MEAT SITUATION IS EXPLAINED

L. M. Walker, Jr., State Commissioner of Agriculture, today announced to all farmers and cattle raisers that there were no basis to the rumor which has been circulating of late that farmers have to get a permit to slaughter their hogs. "If there is such a ruling we have not been notified of it," Mr. Walker said. "This is a very desirable time for all farmers who can, to prepare their meat supply," Mr. Walker said, "and again explained that farmers may kill as many hogs as they wish for their own use. It is only if they slaughter them for sale that they are subject to the restriction of 70 per cent of last year's slaughter."

Mr. Walker called attention to the serious meat shortage in some sections of Virginia, due to the fact that civilian consumption has not cut down and OPA ruling forbids that more than 70 per cent of the number of animals slaughtered during the last three months of 1941, may be killed during the same period of the current year for civilian use. "Larger packers," Mr. Walker said, "which are government inspected may sell all meat in excess of their civilian allotment for the three months period, to the government. Smaller packers, who are not under the supervision of government meat inspectors are liable to dispose of meats in excess of the allotment except through the larger packers. The situation is a bad one, because high costs of feed, together with ceiling prices on meats, would make it unprofitable for farmers to withhold the beef from the market, despite lower prices which packers might offer them."

"There is definitely no shortage of meat based on the number of cows, lambs and hogs available for slaughtering," Mr. Walker said. "However, OPA rulings regulating the percentage of cattle and hogs which may be slaughtered have created a meat shortage aspect."

"We are doing everything we can to help the situation but so far have not made much progress."

Mr. Walker conferred with Leon Henderson on Monday.

The seniors of Osborn High School are sponsoring a baby contest. It began Wednesday, December 2, and will close Thursday, December 17, at 4 o'clock.

Any pre-school child in Prince William County may be entered and sponsored by an organization, business group or individual.

Each vote will be sold for one cent. The total votes will be posted each morning on the school bulletin board, and probably each week in the Manassas Journal.

The first and second prizes will be war stamps or their equivalent in a piece of jewelry (if the latter is available). The prizes will be awarded at the Osborn High School Christmas Assembly on Friday, December 18, 1942.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

We are not increasing the old yearly price, if the same can possibly be avoided. We cannot make any promises, however, except that such a thing will not be done for at least a month or so.

We are again reminding that we are not mailing out subscription bills due to labor shortage. You can see your label as easily as the postman who brings it to you.

KIWANIS CLUB INITIATES FATHER JOHN STANTON

Last week's meeting of the Kiwanis club was largely routine.

Kiwanian Dick Hynson made a nice little talk, as did "OD", Col. Hutchison and others.

The club regained the loss of membership occasioned when Father Jim resigned by initiating his successor, Father John Stanton, who is also assistant chaplain at Quantico.

Father John, who was in Rome during the Ethiopian campaign, gave a brief chat on the human side of the war.

GARDEN CLUB MEETING

Garden Section of Woman's Club of Manassas, will meet at the home of Mrs. Marie Larkin, on Monday, December 7, 2:30, p. m., speaker: Mrs. H. Newell Heulings, on "Christmas Gift Suggestions and Decorations for the home." Full attendance desired.

REDEDICATION FOR VICTORY

AN OUTLINE OF ADDRESS GIVEN ARMISTICE DAY SERVICES, by H. H. HEMMING

Four and twenty years ago after the Huns under Hindenburg had afflicted an old friend, America said through the voice of her great General Black Jack (Pershing) "Lafayette, we are here." From the hills, the mountains, across the plains, American young manhood, many a beardless youth, re-echoed that answer. Our country arose as one man, poured her manhood and materials into ten thousand ships and paid back a debt of gratitude to a bleeding, wounded Europe.

For another three years those nations have been afflicted. Germany has raped France after crushing Holland, Belgium, Poland and other small nations, and with his silly bloody hands on her mangled throat has so choked her that she has been unable to call to her old friends for help. Those gory hands slipped and a few hours ago we heard a feeble call for help.

The old war cost hundreds of millions, this is already mounting up into billions. That was a war in Europe, this is a global war and covers every sea and every land on the face of the earth.

We hate war. We hate dirty things and war is the dirtiest thing this world has ever experienced. War kills and diseases bodies worse, it kills and diseases the souls of men and women.

War feeds on youth; healthy, red blooded youth. Old soldiers are no good. We must pour millions of young into the maw of the war God, that yawns like the mouth of Hell and cries "More!" "More!" and it has to be. A few hundreds of thousands is not enough, it cannot stop him, tens of thousands, hundreds of thousands! The appetite of Aries must be sated before we can have peace.

Haw our hearts thrilled the other night when we heard the first news of the accomplishments of our forces on the "shores of Tripoli" or somewhere in that vicinity. How they thrill every time we learn of the exploits of our men at arms. Whether in the Atlantic, Pacific, Mediterranean because they are our men and because each one of us is doing something to make their victory early and complete.

Our first thought, however, is that of the men and women, who first dedicated themselves for the first World War and, who today have rededicated themselves to save those ideals and principles for which they fought and their comrades died a quarter of a century ago. The example of the American Legion and other like organizations is an outstanding inspiration to us today.

We have listened to, and read the modest reports of the various Home Organizations of our own vicinity and know that already much is being done to hasten the day when victory shall crown our efforts, however, it is imperative that we shall think of these as only the beginnings. Mr. Churchill stated just a few hours ago that this is not the beginning of the end, but merely the end of the beginning. And these are only our beginnings and we plan, we must plan for finer and greater things in the future. And rededicate ourselves here and now for the herculean task of an all out global war.

After eleven months of preparation we learn that a United Nation is rising like a mighty giant to crush the Octopus of evil that has stretched its tentacles out to suck the last drop of Freedom and Liberty and the pursuit of happiness from the God fearing peoples of all nations of this age and of the unborn babes for ages to come.

Our military forces are already showing what the sons of liberty loving America do when they rise to meet the challenge of the murderous hordes, whose hatred and greed would

The Four Horsemen ride again

WAR HAS ONCE AGAIN loosed the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse upon the world. Tuberculosis... the dread TB that kills more people between 15 and 45 than any other disease. You can help prevent a wartime rise of TB in our country by buying Christmas Seals today... and using them every day from now to Christmas. They fight Tuberculosis.

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS The National, State and Local Tuberculosis Associations in the United States.

CHRISTMAS SEAL RETURNS ENCOURAGING

The first ten days of the 1942 Christmas Seal Sale of the Prince William County Tuberculosis Association, which opened last week, once again proves that the people of Manassas are making every effort to aid in the fight against tuberculosis, according to announcement of Mrs. George R. Lee Turberville, chairman of Manassas District. To date, approximately $125. has been received by the association in response to seals and Christmas bonds mailed to local citizens and organizations in the annual campaign. Among the latter, the following have been listed as early contributors: Prince William Post, American Legion; Manassas Volunteer Fire Department; Manassas Kiwanis Club, Association. To meet the needs of the 1943 budget, a quota of $1223. must be raised from the county Seal Sale, which is the main support of the year-round work of the Association. The goal set for Manassas District is $365, and the one-third of the amount already submitted is evidence of the interest people in our community are taking in the campaign against tuberculosis, a disease which kills more persons between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other disease. The cooperation of every citizen is needed to make this year's quota go over the top and help the County Association maintain the work which promotes the health of the people in this community.

T. B. ASSOCIATION SPONSERS MOVIE

The movie reel, "Silent Night, Holy Night," being shown currently at the Pitts Theatre in conjunction with the Prince William County Tuberculosis Seal Sale, will be held over another week for the benefit of patrons who have not seen the picture, according to announcement of the manager, T. I. Martin, and the Seal Sale chairman, Mrs. F. D. Cox. The film features Jean Dickenson, Metropolitan Opera, radio and concert star, and the famous Paulist Choristers. The movie was taken in the old Church of St. Paul the Apostle, New York City, and represents the contribution of the Church and the movie world to the anti-tuberculosis cause. Following the showing in Manassas, the movie short will be featured in Quantico and Occoquan.

SECOND COMPANY OF MINUTE MEN MUSTERED IN

Last week at Dumfries, a second company of Minute Men was mustered in with an enrollment of 44. The official designation of the group is Company 177, Virginia Reserve Militia.

Officers are: Capt. Ira B. Lykes, 1st Lieut. J. H. Gum, 2nd Lieut. John A. Adair.

G. RAYMOND RATCLIFFE ALREADY HAS MADE WONDERFUL SHOWING

G. Raymond Ratcliffe, of Manassas, has been appointed to the Regional Victory Fund Committee, which is conducting in this area an intensive drive to raise a part of the nine billion dollars in Government securities to be sold during December.

The Regional Victory Fund Committee is a segment of the Fifth Federal Reserve District's Victory Fund Committee, which has organized all bankers in the district to carry out an intensive campaign for the sale of Victory Loan Bonds. The aim of the drive is to attract all idle funds and accumulated savings to Government securities. Sale of these securities is being made to all classes of investors.

REV. BOYD DISCUSSES POST-WAR RESPONSIBILITIES

Despite Wednesday's evening wintry blasts, more than one hundred laymen from Fairfax, Prince William and Arlington counties gathered in the hospitable parish hall of St. George's Ballston, to partake of a splendid repast of turkey, cranberries, mince pie and all the fix-ins which had been prepared and was served by the ladies of the local church Guild and also to enjoy good fellowship amid some mighty fine addresses.

Mr. George B. Robey, of Fairfax, president for the present term, presided and also led in the singing with his side-partner, Walter Oliver officiating at the piano.

A brief chat was given by E. A. deBordenave, which was in turn followed by the main address of the evening, by the Rev. Beverly Boyd, of Richmond.

His topic was devoted to the attitude which the church would take in the post-war period. As a fier and post-war officer from the last conflict, Mr. Boyd spoke with the seasoned experience. He demonstrated how isolationism had done so much harm by allowing the complete breakdown of civilization in Germany to become possible.

The talk was rich in realism and human interest. As the special envoy of our very esteemed Bishop Goodwin, he did his task well, and the group present was much impressed with his address.

Following his remarks and before adjournment, an invitation was extended by President Robey to meet at Truro, Fairfax, at the spring assembly of the League. The said invite was accepted unanimously and adjournment followed with prayer by Mr. deBordenave.

VIRGINIA RANKED SIXTEENTH IN NATIONAL SCRAP DRIVE

Virginia placed thirty-second in the national scrap drive according to figures released this week by R. W. Slocum, general chairman of the news papers' United Scrap Drive committee from his New York office. The State collected a total of 81,368 tons of scrap for a per capita of 60.9 per person.

Virginia's rank of thirty-second on a per capita basis was bettered somewhat when total poundage figures by individual states brought the Old Dominion up to sixteenth place in the nation-wide drive.

HAYMARKET BOY TRAINING IN MEDICAL CORPS

CAMP PICKET, VA.—As America's Army moves forward on whizzing wheels and earth tearing caterpillar tracks in North Africa, in New Guinea, and the Solomons, the importance of the men who keep 'em rolling cannot be overestimated.

Here at the Medical Replacement Training Center, Private Louis Lightner, of Haymarket, is being trained at the Mechanics School to take his place in the ranks of the thousands of skilled Mechanical soldiers who operate and maintain the U. S. Army Medical Department's extensive motorized equipment.

Private Lightner was chosen for special training at the Mechanic's School shortly after his arrival here at the MRTC, and is now being given an intensive course by expert instructors, with much actual work on the trucks, jeeps, and ambulances of the MRTC Motor Pool.

Sgt. Mervin L. Weatherholtz, Co. A, 22nd Engr. B. V. A. Po. 225, Desert Maneuvers, care Pm., Los Angeles, California, has returned to duty after a ten day visit with his Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Weatherholtz, near Bull Run.

Mr. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, chairman of the Prince William County War Savings Committee, announced that the U. S. Treasury has made a very important announcement.

Next month the United States Government will ask its people for a $9,000,000,000 loan. This is by far the largest single financing operation any government has ever attempted anywhere. It eclipses even the great Fourth Liberty Loan of 1918, which totaled nearly $7,000,000,000. Like that famous effort, this new flotation is to be sold by an intensive campaign which will enlist thousands of volunteer workers and will seek to canvass every potential investor. Thus for the first time in this war we are turning away from peacetime financing methods and putting on a wartime drive.

The purpose of this drive is not merely to raise the money, but to raise it in the right places. In financing the war thus far we have leaned heavily upon the commercial banks. Figures recently released by the controller of the Currency showed that on June 30 the active banks in the United States held $38,000,000,000 out of a total of $77,000,000,000 of public debt, including the government guaranteed debt. This is equal to about 40 per cent. That proportion is no lower today, for the banking system has been absorbing better than 40 per cent of recent government loans. In a program that contemplates total government borrowings of $60,000,000,000 in the current fiscal year this is a heavy load to place upon the banking system. It means an enormous inflation of bank credit, which will greatly complicate the problem of controlling prices.

This should not be necessary. The incomes of individuals are rapidly expanding and the growing curtailment of civilian goods requires that much of those incomes be saved, not spent. The Securities and Exchange Commission has recently intimated that cash savings of individuals, excluding business savings, are currently at the rate of $16,000,000,000 a year and had amounted in the third quarter of this year to one and one half times the amounts invested by individuals in all kinds of Government securities. It is these cash savings as well as the investment funds of corporations and institutions which the Treasury's projected army of security salesmen must seek out.

To further this program the Treasury has provided a variety of offerings. There will be the continued sale of war savings bonds and tax savings notes. In addition, a two and one half per cent twenty-six-year bond exclusively for non-banking investors will be put on "tap" for purchase over a period of weeks. For the banks and other investors seeking a banking type of security there are to be two series, a one-and-three-quarter per cent, six-and-one-half-year bond, and a seven-eighths of 1 per cent, one-year certificate. To these will be added the weekly sales of discount bills. There are thus to be available securities which ought to meet every investor's needs. The plan is to raise $9,000,000,000 from the banks and one-half from non-banking leaders.

One of the advantages of this large program is that it will enable the Treasury to postpone any additional major borrowing until February. From then on the plan is to finance every other month, instead of every month as heretofore, thus making possible larger offerings with more intensive campaigns.

This is a large, bold operation; but it is well planned and will unquestionably succeed. If the Americans of 1918, with their much smaller national income, smaller savings, smaller cash resources could turn in nearly $7,000,000,000 for the fourth Liberty Loan, the generation of 1942 should take $9,000,000,000 in its stride.

HUNT BREAKFAST

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lewis, entertained at their annual Hunt Breakfast on Thanksgiving day for members of the Bull Run Hunt Club and their friends. One hundred and fifty guests were invited to the affair held at the ancestral home, Portici, adjoining the Manassas Battlefield Park. Assisting the Lewises in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. B. Higgs Lewis, Capt. and Mrs. Henry Lee Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Ashby Lewis, Mr. Charles Walton Lewis and Mr. C. F. M. Lewis.

A Thanksgiving repast was served buffet style at one o'clock, and the guests spent the remainder of the afternoon enjoying the hospitality of the Lewis home. Members of the Hunt Club participated in an impromptu horse show for the entertainment of the guests.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my son William T. Anderson, who was killed at Pearl Harbor, December 7, 1941

Dear William, how I miss you

This world will never know;

If tears could only bring you home,

You would have been here long ago.

You are not forgotten, William dear,

Nor ever shall you be;

As long as life and memory last

I shall remember thee.

The one we lost has gone to rest;

His little heart is still;

The little hands that tried to help

Now lie in death's cold chill.

The blow was heavy, the shock severe

We little thought that death was near

But only those who have lost can tell,

The pain of parting without farewell.

To Tap Wealth Of the Amazon

Invasion Barges to Be Used In Developing Riches Of Venezuela.

CARACAS, VENEZUELA.—A far-sighted plan that would aid in the development of the vast mineral riches of the Amazon and Orinoco basins has been outlined by Dudley P. South, representative of the Higgins Marine Industries, makers in New Orleans of the famous "indestructible" landing craft used by the United Nations armed forces.

South has been carrying out "on the scene" studies of the Amazon and Orinoco basins and soon will be in Washington to make a report to the War Production board.

South originally came to Latin America to find a post-war market for the Higgins boats. He traveled thousands of miles by plane, boat, canoe and afoot until he was ready to make a preliminary report of his findings. He plans to ask Washington for permission for the delivery of 12 shallow-draft, Diesel-powered Higgins boats and one fast river craft as the first step in his plan.

Gave Glowing Accounts.

He came out of the Alto Orinoco region with glowing accounts of untapped natural wealth, sufficient to take care of the majority of the rubber, mineral and hardwood needs of the entire Western hemisphere.

What South reported on the riches of this area is no secret. In the past, however, these riches were useless because of a lack of transportation. The vastness of the area involved is such that construction of a railway or highway would require the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars, an amount so huge that to date no investor has been willing to undertake the risk.

But South claims to have solved the problem. After a detailed study of the Orinoco river and its tributaries, he asserts that all of Venezuela, Colombia and northern Brazil are linked by the arms of a mighty system of rivers. He believes he can establish an express-boat schedule that will function as efficiently, and at an inexpensive figure, as any network of overland routes.

Build Hardy Vessels.

The main idea, South says, has been discussed before but has been turned down because of the reported unavailability of the rivers. South says that his own tests and research proved that hundreds of the waterways run to a depth of four feet, and with the special shallow-draft barges designed by Higgins to carry 55-ton army tanks, he could bring supplies to the most isolated villages of the interior and take out quantities of rubber, ore, chicle, mahogany, and castor oil.

Higgins Industries have designed, in addition to their famous barges, high-powered invasion boats that withstand the roughest sort of treatment. Last year, in tests in New Orleans, these craft sped through the waters of Lake Pontchartrain at 40 miles an hour and hurled themselves up on the rough shores without injury to the hull.

South's idea is to put a fleet of these on the rivers to carry passenger traffic and mail. A letter posted at Ciudad Bolivar, a middle-Orinoco port, addressed to an interior town near the Colombian border, must be taken most of the way by canoe and requires up to two months for delivery. South is certain he could establish a weekly passenger mail service into the most remote areas.

One-Woman Committee Wins Gratitude of Army

HOUSTON, TEXAS.—Army morale officers in south Texas are applauding the efforts of Florine Davis, 16, a one-woman "committee" to provide entertainment for the camps.

Miss Davis, who graduated from high school this year, began an independent campaign to round up musicians, dancers and other entertainers for army camp shows. From Houston supper clubs and radio stations she recruited the free services of orchestras and masters of ceremonies. To these she added volunteer amateur performers.

Peasants in Ireland Are Facing Starvation

DUBLIN.—Peasants in the south and west of Ireland, particularly in Donegal and Clare, are on the verge of starvation.

Donegal county council has forwarded an urgent appeal to the government describing the gravity of the food situation.

In a press conference, Mark McFadden, chairman of the council, told reporters that shortages of flour, bread, and other grains is forcing nearly the entire population to live on potatoes.

French Birth Rate Falls; Mortality Is on Rise

VICHY, FRANCE.—The French birthrate continued to fall in 1940 despite a government repopulation drive, and there was a sharp rise in infant mortality.

Latest figures show that in continental France, excluding Alsace, there were 44,602 fewer births in 1940 than in 1938. Mortality statistics for 1940 listed deaths of 48,760 children under a year old, 10,780 more than in 1938.

MANY STAMPS AND BONDS PURCHASED BY SCHOOL CHILDREN

A recent article published in a local newspaper gave a figure just short of $5,000, as the amount which had been spent by students of the Falmouth High School for War Savings Bonds and Stamps. Other schools in the division have made showings almost as good as at Falmouth, although, to date, that school has made the largest investment. At the 23 schools located in King George and Stafford Counties, investments in War Savings Bonds and Stamps will exceed, according to incomplete reports from teachers, the sum of $40,000, which is considerable money to come from the dimes and quarters of little children, and in some cases it is the money which normally would be spent in sweets and other childhood delights.

WHAT A JANITOR

Posterity will never know just what the vote was for Chesterfield County in the November election. Chesterfield county election officials are both red-faced and "burntup" about the whole thing too!

The reason? Chesterfield county hired a new janitor who took his work seriously and burned the ballots after they were left in wastebaskets to await official count by the election commissioners.

A BLUEJACKETS PRAYER OF THANKSGIVING

NAVAL TRAINING STATION, NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 23, 1942—

Almighty God I come to Thee in grateful acknowledgment for all Thy material provisions and comforts. I thank Thee for those at 'home' who are counting on me to do my part in the armed service. Help me that I may never be a disappointment unto them and above all unto Thee. I thank Thee for those Comrades on the high seas and at the battle fronts who are doing their best to bring about a victory for the right. Bestow upon me a spirit of gratitude and Thanksgiving this day and all days that shall follow. This request is made in the name of the Lord God who gives every good and perfect gift. Amen.

Warren Weatherholtz

This prayer was sent to Mrs. Daisy Wells by her grandson, Warren Weatherholtz, who is in the Naval Station. Warren enlisted in the Navy Reserve Aug. 4, 1942, and is now a third grade Petty Officer. He spent the week end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Weatherholtz, at Bull Run.

Come on—

Let's Show Adolf Where He Made HIS BIGGEST MISTAKE!

Maybe you didn't know it, Adolf, but you led with your chin when you and your sneak-thief pals, the Japs, started swinging at Uncle Sam.

You see, Adolf, this is a war of production. Behind our boys in the armed forces is another army, 50 million strong . . . and I mean strong. We call them Soldiers of Production.

And when it comes to turning out tanks, guns and planes, Adolf, they just can't be beat. Why, America invented mass production—didn't you know? That's why already we're passing our goals. And you know what those goals call for—185,000 planes, 120,000 tanks and 55,000 anti-aircraft guns in 1942 and 1943. You laughed at those figures—said American workers couldn't do it. Well, we're doing it, Adolf—we're doing it!

And that's not all. We're not only building planes and tanks and ships to smash you once and for all—we're paying for them, too—10% of our pay every pay day.

No one makes us do this, Adolf. We're doing it because we know that everything worth living for is at stake here. And we're doing it so that we'll have a nest-egg for the future. Because Uncle Sam is going to hand us back (in ten years) $25.00 for every $18.75 we invest in War Bonds now. That's the American way—the voluntary way—but you wouldn't know about that.

And—get this, Adolf—it isn't just a few of us who are buying Bonds to swamp you with guns and planes and torpedoes. It's millions of us, asking our employers to set aside 10% or more of our pay for War Bonds every pay day.

Yes, the American worker is doing his part. You kind of forgot us, Adolf, and, whether know it or not, sooner or later you'll agree was your biggest mistake.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

By parents: All have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in their course.

COCOANUT GROVE DISASTER

The shocking disaster in a Boston night club which resulted in the loss of approximately 480 lives constitutes a fearful rebuke to a nation at war.

Here in a few moments more lives were lost than in the initial stage of the occupation of Northern Africa by our armed forces!

Something is wrong with our war effort when night clubs can attract such throngs into stuffy little booze "joints". That drunkenness may have contributed substantially to the disaster is intimated editorially by no less authority than the Christian Science Monitor of that city.

Virginia has somewhat safeguarded itself in this matter by the establishment of a beer and liquor curfew. It is true that this disaster occurred early in the evening, but it is also probable that no such crowd would have assembled had it not been necessary to conclude their "celebrations" by eleven o'clock. Let us hope that this frightful loss of life will serve as a solemn warning, not merely to tighten up fire regulations, but that on a national scale, city night-life itself should be curtailed.

BANK SAFETY

Leading banks throughout the country are being forced by war conditions to reduce interest payments on savings accounts to 1 per cent. These institutions are literally bulging with money, but it cannot be safely invested in the many ways of former days.

The banks themselves are leaders in urging depositors to invest in War Savings Bonds and Stamps. Their first consideration and responsibility is, and has always been, safety of funds.

There never was a time in banking history when deposits in national banks have been as safe as they are today. And these are times when

TO SAVINGS DEPARTMENT DEPOSITORS

In common with most banks, the Manassas banks are forced to meet the problems of decreased earnings and increased operating expenses.

Expenses over which we have no control continue to increase and will continue to do so in order to meet the Government's requirements for National defense.

While many banks have already reduced the interest paid on interest bearing deposits, the Manassas banks have continued to pay 2 per cent on Savings Deposits in the hope that conditions would change for the better in order to justify continuing, however this hope has not been realized.

Effective January 1st, 1943, interest paid on Savings Accounts and Certificates of Deposit will be reduced to 1 per cent per annum until such time as conditions will permit paying more.

We invite you to consult any of our officers to explain any questions that is not clear to you.

Respectfully yours, ruthlessly enslave all Europe. Our Selective Service Boards are measuring up well to the gigantic task of supplying the men to build up a mighty army. Our industrial workers are now turning out ships, planes, tanks and other munitions of war in greater volume than ever, since the world began. Our home defense groups are sacrificing, time and materials without thought of cost or value to preserve the nations and to keep the "home fires burning". But we cannot say, "it is enough" no! no! a thousand times, "no!"

We must be vigilant. We must be better prepared. We must press on to and without hesitation, climb on to the mountain height of final victory.

In Russia the people are mending and patching their old winter clothes, shoes are being soled with wood. Freezing weather has come but they have not started their furnaces. Yet winter is welcomed as the time of opportunity. There they spend a whole day's wages for four potatoes. A week's pay is paid for a pound of butter, but they are still ready to give more and more as the need may be.

Our fine American men are carrying the battles on under the blistering heat of the desert sun in red hot roaring tanks, while others suffer in Greenland's desert strands, Alaska's freezing islands, and Australia's desert strands. In bombers, submarines, tanks, on land and on sea, our men and their Allies fight for liberty while some languish in prisons dark and wait, waiting while we at home pray and work, looking forward to the day of triumphant victory.

We must rededicate ourselves to greater vigilance and spur ourselves on to greater activities.

When after days of fighting without food and water, in dirty clothes and with lousy bodies, a battalion of ragged wounded boys, having won their objective, were retiring for rest, baths, food and recuperation, dragging their exhausted bodies along in straggling lines, received the word that the enemy had counter attacked and were taking over what they had so valiantly taken, they turned, every one of them rededicating their last ounce of strength and at tremendous cost retook their position. So we must rededicate ourselves, when reverses come as they will. Each one of us is on the spot. We pass judgement on ourselves, either to win or lose. Every mother's child of us is either a hero or a coward. Let us kill rumors, buy more bonds, ration our all with a smile and rededicate ourselves for the victory.

With Apologies to C. B. Galbreath.

In far off lands the cannon boom
And fitful flashes light the gloom
While up above, like eagles fly
The fierce destroyers of the sky.
With strains the earth wherein you lie
Is redder than the rose's bloom
In far off fields.
Sleep on, ye brave.
The shrieking shell,
The quaking trench, the startled yell
The fury of the battle hell
Shall wake you not, for all is well.
Your flaming torch aloft we bear,
With burning heart an oath we swear
To keep the faith, to fight it through
To crush the foe or sleep with you
In far off fields.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

New York's old houses have a fascination for me. Before the Wendel mansion, a square, ugly red brick at Fifth avenue and 39th street, gave way to a store, I used to wander over there and stare in the hope that some day I would glimpse Miss Ella Wendel, the last of her line, who dwelt there alone with a fat poodle. That I never did detect so much as a flicker of life about the house didn't break the habit. So when the Collyer house, an old four-story brownstone at Fifth avenue and 128th street, got into the news because a bank was about to foreclose a mortgage, and Homer and Langley Collyer, who had lived there for years without gas or electricity, were to be evicted, I went up to Harlem and with a lot of others stood around staring.

After inspecting the house from all angles, without detecting any more life than the Wendel mansion had showed, I gave up and went downtown. It was that very night that Herbert Clyde Lewis, a Herald-Tribune reporter, had a piece of luck such as newspaper men dream about. As he was sitting on the steps shivering because—to quote him—"it was mugging time in Harlem"—Langley Collyer came out and not only talked but accompanied Lewis to the Herald-Tribune office where he posed for a picture. Lewis wrote a peach of a yarn which, along with his by-line, hit the front page. That of course was a fine thing for him, but not so good for Helen Worden of the World-Telegram, who broke the original story of the impending eviction.

As perhaps you have learned elsewhere, the Collyer brothers, whose family came to this country in the Speedwell which, according to Miss Worden was a "second Mayflower," will not be evicted after all. They had not known of the foreclosure proceedings because the notice had been torn down probably by mischievous children, possibly the same ones who took delight in breaking Collyer windows until there were no more to break. So, having made arrangements to pay back interest, the Collyer brothers can continue to live in the old house that has been their home since 1909, and Langley can continue to serve the blind Homer. And if they so desire, they can continue to be hermits in a great city.

There are a number of old brownstones on 57th street between Broadway and Seventh avenue, that appeal to me though I do not know their stories. Surrounded by business and apartments and with business in their basements and even the upper floors, they seem to stare at Central park as though they were brooding over the happy days when they were fashionable homes.

The first guest at the opening dance of the Open House for Officers at the Hotel Delmonico was a tall, wiry American from Texas. He was quickly set to work blowing up balloons for a prize dance to be held later in the evening while the hostesses waited impatiently for the refreshments to arrive. Finally when so much time had elapsed that they were just about desperate, a delivery man rushed in with the announcement that the freight elevator refused to run and he was unable to carry up the load. Immediately, the Texan lost interest in the balloons. Explaining to a hostess that he used to run elevators before going into the service, he disappeared. And in no time at all, the elevator was repaired and the party saved.

There are no dull moments at the Open House for Officers according to the hostess. At the opening cocktail party the first guest was a British torpedo officer six feet five inches tall, who towered above all the hostesses. Those who followed were of average height, however. The next day, another British officer arrived. He didn't attract attention because of height. But he had a badly torn coat and was distracted because he was on his way to a party. A junior hostess quickly made repairs and he went merrily on his way. When the same officer was suddenly ordered to another city it was that same hostess who collected his laundry and sent it after him.

Claude Thornhill declares it happened in a nightclub the other evening: A lovely young thing stared at a man sitting at a near-by table and then asked her escort, "Who is that homely man?" Without wincing, the escort confessed that the man happened to be his brother. "Oh, pardon me," flustered the bundle of beauty. "But really, I hadn't noticed the resemblance."

THE MOST IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT EVER MADE BY THE U. S. TREASURY DEPARTMENT

The 9 Billion Dollar Victory Loan Drive Is On!

This week the United States Government begins the task of borrowing nine billion dollars from accumulated savings and idle funds in the next several weeks as an essential part of winning the war more quickly and more completely.

During these critical weeks you probably will be visited by a representative of one of the securities firms or banks which are contributing their time and effort—without compensation of any kind—to the Victory Fund Committee. He will explain to you, for instance, the benefits that you can obtain from the new Victory 2½'s—available for the first time. Welcome him as a war worker when he calls. If you miss him, ask your banker or securities dealer for full particulars. There is no limit to the amount that you can purchase.

Today many American families are torn apart. Millions have left their homes or their jobs; thousands have given their lives and many more are prepared to do so.

But the government, your government, is not asking you to give anything to this Nine Billion Dollar Drive. It is asking you to lend it all of the money you can possibly invest in what is the safest investment in the world—at a good rate of interest.

When the Victory Fund representative calls, please remember this: it is in your own interest, as well as that of your country, to listen to him—and to invest.

Order Treasury Securities offered to investors through the Victory Fund Committee are Treasury Tax Savings Notes A and C, and U. S. Savings Bonds, Series F and G.

ELECTRIC EYE DEVICE FOR SPEEDERS

Governor Darden has announced plans for the use of "electric eye" equipment for the purpose of recording the exact speed of an automobile, the device made necessary, he said because of "willful and contemptuous" violations of speed and wartime conservation regulations. "I have tried and the State Police have tried," Governor Darden said, "in every way we knew how to stop this speeding, but still it goes on." "I do not know of any other way to deal with it except through these mechanical devices, plus drastic fines and possible imprisonment," Governor Darden said. He further pointed out that the armed forces had so depleted the State Police Force and lack of tires had made unsafe any prolonged chase of speeders, that in the face of the rising number of highway deaths and accidents the electric eye seemed the only other course.

The first of the proposed electric devices is expected to arrive in Richmond early this week on a ten day approval and will be tried out by the Governor, Superintendent of State Police and other State officials before it is definitely decided what type of electric eye is to be purchased.

The "electric eye" equipment is small, portable and works both night and day, Governor Darden said. It is his plan to leave it no longer than half a day in any one locality. One policeman would be in charge of each device and as the electric device indicated violation of speed regulations the violator would be promptly arrested.

The Governor explained that as the speed violator passed through the "electric eye" device, a road patrolman at the end of the equipment would order him to halt and then and there present him with a ticket. Should the motorist refuse to stop at the officers command a patrol car would be on hand to give chase or intercept further down the road. There is a possibility that the newly organized Woman's Auxiliary Police or WASPS might take a hand in this branch of the service, the Governor said, especially as more and more patrolmen leave for the armed forces.

It is the Governor's plan to buy between 25 and 50 of these.

WATERFALL

Mrs. R. B. Gossom, who has been confined to her bed, with a heart condition, following an attack of flu, is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simpson, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnes, and children of Arlington, were guests at "Hagley."

Mrs. Howard Bell, who has been visiting relatives in Arlington and Washington, has returned to her home.

Miss Margaret Shirley spent the Thanksgiving holiday with her sister, Mrs. Henry Thomas, of Arlington. Shirley Thomas who is a student at U. of Va. was home for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bell and children were Sunday guests of Mrs. Bell's sister, Mrs. Archie Donahue, of Fairfax. We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Donahue, who recently lost her eldest daughter, Mary Katherine, from an attack of leukemia.

Mr. Clinton Foley, who was confined to his bed for so long, following an automobile accident, is living at his home again, with his sister, and is able to get around the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Pearson, who have been living at Antioch, have recently moved to Poplar Hill Farm, in the absence of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrison Bowen, who are now living at Kingsport, Tenn., where Mr. Bowen is employed by the government.

Mr. Alvin Gay, who was injured in a street car accident, in Washington, several months ago, is still confined to the hospital. Mrs. Gay and Gibson are frequent visitors to his bedside.

Miss Ruth Gossom and Miss Peggy Anne Pickett, were Washington visitors several days of last week.

Mrs. Herman Smith, of Arlington, visited Herman, who is stationed at Camp Forrest, Tenn., several days of last week.

Most of "our boys" are "in camp some where," and our S. S. seems a lonely place without them, but our small and faithful band are "carrying on" and hoping, and praying, for the day when the "lights go on again, all over the world."

Services will be conducted at Antioch, Sunday at 11:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. Barnett Grimsley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Gossom and daughter, Janice, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gossom.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wayland and children, of Occoquan, have been frequent guests at "Mt. Atlas" during Mrs. Gossom's illness.

TEACHERS IN KING GEORGE AND STAFFORD COUNTIES
BUY WAR BONDS

100 per cent of Negro Teachers in Stafford County buy War Bonds. King George County Negro Teachers average 66.7 per cent; Administrative force, 100 per cent; White teachers in Stafford County 40 per cent, and White teachers in King George County 77.8 per cent.

The payroll allotment plan for the purchase of War Bonds has been put into operation in the King George-Stafford School Division. Outstanding is the fact every Negro teacher in Stafford County has either purchased a War Savings Bond since July 1st, of this year, or has signed an order permitting the School Board to make a fixed deduction from the monthly paycheck and purchase with the proceeds a War Bond. The supervisors and administrative staffs also 100 per cent. The number of teachers entering into the payroll allotment plan, among those not already 100 per cent, is increasing daily and it is planned to have all teachers in the division holders of War-Savings Bonds before the end of the current school term.

War Plants Using
Ideas of WorkersHunches on Speeding Output
Of War Weapons Sought.

DETROIT.—Today's war worker is proving himself to be a resourceful "idea" man.

Corporations which once relied almost exclusively upon high-priced engineers for methods of improving production, now utilize the man at the machine for hunches on speeding output of war weapons, boosting efficiency and reducing scrap.

General Motors corporation, which offers workers war bonds and stamps for acceptable tips, received more than 15,000 suggestions during a 60-day period and paid out more than $40,000 in awards to men and women in 53 plants throughout the country. Two GM employees each received the maximum award—a $1,000 war bond.

The Packard Motor Car company, building aircraft and marine engines for the army and navy, has received 4,158 suggestions under its "Work to Win" program, 30 per cent of which helped to improve production efficiency. Merit pins are awarded workers whose ideas are accepted by the joint management-labor committee at Packard.

The suggestions which drew one of the $1,000 war bonds at GM concerned simplification of the machining process on a part for the Allison airplane engine.

A third worker suggested and built a machine that has eliminated a bottleneck in the production of a unit used in the fuel supply system of airplanes.

President George T. Christopher of Packard said his plant already has adopted 117 worker suggestions for speeding output of war engines. Full protection is given the Packard worker whose suggestion may prove patentable, according to Christopher.

Stop Worrying! There's

Plenty of Bear Meat

HELENA, MONT.—You've been hearing about this incipient meat shortage?

Well, just in case it comes, nature—assisted by the Federal Forestry service—has cached away some emergency rations in the western woods.

The annual big game surplus in this area could feed 5,000,000 soldiers for two months without touching the basic herd stock, federal officials estimate.

The Montana surplus could supply 2,300 tons of dressed meat annually, releasing sufficient beef, mutton and pork to feed more than 340,800 soldiers for one month, says Game Warden J. S. McFarland.

This surplus represents the normal annual increase in elk, deer, bear and antelope, and would leave the herds at normal size for reproduction.

Should an extreme food emergency arise, McFarland figures the herds could be cut in half to release enough meat from Montana alone to feed well over 920,000 soldiers for one month.

And there would remain vast untouched flocks of wild sheep, mountain goats, moose, grizzly bear, birds and fish—potential food for thousands more soldiers or civilians.

Soldiers Query a Waitress;
Get a Diplomatic Reply

LONDON.—Two American buck privates having breakfast at the Red Cross Milestone club the other morning when one asked the waitress, "Are you American?"

"Yes," she replied.

"Married?"

The waitress said she was.

"What's your husband do?"

"He works in the embassy."

"What's he do there?"

"He's the American ambassador," the waitress replied.

Her inquisitor poked his buddy in the ribs.

"That's a good gag," he roared.

"Meet my pal. He's Joe Kennedy."

The waitress, Mrs. John G. Winant, laughed and moved away.

Lucky for Sergeant It

Wasn't Two Other Girls

MOORE FIELD, TEXAS.—The romantic aspirations of Staff Sergeant John A. Traeger, 504th school squadron, were considerably thwarted recently.

After writing a letter to his girl friend in Seguin, Texas, he enclosed it in an envelope and addressed it to his maiden aunt in Hoboken, N. J. The letter written to his aunt was inserted in another envelope addressed to the girl friend.

Result: His girl friend received a "thank you" note for a delicious layer cake, and his aunt got an invitation to spend two weeks near here.

NEW YORK.—United States soldiers are to be taught how to tell whether a snake is harmless or poisonous and how to detect poison ivy.

They will learn all this from portable museums—"Musettes," which the department of education of the American Museum of Natural History is planning.

"ON TARGET!"

A pilot winging over enemy lines . . . or an engineer pounding the high-iron with a train-load of troops and supplies . . . both are "on target." For their final objective is the same—victory for American arms!

On last December 7th, the railroads of America went all-out for war. They undertook the biggest mass transportation job in history . . . a job which, since Pearl Harbor, has meant moving 8,000,000 men in military service . . . unloading of 2,500 to 3,000 cars of export freight at seaports each day . . . delivering 7,000 cars daily to Government construction projects and training camps . . . carrying raw materials to war plants and bringing back the finished fighting tools. Jobs like these for the Army and Navy are vital military missions which only the railroads can perform.

Yes, the railroads are "on target" . . . and there they'll stay, until the last gun is fired.

FENWICK LAW AIDS TRUCKS

NEW TAXING PLAN ESPECIALLY FAVORABLE TO SMALL TRUCK OWNERS.

On January 1 the new tax plan for truck operators, which was sponsored by Delegate Charles R. Fenwick, will go into effect. The new law, Mr. Fenwick has recently explained, will save money for small truck owners, and even the large operators will have a more equitable basis of payment.

Small truck owners in Virginia will save money, large truck owners will have a more equitable basis for payment and the State will probably "break even" under provisions of the new Fenwick bill, Delegate Charles R. Fenwick, of Arlington, patron, said yesterday.

The savings under the new law, effective January 1, will amount to an estimated $325,000 for operators of trucks in the ton or ton and one-half class, Mr. Fenwick said. About 92 per cent of all trucks licensed in Virginia fall into this class.

A main provision of the law requires that all trucks, tractor trucks, trailers and semitrailers be licensed on the gross or road weight basis instead of the manufacturers' rated capacity as at present. Owners must have their vehicles weighed prior to issuing of licenses for the license year beginning March 15.

BOARD LENGTHENS XMAS HOLIDAY

The School Board at its meeting on Wednesday, made some marked changes in the school plan for the year.

The Christmas vacation will begin on December 19th, and continue through January 3rd, a full two weeks. There will be no Easter vacation at all.

Travel is somewhat hindered right now, and the vacation was lengthened for this reason.

The school day was shifted for the winter season, the opening hour now being 10 A. M. (wartime). This will continue in force until March 15th, when schools will again open at 9:30. As is the usual custom, all teachers will receive their December salaries prior to the holidays. Superintendent Haydon and Mrs. McIner reported on the sessions of the Virginia Education society which met in Richmond last week.

Libraries were ordered for Manassas High, Nokesville High, and Dumfries, The Regional High and the county-wide circulating Negro library

TWO DOLLARS TIPS THE SCALES

You can save a life with one or two dollars.

In a day when we talk in terms of billions—the meaning of which few of us can grasp—it is comforting to think what one or two dollars can do for American people.

If you send a dollar to the Prince William Tuberculosis Association for the 100 Christmas Seals you received in the mail, your dollar may tip the scales between health and sickness, life and death, not only for one but for several persons.

Your dollar added to a neighbor's dollar will furnish money enough to supply the material to give 50 children the tuberculin test. A positive tuberculin test, which tells that tuberculosis germs are present in the body, calls for a chest X-ray. A positive chest X-ray calls for prompt treatment. Early diagnosis and prompt treatment prevent disabling and fatal tuberculosis.

Your dollar will X-ray an industrial worker, and the X-ray will detect even the earliest evidence of tuberculosis. Early tuberculosis is readily cured. Industrial workers are in danger of tuberculosis. Already in many over-crowded defense areas the disease is spreading.

Two dollars will maintain the association's clinic for about ten minutes. During that ten minutes a diagnosis may be made to save a life.

Two dollars will do much to help many people. For instance, two dollars will replenish for one month the visiting nurse's bag which is of vital importance in her visits to the sick and needy.

Two dollars will go a long way in providing vocational guidance for a patient to steer him into the right job when he leaves the sanatorium. The right job prevents a relapse. An ex-patient in the right job adds to the man-power of the country.

Because science has not yet found the drugs for cure or immunization in tuberculosis, education is still the greatest weapon against the disease. The greatest educational campaign ever launched against a single disease—that carried on by the National Tuberculosis Association and its 1700 affiliated associations—has been a tremendous factor in cutting the death rate of the disease three-fourths in the last 30 years.

Tuberculosis still kills more persons between 15 and 45 than any other disease. Therefore, education must go on.

Two dollars will equip 100 school teachers with material for teaching high school boys and girls about the prevention and control of tuberculosis. Tuberculosis constantly raids the teens, disabling and killing more boys and girls between the ages of 15 and 19 than any disease.

Two dollars will buy 400 health posters for bulletin boards in factories and shops—posters that will give workers simple, but vital rules, which, if obeyed, mean health; if disobeyed, sickness, perhaps death.

Two dollars will buy copies of the booklet, "What You Should Know about Tuberculosis," for 80 families or will buy other educational booklets for 1000 families.

Your dollar, plus five or six other contributions, will allow the local association to secure an educational movie on tuberculosis, which through its repeated showings, will give needed information to countless thousands.

Your dollar or two spent on Christmas Seals goes a long way these days.
