection by your Pontiac dealer is the cheapest way to preserve something you can't replace until the war is won.

dust off these PESTS with your DOLLARS

It takes less sprayed from machine guns and bombers to exterminate these brown-bellied pests. Combating international pests is not cheap—we war is. Your dollars are vitally needed to help Uncle Sam do a thorough job.

If American farmers buy their proportionate share of WAR BONDS, they alone can finance 30,000 fighter planes this year. Think what a crop-raiding job an air fleet like that could do!

Allis-Chalmers believes that WAR BONDS are today's best and safest farm investment.

That American farmers, by buying WAR BONDS every market day, can make total victory the closest to total war.

The quickest and surest way to achieve it is for farmers themselves to take the leadership. That is the aim of the "Win-the-War Bond Contest", sponsored by Allis-Chalmers in cooperation with the U. S. Treasury Department.

Send in your letter today — be the War Bond leader in your community!

COUNTY AGENTS
COLUMN"CONTRIBUTE TO THE VICTORY
PRODUCTION EFFORT BY GROWING WINTER COVER CROPS"

All who have tried to buy mixed fertilizers containing nitrogen since August 1st have found that the nitrogen shortage is real. The shortage is due to the great demand for nitrogen for making war explosives and the difficulty of obtaining it from past sources as Chile. Just how much will be available for use as plant food next spring can not be foreseen but little can be expected after war explosive needs are taken care of. Farmers who have followed regular cropping rotations which included legumes will be the least affected by the nitrogen shortage and will be in a favorable position to carry through for a year or two. Farmers and dairymen with a large manure supply will make out all right by supplementing their manure with the fertilizers that are available.

Despite all reasons against the practice, many acres of Prince William County land are left bare over the winter. Too often, land used for soybeans is left uncovered during the following winter. We do not have far to travel in any direction in winter to find corn stubble land left over without any cover crop at all. Farmers as a whole who have not had regular rotations including legumes and who do not have ample manure will find it difficult to produce normal crops for 1943 harvest without nitrogen. Since there is an inexhaustible supply of nitrogen in the air above each acre of land and legumes have the power of getting this nitrogen into the soil where it can be used by other plants, the seeding of vetch may be the solution for getting the nitrogen plant food in some of these cases. Vetch can be seeded at the usual time for small grain, 30 pounds to the acre alone or 15 to 20 pounds of vetch and 3 to 4 pecks of small grain in mixtures. Crimson clover is another good winter legume but necessarily has to be seeded very early. Although small grain cover crops do not add to the total supply of nitrogen in the soil by taking it from the air, they do conserve the plant food that is present and add to the humus supply when turned under.

Neighborhood Leaders of the County Board of Agriculture are cooperating in the war production effort by encouraging their neighbors to seed winter cover crops—legumes or non-legumes which may be the more practical—and discouraging the practice of leaving any land bare to leach and erode during the coming winter. Their slogan is "CONTRIBUTE TO THE VICTORY PRODUCTION EFFORT BY GROWING WINTER COVER CROPS."

FARM PROGRAM LIME AND SUPERPHOSPHATE

Farmers will be notified by letter as soon as arrangements can be made to supply fall ground limestone and superphosphate through the Agricultural Conservation Program. Contracts for the materials have not yet been made by the State Office and until this is done, we are not at liberty to accept applications for the materials at the county office.

FARM PERFORMANCE NOW
BEING CHECKED BY FARM
PROGRAM COMMITTEEMEN

Farm performance for payments under the Agricultural Conservation Program is now being checked by County and Community Agricultural Conservation Program Committeemen. Because of the inability to obtain regular full-time supervisors to do this work, the County and Community Committeemen are making a personal sacrifice in taking time off from their farms to complete this necessary part of the conservation program. Fine cooperation on the part of participating farmers in furnishing them with performance information is reported by the Committeemen who have generously accepted the responsibility of checking on the "approximately one thousand participating farms in the county."

OCCOQUAN

The O-W-L-Volunteer Fire Department, will hold a CARNIVAL during the week of August 15-22, on Morgan Field near the High School in Occoquan. This will be the best ever held in this section of the State. There will be all kinds of amusement GADGETS for Grown Ups as well as for children. Come all and help to make this a great success. We all owe it to our Fire Department to help them in every way possible.

The drive for funds for the U. S. O., has been extended in Occoquan District until August 12th. This, because we are behind on out allotted quota. Will everyone who has not given for this worthy cause give something. Either see that it reaches Mrs. Wallace S. Lynn in Occoquan, or Thomas F. SAFeway Homemakers' Guide

NUMBER 55 ★ How to have more fun during vacation ★ A list of fine foods, low-priced every day ★ What one girl learned about easy shopping

from spoiling
your vacation

Like most of us, you are probably staying close to home for your vacation this year—which means that household duties may go on as usual, vacation or no vacation. But with a little clever planning, you'll be amazed at how much more time there is for leisure. And you'll find vacations at home can really be lots of fun.

Below, the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau has suggested several time-saving ideas. See if you don't think they're good ones.

Plan menus ahead of time. Allow plenty of variety, including a few foods you don't often buy; but choose things that cook quickly, or may be partially prepared in advance. Don't undertake elaborate, time-consuming cookery unless that's your idea of fun!

Be leisurely. Shop early in the day when stores are less crowded—you are less rushed—and the selection is better.

Be forehanded. Plan foods that can be prepared in advance. Meat loaves, casseroles, molded salads, puddings and cookies are good examples.

Be cool. Do your heavy cooking in the cool of the morning, or even the night before if possible.

Be smart. Purposely plan meat leftovers every so often for easy second-day cooking. Roasts, fried chickens, baked ham, for instance.

And here's a menu that shows you what we mean by advance preparation and tasty eating.

We feel sure a number of her friends in Occoquan where she was a member of the High School Faculty will be glad to know that Miss Jessie Neale of Bealton, Va., has been selected as a candidate for Officers Training in the W. WORKERS SHOULD INFORM
OF ANY CHANGES IN NAME

It has come to the attention of the Alexandria, Va. field office of the Social Security Board that many persons who have social security account numbers have changed their names through marriage or for other reasons and have never notified the Social Security Board, it was stated today by Mrs. Mildred G. Brightenburgh,

Acting Manager of the Alexandria Field Office of the Social Security Board. "It is advisable to notify the Board of any corrections that should be made in data on application blanks, such as date of birth, mother's and father's name, etc., and of all changes in name."

Residents of Alexandria City and Culpeper, Arlington, Fairfax, Fauquier, Loudoun, Prince William, and Rappahannock Counties who wish to make such changes may secure suitable forms or blanks by writing or calling in person at the Alexandria office, Room 313, P. O. Building, Alexandria, Va. The Alexandria office will also give immediate attention to telephone requests, telephone Alexandria 1671. Mrs. Brightenburgh added that those applying for a change in name should bring or mail their account number cards. If the card has been lost, a duplicate may be requested at the same time. A record of the number should be kept until a new account number card bearing the corrected name is received by the wage earner from the central office of the Board. The employer should also be informed of the change so that the name reported by him will be the same as that shown on the corrected account number card.

The reporting of such corrections and changes is necessary in order that the Social Security Board may maintain accurate records at all times, Mrs. Brightenburgh said. She added that it would not be necessary to report any changes in address.

"PLAYMATES" IS GAY,
TUNEFUL COMEDY HIT

Bringing together two of the top entertainment favorites of today—Kay Kyser and John Barrymore—"Playmates" is scheduled for early showings here. An hilarious story of a publicity trick that has unexpected consequences forms the basis of the song-studded comedy, which features a brilliant supporting cast and scores of novel situations as its gay unfolds. Third in the series of highly successful, Kyser starrers, "Playmates" again presents the famous band leader as himself, and has Barrymore likewise portraying his own personality. Barrymore has income-tax trouperous situations of the plot and its surprise ending as Kyser outwits Barrymore and presents a startling swing version of Shakespeare at the climax. Filmed in lavish settings and featuring the entire Kyser band and its entertainers, including Harry Babbitt, Sully Mason and Ish Kabibble along with Miss Simms, "Playmates" is said to be the most entertaining novelty feature of the season.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible readings, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

REELECTION OF HOWARD W. SMITH

It is with the utmost gratification that we record the smashing victory on Tuesday of Hon. Howard W. Smith in the Democratic Primary for nomination to Represent the Eighth District of Virginia in the national Congress. The nomination is equivalent to election in this part of the world, so we have the definite assurance that we will be continued to be represented in Washington by our present distinguished Congressman.

We cannot forego an added expression of satisfaction in noting that his opponent failed to carry a single precinct in the entire Congressional District.

Thus the good old Virginia Eighth, which has given so much to the nation, again stands squarely across the pathway of those who would invade our security and cripple our fighting power.

From the stirring times of the Revolution to the present day the Eighth Virginia District has produced public servants, who have written their names high in the annals of Democracy. From our District came Washington, Mason, and Robert Edward Lee. In our area the immortal Stonewall Jackson won imperishable fame. In fact ever and always those who would undermine our security and plunder our resources has had bad days among us. Indeed we have often been styled "The Fighting Eighth."

So the International Machinist's Union found us on Tuesday. The nation, too, was watching. Howard Smith is the outstanding foe in Congress of the Alien Enemy, the Racketeer and the Fifth Column. What would we do? Would we credit the downright falsehoods?

We gave our answer Tuesday and the Nation and the World knows how deeply we appreciate the outstanding public services

"A WAR MESSAGE TO THE BANKS OF AMERICA"

"The success of one of the most vital of our country's war efforts is in your hands."

"To date, your unstinted contributions to the United States War Savings Bond program have been magnificent. You have been doing a proud job. What you did even before the outbreak of war has become one of the finest testimonials to our Democratic Way."

"That over 14,000 commercial and savings banks—without a cent of compensation—voluntarily launched a great and successful drive to sell War Savings Bonds is a glowing tribute to the quality of the patriotism of America's financial institutions."

and the unquestioned integrity of our beloved friend and neighbor. Every vote cast for Howard Smith was a personal blow against all national foes, foreign and domestic. Every voter had an opportunity to make an individual contribution to the war effort, and most of us availed ourselves of that chance.

POPULARITY OF HOWARD SMITH

According to this morning's issue of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, which rarely has anything good to say about affairs in the Eighth District of Virginia, outstanding factors in the Howard Smith victory was the Byrd "machine" and newspaper support.

As a matter of fact it is well known that the outstanding factor was the personal popularity of Judge Smith and the smashing power of his own organization. With all due respect to Senator Byrd, whose support is highly valued, there is no "Byrd Machine" in the Eighth District. If we have any political "machine" up here it is a "Smith Machine," and it seemed to be the most excellent running order last Tuesday.

AN IMPORTANT CIVILIAN DEFENSE AMENDMENT

We note with satisfaction that Rule 18 of Executive Order No. 69 has been amended, lowering the age limit from 18 to 16 years on children being used as messengers or in any other capacity during air-raids.

The order now provides that "In addition to the rule that no children under 16 shall be used in any capacity during an air raid, it provides that if an air raid signal is given during normal school hours, only those children used as messengers or in any other capacity, who are 16 years of age or over, may be released from school to report to their post when an air raid warning signal is given."

There are relatively few children in the public schools over 18 years of age but a large number become available under this age reduction, and these youngsters, alert, patriotic and capable of speedy action, will constitute a great asset in time of air-raids.

DISCUSSES FAULTS OF CONGRESS AND "TYRANNY" OF ORGANIZED LABOR.

To the Editor of the Star:

Never before in time of great national peril or at any other time, for that matter, has mediocrity been so largely represented in high Government positions. Never were statesmanship, wisdom and common sense so lacking. Never was a Congress motivated so little by magnanimity, love of country and justice for all. Rather it has been more concerned lest its "dignity" be impaired, more interested in pensions for itself, X cards and abundant gasoline for November election campaigning.

Organized labor, which for years decried industrial tyranny, is now more tyrannous than industry ever was. The New Deal political clique, labor racketeers and the powerful organized labor-favored class have already darkened "freedom's holy light." There is no freedom. No more may our greatest symphony orchestra broadcast its matchless music or make musical records for the pure pleasure of music lovers the world over. Stopped was a high school orchestra because it was not unionized or might interfere with those that are! The soldiers on the suffocating sands of the African desert, the homesick lads in the icy north, the lonely lighthouse keeper, the sick, the blind, the crippled, the broken-hearted in cottage, camp and hospital, the sailor on the darkest sea where danger ever threatens are to be denied the comfort and pleasure of the music of the Boston Symphony Orchestra by Labor Leader Petrillo because the musicians are not members and do not pay tribute to his union. No broadcasting station is permitted to give this free music to the world. Is this the land of the free?

"This country cannot exist half slave and half free." The great mass of unorganized labor must not be the slaves of a labor oligarchy. There must be but one common law, no favored class, rich or poor. The Constitution of the United States must be restored—supreme. The Supreme Court must not be tainted by politics nor coerced. It must be a tribunal of our greatest, wisest, most honorable jurists. Every citizen, organized or unorganized, must be protected in his right to work for anybody, anywhere, any time.

When these reforms are established and not until then, will America be the "land of the free."

WRIGHT TAKES OVER CONSERVATION COMMISSION

His first official act was to announce the appointment of George Prince Arnold of Waverly, veteran newspaper man, as his assistant in charge of publicity for the Commission. Mr. Arnold takes over some of the duties of Colonel Richard A. Gilliam, former executive secretary, and those of J. Stuart White, former director of publicity and advertising for the commission. Mr. Arnold, who is a graduate of William and Mary entered newspaper work on the staff of the Norfolk Virginian Pilot, has served since then on the staffs of the old New York Sun, the Lynchburg News and the Richmond News Leader, and

It is planned to drastically curtail Virginia's advertising and publicity activities for "the duration," but Mr. Arnold brings to his new job a wealth of valuable information in both of his dual capacities.

Colonel Gilliam will remain with the commission in the capacity of fiscal secretary.

LOVE ME NOW

(Reprinted by request of Mrs. R. H. Eley, of Hartwood, Va.)
If you ever going to love me,
Love me now while I can know
All the sweet and tender feelings,
Which from a real affection flow.

Love me now while I am living,
Do not wait 'till I am gone,
And then chisel it in marble,
Warm love words on ice cold stone.

If you, dear, have sweet thoughts about me,
Why not whisper them to me,
Don't you know it would make me
happy,
And as glad as glad could be.

But if you wait until I am sleeping,
Never to waken here again,
There be walls of earth between us,
And I could not hear you then.

If you knew some one was thirsting,
For a drop of water sweet,
Would you be so slow to bring it,
Would you step with laggard feet.

There are tender hearts around us,
Who are thirsting for our love,
Shall we begrudge to them that heaven
Has kindly sent to us from above.

I won't need your kind caresses
When the grass grows over my face,
I won't crave your love or kisses,
In my last low resting place.

So if you love me any,
If its just a little bit,
I'd rather know it now,

BECOMES VICE-PRESIDENT
OF C. & P. TELEPHONE

At their meeting on July 31, the directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia accepted the resignation of Robert C. McCann, vice president and general manager, to permit him to accept a position as vice-president of the four Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone companies, serving Washington, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

The directors also elected Arthur L. Lambdin vice-president and general manager to succeed Mr. McCann. Mr. Lambdin, born in Baltimore and educated in Maryland and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston, is well known in Richmond, having been associated with the C. and P. of Virginia since January 1927 and general commercial manager of the company since May 1936. Mr. Lambdin's successor has not been announced.

Mr. McCann, a resident of Richmond since 1930, entered the telephone business in 1922 as a traffic student and before coming to Virginia held successive positions with the C. and P. companies in Washington and Maryland. In May of 1939 Mr. McCann was elected general manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia and advanced to vice-president and general manager in February 1940, which position he leaves to become vice-president of the four C. and P. Companies which have their executive offices in Washington.

In his new position, Mr. McCann will coordinate for the four companies the consideration of construction and maintenance costs and other forecasts and analyses that are important in the conduct of the business.

Official U. S. Treasury War Bond Quotas for August

Washington, D. C., August 5.—While maintaining a tentative annual level of twelve billion dollars as its goal, the Treasury Department today fixed the August quota for the sale of War Bonds at $815,000,000 as shown by the accompanying map by states.

In lowering the quota from a billion dollars in July to $815,000,000 in August, the Treasury has given recognition to certain factors which may be expected to result in variations in sales over the 12-month period, such as the seasonal character of farm income.

These factors have been taken into account in determining each state's share for the national quota for August and will be given consideration in fixing quotas for subsequent months.

In addition to the state quotas as set out in the map there is a federal payroll allotment quota of $9,750,000 and territorial quotas as follows: Alaska, $760,000; Canal Zone, $213,000; Hawaii, $4,800,000; Puerto Rico, $440,000 and the Virgin Islands, $17,000.

THREE HAMLETS ARE THE STARS OF "INVADERS"

Three noted Hamlets of our generation are starred in "The Invaders," the adventurous story of a Nazi submarine crew's invasion of Canada which Columbia Pictures is presenting at the Pitts Theatre next Wednesday, August 12.

Taking them in order of their appearance, the first Melancholy Dane Raymond Massey. A little more than ten years ago, before the term "streamlined" was applied to everything from a skyscraper to a muffin, the Canadian actor made his first Broadway impression in a streamlined version of "Hamlet," paced with an idea more toward melodrama than contemplation. It was one of the shortest "Hamlets" in the history of the theatre—and one of the most active.

At the end of the pendulum was the "uncut" version of the Shakespearean tragedy presented by Laurence Olivier at the Old Vic, London, in 1937. Olivier who dabbled in the classics between screen appearances (recently he appeared in New York with his wife, Vivien Leigh, in "Romeo and Juliet") restored the complete text of the play for the first time in many years. A little later, Leslie Howard brought a glowing production of "Hamlet" to Broadway in which he substituted 10th century Danish costumes and decorations for the Elizabethan settings.

In "The Invaders," Olivier portrays a French-Canadian trapper, Massey is a discontented Canadian soldier, and Howard is a dilettant writer, all of whom run afoul of an invading Nazi band. The three ex-Hamlets recognize that the time is out of joint, but instead of indulging in that "O cursed spirit!" routine, they take arms again, set a sea of troubles and help to dispel the Nazi superman illusion.

Olivier accepted his role with mingled emotions. With their native England reeling nightly under the blitz, he and his wife, Vivien Leigh, wanted to return to their home folks. He, and his press agent, Lulu Monahan, is trying to wrangle him a profitable contract for a radio show under the sponsorship of a wealthy vitamin pill-maker, Nelson Pennypacker.

But Pennypacker doesn't think Barrymore will draw enough customers; he wants somebody immensely popular, like Kay Kyser, for his program. Lulu is a friend of Kyser's press-agent, Pete Lindsey, and between them they cook up a publicity stunt of having Kyser take lessons in Shakespeare from Barrymore.

The stunt irritates both principals, but they are persuaded to go through with it, and Pennypacker agrees to give Barrymore the contract if he appears with Kyser in a Shakespearean Festival. The Great Profile secretly plans to double-cross the band-leader. He makes love to Kyser's girl, Ginny Simms, while he persuades a fiery Mexican charmer, Carmen del Toro, at the same time to use her wiles on Kyser and give him a nervous breakdown.

What happens as a result of all this maneuvering leads to the many up- and-downs. Besides Olivier was anxious to join the Royal Fleet Air Arm. Parenthetically his wish and is now on active duty.

War Research

In war the advantage is on the side with the best weapons. The work of scientists in America's research laboratories, developing new materials and new equipment, means a lot to our fighting men.

1. It takes years to build up and equip a large, organized, and able staff for research. Fortunately, industry did this long ago.

2. Long before Pearl Harbor, laboratories like General Electric's were serving their country—solving technical problems of war.

3. History repeated in the last war "wireless" was developed for military needs—to become, with peace, a great broadcasting industry.

4. So it will be this time. Research will help to win the war, and its many wartime discoveries will help to build a better future.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

You dished it out, with a head start by treachery—now we're going to see how you can take it!

We're ganging up on you, Tojo, in a way you and your Nazi friends don't understand.

Spreading like wildfire from coast to coast and from Canada to Mexico is our Payroll Savings Plan—get that, Tojo? Not confiscation—savings.

By the tens of millions, workers and employees of plants in every state of our country are cooperating with their unions and with management.

Of their own free will they're agreeing to put ten percent—a dime from every dollar—of their earnings in United States WAR BONDS.

Every payday the plant management sets aside this ten percent, then, each time it adds up to $18.75, the worker gets his Bond.

See, Tojo? Hundreds of millions of good U. S. dollars are going into the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships to blast you right out of your sandals!

And we're paying for it . . . the workers and employers . . . the farmers, doctors, lawyers . . . all of us of our own free will, lending it, from our pay.

And—because this is the American way of doing things—we're building our own financial security, too, against the day when the war will be over—when we've shown you what decent, clean, free people can do.

Every year those War Bonds of ours increase in value, Tojo, until, after ten years, Uncle Sam hands us back TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS for every $18.75 we invested in beating you.

Get it, Tojo? It isn't the Jap way, the Nazi way, nor the Fascist way.

It's the free American way!

So, when you see those clouds of planes over your troops, your ships and your factories—when the tanks come at you spitting lead—and our good American boys get you on the run—remember, we're paying for it—Smith, and Harrigan, and Cohen, and Godowsky, and Leblanc, and Havlek, Americans all, in a free country.

So take it, Tojo—you asked for it!

5 Reasons Why

1. By investing in War Bonds you help provide the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships we must have to survive and conquer.
2. You prove that you are a patriotic American.
3. You aid the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.
4. You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.
5. You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's safest investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.

STEP MADE TO STOP SPENDING

Special Congressional Committee Makes Supplementary Report.

The second report of the committee by the Joint House and Senate Committee on non-essential Federal expenditures on which Virginia is represented by both of its Senators and Hon. Clifton Woodrum, has just been issued.

The committee has seen some of its recommendations already acted upon by both the President and the Congress. The total savings recommended annually as of the present time reaches well beyond one and a quarter billion dollars annually.

There are at least a dozen or more major items which include reductions of expenses non-essential in war time. These reach into the NYA, the CCC, WPA, Farm Tenant program, highway projects, public building, farm security, land purchases, public works, rivers and harbors, refinance corporation, etc.

To quote from the report:

"The Committee realizes that the possibilities for economies have been no more than scratched. On the basis of studies being made it is apparent that further reductions should be made in federal spending. Although the Committee recommended that over a billion dollars could be saved in its preliminary report it has since determined that there are many other necessary savings that can be effected without any interference with the war program. In normal times the amount recommended by the Committee would be considered a substantial saving; but due to the tremendous war expenditures it is imperative that the Committee continue its efforts to reduce nonessential federal spending.

Meanwhile, the Committee is pleased with the fact that for the first time in years a beginning has been made for economy in nonessential federal spending. The Committee regards as a privilege its authority to study the problem and call at least some reduction possibilities to the attention of the public, the Congress and the Executive Branch of the Government.

The Committee notes especially the abolition by the Congress of the Civilian Conservation Corps. This was recommended by the Committee, and it marks the first complete dismantling of a major depression agency. The CCC had spent $2,278,000,000 in eight and a half years. This indicates a step towards a more prudent fiscal policy suitable to a nation at war.

The Committee believes that there is a great field for more efficient operation and probably great economy among Government corporations.

Likewise, the Committee intends to examine further, practices and conditions in purchasing, classification, salaries, transportation, publicity and other overhead items of the various departments and agencies of the Government.

The Committee believes that there is need for more efficient administration and more effective controls among many, if not all, of the so-called permanent agencies of the Government.

The Committee realizes that there is a growing need to examine closely the activities, practices, and expenditures of the so-called defense and war agencies. It is hoped that these agencies are approaching, at least, a leveling-off stage where efficiency and vigilance over practices properly may be demanded without interference with the maximum war effort. Heretofore, the Committee has hesitated to call up these so-called war and defense agencies for minute examination because they were in the course of organization and because of the imperative nature of the business of most of them. However, it seems to be more and more evident that the time is approaching for the Committee to change this policy.

With the national debt standing today at approximately $80,000,000,000 with it increasing every day at a tremendous rate necessitated by the war and augmented still further by other expenditures, and with unexpected war balance totaling $160,000,000,000 there is in prospect a national debt of at least $200,000,000,000 by conservative estimate. This, of course, takes into consideration revenue which is meeting not more than 30-percent of expenditures this year.

With such a fiscal future in view, the need for every possible economy in nonessentials is urgent. Therefore, the Committee contemplates a vigorous continuation of all phases of its work for reduction of nonessential federal expenditures.

Editorial Comment: We would vote for Hon. Howard W. Smith on any issue he would champion but the above cartoon illustrates one of the outstanding issues of Tuesday's election. Virginia is determined that the power to strike in defense industries shall be restricted by law.

BYRD SAYS HOMES WILL GET SUGAR

Virginia Senator Finally Has OPA Ruling On Canning Needs.

"I have been persistently urging Mr. Henderson, Administrator of the Office of Price Administration, not to limit the amount of sugar to the farmers for the purpose of canning fruits and vegetables for their own use.

The early regulations that denied to the farmers this opportunity to make use of fruits and vegetables raised on their own farms has occasioned quite a loss of valuable food.

"It seems to me very clear, if we are to conserve the food supply of the country, that the farmers should not be limited in making use of fruits and vegetables for canning purposes. Otherwise, such food would go to waste.

"I have now obtained a definite ruling from Mr. Henderson, who says:

"The Sugar Rationing Regulations as amended place no specific limitation on the amount of sugar a family may obtain for home canning purposes. The local War Price and Rationing Boards are authorized to permit the use of any reasonable amount of sugar for home canning with the understanding that for each pound allotted four quarts of fruit will be canned."

"The local boards, by these amended regulations, are given greater latitude and discretion in allotting sugar for the purpose of conserving fruit as well as sugar.

"Mr. Henderson further says that in recent instructions to all Regional Administrators he has asked the local War Price and Rationing Boards consider each application for home canning sugar individually with the object of conserving fruit.

"Under these regulations as amended, there should be no difficulty in obtaining a reasonable supply of sugar for home canning."

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 50-caliber Browning machine gun is one of the most efficient short range weapons used by U. S. Fighting forces. It is effective at ranges up to 2,000 yards and fires about 600 forty-five caliber bullets per minute.

One of these guns costs about $1,500, while a thirty-caliber machine gun costs approximately $600. Our fighting forces need thousands of these rapid-fire guns. Even a small town or community can buy many of them by uniting in the purchase of War Bonds. At least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day will do the trick.

Victory Corsages Boost Virginia War Stamp Sales

Women and girls of Virginia are doing much to increase the sale of war savings stamps while at the same time providing attractive accessories for well-dressed women and men. Victory corsages and bouquets, which combine war savings stamps with artificial flower materials, are the explanation, as shown in the above pictures. (1) Members of the Junior Red Cross assemble the corsages. (2) Miss Jean Hume of Norfolk sells a war stamp to a sailor at a retail store booth where corsages are also sold. (3) This is a close up view of a complete corsage. (4) Mrs. George Sloane of Warrenton, state chairman of the women's war savings committee, wears one of the corsages with nine 10-cent stamps and which sells for one dollar.

Men are dying for the Four Freedoms. The least we can do here at home is to buy War Bonds—10% for War Bonds, every pay day.

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.
