CHAMBER WINS LEGION LOSES

Kiwanis Also Wins Over Fire Department

The Chamber of Commerce cinched the second half by defeating the Legion to the tune of 20-6. The Chamber of Commerce had little trouble downing the Legion. By winning this game it shut out the rest of the teams from winning the second half. The Chamber of Commerce will play the Fire Department for the championship on Sunday, August 30th, at 2:00 o'clock, at the high school ground.

SOUTHERN STATES AIDS VICTORY PROGRAM

B. H. Werner of Aldie, district manager for Southern States Cooperative in this section, will be in Richmond, August 31 and September 1 at the Hotel John Marshall, attending a conference of the cooperative's district managers in Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and West Virginia.

In drafting their fall plans for carrying on the cooperative efforts with the organization's 128,000 farmer-members, the district managers will study suggestions for a "Cooperate for Victory" program, planning so that farmers will be in position to do their part more efficiently in the "Food-for-Freedom" undertaking, Dr. T. K. Wolfe, an official of Southern States, explained. They will also consider the setting up of transportation systems for use when public carriers become even more heavily burdened than now, with trucks wearing out, tires getting thinner, gasoline being rationed, and railroads reaching peak loadings, the peak shipping season being August, September, and October.

"The difficulty of moving produce from the farm to market and supplies from market to the farm constitute one of the major problems today in the execution of the Food-for-Freedom program," Dr. Wolfe declared.

JUDGE SMITH'S RADIO ADDRESS (Editorial)

This week we are privileged to publish in full the radio address delivered by Hon. Howard W. Smith on the eve of his re-nomination to represent the Eighth Virginia District in the National Congress.

This speech, expressing as it does so vigorously, the righteous indignation of a gentleman unjustly and unfairly assailed, is a political classic worthy of study and preservation. It has not heretofore appeared in print, and we know, therefore, that our many readers will derive much information, and no small satisfaction and even delight in its perusal, for it is a study in verbal restraint, genteel expression, keen analysis, and powerful castigation.

It was, in fact, the "coupe de grace," as the old French expression has it - the finishing blow. No cur was ever whipped to his kennel more soundly and deservedly than was the Judge's unworthy opponent, who failed thereafter to carry a single precinct in the entire Congressional District.

In the years to come, when the issues of the present campaign have faded into oblivion, it will still stand as a solemn warning to whom it may concern:

Don't trifle with a mild mannered, soft spoken Virginia Judge!

LOCAL LEGION POST REACHES NEW HIGH IN MEMBERSHIP

With the new membership year of the American Legion only a few days old, Prince William Post has already established a membership, paid in advance, that is the highest that the local post has enjoyed during its entire history. The year just ended showed the highest membership up to that time and now under the leadership of Commander Staggs and a special advance committee composed of Legionnaires Parrish, Stauff, O'Neil, DeChant, Curtis and several others, a higher membership has been attained than was enrolled last year.

The local post received special commendation for this record coupled with other outstanding records or achievement in several activities at the Legion Convention which was held on the first three days of this week at the Roanoke Hotel. Attending the Legion meetings were C. W. Staggs, newly re-elected Commander, together with E. G. Parrish and Gene Davis as delegates from the local American Legion Post. Mrs. E. G. Parrish also attended the Convention as a delegate to the meetings of the American Legion Auxiliary. Both of these organizations have become increasingly active in all community activities and with their growing membership should be able to accomplish more, especially in war-work, during the coming year.

THEATRE MEN ADDED TO BOND GROUP

Announcement has come from State headquarters of war savings that Benjamin T. Pitts, operator of the Pitts Theatre chain and Wade Pearson, manager of the group of movie houses in Arlington, operated by the Neighborhood Theatres, of Richmond, have been named to assist with the drive. Both of these young men are progressive and forceful workers and should be able to promote the sales of bonds and stamps materially.

RUMMAGE SALE

The Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity Episcopal Church will hold a Rummage Sale on Saturday, of this week.

Address By Hon. Howard W. Smith Over Station W. J. S. V. Thursday, July 30, 1942.

Good evening ladies and gentlemen, I am taking this occasion to address you in behalf of my candidacy for reelection to Congress from the 8th District of Virginia in the Primary Election that will take place on next Tuesday, August 4.

In the critical hour through which we are passing, the burdens and cares of my office as a member of Congress of the United States have prevented me from giving my time and attention to the less important matter of my reelection. I regret that I have not been able, during this campaign, to visit with many friends throughout the District, but I have felt that you would understand and appreciate that it was more important for me to remain at the post of duty to which you have so often and so generously elected me. I am confident that my cause will not suffer at your hands because I have chosen to remain in Washington and attend the duties of my office in the face of the assaults that have been made upon me by those who seek my defeat because they can neither control nor intimidate me.

I should not have trespassed upon your time tonight had it not been that the unscrupulous forces seeking my elimination from public life, as they have sought it before, have stooped to a dastardly attack upon my integrity as a public official and as a private citizen under which my self-respect does not permit me to remain silent. I shall dispose of those personal attacks first before discussing the real, the one, and the only issue in this campaign. That issue is, whether you, the voters of this District, propose to continue to be represented by one who has aroused the hatred and the enmity of a small group of power-drunk, dues-fattened, labor barons, or whether you prefer to elect in my place one of their own group. On that issue this campaign was conceived, and out of it was spawned my present opponent, the Secretary and Treasurer of the International Machinist Union.

At the same time the Labor barons were seeking an opponent for me in this Primary, by a strange coincidence, a New York scandal sheet, commonly known as the "Uptown Edition" of the Official Communist paper, the Daily Worker, sent two of its staff of hired scavengers to Alexandria to rake over my private and public life. This paper, after carefully ascertaining the true facts, published a series of utterly false and defamatory articles concerning me. Promptly, my opponent, through his imported goon squads of satellites, caused large quantities of this filthy sheet, with its libelous articles, to be deposited at various points throughout this District. I did not dignify them with notice until it came to my knowledge within the past few days that my opponent had caused these libels to be reprinted in pamphlet form, and both by mail and through his unscrupulous crew of hirelings, distributed them widespread throughout this District.

When these jackals, armed with their filthy circulars, dragged the putrid carrion of these libels and deposited them by stealth and in the night time under the doors of decent citizens of Virginia, I concluded that a proper respect and regard for my own public record and good name required me to cleanse the atmosphere with a statement of facts easily verified by any person who, considering the source, deemed them worthy of serious notice.

The charge is made that I have profited through the purchase and sale of real estate to the Federal Government during my incumbency as a member of Congress. Had I done so, it would have been a criminal offense for which I could have and should have been prosecuted. I now assert that I have never sold any property to the Federal Government or to any agency of the Government either before or since I have been a member of Congress. I further assert that neither I, nor any member of my immediate family, has ever been interested either directly or indirectly in the ownership or in the profits of any property ever sold to the Federal Government or any agency of the Federal Government.

I have never, since I have been a member of Congress, received any remuneration or reward either directly or indirectly by way of fee, commission, or other compensation for the sale of any property to the Federal Government. The only transaction out of which the Government has directly or indirectly paid any money to me, or any member of my immediate family, was in one instance when I held a mortgage upon a piece of property which the Government acquired by condemnation proceedings in the Federal Court where by order of the Federal Court, my mortgage was paid out of funds in the hands of the Court.

The only other instance in which the Federal Government or any agency thereof ever sought to acquire any property in which I, or any member of my immediate family, had

Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Mozelle Webb who wore olive green with brown accessories and talisman roses. Mr. Wheatley Johnson, brother of the groom, was the best man.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained the guests at a delightful breakfast, after which the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip.

MEDICOS GOING INTO SERVICE

With Dr. Wade Payne out of commission with a broken arm, the situation is rapidly becoming acute.

MINUTE MEN SWORN IN

The next meeting of the company will be held on September 1st, at the Manassas High School Gymnasium at 8 P. M. for the purpose of instruction.

F. A. COCKRELL

One of the old timers of Manassas bid a final farewell to the community last week. Ferdinand A. Cockrell, a resident of this community for his entire eighty six years of life died after a lingering illness.

Born here on February 12, 1856, the son of Benjamin Cockrell, he did not miss service in the War between the States by many years. Next to that he performed a valiant part in looking after the veterans by serving on the pension board for nearly a half century.

A widower for years, he leaves to mourn him, three children, Captain Henry B. Cockrell, now serving with the army forces of the United States at Tampa, Florida; Miss Senie B. Cockrell, a much valued member of the county's nursing corps and Edwin S. Cockrell, of Lorton, Virginia.

Interment took place at the local cemetery last Friday afternoon, Reverend Graham, officiating. The pall bearers were Messrs. C. A. Sinclair, Hunton Tiffany, Wheatley Johnson, John Barrett, James Boley and J. Payne. A very large crowd of his sorrowing friends was in attendance.

A farmer all of his long life, Mr. Cockrell contributed his part to community life. An honorable citizen, he loved his State and country and as a family man, he left nothing to be desired. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved by all.

SCHOOLS OPEN NEXT THURSDAY

Division Superintendent Haydon Issues Instructions.

At 9:30 A. M. Thursday next, September 3rd, the Prince William County Schools open their doors for the first day of the 1942-43 term.

The school authorities are very anxious that all pupils enroll on that day and receive their books, regardless of the fact that some of them may not be able to attend regularly at the very beginning of the school term.

The teachers' institute will be held at Manassas on Wednesday morning, for both colored and white teachers. The colored teachers will meet at the Brown School.

A complete list of the county faculty will be published in the Journal next week.

At 9:30 A. M. (Wednesday) there will be a principals' conference, with Superintendent Haydon presiding. This will be at the High School.

This will be followed at 11:00 A. M. by the faculty meeting for the high schools and some of the larger graded schools. At the same hour, the teachers of the smaller graded schools will meet with Rural Supervisor, Miss Sue Ayres. Also at the same time, the colored teachers will meet with Miss Margaret Townes, at the Brown School.

One of the most important happenings of the day will take place at noon on the athletic grounds of the high school. This will be the annual bus inspection. The public is cordially invited to observe the inspection.

At 12:30 lunch will be served.

At about 1:30, the county teachers' association will meet in the auditorium and organize for the coming term, Miss Metz, vice president, will be in the chair.

The Regional High School will, of course, open along with all of the others. As announced last spring, Page County has come into the local school "family." Now comes word from Superintendent Yowell, of Madison, that his county will send pupils here for the junior and senior terms.

Pupils from both of these counties will be "boarding" pupils, transportation not being practicable.

Professor William Barnes, principal, states that he expects a decided increase in enrollment.

AIR RAID INSTRUCTION FILM SHOWN KIWANIS CLUB

A film of the duties of an air-raid warden was presented to the Kiwanis club last Friday evening by Kiwanian Hunton Tiffany, with the aid of the Secretary, Jack Royer.

The film was quite instructive and Mr. Tiffany announced that there are two more which he has to use in the local defense instruction work.

By special invitation, the Club dined at the Manassas Grille which was tastefully decorated and equipped with a nice, new piano. Sponsor Kitty Baker rendered an unusually charming music program and the boys seemed in a humor to make the welkin ring. (Ed note-Maybe this was because the Journal had it that OD had discouraged them the week previous).

Maitre d'hotel Cooper had arranged a very nice menu to which the members paid full attention, keeping the battery of pretty waitresses busy meeting their needs.

THOMAS H. SELECMAN COM- MISSIONED A 2ND LIEUTENANT

The last Blackout in Occoquan District was 100 per cent perfect. No report of any violation. Even the Lightning Bugs observed it. Good work you Coordinators and Wardens.

The Young People of Pohick Church will hold a Lawn Party on the-RECTOR Lawn on Saturday, August, 29th commencing at 7:00 P. M. All are welcomed to attend and enjoy an evening together.

A Boy Scout Troop is being organized at Lorton, Va., sponsored by the vestry of Pohick Church. We sincerely hope this Troop will be a credit to that thriving community. Names of Scout Master and Troop Committee will be announced later. Also the names of the boys who initially join.

You Tax Payers of Occoquan District Take NOTICE. You signed a petition recently requesting the County Board of Supervisors to appoint a special Policeman for Occoquan District. Your Committee appeared before the Board of Supervisors on the 7th inst to explain to them the necessity of Police Protection by the residents of Occoquan District. Every thing seemed to be going very favorable until Your Own Elected Member spoke up and said (I thought Mr. Amidon at Triangle was supposed to police that district, meaning Occoquan District). That was the first SPIKE against your request being granted. Now it is up to you Tax Payers to get after your own elected member. If he said you needed such Police protection you would get it. If he is against it you will not get it. We all know Mr. Amidon has enough to attend to at the Triangle and Dumfries. We need another Special Officer in Occoquan and Woodbridge Community.

Now the Firemen's Carnival at Occoquan is over; we thank our many friends who so faithfully worked to make it a success. We also thank all those who attended because if there was not a good attendance it would not have been a success.

We are very sorry to announce the passing away of one of the old landmarks of this community; Mr. Joseph

J. Nicholson of Woodbridge, Va., affectionately known as Uncle Nick by his many friends. Mr. Nicholson was loved by all who knew him. He had a kind word about everybody, and a good joke to brighten any dark spots. He was laid to rest at Old Pohick Church Cemetery under BANKS of beautiful Flowers, memorials of the esteem in which he was held and respected to his many friends. Our sincere sympathy goes to his Family and Friends in their time of bereavement.

Now that the drive for contribution to the U. S. O., is over, we should rest on our laurels. The U. S. O., is a continuous organization for the care and entertainment of our Boys in the Armed Forces of our Country. Contributions will be gladly accepted any time. You may send your contributions to the Treasurer, U. S. O., Manassas, Virginia, or to Mrs. Wallace S. Lynn, Occoquan, Va., who will see they get where they will do the most good.

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

NUMBER 58 ★ How to fool the fuss-budget ★ A list of foods that save you money early in the week, too ★ A timely story with a moral.

Have you a fuss-budget on food in your house?

Here's how to fool him!

In which the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau presents five sensible tips.

1. Determine just why he or she is finicky. If he's sick, or has a sensitive stomach, or an allergy, or remembers unpleasant associations about certain foods, you have to take these things into consideration.

2. Give the fussy eater more food rich in B vitamins, because these vitamins promote healthy appetite, good digestion, and general well-being.

3. Disguise foods that are disliked. For example, serve milk in custards, milk shakes, cream soups, and other milk-rich dishes, or instead serve cheese.

4. Combine disliked foods with others that are well liked. For example, mash turnips with potatoes, or onion with milk or cream and butter, and the turnips can hardly be tasted.

5. Don't talk too much about nutrition, or tell the fuss-budget how good a certain food is, or urge him to eat, or you'll surely invite rebellion. Just make the food as attractive and good-tasting as you can, and watch what happens.

More ways to disguise foods

Read the article "Fooling the Fuss-Budget" in this week's Family Circle for ways to disguise foods, for substitutes and recipes. Family Circle is out every Thursday, free at Safeway.

CHRIST FOR ALL, ALL FOR CHRIST

By parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him, if he thirst give him drink. —Romans 12:20.

Whose War Is This?

While the patriotism, and the willingness to make sacrifices, of the great majority of the American people are beyond question, there are still far too many who seem to feel that this war is something they can take or let alone—that they, individually, are not vitally concerned. No more tragic mistake was ever made by human beings. It is the same mistake that led to the downfall of France, Belgium and Holland.

Whose war is this? Not President Roosevelt's, not General MacArthur's, not Admiral Nimitz's. It's your war, friends, and it is you who will win or lose it. Furthermore, it can be easily lost on the home front. It was lost on the home front in France even while brave French troops were fighting valiantly, with inferior equipment, against the most powerful war machine the world has ever known.

Indifference and war weariness on the home front work for Hitler and Hirohito as effectively as machine guns and bombs.

Civilian excuses for failure to participate in Civilian Defense work are usually weak and flabby things when analyzed. Some men are so tired from dancing that they can't donate four hours in three weeks to observation work. Some folks think the work isn't important until the bombing starts. But if we all waited until then it would be too late.

Let us have an end to all paltry excuses. We must awake to realization that Civilian Defense is the biggest thing in America today. It is your part in helping to win the war. All indications point to a long bitterly contested war. Its outcome means the life or death of our form of government, of our democracy, of our freedom. Surely, this is no time for faltering, for war weariness, for shirking of responsibilities.

Whose war is this? It is yours and mine, and every man, woman

Towers of Truth

Chinese, Finnish, Tagalog, Dutch, Spanish—programs in more than a dozen tongues go out from the towers of General Electric stations WGEA and WGEO, Schenectady, and KGEI, San Francisco.

1. They provide authentic war information for news-starved peoples around the globe, entertainment for U.S. forces abroad. These G-E short-wave stations...

3. They provided the only U.S. programs that reached Bataan. People in conquered lands risk their lives to listen. Smuggled letters say they bring hope of release.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

CATHARPIN

Children's Day services were very beautiful Sunday with a large congregation present to give their cooperation and show their interest in the children's efforts.

Much credit is due Mrs. C. F. Catton, superintendent of the Sunday School, and her assistant, Mrs. L. L. Lynn, for the inspiring program, and to Mrs. Layton Laws, whose beautiful music is always so much enjoyed and appreciated by her old friends at Sudley.

Fairview Church also enjoyed a beautiful day with a large crowd present. Two excellent sermons were delivered, one by Rev. Jesse M. Bell in the morning and Dr. A. P. Williams in the afternoon. True to the genial hospitality of the Fairview people, a bountiful dinner was served to all present. It is regretted that unavoidable conditions prevented the attendance of many friends from the other congregations.

Rev. W. O. Luttrell, of Manassas Methodist Church, who is conducting revival services at Sudley for Rev. Mr. Wood, delivered an excellent sermon Monday night when he chose for his text, "Marvel not that I say unto you, ye must be born again."

Mr. and Mrs. Waring Triple, of Dunnsville, Va., recently were guests at "Tecumseh," the home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Triple. They were accompanied home by Miss Louise Triple, who had a delightful time visiting relatives.

Miss Hannah Grehan, of Arcola, Miss. Miss Jean Humphrey, of Mountsville, and Miss Orville Elgin, of The Plains, were entertained by Misses Rose and Betty Triple a few Sundays ago. Miss Rose Triple has recently been the guest of Miss Grehan, at Arcola.

Miss Janet Young spent the past week in Washington visiting her aunt, Mrs. Everett J. Boothby.

Mr. Charles Brooks, of Washington, is visiting at "Oakwood."

Little Miss Elaine Pattie, of Triangle, Va., who recently visited in Winchester, Va., and Greensboro, N. C., is spending this week with her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie.

Miss Elizabeth Lynn left Sunday to spend a week with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stephenson, at Front Royal, Va.

Miss Marion Davis returned to her home last Friday where she is rapidly recovering from a tonsilectomy, performed at the Episcopal Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Hospital last week.

Private Harry M. Ellison, of Fort Bragg, N. C., spent a 10-day furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ellison, and relatives and friends.

He returned to camp Wednesday.

Miss Muriel Ellison, of Washington, visited her parents last week.

Private Alfred N. Stamm, of South Post, Ft. Myer, spent the week-end visiting his wife at Catharpin and his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tilden Mathers, at Clifton.

Mrs. Luther McIntosh was ill with a severe cold last week.

Miss Mildred Smith, of Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Emory Carter and children, Peggy Ann and Vernon, of Arlington, and Mrs. William Partlow and son, Billy, of Leesburg, are visiting this week at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith.

Miss Margaret Conrad, of Arlington, is spending a week's vacation with her sister, Mrs. Annie Ellison.

Miss Lida Sowers, of Baltimore, Mrs. Nelson Thomas and little son, and Miss Dolly Weddel, of Manassas, visited Mrs. Frances Sowers, of Manassas.

Mrs. R. A. Collins, Mrs. Gilbert Merchant and children, and Mr. Fred Collins, of near Annandale, and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Shelton, of Alexandria, and their children, Miss Margaret, were among those from a distance to attend services at Sudley, Sunday.

CLUB LOUISIANA FAST TAKING LEADING SPOT IN WASHINGTON

Coming from the deep South, New Orleans to be exact, there arrived in these parts some twenty years ago, a gentleman by the name of Julius T. Richards. Ever since that time he has been doing something in and around Washington.

Some ten years ago, he purchased the old Lee homestead on the Lee Highway at Bull Run and protected to develop the idea of a war time museum. This he successfully operated until he decided to again go into Washington where he opened the old New Orleans Restaurant, at 1214 Connecticut Avenue. After parting with it temporarily, he repurchased it only last Saturday.

Some months ago, he took over a restaurant at 3135 K. Street, refurbished it and, with the keen foresight of a genuine restaurateur, secured the services of two of the best orchestras in the Capitol. Ray King, who plays the latter portion of the week, is probably the most sought after dance orchestra of Washington City.

Radio Address by the Hon. Howard W. Smith

any interest, was an occasion when an agency of the Government offered to purchase an easement through certain property in which I owned one-half interest. In that instance, I refused to accept compensation for the property right sought by the Government, but gave it to the Federal agency without consideration.

These facts have been carefully investigated and were known to the scandal mongers at the time they wrote, published, and distributed these falsehoods.

The sinister implication is made in these articles that I attempted, improperly, through a bill in Congress, to deprive the Government of certain property rights along the Potomac River for the benefit of my friends and constituents. The utter falsity of this charge is apparent in the hearings before the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives which my opponent's emissaries examined carefully and thoroughly. The facts are that the boundary line between the District of Columbia and the State of Virginia has never been definitely determined. The result has been to cloud the title to the property on the Virginia Shore of the Potomac and to leave uncertain the jurisdiction of the State of Virginia in that area. Hundreds of property owners were involved whom I did not know, and the property which they owned, and which the Government claimed, has been in private ownership since the original grants of the English sovereign.

I introduced bills to settle this boundary, and Congress appointed a Commission. The Commission worked for two years and filed an elaborate report sustaining my contention in all substantial particulars. I, thereupon, introduced a bill to confirm the report of the Commission. Since that time, the Government has acquiesced, by purchase, in property in which the title was seriously questioned, and through the National Capitol Park and Planning Commission, has caused a bill to be introduced which is now pending to fix, in substance, the boundary line which I advocated.

Public hearings were had on all of these bills. They have always been matters of public knowledge and newspaper comment, and all of these facts were well known to the opposition by studious and painstaking investigation when the libels were published and when they were circulated by my opponent.

Another article attacks my successful efforts to protect the purity of the milk supply of Washington. The law governing the milk supply of Washington which they have charged me with bringing about, was enacted in 1925 long before I came to Congress. Investigation of the so-called bootleg milk in Washington concerning which it is implied that I had some sinister connection, was instigated by me after the Police and Health Departments through painstaking and diligent efforts had disclosed that large quantities of milk products of questionable purity were being imported into Washington, under cover of darkness in violation of the law, and being mixed with the legitimate milk supply and sold to the unsuspecting consumers. It was shown that milk was being reconstructed from unsweetened butter, powdered milk, and other substances, and being distributed to the consuming public. The police authorities of Washington caught the miscreants red-handed at this nefarious practice and convicted them in the courts.

The charge that only a selected group of dairy farmers can qualify for the shipment of milk in the Washington market is too absurd a falsehood to require serious consideration, but it is a well known fact that dairy farmers in Virginia are constantly inducing other farmers in this area to equip their farms and ship their milk to the Washington market.

The charge is made indirectly that while I was, Judge, I purchased land being sold by my court, and by my own decree confirmed the sale to myself. This is a falsehood that no one familiar with my record of ten years on the bench in Virginia will credit. I am proud of my record as a Judge in Virginia because, in all the political campaigns that have followed it, no previous opponent has had the audacity to attack it, nor have I, heretofore, had the misfortune to encounter an opponent in whom the truth has never found an abiding place. No respectable citizen of Virginia could be found to connive in this disgraceful exhibition of putrid and malicious scandal, and so my opponent, determined and undeterred in his scurrilous scheme, has imported his crew of hired jackals to scatter his filth into a community of peaceful and law-abiding citizens.

That such a campaign of scandal and mendacity should be managed, abetted, and conducted by a member of the bar of the city of Alexandria, with full knowledge of its falsehood, and with the purpose to reflect upon the integrity of a former member of the Virginia judiciary, is a disgrace to the honorable profession into which he has intruded himself.

I, now demand of opponent, if he possesses any sense of responsibility for the truth of his representations to the public, whom he asks to elevate him to high office, to either repudiate and deny the scandalous falsehoods that have been circulating in his name, and with his campaign funds, or to affirm them and accept the responsibility in public esteem of having deliberately circulated as diabolical a conglomeration of scurrilous falsehoods as was ever conceived to blacken the name of a public official.

I also challenge the owner of the New York scandal sheet to submit himself to the process of the Federal courts in Virginia in a libel suit where he and his fellow conspirators, including my opponent, may have the opportunity of proving the truth of their charges under oath, and under the penalty of prosecution for perjury with which at least one of them is already painfully familiar.

A member of Congress who represents the 8th District of Virginia is so engrossed in the performance of the manifold duties of his office that he has little time to waste either in boasting of his accomplishments, or in answering the malicious canards of every mongrel pack that barks at his heels.

To the charges that have been made against me with astonishing and reckless disregard for the truth, I will say, in conclusion, that over the past 30 years, I have been repeatedly elected to public office by the voters of my city and District. In each instance, I have been elected by large majorities. In no single instance when my name has appeared on the ballot in that 30 years have I ever been defeated. I was elected to judgeships in Virginia on four different occasions by the unanimous vote of the legislature of Virginia, and with the unanimous endorsement of the bar.

The people of Virginia do not reelect public officials of questionable integrity; and no one was ever made more painfully aware of that fact than my opponent when he sought reelection for a second term as Mayor of Alexandria and experienced the disgraceful humiliation of running 5th in the race.

Much stress is laid in this scandal sheet, on the alleged fact, that in my struggles through the years, I have prospered and accumulated some of the world's goods. While modesty forbids me to accept the accolade of great wealth so generously conferred, I must, nevertheless, confess that I do not share my opponents doubtful distinction of having sought refuge in the bankruptcy courts, to evade the payment of his honest debts.

I know that there are some who believe in the philosophy that it is a reprehensible and sinister circumstance that a man in this advanced age of new ideas should accumulate a competency for his old age. They believe that we should all follow the primrose path and scatter our substance to the four winds as we go.

The dire poverty of my early life soon taught me to reject this theory. Through hardships and privations, I was taught the lessons of frugality, thrift, industry, and a wholesome respect for the value of money both in public and private life. I have adhered to these principles since, and cling to them still.

Through these habits I have accumulated a moderate competency that makes me impervious to the lure of the emoluments of public office, and enables me to withstand the enmity, the threats and the opposition of the labor barons who seek my defeat because they cannot frighten me into submission.

Now that my opponent in the full play of his imagination has fully explored and joyously exposed my alleged shortcomings for the important office which I hold, I am am going to make a suggestion to him of a course, that, due to his inexperience or perchance for other reasons, he has overlooked.

Some people are clamoring to know something about him and his superior qualifications for the office he seeks. They are wearied of his continual abuse and slander of me and would like to hear him tell something about himself. He is running on the slogan "WIN THE WAR WITH DAVISON." People are interested in knowing something about this superman who proposes to win the war all by himself.

I, myself, am interested in finding a miracle worker to lead us out of the present crisis. I am surprised at his modesty in offering for so humble an office as a mere member of Congress. If he can show us how he is going to win the war single handed and alone, I will be inclined to vote for him myself. He has piqued our interest and curiosity.

I, therefore, suggest that in his remaining broadcasts he tell the voters something about himself, more in detail than he has been willing to heretofore disclose; that he tell something about his own background, his experience in public life, and what untoward incident while mayor of Alexandria cut short his meteor-like public career.

The voters already know that he is a high salaried union official, that he has the enthusiastic endorsement of the other high salaried labor dictators and that his campaign, according to published reports, is being financed out of the large luscious funds wrung from the sweat of honest toil of the working men of America, and distributed with generous profligacy without their knowledge or consent.

It is apparent to all that he is a labor union candidate, pure and simple, with all the implications, obligations, and predilections that such a brand implies.

Therefore, I am going to now propound to him a few simple questions that he can answer in a few simple words in his future broadcasts. I hope my listeners will make a mental note of these few questions, and then wait and see what the answers are, if any.

If he does not answer the questions, you can draw your own conclusions. If he answers with a confusing mess of words about winning the war all by himself, you can also draw some conclusions. I can tell you in advance that the usual answers to such questions from other professional labor barons has been a sweeping and senseless charge that I am trying to take away some of the sacred rights of organized labor. Listen to the questions; listen to the answers; and be your own judge.

It is an interesting game. I have been playing it solitary for a long time. In case you are disappointed, as I have often been, and do not get a coherent answer to these questions, I am going to answer some of them for you myself. Here are the questions:

1. Why do my opponent's labor organizations object so seriously to the provision of the Smith Anti-Strike Bill requiring a majority vote of the workers conducted by the Federal Government before a strike can be called in a factory making munitions for your soldier boys on the battle front?

The true answer is that if the American workmen themselves were permitted to vote in a Government-supervised election on whether they would strike, during this war, there just would not be any strikes, and the labor leaders would lose their power to threaten and coerce your Government, and your Country in this hour of peril.

2. Why did my opponent and his fellow labor leaders oppose so viciously that section of the Smith Anti-Strike Bill which would have required them to register their organizations, disclose what large salaries they pay to themselves, and to account to their members and to the public for the huge funds that they have collected through initiation fees, dues and fines.

The obvious answer to this one is that if they were compelled to account for their union funds, they would be seriously embarrassed to account for the huge sums that they spend without the knowledge and consent of their members to bring about the election of public officials who will be subservient to their nefarious designs.

3. Why did my opponent object to the provision in the Smith Anti-Strike Bill that prohibits, during the war, jurisdictional and sympathetic strikes so prevalent in his union?

Jurisdictional strikes is meant those labor disputes where one branch of my opponent's union is fighting another branch of the same union about which union shall do a particular type of war work, while your boys on the front line are waiting for their munitions. These are the kind of labor disputes that the War Labor Board only last week denounced as treasonable. Is my opponent for his Country or for his union on these treasonable jurisdictional disputes; which master will he serve, the American people, or the union? Listen for his answer. You will listen in vain.

Sympathetic strikes are those where one lot of workmen, with no grievance of their own whatsoever, are directed by their leaders to lay down their tools in sympathy with the strikers at some other plant. Of course, both jurisdictional and sympathetic strikes, particularly in time of war and in preparation for war, are powerful weapons in the hands of unscrupulous labor leaders to enforce their demands. The next question that I propound to my opponent is:

Why does his union object to the provision of the Smith Anti-Strike Bill that prohibits, during the war, boycott of products in order to compel recognition of their unions? It is well known that the boycott is one of the most powerful and destructive weapons used by certain branches of my opponent's union to compel both employers and employees to bow to their will.

By boycotting a product, they can and do prevent its shipment and delivery in Interstate commerce to the markets of the country. For example, recent hearings before the judiciary committee of the House of Representatives showed that at one point in California where the farmers' crops had been boycotted by the union and its shipment and delivery prohibited by union order, carload upon carload of vital food products stood upon the railroad sidings until it rotted and had to be thrown out. So great was the quantity of this vital food product destroyed by this union method that pictures were introduced in evidence showing it being unloaded with steam shovels. And my opponent, whose organization perpetuated this outrage on the American farmers, has the unmitigated gall to appeal to them for their support in this election.

Just to what length these buccaneers are proposing to go in seizing control of the economic life of your nation is disclosed in the same hearings before the Judiciary Committee on page 42. Quoting a statement from Dave Beck, head of the Teamsters Union on the West Coast, I quote:

"A plan to organize the Solid South was laid before Western delegates to the Highways Drivers' Council and Eastern representatives of the teamsters' union Tuesday by Dave Beck."

"Beck said that the only possible way to organize the South is to organize the rest of the country so thoroughly that the flow of commodities to and from those states can be cut off completely."

"We would then be in a position to shut off the South completely from boat, rail, and truck merchandising with the rest of the country. We could tie up the flow of freight by rail and by boat, merely by refusing to transport goods to the docks or railroad stations destined for shipment to the South."

"And we could refuse to move shipments from the South after they arrived at Northern or Western rail or water terminals."

And what is my opponent's position? Is he for his colleague, Dave Beck, in the diabolical plot, or is he against him? Which master will he serve? His union or his country? You know the answer.

Let me warn you, good people, just as the Unioner Beck has warned you, that the unrestrained power to boycott the movement of food products that rests in the hands of my opponent's union at this moment can paralyze the movement of perishable foods from one part of the Nation to the other, and can literally starve whole sections of the country. The reason that this power still exists in the hands of my opponent and his associates is because they were successful in preventing the Smith Anti-Strike Bill from passing the United States Senate.

5. I ask my opponent why he and his fellow labor leaders oppose so strenuously to that clause in the Smith Bill which prohibits them from exercising force and violence to prevent American citizens from entering and leaving their place of employment while making munitions for your soldiers? They opposed this provision on the ground that it would interfere with "peaceful picketing." Apparently, their idea of "peaceful picketing" includes the gentle art of bending a piece of lead pipe over the head of any American citizen who was so stubborn as to insist upon working in the War effort of his Country in defiance of their orders. He will answer this question with an incoherent harrangue that I am disrupting the War effort by interfering with the sacred rights of labor.

6. Why did my opponent, and his affiliated lords of labor, so vigorously oppose the provision in the Smith Bill which reenacted the policy proposed by President Wilson, in the other World War, of freezing the so-called closed shop provisions in existing labor union contracts? By that provision, all existing closed shop and open shop arrangements were to be continued in their present status throughout the War, and would have caused a cessation of the present continuous agitation for the closed shop that, up to this moment, is harassing, and threatens to seriously harass, our War effort. The closed shop is that provision which requires every man who works to join the union, and pay tribute out of his earnings for the privilege of working.

The particular grievance that my opponent and his associated labor leaders have against me is that I have dared to affirm, and have attempted to enact into legislation, the theory that every free born American citizen has the right to come and go about his lawful business without molestation from "thugs" and "footpads" even though they carry a union card; that it is his inherent right, which no man or no government should ever be permitted to infringe; to work when and where he pleases, in any lawful pursuit, without being compelled to either join or to refrain from joining, any organization even though it carries the fearsome charm of my opponent's union. I asserted, and now reaffirm, my belief in the American principle of freedom that entitles any free citizen to earn his living by the sweat of his brow without paying a toll or tribute, to fatten carcasses of a bunch of labor racketeers who toil not, and neither do they spin.

If the American Republic chooses to sit idly and supinely by, and by their silence, give sanction to this outrageous invasion upon their Constitutional liberties, they will have no one but themselves to blame, when in the days ahead, they find themselves chained and manacled to this chariot of destruction. When will the public rouse from their lethargy and cast off these chains that are being forced about their liberty, and endangering their very right of existence as a free people? Had your forefathers been told that they must pay tribute to a private organization for the right to work; had they been told that a single dictator in one industry had the power to halt the production of steel to arm their sons on the battle front; that another dictator had the power to halt the building of ships; and that another dictator could, by his order, tie up the transportation of the food and munitions to supply your army; there would have been such an upheaval of righteous indignation that would have swept these buccaneers from their positions of power. And, as yet, my opponent, who has been, and is, a part and parcel and a partner in this assault upon the liberties of the American people, tells you that I am a disrupter of the War effort, because I raise my voice in protest. It was in the light of this ominous picture that I spoke on the floor of the House of Representatives on the 12th day of November, 1942, as follows:

"We must no longer depend upon patriotic speeches and noble appeals to the overlords of labor. The time for a show-down is long overdue. Let us meet the issue before it is too late. Before we get into this war, let us know whether our country is being run under the Constitution or under the selfish dictatorship of the Lewises, the Hillmans, the Tobins, the Thomases, the hordes of selfish labor barons exploiting the honest American workingman for their own aggrandisement."

I have reluctantly reached the parting of the ways. I can take no further steps to war. I can no further imperil the destinies of our drafted Army and our splendid Navy until the President is moved to assert and protect the right of American citizens to work under the Constitution instead of under the dictatorship of our labor lords."

I spoke these words with deep conviction and fear for the safety of the Nation. My opponent, using his cunning, selected 9 words from that speech, and criticized it as attempting to disrupt the War effort.

You people who are listening! Examine the facts and decide for yourself who was disrupting our War effort. Whether it was I or whether it was the little handful of arrogant labor leaders who called these strikes that were paralyzing our feverish efforts to prepare for the War.

At the moment when I spoke, the incessant, and ever-increasing, and insatiable demands of your labor dictators had already, during the year of 1941, caused the loss of 25,000,000 man days of labor in your defense factories; a loss that deprived you and the Allied nations of enough munitions, ships, guns, planes, and tanks, to have turned the tide of battle on any front. A wave of strikes prevailed throughout the country. Your production of coal had just been stopped for days by a strike dictated by one labor leader, and it was only resumed when assured of compliance with his demands. One of your plane factories had been out of commission for weeks on a strike called by, what your government, though official investigation, denounced as a communist labor leader. Your production of ships was in a turmoil through labor strikes, and practically every branch of your war industry was threatened with paralysis by these dictators. As a result of that speech which my opponent denounced, and of other speeches made by other members of Congress, and as a further result of the aroused public opinion of this Nation that was insistently demanding labor legislation, the House of Representatives, be it said to their credit, on the 3rd day of December, passed the so-called Smith Anti-strike Bill. It was passed by a record vote of nearly two to one, which demonstrated that in the House of Representatives, at least, there abided the courage and the will to curb this handful of labor dictators whose arrogant assumption of power threatens the safety of your Nation.

And since that day my opponent and his fellow labor leaders, drunk with the power that the people of this nation have supinely permitted them to assume, have denounced and sought the defeat of every courageous member of your Congress who, by their votes on that bill, sought to remove the grip of labor dictatorship from the nation's throat.

My opponent will undertake to lull you to sleep by repeating the well known fable that the unions have voluntarily surrendered their right to strike when he knows, and you know, if you read your newspapers, that strikes and threatened strikes in their organizations have been daily occurrences since Pearl Harbor. He knows that there has been a continual and steady increase in the number of labor disputes in the past few months. At this very moment there are 1,744 labor disputes now pending before the Conciliation Service of the United States Department of Labor, and he knows that each of these disputes carries the covert threat of strikes to hamper this nation during its desperate struggle for existence.

Should I in the face of these conditions, quake and tremble and grovel before the threat of these buccaneers to defeat me for Congress, I should be disgracing the brave and patriotic people of my state who have so often honored me with their support.

I have no apologies to make. I have fought the fight that I know my people wanted me to fight, I, here and now, solemnly promise them, that so long as I remain in Congress, I will continue that fight while God gives me the strength and breath to do so, and I will continue to defy and denounce the little handful of "bloated pigmies" who, even today, in the dire peril of the Nation, continue their lustful grasp for power.

Guns—Planes—Tanks QUICK!

"LISTEN, Bud—glad to see you getting along. Sure, I know you've had to tighten your belt—for a long time you took it on the chin, and now you're getting good pay.

"That's O.K. with us soldiers. You've got your part to play, just as we have ours. You've got to make the stuff—and we've got to deliver it.

"But just a second . . . maybe it's none of our business, but, say, are you throwing your money around?

"Here's something straight from the shoulder. You see, we soldiers want to feel that we're not fighting alone—that you're behind us—every one of you, man, woman and youngster.

"How? Listen . . .

"How many WAR BONDS are you buying? Are you in on the Payroll Savings Plan? If you're not, you'll get in—won't you? This is your war—isn't it? We're fighting for you, aren't we?

"So look . . . When they come around to you, at your job, and ask you to put aside TEN PERCENT of your earnings every payday—a dime from every dollar—you'll do it, won't you—for us?

"You'll get a WAR BOND every time you've saved $18.75—and that Bond will build up, year by year, to $25 in ten years.

"So you're helping us and protecting yourself at the same time by your savings. Can't beat that, can you?

"We've got to have guns and planes, and tanks, and ships and bullets—and you've got to pay for them—from your own, voluntary WAR BOND savings.

"Invest a dime from every dollar in us—and keep it up, week after week, month after month. Give us the things we need to fight—that's all we ask. Then count on us to blast hell out of the Japs, the Huns, and their whole bloodthirsty gang.

"O.K., Bud—now let's go!"

5 REASONS WHY

3. You aid the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.
4. You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.
5. You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's safest investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.
