

AMERICAN LEGION and AUXILIARY SPONSOR BOND DRIVE for JUNE

BRETHREN HOLD CONFERENCE

Session Closes with Appeal for Christian Unity

The General Conference of the Church of the Brethren has been in session June 2-6 at McPherson Kan. Because of curtailment of food and travel facilities, the Conference was restricted to delegates and officials. The attendance of 800 compares with 5,000 at the last Kansas Conference at Lawrence in 1938.

In the opening assembly Moderator W. W. Peters, president of McPherson College, spoke on the Conference theme, "Brotherhood Through Christ." He declared that brotherhood was not a matter of belonging to a certain organization but was reserved for those who had the spirit of Christ. He stated that Christian brotherhood welcomes into fellowship peoples of all races and nations who have taken on the spirit of Christ.

The Board of Missions reported gains of interest and numbers in India and Africa. One missionary, H. Stover Kulp, is enroute by plane and ship returning to Africa and two others are to sail in July. Many others are awaiting the day that transportation is possible to rejoin their comrades in both India and Africa.

Eleven missionaries are interned in China and the Philippines where they had stayed by their work in the face of danger. In 1937 three paid the supreme sacrifice with their lives. Missionary and relief giving in the church totaled over a half million dollars in the past year. New missionaries were appointed at the Conference, scheduled to sail as soon as conditions permit.

A pension plan for ministers and missionaries was adopted in which both the congregation and the minister share and which at the age of 65 provides a retirement fund. The Church of the Brethren is strongly rural and in past years many churches were served by ministers without pay. The trend is now toward a paid ministry and adequate provision for old age.

Dr. Chas. C. Ellis, president of Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, was elected moderator for the 1944 Conference, which is slated to be held in Pennsylvania.

The Conference passed resolutions of honor to three retiring servants, namely, Dr. Chas. D. Bonsack, Elgin, Illinois, who has served the mission interests for 37 years; Dr. Otto Winger, formerly president of Manchester College, North Manchester, Indiana, who has served as member of the General Mission Board for 31 years; Dr. Edward Frantz, Elgin, Illinois, who for 27 years served as editor of the church paper, the Gospel Messenger. His successor, Dr. Desmond W. Bittinger, formerly missionary to Africa and at present professor at McPherson College, McPherson, Kansas, will assume his duties early in 1944. It is interesting to note that Dr. Frantz also went from a professorship at McPherson College to the Elgin editorial assignment. Rev. Geo. L. Detweiler, pastor at Wayneboro, Pennsylvania, was elected a member of the Brethren Service Committee. This committee is responsible for the administration of Civilian Public Service movement and the giving of war relief in various areas of the world. The church has relief workers in China, Puerto Rico, France and a prisoner-of-war in England. Many other workers are making special preparation for relief work in China and parts of Europe.

Rev. Earl Frantz of the Ivester congregation, Iowa, was named a new member on the Ministerial Board. Mr. Earl L. Russell, a layman from Marshalltown, Iowa, and Rev. Ralph Shober, pastor at Frederick, Maryland, were named as new members to the General Mission Board. Miss Nora Rhodes, Dallas Center, Iowa, formerly a member, was reelected. The new head of Men's Work is A. G. Breidenstine, professor at Hershey, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Dan West, Goshen, Indiana, mother of five children, was elected to the Women's Work Committee on home building.

In a plea for Christian unity, Dr. D. W. Kurtz, formerly serving as president of McPherson College, also Bethany Biblical Seminary, and now pastor at LaVerne, California, ad-

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD HONORS MR. WHARTON

June 1, 1943
Mr. Roger D. Wharton,
Manassas,
Virginia.

Dear Mr. Wharton:

The Virginia State Salvage Committee and the chairmen of the county salvage committees wish to thank you for the help and cooperation you gave to the National Scrap Harvest in 1942.

The enclosed Certificate of Merit is presented to you by the War Production Board in recognition and appreciation of your efforts. The time and effort you put forth greatly contributed to the success of this most necessary salvage collection off of the farms in Virginia.

We hope to have your continued cooperation and help on all salvage collections for the duration of the war. The salvaging of necessary waste materials means that our armed forces will not suffer for lack of equipment and ammunition. Satisfactory salvage collections will speed the war on to a victorious end.

We ask that you continue to contact the chairmen of salvage committees, giving them all the cooperation and help possible.

Sincerely yours,

C. H. LUEBBERT,
Executive Secretary for Virginia.

LOCAL PENALTIES FOR PLEASURE DRIVING

We are advised by the Rationing Board that there have only been nine cases of pleasure driving turned in since June 1. Penalties range from extraction of a few coupons to loss of the entire book.

It is evident from the few arrests that the ban on pleasure driving is being properly observed in Prince William County by the public as a whole.

He did not ask for the uniting of denominations but declared that only the united voice of Christendom through a body like the Federal Council was adequate to deal with the current world situation. He urged that the church have a voice at the forthcoming world peace-table.

LIBRARY NOTICE

The Ruffner-Carnegie Library will be open during the summer on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week from 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

MARGARET L. ALBRECHT

Mrs. Margaret L. Albrecht, the wife of August Albrecht, of Pender, died at Doctor's Hospital, Washington, on Saturday, May 8. Mrs. Albrecht, a life long resident of Fairfax, was the daughter of the late Captain John N. Ballard and Lillie Thrift Ballard of Pender.

Her father, Captain Ballard served with Mosby during the Civil War and lost a leg during this war. He was afterwards commissioner of the revenue for Fairfax County for over 30 years, retiring only a few years before his death in 1922, when he had reached the age of 84.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Albrecht is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Isaac T. Long of Herndon and Mrs. F. L. Byrne of Indianapolis, Ind., and a brother, Robert T. Ballard of Vienna, Va. She was a member of the Pender Methodist Church.

MEETING OF WOMANS CLUB

The Manassas Woman's Club will meet Monday, June 14, in Parish Hall at 8 p. m. Please note the change of hour of meeting.

Miss Nell Grim will be the guest speaker and a full attendance is desired.

DR. S. J. COLE, EYESIGHT SPECIALIST, TO OPEN OFFICE IN MANASSAS

Dr. S. J. Cole, of Richmond and Orange, Va., will open permanent offices in the National Bank Building, Tuesday, June 22, and every Tuesday thereafter.

He is a graduate of the Northern Illinois College in Chicago, and took a special course in treatment of visual defects in schools and industry after graduation. Recently he made a visual survey for the Orange Public School, where the uncorrected visual errors ran quite high.

Aside from the latest equipment for examining the human eye, Dr. Cole has Orthoptic instruments which are to be used for visual training when necessary.

TABLE OF POINT VALUE

Preferred cuts of beef—such as steaks and roasts—will now cost the housewife substantially more red stamps, although fewer points will be required for numerous items of lamb, veal and variety meats. It is learned from studying the third official table of consumer point values for meat, fats, fish and cheese.

NEW METHOD OF MAIL DELIVERIES

The new method of speeding up mail deliveries, through addition of a branch post office number to the address on mail for delivery in large cities, is being placed in operation rapidly. Reports from many cities indicate that it has been received enthusiastically by the press, postmasters, business concerns and the public.

Within a few days after initiation of the plan, under instructions of Postmaster General Frank C. Walker, nearly all the postmasters in the large cities affected had assigned postal unit numbers to their branch offices, millions of residents had been advised of the number to be added to their addresses, and a considerable volume of mail already was carrying the numbers assigned. By June 1, it is expected that practically all whose addresses are affected will have been notified of their postal unit numbers.

The new system speeds up the separation of mail for distribution to branch offices and permits much more rapid handling of mail by inexperienced postal clerks, thousands of whom have been employed to replace personnel who have gone into the armed forces and into war industries.

Rapid increase in volume of mail and the loss of some thirty thousand postal employees to the armed forces made it necessary to adopt the plan, in the interest of accurate, efficient mail service and for the relief of postal personnel who are carrying an extremely heavy burden of work. The average work week in the service now is about 52 hours, and in many post offices, employees are working 10 and 12 hours a day, seven days a week, because of local shortages of personnel.

An example of the new type of address is:

John C. Smith
222 Mattapan Ave.
Boston 8
Massachusetts

The number after the name of the city indicates the branch post office (or "postal unit") through which delivery is made. Each resident of the large cities is asked by his postmaster to add the postal unit number to his return address, and to notify all to whom he writes that his address is not complete without the number.

Residents of small cities, towns and rural regions should inquire of their correspondents in the large cities concerning the number assigned to the city residents' branch post office so that the mail may be expedited. The degree to which mail will be speeded depends upon the extent to which the numbers are used by mailers.

Under the new plan, mail that is sent to large cities, carrying the postal unit number, will be distributed more quickly than is possible now and with much less strain on postal clerks. While mail which does not bear the number will be delivered about as rapidly as at present, it will not receive the benefit of the speedier distribution and may not avoid possible delays caused by inability of the depleted force of experienced employees to handle all the mail.

STREET SHOW SATURDAY
NIGHT, JUNE 19

The American Legion and its Auxiliary are sponsors of the Prince William County Bond Sales for June and have made energetic preparations to promote this all-important war project.

A War Bond Show will be held on Friday, June 25 at 8 P. M. to which admission can only be obtained by tickets given for each Bond sale, with a limit placed at 350 admissions.

On June 29 valuable livestock will be given away to the highest Bond bidder at the Manassas Livestock Exchange, and a street show is being arranged for Saturday night June 19. Further details will be advertised in this newspaper next week.

The Prince William County Quota for June Bond sales has been placed at $95,000.00—a huge sum, but not impossible to raise when it is recalled that our County raised by Bond sales during the month of May the sum of $109,662.50.

Please take note, everybody, and plan to do your shopping next Saturday night, so that you may attend the street show which will be put on near the theater by The American Legion, who are sponsoring the sale of bonds and stamps this month.

Mrs. Stewart McBryde is in charge of the street fair, and the wares that the lovely young ladies who mingle through the crowd will be selling—stamps and bonds, of course.

A fine program of local talent is being arranged and it will be so diversified as to please everyone. You who are buying your ten per cent in bonds regularly, or more, be sure that you come, too, to help swell the crowd. Let's all be happy together.

Remember Saturday night, June 19, come and see for yourself! Remember in these trying times, we must be happy as possible, especially for our children's sake, so bring them along and make this an All-American affair.

BOOK CLUB MEETS WITH MISS EUGENIA OSBOURN

The Book Club met Thursday afternoon, May 27, at the home of Miss Eugenia Osbourn. Those present had the pleasure of hearing Miss Isabel Hutchinson give a most delightful and instructive talk on herbs. Miss Hutchinson discussed the culture of herbs, their various uses in cooking and as medicine, and illustrated her talk with samples of over thirty-five herbs which she had grown in her herb garden.

Miss Osbourn spoke briefly on three current books which are now being widely read and discussed: "The Robe" by Lloyd Douglas, "Prelude to Victory" by Restwin, and "A Time for Greatness" by Herbert Agar, after which the hostess served delicious refreshments.

FREE TREATMENT FOR MAD DOG BITES

If you are bitten by a mad dog this summer you may collect up to $100 from the State of Virginia to pay the costs of treatments resulting therefrom, according to an act of the 1932 General Assembly.

With the heat wave covering Virginia the past week and children now out of school in most sections, parents are warned by State Health Authorities to be on the alert in protecting their children against rabid animals.

RUMMAGE SALE

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist Church will hold a rummage sale on June 18-19 in the S. O. S. building adjacent to Rohr's Store on Center Street, Manassas.

Are you fighting mad about this war? Does it mean anything to you personally? Then dig down, and buy more and more War Bonds.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Wigwag
Frequently the Navy, the Coast Guard and the Signal Corps finds it expedient to relay messages without benefit of telephone, telegraph or radio. That is when the semaphore system is employed.

Like a single flag in the "Wigwag" system, the purchase of a War Savings Stamp or Bond, in itself has an infinitesimal effect upon the entire war effort, but when 150 million determined people set their minds to make our War Bond drives successful, the result is anything but infinitesimal.

Ninety-six cents out of every dollar goes for War expenditures. The other four cents goes for Government expenses "as usual."

To Buy ELECTRIC POWER

THAT'S TRUE, even though the electric light and power industry in America was called on to produce, in 1942, the greatest amount of electric power in history—189 billion kilowatt-hours!

And at the same time the average cost per kilowatt-hour to the consumer was lower than ever before! Not only were all the demands of war plants, military camps, naval stations, and arsenals met—but there remained 27 billion kilowatt-hours of electrical energy to take care of the needs of shops and stores, 30 billion for homes, 13 billion for public transportation, street lighting, and other uses.

These are some of the accomplishments of the electric light and power industry and of the electrical manufacturers who build the equipment used to generate, distribute, and utilize electricity—working together with the teamwork so typically American.

How We Helped

POWER GENERATION. More than one half of all the electric power generated by electric light and power companies in the U. S. is produced by generators manufactured by General Electric.

And such has been the improvement in the efficiencies of turbine-driven generators that if the electric power used in 1942 had been produced with the machines of 1924, it would have required more than a million extra cars of coal and one hundred and forty thousand men just to mine and haul this extra coal.

POWER DISTRIBUTION. To have ample power available wherever new war plants have sprung up requires large and highly efficient transforming and switching equipment and the solution of highly intricate engineering problems. General Electric has had a hand, and a head, in the development and manufacture of much of this equipment.

POWER UTILIZATION. Building machines, lamps, and appliances that put electricity to work more efficiently in factories and homes is one of our most important jobs. The United States has more of these electrical helpers than any other nation. In 1942, the average home used twice as much electricity as in 1930, and in those 12 years the average price per kilowatt-hour decreased 40%.

This is only a small part of the story of America's electrical industry. When the full story becomes history with the passing of the years, it will reveal a group of men who, with a determination which now seems providential, kept on co-operatively developing new and better equipment, increasing generating capacity, lowering costs, expanding service, planning always to be ready for the demands of the future. It will be a story of remarkable vision and courage—for it all had to be planned, and the work started, years ahead of the need.

The next time you meet a man from your electric service company, be he the local manager, or meter reader, or spurred lineman carrying out his assignment in rain, snow, or heavy winds, give him a word of encouragement—for he is the man who is making it unnecessary for you to stand in line for electric power. Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

Hats Off: The pulling of the master switch of the Hotel Paris during a recent night air raid alarm plunged the exposed portion of the building into total darkness. The lobby soon became thronged with guests who poured in from the adjacent bar. Despite lack of knowledge as to the cause of the blackout, the mood of the crowd was gay—carefree Americans ready to take anything in their stride. The door leading to the stairway opened and an old man, clad in pajamas and with a blanket draped about him, walked into the lobby. The crowd giggled as he went up to John Garrison, the manager, and handed him three letters, saying loudly enough for all to hear: "I walked down 12 flights. Didn't know if I'd ever get to mail them. Please drop them into the box outside for me. You see, they are for my three sons in the marines."

Peril: Gwen Dew, Detroit newspaper woman, as perhaps you have read, was held prisoner more than six months by the Japs in Hong Kong. She went through the siege of Hong Kong, some of the fighting actually taking place in her hotel room. She's heard machine gun bullets snap past her head and pieces of shrapnel have fallen all around her. Yet she escaped unharmed, except by the food furnished by the Nipponese. Well, the other afternoon she was walking along Madison avenue when she heard a crash. Her Hong Kong training caused her automatically to duck into a convenient doorway and crouch there. Possibly her subconscious shelter seeking saved her life. A plate glass window on the second floor had been broken and heavy fragments rained down over and around her. Though her coat and dress were cut in several places, she was unharmed.

Exchange: At the Open House for Officers at the Hotel Delmonico, a submarine commander started to dance with an attractive hostess only to find himself halted by his rubber-soled shoes. He disappeared and in no time at all, appeared suitably equipped. It seems that he had found a young ensign outside and issued an order that resulted in a shoe swap. Through the evening, the commander and the ensign alternated in dancing, a shoe shift occurring each time. In accordance with regulations, the dance ended at 1 a. m. The sub commander, enjoying his one night of liberty after four nights on duty, didn't want to call it an evening so the hostess took him to LaRue. There they did more dancing—the commander in the ensign's shoes. Five evenings later, the hostess again met the commander. And he was still wearing the ensign's shoes.

War: Speaking of shoes I am wondering what those New York kids who in the past spent pleasant fall hours playing hockey on the sidewalks, are doing now for pucks. Formerly, finding a puck was a simple matter—a kid merely went to a shoe repairing establishment where he was known and obtained an old rubber heel. But with rubber what it is today, worn rubber heels don't go into games but into the nation's wartime scrap pile. Maybe kids who like sidewalk hockey have given up the game for the duration. At any rate, I haven't seen any games yet and that's why I don't know whether or not some bright youngster has evolved a synthetic puck.

Long Lists: Each year, under the law, New York banks must advertise accounts that have been inactive for a certain term of years. This year as usual the New York city lists were long, a great many persons having deposited money in years past and apparently forgotten all about it. So far as I am concerned, those lists are a mighty waste of valuable time. I know all too well that no relative of mine ever deposited a dime in a New York bank and then forgot about it. But I read all the names just the same—and feel a little disappointed when I fail to find one that is familiar.

About Manhattan: The old man who sits on the curb at Park avenue and Forty-ninth street and eats tremendous sandwiches as he eyes passing girls . . . Keenan Wynn, Ed's son, watching himself on the screen and moaning to his wife: "How can you live with a guy like that?" . . . For the picture, he had to give up shaving a week . . . Jane Froman, lovelier than ever, out of the hospital and doing some fall shopping in an interval between street war bond sales . . . Ezra Stone and Jackie Kell wolfing spare ribs in a very unactor-like manner. Bell Syndicate—WNU Features.

Boys Watch Curve for Scrap Off Army Tires

ANTWERP, N. Y.—Boys of this village cashed in on the scrap rubber collection. Police noticed the boys stationed at a sharp turn in a road leading to a military reservation. They found some youngsters collected as much as five pounds a day of rubber scraps torn from the treads of armored vehicles as they screeched around the curve.

Australia Now Strong in Air

Is Turning Out Thousands of Fliers to Aid Yankee Airmen in Pacific.

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA.—Australia's contribution of trained pilots, air crews and ground personnel in this war is a triumph of organization, says a NANA writer. At the outbreak of war, Australia had one training school and 16 instructors. When the empire air training scheme was introduced, Australia undertook to supply 16,000 fully trained air crew personnel by March, 1943, and to build up an organization capable of furnishing 10,000 pilots, air observers and air gunners each year after that. In addition, 25,000 ground staff were guaranteed, a number considered necessary to service the empire squadrons formed from Australian personnel in the first three years. Sixteen-year-old youths are training to graduate into the RAAF the day they turn 18.

Job Well Done.

How well these men turned out needs little telling. In every theater of war before Japan's entry Australian airmen played a prominent part.

An RAAF squadron in the Middle East first saw action in November, 1940, flying Gladiators. They graduated to Hurricanes, on to Tommys, and thence to Kittyhawks. They have well over 250 victims to their credit and latest reports show that they now run a close second to the most successful Allied squadron. Several famous aces from this squadron are back in Australia training pilots.

More than a year ago the first RAF squadron to move into Syria and occupy Damascus drove within a day of its capture had a 100 per cent Australian ground crew, all trained under the empire air scheme.

And so, until December 7, 1941, all was going well. It was an empire war against the Axis, and Australia was more than playing her part.

Training in Three Stages.

Under the scheme, however, the flying training of an Australian pilot was divided into three principal stages, each being completed in a separate school. The first two stages, elementary and service flying, were completed in Australia. For the third and most important stage—operational flying—the men were sent abroad.

Under the stress of modern war, battle squadrons have no time for training men. Their pilots must come to them fresh and fully trained. So Japan's entry into the war and the immediate threat to Australia necessitated an immediate revision in training.

Smoothly, new schools were opened for operational flying. So well had the groundwork been laid that Australia immediately came into the picture as one of the world's major air training centers, boasting the most advanced air training methods.

Today, new schools are still being opened and young Americans, as well as Australians, are passing through advanced operational flying.

23,000,000 Britons Are Now Serving in the War

LONDON.—Ernest Bevin, minister of labor, disclosed that of 33,000,000 persons in Britain between the ages of 14 and 65 more than 23,000,000 have been mobilized for full-time national service.

Bevin said an additional large number had volunteered for work in canteens and similar services, leaving less than 3,000,000, including children, the aged and invalid, idle.

British Crop Boost Saves Million Tons of Shipping

LONDON.—More than one million tons of shipping space has been saved because British agriculture has achieved its goal of a 5 per cent greater crop yield from each cultivated acre, an official of the ministry of agriculture said.

"The increase in the wheat yield has been especially notable this year," he said.

An all-time bumper harvest was achieved largely by plowing up more than 2,000,000 acres of grassland and wider use of agricultural machinery.

Jumping Beans Not Wanted HILO, HAWAII.

Ninety-nine Mexican jumping beans have been executed in the Hilo gas chamber.

The quarantine officer of the territorial board of agriculture reported he had destroyed the beans, which were brought here for sale as oddities.

"MOONLIGHT IN HAVANA" HAS NEW DAVE FRANKLIN TUNES

Dave Franklin, who was engaged by Universal to write the music score for "Moonlight in Havana," which headlines Allan Jones and Jane Frazee, has written 3,000 songs in the course of his twenty-year career in the show business. One out of ten has been published.

During the making of the picture which is now at Pitts Theatre and which features Marjorie Lord, Don Terry, William Frawley and others, Franklin revealed that he started cleffing tunes at the age of 17, but did not sell one until he was 29 years old. His first number to be published, "I Ain't Lazy, I'm Dreaming," proved a hit.

Since his initial success, he has rung the success bell many times, with such hits as "The Merry Go Round Broke Down," "You Can't Stop Me From Dreaming," "I Must See Annie Tonight," "The Concert in the Park," "Happy Birthday To Love" and others.

Numbers penned by Franklin for "Moonlight in Havana" include "Only You," "Isn't It Lovely," and "Rhythm in the Tropics."

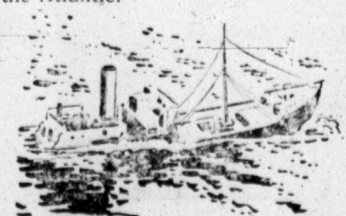

"Moonlight in Havana" was directed by Anthony Mann. Bernard W. Burton is credited as associate producer and the musical score was supervised by Charles Previn.

A DESERVED REBUKE

We Virginians do not relish criticism, particularly when those who find something south of the Potomac not to their liking, are themselves so far from perfection. However, once in a while we get a slap which we richly deserve and instead of being resentful, we should be thankful that our shortcoming has been revealed, so that we may realize our imperfection and proceed forthwith to rectify the matter.

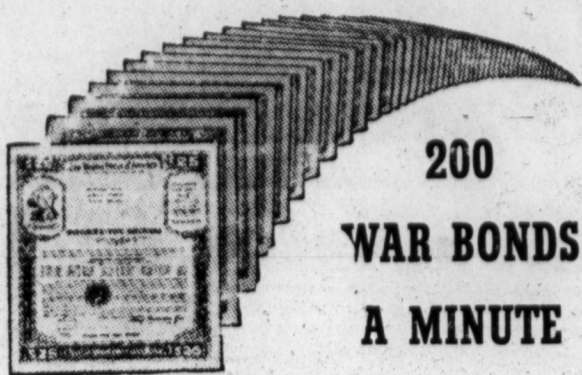

We are led to make the observation by a criticism we have recently noted in the editorial columns of the New York Times. We believe the rebuke entirely justified. We quote from one of America's greatest newspapers:

"Recent studies in Virginia have revealed an amazing disregard for wartime speed limits. That State has been able to make an exact check because of its introduction of a device which it calls the V-scope, used to calculate highway speeds. In providing its enforcement officers and State police with this device, the Virginia Highway Department wisely publicized the fact that it intended to make a speed check and showed each trial justice and county attorney how this was to be done. More than 100 large signs were erected on main roads entering the State. The first month of tests showed that 39 per cent of all vehicles checked were operating at a speed above the 35-mile limit. Nine per cent were going more than 40 miles an hour and a top speed of 80 miles an hour was recorded. A second check-up more recently revealed a drop to 23 per cent exceeding the limit, but of out-of-State vehicles 16 per cent were still operating at more than 40 miles an hour and 26 per cent

There can be no excuse for excessive speed on the road when the wartime top limit is unequivocal and is designed to conserve not only the materials of essential transportation but the most essential of all wartime assets, human life and manpower."

THE REAL REMEDY

His Majesty, King John (L. Lewis) has very kindly permitted his coal miners to go back to work!

The Congress of the United States, both the House and the Senate, has passed anti-strike legislation which would provide some modicum of safety to the war effort under such circumstances as have recently so aroused the Nation's anger. But the "Administration" steadfastly resists all such measures.

Any politically minded analyst can see in a minute what is evidently the matter. It is the "fourth term consideration." No president, who is any kind of a politician, can afford to offend a pressure group of half a million voters who have demonstrated their unity. All he would have to do would be to recall the fact that the slim margin of 1200 votes in California turned a nation's election in favor of the re-election of Woodrow Wilson!

What we need is a Constitutional amendment limiting the Presidency to two terms. George Washington thought two terms were enough, and the sooner we follow his advice and make it mandatory the safer will be our Democracy.

The Constitution of the Confederate States of America may have something on this to think about. Evidently the great southern statesmen feared "seizure of personal presidential power" when they provided that their President could only have one term of six years. However the eight year limit, with the opportunity of getting rid of an undesirable President in four years, ought to sufficiently reduce danger of the Chief Executive being coerced by pressure groups.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRINCE WILLIAM, FAIRFAX AND THE CITY OF ALEXANDRIA:

At the request of many of my friends in this Senatorial District, I have announced my candidacy for nomination to the office of State Senator, subject to the Democratic Primary, August 3, 1943.

The district, composed of Alexandria City, Fairfax and Prince William Counties has a complex situation that needs the services of the most experienced man whom the voters can secure. My service in the General Assembly which extends over three sessions has fitted me to represent the best interest of all the peoples in this District.

As a life long farmer, I am fully acquainted with many rural problems which face the farmers of this District. Having served as a member of the Board of Supervisors of Stafford county and as clerk of the court of that county, I am in a position to assist in problems of county government which may arise.

Owing to war restrictions it will not be possible for me to see many of the voters of the District. I am taking this means to solicit your support and consideration of my candidacy, with the pledge that if elected I shall certainly devote my whole hearted efforts in the interest of all of you.

GREATEST TASK IN HISTORY FACES TELEPHONE PEOPLE

The first year of war imposed on the Bell System the most important responsibility and the greatest task in its history. In the face of rising difficulties—chief among them the shortage of essential materials—the telephone team was called upon to handle more calls than ever before, and a steadily increasing proportion of these calls, particularly over long distance lines, were of vital importance to the war effort.

The average daily number of telephone conversations handled by the system in 1942 was estimated at almost 87,400,000, a record high, and about 2,700,000 a day more than in 1941. This figure includes both local and toll conversations. Toll conversations in 1942 were 3,406,000 a day, or about 9 per cent above 1941. More toll calls were completed in 1942 than in three years at the time of World War I.

Men and women in the Bell System, including the Western Electric Company and Bell Telephone Laboratories, numbered about 410,000 at the end of the year, or some 30,000 more than at its beginning. There were more than 35,000 Bell System men and women in military service at the beginning of 1943.

As an indication of the extent of the telephone war job, telephone cable containing nearly 17 billion feet of wire was placed to serve military establishments and other government war projects requiring new or greatly enlarged telephone facilities.

Thousands of miles of private line circuits were provided in 1942 for the armed services, the Civil Aeronautics Authority and other government departments. The handling of "Army Flash" calls was speeded and Civilian Defense telephone arrangements were greatly extended and improved. Special efforts were made to give men in the services the best and most personal service that could be provided so that they could enjoy talking to the home folks.

Scarcity of materials made it impossible to build all the lines needed to keep ahead of mounting traffic, and for the duration it will be necessary for the country to make the best use of what it has. Consequently, since the middle of the year, the Bell System companies have widely advertised to the public the need to avoid unnecessary calls on war-busy routes.

All available resources of the Bell Telephone Laboratories in 1942 were devoted to the development of war tools involving communications techniques, or to related purposes. At the end of the year the Laboratories were working on more than 300 development projects for the Army, Navy and National Defense Research Committee.

The Western Electric Company in 1942 increased its production of war materials more than seven times over 1941. Telephone manufacture for the Bell System was greatly restricted and will remain so for the duration. Through its subsidiary, Nassau Smelting and Refining Company, Western Electric reclaimed more than 23,000,000 pounds of copper in 1942, and added more than 40,000,000 pounds of bronze and brass to the nation's supply.

War Takes 96¢ Of Each Dollar

Out of every $18.75 that is invested in a War Bond, $18 goes into guns, planes, tanks, ships and other military equipment. The 75 cents goes for ordinary governmental expenditures. Out of every dollar 96 cents goes toward the war effort and 4 cents goes for Government "business as usual."

The same ratio applies to all other securities the Government has offered investors in the Second War Loan campaign for 13 billion dollars.

EVERY DRIVER CAN HELP

KEEP 'EM ROLLING

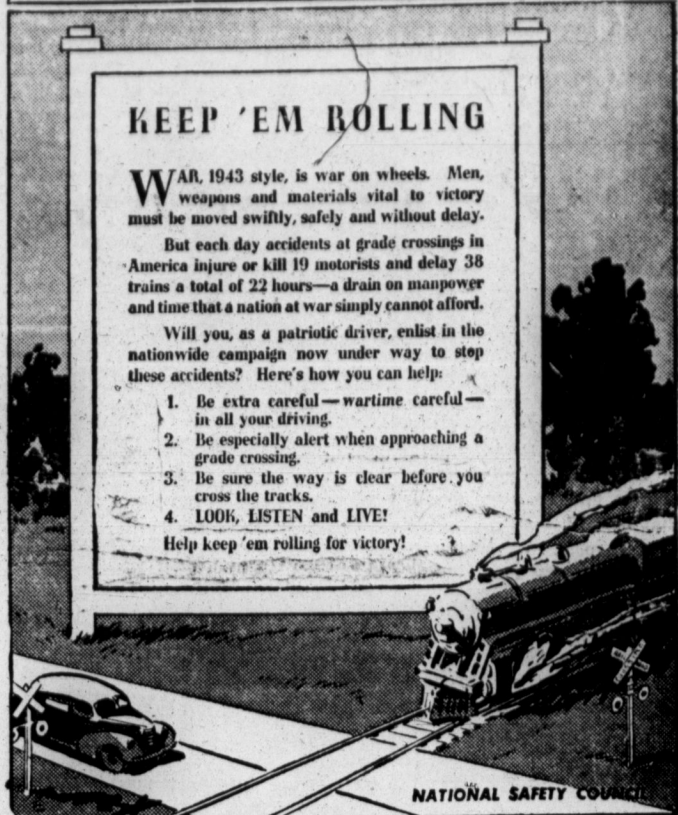

WAR, 1943 style, is war on wheels. Men, weapons and materials vital to victory must be moved swiftly, safely and without delay.

But each day accidents at grade crossings in America injure or kill 19 motorists and delay 38 trains a total of 22 hours—a drain on manpower and time that a nation at war simply cannot afford.

Will you, as a patriotic driver, enlist in the nationwide campaign now under way to stop these accidents? Here's how you can help:

1. Be extra careful—war-time careful—in all your driving.
2. Be especially alert when approaching a grade crossing.
3. Be sure the way is clear before you cross the tracks.
4. LOOK, LISTEN and LIVE!

Help keep 'em rolling for victory!

PLANS MADE FOR FOUNDERS' DAY

Fortnightly Club and Library Association of Herndon have provided Library facilities

Plans will be made for Founders' Day at the next meeting of the Fortnightly Club and Library Association to be held at the Herndon Library. There are only three charter members now, Miss Maria Bready of Herndon, Miss Ann Thornton and Miss Lillie Shear of Washington. Herndon owes much to this organization for its untiring efforts through the years to make available to everybody in Herndon and the surrounding country, books of fiction and non-fiction and many will be interested to review its growth.

Fifty-four years ago, at Herndon Seminary, then in its infancy, eleven women met in the late summer and formed a study club: Miss Virginia Castleman, Miss Lulu Castleman, Miss Ida Castleman, Miss Catherine Thornton, Miss Ellen Thornton, Miss Ann Thornton, Miss Mamie Bready, Miss Lillie Shear, Mrs. Florence Duffy, Mrs. J. McKeene and Mrs. J. Barker, most of them well known in the community or remembered by many friends. Books were needed for research work by this first group and Miss Ida Castleman suggested that they get the needed books together and a start was made with forty books. A plea was made, then, among friends for more books and the club library gradually grew to more than a thousand volumes and the membership of the club was increased to fifteen.

In 1900, Miss Virginia Castleman, after taking a course at Drexel Institute in library work, offered to catalogue these books and suggested making it a Public Library for the use of Herndon and vicinity, so she was practically the founder, and her picture was presented to the Fortnightly Club and Library Association two years ago by Miss Anita Schade of Washington, a former member of the club, when residing in Herndon.

Miss Virginia Castleman served as librarian for about twenty years, assisted by Miss Maude Yount and a committee appointed each year by the club, in a room rented in the heart of the town.

About 1915 this entire Library was wiped out by fire, but the Fortnightly Club, undaunted, went right to work, like ants, accumulating more books for a new Public Library, as they realized the advantage the Library was to the town and wished to continue to give this service to the community. In less than a year, they had a thousand more books on the shelves, which were catalogued this time by Mrs. William I. Robey, Mrs. Russell Lynn, Mrs. P. D. Buell and several others from the club. This is the nucleus of the present Library, which has grown until there are over eight thousand volumes, which are being shared now with the County Library and carried over the county by the bookmobile.

In July, 1926, through the efforts of Mrs. M. M. North and Howard Blanchard, a lot, which had formerly belonged to the Good Templars, was deeded to the club and the name changed to "Fortnightly Club and Library Association," instead of just "The Fortnightly Club," as in the beginning, with the understanding that a building to be used as a Public Library be erected on it at once. The Club had been saving for years towards this building and had accumulated $800, part of which was the insurance from the first library that was burned, but through the efforts of Mrs. Harry Mitchell, Mrs. North and the other members of the club $200 more was raised, making $1000 in cash. $2000 was borrowed and the present building of blonde brick, colonial, with ivory colored pillars was built for $3,000, and the debt is being gradually paid off.

January 1, 1927, the library was moved to this new building. At this time there were twenty-five members to whom credit should be given for the successful completion of this undertaking: Mrs. Arthur Buell, president, Mrs. Harry Mitchell, vice-president, Mrs. Edwin Mooney, secretary, Mrs. Louis Ferguson, assistant secretary, Mrs. Charles Rider, treasurer, Mrs. P. B. Buell, parliamentary leader, and Mrs. Russell Lynn, Librarian, Mrs. Fred Ball, Mrs. Albert Bates, Mrs. George Buell, Miss Maria Bready, Mrs. P. B. Crandall, Mrs. Alex. Galt, Mrs. Joseph Cummins, Miss Estelle Holden, Mrs. Ben Maguire, Miss E. Leonhardt, Mrs. Theda N. McLaughlin, Mrs. M. M. North, Mrs. Maurice Stroud, Mrs. Henry Piggott, Mrs. James Smart, Mrs. Will White, Mrs. W. I. Robey and Miss Stanton.

Mrs. Russell Lynn served as librarian for about eighteen years, and through her efforts the Library grew rapidly. She bought the best and most up-to-date books with money she obtained from selling extracts, herself, until four years ago she resigned on account of ill health. She was assisted by Miss Elizabeth Leonhardt in her work at the library for many years.

Mrs. F. W. Robinson has been librarian since Mrs. Lynn's resignation, and is now assisted by Mrs. John R. Morrison and a library committee made up of Mrs. Harry Breckenridge, Miss Estelle Holden, Mrs. Richard Babcock, Mrs. Frank Humme, Mrs. C. R. Bradshaw, Mrs. Marvin Perkins and Mrs. A. H. Buell.

The Fortnightly Club and Library Association holds its meetings now monthly, at the Library or at the home of one of its members, and the original object of the club: "The mutual improvement of its members in literature, art, science and the vital interests of the day," is still kept in mind in planning the programs, and as the club's service work to the community, the Library is kept open every Friday afternoon from one to five and Friday night from seven to nine. The Young Women's Club, sponsored by the Fortnightly Club and Library Association seven years ago, has made a donation each year to the maintenance of the Library, which has helped to make possible this night service. All the other expenses of maintenance and upkeep have been borne by the Fortnightly Club and Library Association, the money being raised by dues, community suppers and luncheons.

The work that has been accomplished by the Fortnightly Club and Library Association for the community certainly proves what Madame Chiang-Kai-shek said in a broadcast about a month ago, "Whatever an individual can do is picaresque as compared with what a group can accomplish." The group, carrying on at present, is made up of Mrs. Arthur Buell, president, Mrs. J. M. Hughes, vice president, Miss Estelle Holden, treasurer, Mrs. Jane Davis, recording secretary, Mrs. Fred Herron, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Marvin Perkins, parliamentary, Mrs. F. W. Robinson, librarian, and Mrs. John R. Morrison, assistant librarian, Mrs. Harry Breckenridge, Mrs. C. R. Bradshaw, Mrs. A. S. Bates, Mrs. Richard Babcock, Mrs. George Chamberlin, Mrs.

Ara Daniels, Miss L. Duncan, Mrs. Ed Fisher, Mrs. Charles Fisher, Mrs. W. A. Humme, Mrs. Frank Humme, Mrs. D. Hughes, Mrs. Paul LeBeuf, Mrs. Marvin Mann, Mrs. R. E. Lowe, Mrs. William Meyer, Mrs. James Myers, Mrs. Henry Piggott, Mrs. C. Rider, Mrs. Powell Summers, Mrs. Harry Stutsman and Mrs. Louis Titus. The organization has been affiliated with the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs for many years and the General Federation of Women's Clubs and its activities, now, are geared to the war program, as requested by Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

SUMMER SCHOOL

An eight weeks session of the Fairfax Summer School, approved by the Fairfax School Board and accredited by the Virginia State Board of Education will be held in the Fairfax High School building from June 21 through August 13, five days a week. High school pupils will be allowed to make up work failed in two subjects or take one new full course. The elementary classes will be offered from pre-school through seventh grade. Instruction will be available in all courses when the enrollment is large enough to justify offering the class. The summer school offers opportunities for make-up work, new courses for students wishing to have more credits than can be scheduled in the winter session or a chance to shorten the time spent in high school, also classes for those who have finished school but wish to take additional subjects.

Mrs. J. N. Howdershell will be principal of the summer school. Faculty members include Mr. E. M. Day, Mrs. Dorothy Collier, and others to be announced later.

A bus will be run, if permission can be obtained from the ODT. In order to do this a survey is being made of the number of children desiring transportation to present to the Office of Defense Transportation. Pupils or parents desiring information are asked to communicate with Mrs. Howdershell, principal Fairfax Elementary School, or Mr. Day, principal Annandale School.

THRIFTY!

ONE-A-DAY

Vitamin A and D Tablets

EACH tablet contains 25% more than minimum daily requirements of these two essential vitamins. Insufficient Vitamin A may cause night blindness, may lessen resistance to infection of the nose, throat, eyes, ears and sinuses.

Vitamin D is necessary to enable the body to make use of the calcium and phosphorus in our food. Insure your minimum requirements of these two important vitamins, by taking a ONE-A-DAY Vitamin A and D Tablet every day.

Economical—50¢ or less - per month.

Convenient—you take only one tablet a day.

Pleasant—children actually like the taste—and so will you.

IMPORTANT—when buying Vitamins, compare potencies and prices. Get them at your drug store.

Any excuse you can give for not upping your payroll savings will please Hitler, Hirohito and puppet Mussolini.

"I never thought the time would come..."

I never thought the time would come when it would be appropriate for me to say:

"Please don't ride on a Southern Railway train this summer—unless you conscientiously believe that your trip is necessary."

But that time has come... an inescapable by-product of our Nation's fight for Victory!

You see, the Southern serves the South—and the South is serving the Nation as the location of many important war industries going at top speed and more than half of all the larger training camps and military establishments in the country.

This means simply that our passenger facilities this summer will undoubtedly be strained to the limit.

Many of our passenger cars and locomotives will be assigned to troop movements.

Our regular trains and our stations are bound to be literally jammed with men and women in uniform, traveling under orders and on furlough, and civilians traveling in connection with war work.

We're going to do our level best to handle this heavy load, including those civilians who conscientiously believe that they must travel.

But, until our trains and stations are no longer over-crowded by essential travel, we hope that you will patriotically forego all unnecessary travel over our lines.

I never thought the time would come...but it's here... and I know that we can rely on your cooperation and understanding.
