PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY ASKED TO CUT MORE PULPWOOD

CHAMBER AIDS NEW LAUNDRY

MAYOR OF ALEXANDRIA IS GUEST OF DR. COCKE

Approximately thirty-five members and guests attended the weekly meeting of the Prince William County Chamber of Commerce held at noon on Tuesday (August 17th) in the dining room of the Prince William Hotel. Among the out-of-town guests was Mayor "Bill" Wilkins of Alexandria who was present as the guest of Dr. George B. Cocke. Others were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cooksey, Willie Martin, Mr. Howard Hester and Mr. Cal Calvagna of Washington.

Following dinner, C. C. Cloe, president of the organization, presided at an interesting business meeting when committee reports and suggestions were discussed. Stanley A. Owens, Secretary of the Chamber, offered a resolution on the death of the late Leamon Ledman, a copy of which will be sent to the Ledman family and to the Manassas Journal for publication.

Mr. Owens introduced Mr. Hester and Mr. Calvagna, Washington laundry operators, who are preparing to open a branch on Center Street, Manassas, in the building formerly occupied by the Prince William Enterprises. Plans are under way for the opening of a modern plant with up-to-date facilities as soon as arrangements can be completed. The Chamber of Commerce has been instrumental in having the new business located here because of the local laundry situation created by curtailment of delivery service from establishments in nearby towns. The location of an efficient cleaning plant in the town will do much to relieve the situation and the Chamber of Commerce is to be commended for fostering the idea.

Mr. Q. B. Cocke, member of a committee with Mr. C. A. Alpaugh and Mr. R. W. Peters named to investigate the possibilities of arranging to have county news sent to our servicemen abroad, read an article published recently in the Evening Star giving suggestions for devising a community news letter. Mrs. Robert Lewis and Mrs. Frank Cox were appointed to assist the committee with plans for carrying out the suggestion.

Mr. Alpaugh was asked to head a program committee to arrange definite programs for each meeting, through sub-committees. Members were requested to make notes of any matters of local interest to bring before the organization for discussion.

LOANS FOR SEEDING NOW AVAILABLE

Loans for the seeding of small grain and other crops are available to farmers of Prince William county, it is announced by Field Supervisor J. Gray Beverley of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at Winchester, Virginia. He is now accepting applications for crop and feed loans which are made on a 4 per cent basis and mature in August of next year. In addition to loans for the production of crops, he stated that livestock growers or dairymen may obtain loans for the purchase of feed. Feed loans are secured by a chattel mortgage on the livestock to be fed and crop loans by a mortgage on the crops to be financed.

He pointed out that since, in general, the acreage and yield of wheat and other small grains are below normal this year an increased seeding for 1944 harvest is anticipated.

Farmers in this county desiring more information on crop and feed loans may communicate with Field Supervisor J. Gray Beverley at P. O. Box 432, Winchester, Virginia.

APPOINTMENT OF MR. WATERS

None of the many pleasing judicial acts of the Honorable Walter T. McCarthy has brought more general satisfaction to a County of his Circuit than his appointment this week of Mr. O. D. Waters as Clerk of the Circuit Court of Prince William County to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Leamon Ledman.

Not in recent years has a campaign for nominations to an important public office been conducted upon such a high plane as that which was recently decided in favor of Mr. Ledman. Neither aspirant for the Democratic nomination had anything to say against his opponent. Both were held in the highest public esteem, but obviously the Democratic voters of the County saw no justifiable reason why one good man should be set aside in favor of another good one. But now that a vacancy was created by death, there is no question that the majority of the voters of the County would see no reason why the other candidate should not now have the office; and evidently the Judge is of this opinion.

The Democratic Committee of Prince William County met today and officially endorsed the appointment of Mr. Waters as Clerk, and Mrs. Leda S. Thomas as Deputy, and also endorsed his candidacy in the November election, with Mrs. Thomas to continue as Deputy.

SWEETPOTATOES COMING IN QUANTITY

By NELL GRIM

County Home Demonstration Agent Now is the time to start collecting sweetpotatoes and to prepare a warm, dry place to store sweetpotatoes in quantity. The U. S. Department of Agriculture predicts that the sweetpotato crop this year will probably be the largest since 1932. The first shipments of sweetpotatoes are already on the market. Heavy supplies are due in September with the peak of the crop coming in late October or early November.

Sweetpotatoes are good fuel or energy food like white potatoes, but have much more Vitamin A. Eating plenty of sweetpotatoes in fall and early winter is one way to build up the body's store of Vitamin A to carry through the rest of the winter when Vitamin A foods are not so plentiful.

Sweetpotatoes need not become monotonous if they are served in different ways. They are good baked, steamed, mashed, fried in bacon or ham fat or other meat drippings, or whipped with white of egg and baked as a souffle. Combine them with onions, apples, cheese, peanuts, bacon or ham, for a baked dish.

Because of the sugar sweetpotatoes contain, they can also be used in desserts. One of the most famous American desserts is sweetpotato pie. Home economists of the U. S.

RESOLUTIONS BY DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE ADOPTED TODAY

The Prince William County Democratic Committee met today and passed a number of important resolutions which will be published in full next week. They include expression of regret at the death of the late Mr. Ledman; urging all Democrats to vote for all Democratic nominees in the November election whether their names were on the Primary ballot in August or not; endorsing the appointment of Mr. O. D. Waters as Clerk and endorsing him for the general election in November, with Mrs. Leda Thomas to be his deputy.

Department of Agriculture offer this wartime recipe for sweetpotato pie. For the filling use 2 tablespoons fat, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup corn sirup or cane sugar sirup, 1/2 orange, both juice and grated rind, 2 cups mashed sweetpotatoes, 1 or 2 eggs, 1/2 cup milk. Add fat, salt, sirup, orange juice, and grated rind to the hot mashed sweetpotatoes. Add the beaten yolks and milk. Beat well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Pour into a pastry-lined pie pan. Bake in a medium oven 30 minutes or until the filling sets and the crust is done.

Buying sweetpotatoes in bulk is good economy provided they can be stored properly. They need warmer, drier storage than white potatoes, keep best at a temperature of 55 to 60 degrees F. Handle sweetpotatoes with care to avoid bruising which may start decay.

SALE SUCCEEDS KEDY AS AREA TELEPHONE MANAGER

Mr. Kedy is transferred to Naval Operating Base at Norfolk after Distinguished Service to Northern Virginia

BEVERLY S. SALE

According to an announcement made yesterday by C. F. Cross, Jr., District Commercial Manager for the Lynchburg District of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia, Beverly S. Sale, has been appointed Area Manager for the Warrenton Area, which comprises the Fairfax, Herndon, Marshall, Middleburg, The Plains, Upperville, Vienna and Warrenton exchanges. Mr. Sale succeeds S. Arnold Kedy, who goes to Norfolk as manager of the Naval Operating Base.

Mr. Sale began his telephone career at Richmond in 1927. He progressed through assignments of increasing responsibility at Richmond, prior to his appointment as Manager at Warrenton in February, 1936. A native of Essex County, Va., Mr. Sale attended private school at Loretta, Virginia. He was graduated from Lloyd's High School in 1925 and later completed a course in electrical engineering. Mr. Sale is active in civic and community affairs and holds membership in the Warrenton Rotary Club and St. James Episcopal Church.

Mr. Kedy, prior to his appointment in Warrenton, was Manager of the Putaski and Dublin exchanges, where he supervised the installation of a large communications system at the New River Ordnance Works. Mr. and Mrs. Kedy and their two children will move to Norfolk in the near future.

LT. ARTHUR COLLINS

On August 1, Second Lt. Arthur Collins was killed when a training plane in which he was instructing a cadet, crashed. "Tippy" was a native of Prince William County where he attended Osbourn High School. He was graduated in 1939.

He entered the Air Corps on December 30, 1941 and received his appointment in May, 1942. He received his pre-flight training at Mira Loma Flight Academy in Oxnard, California where he finished ten days ahead of schedule, and soloed in less time than any other student his instructor had ever had. After his advanced training, "Tippy" received his commission February 6, 1943. He was retained at Williams Field as an instructor.

His record for Basic and Advanced training was very high. Lt. Collins, one of "Tippy's" associates and closest "Buddy" said, "He was considered one of the best at Williams Field and was considered a natural."

Before his death, he had assisted in training one class and had trained two classes of his own. He had just taken his next class through their first four weeks training.

His Commanding Officer, Colonel Herbert L. Grills said of "Tippy" in a message to his parents:

"Lt. Collins was a young man of fine character and outstanding ability whom the country can ill afford to lose. All the officers and men at Williams Field share with you a feeling of grief at his untimely death through this unavoidable accident."

COMMUNICATIONS IN THE WAR EFFORT

From an Address to the Herndon Rotary Club by S. A. Kedy, Area Manager of the C. & P. Telephone Co.

Telephone communications are playing an important part in the security of our nation. At the end of 1942 there were 24,850,000 telephones in the U. S. of which 20,013,000 were Bell System telephones. During 1942 we installed around five and a half million telephones, rearing a net gain of 1,171,000 telephones. During 1942 the Bell System handled an average of 87 million telephone conversations each day.

Since September, 1939, the Bell System has completed 2,500 projects for the Army and Navy, one of the largest costing $6,000,000 and was completed in six months. Bell System employees are buying $100,000,000 in War Bonds each year through payroll deductions.

Fifty per cent of all calls made by men in the armed services are made between the hours of 7 and 10 p. m., and that is why we are asking the general public to make their calls at hours other than between 7 and 10.

The 415,000 of us who are not in the armed forces are doing our best to back up those of us who are in uniforms with all the skill, energy and resourcefulness that we have.

Already there are 50,000 Bell System men and women in service with the armed forces and they are of all ranks from private to major-general. In sorrow we note there are already 64 gold stars on our service flag.

PROUD PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thomas are the happy parents of a baby girl, born in Columbia Hospital, Washington, on August 16, 1943.

U. S. VICTORY PULPWOOD CAMPAIGN

The Manassas Journal has joined other weekly and daily newspapers of the nation in a campaign to aid the Government to help solve the serious pulpwood shortage situation. It is the second time since Pearl Harbor that the nation's newspapers have been called upon to overcome a serious war material shortage.

Last Fall it was the Newspapers United Scrap Metal Campaign. At that time scores of steel mills faced shutdowns for lack of vital materials. What the newspapers accomplished in that drive is history. The situation was saved with more than 6,000,000 tons of precious metal collected.

Now it is the pulpwood campaign and it is equally serious because hundreds of thousands of cords of the nation's pulpwood are required for war purposes.

The Victory Pulpwood Campaign was initiated by the War Production Board, with the cooperation of other Federal Departments, war agencies and industry. It is designed to relieve increasingly serious shortages in pulpwood, the raw material which makes smokeless powder, rayon for parachutes, plastics for airplane parts, shell and bomb casings and shipping containers for ammunition, foods, supplies, blood plasma and other necessities for our armed forces and our allies.

Last Fall the weekly and daily press, responding to the call of Donald M. Nelson, Chairman of the War Production Board, organized and conducted the memorable Newspaper Scrap Metal Drive. Mr. Nelson described this effort as one "without precedent in this country" and declared "that he results surpassed his fondest hopes."

Of the current pulpwood campaign, Mr. Nelson said, "Once again in an emergency situation involving production for war effort, American newspapers have offered their assistance to the War Production Board. This voluntary and unsolicited action represents the highest expression of practical patriotism—the kind of patriotism which, if emulated by farmers and woodsmen in pulpwood producing areas of the United States, will solve the problem of current and threatening pulpwood shortages and, by its broader example, help to hasten the winning of the war. Personally, and as Chairman of the War Production Board, I am happy to welcome the assistance of the newspapers in this important production campaign."

The campaign to increase the production of pulpwood for the manufacture of products vitally necessary for military needs overseas and for home front war uses, is addressed to farmers, woodland owners, forest laborers and other available workers in the three major pulpwood producing areas of the South, Northeast and Lake States, where manpower shortages have developed because of the withdrawal of woodsmen for service in the armed forces or other war work.

The growing seriousness of pulpwood prompted Mr. Nelson to issue the following appeal to farmers:

"If every one of the more than 2,800,000 farmers in the 27 pulpwood producing states were to devote three extra days in 1943 to cutting pulpwood we could overcome the threatened 2,500,000-cord shortage with wood to spare." Mr. Nelson declared. "I urge every American farmer to get in touch with his nearest Department of Agriculture representative to find out whether he can be of service in the production of pulpwood. I, of course, realize the increased war load which our farmers are bearing today, but the pulpwood situation is serious enough to justify this call for an extra effort."

In anticipation of the present critical shortage in pulpwood supplies, the War Production Board called upon the U. S. Department of Agriculture for assistance. The Forest Service, Regional Extension Directors, Extension Foresters and County Agents were requested to assist in stimulating pulpwood cutting by advising farmers on sound cutting practices will prices and specifications.

This effort was supplemented by the publication of posters and pamphlets emphasizing the immediate need of pulpwood for war purposes. They urged farmers and woodland owners to harvest their

THE BOSS

He's pretty young to be running things . . . but that's what he's doing these days!

Everybody's working for him. You are. We are.

For him, the officers and employees of the Southern Railway clear the tracks for troop trains speeding to secret destinations.

For him, we push fast freights through on record-breaking schedules.

For him, we keep locomotives and cars and track in tip-top shape.

Yes . . . our No. 1 job today is to help feed and clothe and arm and transport America's fighting forces.

And the forty-two thousand men and women of the Southern Railway System are proudly doing this job. Doing it right, too . . . for we know what "The Boss" is doing for us.

In appreciation, we're giving him first call on all the equipment and services of the Southern.

In appreciation, we're putting everything we have—all our skill and determination and energy—into the job of keeping the wheels rolling under the heaviest, most important transportation load in all the long history of the Southern.

And that's the way it's going to be until "The Boss" comes marching home!

Lack Cellar? Dig Storage
Pit to Get Same Results

Families that lack a good storage cellar, either under a building or outdoors, can get satisfactory results with one of several types of storage pits. To make a pit, select a well-drained place in the garden or some place convenient to the kitchen.

The pit may be of any convenient size, but it is more satisfactory to make several small pits rather than one large one. When a storage pit is once opened, it is best to remove all the contents at once; hence, the advisability of small pits. It is best to store small quantities of all root crops in each pit. It will then be necessary to open only one pit to get a supply of all vegetables.

A convenient size is one that will hold two to three bushels. To make a pit of this size, dig out six or eight inches of soil from an area three to four feet in diameter. Lay three or four inches of dry straw or cornstalks in the bottom and pile the vegetables in a cone. Cover the pile with a layer of straw or cornstalks, and over this place a layer of dirt three inches deep. As winter approaches, increase the dirt covering until it is about six inches deep, and in areas where the winter is very cold, make the dirt 10 to 12 inches deep.

For ventilation, leave a small opening at the top allowing the straw covering to come through the dirt. Cover this opening with two pieces of board nailed together at two edges and weight this down with two stones.

Dig a shallow trench around the pit so that it will drain off rain water.

Strive to Create Standard
Products in South America

Scientists and engineers throughout the Americas are now engaged in the important task of setting up inter-American standards for machinery, electrical products and many other items.

Lasting benefits to inter-American trade and industry will accrue from this work, which has been stimulated by the war.

The war has focused attention on varying hemisphere standards. Rails suited for one country cannot be used in another, because of a 1-32 inch difference. Use of badly needed vegetable oils has been slowed by inadequate grading standards.

Water meters made in one country sometimes do not meet specifications in another. A woman who moves from one region to another might not be able to use her electric iron.

For many years, scientists in the United States, through industrial groups and government agencies, have been eliminating such discrepancies within the United States. Now a spontaneous interest in standards is reported in the other Americas.

Former occupants of a street of houses in a North Queensland, Australia, town, who buried valuables when they were forced to evacuate, won't be able to reclaim them until the war is over. Four inches of concrete now covers the place where cutlery, crystal, silver, paintings and other household treasures were hidden. The concrete was laid by United States army authorities, who were unaware of the buried property; they took over the whole street and converted it into an army hospital and recreation rooms. Ramps have been built to join the houses along one side of the street, which is reserved for the surgical and medical section. Patients are wheeled along ramps through the houses as they are wheeled through wards in a hospital.

Handshaking

The instinct of self-preservation planted in the heart of primitive man a distrust of his fellowmen. The need of defending themselves caused men in early times to go armed. A man who proved himself to be unarmed, therefore, was proving his trust and confidence, and a savage who wished to demonstrate his friendship for another would thrust out his empty right hand in greeting. In response to this gesture the other man would extend his fighting arm, showing that he, too, had no concealed weapons. The clasp betokened mutual understanding and was the origin of the handshake.

Do Job Right

When doing necessary repainting for the preservation of property, property owners are reminded by a paint authority that it costs no more to select harmonious and pleasing colors than it does to apply only dark or unattractive tints. In fact, say color authorities, failure to use the most attractive colors may be an actual loss, for the factors of better lighting and improved morale may be thus sacrificed without any compensating gains.

Increase Visibility

Walls in some parts of a large industrial plant in Indiana are painted gray in graduated tones, starting with a dark shade at the bottom of the wall and proceeding upward progressively lighter to the ceiling, with the purpose of concentrating the intensity of the light from above. Different colors are used for the end walls. Some are painted blue and others pale yellow.

Scheduled for Fall Canning

There's still time to fill those cupboards with home canned foods for enjoyment next winter. Scheduled for fall canning are all those tomato products, pickles, relishes, and sauces which give winter menus a lift. The equipment you need for putting up these products is no more than a preserving kettle or any other large kettle, and a few gadgets that you use every day. So get ready for fall canning.

A SYMBOL OF AMERICANISM

The Normandie floats again. Brought up from the mud of the Hudson River and righted once more, this great ship is symbolic of that weird combination of unsurpassed craftsmanship and stupidity with which we are waging this greatest of wars.

Our technical skill and mass engineering accomplishments have never been surpassed by any people; nor has our gross stupidity.

"As bad as I felt when I watched her topple over," an unnamed Navy Commander is quoted as saying, "I feel a corresponding degree of elation at seeing her come back again. I feel that there is nothing humans cannot do if they set their hearts to it."

Raising of the 79,000 ton Normandie is an engineering accomplishment of the highest order, but what about the stupidity of the Government in allowing her to be gutted by fire and capsized eighteen months ago?

It is the same kind of stupidity that has brought about other tragic results of labor-racketeering—the kind of unintelligence that caused us to kill our pigs and plow under our crops while other sections of the world were starving.

Sunk by the crazy-quilt pattern of effort prescribed by the New Deal, raised by technical skill of the people, this great ship becomes symbolic of what is happening to our precious Democracy. As rapidly as can be done in Washington it, too, is being gutted by fire and pushed downward into the slime of Communism, while our superb technical skill successfully overcomes almost insurmountable military obstacles abroad.

There is no doubt that we will win this war, but because of what is going on in Washington, it will be a blackened

I am very grateful for the majority support which I received on August 3 and wish to thank those who assisted so generously in bringing about by nomination as Supervisor, and now that I am the nominee of the Party I respectfully solicit support of all Democrats of the District in the November election, and I pledge myself to do all that is possible as a Member of the County Board to promote the welfare of my District and of the County.

Very respectfully,

August 11, 1943

To the People of Prince William County:

I thank you for the splendid support which I received at your hands on August 3rd, last. If I am elected on November 2nd, next, it will be my purpose and determination to represent all of you to the best of my ability, regardless of whether you voted for me or not.

Since this is the first time a Stafford County candidate has failed to receive a majority vote in Prince William County when he entered upon the contest for a four year tenure of office for the House of Delegates—since our two Counties were joined in one district—I think I can assume that you now disapprove any plan of alternation hereafter. So far as I am concerned no such plan will ever be mentioned by me again in any future campaign which I may enter for this office; nor will I permit this question to enter into any future plan of mine to limit my candidacy to any consecutive number of terms of this office, should it be your pleasure to further elect me to this office.

I ask your co-operation in making my public service one of help and benefit to you and to our State.

Sincerely,

FRANK P. MONCURE

TO THE VOTERS OF PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for the wonderful support you gave me in the Tuesday, August 3 primary.

I also wish to assure you that I will be untiring in my efforts in behalf of this County.

Chateau Frontenac, Scene of War Conference, Popular for Decades with World Travellers

INTERNATIONALLY famous as a world crossroads, a place where travellers by land and sea have gathered for almost half a century, the Chateau Frontenac, scene of the current war conference, is one of the Canadian Pacific Railway's noted hostels, and has established a world-wide reputation. Its popularity dates from its opening in 1893.

Designed by the late Bruce Price, the Chateau Frontenac occupies the site of the Chateau St. Louis, official residence of the early French governors, and was named after Louis de Buade, Comte de Frontenac and governor of New France. Many mementoes of early Canadian history, including the Citadel and the Plains of Abraham, are located near the Chateau Frontenac, and the Norman-like lines of the Chateau itself suggest the old-world history of the Ancient Capital, which is the only walled city in the New World.

In the days of unrestricted travel, the Chateau Frontenac was a favorite stopping place for visitors from all nations. Crowning a 200-foot cliff overlooking the St. Lawrence River, the Chateau has long been a focal point for tourists visiting Ste. Anne de Beaupré and Montmorency Falls, and is a noted jumping-off place for trips into Quebec woodlands. The Chateau is also a headquarters for winter sports, including ski activities at nearby Lac Beauport, where Fritz Loosli's revolutionary technique of

The Old Kent Gate in Walled Quebec—Above, Chateau Frontenac From St. Lawrence River

Parallel Skiing instruction had its birth.

It was at Quebec that King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of England first set foot on Canadian soil to begin the Royal Tour in 1939, and it was at the Chateau Frontenac that they attended their first Canadian social function—a banquet given in their honor by the Governor General. Their Majesties also used Chateau Frontenac facilities during their stay in Quebec city. Other notables who have been guests at the Chateau include the Duke of Windsor while Prince of Wales; the late Duke of Kent; Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and the King and Queen of Siam.

The Chateau with its 726 rooms has been the scene of many important conventions, including those of leading groups of American bankers, newspaper publishers, physicians and other professional and industrial societies.

When my life's work is done,
With joy I'll meet you there,

Soybeans may be used as food either in the immature or mature state. They are ready to be used as a green vegetable as soon as the pods have filled out but while they are still green. The immature soybean is always green no matter what the color of the dry seed is to be. They are in season in Illinois from about the middle of August until the last of September.

The beans can be cooked either in the pod and shelled later, and they can be shelled and then cooked. Shelling is made easier by pouring boiling water over the pods, and allowing them to stand five minutes and then cooling with cold water. Mature soybeans are usually soaked before they are cooked. An important point to remember in cooking either the immature or the mature soybeans is that they should be cooked until tender, not soft. When done they have a nut-like texture and are not soft or mushy.

Soybean products are of interest and value in planning menus and in keeping them nutritious and well balanced. Some of these are soybean milk, soy curd, toasted salted soys, soy sauce and bean sprouts. Then there are soybean grits, which may be cooked like the various cereal grits and are used commercially in soy crackers.

Refined soybean oil is used in some salad oils, margarines and shortenings. Finally, there is the flour of either high or low fat content, which is usually used in combination with wheat flour for yeast bread, muffins, cookies, griddle cakes, and as a thickening agent in sauces and soups.

Play Has Part in Child's Education and Development

Play is a necessary part of the development and education of every child. For wholesome constructive play children need toys; they need a place to play; they need playmates; and they need sympathetic adults. In time of war, it takes thought and careful planning by parents to see that the children's needs are met as well as conditions will allow.

Good toys are toys with which the child can do things; playthings that are just looked at are of little value. Many of the best toys are used by children of widely differing ages. Blocks and sand and painting materials, for example, are used in a simple way by the toddler but their use continues all through childhood.

It is good for a family to have some of these toys that interest children of different ages. They help to keep the family together. They interest the children of the neighborhood and pave the way for companionship among children of different ages as well as those of the same age—companionships, which mean much in the development of children.

Grubs Hatch in Sod

White grubs, which work on a three-year rotation themselves, do the most damage the year following the one in which the adult beetles emerge. They can ruin stands of timothy and other grasses, kill nursery stock, strawberry plants, and damage potatoes and truck crops by feeding on the roots. Modern agriculture has not effectively controlled this pest. Eggs are laid largely in grass sods, and when crops are planted on sod plowed under the next year, the crop roots are attacked by the grubs. The grubs do not severely damage legume or mixed hay or pasture plantings, so that the improvement of hay-land and pasture tends to control the insects. They can not thrive in wet or clay soils, but do their damage in the drier, better-drained lands.

Bailey Marches Elephant

In 1815 a New York state farmer, Hackaliah Bailey, bought an African elephant from his seafaring brother. Marching "Old Bet" from town to town by night and exhibiting her by day, Bailey made a small fortune. He built a statue and a hotel at Somers, N. Y., in memory of his pachyderm.

P. T. Barnum, a young Connecticut clerk, closely watched the career of "Old Bet." By 1843 Barnum was well on his way to the remarkable showmanship that was to add many distinctive touches to the American spangleland. Jumbo and General Tom Thumb were Barnum successes now part of circus legend. His "Greatest Show on Earth" dates from 1870. He opened a new circus era in 1872, by putting his show on railroad cars.

First American Circus

There were circuses long before the Circus Maximus of Julius Caesar. For centuries they consisted of chariot racing and feats of horsemanship. Only after reaching the young American republic in 1792 did the change begin. In that year John Bill Ricketts opened America's first circus under a permanent roof in Philadelphia. Setting a pace to inspire P. T. Barnum and later masters of circus promotion, Ricketts marked April 22, 1793, a red-letter day, for on that day President George Washington attended the show. Ricketts' house was packed for weeks thereafter. By 1797 he had built a circus theater in New York and had exhibited as far north as Albany. New circuses were established in other cities.

"NAVY INTELLIGENCE"

Is it necessary to be a high school graduate in order to enlist in the Navy?

No. Navy enlistees need not be high school graduates. All applicants will be given an examination containing approximately 100 questions. A grade of 50 per cent or better on this examination is sufficiently high to pass the Navy educational standards. However, a high school education will be valuable to the seaman during his Navy enlistment.

If I enlist in the Navy or Naval Reserve, will I be sent to a Navy Trade School?

All new recruits are sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and after a training period they may take examinations for entrance into Navy Trade Schools. Those recruits who pass their examinations with sufficiently high grades are sent to Navy Trade Schools before assignment to the fleet. While attending these schools, they will receive regular Navy pay and free schooling valued at $1500.

What is the greatest possible pay I can expect to earn during my first term of enlistment?

It is possible to earn as much as $126 a month by the end of your first term of enlistment, and remember that your clothing, lodging, medical and dental care are all supplied free.

After I have served my term of enlistment, what benefits do I get for re-enlistment?

Depending on your rate and length of service, you can get a cash bonus up to $300 plus 30 days leave with pay.

What does the term "ash can" mean in the Navy?

An "ash can" is a slang term applied to the depth charge used to combat submarines. The average "ash can" is a container filled with approximately 300 pounds of T.N.T. and can be dropped overboard from a ship and so controlled as to explode at depths ranging from 36 to 300 feet. These are generally carried by the fast ships in the fleet, as a boat dropping a charge regulated to explode at 70 feet depth must move away from the explosion area at a speed of 25 knots or more. These "ash cans" are either rolled off the stern or shot from "y-guns" which hurl one right and one left simultaneously.

THIS COMMUNITY HAS A SPECIAL WAR JOB

THIS COMMUNITY is on the spot!
We are in a pulpwood growing section and there is now a pulpwood shortage. The country needs vast quantities of pulpwood for explosives, rayon parachutes, gas mask filters, shipping containers and a thousand other uses — yet some of the mills that make these things are actually shutting down for lack of wood.

This is a desperate situation— a war emergency. Something must be done QUICKLY!

And only we who live in the pulpwood cutting areas can do anything about it.

This is OUR responsibility.

How the problem can be solved

Mr. Donald M. Nelson, Chairman of the War Production Board, gave the key to the solution in the following statement:

"If every one of the more than 3,800,000 farmers in the 27 pulpwood producing states were to devote 3 EXTRA days in 1943 to cutting pulpwood, we could overcome the threatened 2,500,000 cord shortage with wood to spare."

Will you enlist for 3 EXTRA days?

If you are now cutting pulpwood part time; if you have cut it in the past; or if you have never cut it but know how to use an axe and saw, will you pledge 3 EXTRA days (at regular pay) to meet Mr. Nelson's challenge?

Fill in the coupon. Mail it to this newspaper and you will receive the pledge badge which identifies you as a Victory Pulpwood Cutter.

This is a war emergency.

PRINCE WILLIAM ASKED TO CUT MORE PULPWOOD

pulpwood "right now" when the country needs it most.

The War Manpower Commission classified pulpwood production—cutting and transport to the mills, the manufacture of pulp, paper and paperboard products for packing vital supplies as essential activities. Notice of this ruling was sent to Selective Service Boards and U. S. Employment Service Offices, to establish the eligibility of these essential workers for draft deferment.

The critical nature of pulpwood shortages was indicated during May in War Production Board reports which showed receipts at all mills for the first five months of the year were 22 per cent below receipts for the corresponding period in 1942. This report was followed by a statement that Government requirements for military and civilian uses in 1943 would be 13,000,000 cords. Less than 5,000,000 cords had been produced at the end of May. Therefore, more than 8,000,000 cords must be produced in the remaining seven months of 1943.

The Government-Industry-Press campaign to increase pulpwood production in this locality officially opens today.

In asking for contributions for the Red Cross, we occasionally find people who say they won't contribute as the Red Cross don't help the boys much anyway.

Following is part of a letter written by Sgt. Bush Marston of Lost City, W. Va., who is now stationed in North Africa:

"There is one thing I want to say to everyone, when you are contributing to any organization that helps us boys give to the American Red Cross. They have made more pleasant hours for the American soldiers than any other organization going, although the others are all right I have received more benefit from the Red Cross. When we were in England they served us coffee and cakes twice a day, and I mean good ones. We sure needed them last winter when we were there, also down here it's the same way.

"They have established large clubs and places to eat which are really nice. Most of the boys that have done hard fighting have come to them for their much needed rest. I have noticed in the papers that the people at home have been doing a lot and doing without a lot and I want you to know we boys over here appreciate it all and believe me we are trying to do our best."

Sgt. Marston has been in the Army Air Corps for three years. He is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Bowman.

TRIANGLE

Pvt. Stanley T. Anderson of U. S. Army Field Artillery, stationed at Camp Rucker, Ala., has returned to his camp after spending a ten-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Anderson.

We are very pleased to know that we have new neighbors moved in on Star Route, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Abel and family.

Mrs. Bessie W. Berry was a guest of Mrs. R. H. Anderson on Monday. She has now returned to her home at Ivon, Va. Mr. Berry and Mr. Watson have opened a place of business in Triangle. We wish them much success.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Services

On Sunday morning as you sit in church and see the vacant places in the choir and wonder where the war has taken the young people from your community you may feel certain that they are attending divine services if circumstance permits.

Chaplains and choral leaders are found on the larger ships and even abroad in the Army centers.

Millions of hymnals have been distributed to the men and women of all services and you may rest assured that a portion of the savings you are placing into War Bonds is used for their spiritual welfare.

Manned by workmen laboring at feverish pitch, giant grease kettles, like those shown above, at the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey plants at Baltimore and Pittsburgh, turned constantly at top speed for 96 hours to smash all production records and turn out a secret grease ordered by General Dwight Eisenhower for his invasion forces, shown, upper right, taking an enemy beach head. Just as fast as Standard Oil made the vital grease it was rushed by train and Army bombers, at lower right, to seaports. Receiving the grease, Eisenhower cabled, "The grease is doing a satisfactory job."

IMPOSSIBLE?...NOT IN AMERICA!

ON A RECENT FRIDAY EVENING. Over the phone came word from the Philadelphia Army Ordnance of a rush call from North Africa. A totally new kind of petroleum product was needed—a product never before made. Shipment must be made in eight days. How soon could 45,000 pounds be ready? In less than twenty-four hours our chemists, working from a rough description of the material, had an answer.

MONDAY MORNING. Via Army Jeep a sample arrived at the laboratory.

Chemists took it apart, analyzed it. Refinery experts worked out manufacturing procedure. The Army pitched in to help gather needed materials. By Wednesday, as promised, 45,000 pounds of a petroleum product never before manufactured was being produced on schedule.

4 A. M. FRIDAY, ONE WEEK LATER. Express cars had been coupled to fast passenger trains...even giant Army bombers were helping to speed delivery. But the job was done! 245,554 pounds of new material for a job that had never been done before—and for an invasion that wrote a new page in history.

A little more than was asked, a little sooner than was promised!...That is how all of us can help to shorten this war. It is the way the people of this and other organizations all over the country are getting the job done—the American way.

THE FOLLOWING FRIDAY. Another call from Army Ordnance. Could we make an additional 150,000 pounds in less than a week? By mobilizing another plant, we thought we could...even though some of our equipment was breaking down under the strain of making a product it hadn't been designed for. As the deadline approached, still another request came from the Army for an extra 50,000 pounds!
